Bristow First Criticizes Conduct of the Administration.

Mexican Congress May Be Divided Over Support of Huerta.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Without reference to a committee, the senate today unanimously agreed to the house joint resolution appropriating immediately $100,000 for the relief and transportation of American citizens from Mexico.

Senator Bristow of Kansas, however, did not grant his consent to the passage of the resolution until he had criticized the administration's policy.

"I have had letters from several friends in Mexico and talked with others who have left Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to get out of Mexico," said Senator Bristow, "and they all say that the warning has been very unfortunate. They tell me that it has made the lot of Americans in Mexico very much harder than it was before."

Think Americans Safe.

One hundred Americans, fugitives on the Mexican desert between Torreon and Saltillo, harrassed by bandit bands, according to unconfirmed reports, were not mentioned in the early official dispatches today, and the state department had no other information of them.

Officials here were inclined to believe the Americans were in no grave danger. Agents of the Constitutionalist movement stoutly maintained the

MILK CONTRACTS AT ELGIN ARE HIGHER

Ten Cents Per Hundred Increase Made in Flat Rate.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 15.—Winter contracts for milk, opened throughout the Elgin district today by the big dealers, offer an increase of 10 cents per hundred on the flat rate over last year's price. This year's flat rate offer for the six winter months, October to March, inclusive, is $1.73. For milk that will test 3.8 or over, the average price offered is $1.85 per hundred. An additional premium is offered "should satisfactory conditions arise."

Producers in Elgin signed up freely for the price offered. In other localities, however, it was declared that the farmers were "holding off." The farmers demand an average price of $1.92½ for the winter months.

CLEVELAND HAS BIG PERRY DAY DOINGS

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Cleveland had its first intimate meeting with Perry's resurrected flagship, the Niagara, today. The old vessel was opened to public inspection this morning and was the mecca of thousands throughout the day.

This was officially designated at "Perry day" by the committee in charge of the Perry centennial celebration. Aeroplane flights, band concerts, lifesavers' drills and fleet signal drills by the United States naval militia boats stationed here, occupied the attention of immense crowds morning and afternoon. Perry relics and the Dewitt Clinton train, brought here specially for the celebration, were inspected too.

Tonight the naval boats will use the schooner Eliza Gerlach for target practice, firing tracer shells. She will then be blown up and sunk.

CANDY MAKERS MUST OBSERVE LABOR LAW

Will Not Be Allowed to Employ Women Overtime.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 15.—Eight large Milwaukee candy manufacturers were today denied permission by the state industrial commission to employ women more than ten hours a day during the three months' rush season preceding Christmas.

Various reasons are given by the commission for its refusal of the candy manufacturers' request, among these being:

That it is the disposition of the commission to maintain the present ten-hour limitation of hours of employment of female workers, rather than to grant extensions.

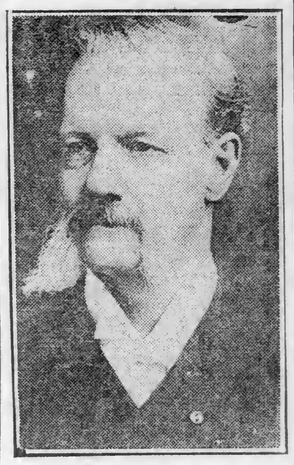

That the commission, in investigating conditions of female employment, probably would find in most industries that the hours should be reduced rather than increased.

That high pay will reduce the help problem by attracting more and better help to the Milwaukee factories.

That improved working conditions, lunch rooms and better pay will advance the quality of finished product.

That women must be protected by the state, because the welfare of the race is dependent upon them.

PRESIDES AT ANNUAL G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

THAW STILL HAS WORRIES

Physical Struggle for Prisoner May Follow Hearing.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 15.—Harry Kendall Thaw awaited anxiously today the arrival of United States Marshal E. P. Nute, bearing notice to Sheriff Drew of Coos county that the fugitive must be produced on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Aldrich in the United States district court at Littleton tomorrow morning. Thaw then will be under the protection of the United States, pending disposition of the writ, and this guarantee of safety, in the face of so many kidnaping rumors, was a source of relief to him.

Nute did not arrive on the morning train, and Thaw's custodian, Sheriff Holman Drew, said he did not expect him until this afternoon. "We will probably not take Thaw to Littleton until tomorrow morning," he said. "There is a train leaving here shortly after 6, which would bring us there in plenty of time to be in court at 11 o'clock."

William Travers Jerome, New York's special deputy in the Thaw matter, planned to accompany Thaw to Littleton, as did Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county.

Real Scrap Possible.

The Thaw lawyers desired to have argument continued in order that the writ may be available at a later date should it be found necessary to block extradition. If Judge Aldrich should insist that argument proceed tomor-

PEACHES ARE BEING FED TO THE SWINE

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 15.—Nature's bounty in the yield of late peaches in orchards here is so generous that windfallen fruit is being fed to hogs and cattle. Many growers will let peaches waste on the trees and on the ground, as they cannot get pickers. The best fruit ever seen here is offered at 50 cents a bushel at the orchards.

WEARS ARMY UNIFORM SOLDIER GAVE HER

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 15.—Wearing a soldier's uniform and carrying his discharge papers, Miss Florence Lessher of Kansas City was taken from a train here Sunday by officers because she was traveling on a discharged soldier's ticket.

The young woman had donned a soldier's uniform, cut off her hair and started home on a soldier's ticket because she was ill and without funds, having only recently been discharged from a hospital at San Francisco. She had been given the ticket, she said, by the soldier, who had sympathized with her and offered to assist her.

The girl's plight appealed to several charitable women of this city, who supplied her with clothes and bought her a ticket to Kansas City.

G. A. R. MEETS IN THE SOUTH

More Than 14,000 Union Veterans Guests of Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Assembled for the first time in a southern city, more than 14,000 Union veterans are here today for the opening of the forty-seventh annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Several thousand representatives of allied organizations, meeting simultaneously with the annual encampment, also are in the city. Incoming trains throughout the day swelled the attendance and a record crowd is predicted during encampment week, which ends Saturday.

Today was designated as "Lookout Mountain day." Despite a light continuous rain, which began early this morning, hundreds visited the famous battlefield along the side and on the point of Lookout Mountain.

The first business meeting of the encampment was held this morning, when the executive council of administration convened.

Seven departmental headquarters already are opened. They are the departments of Minnesota, Commander Charles H. Taylor; Maryland, Commander Charles N. Emerich; New Hampshire, Commander David R. Roys; Ohio, Commander W. R. Warnock; Vermont, Commander Thomas Hannon; West Virginia, Commander John F. Millan, and Utah, Commander Reuben Oehler.

IMPALED ON FORK; LIVES THIRTY HOURS

Wisconsin Farmer's Intestines Mutilated By Implement.

Sparta, Wis., Sept. 15.—After thirty hours of suffering, George Kaufman, a farmer, died here today. Kaufman gave an exhibition of vitality which amazed the physicians. Leaping off a straw stack Saturday he fell upon a pitchfork which penetrated two feet into his body, multilating the intestines and coming out of his back. He arose from the ground and walked to his home with the fork still in his body. He was hurriedly conveyed to a hospital here, where his death was momentarily expected, but he lived more than a day, and to the last insisted he would recover.

SUES SULZER'S MAN FOR LIBEL

Norman E. Mack Has Papers Served on Hennessy.

Fails to Appear Before Investigator of Campaign Charges.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the Democratic national and state committees, failed to appear today before John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's special investigator, to answer charges of having failed to account for moneys contributed to him in the gubernatorial campaign of 1910.

Instead, Mr. Mack, through his secretary, served Mr. Hennessy with summons and complaint in a $5,000 action for libel.

Mr. Mack complains that Hennessy has caused to be published "charges in effect that he, plaintiff, unlawfully appropriated to his own use moneys contributed by others as a campaign fund toward the election of John A. Dix as governor of the state of New York, and said publication also charges in effect that the plaintiff blackmailed individuals and corporations in connection with the collection of campaign funds."

Following the publication of Mr. Hennessy's charges, Mr. Mack announced his willingness to appear before the investigator at any time and place he might designate. Mr. Hennessy then fixed the hearing at Albany this morning.

After waiting with the stenographer for half an hour, Mr. Hennessey announced that as neither Mack nor Ar-

FOOD COST UP 60 PER CENT

Big Advance Made Since Decade From 1890 to 1900.

Nearly 15 Per Cent Higher Than It Was Two Years Ago.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The cost of living on June 15 was approximately 60 per cent higher than the average between 1890 and 1900; more than 3 per cent higher than it was a year ago, and nearly 15 per cent higher than it was two years ago.

Investigations of retail prices in forty cities, conducted by experts of the bureau of labor, show prices practically at the same level as last November, when the high records of the last quarter century were reached.

Fourteen articles of food were investigated, and compared with the average prices between 1890 and 1900. Every one except sugar showed a marked advance; bacon, which led in the soaring, went up 128.5 per cent.

Prices were investigated in Atlanta, Baltimore, Birmingham, Boston, Buffalo, Charleston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Fall River, Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Louisville, Manchester, Little Rock, Memphis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Newark, New Haven, New Orleans, New York, Omaha, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Portland, Or., Providence, Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Scranton, Seattle and Washington.

MISSOURI IS AFTER COSTS IN RATE CASE

Seeks to Recover $30,000 From Railways in That State.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 15.—Proceedings incident to the entering of decrees in suits instituted by the state of Missouri to recover approximately $30,000 from the eighteen railroads named in the recent United States supreme court decision in the Missouri 2-cent passenger fare and maximum freight rate cases, were begun before Judge Smith McPherson in the Federal district court here today.

The money the state seeks to recover represents its expenditures in clerical work and filing suits through the extended rate litigation which resulted finally in victory for the state.

REVELERS DANCE IN GLARE OF PARK FIRE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 15.—While an amusement park at Horse Shoe Lake, near East St. Louis, was being swept by fire last night, a crowd of revelers moved about from one building to another and danced in the glare of the flames.

The main dance hall, a hotel and several other wooden structures were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $65,000.

Because of the lack of water or fire-fighting apparatus, none of the buildings in the path of the flames was saved.

Had Been Acquitted of Fraud Because of Weak-Mindedness.

Admits Killing Anna Aumuller and Dissecting Her Body.

Mainz, Germany, Sept. 15.—The Journal today says that Johannes Schmidt, belonging to the Mainz bishopric, now a self-confessed murderer in New York, has been long under suspension by the bishop. He disappeared from Mainz and later arrived in Munich, where he was arrested on a charge of committing a number of frauds, according to the newspapers. After he had been acquitted by the court on the ground of weak mindedness he emigrated to New York.

Church Makes Investigation.

New York, Sept. 15.—In the hope of branding as an imposter and a pseudo priest Rev. Hans Schmidt, alleged self-confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, victim of New York's river murder mystery, church authorities began today a sweeping investigation of Schmidt's record and his pretentions to ordination.

"We hope, of course, to be able to prove that this unspeakable monster was an imposter and that he had been using forged papers," declared Monsignor Laveile, vicar-general of the archdiocese of New York.

"That is something which we are trying to clear up now. He came to this diocese with credentials which were apparently in every way au-

REPUBLICAN WHIP IN IN HOUSE WILL RETIRE

CHARLES H. BURKE.

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 15.—Congressman C. H. Burke, Republican whip of the house of representatives, has decided, on account of poor health, not to be a candidate for re-election, and to retire from public life at the close of his present term. He has been urged to become a candidate to succeed Senator Crawford, but declined for the same reason.

Attorney General Royal Johnson, secretary of the National Association of Attorney General, today announced himself as a candidate for congressman Burke's place.

QUIET IN THE COPPER MINES

Operators Reject Governor's Latest Proposal for Settlement.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Quietness reigned in the copper strike district today, the usual early disturbances failing to materialize. The strikers held the largest mining parade since the strike started, both men and women being in line. They were orderly and made no attempt to visit any of the mines.

Several movements are on foot for a settlement of the strike, one by the Copper Country Commercial club, one by Governor Ferris on suggestion of Attorney Clarence Darrow, and one other by John A. Moffit of the Federal department of labor.

The Copper Country Commercial club, with a membership of 500 business men, decided at a meeting yesterday to offer mediation to the strikers and operators in an effort to settle the strike, which is threatening business interests.

The club's proposition, which is un-

HEAVY RAIN DOES DAMAGE IN ALABAMA

Eleven Inches of Water Falls in Forty-Eight Hours.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 15.—Damage estimated at many thousands of dollars has been caused by a terrific downpour of rain which began Saturday morning, the total precipitation for the forty-eight hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning, being slightly in excess of eleven inches. The low portions of the city, inundated Sunday morning, were flooded again early today.

Reports from nearly every rural section indicate heavy damage.

Transportation lines have not been seriously affected.

MURDER OF WIFE'S FAMILY IS CHARGED

Telephone Lineman Is Accused of Killing Three Persons.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Charged with murdering his wife's father, mother and 16-year-old brother early today, D. E. Baxter, 35 years old, a telephone lineman, is being sought by the police of the city.

Baxter and his wife had been separated several months. Early this morning, it is alleged, Baxter went to the home of his wife's father, Henry Smith, where Mrs. Baxter had been staying, and opened fire on the family with a shotgun. Smith, his wife and son, Oscar, were killed almost instantly, but Mrs. Baxter succeeded in eluding her husband and escaped from the house.

THOUSANDS HONOR "BIG TIM" SULLIVAN

New York, Sept. 15.—"Big Tim" Sullivan passed through the streets of the East side for the last time today. His body was taken this morning to the old Cathedral of St. Patrick, a short quarter of a mile from the rooms of the association bearing his name, where it had lain in state since Saturday afternoon.

Tens of thousands of men and women from every section of New York had gazed on his features there, and a throng such as only East side can furnish followed the body today to the Cathedral and to its last resting place in Calvary cemetery, Brooklyn.

Streets Sombre With Crepe.

Behind this delegation marched the longest funeral train the East side has ever seen. The streets through which they passed were sombre with crepe draped on the shop windows.

The Timothy D. Sullivan association sent its thousands to march behind the body of its standard bearer, each man with a bit of crepe on his sleeve, over the long, dusty way to the cemetery. Dozens of other East side organizations and the army of the Bowery's poor were also in the line.

Seldom has the East side mourned more eloquently. In the army that passed by his bier as the body lay in state, men in silk hats rubbed shoulders with Bowery tramps, and women in silks and furs mingled with their poorly-clad sisters from the tenements. Many wept as they passed the coffin.

FUMIGATION IDEA RAPPED

Dr. Webster, Back From Health Meeting, Says Old Theory Is Dropped.

"Of all the states through which I passed, Minnesota is like an oasis in a near-desert," said Dr. H. E. Webster, health director, this morning, on his return from Colorado Springs, where he attended the annual convention of the American Public Health association.

"I went through Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado. In all of them the grass is brown, the corn and wheat are small and stunted and the cattle lean and poor. The atmosphere was one of depression. In Minnesota the fields were green, the crops abundant and everywhere there was prosperity and optimism in the atmosphere. Until I had actually seen the contrast I was unable to really appreciate how fortunate Minnesota has been this year."

Convention Interesting.

Dr. Webster states that many interesting and instructive papers were read at the convention meetings, covering all subjects pertaining to the betterment of public health and the advancement of knowledge of several special branches.

The health director commented especially upon the growing conviction that fumigation is unnecessary and a useless waste of time, money and energy in the handling of contagious diseases. Physicians from various hospitals where special observations have been made in this field declared that they had reached that conclusion. Dr. Webster cited the case of Rochester, N. Y., where 1,200 patients with various contagious diseases were treated. He asserted that the cross-infection ran scarcely 2 per cent, which might easily be the case where fumigation methods have been followed.

Tuberculosis Included.

At the meeting three years ago Dr. Webster said that the medical men who were against fumigation excepted tuberculosis. This year he states that they have included tuberculosis with the others, declaring that no benefits are derived from fumigation. The health director said that he is giving the subject serious consideration with a view to eliminating fumigation in this city.

Would Educate Patients.

"It will be a matter of but a short time before venereal diseases will be added to those given attention by the health departments of the country," said Dr. Webster. "The whole tendency is in that direction. They would be governed much in the same manner as tuberculosis is at the present time, featured by a general campaign of education."

Referring to garbage collections, Dr. Webster said that he found the most general plan is for municipalities to own the sanitary tanks used on the wagons and to hire men with teams and running gear. The city regulates the collections and the districts. Each teamster owns his team and cares for the horses. In the larger cities he said that sub-stations have been provided for the outlying districts. The individual collections are made by wagons and taken to the substations. From the substations the garbage is taken to a central station in large lots. Should that plan be adopted in Duluth the city would use the half dozen wagons which it now has in service in various sections.

GIRL BRIDE NOW WRECK

Woman Who Is in Jail at 30 Blames Early Marriage.

Married at the age of 14 years, Nellie Christney, now 30 years old, thin, haggard and sick, is in a cell at police headquarters waiting to be arraigned on a charge of drunkenness. Life has been hard for this woman, who in telling the story of her career warns young girls not to marry young.

At the age of 14 Nellie fell in love with a young man named Edward Anderson. They lived in Minneapolis after their marriage and for five years the young wife claims she suffered abuse at the hands of her husband.

Stabbed by Husband.

According to her story told in her cell this morning, the continual suffering ended only when her husband, in a fit of rage, stabbed her with a knife. The young wife, then but 19 years old, was taken to a hospital in Minneapolis and there after several months finally came out, a physical wreck. The husband was sent to Stillwater for a year.

After she came out of the hospital, Nellie went to Tacoma and in 1906 again married. She lived with her husband, Christney, in Seattle for some time and he, too, began abusing and beating her, she says. Her sufferings continued until she was finally taken to a hospital.

Contracts Drug Habit.

It was while she was at the hospital in Seattle that drugs were administered to her and soon the young woman began craving for the poison. Try as she would, she was unable to stop the craving for the drug and in a short time she had fallen a victim to morphine. It took her three years to break herself of this drug habit, she says.

"I suffered as much as any human being has ever suffered," said Nellie, and even now I still have proof of a young girl's foolish mistake. Why I ever married when but 14 years old, I cannot now tell, but I did it and I guess the rest was all that comes with a misstep. I would warn any girl not to marry while she is young."

The Christney woman was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness, but she pleaded not guilty and her case was continued until this afternoon.

She claims that she just came here from Superior, where she was at a hospital for two weeks and that she was on her way to a lunchroom when arrested.

The home office of the company will be in this city, and the incorporators are Arthur Jutila, Helmer Johnson, Osmund Thompson, A. W. Youngkvist and B. E. Wellberg.

FIGHTING FOR JURY TRIAL

Attorneys who will defend the nuisance abatement action which has been instituted against the Clifton hotel, 321 West First street, alleged to have been conducted by Mary Le Flohic, alias Madam Gain, as a house of illfame, are fighting to the last inch for a jury trial of the action.

When the suit was called for trial on the first reading of the calendar at the beginning of the term, a dispute arose as to whether the case should be tried by a jury or by the court without a jury. Judge Fesler sustained County Attorney Warren E. Greene's contention that it should be tried as a court case.

Today a notice was filed with the clerk of the district court that at the special term session, Saturday, Sept. 20, the defendants would move the court for an order settling issues of fact for trial by jury and directing a trial by jury at the present term of court.

Four questions for the jury to decide are proposed by the defendants. They are as follows:

1. "Did Mary Le Flohic on the 5th day of July, 1913, or for some time prior thereto maintain and conduct at 321 West First street in the city of Duluth, Minn., a house for the purpose of lewdness, assignation and prostitution?"

2. "If the said Mary Le Flohic, at the times alleged in the complaint, carried on and suffered or permitted 321 West First street, in said city of Duluth, to be used for the purpose of lewdness, assignation and prostitution, was the Alecsi Real Estate company party or privy thereto?"

3. "Who was the owner of the furniture and fixtures situated in 321 West First street, known as the Clifton hotel, on the 5th day of July, 1913?"

4. "If the jury finds from the evidence that August Le Flohic was the owner of the furniture and fixtures situated in the Clifton hotel on the 5th day of July, 1913, did he have any knowledge that the same was being used for lewd and immoral purposes?"

B. M. Goldberg appears in the action as attorney for Madam Gain; John H. Norton for August Le Flohic, her brother, and Charles V. McCoy for the Alecsi Real Etstate company, Madam Gain's holding corporation.

OFFERS REWARD FOR STOLEN DIAMONDS.

Thomas Lantry, one of the proprietors of the Kaiserhof saloon at 1 East Superior street, who was robbed last Tuesday morning of diamonds and jewelry worth $2,840 while he was sleeping at his home, 5348 London road, has announced a $500 reward for the return of the stolen articles.

Mr. Lantry is making every effort to secure the diamonds and watch which were stolen, and is being assisted by members of the detective force. No clew has been found as yet that might establish the identity of the thief.

Among the stolen articles were three large diamonds valued at $2,500 and a watch and chain worth $340. Mr. Lantry stated this morning that he will give the $500 reward to any one who returns the diamonds and his watch without asking any questions as to where they were obtained. All he wants is the jewelry, he said.

HAS MADE FORTUNE IN THE NORTHWEST

F. D. Beveridge, who was a resident of Duluth up to ten years ago, is in the city again, visiting with Capt. Harvey D. Clow. He is viewing with interest the changes that have taken place since his departure. Mr. Beveridge is now a resident of Calgary and is very proud of his new home town.

Mr. Beveridge, since going to the Canadian West, has made a fortune of no mean proportions, and naturally likes the place where he has prospered. He told The Herald today that Calgary, which had only 10,000 population seven years ago, has now 90,000, and owns its own light and water plant and its street railway system. They paid $120,000 dividends a year.

In the province, he says, there are still 50,000,000 acres of land unsurveyed, and the government has made provision for the children and old people by retaining one section of land out of each township, a provision which Mr. Beveridge indorses heartily and which he says meets with general favor up there.

Coal mines are within forty miles of the city, a convenience that does much to hold down the high cost of living. The city has four railroads entering it, very low gas and electric light rates and miles of asphalt streets.

He says there is no politics in the city elections and that men and women owning property may vote, a plan which he considers very fair and good.

Conferees Talk of Flax Tariff.

CONVENTION IS CLOSED

Rev. G. A. Hagstrom of St. Paul Addresses at Final Session.

Reports on Missionary Work Given at Sunday Afternoon Meeting.

The thirty-fourth annual convention of the Swedish Baptist general conference of America came to a close last night with an address given by Rev. G. A. Hagstrom of St. Paul, president of the conference. Resolutions of thanks were extended on behalf of the conference to the people of Duluth and particularly to the congregation of the First Swedish Baptist church for their hospitality to the delegates.

The principal feature of the closing day was the mission meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Swedish Mission church. A crowd of over 1,000 people taxed the capacity of the church. Reports were given of mission work being done in Sweden by Rev. Carl Vingren of Minneapolis. Rev. G. V. Lindstrom of Boston, Mass., and Rev. Oliver Laurence of New York city told of the European congress of churches held last June in Stockholm, Sweden, and Rev. G. A. Hagstrom of St. Paul gave an address on the world's Sunday school convention held in Switzerland last spring.

The closing of this meeting was featured by a musical program in which the male chorus from the First Swedish Baptist church of St. Paul, Rev. A. J. Freeman of Moline, Ill., and Mrs. J. J. Daniels of this city took part.

Many of the delegates to the convention left the city last night and this morning. The members of the Swedish Baptist church have planned a reception in the church this evening for the delegates who still are in the city.

Visiting pastors occupied the pulpits of all the Swedish Baptist churches in the city at both services yesterday. Some also were in the pulpits of other local churches.

John Peterson, former proprietor of a saloon at 2008 West Superior street, whose license was revoked some time ago for alleged violation of the closing law, ran into more trouble Saturday night. Peterson has been tending bar at a saloon at 325 North Central avenue. As he was going home and stepped off a car at Twenty-fourth avenue west at 11:40 o'clock Saturday night, three holdup men confronted him and relieved him of the money.

MOTION PICTURES OF DULUTHIAN'S 'SPEECH'

Jay Cooke Howard Gave Five Minute "Talk" Before the Camera.

Jay Cooke Howard of Duluth, president of the National Association of Deaf, talked for the motion picture "phonograph" at the recent national convention in Cleveland.

Six years ago a motion picture collection of speeches was started and named for Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, founder of the first school for the deaf in Hartford, Conn., in 1817, according to Mr. Howard.

At each convention an address is made in the sign language before the motion picture machine, the address to be kept on record. Mr. Howard made a five-minute address before the films at the Cleveland convention.

NIGHT CLASSES FOR YOUNG MEN

Y. M. C. A. Will Give Instruction in Fifty-Eight Subjects.

A. L. Turner, educational secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., is about to start on an active campaign for students in the classes to be established at once by the local association in its building; and with that end in view is sending out return postals which in their wording have "the punch" to make young men think over what they may acquire by evening study instead of idleness. He has arranged to establish classes in fifty-eight subjects, every one of which is a practical one, and each of which is likely to appeal to enough young men to make the establishment of a class worth while.

The list is quite pretentious and takes in subjects which the Y. M. C. A. school has not heretofore attempted, such, for instance, as navigation, salesmanship, and others. Mr. Turner has successfully worked out these matters at other places and is prepared to do so here. Besides the two subjects mentioned the rest in the list follow:

Advertising man, agriculture, algebra, architectural draftsman, automobile driving, banking, boiler designer, boiler firing, bookkeeper, bridge engineer, business English, business law, business letter writing, civil service examination preparing, civil engineer, concrete construction, contracting and building, electricity, electrical engineer, electric lighting, electric railways, electric wiring, English for foreigners, first aid, French, gardening, gas engineering, geometry, German, heating and ventilating, machine design, mechanical draftsman, mechanical engineer, marine engineer, mining engineer, municipal engineer, pattern maker, penmanship, plan reading and estimating, plumbing, poultry raising, public speaking and debating, sheet metal worker, shop mechanics, shorthand, show and card writing, steam-fitter, structural draftsman, structural engineer, stationary engineer, telegraph construction, telegraph operator, telephone expert, tool maker, trigometry, typewriting.

Mr. Turenr says in his postal:

"There's a fortune hidden away in the hours between supper and bed time. It's your for the digging. Will you dig?"

Other terse phrases adorn the card which are conducive to the arousing of ambition.

POLICE RAID ANOTHER SALOON

James Stanley, bartender at P. J. Hickey's saloon at 113 West First street, was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of violating the closing regulations by keeping open on Sunday.

A detail of officers from headquarters attempted without success to gain an entrance through the front and rear doors and then raised a window opening on the rear. They claim that they saw three men seated at a table, two of them with bottles of beer before them, following which the bartender was booked at headquarters.

Following several complaints that liquor was being served in violation of the law, Chief Troyer yesterday morning sent Detectives Schulte and Terry and Patrolman Clendenning to watch the place. After they had tried the doors they went to the windows. They were of glazed glass and protected by iron bars. Reaching through the bars Detective Schulte succeeded in raising a window, thus getting a view of the interior.

In keeping with the law enforcement policy which has been observed by the city commission since it came into power, Hickey will be cited to appear to show cause why his license should not be revoked. There seems to be but little doubt but what another saloon will be added to those which have been put out of business in Duluth for failing to obey the law.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated Give "California" Syrup of Figs.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomcah-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

AMERICANS SHOULD NOT WITHDRAW NOW

The United States should not withdraw from the Philippines at this time, in the opinion of Miss Anna Donaldson for the past twelve years a teacher in Manila, who is now visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mather, 201 South Twenty-first avenue east.

"The schools would become disorganized, because there are no Spanish speaking teachers competent enough to carry on the elaborate educational systems that have been established under the American supervision. The people would soon revert to their old life," said Miss Donaldson.

She will return to the normal school at Manila in May, 1914. Before going to the Philippines she was a teacher in Southern Minnesota.

SEEK MONEY; FIND OPIUM

In search for stolen money Capt. Fiskett and Sergeant Roberg made an unexpected find at the home of Margaret White, colored, 22 years old, Saturday afternoon, when they discovered a large quantity of opium in a trunk. The woman was arrested on a charge of having the drug in her possession.

The White woman was accused by Mike Kozlovich of having stolen $67 from him last Friday night. He notified the police and the two officers then went to the woman's home on East First street, between First and Second avenues, in search of the missing money. While going through a large trunk, Capt. Fiskett came across the opium.

ANOTHER FLOOR FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Accommodations at Christian Brothers' High School Are Extended.

The Christian Brothers' high school, Fourth street and Second avenue west, will have a new floor this year, as work on the top story, under way for several months, has been completed. The school was built three years ago and since that time only two of the three floors have been in use.

An assembly room that will seat 150 pupils occupies the front part of the new floor. A library will be conducted in connection with the assembly room.

The rear half of the new floor is occupied by chemistry and physics laboratories and typewriting, bookkeeping and stenography rooms.

Brother Paul, principal of the school, predicts the best year in the history of the institution. He says there is a good increase in the enrollment and that the pupils are greatly interested in the new facilities.

SUMS UP CASES AGAINST HICKEN LIQUOR ORDINANCE

H. J. McClearn Says It Is Hasty, Ill-Advised and Unfair Legislation.

No Moral or Law Enforcement Issue Is Involved in Fight.

Business Will Suffer While Courts Take Care of Brewers.

To the Editor of The Herald:

When the Hicken liquor ordinance came on for its third reading and final disposition July 1, 1913, I appeared as attorney and opposed its passage. I stated the grounds of my opposition to be:

1. That it was hasty, ill-advised and unnecessary.

2. That it was detrimental to the interests of many citizens of Duluth who are in no way connected with the liquor traffic.

3. That it was against sound public policy.

Inasmuch as the adoption or rejection of this ordinance is the only question to be determined at the election tomorrow and as I have opposed the passage of the ordinance and caused it to be submitted to a vote of the people, I feel that I should publicly state my reasons for opposing it.

These are the same now as they were when I first stated them to the commission, namely: that the ordinance is hasty, ill-advised and unnecessary; that it is detrimental to the interests of many of our citizens who are in no way identified with the liquor traffic; and that it is against sound public policy.

I think few will disagree with me when I say that the ordinance was hasty. The commission had not been in power two months when it was first introduced. During these two months the police department under the direction of the commissioner of public safety, had waged a vigorous campaign of law enforcement. Scarcely a day passed but that the papers told us of some new doings on the part of the department of public safety. During this time we heard little about the other departments of the city government; in fact, from general appearances it seemed as though there were no other departments. During these two months the licenses of a number of saloon keepers were revoked and those who were engaged in the liquor business given to understand that there would be no trifling with the enforcement of the law relative to that business.

While this was going on, nobody complained—no citizen of any community should complain about law enforcement. If the law is not satisfactory to him his remedy is to have it changed. While it is law it should be obeyed. The citizens of Duluth, I believe, are of that opinion and to that extent, have given their moral support to the commission.

More Law to Enforce.

When, however, the commissioner of public safety called upon the commission to pass an ordinance that would give him more law to enforce, some of the citizens of Duluth thought he was in a hurry; in fact, they thought he was showing undue haste.

Some of them believed that there was no necessity for new legislation. Commission form of government was new in the city of Duluth. It had only been in power two months. It was more or less of an experiment. The laws were being enforced and obeyed. The people of the city whose interests were adversely affected by the change had not had time to adapt themselves to the changed conditions. Many who were vitally interested did not know until its final reading and passage what the ordinance contained. It had been amended several times and, judging from the discussion had the day it was passed, some of the commissioners did not know what its provisions were. There can, therefore, be no serious dispute but that the ordinance was hasty.

There can be as little dispute but that it was ill-advised. The American people like fair play. After two months of strict law enforcement, in which a number of violators of the law had been put out of business and had lost their property, and others engaged in similar lines of business given to understand that they would share a like fate did they not obey the law, it seemed unfair to make new laws so that there might be more law enforcement. Many people sincerely believed that the laws of Minnesota and the ordinances of Duluth were sufficient to regulate the liquor traffic within the city of Duluth.

These people had in mind our geographical location; that the city was a lake port at the head of navigation; that it depended in a large measure for its prosperity and growth on lumbering, mining and shipping industries; that there were some thirty odd nationalities represented here and in the surrounding country; that we had a considerable floating population, and that the laborers necessary to the handling of the raw materials which form our principal industries had, for a number of years, made this their headquarters.

Many of our citizens had invested their savings in restaurants, hotels, lodging houses, clothing stores and other lines of trade and catered to this class of trade. For years this trade had been coming here, and the men interested in these lines of business were justified in making the investments they had to take care of the same.

Small Merchants Hit.

There will be no serious doubt in the minds of any one who will take the trouble to inform themselves, that the agitation and publicity given the law-enforcement campaign in Duluth this spring had a very serious effect upon these lines of business. This was more pronounced when the agitation started about the passage of the so-called Hicken ordinance.

The larger retail stores perhaps did not feel the effect of this, but the smaller dealers did. I am one of those who believe that the interests of the small dealers should be considered as well as the larger ones. As soon as the interests of the larger ones are affected, they find means of making their protests known. The smaller property owners, merchants, restaurant keepers and lodging house keepers have not this faculty. They silently meet the conditions as long as they can, but when their business is no longer profitable, they, "like the Arab, silently furl their tents, and as silently steal away." These men cannot be classed as undesirable elements. They cater to the laboring population that is absolutely necessary to the prosperity of a community like ours.

I am not now talking about the saloon keeper, but the men who, engaged in legitimate lines of trade, are necessarily affected by agitation such as we have had about the enforcement of our laws in Duluth for the last six months. These people are affected by the fact that the men who traded with them no longer come to Duluth and, like Othello, they have found their occupation gone.

Any one can learn for himself, by consulting the hotel keepers and any of the retail merchants along Superior street, that there has been a very decided slump in the business that we get from the range cities; any of the men traveling through the range country can explain this. It is a psychological reason.

The impression has gone abroad that law enforcement is the main consideration in Duluth at the present time, and until the matter is settled the people from those cities will find their recreation and amusement in other places and they will get their supplies where they get their amusement and recreation. While our civic bodies are assiduously striving to get people to visit the city, our commission is, in my opinion, taking the very best means of keeping them away.

All that can be legally accomplished by this ordinance, if adopted, could have been accomplished in a quiet manner, in a reasonable time, without any of the hysteria, notoriety, unfavorable advertising and property loss that it has entailed.

"Brewery Control."

This ordinance is ill-advised for another reason. The advocates of the ordinance defend it principally on the ground that they wish to put an end to brewery control of saloons. This in substance is what the ordinance provides on that point:

1. That the building wherein the business of selling intoxicating liquor is to be conducted, shall not be owned or controlled directly or indirectly by any person or corporation owning or operating a brewery.

2. That no license shall be granted to any one for the purpose of selling intoxicating liquor if he has received any financial or other aid from any person or corporation owning or operating a brewery.

3. That it shall be unlawful for any person, to whom a license to sell intoxicating liquor shall have been granted, to receive any financial or other aid from any person or corporation owning or operating a brewery.

The objections to these provisions of the ordinance on constitutional grounds may be briefly summarized as follows:

(a) They would prohibit a retailer from making any agreement with a brewery to handle its beer on credit, but leave him free to make any arrangement he saw fit with the wholesaler or manufacturer of whisky.

(b) They would prohibit the brewery from taking any security for any debt upon property used by the retailer in his business, but would permit him to mortgage his entire business to the manufacturer or wholesaler of whisky.

(c) They would prohibit a retailer from leasing the building or premises in which his business is carried on from a brewery, but would permit him to lease any premises he pleased from any wholesaler or manufacturer of whisky.

They would prohibit a brewery from renting or leasing any real estate it might own to any one engaged in the retail liquor business, but the manufacturer or wholesaler of whisky might do this.

Is Lawful Business.

Under the law of this state, as it now stands, the business of making, buying and selling intoxicating liquors is a lawful and legitimate business. In the eye of the law the person or corporation engaged in this business may do with his or its real estate what any other corporation or individual may do. Persons and corporations engaged in the wholesale grocery, drug, clothing, hardware, and shoe business may own real estate and lease the same to retailers to whom they advance credit and from whom they take security.

On principle, no legal distinction can be made between different classes of business in this respect. It does not, therefore, require a lawyer to see that these provisions of the ordinance are unreasonable, oppressive, discriminatory and, therefore, void.

In 1910 the city of Minneapolis had presented to its council what was known as the McHale ordinance. That ordinance contained these provisions:

"Paragraph 13 provides that no person shall be licensed,

"'Who intends to or will, when so licensed, hire, lease or rent the building or premises in which the business so licensed shall be carried on, or who intends to, or will, when so licensed, hire, lease, or rent such premises from any wholesale vender or manufacturer of intoxicating liquors, or beverages, or from any person acting as agent or representative in any capacity for such wholesale vender or manufacturer of intoxicating liquors, or beverages, or from any person acting as agent or representative in any capacity for such wholesale vender or manufacturer.'"

"'Who intends to or will, if so licensed, mortgage or incumber, to any wholesale vender or manufacturer of intoxicating liquors or beverages, any of the property used or employed in such licensed business or to any person, acting in any capacity or relation whatever for such wholesale vender or manufacturer.'"

Unlike the Duluth commission the Minneapolis council considered the matter of sufficient importance to warrant discussion and the taking of legal advice. Counsel was retained by the city, and the civic bodies interested in the passage of the ordinance and by those adversely affected. Briefs covering various phases of the subject were submitted and the attorney general's office asked for an opinion. The opinion given stated that the legislation contained in these two paragraphs was beyond the power and authority of the city council to enact. The opinion was based on the ground that the provisions of these paragraphs were unreasonable and arbitrary. It will be noticed that the Minneapolis ordinance was not open to as many objections as the Duluth ordinance in this: that the Minneapolis ordinance applied to all wholesalers and manufacturers of intoxicating liquors whereas the Duluth ordinance applies only to breweries.

If the provisions of the Minneapolis ordinance were arbitrary and unreasonable and therefore void, what shall we say about the Duluth ordinance?

When I first appeared before the council in opposition to this ordinance, I told it that the courts would take care of the breweries, but that in the meantime legitimate business interests would suffer and because of this, and other remarks, I was told to sit down, as the council was not there to be criticized. Yet I ventured the suggestion that in view of the importance which some of the members of the commission attached to this worthless piece of legislation, the council could well afford to give the interests adversely affected an opportunity to be heard and itself take counsel in the matter. There was altogether too much haste and hysteria, altogether too great a desire to make all proceedings summary, to expect that the commission would give us anything really worth while.

I do not know just how much this election will cost the taxpayers of this city, but when money is so sorely needed by all the departments of the city government to carry on useful and necessary improvements, it does seem like a waste of time and money to expend it on legislation like this. I repeat, the passage of the ordinance was ill-advised.

Is Unnecessary.

The ordinance is as unnecessary as it is ill-advised. It is simply childish for any one to say that the law is not now being enforced in Duluth. It is. We have strict law enforcement here. Our city is as well policed and well regulated as any city of its size in the country. When we consider our location and the different elements of society represented here, we have every reason to congratulate ourselves.

This ordinance will add absolutely nothing to law enforcement. The statement that it is necessary to tear out the cigar stores, jewelry stores, barber shops and employment offices from the front of some thirty or forty saloons in order to see into the saloon is nonsense. If that is the only purpose of the six-foot provision of the ordinance, why hasn't the commissioner of public safety said so?

As things are now, the bar of every saloon in Duluth could be seen after closing hours and on Sundays without any of the loss it would entail by carrying out this provision according to the notions of the commissioner of public safety. The state law prohibits the sale of liquor to minors, intoxicated persons, spendthrifts, etc. This ordinance adds nothing to the state law in this respect. During the time the commission has been in power it seems to have found no difficulty in enforcing the law.

In the letter sent to the voters of the city urging them to support the ordinance and signed Bert N. Wheeler, R. W. Bowden, Frank Crassweller and others, referring to the ordinance, it is said, "It will not close a single saloon in the city that has been run and that can be run at a profit without violating the state laws."

Do any of these gentlemen, or does the commissioner of public safety, or the chief of police know of a saloon in Duluth that is violating the state law at the present time? Is it not a fact that the state laws are so well enforced in Duluth at present that in order for the police department to find anything to do in that direction it is necessary to send stool pigeons among the drug stores to see if liquor can be purchased without a prescription?

If the state laws are enforced, as they are being enforced now, will not any saloon that cannot operate at a profit without violating them go out of business?

Then, too, we have about 180 saloons in Duluth; according to law, we should have only 160. If there be lawless saloons, the commission now has, without the passage of this ordinance, the power to eliminate twenty of them. Are there more than twenty saloons breaking the state law in Duluth? If there are, why does not the commissioner of public safety and the chief of police attend to them? The fact of the matter is, both the commissioner of public safety and the chief of police know that the state law is being obeyed here at the present time and this ordinance has no other purpose than to gratify the eccentricities of some of the commissioners and their advisors.

More Laws to Enforce.

The cry has heretofore been, "Fewer laws and more law enforcement;" the cry now is "Give us more laws to enforce." And then the advocates of this ordinance tell us it is necessary in order that we have law enforcement. The commissioner of public safety wants more law to enforce. That is the only reason for this ordinance or this election, but neither the ordinance nor this election is necessary to law enforcement in Duluth.

Whether the ordinance is adopted or not, there will still be law enforcement in Duluth.

The statutes of the state of Minnesota, which are apparently sufficient for other cities throughout the state, and the ordinances which have heretofore been adopted by the councils of Duluth, will still be law in Duluth whether the ordinance is adopted or not. It has been demonstrated that the state laws and the ordinances now in force are sufficient to insure law enforcement. What, then, is the necessity for this ordinance?

Hurts Other Business.

That the ordinance will be detrimental to legitimate business interests in no way connected with the liquor traffic, is certain.

The damage done to local cigar manufacturers here, the cigar stores and others who will be required to seek new locations, is slight in comparison to the damage that will be done legitimate business interests of the city as a whole.

Other cities have at different times gone through the same experience and the men who are responsible for this legislation do not seem to have profited by those experiences.

For years the railroads have done what they could to cut Duluth off from the rest of the country and to keep people and traffic from coming here. After a long fight some of this mischief is being undone. Our wholesale business is going forward; our grain, iron and coal business is steadily increasing; our industries are growing. These are important factors in the city's growth, welfare and development.

The city might have all of these things, however, and still remain merely a point in transit. It takes population to make a city.

The new steel plant will help, (if we do not drive the trade to Superior), but if we have to wait as long for another boost as we waited for that, some of the people who have been paying taxes in the hope that Duluth would some day have more than one street, will have gone to the great beyond, with their dreams unrealized.

That legislation such as this proposed ordinance has the effect of keeping people away cannot be seriously questioned. It has done so in every city where it has been tried. It will do it here. It is doing it now. Good hotels, good stores, good theaters, clean and wholesome places of recreation and amusement all help to make a city. You cannot have these things unless they are supported.

What Duluth needs to support these things is a larger population. Until our land is cultivated and manufacturing is developed here, our progress will necessarily be slow, unless we can induce others to come here. We cannot expect that everybody who comes will bring a steel plant, a woolen mill, or a bread factory, but if they bring new lines of trade or industry, or even merely their labor, it will help.

> We cannot expect, however, that strangers will be anxious to locate here or to engage in business here if it is impressed upon them that upon entering the city they are required to get a certificate as to character from some of our well meaning but over-zealous moralists.

Any of our hotel keepers, wholesale or retail merchants, as well as those who have witnessed similar proceedings in other cities, will testify that this proposed legislation will be detrimental to legitimate interests, and inasmuch as those favoring the ordinance say that it will not close a single saloon that can be operated at a profit without violating the law, and it can be demonstrated that its provisions with reference to breweries are null and void, also that it is unnecessary to insure law enforcement, some of us are at a loss to know what useful purpose it will serve.

Some of us also wonder why we should have so much adverse advertising, so much notoriety, so much property loss, and so much expense that will not do anybody any good.

Any legislation, affecting a whole city, that is placed in haste, ill-advisedly and is at the same time unnecessary, is against sound public policy. The people of Duluth are in favor of law enforcement. I do not believe however, that any considerable part of them are in favor of new legislation simply that we may have more laws to enforce. It is my opinion that the majority of our citizens are in favor of using judgment in matters of this kind.

There is reason in everything. The large majority of them are in favor of mixing discretion with zeal. There can be no serious question that by pressing this matter to the extent that he has, the commissioner of public safety has lost the moral support of many who approved what he did, although they may not have been unwilling to applaud the manner in which it was done.

As soon, however, as this mania for new laws to enforce reaches the stage where it affects the interest of many who are now clamoring for it, they will quickly get the point of view of those who have already been injured by it, and they, too, will begin to insist that there is reason in all things. This will also be a case of history repeating itself. Many have thought that by moving along in an orderly and quiet manner, enforcing the laws as they are required, the commission would grow in strength and would acquire the moral support of many who might not have been in favor of commission government. I think the converse of this has been true in the last three months. I do not believe that there are as many willing to support the commissioner of public safety today as there were three months ago.

Only Moral Question.

The only moral question involved in this election is this: Whether the commission, in passing this hasty, ill-advised and unnecessary ordinance and calling a special election thereon, has been fair to the interests adversely affected and to the city as a whole. It is not a question of law-enforcement or non-enforcement. The law is now being enforced and will continue to be whether the ordinance is adopted or not. It is not a question of liquor or no liquor. Anyone with the price will be able to buy all the liquor he wants whether the ordinance carries or not.

In the language of the committee advocating the ordinance "It will not close a single saloon in the city that has been run and that can be run at a profit without violating the state laws." It is not a question of brewery control. The commission form of government put an end to that. By its power to revoke or refuse to grant licenses, the commission has absolute control of the liquor traffic in this city. In the exercise of this power the commission is not hampered in any way. That this power is effective and sufficient has been demonstrated on numerous occasions since the commission took charge of the city government, and in any event, it is certain that this ordinance, if adopted, would give the commission no authority on that point that it does not now have.

I feel confident that I am right in this matter, but I am also conscious of the fact that some will criticise the position here taken and to them I can only say:

"Like the Girondists in the French Revolution American lawyers must submit to be condemned by the Bourbons as radicals if they stand for rational and constitutional legislation to meet new conditions and to correct the evils in the old conditions, and to be guillotined by the Reds as obstructionists if they fail to indorse the popular vagaries of the political ephemera who swarm about every great movement of reform unappreciative of its origin, its tendency, and its purpose. Such is the fate of the profession that studies, loves, and defends the institutions of civilized government and has ever been their most powerful constructive and conserving force."

Respectfully sumbitted,

HUGH J. McCLEARN.

IS KILLED WHILE BLASTING STUMPS

Laborer Meets Instant Death on Farm Near Lester Park.

While blasting stumps on the Theodore Hollister farm about two miles north of Lester park, Erick Hanson, 35 years old, was killed by an explosion of dynamite Saturday morning. The body blown to bits was not discovered until later in the day.

It is not known just how Hanson came to his death, as he was working alone at the time. It is believed by workmen on the farm that Hanson fell while carrying some sticks of dynamite and that the fall caused the explosion.

Workmen on the farm missed Hanson shortly after noon and an investigation about the grounds disclosed the body. Coroner McComb was notified and he ordered the body taken to the Stewart undertaking rooms, where it is being held pending word from relatives.

Hanson was unmarried and lived at the Garfield hotel on Garfield avenue. He has a father living at Isanti, Minn., and the funeral arrangements will not be made until the latter is heard from.

The fatal accident to Hanson Saturday is the second of its kind within the past week. Last Sunday Frank Stefano was injured by a similar explosion on the Andrew Sena farm near Wilpen. His right hand was blown off, his left hand severely lacerated and he was almost blinded. Stefano is now at the St. Luke's hospital, where he is expected to recover.

Will Wait for Husband.

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—By agreeing to wait four years before marrying William McComus, 34 years old, Dolly Clyde secured the latter's discharge from custody. He is 14 years old. McComus has been a friend of the family for years. Dolly was a school pupil here in the seventh grade when she and McComus eloped. They were captured at Sidney, Mont., and returned here. The girl agreed to go to school and postpone the marriage.

AUTO ACCIDENTS AND LIGHTNING INJURE FOUR

Velva, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Accidents and lightning caused four injuries in this section. P. W. Miller was hurrying to town with an auto on which he had not lighted his lamps. He struck a buggy containing three people who were thrown out. The horse was killed and the buggy wrecked.

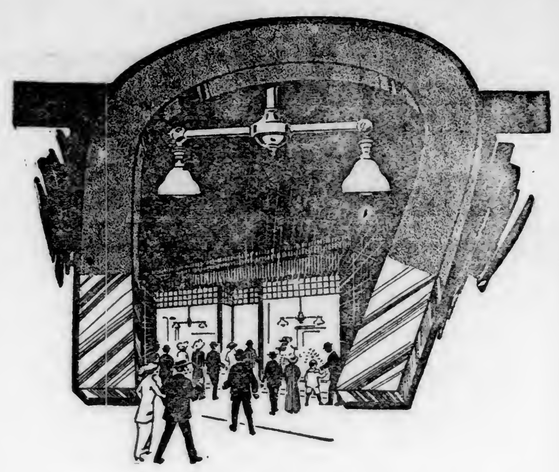

A. W. Nelson was bringing a number of men into the city in an auto. The machine turned turtle. He and one of the other men were caught underneath. Nelson sustained a broken rib and some internal injuries.

Unconscious for eight hours after a stroke of lightning, Mrs. M. Sieff is still in a serious condition. She and her husband were in a pasture when a storm arose. They took refuge by a haystack, which was hit by lightning.

The home of Hugh McCusker was struck by lightning. Mrs. McCusker and the children were all shocked but none of them seriously injured.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Williston, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a half a century of married life Mr. and Mrs. James A. Todd will celebrate their golden wedding Wednesday evening. The members of the Congregational church have taken the matter in hand and appointed committees for the purpose of making all the arrangements for the event.

THE NEW LIQUOR ORDINANCE

WILL END BREWERY CONTROL OF SALOONS.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT THE AUDITORIUM

DON'T YOU BELIEVE THIS IS NECESSARY?

MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT THE AUDITORIUM

READ THIS: In April, 1911, a Mrs. Cookman was convicted of selling liquor illegally and conducting a house of ill fame at 228 Lake Ave. S. On April 10, 1911, Mayor Cullum wrote the City Council about it enclosing the following contract to demonstrate the necessity of revoking Dunlap & Thatcher's license:

"To Whom It May Concern:

It is hereby agreed and understood by and between Dunlap & Thatcher and Mrs. Minnie Cookman, as follows: First, Dunlap & Thatcher will rent the rooms over 228 Lake Ave. South to Mrs. M. M. Cookman from month to month beginning April 1, 1911, for a rental of $45.00 per month payable on the first day of each month. Second, It is further agreed that rent for above premises will not be increased from April 1, 1911, to March 31, 1912. Third, It is further agreed that Mrs. M. M. Cookman may occupy above premises from April 1, 1911, to March 31, 1912, provided she does not interfere with the police regulations of the City of Duluth in conducting the premises. Fourth, It is further agreed THAT ALL THE LIQUOR USED ON THE PREMISES SHALL BE PROCURED FROM DUNLAP & THATCHER — AND THE BEER SHALL BE THE PRODUCT OF THE PABST BREWING COMPANY.

Witnesses:
H. E. MUELLER
ANTHONY SCHMID.

(Signed)
DUNLAP & THATCHER,
By M. W. Thatcher.
MRS. M. M. COOKMAN."

Both of the witnesses to this contract were employes of the Pabst Brewing Co. Mr. Mueller was and is the local manager for Pabst. Now do you see the combination? Dunlap & Thatcher ran a BREWERY SALOON. That means irresponsibility as far as Dunlap & Thatcher were personally concerned. They not only had to sell Pabst beer BUT THEY MUST SELL LOTS OF IT. So they made a deal with an unfortunate woman to conduct a house of prostitution above their saloon and MADE HER AGREE TO USE ONLY PABST BEER in connection with her nefarious business.

A BREWERY SALOON WAS THE DIRECT CAUSE OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HOUSE OF PROSTITUTION, AND BREWERY SALOONS IN THEIR VERY NATURE TEND TO SUCH SHAMEFUL RESULTS.

THE HICKEN LIQUOR ORDINANCE WILL DRIVE BREWERY SALOONS FROM DULUTH FOREVER.

MR. GOOD CITIZEN, IS NOT THAT RESULT BOTH DESIRABLE AND NECESSARY?

And yet The Herald says the ordinance has no virtue, and will not better conditions in Duluth.

The City Council in this Dunlap & Thatcher case refused to even cite these men to appear to show cause why their license should be revoked. Why? THE MAJORITY OF THE COUNCIL AT THAT TIME WERE ALSO UNDER BREWERY CONTROL. Had the Hicken liquor ordinance been in effect at that time the people and the courts would not have been helpless, and this brewery saloon would have been forced to quit business, despite the control which the brewers had in the council.

Now we have a council free from brewery influence. Is that any reason for relaxing our vigilance? IF THE BREWERY SALOONS REMAIN, THE DAY IS NOT FAR DISTANT WHEN WE WILL HAVE ANOTHER BREWERY COUNCIL. THE WAY TO EFFECTIVELY PREVENT THE BREWERY CONTROL OF CITY COUNCILS AND SALOONS FOR ALL TIME TO COME, IS TO PASS THE LIQUOR ORDINANCE ON TUESDAY BY A MAGNIFICENT VOTE.

VOTE "YES" ON THE ORDINANCE AND DON'T QUIT WORKING TOMORROW UNTIL EVERY GOOD CITIZEN OF YOUR ACQUAINTANCE ALSO VOTES "YES."

WHAT THE LIQUOR ORDINANCE SAYS ABOUT BREWERY CONTROL

LICENSE, WHEN NOT TO BE GRANTED:

Any person may appear at the time stated and object to the granting of such license, and if it shall appear to the council that any violation of any law or ordinance regulating the sale or disposal of intoxicating liquors shall have occurred within one (1) year next preceding such application in any place of business owned or conducted by the applicant, or that the applicant has, for the purpose of making application for and receiving said license, received any financial or other aid from any person or persons or corporation owning or operating any brewery, or from any agent, servant or employe of any such person, persons or corporation owning or operating any brewery, or from any agent, servant or employe of any such person, persons or corporation, or who has entered into any agreement or contract for receiving any such financial or other aid; * * * said council shall refuse to grant the license; and the council may continue the hearing from time to time for the purpose of further investigating the facts relative and pertinent to the application.

"This is the kind of a day that makes me glad I live in Duluth," said the Old Chadwarmer. "This weather can't be beaten anywhere. I believe I enjoy a day like this more than most people do because my clothes are pretty thin for this time of the year and when a nice warm day like this comes along I can feel the warmth stealing all over my body and my frame of mind brightens up accordingly. C. O. Hine, clerk at the Spalding tells this one on himself.

"One of the guests came up and inquired about a friend of mine. He said he had heard my friend was in the hospital, seriously ill. Said he had burned his feet badly.

"I inquired how in the world he could have burned his feet."

"It was a new one on me and I won't rest until I get it on some other victim."

L. Bouchard, clerk at the St. Louis hotel was in a statistical frame of mind this morning. As he stuck a pen into the regular hotel register potato he observed: "That potato would weigh about half a pound. Let me see, we use one like that every day for a pen-holder. That would make 365 potatoes we use each year, with a total weight of about 183 pounds. That is a little more than three bushels of potatoes we would use in a year, or enough to keep a small family in vegetables for more than a month, an Irish family at that."

HICKEN REPLIES TO CIGAR MEN

Issues Statement in Answer to Open Letter Published in Herald.

To "The Independent Cigar Dealers of Duluth."

Gentlemen:

I take pleasure in replying to your "open letter" addressed to me in "The Duluth Herald," Sept. 13, and I reply the more gladly because of the undue prominence which has been given to the cigar question in connection with the proposed ordinance, and because of the mistaken impression which some of our good citizens have regarding it.

The material part of your first ten questions when honestly and simply expressed amounts to this: Will the proposed ordinance put the independent cigar dealer out of business?

To this question I honestly and emphatically answer, "No!"

It is not the intent of the proposed ordinance either to affect or regulate the cigar and tobacco industry of Duluth in any way, and nowhere in the ordinance is any reference made to cigar stores. The purpose of the ordinance is the honest and impartial enforcement of the liquor laws.

The ordinance has no other purpose.

That the enactment of this ordinance is absolutely necessary to the honest and impartial enforcement of the liquor law is the unanimous opinion of your city commissioners. This is also the opinion of the city attorney, the chief of police and his department, and it is the opinion of the judges of our department of justice. These men are confronted every day with the need for this ordinance. They say that its enactment will result in public good.

I believe that no one will doubt that these men whom our citizens have elected to enforce the laws, to administer justice, and to promote the public good, have at heart the best interest of Duluth, and that they would advocate no law that would "put out of business" any "legitimate, law-abiding business."

Duluth-Made Cigars.

The several remaining questions which you ask me, when reduced to simple terms, amount to this: Will the proposed ordinance decrease the number of Duluth-made cigars, and thus drive Duluth cigarmakers out of business?

To this question I reply that no one so far as I know has advanced any reason why the adoption of this ordinance should in any way affect the manufacture or sale of Duluth-made cigars. You suggested no reason in your letter to me, and so far as I am advised you have no reason for thinking so.

In my opinion the adoption of this ordinance will injure neither the Duluth cigar industry, nor the Duluth cigar manufacturers.

I see no reasonable connection between the manufacture of Duluth-made cigars, and the location of retail cigar stores in the front of saloons. If any connection there be, I have not heard it mentioned.

I am advised that Minneapolis has no cigar stores in the front of saloons. I have been informed that the same is true in Boston, and that in Chicago and many other of our leading cities, the location of cigar stores in the front of saloons is practically unknown. I have not personally investigated as to these cities, but I am further advised that each of them does a local cigar business at least as profitable as our own, and that the backing of saloons is not necessary to a "legitimate, law-abiding" cigar business.

The experience of Duluth points to the same conclusion.

Until a few years ago Duluth had no cigar store in the front of a saloon. At that time, I am reliably informed, the local Cigar Makers' union had 170 members in good standing. Today we have approximately a dozen cigar stores in the front of saloons, and the local Cigar Makers' union has less than forty members in good standing.

I am reliably informed also that, outside of one store, less than 1 per cent of Duluth-made cigars are sold in the cigar stores now in front of saloons.

Gentlemen, look the facts honestly and thoughtfully in the face, and answer for yourselves what is "the principal local outlet for the products of Duluth labor"—and "of Duluth capital"—and "of Duluth business enterprise" engaged in the cigar and tobacco industry. Answer for yourselves why it is that when your cigar stores are located in the front of saloons, our local Cigar Makers' union has fallen off 75 per cent in its membership, and less than 1 per cent of Duluth-made cigars are sold. The facts are unanswerable.

The lawless saloon never has and never can help any honest law-abiding business.

I believe that the cigar men of Duluth are honest and law-abiding; I believe that their business is legitimate; at the same time I am convinced that the saloon has never benefited their business, and will never do so, and the sooner the cigar business stands for itself as an honest, respectable business, and forever divorces itself from the lawless and brewery-owned saloon, the better it will be for the business and for the city of Duluth and every honest business in it.

I am glad of the opportunity to answer your questions, for I wish every one to know that the purpose of this ordinance is not to put any law-abiding citizen out of business. And in conclusion, I want to suggest that the people of Duluth should not allow themselves to be misled as to the real question involved.

This ordinance is intended to do away with the lawless saloon; to put an end to brewery control of saloons, and to make possible economic, efficient and impartial law enforcement.

Yours truly,
W. A. HICKEN.

BEWARE OF ILLEGAL VOTING

The character of the opposition to the liquor ordinance causes us to feel that it is necessary to watch the polls to see that none but qualified voters cast ballots.

We found it necessary at the election in February, 1912, to prosecute a man for an attempt to vote illegally, and he was sent to the state's prison.

We will be as vigilant this time, but we want every good citizen to help prevent illegal voting.

Notify either the police department or any member of the Ordinance Referendum Committee, if you observe any illegal votes being cast.

NO PLACE FOR "AFFINITIES"

Postmaster Puts Ban on Secret Letters to Girls.

A. P. Cook, postmaster, said today that the Duluth postoffice would not act in the capacity of an "underground" railroad for illicit correspondence.

Mr. Cook says that the postoffice, in the last three months, has closed out several hundred names under which persons were getting mail through the general delivery window, when they had regular addresses and could be reached by the mail carriers.

The Kansas City postmaster has just issued a statement wherein he says it will be hard for young girls and married women to get mail under assumed names.

"We had the same trouble here that Kansas City is having now," said Mr. Cook, "but we have just about stamped the practice out. Of course we had a hard time to stop the people here who were receiving mail under assumed names, but after several months we have succeeded in eliminating most of the bogus names from the lists. The men at the general delivery windows are always on the lookout for girls and women whom they think are getting clandestine love letters.

"The men are as much to blame as the women, and we have some trouble in making them receive their mail at their homes instead of through the general delivery windok."

MAN 'BURNED TO DEATH IN BARN' COMES HOME

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 15.—Joseph Swetlik, who was thought to have burned to death when his barn was destroyed by fire Friday night, today appeared at his home, suffering severely from burns sustained in an endeavor to extinguish the flames. He wandered to a marsh nearby and became unconscious, lying in the grass many hours. It is thought the fire was started by a tramp.

WILL SUBMIT AN ESTIMATE

Valuation of Holdings of Electric Company Will Cost About $7,000.

The city commission meeting this afternoon promises to be devoid of important developments.

D. A. Reed, manager of the water and light department, will submit an estimate of the cost of obtaining a physical valuation of the holdings of the Duluth-Edison Electric company. He figures that it will probably cost less than $7,000.

The utilities division volunteers to furnish the funds under an agreement that it be repaid when the city has the money available. Manager Reed intimates that the making of the valuation should be in charge of the utilities division. This will not likely meet with unanimous approval, however. There is a feeling on the part of some of the commissioners that the whole lightning proposition, from its inception to its finish, should be handled by the city commission as a whole. When the transactions have been concluded, its operation would come under the utilities division, as provided by the charter.

P. J. Hickey, whose bartender was arrested yesterday for keeping his saloon at 113 West First street open Sunday, has applied for a transfer of his license to the West end. Instead of getting the transfer Hickey will be cited to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Contractors Olson & Johnson will ask for an extension of time on their contract for improving Allen avenue from Woodland avenue to Irving place. They recite that they have encountered more rock than anticipated and that they have been delayed by rain and the scarcity of teams and labor.

TELL OBJECTIONS TO HIGHER RATE ON ORE

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Taking of testimony in behalf of the plaintiffs in the case of the Newport Mining company, Corrigan-McKenney & Co., the Hayes Mining company and other mines in the Northern Wisconsin and Michigan iron ore districts against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, the Soo Line, and the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad, began today before W. E. Settle, special examiner for the interstate commerce commission.

In the dispute is involved the justification of a raise of approximately 5 cents a ton on iron ore between the mines and lake shipping points.

MAYOR ASKS $6,105 LEVY

Estimates City Welfare Work Will Cost That for 1914.

Mayor W. I. Prince estimates that it will be necessary to levy $6,105 to conduct welfare work in Duluth during 1914.

This includes $2,140 for the municipal lodging house, $2,665 for the probation officer and the free legal aid bureau, $1,000 for social centers and $300 for a contingent fund.

The mayor does not include the work farm in his budget, explaining that the farm is in charge of a joint city and county commission and that the matter of the city's share of the finances should be considered by the city commission as a whole. The work farm commission has asked $7,000 for the rest of the present year and $16,000 for the coming year, to be paid by the city. The county has been requested for the same sums.

Salary Is Included.

The mayor's estimate provides a salary of $150 per month for Frank Hicks, who will become manager of the welfare division Oct. 1, upon the retirement of C. Dinwiddie. He acts as probation officer and handles the free legal aid branch. His assistant, Miss Maud Needham, draws $65 per month.

In fixing $1,000 as the amount needed for social centers the mayor explains that he has taken into consideration the fact that the fund has a considerable balance which will be available for next year.

CAMPAIGN A SUCCESS

Commercial Club Committee Added 164 Names to Membership List.

Hustlers Will Be Guests of Honor at Informal Banquet.

At 6:30 this evening the membership hustlers of the Commercial club will gather around the banquet board at the club and celebrate the addition of 164 names to the membership roll of the organization. Perhaps the number will be increased, for the workers are today picking up the odds and ends, and a few prospects that were not closed up last week will probably be made members of the club today.

The dinner tonight is a jollification meeting. The membership workers will be commended by officers of the club. The most successful hustlers will tell how they did it. The talks will be informal and the gathering will be just a family meeting, in which the members will rejoice over work well done.

Team No. 1, composed of W. J. Betting, C. H. McLennan and Laird Goodman, maintained its lead to the last, finishing Saturday night with thirty-seven applications. Team No. 3, consisting of O. E. Amtsbuechler, W. A. Watts and W. C. Allen was second with twenty-nine. Team No. 13, composed of Elmer F. Blu, C. D. Folke and A. T. Banning, was third with twenty-four.

The other teams finished as follows: R. R. Forward, Dr. W. A. Coventry and C. J. Hall, 15; A. C. Hoene, Dr. J. A. Winter and J. S. Hassan, 14; P. R. Mork, J. L. Cronwell and Dr. J. M. Robinson, 14; W. H. Pryor, G. W. Wilson and D. A. L'Amie, 13; J. B. Crane, F. G. Hanson and E. F. Sprink, 10; A. J. McCullough, F. M. Fuller and G. E. Lynott, 5; W. R. Hoeflin, F. W. Beck and H. A. Sleepack, 4.

The campaign was by far the most successful in the history of the club. The officers of the club, and particularly Assistant Secretary R. B. Lewis and A. C. Kienly, chairman of the membership campaign, are elated. There are few Duluth business men who are considered prospects for Commercial club membership who are not now enrolled on the club list.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

There are other symptoms, such as pains in the region of the kidneys, nervousness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's disease, dropsy or diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for Croxone promptly ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy for kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism, than Croxone, because it reaches the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to relieve the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders.

You will find Croxone different from other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case.

thentic and genuine, but we know practically nothing of him. His crime is too horrible to conceive. We can only hope that he may prove to have been a pseudo priest."

Slept and Ate Well.

In his cell in the Tombs, with his coat as a pillow, Schmidt slept soundly through the night and rose this morning to partake of a hearty breakfast. He had little to add to his alleged confession of last night, in which he is said to have told the police that he killed his victim as she lay in bed, cutting up her body in the bath tub of the apartment where he had established her, wrapped it in five bundles and dropped the bundles into the Hudson river. To Rev. L. J. Evers, the Tombs chaplain, Schmidt was said to have made the following declaration:

"I was directed to kill her by St. Elizabeth, who is my patron, as a sacrifice, to be consummated as was the sacrifice of Abraham, in blood."

To the police Schmidt is alleged to have said:

"I killed her because I loved her."

The police believe, however, that he killed her because she was soon to be a mother. They believe that the girl accepted as genuine a marriage ceremony through which she went with her alleged slayer last February, and in which he was both priest and bridegroom.

Linked With Kellner Murder.

With a view of clearing the mystery surrounding the murder of 8-year-old Alma Kellner, whose mutilated body was found in quicklime in the basement of St. John's Catholic church in Louisville two and half years ago, the police sought today to obtain from Schmidt some statement of what he might know of this crime. From August, 1909, till March, 1910, Schmidt was a visitor in Louisville, not officially connected with any church there, but a guest in the home of Rev. Henry B. Westermann, rector of the Church of the Immaculate conception.

Alma Kellner disappeared on Dec. 3, 1909; her body was found nine months after. Joseph Wendling, janitor at St. John's Catholic church, is now serving a life term in prison at Frankfort for the crime. Wendling stoutly denied his guilt and the jury did not consider the evidence sufficient to lodge against him a verdict of first degree murder.

Of Schmidt's antecedents, little is known here save his own claim that he was born in Germany in 1881, was educated there, ordained by Bishop Kestein in St. Augustine's seminary in Mainz, and came to New York in 1906. In 1909 he went to Trenton, N. J., and in December, 1910, was appointed assistant rector of St. Boniface church in this city. There he met the Aumuller girl, who, he said, had come to this country from Germany a few months before.

"So Beautiful, So Good."

"I was attracted by her beauty," reads Schmidt's alleged confession. "I became infatuated with her. I loved her. I killed her. She was so beautiful, so good, I could not let her live without me.

"I had made up my mind that she and I should not live together. I was a priest and must remain with my church. I could not let her go away from me. So I opened the door of the flat. I awakened her. I told her I had come to fulfill my threat. Then I drew a knife across her throat."

The skill with which the young woman's body had been dismembered caused the police to believe at first that the work had been done by a surgeon. In the flat occupied for five days by Schmidt and the girl, detectives found 50 printed cards, which indicated that Schmidt had masqueraded as a surgeon and was possessed of more than an ordinary layman's knowledge of surgery. These cards read as follows:

"DR. EMILE MELIERE,
"Formerly assistant surgeon of the Municipal Women's hospital, Paris, France.
"Representative of the Chemical Hygiene Manufacturing company."

Woman Was 20 Years Old.

Information regarding the early life of Anna Aumuller was given by her cousin, Joseph Igler. She was 20 years old, born in Oedenburg, Hungary, and came to this country in 1911. Her father died when she was a child, and she had been supported by an aunt, who sent her to a Catholic seminary. The girl was bright and pretty.

Igler said the girl's aunt was religiously inclined, and through friends in the clergy arrangements were made to have Anna cared for when she arrived here.

According to the police and the district attorney's office, Schmidt's confession was full and absolute. In it he is quoted as saying that he killed his companion with a butcher knife and cut up the body with the knife and a saw. The deed was committed shortly after midnight on Sept. 2, in an apartment in Bradhurst avenue where the priest had placed her five days before.

Cut Body Up in Bathtub.

When her heart had ceased beating, according to the alleged confession, Schmidt carried the body from the bed to the bathroom and placing it in the tub, began his gory task of cutting it up. With the keen knife and the saw, he cut off the head, arms and legs. Still fearful of detection, he then cut the body in two.

Schmidt told the police he had taken the mattress on which she lay when dealt the death blow, under cover of darkness, to a vacant lot nearby and burned it.

According to Schmidt's confession, he went through a marriage ceremony with the girl. In this ceremony Schmidt was both priest and bridegroom; there were no witnesses.

A gaily colored pillow of unusual pattern led to Schmidt's apprehension. This pillow, stained with blood and soiled with the filth of the river, was wrapped around a portion of the torso. The detectives traced the pillow to its manufacturer; the manufacturer traced it to the dealer; the dealer traced it to Schmidt. And the police, tracing Schmidt and the girl, knew all about both of them hours before they arrested him.

The priest was dressed in full clerical garb when the detective entered his rooms in the parish house of his church. The inspector had produced a photograph of Miss Aumuller and asked Schmidt if he knew the girl.

The priest, after a moment of hesitation, inquired whether his visitors were police officers. He then asked permission to change his clothes. He left the room and Inspector Faurot declares he attempted to cut his throat with a safety razor blade.

Early Sunday, according to parishioners of the church, Schmidt said to Rev. Father Huntmann, rector of St. Joseph's church, that he would hear no more confessions, and when asked for his reason, said:

"I have something of importance to tell you."

With his superior, Schmidt then retired to the study, where he told all that had transpired in the Bradhurst avenue flat, where he murdered the girl. Father Huntmann conferred with his other assistants, and it was agreed that the authorities should be notified. The police, however, were even then on Schmidt's trail, and his arrest followed shortly.

Schmidt was taken to the Tombs. He made a full confession, after which he was taken before Coroner Feinberg, who committed him to the Tombs until the inquest is held.

Fail to Show Connection.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Investigation here today failed to establish any connection of Rev. Hans Schmidt, held in New York for the murder of Anna Aumuller, with the murder in Louisville of 8-year-old Alma Kellner, whose mutilated body was found in the basement of St. John's Catholic church, Dec. 8, 1909.

Rev. Schmidt was visiting in Louisville as the guest of Rev. H. B. Westermann, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, at the time of the Killner girl's disappearance and the subsequent finding of her body.

The manner in which the Kellner's body was cut into pieces and disposed of being similar to the methods employed in the murder of Anna Aumuller, caused the suspicion that Schmidt might have been connected with the Kellner murder, for which crime Joseph Wendling, former janitor of St. John's church, is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Frankfort, Ky.

Members of the Kellner girl's family today declared they had never seen Schmidt, and scouted the idea that he was in any way connected with Alma Kellner's death. The lawyer who defended Joseph Wendling stated that he had never heard Schmidt's name mentioned in connection with the Kellner murder, and the local police and detectives who had charge of the investigation of the child's death made similar statements.

IS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT DULUTH

Chicago Woman Develops Into Prize Booster for Zenith City.

If Duluth had many more enthusiastic boosters like Mrs. V. A. Hogg of Chicago, Ill., there would be no necessity for the Commercial club or any other organization to send out advertising matter for this city; the visitors would do the job without cost. Mrs. Hogg writes The Herald that she cannot see why Duluth is not better advertised. In a letter to The Herald she says:

"Have been a delighted guest of Duluth for six weeks and have wondered why we have not heard more of Duluth as a summer resort. Have spent many summers at various resorts in the United States and abroad and yet have seen no climate equal to that of Duluth.

"Mrs. Hogg reviews the commercial advantages of the city which she has seen and closes:

"The Zenith City bids more than fair to outstrip many of our seaport towns. Could say more but will desist. Enthusiastically," etc.

FRENCH COUNT IS KILLED IN ALPS.

Vienna, Sept. 15.—Count Maurice di Lilienthal, a Frenchman, met a tragic death while climbing a mountain in the Semmering district. With a young woman who is an expert climber, he spent three days in the mountains. While they were attempting to climb a steep crag, he was seized with a cramp. His companion tried to help him with one arm, but he fell several hundred feet, nearly dragging her down.

The woman reached a hut near the top of the slope and led a rescue party back.

The body was found badly mutilated.

PROLONGING LIFE IN BRIGHTS DISEASE

It is hard for physicians who have had nothing but failure in chronic Bright's Disease to believe that there is such a thing as recovery and many doubtless honestly feel that patients reporting recoveries under Fulton's Renal Compound are but temporarily benefited. Let us for a moment refer to the case of the daughter of the late N. W. Spalding, former U. S. Sub-Treasurer of San Francisco.

After her father "had spent ten thousand dollars" in efforts to cure her and the dropsy came and the end looked near she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound. To use the words of the physician, let us say that she was "temporarily benefited." We must now stretch "temporary" to twenty years, for it was twenty years ago, and she was living and attending to her household duties at last advices, in January, 1913.

The case of a well-known editor of San Francisco, whose address we will give to anyone who cares to write, was declared to be hopeless. He has been editing his paper for twelve years since his "temporary improvement." He believes he is well and certainly looks like it.

In view of case after case like the above if you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug Co.

For pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

O'CONNELL SAYS POPE SEEMS WELL.

Boston, Sept. 15.—Cardinal O'Connell, who recently returned from a visit to Rome, delivered a short address to the congregation in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross yesterday, in which he spoke of the pope's health.

"Our holy father enjoys wonderful vigor for one of such age," he said, "but especially with such tremendous burdens to bear, with so many difficulties to surmount and with so many daily trials to face. He appeared almost completely restored to health and strength and had already begun to take up his usual work."

Threshing at Walker.

Walker, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first threshing outfit for this vicinity arrived last week for the Walker Threshing company, a number of farmers located west of town. Those in the company are the Greuber Bros., Harry Paddock, Eert Chase and John Joebel. The first threshing in this vicinity was commenced at the Paddock farm last week.

Americans were in no danger at all, and would be protected by Constitutionalist forces against any roving marauding bands.

Officials of the consular service pointed out that the Americans passed Parras on Sept. 11. That town is in the hands of the Constitutionalist troops, having been taken last May. An American consular agent recently took twelve days with a fast automobile to make the run between Torreon and Saltillo. The fugitives, hampered by women and children and more primitive means of transportation, are expected to require much longer.

The territory through which the Americans are traveling is controlled entirely by the Constitutionalists, and their agents have been given to understand that the United States looks to them for the protection of the fugitives.

Mexican Congress Meets.

Mexico City, Sept. 15.—With Envoy Lind still awaiting instructions at Vera Cruz, the Mexican authorities appear to regard the diplomatic exchanges as a closed incident.

Interest in the possible resumption of the negotiations is overshadowed by the opening of congress today and the expectation of Provisional President Huerta's message. Much importance is attached to the message, which is expected to review developments in the relations between Mexico and the United States.

That there will be two well organized wings on the floor chamber of deputies to oppose the influence of the Catholic party is common report. These factions will be headed by Jorge Estanolo, former minister of public instruction, and Rodolfo Reyes, who has just retired from the ministry of justice.

It is rumored that the representatives of the Catholic party, which failed to nominate a presidential candidate, will throw their support to Gen. Huerta in an endeavor to combat his elimination as a political factor. Great interest centers in what Huerta will do if the effort of the Catholic party to control the house is thwarted.

row it might result in the freeing of their client at once, prior to the extradition hearing, which Governor Felker has set for Wednesday.

With Thaw free again, serious complications are possible. His lawyers would be acting within their rights if they attempted to rush him from the state. Jerome and his forces would, of course, seek to hold him. A physical struggle between factions is not out of the question, and both sides will have a lot of private detectives on hand.

Thaw retired early last night, after a Sunday spent entirely within doors. Most of the day he conferred with a representative of Former Governor Stone of Pennsylvania.

Extradition Request Filed.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 15.—The official request of the state of New York for the extradition of H. K. Thaw was filed at the office of Governor Felker today in the state house by Bernard Jacobs, a lawyer of Lancester, N. H., who was acting for the New York authorities.

Governor Felker's desk was buried beneath a pile of letters and telegrams relating to the Thaw case. Most of these messages appeared to be the result of a movement originating in Kansas to create sentiment favorable to Thaw.

The governor was not expected at the state house today.

WILL BE SELF-SUSTAINING

Duluth Remedial Loan Association Gets Well Established.

Has Plenty of Money to Lend to People Needing Ready Funds.

The Duluth Remedial Loan association has been in operation only four months, but its place in the community has already been established.

The report of the association for the period from May 13, when it started operations, to Sept. 9 has been issued. It shows that 105 loans of a total of $7,860 have been made, an average loan of $74.85.

The association is not yet self-supporting, but it is expected to be very soon. Many people do not understand the aims of the association, but when they do it is expected that business will greatly increase.

"For the association to be self-supporting, the money out on loans must be about three times what it is now, or from $18,000 to $25,000," said one of the directors of the association today. "The association is prepared to loan any sum of money in small amounts and we hope that deserving people in need of money will come to the association instead of going to private companies which charge exorbitant rates of interest."

Under the law the remedial loan association is allowed to charge only 1 per cent interest a month and a suitable amount for interest on the chattels mortgaged. The law also provides that the stockholders can obtain no more than 6 per cent on their investment after the payment of office expenses and other expenses of the association.

The association, which has an office at 401 First National Bank building, was organized to fight the loan agents. The bill passed at the last session of the legislature at the instance of Duluth people made possible the organization, and the first call for the purchase of stock met with a hearty response.

thur A. McLean of Newburgh, treasurer of the Democratic state committee, had appeared, the session stood adjourned.

New York, Sept. 15.—No additional charges will be filed against Governor Sulzer. He will be tried by the duly constituted court on the charges as they stand, it was announced late Sunday after a prolonged conference of counsel for the assembly committee having the impeachment proceedings in charge.

Aaron J. Levy, majority leader of the senate, who was in the rooms where the conference was held, declined to make public the name of the lawyer who had been reported as having brought what Mr. Levy considered to be a proposition from Governor Sulzer.

"I cannot give his name until he releases me from a personal pledge I made him," Mr. Levy said.

The claim that any proposal had been made was vigorously denied by an attorney for the governor.

Dersch Denies $50,000 Story.

Charles Dersch denies that he made a statement to the Sulzer impeachment managers about having collected $50,000 for the Sulzer campaign.

"I talked to Mr. Kresal of counsel for the board of managers, Friday," said Mr. Dersch, "and told him that Former Senator Charles A. Stradler and some of his friends, all of them friends of Governor Sulzer, had made up a little fund to contribute to Sulzer's campaign fund. It was about $1,000, certainly not more than $1,200. I took the checks down, a few checks, and I really acted as the messenger in taking the checks to Mr. Sulzer. That was all there was to my testimony."

Mr. Dersch said the naming of a sum anything like $50,000 was preposterous.

The assembly board of managers for the impeachment of Sulzer announced Saturday that Dersch, had testified privately that he had collected nearly $50,000 for Sulzer's campaign which was not accounted for by the governor in his statement of campaign contributions.

Predicts His Acquittal.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15.—"I am going to be acquitted," said Governor William Sulzer last night in a conference with ex-Judge D. Cady Herrick of his counsel, concerning the impeachment trial, which will commence Thursday before the state senate and the court of appeals, sitting as a court of impeachment.

The governor commented upon the attitude of "some senators" and declared that "this is a trial; not a political fight." He said that "justice is all I want."

derstood to have the backing of Governor Ferris, was referred to by both President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners and Treasurer Lennon of the American Federation of Labor, in their addresses to 3,000 strikers Sunday. Both declared that any plan which was as fair to the men as it was to the operators would be considered.

Gen. Abbey of the state troops returned yesterday after a two weeks' absence and is again in charge of the military activities.

Ferris Peace Plan Fails.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 15.—Governor Ferris today received notice that another attempt to bring about a settlement of the Upper Peninsula copper mine strike had failed. The information came in the form of a telegram from Allen F. Rees of Houghton, attorney for the same managers, which read as follows:

"Cannot act along lines of your telegram because of conditions which seem to make it impossible."

The telegram referred to by Attorney Rees contained a plan of arbitration proposed by Chairman Lawton T. Hemans of the state railroad commission, which it is said embodied the withdrawal of the Western Federation of Miners from the controversy. Mr. Hemans suggested that the mine operators or managers should voluntarily request the strikers to return to work, and also request the governor to select an arbitration board or commission to investigate the three alleged grievances of the strikers, with the understanding that the Western Federation of Miners would withdraw from the controversy without seeking recognition or participation of the adjustment of the difficulty.

SENATE MINE PROBE IS DECLARED ENDED.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Testimony in the senate's investigation of the West Virginia coal strike was declared closed today. A report will be made in about three weeks.

"HONOR" PRISONERS MAKE GOOD AGAIN

All Report But One, Who Is in the Hospital.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Twenty-three of the twenty-four "honor" prisoners released from the South Clark street station yesterday by Municipal Judge Mahoney upon their promise to appear in court today, kept their word. The only missing prisoner is said to be in a hospital. It was the second experiment with "honor" prisoners made by Judge Mahoney in three weeks, and he is considering the advisability of making it a regular feature of his court in dealing with certain classes of offenders.

INVENTORYING ALL POSTAL PROPERTY

Stupendous Task Is Undertaken By the Department.

Washington, Sept. 15.—An inventory of all postoffice property of the United States is to be undertaken by the postoffice department. It will mark the first attempt of that department of the Federal government to obtain an accurate census of its immensely valuable property.

The idea originated with Postmaster General Burleson.

It was stated by an official of the department that no one knew just what the postoffice department owns or what its assets were. It is the postmaster general's idea that there should be regular inventories at stated periods.

That the inquiry will be a stupendous task, is indicated by the fact that there are more than 58,000 offices and their many branches, with much equipment constantly in transit in railway mail cars and mail bags.

The first step in the investigation already has been taken.

OFFERED TO THROW MULHALL OUT, HE SAYS

Ex-Representative Cole of Ohio Denies Lobbyist's Story.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Former Representative Ralpd D. Cole of the Eighth Ohio told the house lobby committee today that Martin M. Mulhall's testimony and correspondence regarding his conduct as a member of the house were so full of half truths and false statements that he would confine his own testimony to a general denial.

He denied flatly that Mulhall helped him get his nomination to congress. "I never received a contribution from the National Association of Manufacturers," declared Cole.

"Mulhall once came to my office and started to tell me that I had to stop my fight on Speaker Cannon. He never got any further than that. I ordered Mulhall out of the room and I told him if he ever returned I'd throw him out of the window. From that day to this I've never seen Mulhall. That is the way I've served the National Association of Manufacturers. It's the first time and the last time I ever talked with anyone from that association about legislation."

Cole said that at the time he ordered Mulhall out of his office, C. R. Painter of Bowling Green, Ohio, a friend, was there and heard it all. He produced an affidavit from Painter corroborating his own testimony.

FREE METHODIST MINISTER IS TRIED

Chicago, Sept. 15.—A ministers' committee today prepared to report on an investigation of charges made by members of the Free Methodist church of Los Angeles against Rev. W. C. Hanmor, pastor of the Free Methodist church at St. Charles, Ill.

Secrecy surrounds the charges. It was expected the minister would be given a chance to offer rebuttal evidence before the report of the investigators is made public. Two members of his church attended the trial Saturday, saying that at St. Charles he bore the highest reputation and was well liked.

The clothing and linen are collected by the presidents of the different sections assisted by a large corps of directors and after the round-up the distribution is made to such institutions and charities as have been voted upon by the executive board and section presidents. The needs of each are carefully considered according to answers to printed inquiries previously sent out.

Garments donated should be of warm materials and underwear should be given in pairs and tacked together.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion Pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
REX—Motion Pictures.

At the Lyceum.

Fall style week will be a gala one at the Lyceum as four standard attractions will be presented during the week. "The Country Boy" next Sunday matinee and night, Olive Vail in "The Girl from Mumm's" on Monday night, and Henry Miller in "The Rainbow" will be seen on Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and night, while on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Henry W. Savage's great dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," will be shown.

"The Veteran Police Horse" shown at the Lyceum yesterday can hardly be called a play. It is more of a dramatic essay. But it is of such absorbing interest that one never thinks of trying to follow the thread of plot which it contains. Most people love horses, or have loved them at one time or another, in spite of motor maniacs and the speed craze. And of all the animals which they object to seeing abused, the horse probably comes first, with dogs second. Every one knows that the old age period of the average horse, particularly in a crowded city, is anything but a happy one. With the kind assistance of the mounted police it shows us how cavalry horses are first broken to saddle and then trained until they unconsciously obey every touch of the rider's knee. In many of the scenes it is quite evident to what extent a rider learns to love his mount. There is the thread of a story running through the play that adds a spice of adventure. Finally come sad and unhappy days for the equine hero. He is sold at auction to a hack driver and is badly abused, but is finally rescued by his old master and retired to the stock farm. This picture with three other single reels will again be shown today.

At the Orpheum.

It takes about two acts for the Orpheum bill this week to get warmed up and running smoothly, but when it hits its stride it is simply a hurricane of laughs until the finish.

Two average acts and the Thaw motion pictures lead off. Mlle. Tina, the opening performer, is a graceful trapeze worker, and Ralph Smalley plays several selections on the cello, but neither act is one to arouse enthusiasm.

The Thaw pictures, which have been barred in some other cities, are wholly inoffensive, and interesting to those who have followed the Thaw case. They give a good opportunity to study the young man in action, and his extreme nervousness is the characteristic that strikes the spectator most forcibly.

Following the Thaw pictures, the bill really gets started and it is a hilurious one. Joe Welch, the inimitable little portrayer of comedy Hebrew parts, is back with an entirely new monologue, and for nearly thirty minutes he kept the big audience almost in hysterics yesterday. Welch has the good taste and good judgment not to make his picture of the quaint, philosophic little Hebrew an offensive one, and his humor is of a quiet, kindly type, but good for about ten laughs a minute while he is on the stage.

"Fixing the Furnace," is the best comedy sketch since "Flinder's Furnished Flat." It is hilariously funny, and was greeted with shouts of laughter yesterday. It consists chiefly of a dialogue between two steamfitters in the basement of a house, with a most surprising finish. It is presented by George Rolland and company.

Fred Warren and Effie Conley bring a clean and lively little song and dance turn to a close with the best eccentric comedy dance of the season, or of several seasons, and they shared with Joe Welch and "Fixing the Furnace" the honors of the bill.

Mlle. Arenera and Sig. Victor, two Spanish dancers, have an interesting act, in which they offer several different types of their native dances. The woman is especially graceful.

The closing act is a most surprising exhibition of comedy tumbling by three young men who call themselves the Swain and Ostman trio. It is rough and tumble comedy, but clean and amusing in the extreme. Some of the falls and bone breaking stunts are startling in their unexpectedness, and the act is kept moving at top speed.

The usual interesting motion pictures of news events close a bill which probably averages more hearty laughs to the minute than any bill seen this season. It will continue all week with a daily matinee.

At the Empress.

Headlining the bill are the Salambos, who present a most novel act in which they introduce feats with electricity and high powered currents. The act is remarkable in many ways and most entertaining. The two performers "eat" fire and play with electricity as if it was a toy.

The hit of the bill this week is the Southern playlet, "The Humming Coon," which is presented by Dave Lubin & company. The cast includes a quartet of colored minstrels, who sing plantation songs and melodies. They all possess pleasing voices and the numbers readily scored at the opening performances yesterday.

Sam Rowley, billed as "the little man with the big voice and mysterious whistle," lives up to his advance notices. He certainly is little and he readily convinced the audience that he has a big voice and a mysterious whistle. The whistle kept the audiences amused and entertained during his entire act and is something entirely out of the vaudeville rut.

A neat singing and dancing act is presented by Edmunds and Galor, who sing several popular songs and intermingle with these some clever dancing. The pair appear in several stunning costumes.

A motion picture film closed the bill which will continue until Wednesday evening, with the regular daily matinees.

At the Rex.

Mrs. Fiske, in "Tess of the d'Urbervilles," Thomas Hardy's sublime story in a masterful five-part production at the Rex theater, astonished the spectators, who have witnessed the performance. They sat spell-bound from the beginning of part one to the end of part five. The story portrays the pathetic record of a woman who suffered more than words can tell more than human eyes could possibly believe. The great actress appears in this drama, as she has appeared on the legitimate stage, where she is known as Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, one of the greatest actresses in the world, having won fame and success in every production in which she has starred. Evil may flourish anywhere, but when it comes into conflict with inherited pride and passionate love, then the outcome is tragedy. Such is the bitter theme of Tess, the tender chronicle of a great misfortune, and although the appealing voice will not be heard, there will remain the art of revealing through expression the tumult that surges in the bosom. Some of the scenes of rural life, of the green meadows, of valley and streams, will linger in the memory of all those who see this production. It is more complete than the production on the legitimate stage, owing to the impossibility of staging the scenes which can be secured with a camera. It is one of the greatest attempts in which Daniel Frohman has triumphed; and the patron is assured of something different from anything witnessed in the city in motion pictures, in Mrs. Fiske, in "Tess of the d'Urbervilles."

Parcel Post Has Resulted in Increase of Small Orders.

Country Stores Do Not Now Need Such Large Stocks.

According to the statement of the manager of one of the largest of Duluth's wholesale houses, the parcel post is acting as a boon to the retail dealer and is not facilitating the business of the mail order house.

Further, while it is not claimed that there has been a general increase of business with the going into operation of the parcel post, it is stated that there has been a general increase of small orders.

It is claimed, by Duluth jobbers that the parcel post is the greatest benefit the small retailer could have, and also the greatest aid the dealer with the small country store could have.

Before the parcel post, according to the statement of several Duluth wholesale men, a country dealer would not make a small order to suit the desires of an individual customer. He would wait until the large general order came. Now it is quite different. As one man put it:

"Bingo! and you have the order into the wholesale house and back to the small store, and the customer in question has received the small individual order, something that would not have been the case before the parcel post."

Manager Horr of Stone-Ordean-Wells says that the parcel post is a good thing; for the jobber and also a decidedly good thing for the retail merchant.

"Where he might buy 500 cigars before, he buys perhaps 200 cigars at the present time," said he. "In the end our business is just as great, and in the end, too, our collections are better and the merchant is perhaps able to discount his bills regularly.

"We are willing to keep the stock here for the merchant, and under the operation of the parcel post we are finding that the merchant is ordering in small quantities and ordering more often."

Wholesale house managers here say that they have not had as yet to make radical changes to meet the new business that has come into existence with the parcel post, as has been claimed by some of the managers of some of the large Chicago houses.

What increase in cost there may be, is slight, if there is any. The cost of the parcel post is charged against the customer, so that there is little liability of needless ordering, just to take advantage of this easier and more rapid mode of getting goods.

Admitting that there has been a generous increase of smaller orders, Duluth department managers state that the change has not been of a revolutionary nature, as some of the managers of Chicago firms assert.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK SHOWS GAIN

The Duluth postal savings bank today started on its third year of existence, growing like a prize baby.

At the close of the business in the Duluth postoffice Saturday just $156,612 in deposits lay in the bank. The same day last year the total on deposit was $94,111. The increase on deposit at the close of business Saturday, over the same day last year, is $62,501.

In 1912 the average number of depositors per day was ten and the average amount deposited was $385. In 1913 the average number of depositors has been 22 a day and the average deposited has been $563.

Deposits on Increase.

A. P. Cook, postmaster, says that each day sees more people taking advantage of the chance offered by the government for saving money in the postoffices. He said that he believed with a few more prosperous years the bank would show an increase far beyond any it has shown up to this time.

The money order department of the Duluth postoffice also is showing big gains. The Duluth office, according to Mr. Cook, handles more money than the St. Paul office, due, it is believed, to the large amount of money sent from here to foreign countries.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Be Alert on the Highways.

Evidently some people expect to get through life with their mouths open and their eyes shut, as the saying is. I have seen so many examples of this sort of thing that the wonder to me is that we are not a nation of maimed and crippled people. We do not intend to take any very serious risk with life and limb, but we do, nevertheless, every day of our lives.

We take it when we step confidently and blindly from the sidewalk to the street right in the pathway of a rapidly aproaching trolley car, automobile or express wagon. We escape all unhurt, it is true, 999 times out of 1,000. Perhaps the 1000th time a person is felled to the street and in consequence spends several weeks in the hospital. Perhaps he loses the use of a leg or an arm to constantly remind him of his carelessness.

We are all in sympathy for the victim of the hurly-burly street corners, but do we realize how often we ourselves escape by simply a hair's breath, some injury to our body or our senses that would make life assume a very unfortunate aspect henceforth.

Some of the things we meet with are not at all expected nor should they be tolerated in a city. But it is safest to be on the lookout for the possible pitfall; to keep one's eyes open and one's senses collected when surrounded by the confusion that typifies the average city. I saw a woman receive a severe blow across the bridge of her nose from a slender iron pipe protruding at least two feet beyond the express wagon in which it was being transferred.

This woman stood waiting at the edge of the crossing for the wagon to pass and without making sure that all was well had starting to cross just in time to receive the full force of this iron pipe in the face. The marvel of it is that it didn't break her nose or, what is worse, destroy her sight.

It stunned and terrified her and she fell half fainting into the arms of a woman who had taken note of all that happened. Probably she will be on the watch for protruding iron pipes in the future. She is fortunate that she is nursing nothing more serious than a swollen nose with a slight abrasion.

Most of us are aware that danger is to be encountered on the public highways, so why not train ourselves to give it a thought in crossing streets.

Our Diamond Display is always full of interest and beautifully illustrates what Diamond supremacy means. The high qualities, exceptional designs and reasonable prices have contributed much in making our store so attractive to the lovers of Fine Diamond Jewelry.

THE CLOSE OF A QUEER CAMPAIGN.

It has been a curious campaign that attended the first referendum election ever held in the city of Duluth.

To a stranger in the city, listening only to the advocates of the Hicken ordinance, the almost total lack of public interest and the complete lack of public excitement would have been amazing.

It is not so, however, to those who know the condition that prevails, and the slender foundation on which the attempt to raise a real issue has rested.

Had a condition of reckless law violation and of municipal rottenness prevailed, and had the ordinance offered the only means of coping with it, there would have been plenty of interest and excitement.

But when there is no law violation, when the law is fully and rigidly enforced, when conditions are sound and clean, and when the pending ordinance did not add anything whatever to the power of the authorities to keep them so, it is not surprising that there should be little public interest and no excitement whatever.

Never, probably, in the history of Duluth has an attempt been made to bestir and embitter the people with an excuse so paltry.

That the attempt has failed is a credit to the intelligence and perception of the voters.

As The Herald said a couple of weeks ago, the referendum election is a matter of very small consequence.

The issue, as it has been framed by the advocates of the ordinance, is law enforcement. Yet the law already is enforced, and it will continue to be enforced no matter what happens to the ordinance.

It is like raising the issue of slavery when slavery is dead.

The law is enforced now because the city authorities have the power to enforce it and because they are backed by public sentiment.

If the ordinance is ratified, the law still will be enforced for the same reasons, though the power of the authorities will not be increased one jot or tittle.

If the ordinance is rejected, the law still will be enforced; for the power of the authorities to enforce it will not be curtailed in any particular by the failure of the ordinance.

It has been said, by some advocates of the ordinance who admit that it is needless, that they fear its defeat would induce Commissioner Hicken to abandon his efforts to keep the city clean.

That's a poor compliment to Mr. Hicken. The Herald does not hold him so lightly as that. It approves thoroughly his completely successful efforts to enforce the law as it stands, and it knows that he has in that work the complete and cordial approval of the public. We do not believe that he will relax his vigilance if the ordinance is defeated, and it is certain that he could not if he wished to do so. The public would not permit any such relaxation, and The Herald would be first to condemn it if any such weakness were exhibited.

The law in Duluth is well enforced. Conditions are decent and orderly. The ordinance is not needed, the special election was a folly and a waste of sadly scarce public funds, and the whole proceeding has been an absurd attempt to inject life into a lifeless issue, and to give importance to what is intrinsically unimportant.

If the ordinance is badly beaten, it will not be a rebuke to law enforcement. It will be a rebuke to needless overdoing, and to a policy that without producing anything whatever for the moral or business welfare of the city would work utterly uncalled-for injustice to innocent persons.

It will also be an emphatic warning to the city commission that it will do well to study how to put the city's affairs on a sound business basis, and to cease wasting time in kicking the corpse of law violation.

Sydney Anderson has set out to reform congress. Next question is, will Sydney expect to be regularly re-elected until he has accomplished that to his entire satisfaction?

After the New York police had identified the body of a murdered woman, the woman they had declared dead proved that she was alive and well. Some folks are so inconsiderate of the feelings of the police.

THE LAKE COUNTY FAIR.

One of the marvels in the development of Northeastern Minnesota has been the progress of the Lake county fair, which has grown in a few years from a small and humble beginning to a stage where the prizes awarded this year amount to nearly fifteen hundred dollars, and the fair covers a floor space of ten thousand square feet.

The public-spirited citizens who have been identified with the Lake county fair from its beginning, and most of whom are still identified with it, have been wiser than many county fair managers in that they have rigidly adhered to the rule that this shall be a county fair and nothing but a county fair—that is, an exposition of the dairying, stock-raising and agricultural development of the county.

On this basis they have built the fair, and on this basis they have kept it growing and made it pay.

The Lake county fair is a splendid achievement in itself, and it is a splendid achievement above all because it reflects a most encouraging growth of agricultural and dairying operations in Lake county.

Duluth has always taken a special interest in this fair, almost as great as it has in its own St. Louis county fair; and as usual this year there will be a Duluth day when as many of the citizens of Duluth as possible will board a special train and visit the fair.

The fair is open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and Friday will be Duluth day, when a special train will leave the Duluth union depot at one o'clock in the afternoon. It is to be hoped that everybody who can possibly do so will arrange to join the Duluth boosters for this trip.

A skunk hid in the dome of the Wisconsin capitol the other day, and a lot of the older employes got into warpaint under the impression that the good old days of the stalwarts and halfbreeds had returned.

THE HOME GARDEN AT THE EXPOSITION.

Duluth has made great strides in home gardening in the last few years, and back yards have blossomed with flowers and shrubs and radishes and lettuce and cauliflower and nearly all the category of garden products.

It is to be hoped that the home gardeners will take advantage of the Duluth exposition and fall fashion week to show each other and those still unconvinced what can be done and what is being done in Duluth.

It is hard to see how the Lakesiders and Woodlanders, historic participants in a joint debate about the respective fertility of their suburban homes, can escape exhibiting their products.

The city has heard a great deal about their agricultural and horticultural feats, but it has seen little. The city is from Missouri. It is up to Lakeside and Woodland.

And while we are about it, let Fond du Lac, West Duluth, the West end, the East end and the downtown section, which have been saying little but sawing wood, get into the game and see whether the eloquent suburbs have anything on them.

The home garden exhibit, both of flowers and vegetables, should be a big and striking feature of the exposition.

It will be all of that if the home gardeners will take the pick of their back yards and bring it to the exposition, where they will be welcomed and proper display made of their exhibit.

Maybe one reason there are so few hats in that Mexican presidential nomination ring is that it bears a mighty strong resemblance to a bull ring.

HEALTH TO EDISON!

Thomas A. Edison has been ill for several days, though the later reports are reassuring. He is sixty-six years old, and has worked prodigiously all his busy life. He is a wise man, and one of the world's greatest geniuses, but he has not learned one of the most vital lessons—how to rest.

The nation, and the world, will wish him quickly renewed health and many more years of life. The world can ill spare him, and it wants him to remain with it long even if he never gives it another invention.

The Hartford, Conn., press agent also got busy and worked a little advertising out of the Thaw case. If Harry would only disappear entirely for a few hours it's ten to one La Crosse and Oshkosh would get into the game.

SHUTTING OUT MRS. PANKHURST.

They are talking of shutting out Mrs. Pankhurst, England's militant suffragist and the leader of the foolish torch-bearing and bomb-throwing feminist crusade, when she attempts to carry out her promise—or threat—to visit this country.

Well, if we are afraid of her, by all means we should shut her out.

Undoubtedly if we study the rules and regulations made and provided, and twist them hard enough, we can find some sort of justification for such an act.

But if we are not afraid of her, might it not seem rather foolish to raise the bars against her, and rather stupid too?

And as we probably are not afraid of her, perhaps we'd better let her in.

Only she will have to behave herself when she does come. She will be a guest, and however guests may comport themselves at home, it is not considered quite the thing for them to rip the lace curtains or burn the bed covers when they are visiting.

Missouri is going to get rid of grade crossings. Which is only a step toward the elimination of the coroner.

WHAT REAL ESTATE OWNER THINKS OF IT.

I understand that some of our merchants and owners of real estate are afraid that if the Hicken ordinance is adopted, it will close perhaps 25 or 30 of a certain class of our saloons. They fear that such action would hurt our business and reduce our rentals.

I believe it is conceded that commercial interests and capital are timorous. It seems to me, in this case, some of our merchants and property owners are over-conservative and shortsighted.

I assume we have 75,000 or 80,000 people in Duluth. As yet, with all our efforts, our industries are limited and our payrolls small. I believe that, outside of hotels and clubs, we have over 170 saloons. These saloons are supported almost entirely from our meager payrolls. The cost of these saloons is several million dollars a year. The bulk of this money goes direct into the superabundant treasuries of a lot of non-resident corporations.

Labor is scarce in this region. It takes at least 1,000 able-bodied men, including bartenders, assistants and hangers-on to operate our saloons. Now supposing the adoption of the Hicken ordinance, instead of closing 25 or 30, would close 100 of the most undesirable of our saloons, what would be the result? We would still have eighty saloons, or twice as many as any city of our size in Canada. With eighty saloons properly distributed in the business district, all the men, women and children in Duluth, while in that district, could get all the whisky, wine and beer that they were able to pay for, without walking more than half a block in any instance. By closing 100 saloons, we would turn from 400 to 500 able-bodied operatives out to work on our docks or in our fields and factories. Some of them would get out on the land and do their share toward feeding themselves and the rest of the world, instead of feeding on it like parasites, as they are now doing. Millions of dollars that are now going over these superfluous saloon bars and into the treasuries of non-resident corporations, would be spent in our stores for more and better food, clothing and homes for the wives and children of our laboring people.

Our grocery stores, meat markets, clothing, drygoods and shoe stores will always be just as good and no better than the patronage they receive. This increased amount of money that they would receive from our payrolls now going to the saloons would give us just that much better retail stores. By increasing the patronage and greatly improving our retail stores, we would attract people and business from the surrounding country to fill our hotels and patronize our stores—a thing that our city needs more than anything else, if we have hope of ever getting out from under the finger of Destiny and growing and keeping pace with Winnipeg and other neighboring cities.

Winnipeg, with nearly twice the population of Duluth, has about one-third as many saloons, and one of its retail stores sells more goods on the average every month than any retail store in Duluth sells in a year. This should make the timorous ones among our merchants awaken and think.

Then there is another feature to be considered:

So long as Duluth's business men and the fathers of Duluth's children not only tolerate, but license and approve within our city limits, ten saloons to one grocery store, our children are going to come up to look upon the saloon business and all that goes with it as the principal legitimate business of the city—a business respected, encourage and supported by their parents and the city officials. While each parent may expect and hope that his poor neighbor's children and not his own will be sacrificed, many of us will be disappointed and the general results will not be good.

Shut down 25 or 30 or even 100 of our most undesirable saloons, and the ones left will be more prosperous and will not be compelled to short-change, slug and even murder in order to satisfy their owners. They will be able to occupy decent quarters instead of wretched shacks. They will be able to sell a quality of liquor that the breweries will permit the state to inspect—the same as it now inspects the farmer's milk.

It is a disgrace to every voter in Duluth that we allow a lot of corporations, largely non-resident, to inflict on this small city 180 saloons, largely through political influence paid for in cash, taken from the needy. The business man or property owner is overconservative if he fears that the Hicken ordinance will hurt Duluth. I own in Duluth and pay taxes and assessments on as much business property, both improved and unimproved, as any other one individual or corporation, and I have some interest in mercantile and other business here. I am not guessing, but I know that the value and earning capacity of any and all of my property here would be increased by weeding out 25, 30 or even 100 of the least desirable of these saloons.

Aside from a few cheap beer warehouses the saloon owners have little or no proprietory interest in the city except to absorb the largest possible percentage of our payrolls, and to so control the politics of city, county and state as to protect themselves in their crooked methods. If I have any property or commercial business that needs 180 saloons in Duluth to bolster it up, I want to get rid of it. The predicted calamity of this ordinance closing our cigar stores is not worthy of discussion. I spent part of last week in Fargo, where they have no saloons, and had no trouble in buying all the cigars I needed. It would not hurt my feelings if we have a number of cigar stores outside of the saloons, where our boys may buy cigars without being urged to buy the drinks for the gang.

A small piece of real estate will be enough for any one of us in a hundred years from now. We can help to clean up our own door-yard and make this a better place for the next generation to grow up in by getting out and voting for the Hicken ordinance. Every person favoring this ordinance should make sure to get out and vote for it. The proprietors of questionable saloons, the divekeepers and those who sell goods to unfortunate women for double price will all be at the polls. "The ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib." Thanking you for the space, I am yours truly,

G. G. HARTLEY.

Duluth, Sept. 14.

SAME MAN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Is the A. C. Rankin who has been hired to make speeches in favor of the Hicken ordinance the same A. C. Rankin who was hired to come here in 1896 to make speeches in favor of the Mark Hanna ticket and the Mark Hanna style of government?

INQUIRER.

Mr. Rankin spoke here in behalf of the Republican candidates in the campaign of 1896.—The Editor.

THAT HICKEN ORDINANCE.

The expense of a city election with its agitation and waste is all in the interest of the cigar sellers who occupy stands that obscure the rear of saloons.

No one has the courage to object to any features of the ordinance save the provision for the elimination of cigar store screens. Having carefully read The Herald's diligent campaign for these stores I always see the assumption that money is of more value than manhood, business is of more importance than respect for the law.

Saloonists need watching. The compromise proposed of plate glass rear to the store is impracticable. The glass can become dirty and the partition at right angles to the sidewalks obscures a diagonal view of the rear of a saloon.

The cigar sellers are screening the saloons. No saloons having such screens have been convicted of illegal selling. Is not that significant?

Unbiased visitors and observers see in the ordinance a carefully planned progressive movement for better enforcement of the law.

The saloonists and those whose pocketbooks or appetites are interested in the liquor selling are firmly opposed to the ordinance.

The clear conscience of those who have not compromisory interests says vote yes for the Hicken ordinance. The issue is crystal clear—money vs. morals.

MILTON FISH.

Duluth, Sept. 12.

FIGHT JUST BEGUN.

After reading the various opinions concerning the Hicken law it seems to me that most of the people have not the right perception of by whom and for what ultimate purpose this ordinance has been invented.

It would take too much of your valuable space to explain the situation in all its phases and would only aid to increase the bad feeling now prevailing among the citizens of our city. As this is not my intention I will only say in short that this ordinance is merely a forerunner of others to follow. These men who use Mr. Hicken's name have declared war and no matter if this ordinance is adopted or rejected the fight will continue.

The church party is not a party which will fail to follow up its victory to its best advantage. Since the inauguration of Mr. Hicken his party has won its first issue and has succeeded in keeping the public mind concentrated on him so that today we hardly remember the names of the other four commissioners.

Their second issue will be prohibition of all liquors, and why should our preachers not put a third one on the market? Why should they not feel entitled to that tenth of our income, drink and tobacco bill, which they will help us to save and with which we may become to independent or indulge in more extravagant habits?

Under present conditions any solution of this everlasting fighting should be welcome, as it becomes extremely sickening and detrimental to the interests of any community. In view of his dependent position let us not judge Mr. Hicken harshly, whose life is made a burden by the countless demands of our preachers of peace.

This fact may explain the reason why Mr. Hicken declines to serve another term as commissioner. He has realized that these men make him more trouble than the lawless element, that they are as intemperate in their demands of him as a drunkard is in drinking, and that the cultivation of peace with our fellow citizens and our own mind bears a far greater reward.

Respectfully, E. R. ROTHE.

Duluth, Sept. 13.

IN OTHER DAYS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The man or the interests who insinuate that the owners of The Herald oppose the new ordinance forget that the owner of the News Tribune but a few years ago was the owner of the ramshackle saloon buildings on the bowery where the Soo depot is now located. And as to the character of those saloons, why, the lowest dive now existing is a kindergarten in comparison.

And there was always a brewery as surety on the lease, too, just to make sure of the dollars and cents.

ONE WHO REMEMBERS.

Duluth, Sept. 13.

"AN IMPROVED MARINE TERMINAL."

Upon an eminence rising some 600 feet above the lake level rests the center of the Northwestern Hemisphere—Duluth. The center, not with reference to geographical boundaries, but rather the center of commercial action. It is not my purpose, however, to extol or magnify the resources of nature; instead I wish to assume a more serious mien and expose one of Duluth's faults, or, perhaps, I should more precisely say, one of her misfortunes. To accomplish such an exposition I wish to acquaint the reader with a few of the genuine faults of the passenger dock and its present location.

One should bear in mind that the passenger wharf is now situated at the foot of Seventh avenue west, which is, I hold, entirely foreign to all natural propensity, as that avenue is not directly open to the bay front, thereby causing serious delay in passing to and from the wharf, to say nothing of its inaccessibility during the evening. By night the entire dock, but more particularly that section of it upon which we are constrained to pass, has no illumination. Neither is the passenger guarded by a handrail—he must rely upon his astute nature for safety. Again—when showery weather prevails, one has no place of shelter upon the wharf other than the Northern Pacific freight shed, which is not a public building.

To those who have recently visited this marine terminal, the question of its environments may be clear, but to the majority of persons I find it lacking consideration. Many are ignorant of the slums through which our guests are compelled to traverse upon their entry to Duluth. Surely there is a better location for the passenger dock than this. If not, the present wharf should be improved.

It has been my purpose to expose a few of the numerous drawbacks which confront the passenger dock question today. And I believe that to any mind tinctured with an essence of fairness, the betterment of the aforementioned imperfections must demand careful consideration.

GEORGE A. DOOK,

HAVE ALL THE POWER THEY NEED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

A settled policy of law enforcement was determined when we elected five commissioners pledged to such a program. No matter how we vote tomorrow this policy will not be changed in the least. The commissioners can now and may then put any man out of business who violates the law. They can now and may then enforce an order to have all bars exposed to view. They can enlarge or contract the patrol limits. They can now and may then penalize buildings. They can raise the fee or decrease the number, or they can in one year's time prohibit the sale altogether. All of this by virtue of the power they have to revoke licenses for cause and refuse to renew. If this ordinance prevents brewery control it does not prevent whisky interest control. What is the difference? The commissioners can use their judgment as to the justice of each revocation which they cannot do if this law passes. We now have the laws and we have all the power we need. We only need five men who will use this power wisely.

FAVORS ORDINANCE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am very much in favor of the Hicken ordinance and think everyone in this community who has the welfare of the city at heart should favor the ordinance because of the great moral issue it contains, notwithstanding your attitude to the contrary. Great men should set aside their petty grievances and make their influence felt for righteousness.

OFFERS TO PAY FOR EXPERIMENT

Through your Open Court the writer wishes to sympathize with our worthy financial commissioner, Mr. Voss. I don't wonder at his feeling and warning about our empty treasury and the waste of the taxpayers' money. A glance at London road would scare a mule from his oats. It has been a disgrace to our city for two years and has been commented on by convention visitors, and now, after they are all gone, it makes one weep to see the money thrown away as it is being done today on London road. Not only throwing away money but completely ruining the road, digging up good hard surface to make the holes larger to be filled with material that stands only three to four days. The material is good if a small quantity of cement was put with it for a binder, but broken rock can't be bound with red clay, besides the expense of the extra labor they put on would pay for ten times the cement it would take. If our commissioner has any doubt about it why not take a sack of cement and try it in a few holes. He would soon be convinced. When I see such work going on it makes me ashamed of my vote.

The oil that was put on in most places was a waste because the road was in no condition to receive it. One might as well use oil in a barnyard as to put oil all over the winter's droppings. The writer would be glad to show how to make such repairs free of charge. If the commissioner would like to try the experiment I will furnish the cement free of charge and delegate The Herald to give the order for the sack of cement and charge same to me.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Duluth, Sept. 12.

THINKS ORDINANCE IS DISCRIMINATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As the special election approaches there is much talk and writing pro and con in regard to the so-called Hicken liquor ordinance. Wherefore all this unnecessary noise because a few individuals wish to become known and supposedly prominent? Do you people of Duluth wish to be ruled by such sycophants, deprived of your rights just because for various reasons be they moral (?) or pecuniary do not visit the saloons? Are not the laws rigidly enforced at present and the saloonkeeper and other business men handicapped as much as permissible, closed Sunday, selection days, holidays, etc., open from 5 to 11 and all other restrictions which the present law prescribes? Isn't that enough for these supposed refined gentlemen with well stocked wine and liquor cellars, their well replenished clubs and Sunday outing feasts which a poor laboring man cannot afford. A saloonkeeper must pay $1,025 license and is not allowed to ply his trade. After restricting him in his trade as far as he has been, they wish to eliminate all music, raise his license and abolish free lunch, for which a poor man would have to walk miles among these supposed reformers in order to get it, and most likely be arrested as a beggar. Why are lunches, music, etc., under various names allowed in nearly all churches and so-called society, where a poor man is snubbed, and not in saloons where people are willing to associate with him? Oh, ye "men of the cloth," ye Pharisees and Sadducees! The morning paper, several idle ministers and club men wish to pull the wool over your eyes in order to get their new project through by putting this question to be decided at the coming election as mild as possible, yes, misrepresent the facts in order to deceive you. You have adopted the commission form of government in order to upbuild, not to destroy, the business interests of the city. Your taxes for mere foolishness and unnecessary extravagance are increasing, while your revenue is decreasing. Why drive the people from Duluth to Superior and other points, not only to the detriment of saloons but to business people in general? Shall our business people suffer on account of this unnecessary agitation, stimulated by the agitation of these supposed reformers. Duluthians and fellow citizens be not deceived, open your eyes to the true facts, vote "No" at the coming election and show them, morning paper and all others notwithstanding, that you are not to be ruled and governed by these few as dummies, but have something to say yourself in spite of all deceptions.

INTERESTED TAXPAYER.

Duluth, Sept. 12.

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Summer's Coming.

Aitkin Republican: "Strawberries in September," is the news from Duluth. Gee! They must have a late spring up there.

Willing to Eat It.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The recently acquired avidity with which the Duluth editorial writers are pounding out ream after ream of dissertations on "Corn on the Cob" and "The Great Big Baked Potato" makes us wonder whether the case of the Sulphus, Oklahoma, editor who was shot and killed because he refused to literally eat what he said about a county official, hasn't secured recognition from the scribes who formerly dealt with "Iron Ore" and "Cement Paving."

Figures Don't Lie.

Stillwater Gazette: Figures don't lie, of course not, but Duluth claims that August of this year was 5 degrees warmer than it was last year. Still it was cool at Duluth.

How True!

Preston Times: Some Chicago suffragettes out on a "hike" had a malodorous experience with a skunk, which prompts the Duluth Herald to remark that they only were getting an "initiation into the kind of thing they will run up against in politics." More truth than poetry in that statement, and the odor cannot always be removed by a change of clothing.

Good Idea.

Albert Lea Tribune: The Duluth Herald has an editorial under the caption of "Do It For Duluth," in which it urges all people of Duluth to be represented at a show to be held there, at which it urges that everything raised and made in Duluth be exhibited. It is a good idea.

Some Construction.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: "Lineman Marries; Killed by Currant," announces one of the Duluth papers. Another case of the bride's cooking proving fatal.

Tribute From the Range.

Hibbing: You can't help admiring the enthusiasm and the persistency and the wholly admirable habit of keeping everlastingly at it of the Duluth business men. There is more leaven of progress in Duluth than in any other city we know of,—and it is working all the time.

Duluth can be depended upon to "boost" with a big delegation every time there is anything notable doing on the ranges. Duluth, with the able support of the ranges, was about three fourths of the Northern Minnesota Development association in its most influential days. Duluth maintains an agricultural expert through its Commercial club and an agricultural bureau that are doing wonders toward the development and population of St. Louis county. In fact, you can hear Duluth up and coming any time you put your ear to the ground. We have got several things against Duluth, all right, and we haven't forgiven any of them, but let's admit right here that when it comes to a town that can and does do things, all our money is on Duluth.

Now it is an "industrial exposition" that the Zenith City is making a noise with—an exposition of the business of the city and with that a notable setting forth of the resources of the county which is certain to do much toward the forward movement in the settlement and development of St. Louis county.

Of course it is to Duluth's interest to do these things—but there are towns that haven't got sense or enterprise enough to keep everlastingly at the things most necessary to their progress and prosperity. Duluth has.

Two Names and a Moral

Chicago Record-Herald: What is in a name?

Ah, there may be a good deal in a name. A name may call up the most dramatic and pregnant memories—memories of fierce contests, victories, defeats, epoch-making reforms, revolutions.

Take, for illustration, two names—Labori and Haldane. They are the name of distinguished visitors who are to attend an American-Canadian conference of uniform legislation.

Labori, the defender of Dreyfus, the man who was shot at Rennes while in the midst of a world-shaking trial, the man who, overcoming bitter prejudices and slanders, became the head of the Paris bar; and who is now beginning to look back on a long career in a philosophical mood. Labori marvels at American strenuosity, yet he has been an editor of a leading magazine and an eminent, busy lawyer directing a large legal staff—that is why he is "Maitre" Labori.

Haldane, now lord chancellor, was a few years ago a plain commoner whom his party rather distrusted, because he was too conservative, too Hegelian, too "German" in his thinking, and too much interested in metaphysics and in philosophy. Now Lord Haldane is at the pinnacle of fame, and the tories regard him as a dangerous radical, a co-conspirator of the terrible Lloyd-George, a champion of home rule and of unfettered democracy, a destroyer of the British constitution.

There is much in names, but what is there in political vituperation, in the adjectives and epithets applied to shining marks by passionate and narrow-minded partisans?

Sphinx Troubles.

Ladies' Home Journal: She was a pretty, young school teacher and was reading sentences to her class, letting them supply the last word.

"The sphinx," she read, "has eyes, but it cannot—"

"See" cried the children.

"Has ears, but it cannot—"

"Hear!" they responded.

"Has a mouth, but it cannot—"

"Eat!" came the chorus.

"Has a nose, but it cannot—"

"Wipe it!" thundered the class.

The lesson then ended.

Taking Precaution.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The Rollicksen family were seated at their morning meal and Mrs. Rollicksen, as was her wont, had monopolized the morning paper and the conversation.

"Well," said Mrs. Rollicksen, after a business-like glance at the headlines on the first page and a suffragist swirl to the sixth or seventh, "Mrs. Wilson is the first lady of the land."

"Shh-hh-shh!" hissed, or lisped, if you like it better, Mr. Rollicksen.

"Why 'Hshh-shh-sh!'" demanded Mrs. Rollicksen.

"The cook might hear you!"

Peace Is Their One Foible.

London Punch: In certain quarters the Balkan states are constantly being blamed for their warlike propensities. What nonsense this is! They're always making peace.

Women.

There's pretty girls in every port
That fronts upon the foam,
For I've made love in Labrador,
In Cairo, and in Rome;
I've kissed the girls of London Town
And sweet to kiss were they,
But Burmah girls are just as sweet
And Frisco girls as gay!

There's always eyes to sparkle bright
And hearts a-beating warm,
There's lips the man who's bold may kiss
And waists to fill an arm;
The maids are fair in Argentine
And dainty in Japan,
There's girls to love in all the world,
If you're a proper man.

And who's the fairest of the fair?
Well, hang me if I know!
Sometimes I think she lives in France,
Sometimes in Callao;
But take 'em north and take 'em south,
And take 'em east and west,
The last one is the best!

DULUTH WINS RATE VICTORY

New C., M. & St. P. Rate Declared Illegal By Edgerton.

Assistant Attorney General Rules on Carriers' Proposal.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Railroads considering themselves as continuous carriers of freight from any point on their own line to a terminal on some other line must charge a through rate on all such shipments, according to an opinion submitted by Alonzo J. Edgerton, assistant attorney general.

The ruling applies directly to the Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company, which contracts to carry freight from points on its line through St. Paul to Duluth. From St. Paul to Duluth, Northern Pacific tracks are used.

Recently a schedule of rates to Duluth was filed by the Milwaukee company with the state railway commission. These rates were a combination of the local rates to St. Paul plus the Northern Pacific tariff from here to Duluth. This combination is declared illegal by Mr. Edgerton, who says the company should file schedules making through rates to the Head of the Lakes on all such shipments.

IRON CROSS WEARER HERE

Robert G. Sjostrom, a bank president and Wall Street operator of New York city, who is the guest of Dr. W. A. McClaran today, is a bearer of the iron cross, a continental badge of great honor, presented to Mr. Sjostrom by Kaiser Wilhelm.

L. H. O. Sjostrom of Hallandale, Fla., vice president and general manager of the North American Fruit company, is with his brother and will leave this evening with him for the East.

Reward For Services.

Robert Sjostrom was presented with the iron cross because of many of the services he has performed to the kaiser's subjects, who have come to the United States. In recognition of these various and great services the kaiser personally presented Mr. Sjostrom with the imperial decoration while he was in Europe, a year ago.

A wearer of the iron cross can enter the court unannounced. The decoration entitles him to instant recognition by the nobility of that country.

Was Here Before.

L. H. O. Sjostrom has been here before, but this is the first trip of Robert Sjostrom to Duluth.

"You would be surprised if you could conceive of some of the ideas we people of New York have of this section of the country" said Robert Sjostrom. "Some of them believe that bears and Indians run your streets. I was rather anxious lest a bear or an Indian would make an appearance."

Mr. Sjostrom declared that he was very much surprised with the sentiment he found west of New York in regard to Harry Thaw.

Thaw Unpopular.

"In New York," he declared. "You will not find one man in ten who wants to see Thaw liberated. There is practically no sentiment favoring him in the city of New York. Here most of the people you meet are decidedly in favor of the libernting of the slayer of Stanford White. Where I live the feeling is rather bitter against Thaw."

L. H. O. Sjostrom says that Miami, Fla., is going to be the great tourist resort of the Far South, and that within a few years it will be the tourist rival of Los Angeles.

JEWISH SCHOOL IS DEDICATED

The Moses Montefiore school for Jewish children, which is to be Duluth's Jewish social center, was formally dedicated yesterday afternoon and evening with appropriate exercises and ceremonies.

Over 1,200 people attended the exercises in the afternoon and evening when special programs of addresses and selections were rendered. The new building is at 310-2 East Third street and is dedicated to the Jews of Duluth, Superior and the range towns, it being the only school of its kind in Minnesota, outside of the Twin Cities.

The exercises began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Adas Israel temple, Third avenue east and Third street, from where the people later marched to the new school both a few doors away. The raising of the flags and the opening of the doors marked the formal school opening. Addresses were made by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel and Rabbi I. S. Taplitz of Adas Israel temple and Rev. E. Horwitz, superintendent of the school.

Following the addresses the Jewish Women's Educational society served a luncheon, after which a musical program was rendered by the Lavick orchestra. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The new school has four rooms on the ground floor, with a kitchen and room for the boys' club, and an auditorium and clubrooms on the second floor. It is on this floor that the new social center for Jewish young men and women will be conducted. The building is attractively finished.

OBITUARY

Brig. Gen. Edwin M. Coates, U. S. A., retired, died at his home in Washington, Sept. 13, after an illness of nearly a year. He was 77 years old and a native of New York.

Prof. Arminius Vambery, one of the best known travelers and Orientalists of the nineteenth century, died in Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 15, in his 82nd year. He was much revered both in his native Hungary and other countries and his works are widely read. He traveled throughout Central Asia, as a young man, in the disguise of a Dervish, studying the various dialects. On his return he was appointed professor of Oriental languages at Budapest university.

Brother Ambrose, registrar of the De La Salle institute and for many years an educator in the Catholic schools and colleges of the South and West, died in Chicago, Sept. 14.

DULUTH AT LAST WILL HAVE TRUST COMPANY

Long Needed Institution Is Organized By Local Capital.

Duluth is at last to have a trust company, and with that end in view, there was filed by Thomas J. Davis of Duluth in St. Paul Saturday, incorporation papers which will supply the business of the city one of these institutions.

The concern's name as given in the papers filed in St. Paul is "Bankers' Trust company." The incorporators are A. L. Ordean, E. B. Hawkins, David Williams and T. J. Davis. It is expected that the trust company will begin business about Jan. 1.

A. L. Ordean, president of the First National bank, has had this matter in mind for several years. About three years ago he tried to interest other bankers in the project but did not receive much encouragement for the reason that it was believed that that time was not opportune. He did not give it up, however, and recently resumed his canvass of his fellow bankers. This time he met with more success and encouragement and proceeded toward the formation of a company. The result is given.

The bankers have come to realize that Duluth has reached that stage of financial importance which makes it necessary for some such institution to have a foothold here, and it is desired that local capital control it rather than have some St. Paul or Minneapolis or other group of financiers learn that Duluth is without a trust company, come in and get first chance at the business, secure a foothold and practically preclude the formation of a local company of the same nature. It is this that Mr. Ordean has been afraid of and he has at last convinced other financial men in the city that there was really a grave danger; hence the formation of this company.

Mr. Ordean said this morning that the strongest kind of support from the financial interests of the city has been promised and bankers and capitalists in tributary territory who have been apprised of the organization express themselves as anxious to participate. This trust company will not be controlled by any one institution in the city but will be generally controlled by the city's financial interests.

It is generally conceded now that there is a wide and well defined field for such a company. There are many vast estates in and about Duluth that will be handled some time by somebody and in such cases in the past Twin City institutions have been getting the business. Now Duluth will be in a position to handle its own business. Other things handled by a trust company have been going to the Twin Cities, but this will no longer be necessary. It is predicted that the company will be a success from the day it opens its doors.

HOUSE AT WORK ON THE CURRENCY BILL

Washington, Sept. 15.—Perfecting details of the administration currency bill was begun today in the house. The bill was taken up for amendment, but possibilities of change from the floor were slight.

The banking committee, however, brought in an amendment to remedy a defect pointed out by Representative Scott, Republican, of Iowa. It was to limit the loaning power of the regional banks to their transaction with the government.

Lindbergh Amendment Beaten.

The first amendment from the floor was one by Representative Lindbergh, Progressive member of the banking committee, which proposed to permit reserve banks to begin business as soon as $5,000,000 capital was subscribed.

The debate brought an announcement from Representative Sisson, Democrat, of Mississippi that because of his opposition to "secret caucus methods," he would vote against the bill.

On the first test vote on amending the bill the Lindbergh amendment was defeated, 78 to 29.

"I don't know," replied the man whose methods are hurried. "These days you are pretty safe if you go ahead and call a man 'professor.'"

MUST CLOSE MUFFLERS

Ralph Bogan, 16, and Albert La Salle, 27, were arrested by Officer Cavanaugh for driving their motorcycles over fifteen miles an hour. They both pleaded guilty and were each fined $10 and costs or ten days. They paid their fines.

Edwin Nelson, 18 years old, who was arrested by Officers Cavanaugh and Boland for driving his automobile with his muffler open, also pleaded guilty and he was fined $5 and costs or five days. He paid his fine.

Russell Rose, 19 years old, who was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Officer Boland for having the muffler of his automoile open, was ordered to appear in police court at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

DULUTH BECOMING GREAT HORSE MARKET

Barrett & Zimmerman, well known horse dealers intend locating permanent sales stables in Duluth, according to announcement made recently by the firm. A recent shipment of heavy draft horses has been received at the local stables, some of which were among the prize winners at the Minnesota state fair.

J. D. Barrett, senior member of the firm intends giving the local market considerable of his attention. The opening of a large territory tributary to Duluth and the large demand for draft horses in this city has made this one of the best market for horses in the Northwest.

WEDDING MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

On the promise that Robert Jarppi would marry her if she came to Duluth, Mayme Nikka, 17 years old, left her home at Anandale, Minn., and arrived here Saturday only to find that her young dream was nipped in the bud yesterday morning, when she and Jarppi were arrested in the Alvarado hotel, where they had secured a room the night before.

In police court this morning Jarppi pleaded guilty to the charge against him, but declared that he is willing to marry the girl and will do so if given the opportunity. His case was then continued until 10 o'clck next Monday morning so that the police may have an opportunity to investigate in the meantime. Jarppi was released on payment of $50 bail.

According to the story told by the girl she came here Saturday to meet Jarppi and then get married, as was the understanding. They secured a room at the Alvarado hotel, where the young girl gave her age as 19 and also stated that she was married to her companion. They spent the night in the hotel and yesterday morning were arrested by Officer Danielson.

Chief Troyer has placed the girl in the municipal lodging house and is now in communication with the girl's parents at Anandale, and if they are willing, he will allow them to marry. Mayme stated to the court that she met Jarppi at Cokato, where the latter's folks reside.

ROAD IS SUED BY BUILDERS

Foley, Welch & Stewart, railroad contractors, have started suit in district court to enforce a lien of $344,784.48 on the real estate and right-of-railroad company from Duluth to Virginia. This amount is alleged to be due the contractors from the railway for labor and supplies furnished in the construction of the Duluth-Virginia branch of the Canadian Northern system during the years 1910-1911 and 1912.

Timothy Foley, M. H. Foley, Patrick Welch and J. W. Stewart constitute the firm of Foley, Welch & Stewart. The defendants, besides the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway, are MacKenzie, Mann & Co., Ltd., who own and control the stock of the railroad company and owners of the Canadian Northern system; the Canadian Northern railway, the British Empire Trust company, Ltd.; the National Trust company, Ltd.; the Walsh Construction company; Johnson & Carey company, W. J. Hoy and William Hauser.

Sublets Contract.

According to the complaint, MacKenzie, Mann & Co. let the contract for the building of the Duluth-Virginia line to Foley, Welch & Stewart on July 4, 1910. The plaintiffs sublet the greater portion of the work to the Walsh Construction company and the Johnson & Carey company, who are made defendants because they have an interest in the lien. work on the new line started on July 15, 1910, and according to the terms of the contract should have been completed in September, 1911. The contractors claim that considerable delay was encountered, because of the fact that MacKenzie, Mann & Co. had not acquired certain pieces of right-of-way and were slow in getting the material on the grounds. The work was not completed until Oct. 2, 1912.

Had Bridge Work.

Under the terms of the contract, MacKenzie, Mann & Co. agreed to furnish the right-of-way, the steel to be used for the tracks and to put in the bridges. It was agreed between the contractors and the MacKenzie & Mann interests that an engineer hired by the railroad company should make estimates of the work done from time to time and submit a report. This, the plaintiffs admit, was done, but the engineer's figures, they claim, were underestimated.

When the work was completed, the contractors claimed that there was due them, $1,612,652. The engineer's estimate was $1,570,370.19. The contractors admit receiving from MacKenzie, Mann & Co., all but $204,547.19 alleged to be due under the terms of the contract without taking into consideration an item of $140,237.29 for extra work performed.

Charge Fraud.

Under the contract between the contractors and MacKenzie & Mann, it was agreed that should the owners of the railroad company desire to make any changes or provide for any extra work that the changes would be allowed and that the work would be checked by the railroad company's engineer. The claim is now made that the engineer wrongfully and fradulently failed and refused to recognize several of the extra charges. The contractors claim that extra work amounting to $194,601.05 was done and that they were only paid $54,363,76 for it.

Filed Last December.

The lien was filed with the secretary of state on Dec. 28, 1912. The plaintiffs ask the court for judgment against the company for the amount of the claim and for an order of the court directing a sale of the real estate of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific in St. Louis county to satisfy the judgment. The trust companies named as defendants, it is claimed, assert some interest in the property of the railway. The court is asked to adjudge their claims secondary to those of the contractors.

POLICE RECOVER BULK OF STOLEN PROPERTY

During the month of August the detectives of Duluth recovered 75 per cent of the money and property stolen in the city, according to the monthly report submitted this morning by Lieut. Norman Terry.

In August property worth $5,161.95 was stolen and of this amount, 33,888.50 was recovered.

The largest single amounts reported recovered are $580, $1,500 and $800. During the month the detectives made 35 arrests on a charge of petit larceny, 18 for grand larceny, 15 for burglary and 3 for robbery.

FORMER OREGON JUDGE MURDERED.

Astoria, Or., Sept. 15.—Former Circuit Judge Frank J. Taylor was shot dead Sunday as he was about to take a train for his summer home. C. C. Hansel, who believed Mr. Taylor had induced Mrs. Hansel to get a divorce, was arrested.

No words accompanied the murder. Hansel approached the former jurist as he stood on the railway station platform and began shooting. When his revolver was empty, he threw it into the Columbia river. He did not try to get away.

Taylor was well known in Oregon and was a former member of the legislature. He is survived by a widow and two daughters.

FIRST REFERENDUM ELECTION IN DULUTH

Large Vote Is Not Likely to Be Cast Tuesday.

Failure to Vote Not a Vote Against the Ordinance.

Duluth will hold its first referendum election tomorrow to pass upon the new liquor ordinance. Almost to a day the first election will be held five months after the inauguration of the commission, April 14.

Interest in the referendum has been more general the last three or four days, the bulk of the energy of those campaigning for the measure having been devoted to stirring up the apathy which was everywhere apparent. But it is probable that the normal vote of 10,000 to 11,000 will fall short several thousands. At the last city election the official count showed that 10,286 ballots were cast.

The misleading statement has been made that to fail to vote is, in effect, a vote against the ordinance. To register his approval or disapproval the voter must visit his polling place and cast his ballot. He must mark it for or against the ordinance, voting as he would at any other election. The present election is not like some special elections which have been held at general elections, when failure to vote upon special issues submitted operated as a negative vote. In that case the special issues required a majority or greater per cent of all the votes cast at the general election in order to carry. Such is not the situation at this election. The only votes which count for or against the ordinance are those which are actually cast.

The ordinance requires a majority vote in order to become law. The outcome is very much in doubt.

During the last week meetings have been held in various parts of the city to urge the people to support the Hicken code. Law enforcement has been held forth as the issue.

The campaign for the ordinance will be brought to a close with a mass meeting at the Auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening. Arguments for the ordinance will be advanced by many well-known citizens of Duluth. Among the speakers will be Chester A. Congdon, Judge W. L. Windom, Bishop James McGolrick, Watson S. Moore and Commissioner W. A Hicken, father of the ordinance.

Voting Hours.

The polls will be open tomorrow from 6 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, as required by the state law. The judges and clerks will be practically the same as those who served at the last election. The polling places will be the same with little change.

Voters who participated in the last city election are already considered registered. The others may register at the polling places. All qualified voters may vote at tomorrow's special election. The requirements are that they be citizens of the United States who have attained the age of 21 years; that they have resided in the state six months and in the precinct in which they vote at least thirty days.

NOTICE

IN RELATION TO HAND BAGGAGE ON STREET CARS

During the last year or two much complaint has been made to the company of the inconvenience and discomfort caused to patrons by reason of other patrons abusing the privilege of taking hand baggage on the cars.

The payment of fare entitles any passenger to the privilege of taking "hand baggage" upon the car, but the term "hand baggage" has apparently been interpreted by some to mean anything that the passenger could lug aboard the car and the privilege has been abused to such an extent that the comfort of passengers and the operation of the cars has been seriously interfered with.

Without any desire to inconvenience those who have used the cars too freely in this way, but rather to promote the comfort of other patrons and in the best interests of all concerned, the company has adopted some new regulations and will hereafter require its employes to more strictly enforce all rules pertaining to this matter.

The new regulations will go into effect on October 1st next and this notice is given at this time in order that patrons who have been depending upon the cars for transporting articles that will not after that date be received as hand baggage may devise other means of transporting such things.

HAND BAGGAGE

Traveling bags, boxes, baskets, bundles, packages and other articles of such size, shape and weight as to enable the passenger to carry them in one hand while boarding the car will be considered as "hand baggage," provided, of course, they are not objectionable on account of being dangerous or offensive to other passengers.

PROHIBITED ARTICLES

Trunks, bicycles, baby carriages (except go-carts and small folding carriages that are of such shape that they may be taken inside the car folded up and held by the owner so as not to interfere with the comfort of other passengers), lumber, tool kits from which sharp tools protrude, unprotected glass, open pails of paint or grease, foul smelling articles, as well as all such things as by reason of their shape, bulk or weight could not be taken into the car proper without blocking the aisles or otherwise interfering with the comfort of passengers, must not be taken onto the cars as hand baggage.

When the "dinky" cars were used in Duluth and Superior passengers were permitted to stand in the front vestibule and the back part of the rear vestibules was used for baggage. This has resulted in the practice of depositing baggage in the rear vestibules of the large cars, greatly to the discomfort of passengers. All that part of the rear vestibules of the large cars which is not necessary to keep open for the safe and easy entrance and exit of passengers will hereafter be kept clear for the accommodation of those who desire to stand in the vestibule, and beginning October 1st no baggage whatever will be permitted in the rear vestibules of such cars. We believe this rule will materially add to the comfort of passengers and save time and accidents due to passengers having to climb over boxes and bundles when getting on or off the cars.

We respectfully solicit the co-operation of our patrons with our employes in enforcing this new rule. Patrons will kindly take their hand baggage into the body of the car with them and carry it upon their laps or place it under the seats, where it will not obstruct the aisles.

Passengers who wish to stand in the rear vestibule to smoke are requested to find a place under the long seats and near the rear door for any baggage that they do not wish to hold in their hands.

Questions will be answered by Mr. Roe in this column.

Questions.

How soon should spring-flowering bulbs be planted?

Can the narcissus polticus be naturalized in lawns like the scilla sibirica?

How deep should these small bulbs—narcisscus and scilla—be planted?

Spring-flowering bulbs such as tulips, hyacinths, narcissus, etc., may be planted at any time from now until the ground freezes up. They must go in this fall, however, if you expect results in the spring. I have planted as late as Oct. 15, or 15, but should advise getting them in a little earlier. One year I was caught by an early freeze-up and had to use a lot of tulips for forcing in pots.

I have never seen the narcissus poeticus naturalized in lawns, but it grows so well here that I am inclined to believe that it would do as well naturalized as either the scilla or the crocus. The bulb is somewhat larger and there is more inclination to clump. For this reason the grass roots might impede the proper root and plant development. The bulbs are inexpensive—it might be worth while to experimnt with a few of them.

The crowns of the scilla and narcissus should be 2½ or 3 inches below the surface. After they are planted a light dressing of manure on the surface will be found beneficial. Manure should never be allowed to come in contact with bulbs. If applied on the surface, the rains and snows will carry the plant food down in proper form for use.

C. M. M. asks when to plant tulips at Calvary cemetery to insure bloom on Decoration day. She planted coleus this spring and they failed to satisfy.

Early tulips planted this fall should be in full bloom by Decoration day, or a little earlier. Plant about four inches deep in good garden soil. No covering is required, but a little fine stable manure scattered on the surface will benefit the bulbs. Coleus is one of the most tender of greenhouse plants, and should never be set earlier than June 15. As a matter of fact, our summers are entirely too cold for satisfactory results with coleus. There are so many things that are hardy and beautiful here that it does not pay to use those that are tender and uncertain.

It is time to plan for the things which are to come in for the winter. Geraniums and other garden plants can be taken up and potted with very little shock if the work is carefully done. Cut all around the plant with a sharp spade or trowel, slip your spade under the plant and lift it unshaken to pot or jardeniere in which it is to grow, and pack the earth firmly around the edges of the pot. There should always be a vent in the bottom of the pot to insure proper drainage and it is well to put some broken crock over this vent.

SEED CORN WEEK HERE

Extension Division of University of Minnesota Arousing Interest.

The Minnesota Agricultural college is making a strenuous campaign to encourage the early and careful selection of seed corn this year. In the proper selection of seed corn lies a possible increase of at least five bushels per acre. Minnesota is producing annually 2,000,000 acres of corn. An increase of 10,000,000 bushels at almost no cost is possible. Ten million bushels of corn converted into pork represents a value, at present, of over $7,000,000 or an additional income of over $40 per farm. In this simple way the product from the 500 farms tributary to your town may be increased in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The suggestions in the governor's proclamation, setting aside the week of Sept. 15 to 20 as seed corn week, during which every corn grower is urged to devote at least one day in selecting seed corn, should be followed.

The extension division desires to get every one in every town and community interested in a concerted action to stimulate interest in good seed corn, and in selecting seed corn, some time during seed corn week and thinks this can be done by some or all of the following methods:

First: Call a meeting of the business men of your town and urge each business man in town to have on display in his place of business one or more signs similar to the following: "Select Seed Corn During Seed Corn Week"; "Don't Forget Seed Corn Week"; "Select Seed Corn Early"; "Save Seed Corn and Money"; "Seed Corn Week Sept. 15-20."

Second: Have every business man in town consider himself a committee of one to call the attention of just as many corn growers as possible to the importance of selecting seed corn early.

Third: If possible have each local ad run in the paper during the early part of September contain some reference to seed corn week.

Fourth: Any of the following plans may help to call attention to the importance of selecting seed corn; namely, seed corn selection contests among the boys and girls of the community, an automobile trip through the community with banners proclaiming seed corn week; or all schools might call attention to the importance of seed corn selection, and possibly declare a half holiday during which the school students might get out into the field and help with the work.

Extension Bulletin No. 9, an eight-page illustrated popular bulletin, gives detailed information regarding the best methods of selecting and storing seed corn. This bulletin will be sent on request, and should be in the hands of every corn grower in Minnesota.

This will take considerable effort in boosting, but it is worth while for every one in the development of the state.

ALL THINGS ARE AKIN THROUGH GOD, SAYS PASTOR

Human Brotherhood Highest Form of Kinship Among Creatures of the Earth.

"Akin Through God" was the subject of a sermon by Rev. George R. Gebauer, at the First Unitarian church, yetserday.

"God in religion means the all embracing soul and the all-quickening eternal spirit in the universe, which joins all things in the unity of spirit" he said. "All things on earth are akin through God. There is divine kinship between stone and man; the geologist who breaks with his hammer a piece of quartz has in him properties akin to the mineral. We have here kinship on the lowest plane. The kinship becomes higher more real, when we look about in the world of plants. Man shares in the vegetative life process of the tiniest lichen on the rock and he is a brother to the oak, if rightly understood. But kinship becomes still more real, when we consider the vast world of animal life. Here we find displayed a marvelous intelligence, even though it be blind. And we know, that a like intelligence is largely active in our own minds and bodies, and are forced to believe in all that lives and moves our kindred through the divine spirit in nature.

"But above this brotherhood of mountain and woods and field, there is the supreme kinship of man. It is the highest kinship we know of. In each man there is the manifestation not merely of divine nature, but of the divine conscious spirit of God. In every man there is the light of reason; in every one there are moral and spiritual aspirations, though they be at times perverted. In each there is the instinctive yearning to come closer to the source out of which his strange life arose. And if thus there is a spiritual reality in the world whose offspring we are, the idea of human brotherhood is the logical conclusion."

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 15.—Early autumn frosts in the lower lake region, the Middle Atlantis states, New England and the extreme Northwest, are predicted by the weather bureau for Tuesday. The weekly forecast says:

"The week will open with rains continuing in the Southern states and extending into the Ohio valley and the Middle Atlantic states, and about Tuesday unsettled rainy weather will prevail over all Central and Northern sections east of the Mississippi river. Three also will be local showers early in the week over the Rocky mountain region and the Northwest, but by Wednesday and Thursday, generally fair weather should prevail over all districts.

"Frosts will occur Monday morning over the lower lake region, the Middle Atlantic states, New England, and the extreme Northwest; on Tuesday morning over the Northwest generally, the middle plateau and the Central Rocky mountains and Wednesday or Thursday morning over the Northwestern and upper lake region.

"Temperatures will be rising over the Northwest and West after the middle of the week, accompanied by falling pressure, and by the end of the week, the weather over those sections will again be unsettled and somewhat cooler."

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 15.—Damage resulting from the cloudburst Saturday is placed at $200,000. Two women were drowned and more than fifty cottages wrecked. Members of the Elks lodge cared for the homeless. The power companies resumed light service last night.

PUBLIC LECTURE ON THEOSOPHY

Man Is a Soul and Has a Body, Says Speaker.

Sunday afternoon talks on theosophy conducted by the Duluth Theosophical society and open to the public were continued at the lodge room, 310 West First street, yesterday at 3 o'clock. Mr. Hall briefly outlined the field of knowledge covered by theosophy and then took up the subject of the "Constitution of Man," as follows.

"It is customary to speak of man as having a soul but this statement is a reversal of the real truth; for man is a soul and has a body, or rather several bodies, by means of which he comes into conscious contact with the three worlds of normal human evolution. What is commonly called the soul is called in occult science, the higher self or Ego. This higher self or true man lives permanently during the entire time of his evolution through the human kingdom, in his causal body which may be defined as that part of his bodies which is relatively permanent. The other parts, usually called separate bodies, are temporary, a new mental, emotional and physical body being formed for each incarnation. The mental body is the instrument by means of which he thinks all his concrete thoughts, abstract thought being a power of the ego himself in his causal body. The astral or emotional body is the instrument for the expression of all his emotions and passions. It is only when these two bodies have been assumed that it is possible for him to come into touch with a physical body and be born into what we call the physical world. The purpose of the physical plane life is to gain certain qualities of character and unfold the powers of consciousness through experience. When the physical body is worn out, the process is reversed, and one body after the other is laid aside until the consciousness is again centered in the causal body. This completes one cycle of incarnation, and cycle follows cycle until the soul is evolved through the human kingdom from the savage just emerged from the animal state to the perfected man ready for super-human evolution."

Announcement was made that the subject next week will take up in detail the conditions of consciousness existence in the astral and mental bodies after the death or casting aside of the physical body, to be followed at the subsequent meetings by an explanation of the processes of reincarnation and the law of eternal justice or cause and effect.

KING ALFONSO'S COUSIN IN WAR.

Madrid, Sept. 15. — Among the officers of the king's regiment which left for Morocco Saturday was the king's cousin, Prince Alfonso of Bourbon-Orleans. In 1909 Prince Alfonso married Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg, for which act he was deprived of the title of infante and stripped of all honors and decorations. Two years later he was restored to rank of lieutenant in the Spanish army for service at Melilla, and the following year King Alfonso issued a decree restoring his title.

The government continues to dispatch reinforcements to Morocco. The first battalion of the Leon regiment left today.

Aviator Killed.

Bucharest, Roumania, Sept. 15.—An aviator named Vlaicu, who recently designed an aeroplane which he christened the "Mad Fly," fell during a test last night and was killed. He was preparing to fly over the Carpathian mountains.

Thousands Gather in Minneapolis for Eighty-Ninth Convention.

Governor Eberhart Welcomes Delegates—Big Parade Wednesday.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—With addresses of welcome by Governor A. O. Eberhart and Mayor Wallace G. Nye, and a brief response by Gen. A. R. Stocker of Miamisburg, Ohio, the eighty-ninth annual sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, was formally opened here this morning. Delegates are present from every part of the United States, Canada, European countries, Philippine Islands and Hawaii.

Many thousands of visitors have already arrived and more are expected during the week.

In addition to the Odd Fellows' order, representatives of all Rebekah lodges, the women's auxiliary of the order, are here for their supreme lodge, as well as several thousand members of the uniform rank, which will hold its annual encampment during the week.

The sessions of the grand lodge are held in the assembly rooms of the local hotel, the Rebekahs are meeting in the courthouse and the uniformed members are holding exhibition drills at the armory of the Minnesota National Guard.

A parade will be held Wednesday evening when it is expected that at least 10,000 uniformed members of the order will be in line. Twenty-five members of the sovereign grand lodge who have been associated with the order for more than forty years will occupy places of honor in the parade.

FORFEIT LIVES FOR LOVE OF SPORT

Five North Dakota Hunters Killed and Three Hurt in Week.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 15.—Five dead and three seriously injured, is the record of hunting accidents for the first week of the open season for small game in North Dakota. The number is the largest in the history of the state for so short a period. Of the dead two were killed by the accidental discharge of their own guns, in which runaway horses figure; one was drowned while attempting to recover a duck that had been shot, and fell in a small lake; one was accidentally killed by his companion and the other was killed when the jolt of the carriage in which he was riding, discharged his gun. The dead:

Leonard Lemlo of Milo, killed by discharge of gun when his horses became unmanageable while hunting.

Arthur V. Jacques of Ormemee, accidentally killed by companion.

The injured:

Edward Johnson of Egeland, left breast almost entirely blown away by charge from gun which was discharged when it dropped from his hands to the ground.

Arthur Lazerus of Des Lacs, lost the sight of both eyes when struck by a charge of shot from a gun fired by his son standing on the opposite side of a small lake.

ASHLAND BABIES TO BE EXHIBITED

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 15.—The interest shown in the better babies' contest at the county fair this week promises to surpass every other department. Already nearly fifty babies have been registered. Beside the many Ashland babies there will be babies from Washburn, Glidden, Odanah, Moquah and from farmers around the county. The youngest child registered is only 2 months old, the oldest allowed is 2 years.

In order to examine these the committee has extended the examination period to cover all three days of the fair, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

While all the physicians in town were asked to assist, those who consented are Doctors Hosmer, Jackson, O'Brien, Dell, Andrus, Wenzel and Harrison. Besides examining the babies, these physicians will give fifteen-minute talks to mothers on the care and feeding of children.

GREAT NORTHERN TO FIGHT REFUND

East Grand Forks, Minn., Sept. 15.—Claiming that they first shipped all East Grand Forks freight to the west side of the river and then brought it over here, the Great Northern railway will fight the refund on shipments which has been ordered by the supreme court of Minnesota. Word to that effect has been received here by Attorneys Bronson and Rasmussen. The company claims that the commerce was interstate and outside the Minnesota law.

When interviewed on the subject Mr. Bronson said that the company simply employed this method of delivering shipments for their own convenience and that it was not necessary to do so. In speaking of the matter Mr. Bronson said:

"Our contention will be based he said on the theory that the railroad cannot make what is properly intrastate commerce by taking it out of the state. Freight properly consigned to East Grand Forks, is taken out of the state for their own convenience.

"It simply is a method of evading control by the railroad and warehouse commission. If their contention is good they might just as well take freight consigned to Duluth over to Superior to evade control by the proper authorities."

No definite steps have been taken, but papers in the test case probably will be filed in a few days.

PROGRAM DRAWN UP FOR DEDICATION

St. Peter, Minn., Sept. 15.—State-wide interest is being exhibited in the unveiling of the John A. Johnson memorial, which is to take place on Sunday, Sept. 21. This week the members of the St. Peter commission announced that the statue on the courthouse lawn would be unveiled by Viola Adelaide Johnson of this city, and Helen Louise Johnson of New Ulm, nieces of the late John A. Johnson. The former is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Johnson, and her cousin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Johnson of New Ulm.

The ceremony of dedicating the statue is to take place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. C. D. O'Brien of St. Paul will deliver the principal address, and other speakers will be Governor A. O. Eberhart, Congressman W. S. Hammond, F. B. Lynch of St. Paul, Senator H. N. Benson of this city and C. A. Swanson of Lafayette. The program is as follows:

Music, Second Regiment band; invocation, Rev. D. J. Moran; unveiling, Viola Adelaide Johnson, St. Peter; Helen Louise Johnson, New Ulm; presentation of statue to Nicollet county, Senator H. N. Benson; acceptance, Claus A. Swenson, Lafayette, chairman board of county commissioners; music, Second Regiment band; address, Governor A. O. Eberhart; address, "Johnson as a National Figure," Fred B. Lynch of St. Paul; remarks, Representative W. S. Hammond; address, "Life and Work of John A. Johnson," C. D. O'Brien, St. Paul; music, Second Regiment band; benediction, Rev. Oscar J. Johnson, St. Peter, president, Gustavus Adolphus college.

Owing to the difficulty of securing a special train and to the heavy expense involved, the local commission has been compelled to abandon its plan to have a battalion of state troops to participate in the ceremonies. Company K of this city will act as an escort for Governor Eberhart.

TOWNS CLASH OVER SITE FOR COURTHOUSE

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 15.—Mountrail is in fashion—has a brand new county seat fight, which has already reached the state supreme court. J. E. Greene of the firm of Palda, Aaker & Greene of Minot, and F. F. Wyckoff of Stanley, states attorney of Mountrail county, presented the matter to the supreme court Saturday, Mr. Wyckoff appearing for Stanley and Mr. Greene for Palermo.

In 1910 Stanley was made county seat of Mountrail county. In October, 1912, an election was held and a bond issue of $60,000 was voted by the close margin of 833 to 780, for the purpose of building a courthouse. In August, 1913, bids were to be opened at Stanley for the erection of the courthouse. In the meantime Palermo had developed an ambition to become the principal city of Mountrail, and, through T. A. McCann and others, asked Judge Frank Fisk of the Williston district to grant a temporary injunction restraining the county commissioners from letting the contract for the courthouse. The commissioners decided to show cause why they should not be permanently restrained, and in a hearing before Judge Fisk the petition of the Palermo crowd was denied. An appeal was at once taken from this decision to the supreme court. In the meantime, to prevent the letting of the contract and the erection of the courthouse, which would defeat their ambitions, Mr. Greene, on behalf of the people of Palermo, appeared before the supreme court and asked that a temporary order be issued restraining the county commissioners from opening bids until such time as the regular appeal from Judge Frank Fisk's court could be heard.

The closeness of the vote on the bond issue evidently encouraged the people of Palermo and the east end of the county to hope that the county seat might be secured, and in order to not prejudice their cause they are attempting to prevent the building of the courthouse in Stanley until the matter can be voted on at the next general election.

WALKER WILL HOLD AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

Walker, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The premium list is out for Walker's first agricultural fair, which is to be held on Sept. 29 and 30. The government will co-operate with Walker in making an Indian display and a portion of the exhibit will be produce from the Indian farms, bead work, birch bark handiwork and pony exhibits. Several hundred dollars in premiums are offered and the interest has manifested itself sufficient to attract the attention of three adjacent townships which will compete for township honors with private booths. The fair is being managed and financed by the Walker Commercial club which includes all business men of Walker.

RED LAKE FAIR BEING WELL ADVERTISED.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Red Lake Falls auto tour to St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls, for the purpose of advertising the Red Lake county fair, Sept. 24 to 26, was participated in by about twenty autos. The return trip was made in a storm, causing several machines to go into the ditch, but no damage, with the exception of getting wet, was suffered.

The Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railroads are each offering a $50 silver loving cup, to be competed for at the county fair. The Northern Pacific cup is for the best dairy cow exhibited, and the Great Northern for the best pen of five pigs, one male and four females.

CONTRACTS LET AT THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Sept. 15.—Contracts for water works construction have been awarded by the councilto Frazer & Danforth of St. Paul received the contract for the work of district No. 2; Emil Sedlacek of Thief River Falls and T. E. Webster of St. Paul will do the work in districts 3 and 4, respectively. Frazer & Danforth will furnish the material.

SAUK RAPIDS MYSTERY HAS BEEN CLEARED UP

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 15.—An examination of the body found in the river yesterday was made last evening at the city morgue by the Sherburne county coroner and was declared to be that of Boyd Castle, who mysteriously disappeared from Sauk Rapids on Aug. 14.

The features of the body were entirely lost and identification was made of the watch, knife and shoes. Men working at the mill identified the watch and knife as those they had seen Castle using, and a Sauk Rapids jeweler also identified the watch as the one he sold Castle.

The coroner, after his inquest, said the body showed no signs of being struck by anything, as the skull and other bones were perfectly normal, and he said that in his mind death was entirely accidental.

D.—Fire starting when a lantern globe broke destroyed the fine barn on the Potratz farm, together with many tons of hay, 100 bushels of oats and other property which was stored in the building. Obstinate Acne Quickly Yields

Fine Remedy that Clears Skin of Pimples on Cheeks, Temples, Sides of Nose and Chin.

Acne attacks the glandular structure of the skin, more particularly those tiny glands that secrete fat.

And it is here that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier is most active in its influence.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S., the purpose of which it is to stimulate the cells in the tissues that they select from the blood the nutriment that makes new skin and thus eliminates all irritants, acids and parasites that inflame the glands. There is a natural tendency of the fine network of blood vessels in the skin to throw off impurities, but where a persistent inflammatory process has invaded the skin, the natural repair work of the blood is interfered with. It requires the stimulating activity of S. S. S. to overcome such morbid conditions. If you have been troubled with acne, do not despair of a cure.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 181 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

TWO GREAT SOUTHPAWS MAY BE OF LITTLE USE

Plank and Marquard Have Shown Poor Form and May Fail to Work in Big Series.

Commissioners Are Kind to the White Hopes--- Tillie Walker Must Be Awful, According to Griff and Ritchie Raving.

BY BRUCE.

PERHAPS PLANK and Marquard won't be of much use in the world's series between the Athletics and Giants. No more do we have to add the supplementary statement, "in the event of these teams contesting for the highest honors of baseball." If you have bet against the chances of either of the teams, prepare to pay, Bill.

During the past few weeks of the race the peerless Plank has been of little use to his team. Fifty-fifty for Marquard. The battle of the southpaws may not be staged during the world's series engagement of two of the chosen people—the baseball colony is under discussion alone—and yet again it may.

Dope runs for Sweeney; you can never tell what is going to happen next. Last year the people were lamenting the fact that Marquard would be of little or no use to McGraw. Lo and behold the tall Frenchman came through and delivered when the young man who has been pompously prognosticated as the surviving hero was faltering.

Plank, it has been suggested by some of the wise students of the game in the East, might be started and told to pitch his arm off for the first four or five innings of the game. Then one of the youngsters would come on and do the finishing.

Connie Mack is deep-domed enough to be quite capable of springing a great surprise during the coming series. Maybe it is that he is saving E. Plank, and maybe the great Edward will hop on the mound and electrify the baseball world by one of the sterling performances that has characterized his work in the past.

But what's the use? No one can tell. The Athletics will go to the post the favorite, because there are not enough Garrys in the land to pull down the odds. It is generally believed that the Athletics have the class of the two teams, and all things considered class will generally win in the end.

The Commissioners Are Kind.

DOWN New York way Sam Langford has been barred from fighting any of the white men. It is tipped off that Backer Buckley of Gunboat Smith fully realized that Langford would not be allowed to enter the ring with the gunboat, and therefore went the limit of bombastically booming a fight with the squat black. Believe us, believe us, the commissioners are men of deep pity for the members of the belligerent Caucasian race. Langford would walk through that bunch of jokes without undue diligence as to mode of procedure, and the attendant result would be disastrous to the trade of white hopeing.

Outside of These Things.

A PLAYER named Tillie Walker was recently sold to the St. Louis Browns for the modest and becoming price of $15,000. Beaming little Walker and happy little Tebeau, for Tillie meandered up from the region of the Kaw. But the other day someone not mentioned in the news story asked Clark Griffith why he allowed Walker to leave Washington, some time anon.

To which pertinent inquiry Griffith did make answer: "Walker has weak hands and can't possibly stop a hard hit grounder or a liner. When he tries to catch a hard liner he is 'handcuffed.' He runs in the air; that is, he makes a lot of motions and doesn't go very fast. He can hit a fast straight one, but is weak on curves."

Perhaps this player for whom some 15,000 megs were moved from one back to another, is all right outside of these few things. Anyone would be of the opinion that the player who brought this amount would be fairly proficient in the game of baseball; and yet after reading the description of the weaknesses of the player by old man Griffith, one begins to wonder how this Walker chap ever climbed into the big show at all, not forgetting the fact that $15,000 is some price, if St. Louis isn't some team.

The Municipal Idea.

ROCKFORD, Ill., has started something that will be watched with the bright little orbs of interest. Down there it has been found that baseball has proven too expensive for the private purse. Rather than permit the city to accumulate odium in the matter of being without baseball, the city fathers have hit upon the idea of providing municipal baseball.

The park and presumably even the bats will be owned by the city. Profits, if any, will probably go to the revolving fund, and the deficit will likely be met out of money from the general fund. It's a grand little idea for cities where tired business men have grown weary of the practice of digging each year for the sake of keeping the city on the baseball map, and in the future it may be expended to generous proportions.

He Should Fight Some.

WILLIE RITCHIE has issued a statement taking the fight fans of the country into his confidence. That's fine of Will. He says he wants to fight every now and then. For $15,000 or more it is small wonder. Shortly after this rather oraculous speech we find that Willie has called off the fight with Freddy Welsh because some of the promoters objected to giving away the building in which the fight was to be held.

Perhaps the best way to make friends of the public would be to fight occasionally and take an even chance with the promoter on the gate.

Giants Lose Opener.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Chicago defeated New York, 7 to 0, in the first game of the visitors' farewell series here yesterday. The locals played a careful game behind Cheney, who was hit hard, while the league leaders took too many chances on the bases in trying to steal and play the hit and run game.

In the opening Leach singled and Corridon sacrificed. Schulte followed with a single and Leach scored. Marquard then settled down and the locals were unable to place a safe hit until the sixth when a single by Archer, Cheney's sacrifice and double into the crowd by Leach and Schulte netted two more runs. Marquard retired and Fromme was sent to the mound. After going along for one inning, he was buried under a bombardment of hits which netted four more runs.

Cheney was hit to all corners of the field and the Giants had numerous chances to score, but their one aim seemed to be to steal bases on Archer, whose accurate throwing nipped the runner each time. On the hit and run game the visitors also failed.

Before the game had gotten under way, Manager Evers was banished to the clubhouse by Umpire Rigler. The umpire had thrown a new ball to Cheney who immediately began to discolor the sphere. This was followed by the players tossing the ball around the field, until Rigler told Evers the ball was unfit to play with. Thereupon the local player threw the ball over the stand.

In New York's first inning Snodgrass attempted to steal second when Umpire Byron called him out, he commenced an argument which resulted in his being chased to the clubhouse.

The largest crowd of the season witnessed the game and ground rules, making a hit into the crowd good for two bases, prevailed.

Phillies Win Out.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Philadelphia nosed out Cincinnati in the ninth inning yesterday winning, 7 to 6. Philadelphia took an early lead but the locals made a game uphill fight and tied the score in the eighth inning. They could not hold the visitors, however. Philadelphia played a clean game in the field, while Cincinnati made six misplays.

Johnson was taken out at the beginning of the eighth. Suggs who succeeded him, allowed three hits in the last two innings, two of them in the ninth, which, with a sacrifice scored the winning run.

Camnitz, although wild, pitched well up to the seventh inning. When he retired in favor of Seaton who, with none out and a man on third, passed Tinker. Dodge, the next man to bat lined out a single, scoring both Hohlitzel and Tinker, Seaton then settled down and prevented further scoring.

Dooin was hit in the knee by a foul tip in the second inning and retired in favor of Burns.

Saints Take Two More.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 15.—St. Paul took both games of a double bill from Toledo yesterday, the scores being, 4 to 1, and 10 to 7. The first contest was a battle between Karger and George in which Riggert's home run in the first inning with two men on bases gave the locals the victory George essayed to pitch the second game also, but was knocked off the rubber early in the seventh inning. Brenton and Brenn, who succeeded him, were hit hard. Walker started the second game for the locals, but was forced to retire in the seventh. Rieger and Karmer were quickly knocked off the rubber by the visitors, but Gardner who was called on in the eighth started the fierce batting rally. The visitors took the lead in the seventh inning by making five runs, but the home team came back with four and regained the lead. Scores:

Divide Double-Header.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 15.—Kansas City and Indianapolis divided a double header yesterday, the visitors taking the first, 3 to 1, and the locals annexing the second, 1 to 0. The visitors got but three hits in the first contest. Drake hit safely six times out of seven chances at bat.

Covington opened the first contest for Kansas City. He was wild, however, and before he had retired the visitors had put across two runs.

Allison pitched in splendid form in the second contest as did Burke, but Niles' error in the second inning lost the game for the visitors.

In that inning Mattick reached first on Niles' fumble, stole second and scored on Drake's single. Scores:

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—Minneapolis and Louisville split even here yesterday in a double-header, the locals taking the first, 2 to 1, and the visitors the second, 3 to 1. The afternoon's baseball was featured with effective pitching and clean fielding by both teams. Every run out across by either team, came hard. Scores:

Brewers Lose Another.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 15.—Columbus fought an uphill battle yesterday and won in the ninth inning when Beall misjudged Eddington's fly letting the hit go for a triple. The score was 6 to 5. Slapnicka was hit hard all the way, though errors gave the visitors two of their runs. The home club bunched four of their hits with two gifts and an error in the second, scoring all their runs. The game was stopped five minutes while Umpire Westervelt hunted for a fan in the center field seats who was armed with a mirror, which he flashed in the eyes of the Columbus batters.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	5	8	2
Columbus	6	15	1

"MONK" M'DEVITT TO COACH AT "U"

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—E. W. McDevitt, former lineman on the Yale football team, will be assistant coach at the University of Minnesota, according to announcement made today. McDevitt's home is at Duluth. Sig Harris, it is said, will continue as first assistant to Dr. H. L. Williams, while McDevitt will have charge of the freshmen. He is picked to whip them into shape, making them available as varsity timber next season.

McDevitt played guard on the Yale team in 1910 and 1911. Last season he was assistant head coach at New Haven, but resigned to study law at the University of Minnesota.

"Monk" McDevitt is perhaps the greatest football player that was ever turned out at Duluth. Even before he entered high school the stocky kid played the game on the corner lots. At the hilltop institution he proved a tower of strength to Central and a terror to the opposing teams. A bad knee kept Elmer off Yale's team for a while, but during his last two years at college he came into his own and proved one of the greatest linemen ever developed at New Haven.

Always a heady player, and possessed of an even temperament, it is believed here that the choice of McDevitt as coach of the freshmen of Minesota is a wise one.

Elmer McDevitt is one of the most popular young fellows of Duluth. His great success on the gridiron never in the slightest degree changed the bearing of "Monk." It is generally chaps of this kind of makeup that develop into useful football instructors.

CLOQUET WINS FROM PROCTOR

Cloquet was the winner in the game yesterday at Athletic park with the Proctor team, the lumberjacks defeating their rivals of the railroad settlement by the score of 10 to 9. It required ten innings to decide the result. Both Cunningham and Cummings were hit hard. Renault also worked in the box for Proctor, and like the other two pitchers was found frequently by the hitters.

Yesterday's game was the fourth of the present season and settles a dispute that has led to many arguments. Each team had won one game and one game broke up with a dispute.

"The great Cunningham" failed to prove much of a puzzle. He had a fast one and that is about all.

NORTHERN LEAGUE MAY UNDERGO RADICAL CHANGE

Meeting Today Likely to Result in New Lineup of Circuit.

Twin Cities and Winona May Be Dropped From League.

Of great importance to the fans of this part of the country is the meeting of Northern league magnates that is being held in Minneapolis today.

It is very likely that there will be a change in the circuit and a general building of the foundation for the season of 1914.

Steadily it would seem the baseball interests of this section of the country have extended to the north. In the days of the Minny league the Head of the Lakes was linked with the southern portion of the state. With the growth of the years has come a revamping of the baseball map, in so far as Duluth is concerned.

With the organization of the International league Winnipeg came back in the fold. With the organization of the new Northern came Virginia to the list of clubs. Today's meeting in Minneapolis promises to add Fort William to the list of franchise holders of the new league.

Fort William and Port Arthur claim a population of 45,000 to draw upon. For several years the backers of organized baseball at the Head of the Canadian Lakes have been clamoring to buy their way into the Northern. Last year an attempt was made to come into the circuit. Representatives of the two cities are at Minneapolis today and it is expected that when the new line-up is definitely decided upon that Fort William and Port Arthur will be announced as franchise holders.

Winnipeg Sets Pace.

It has been the wonderful baseball success of Winnipeg that has set the magnates of the Northern league on the trail of the northern cities. During the past season the metropolis of Manitoba has drawn as many fans to the game, almost, as the remainder of the clubs of the circuit. Without Winnipeg the Northern league would not have proved the financial success it did.

If Winnipeg drew the fans in swarms to a park that is located on the outskirts of the city, baseball men figure that the attendance would be almost doubled if a modern baseball plant was built in the downtown section of the city. It is also believed that baseball would draw in St. Boniface, the French city across the river from Winnipeg, and at the conclusion of the meeting set for today it may be announced that St. Boniface has been admitted to the league.

John Burmeister will probably be re-elected president. According to the lineup of the situation there will be no opposition to the unanimous re-election of Mr. Burmeister. He has made an able executive and has handled the affairs of the league in an efficient manner. It is expected that in another season he will prove one of the most capable baseball men in the country, for the big lumberman is in the game for the love of the national pastime, and in addition to his love for the game has brains and business acumen.

League Should Prosper.

Fans here should be greatly interested in the meeting at Minneapolis. During the past season more ability was shown in the running of the new Northern than was exhibited in the conduct of the leagues that Duluth has been a member of in the past. It is generally believed that the men associated with the game here are on the right track. It is believed that in another year the quality of baseball will be improved and the league even more ably conducted than heretofore.

The league, if St. Paul and Minneapolis are dropped, may be reduced to six clubs. This would be brought about by the dropping of Winona along with the Twin Cities and the adding of one club in Fort William, which would include Port Arthur as well. However if St. Boniface is added to the league, it is possible that there will be eight clubs in the circuit.

In the event of Winona being dropped from the league it is altogether probable that the team will be transferred to one of the new towns and in that event it will prove likely that "Lefty" Davis will continue as the manager of the transferred team.

Another rumor is that Brandon will be made a member of the league. In this event the lineup of the circuit for 1914 will likely be Duluth, Superior, Grand Forks, Virginia, Winnipeg, Fort William, St. Boniface and Brandon.

Ray Meehan and Charles Kelly passed through here on their return from Fort William and stated that the situation at the Head of the Canadian lakes looked great. These men also confirmed the report that neither St. Paul or Minneapolis would be in the league during the coming season.

It is said that Cantillon will transfer his team to one of the new cities of the league and will continue to be interested in the Northern.

PELKEY RETRACTS HIS "CONFESSION"

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 15.—After a lengthy conference with Tommy Burns, his manager, Arthur Pelkey, heavyweight boxer and the second man in the ring when Luther McCarty was killed here several months ago, last night issued a statement in which he retracted a "confession" recently made at Portland, Or., in which he had declared that Burns and he had "faked" a match at Calgary last spring, and that Burns did not owe him money. Pelkey declared he was under the influence of liquor when he signed the Portland statement.

The statement issued by Pelkey "to the sporting world," said in part:

"My story from Portland, Or., saying that my contest with Burns was a fake; that he treated me mean; and cheated me of money, is entirely false. Burns has been my best friend since I have been in the fighting game."

Pelkey declared that he signed such a statement at Portland, under the direction of the sporting editor of a Portland paper who dictated the letter. "I had just come from the hospital in Los Angeles and was sick," the statement says. "When I took the boat to Portland, I was advised to take some brandy while aboard, and as I had not been in the habit of taking liquor, it put me in a state I never was in before. I was influenced to do so by would-be friends under conditions in which I would have done almost anything. In conclusion let me say Burns has settled everything satisfactorily with me and does not owe me a cent. Burns and I still are together and will be until the end."

LEADERS HAVE GOOD MARGIN

Hardly a Chance of Giants or Athletics Being Overhauled.

New York, Sept. 15.—Ground was gained last week by both the major league leaders in line for world's championship honors, and with both Giants and Athletics playing a stronger and more consistent game, than for weeks previous, there seems hardly a chance remaining for an upset before the close of the season now three weeks away.

The most marked improvement was shown by McGraw's men, who, instead of merely breaking even or coming out with fewer victories than defeats, as has been their habit in recent periods, jumped into a winning spurt the moment they struck Pittsburg on their last swing around the Western circuit.

History repeated itself so far as the American league contenders were concerned. While the Athletics dropped two games to the White Sox before they braced and evened up the series, the Clevelands broke under the Washington attack and again missed a splendid chance to work themselves into a position where the Mackmen would have had the fight of their lives for championship laurels.

In the National league the Giants got a running start for a series of victories on their Western trip by beating Brooklyn Monday, which, with three straight from the Pirates, gave them a clean record for the week up to the second game of Saturday's double-header, when they met their first reverse. Their lead as the week opened was an even eight games, exactly the same number as seven days previous. And though they met defeat in Chicago yesterday, their advantage is so commanding that they would have to lose the great majority of their future games while Philadelphia is winning steadily to give the Quakers a look-in for ultimate honors.

THRILLING RACE IN ASSOCIATION

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The pennant race in the American association tightened up last week until it enters it last stages bearing a close resemblance to the contest of 1898, when the first four terms finished within a few points of each other.

Milwaukee's lead, threatened a number of times since the Brewers wrested first place from Columbus, is now challenged by Minneapolis and only a slight margin separates the teams. A double victory by Minneapolis yesterday would have put Cantillon's men in front, but the loss of the second game to Louisville left Milwaukee ahead by a slim margin, despite the defeat of Clark's team.

Of its four games postponed, Milwaukee may play off all. One, the game scheduled for April 28, will be played at Toledo during the series beginning Sept. 22, and at Louisville in a doubleheader, Sept. 23, and the other two—with Louisville, one postponed from Aug. 13 and the other from Sept. 11—on Sept. 18, a date vacant in the schedule of both clubs.

During the series beginning at Indianapolis Sept. 19, Minneapolis will try to play off a game tied three times this season. The contest was scheduled for April 25, but was called a draw at 1 to 1 and postponed to June 15. On the latter date each team scored six runs and was unable to make any more before darkness stopped the game, so it was again postponed, this time to Aug. 7. The third effort resulted in a 2 to 2 score.

SWIMMING FEAT BY BOSTON MAN.

New York, Sept. 15.—Samuel Richards of Boston yesterday accomplished the unprecedented feat of making the swim from the Battery to Sandy Hook on one tide. His time was 8 hours and 12 minutes, bettering by 5 hours and 26 minutes the record made by Alfred Brown, the first time that stretch of water had been covered by a swimmer. Brown took two tides to make his swim.

Rose Prinoff of Boston also assailed the Sandy Hook swim yesterday and got within a quarter of a mile of the goal. She was marking time at that point, waiting for the tide to turn, when attacked with cramps and had to be taken into her boat. She had been in the water 12 hours and 35 minutes.

GRAND CIRCUIT MEET AT DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 15.—Four events composed yesterday's Grand Circuit harness racing program at the opening day of the Michigan state fair here. A 2:16 pace, purse $2,000, was expected to be the principal event. Fairly large fields were entered in each race, and local followers of the sport hoped to see in action a number of horses which, because of illness, were unable to compete in the blue ribbon meeting held here several weeks ago. The other races scheduled for today were a 2:20 trot, 2:05 pace and 2:09 trot.

JACK COOMBS IS IN HOSPITAL.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Jack Coombs, star pitcher of the Athletic baseball club and hero of two world's series, is in a hospital here. The muscles of the giant pitcher's back, weakened by a recent attack of typhoid fever, physicians say, were unable to stand the strain in his attempt to get into condition, and, it is said, he may be placed in a plaster cast for several weeks.

FAMOUS SPORTING WRITER IS DEAD.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Frank L. Hough, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Hough, as a sporting writer, was known from coast to coast. At various times he had a financial interest in both boxing and baseball. When the American league expanded to the East in 1901, Mr. Hough was instrumental in placing it on a firm foundation in this city, and had much to do with bringing players from the National league over to the rival organization.

He held an interest in the Philadelphia Athletics until last fall, when he sold his stock to Connie Mack.

FERNS AND WALTERS TO MEET AT KENOSHA.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—"Wildcat" Ferns of Kansas City and Billy Walters, a former sailor, were matched last night to box ten rounds in Kenosha, Wis., on Sept. 26. The winner, it was announced, will meet Mike Gibbons of St. Paul in a contest two weeks hence, which, the promoters say, will be for the welterweight championship. The weight will be 145 pounds at 3 o'clock.

COMMISSION TO SUPERVISE DRAFT.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Baseball magnates, managers and players began arriving last night to attend the annual meeting of the baseball commission, which will meet today and supervise the drafting of players from the minor leagues. Chairman Herrmann and National League President Lynch are here, and President Johnson of the American league is expected. Besides these three members of the commission, nearly all the presidents of the major league clubs are expected to be on hand when the drafts are made known.

National league directors will take up the case of the game between New York and Philadelphia of Aug. 30, which was forfeited to New York by Umpire Brennan because of the action of spectators. President Lynch subsequently overruled the umpire and awarded the game to Philadelphia. The New York club protested this ruling.

BOOST DISPLAY OF GARDEN "SASS"

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club committee on awards for the farmers' day exhibits next Friday has arranged for several special prizes of $3, $2 and $1 for the largest exhibits in various staple lines and also cash prizes for almost everything that is generally grown by the farmers of this region in field and garden, both in the way of root crops and grains and hay. The club also has agreed to undertake to sell everything that farmers bring in and place on the exhibit tables.

In former years the farmers have had no difficulty whatever in disposing of their stock. Virginia will this year not have the homecroft day display of home grown fruits, vegetables and flowers as last year, as no committees have been appointed and no arrangement made. Much city-grown produce will be shown farmers' day, but not in competition with what has been grown in the country.

TO MODIFY SENTENCE OF OFFENDING SALOON MAN

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. W. Stanton, presiding at the present sitting of district court here, has filed notice of his decision to cut the sentence of San Patelle of the firm of Patelle & Cloutier, found guilty of selling liquor to minors, from 60 days to 10 days in the county jail.

The firm was charged with selling liquor to minors at the spring sitting of court following a sleighride party of young men and women, when one or two of the young men became disgracefully intoxicated. Patelle was found guilty in district court and asked for a new trial on grounds of error in the original trial. The appeal was denied last week by Judge Stanton, and it was rumored, following the denial, that Patelle would appeal to the supreme court. While confirmation could not be made today, it is generally believed that he will serve his time in jail, and that the case will be settled in that way.

HUSBAND GIVEN $5,000 BALM BY ITASCA JURY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being out but a very short time, the jury in the Houston L. D. Leslie-Jake Jones case late Saturday afternoon returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $5,000. The complaint charges that Jones alienated Mrs. Leslie's affections from her husband, and the three cases came up for trial at this sitting of court.

The two other cases are the divorce suit of Leslie against his wife and her cross suit against him, and they will be heard this week.

The Nocovitch murder case will probably be called on Wednesday as soon as the short list of civil cases is gotten out of the way.

Tower, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city officials have been at work some weeks with improvements at the municipal dam where a new water gate is being installed, which will minimize the consumption of water. The west wing of the dam is being strengthened and an effort made to stop a leak.

For some days past the steam plant in town has been in use, and during which time the engine room at the dam has been torn up with the improvements in progress. The improvements will probably permit the operation of the water plant a little longer during the winter months.

FOUR COURT TRIALS OVER VIRGINIA HORSE.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of Edwin T. Turnquist against Joseph Rooney, involving the value of a horse has been tried once in municipal court and twice in the district court and may be tried again. Claiming that Rooney was negligent in leaving a wagon on the traveled portion of Virginia avenue, where his horse was killed by colliding with it, Turnquist demands remuneration in the sum of $185. The result was against Rooney in the municipal court. He appealed to the district court. The result there was against him at the first trial, the jury giving Turnquist $90. The court raised the verdict to $110. This Rooney declined to accept and called for a new trial. The jury this time gave a verdict for Rooney, and now Turnquist is asking for another trial, the fourth in the case.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a depth of 750 feet drillers for water for the Virginia Electric Power & Water company have encountered another bed of iron ore, or a body in which there is a large ore formation. In the same well an ore body was also passed through at a depth of 300 feet. Neither are sufficiently high grade to be of use for commercial purposes, but indicate that the ore formations are much greater in extent and reach to greater depths than was formerly supposed. These bodies reached in drilling water wells are supposedly connected with the main body of the Columbia mine.

All enjoyed the trip immensely.

The teachers of the Tower-Soudan schools made a trip to Jasper peak on Wednesday for a picnic lunch. The trip up the peak was an event and the view from that elevation was well worth the exertion of the climb.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hunters Park team of Duluth played the Grand Rapids baseball team Sunday afternoon on local grounds and were defeated 5 to 4. The Grand Rapids boys started out with the evident idea that the game was a joke, and did some of the worst playing of the year. After the visiting team had their first score Grand Rapids braced up, and came back with a rush, playing in good form, and tending strictly to business. The fans for both sides gave the umpire some interesting minutes, and the game was one of the warmest of the year, from the rooters standpoint.

The Grand Rapids football team is organizing for the season and Manager O'Day of the baseball team said today that four games had already been booked, although he was not, as yet prepared to make announcement as to dates. The high school football team has gone to work to get in shape, and is practising steadily under the direction of Prof. Fred Carson, coach for the physical training department of the school.

FINDS "DEAD" WIFE GOING TO MEET HIM.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—So strongly did a woman whom he saw fall dead in Rochester, N. Y., resemble his wife, that Frederick S. Stewart, a Chicago traveling man, identified her as Mrs. Stewart, arranged for her funeral and returned sorrowfully home, only to discover his wife alive and well.

When Stewart went to Rochester a few days ago, his wife notified him that she would join him there. On the day she was to arrive, Stewart stepped from his hotel to see a woman fall dead from heart failure. Every feature resembled his wife, and Stewart arranged with the coroner for her burial and notified his relatives of Mrs. Stewart's death.

Last night Stewart and his son, Edward Stewart of St. Louis, reached home and found Mrs. Stewart just ready to start to meet Stewart in Rochester.

ORDINANCE IS THEME OF SERMONS

Agitation in favor of the Hicken liquor ordinance was carried on in several Duluth churches yesterday when pastors and special speakers took up the question as themes for Sunday sermons.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, made a hot attack on all saloon keepers in general, calling the cigar stands shields for the lawless element, in his sermon last night. He declared that all saloon keepers needed watching and that they were chronic law breakers.

A. C. Rankin of Chicago, temperance worker, addressed about 800 persons in the Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church last night on the Hicken law. He declared that opposition to the proposed ordinance had gone the limit.

Matt Daly, missionary to the lumberjacks, talked before the congregation in the church at Duluth Heights. He urged his audience to support the commissioner of public safety in his fight for a new law to regulate the saloons.

Forty members of the Bible class of the First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street, passed a resolution indorsing the Hicken measure. Members of the class say they will do all they can for the law, believing it to be for the best interests of the city.

CLOQUET ENTERTAINS FOR VASSAR GIRL.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Margaret Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Misses Annabel Dunning, Mollie and Dorothy Peck and Margaret Culkin of Duluth, Vassar students, were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Van Wagnen were hosts at a hayrack party to the picnic ground at the state experimental forestry station. The guests were the high school faculty, Dr. Elizabeth Barnard, the school physician, and Mrs. Peter Olesen, wife of the school superintendent. Around a large bonfire, weenies and bacon were roasted and sandwiches made and hot coffee was served. Old college songs were sung and stories told. Mr. Van Wagnen is the instructor in agriculture in the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Peterson of the Crescent hotel gave a farewell party Friday night for Miss Lottie Wilson, who left today to attend school at Hamline university. Sixty guests were present. The rooms were decorated in ferns and daisies and the large dining room was used for dancing, John Moody of the Moody orchestra, and Clarence McDonald of Duluth, playing for the occasion. There were twelve favor dances, the final one being with pennants in the Hamline colors, gray and red. Miss Wilson has been at the Crescent hotel two years, while she has taught here.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a reception to the school teachers Friday night at the church, and a large number were present. There was a short program, Rev. C. W. Ramshawe giving the address of welcome for the church, Amra Skaggerberg welcoming the teachers on behalf of the league and Miss Hanson of the high school faculty responding for the teachers. Mrs. K. D. Van Wagnen and C. B. McDonald rendered vocal solos, responding to the encore. Games and refreshments concluded the evening.

The regular meeting of the Campfire Girls, Saturday evening, was in the form of a hike as far as the baseball park, where a large bonfire was built and marshmallows toasted, corn popped, songs sung, games played and stories told. There were about thirty girls in the party, with their guardians, Mrs. J. G. W. Havens, Mrs. C. B. Watkins, Mrs. Alex Barclay and Mrs. C. D. Ohman.

LAWYERS HEAR WARM DEBATE ON SOCIALISM.

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was one feature of the recent session of the lawyers here that was not down on the program. R. R. McKaig, formerly a Methodist minister and now a farmer at Fort Rice with socialistic tendencies, had been given a place on the program. His remarks were so radical that when Lee Combs, a Valley City attorney, arose as the next speaker, he answered McKaig instead of sticking to his own subject. His speech was so much to the point that he was wildly applauded by many of the audience who didn't agree with the former minister.

The matter was presented to the governor by Harry Eaton, the son of a Crow chief and a student in the early days of Amherst. He was a scout for years and at one time was with Custer.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

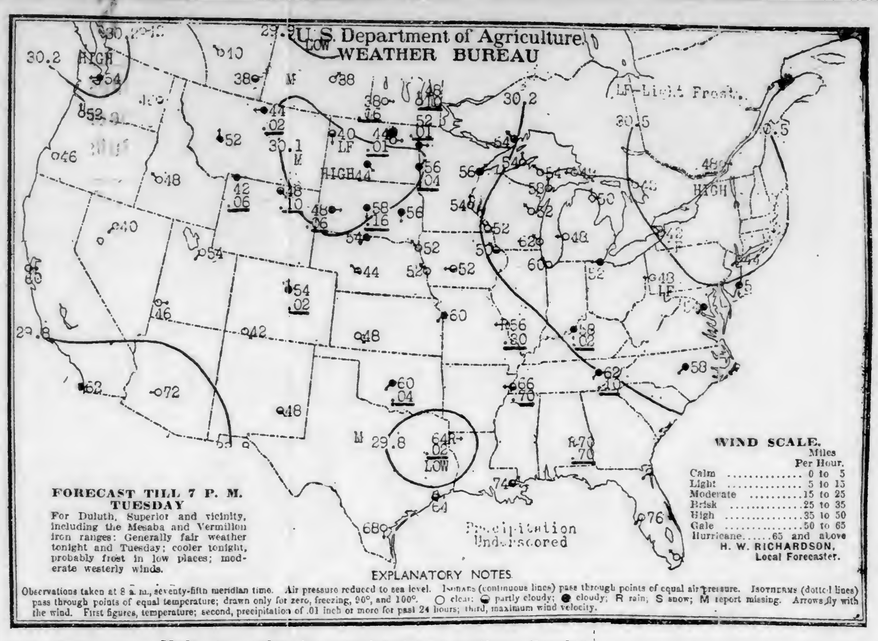

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

CLOQUET TEACHERS GIVEN RECEPTION

Superintendent Olesen and Wife Give Elaborate Entertainment.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Olesen, city superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Olesen were hosts Saturday evening at Odd Fellows' hall at a reception and musicale for the teachers of the public schools that proved to be one of the most delightful affairs ever given here.

Miss Ruth Anderson of Minneapolis, violin virtuoso, gave a delightful program. Her accompanist, Miss Annie Swenson of Minneapolis, is also an artist and delighted the guests with several piano numbers. Miss Anderson was sent to the canal zone by Uncle Sam for a series of concerts given to the men constructing the Panama canal. She has played in most states of the Union and last summer played through the state for university weeks. Aside from her wonderful music she is a charming woman and she more than doubled her splendid program with encores.

The school board members and their wives and ex-board members who have served during the time Mr. Olesen has been at the head of the schools, and also the junior and senior classes of the high school were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Olesen.

The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers and school pennants. Refreshments were served, Mesdames J. C. Campbell and K. D. VanWagnen, Miss Clausen and Miss Lydia Cox cutting the cream, and Misses Clausen and Lydia Cox presiding at the punch table. Misses Mildred Peterson, Lyda Hoyt, Stella Summerfield, Edith Brattlof, Della White, Bertha Anderson and Ruth Logan, junior and senior girls, served. At the close of the evening the high school students sang several songs and as they departed for their homes gave the school yell and several rousing cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Olesen.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Olesen entertained at her home for about forty lady friends, with Miss Anderson as entertainer, and her guests expressed the utmost pleasure in having the privilege of hearing her playing.

CIRCUS HORSES FOR WOODS WORK

M. Zimmerman Will Bid for Buffalo Bill's and Rice Brothers' Outfits.

Moses Zimmerman of the firm of Barrett & Zimmerman, Midway horse dealers, received a telegram from their representative, Matt Hughes, to come to Denver immediately as the Buffalo Bill Wild West show which was sold on Aug. 27 would be sold over again today the previous sale not having been confirmed by the court.

Mr. Zimmerman went prepared to buy the entire outfit which consists of over 500 head of horses, 50 railroad cars, 200 sets of harness and circus wagons of all kinds. After this sale Mr. Zimmerman will at once proceed to Shelton, Neb., where the Rice Brothers' Colossal Shows are in the hands of a receiver and will be sold by the sheriff some time this week. This is the circus which opened in St. Paul early this spring but a disagreement between the partners put the show out of business This was a 15-car show.

With the circus property Barrett & Zimmerman now have on hand they could put out the greatest show on earth but should Mr. Zimmerman succeed in landing the shows, the horses after their carnival here will be placed on the market and Dobbin, who was seen this season pulling golden chariots and prancing to ragtime music, will no doubt pass the remainder of his days hauling logs in the Minnesota woods.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 15.—Clarence Geror, 9 years old, of Badger, was hit by an extra freight on the Great Northern and killed. The boy, who is a deaf mute, was walking along the track outside the rails and when the train came up behind him, he stepped directly in front of the engine, sustaining a fractured skull and a broken collar bone. He was taken to Badger by the train crew, but died when they reached the village. The engineer whistled the usual warning, but the boy, of course, did not hear the whistle.

HOUGHTON YOUNG MAN IS CANOE VICTIM.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 15.—The body of Karl C. "Kennie" Goetz was found Saturday near Bootjack point shortly before noon. The body was lying in the water between two logs about ten feet from shore. Three hundred yards away was the overturned canoe Betty C. Houghton in which the young man had started from Chassell some time Tuesday evening, the exact hour not being known. The body was found by John Rheaume, a farmer residing near Bootjack, who was searching the shore of Big Portage for drift wood.

Mr. Goetz left Houghton Thursday afternoon in company with Attorney Harry Corgan, the intention being to canoe to Chassell and back to Houghton in the evening. The pair ate supper at Chassell but Mr. Corgan changed his plans and returned on the evening train, Mr. Goetz deciding to make the trip back alone. When Mr. Goetz did not put in an appearance Mr. Corgan made inquiries.

FATAL TO GOOD LOOKS

Pale people are generally nervous. Thin blood not only affects the complexion by robbing cheeks and lips of color but it also weakens the nerves by robbing them of nourishment.

When you have so far lost control of your nerves that you "fly to pieces" over the least little noise or excitement, it is high time to give your nerves rest and to build up your blood. The drawn look, the sunken eyes, the deepening lines about the mouth and forehead, the loss in weight, are plain signs that the nerves and the body are being poorly nourished.

YOUNG GIRLS MOST FREQUENT VICTIMS

Superintendent of Crittendon Home Gives Some Interesting Data.

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Girls between the ages of 16 and 24 come oftenest to the Florence Crittendon home of North Dakota, according to Miss Lillian Topping, superintendent, who has given out statistics here covering the work of the home since it was established in 1908. Two girls as young as 11 years have been cared for, while 38 years is the limit the other way.

Nineteen-year-old girls were cared for in greater numbers than any others, there being thirty-seven of them. The division by years of the cases handled follows, 11 years, 2; 12 years, 2; 13 years, 1; 14 years, 6; 15 years, 8; 16 years, 10; 17 years, 22; 18 years, 22; 19 years, 37; 20 years, 30; 21 years, 23; 22 years, 14; 23 years, 14; 24 years, 13; 25 years, 16; 26 years, 2; 27 years, 5; 28 years, 2; 30 years, 1; 36 years, 1; 37 years, 1; 38 years, 2.

Divided by employment, domestics were cared for in the greatest numbers, while girls "staying at home" were next in order. There were 14 school girls, 107 domestics, 23 engaged in hotel work, 5 telephone operators, 7 clerks, 45 "lived at home," 1 hairdresser, 4 waitresses, 2 launderers, 1 office girl, 3 school teachers, 1 stenographer, 2 nurses, 2 milliners, 2 cooks.

Miss Topping declares that in the handling of the work, the juvenile court has proven a great boon. Under the new juvenile law, district officers are appointed, and Miss Topping is, herself, the officer in three districts.

SELECTING SUPPLY OF SEED CORN

St. Louis county farmers will devote this week to the expert selection of seed corn supply.

Governor Eberhart has set aside the present week for this purpose and all corn growers throughout Minnesota are urged and expected to pick their best corn products for next season's planting.

In Minnesota corn must be planted so that it will mature in from 100 to 120 days. On this account the work of selection of seed is very important and sometimes difficult.

A. E. Hostetter, district agricultural agent, declares that St. Louis county corn growers are taking hold of the work with a will.

GREAT NORTHERN MAY BUY HILL CITY ROAD.

Hill City, Minn., Sept. 15.—Reports that the Hill City & Western road will become part of the Great Northern system are circulating here. It is further intimated that the line will be extended to Fargo.

Such a road would traverse a territory now lacking good connections and would cover a rich country, taking in Cass, Hubbard, Becker and Clay counties. It would also give Duluth a direct line to Fargo.

Expensive Homestead.

Springbrook, N. D., Sept. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Halvorson of this place may secure a claim in Williams county, but it nearly cost him his life and he lost one of his legs. He was en route to Williston to make a homestead filing, when his team ran away. He jumped to save himself but was caught in a wheel and one leg so mangled that amputation was necessary.

WHEAT OFF AT THE CLOSE

Flax Is Also Weaker in Face of Light Receipts.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 15.—Wheat was off at the close today, with September down ¼c, December off ¼c and May unchanged at 93⅛c. The market was inactive to the close of the session.

Puts were quoted at 87½c and calls at 88c asked.

Lower cables and heavier receipts at the spring wheat primary centers softened the Duluth market this morning, and there was a general falling off from the Saturday prices. The market was quiet through the session and prices showed but slight changes. There was, however, a heaviness that deprived the market completely of aggressiveness.

Some sympathy with the corn market was shown, and that added to the cables and receipts, created a condition that took life out of the market.

September wheat went up immediately after the opening this morning, going ⅛c over Saturday's close, at 87⅝c. Later it slumped to 87⅛c. December wheat showed a ⅛-½c off at 88c, dropped back and then railied to 88⅛c. May wheat opened ⅛c off at 93, fell off and advanced again to 93¼c.

September durum opened unchanged at 86⅛c, fell off to 84¾c and advanced again to 85c. December durum opened ¼c off at 85c, and advanced to 85½c.

The Flax Market.

Flax went off today in the face of light receipts, through lack of demand. There are no prospects of receipts being appreciably increased in the near future, but neither is there any demands that promises to bolster up the market.

September flax closed today ⅝c off, October ⅞c off, November ⅞c off and December ⅝c off.

Wheat Has Strong Undertone Though It Appears Easier.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 15.—Although the market was a trifle easier, it showed a strong undertone considering the heavy receipts. Hedging sales are increasing. CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Easier on European Movement and Crop News.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Larger Russian shipments and more favorable weather and crop reports from Europe tended today to ease wheat. The total of world shipments proved much larger than expected. Buyers were only willing to take hold after a break and even then were not eager. The opening was a shade to ⅛c off and an additional decline followed.

Subsequently falling off in primary receipts compared with a year ago brought about an upturn. The close, however, was weak, varying from ⅛c net loss to an advance of a shade.

Corn lacked any notable support. The fact that arrivals exceed the shipments appeared to discourage the bulls. Opening figures were a sixteenth to ⅛c lower and there was an additional sag later.

The market afterward hardened because of improved shipping demand, but prices for futures did not hold well. The close was weak, ⅜c to ½c under Saturday night.

Sentiment as to oats appeared to be about evenly divided. The market started unchanged to a shade off and held close to that range.

In provisions, the nearby options were firm, the distant months weak. First sales varied 2½c to 5c lower to 7½c advance. Trade was just moderate.

London Stocks.

London, Sept. 15.—American securities were dull and irregular. Unfavorable Mexican reports checked business and an easy tone prevailed throughout the session. Canadian Pacific declined over a point and the rest of the list closed within a small fraction of parity. Copper stocks had a good tone in sympathy with the metal.

WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

New York, Sept. 15.—Liberal supplies from all sources today effectually checked efforts to put up prices of stocks here. Some minor shares gave an exhibition of strength, but the market generally was under pressure.

Lack of confirmation of the rumors put out to explain the advance in Union Pacific, Reading and Canadian Pacific, made buyers cautious.

Copper shares rallied briskly on the announcement that the price of the metal had been marked up to 17 cents by one large selling agency. Bullish operations in Reading and Can were resumed with some success toward midday, exercising a strengthening influence all around.

Bonds were irregular.

The rise in stocks last week induced traders to take profits at the opening of the market today, and large blocks of the favorite shares were marketed. The tendency was downwards, although further advances in a number of cases gave the list an irregular appearance. Reading advanced a point, following its rise on the London market. Canadian Pacific declined 2 points and Union Pacific a point on heavy realizing. Virginia-Carolina Chemical lost a point.

Buying orders cancelled when the market began to exhibit a definite downward tendency. Quite a few shares sold in the neighborhood of a point below Saturday's close, with continuous pressure against the Harrimans and Steel. Bears were encouraged by the turn of affairs and put out little short lines.

The market made a more definite response to the strength of particular stocks after the foreign selling stopped. London, which has unloaded steadily since the advance began, put out 15,000 more shares. Can had a large speculative following and was easily the strongest stock in the list. It touched 38⅛ on a heavy volume of transactions.

A wave of selling orders struck the market after the rally had been carried to a point where the list was ruling at or above Saturday's close. On the rise Reading eclipsed its early high figure, touching 168. Tobaccos were also buoyant, American jumping 5 points. The reaction forced down Union Pacific a point, and C. & O. also became weak. Otherwise the pressure lessened after prices sold off half a point.

The market closed weak. Bears were active in the late dealings and succeeded in uncovering some weakly margined long accounts. Lowest prices were made for most of the representative stocks, with particular heaviness in Steel and Union Pacific. Reading went back below Saturday's close and Can reacted 2 points when the general pressure became too severe.

WILL STOP THE BOMBARDMENT

Parents Will Be Held Responsible Under the State Law.

West Duluth parents will be held accountable for the carrying of firearms by their children, according to Lieut. Charles Wilcox of the West Duluth police station. Those children over 14 years of age will be turned over to the juvenile court, and older boys will be dealt with heavily by the police court if they are caught shooting within the city limits.

The West Duluth police gathered in a number of boys and young men yesterday who were shooting guns and rifles in the outskirts of West Duluth. The arrests followed a number of complaints from people who said that they dared not go outside of their doors on account of the fusillade.

Those gathered in yesterday were Sam Reed, Frank Reed, Hersey Koffman and Roy Nellis, boys ranging in age from 14 to 16. These will be taken before the juvenile court on Saturday. Alfred Shepard and John Jacobson, young men 20 years of age, were picked up early yesterday. One of them carried a high-power rifle and the other a shotgun. They pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Lanners, and in asking for leniency stated that they had just arrived in the city from a country town where the shooting of firearms was not prohibited in the suburbs. They were fined $1 and costs and sentence was suspended.

The activity of the police in gathering up boys with firearms follows a number of accidents which have occurred from this source lately in this end of the city. On Saturday afternoon Walter, the small son of Adolph Anderson, 707 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, deputy city building inspector, was shot in the right leg by the 9-year-old son of George Rudd, 5531 Medina street. The latter had a .22 caliber rifle and was shooting at birds on the boulevard. The Anderson boy is expected to recover.

"We are going to put an absolute stop to the shooting of firearms within the city limits in the region of West Duluth," said Lieut. Wilcox this morning. "The boys are becoming very dangerous and especially to those residents living near the city limits. If we cannot prosecute the boys, then it will probably be possible for us to use the state law and prosecute the parents for allowing the boys to shoot and supplying them with the guns. Some of the boys who were arrested yesterday carried rifles that would carry a bullet a mile. These boys believe that if they get to some apparently isolated spot like Ironton or the city boulevard, no one will be hurt, but the carrying power of these guns is such that parties several blocks away may be injured or killed."

IN WEST DULUTH POLICE COURT

Mike Stacek pleaded guilty this morning to having violated the health ordinance. Stacek was taken off a street car for spitting on the floor yesterday. Judge Lanners suspended sentence on a promise from the man that he would not again break the ordinance.

* * *

Elizlar Beaudin came home Saturday night carrying a large "package" of wet goods. He threatened to do bodily harm to his family and the police were called in. In police court this morning he was given a chance to reform and was placed on probation for a year.

ELECTION OF SCHOOL OFFICERS

The semi-annual election of "mayor" and "commissioners" who will be the ruling power of the Duluth Industrial high school for this semester will be held tomorrow. The election will be held provided there are sufficient candidates for the offices to be filled.

A mayor and eight commissioners will be elected. The former office will be contested. Two young men have already entered the contest for mayor and it is probable that some others may get into this field. The mayoralty candidates are John Davis, who is one of the present commissioners, and John Nettleton.

Only four of the students have announced their intention of becoming commissioner candidates. One of these seeks re-election. They are Miss Vivian Nichols, present commissioner, and Miss Mina Brown, Miss Ethel Little and Page Cashin. It is probable that eight or ten others will enter the field before this evening.

This morning the prospect of the coming election was the principal matter of discussion among the high school students in and about the building. Efforts are being made by the student body to have each of the four classes well represented on the ticket.

It may be probable that the election will be postponed until Friday. This will probably be done unless enough candidates file so that the election can be held tomorrow morning.

FAST TIME MADE IN MOTOR BOAT RACES.

Fast time was made in the motorboat races held on St. Louis river yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Western Boat club. Frank H. Wade, with a handicap of forty-five minutes arrived at Fond du Lac first, making the distance in forty-six minutes flat. Robert Jennings whose handicap was ten minutes arrived second, making the distance in thirty-three and one-half minutes.

Seven prizes were awarded the winners. The other five to win prize money were Morris Goss, whose time was 90 minutes; Ed Gustafson, 59:33; C. Fayling, 31:35, and Ernest Larson, 24:40.

The most exciting part of the race occurred in the finish between the last threes. In arriving at the stretch they were even and for a time it was almost impossible to tell which would be declared the winner.

Larson's boat was the last to leave the starting point and made the fastest time of the race. The head prize won by Mr. Wade was a box of cigars which was donated by Melvin Olson.

The members of the club spent the afternoon at Fond du Lac. Arrangements were made by the club to give its first series of dances on Oct. 3.

CORNERSTONE OF CHURCH LAID

Biggest Crowd in History of New Duluth Assembles.

Probably the largest crowd ever seen in New Duluth gathered at St. Elizabeth's Catholic church yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the cornerstone for the new edifice. Bishop James McGolrick officiated and gave the principal address of the afternoon.

It was estimated that nearly 2,000 people were present during the ceremony. Following the laying of the stone by the bishop and his address, short talks were given by Rev. D. W. Lynch of the St. James church of West Duluth, Rev. John Begley, pastor of the new church, and Father Floyd of the cathedral. The latter read a paper to Thomas L. Feigh, donor of the money with which the new church is being erected.

THE "ORACLE" WILL BE ISSUED AGAIN.

The "Oracle," the publication of the senior class of the Duluth Industrial high school, will be issued in 1914. This afternoon the senior class of the school will meet and elect its editors and managers who will have charge of getting out the paper.

The "Oracle" first made its appearance this June. The booklet was artistic in every detail and reflected great credit of the graduating class. It is the intention of the present class to duplicate next year or improve on it. Each of the classes will be asked to contribute to the publication and a department will also be set aside for the grade school.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB WILL MEET.

The Gary Improvement club will meet at 8 o'clock this evening to form a permanent organization and to outline plans for future activity.

Gary has a long list of improvements and betterments which are needed. The new club is composed of active and determined residents, and they are determined to go after them through the club which they have formed.

Among the thing to which they feel they are entitled at an early date are street car service, free mail delivery, an adequate school, a sewer and water system, good roads, graded streets, a park, etc.

The first meeting was held last Tuesday night. At that time Andrew C. Anderson was chosen temporary chairman and D. H. Lewis yas elected temporary secretary. The chairman appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws, which will probably be presented at tonight's meeting.

New Theater Opens.

The Alhambra theater, 321 North Central avenue, West Duluth new playhouse, will open its doors to the public this evening. Carl F. Beier, manager of the place, has planned a program of clean photoplays and musical numbers.

The Alhambra is a strictly modern playhouse in every sense of the word. Nothing has been left undone to provide in it a playhouse which will be an absolutely safe place to go and at the same time provide the rest and recreation that the public likes.

The final finishing touches to the place were made by the workmen this afternoon. Presenting as it does a handsome appearance from the outside and a far better one inside the playhouse will no doubt become one of the most popular in the city.

Manager Beier stated this morning that only the best photoplays on the market would be secured for the theater. Musical numbers rendered by some of Duluth's best vocal talen will also be heard on the program. A change of program will be given every Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday and matinee performances will be held on both Saturdays and Sundays.

Lindeberg-McDowell.

Miss Beda Lindeberg and George McDowell will be married at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 5803 Cody street. Both young people are well known in this end of the city. They will make their home at 5201 Ramsey street.

Smallidge Funeral.

The funeral services for Mrs. Edith Smallidge, 27 years old, wife of R. T. Smallidge, 221 North Fifty-third avenue west, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence. Rev. Paul S. Nweeya, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, officiated. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason, 503 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, are the parents of a son born last night.

The Ladies Aid Society of Plymouth Congregational church will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Lee, 618 North Fifty-seventh avenue west.

A son was born early this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corcoran of New Duluth.

Charles Lowe, 1010 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, has returned from a visit to the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Oscar Lundquist of Chicago and Mrs. Herman Chesky of Ashland, Wis., are guests at the home of Mrs. C. Johnson, 419 North Fifty-ninth avenue west.

Levite, who also shot himself but is expected to recover, is under arrest.

GROSS EARNINGS TAX IS UNFAIR, SAYS COURT

Cancels Assessment Against Railroad, But Criticizes the Law.

Minnesota's gross earnings tax system, which practically exempts railroads and other corporations to which it applies from the payment of special assessments for public improvements, is unjust to the municipalities of the state and unfair to general taxpayers in Duluth and other cities of the state with terminal facilities, according to an opinion handed down by Judge Bert Fesler in district court today.

Judge Fesler's opinion follows his decision of an appeal taken by the Northern Pacific Railroad company from an assesment to defray the expense of repaving and improving Central avenue from Roosevelt street to the north line of Cody street, West Duluth. The court holds that the railroad company, under a strict interpretation of the gross earnings tax law, cannot be assessed for special improvements, and orders the assessment made by the council on Feb. 25 last in the sum of $510.57 cancelled.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company has a right-of-way 200 feet wide at Central avenue. Forty feet of the southerly half and seventy-five feet of the northerly half of the right-of-way were assessed. A clear right-of-way of eighty-five feet occupied by the tracks lies between. The portions which were assessed have been leased by the railroad company for use of private merchandise houses and retail merchandise stores.

Court's View.

"It seems reasonable," says the court, "to argue that if the railroad company itself evidences its belief that it does not need all of its right-of-way for railroad purposes by leasing some of it for private purposes it ought not to object if the city also treats the same property as non-railroad property for the purpose of taxation.

"But our supreme court in a more aggravated state of facts, holds that 'there is nothing in the fact that the corporation consents to the use of the land for any private purpose, or receives rent for its use, which should make the land taxable if it would not be taxable if vacant.'"

The court also rules that the parcels of land in this case which were assessed were mere fragments of the right-of-way and that they cannot be culled out and made subject to taxes and assessments. The opinion also states that "it cannot be fairly said that a right-of-way 200 feet in width is not reasonably necessary for the proper operation of a railway such as the appellant operates across Central avenue from Duluth to St. Paul. A railroad needs a right-of-way of greater width than merely the width of its tracks and passing trains. How much more a court cannot definitely say, but 200 feet is not presumptively an unreasonable width."

Gross Earnings Tax.

With respect to the unjustness and unfairness of the gross earnings tax law, Judge Fesler has the following to say:

"The facts in this case demonstrate how unjust the gross earnings tax system is to the municipalities of the state. The passenger and freight depot of the appellant is at Central avenue. No property along the avenue probably is more benefited by this improvement than this appellant's depot property; but the city did not attempt to assess it because it was clearly exempt. Then the appellant leases two abutting portions of its right-of-way for use as two private merchandise warehouses and retail merchandise stores. No kinds of business carried on on Central avenue probably use or wear out the pavement of the avenue more than these uses of this railroad property. Yet under the statute, the general taxpayers of Duluth through the city treasury must pay the cost of the paving of the avenue in front of these properties, and the money which the appellant has paid in lieu of these assessments goes into the state treasury. The appellant is not legally to blame; it has paid its gross earnings tax in lieu of these assessments. But the law which permits the state thus to profit at the expense of the municipalities of the state is indefensible. If a gross earnings tax is in any case fair to the general taxpayer, it at the most should commute the ordinary taxes only, and not special assessments. The reasons advanced by those favoring the gross earnings, as distinguished from the ad valorem system of taxation of the property of public service corporations, do not apply to local assessments. The latter are peculiarly local burdens; they may be easily fixed and collected by the local authorities; the state is in no way dependent upon them; and they have no relation to the use of a railroad as an entirety or system extending through many different tax collecting subdivisions of the state. The practical effect is to exempt all corporations to which the gross earnings tax applies, from payment of special assessments directly or indirectly, and to unload the burden on the general taxpayer who is less able to carry it. It could easily be remedied by an act of the legislature and a referendum to the people. With the new charter provisions for the payment of the cost of storm sewers and street intersections out of the permanent improvement fund, the burden on the general taxpeyer will be greater in the future than it has been in the past."

MARINE NEWS

GRAIN SHIPPING IS MORE ACTIVE

Eight Boats Clear From the Harbor During Week End.

Grain shipping on the great lakes is picking up. Eight big boats cleared from the harbor with grain cargoes since Saturday afternoon. They were the Collinge, Conestoga, C. L. Hutchinson, Alfred Mitchell, Parent, Livingstone, Spalding and Wilkenson.

The rate from Duluth to Buffalo is now 1¾ cents, ¼ cent higher than it was a week ago, and it is expected that the rate will be a little higher in another week.

Railroads tapping the grain belt are bringing wheat into the Duluth-Superior elevators at the rate of about 1,000 cars a day and storage space is being filled rapidly. It will be necessary for the grain to move down the lakes steadily now in order to keep the elevators clear.

EXCURSION SEASON ENDED

Columbia Laid Up—Plowboy May Be Used in Fish Business.

The steamer Plowboy of the Clow & Nicholson line, is being used as a ferry to and from Park Point while the aerial bridge is being repaired. The steamer Columbia, which finished the excursion season yesterday will be laid up for the winter. The Plowboy may be put into the herring fishing trade this fall, according to Capt. Clow, and she probably will not be laid up until late.

Capt. Clow said that his company had a prosperous year in the excursion trade. The trip around the horn last night was the last regular trip. Yesterday afternoon 450 employes of the Stone-Ordean-Wells company chartered the Columbia for a trip up the river.

Last Trip of Season.

The steamer Octorara of the Anchor line arrived in Duluth today on her last trip of the season to the Head of the Lakes. She will leave for Buffalo again tomorrow. The Juniata of the same line, will close the regular season here a week from tomorrow when she will leave on her last trip. The Tionesta will be here on her last trip next Saturday.

Submerged Wreck.

Capt. Swenson of the United States hydrographic office, has sent out a notice of a submerged wreck in Lake Ontario, near Blind River. The fishing tug Victoria K., sunk about a mile from shore, just to westward of Blind River range lights. The wreck is marked by an ordinary lantern, showing two white lights, so low that it might be extinguished in bad weather. The smokestack shows about two feet above water and might be taken for a black can buoy. There is plenty of room on either side and vessels are warned to keep the ranges well open until past the wreck.

LONG LIST OF PLAYERS DRAFTED

National Commission Has Plan to Strengthen the Weaker Clubs.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Major and minor league magnates and others interested in the drafting of players by major league clubs from minor leagues were present when the national baseball commission began its annual meeting here today. The members of the commission are: August Herrmann, chairman; President Thomas Lynch of the National league, and President B. B. Johnson of the American league.

When the members of the commission went into session more drafts had been entered than in any year since the national agreement went into effect.

It was reported that the commission would discuss a new plan for drafting players, which would give the advantage to the second division teams in the major leagues and help them to build up. At present all clubs in the two big leagues have an equal advantage. The first division clubs may put in as many drafts as the second division teams and they have an equal chance to draw the players desired.

Tonight the directors of the National league will meet to review the protest of the New York club from the National league, with regard to the New York-Philadelphia game of Aug. 30, which was forfeited to New York by Umpire Brennan and later awarded to the Philadelphias by President Lynch.

President Lynch announced that he had fined both Manager Tinker of the Cincinnati club, and Shortstop Maranville of the Boston team, $50 and First Baseman Myers, also of the Boston team, $100, for fighting on the field during the first game of the doubleheader here last Saturday. Tinker was also suspended three days for using abusive language to Umpire O'Day.

HARVARD HAS GOOD MATERIAL

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 15.—With Charley Brickley and his far-famed, "educated" drop-kick-toe in the best of trim, and Bob Storer, who scooped up a fumble and made himself famous by scoring the first touchdown against Yale in 1909, acting as captain, the Harvard football squad will start full training here Tuesday with a rush.

The Crimson has the best outlook in many years. Even though several of last year's championship team veterans have left, prospects are exceedingly bright for a repetition. The seventy-five men who will be on hand Tuesday have attended Coach Percy D. Haughton's correspondence school during the summer, and the usual tiresome chalk talks and get-together "buzzes" are not necessary.

Percy Wendell, last year's catapault captain; Sam Felton and Gardiner, having graduated, will have to be replaced this fall. Felton has promised to spend quite a bit of time teaching another his wonderful "fadeaway" punt spirals.

Frank Bradlee, Wendell's sub last year; "Tacks" Hardwick and all the other veterans will report Tuesday.

Among some of the brightest hopes are Mahan, whose high school work and freshman playing last year give him a record even more sensationally brilliant than that Brickley brought with him. Mahan, like Brickley, is an inspiring drop-kicker and broken field runner. He will be tried out at quarter.

PRACTICE FOR OPEN TOURNEY

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 15.—The last day of practice for the American open golf championship, which starts tomorrow at the Country club, found nearly all the contenders hard at work studying the distances and the run of the putting greens.

Included in the ranks were a score of amateurs who will match their game against the professionals in the hope of finishing in the "plate" if not in the "money." No amateur in this country has ever duplicated the feat of H. H. Hilton of England by winning an open championship from a professional and it was not until Jack McDermott captured the event in this country two years ago, that a strictly American-bred golfer had overcome the English and Scottish productions.

So large was the number of players at the first tee this morning, that half of the field began at the eighth hole. The first drives were made before 8 o'clock.

Good caddies were at a premium, although nearby professionals brought their own club bearers, while many carried their own bags.

THAW WINS VICTORY IN HABEAS CORPUS HEARING IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Extradition Question Will Be Argued on Sept. 23.

Officer Who Arrested Jerome Is "Detained" in United States.

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 16.—Harry Kendall Thaw, fugitive from Matteawan, won a victory in the United States district court here today when Judge Aldrich indefinitely suspended a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by the Thaw lawyers. This means that Thaw will have a Federal writ to check his immediate return to New York state in the event Governor Felker orders his extradition after the hearing to be held at Concord.

William Travers Jerome, especially deputized to bring about Thaw's return to the asylum, tried to block the postponement on the grounds that the writ had been obtained as a matter of expediency.

"What do you propose to do then?" insised the judge.

Jerome hesitated.

Suspended, Not Adjourned.

"The immediate question," continued the court, "is whether the proceedings shall go on or be suspended. It is the judgment of the court that a suspension would not menace the interest of either side, and in view of the fact that the governor hesitates to proceed with the extradition hearing until the status of this matter is assured, I suspend it. It is not adjourned, but suspended, and I suggest that either side notify me within six days when they are prepared to go on with it."

Thaw sat with his eyes riveted on the court. His lawyers were grinning. He was remanded back to the joint custody of Sheriff Drew of Coos county, who arrested him after his recent deportation from Canada, and United States Marshal Nute.

Extradition Hearing Sept. 23.

Counsel for both sides, after talking with the governor by telephone, agreed that the extradition hearing would not be held until Tuesday, Sept. 23. The lawyers then went into conference to decide where to hold Thaw meanwhile.

Crowds packing Main street in front of the court building cheered Thaw as he was driven to a hotel for dinner.

In an open discussion with Mr. Jerome after announcing the suspen-

STEEL CARS UPSET; ONLY THREE INJURED

Sixty-Five Passengers Escape Unhurt From the Accident.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Three persons were injured today by the turning over of the three rear sleeping cars of the Philadelphia night express on the Pennsylvania railroad, which left Pittsburg at 10:40 o'clock last night and was due here at 7 a. m. The accident occurred at Coatesville, thirty-eight miles west of Philadelphia. The train was not running fast when the sleepers, of steel construction, left the rails and turned over on their sides. One of the cars slid half way down a fifteen-foot embankment. There were sixty-eight persons in the sleepers.

The accident is said to have been due to the spreading of the rails.

HOLLAND WILL GIVE WOMEN SUFFRAGE

The Hague, Netherlands, Sept. 16.—There is every indication that women will shortly be given the parliamentary franchise in Holland.

In the speech from the throne, delivered at the opening of the states general today, the new Dutch cabinet stated its intention of granting the vote to women.

The speech from the throne says that a bill is to be introduced removing all constitutional obstacles in the way of granting the suffrage to women. The same bill will revise the Dutch constitution in such a way as to extend the parliamentary franchise to all male Dutch subjects on reaching a certain age, with exceptions to be determined later. The bill is to be prepared without delay.

ARGENTINE BEEF IS LANDED IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 16.—Fifteen hundred quarters of Argentine beef, the first big shipment ever brought to the United States, were unloaded from the refrigerator storerooms of a steamer in Brooklyn yesterday. Most of the American beef companies had representatives on the dock to look over the meat, which was sent to dealers in this city, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. Dr. Albert Long, Federal Inspector, said the beef was in first-class condition.

HEAR REPORT ON CURRENCY

Senators Question Harvard Professor on Administration Bill.

House Majority Stands Firm Against Efforts to Change It.

Washington, Sept. 16.—One of the perplexing and important problems to fall on the managers of the new banking system proposed by the administration bill will be the curtailment of business activities and the restraining of credits at critical moments, according to Prof. O. M. Sprague of Harvard university, who testified today before the senate banking committee.

"Had these Federal banks been in existence the last year," he said, "they would have been besieged with demands from business for more money and an extension of discounts. As it is, I think the moderate liquidation business has had to go through in the last six months has been of very great advantage and has greatly strengthened the business community."

Will Hear Other Experts.

Prof. Sprague was the first of a number of experts who will be heard by the committee.

The plan of the bill for replacing national bank notes with new treasury notes was criticized adversely by Prof. Sprague. He advocated a change that would make government bonds securities for those notes as they are now for national bank currency.

The general feature of the administration bill, Prof. Sprague approved. Properly managed, he said, the new plan would remove most of the defects of the present system and provide for emergencies and crop moving demands.

Progress in the House.

The administration bill rolled steadily toward completion under detailed consideration in the house. A chorus of

DOCTOR SHOOTS MAN AND RUNS OVER BOY

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—Joseph Stoudt, an oil wagon driver, was shot yesterday by Dr. Charles M. Clayton, who, returning home unexpectedly, found the man embracing his wife. On the way to police headquarters to give himself up, Dr. Clayton's automobile struck Roy Deetring, 15 years old, who was internally injured and is not expected to live. Physicians say Stoudt's wounds may prove fatal.

Mrs. Clayton said she was struggling to get away from Stoudt when her husband arrived. Both Mr. Clayton and his wife were arrested and later released on bond.

WOULD OUST DOCTOR AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 16.—The resignation of Maj. J. L. Freyer, chief surgeon of the National Soldiers' Home here, is demanded in a resolution passed by the board of managers of the home at the conclusion of an investigation. Evidence was produced to show that in addition to his duties at the home, Dr. Freyer practiced medicine in Kansas City on certain days of the week.

Dozens of the veterans testified that they had been mistreated by various officials.

COPPER MINE OUTPUT LOW

Only About One-Eighth of Normal Capacity in Michigan.

Civic Effort to Bring End to Strike Is Begun.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Daily copper rock shipments from the mines in this district operating under the strike conditions now total 5,190 tons. This is a little better than one-eighth of the normal production.

The Calumet & Hecla is mining the greatest amount, at 3,580 tons, or better than one-third of its normal output. Other mines operating on a smaller scale are the Quincy, Isle Royale, Trimountain, Champion, Superior, Baltic, Osceola and South Kearsarge. The Trimountain expects to start mining in another shaft today, and the Continental mine is about ready to hoist some rock.

Several parades of strikers were held in the district this morning, but there was no disorder.

Delay Injunction Suit.

Injunction proceedings brought by the miners' union against Sheriff James Cruse of Houghton county to restrain him from employing outside officers have been indefinitely continued by Circuit Judge O'Brien, on request of the plaintiffs.

The committee appointed by the Copper Country Commercial club to investigate the copper miners' strike, with a view to offering its services as mediator, has begun its work. Its recommendations will be submitted to the strikers and operators.

Inquire Into Flag Incident.

An incident of Saturday, in which a flag in the hands of a striker was trampled and torn after a parade of strikers had been stopped by the troops, was investigated yesterday by a military board of inquiry. Testimony of spectators and soldiers was so conflicting that the board was unable to place any blame.

Gen. Abbey announced that the militiamen now in the strike district number 675, sixty of whom are officers.

KILLS ADVERSARY BEFORE HONOR COURT

Berlin, Sept. 16.—Prof. Heinrich-Maass, court painter and social leader, shot and killed Court Chamberlain von Westernhagen, courtier-soldier and captain of the army reserve. A slap in the face led to the professor's act, which took place before the bar of a dignified court of honor.

There had been bad blood between the two for some time. In accordance with the code they had agreed to submit their differences to a court of honor, which was to decide whether a duel was necessary.

The two men had just completed giving to the court their testimony concerning their quarrel. Von Westernhagen, in a rage over some remarks made by Prof. Maass, struck his adversary in the face. The artist immediately drew a revolver and shot the soldier dead.

REHEARING IN DULUTH RATE CASE?

Intimations That Railroads Will Ask to Have Case Reopened.

Claim Difficulty in Adjusting Rates According to the Decision.

No Written Application Yet Filed With the Interstate Commission.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Intimations have reached Commissioner James S. Harlan of the interstate commerce commission that the railroads will ask for a rehearing in the Duluth rate case. Up to this time, however, no written application has been filed, and no letters have been received at the office of the commission on the subject, the intimations being merely verbal.

It is indicated that the application for rehearing, if one is filed, will be based on the ground that the railroads are having difficulty in adjusting their rates in accordance with Commissioner Harlan's decision.

It will be recalled that last Saturday the commission extended the time for the new rates to go into effect to Nov. 1, because the railroads made a showing of their inability to prepare their schedules in time for filing in the statutory period of thirty days prior to the date when the new rates are to apply.

This order of the commission, however, is stated to be merely formal and does not indicate what action will be taken on the application for rehearing, if such application is filed.

LONDON WORKMAN WILL GET $50,000

London, Sept. 16.—A workman this morning found on a sidewalk practically the entire pearl necklace valued at $650,000, which was stolen on July 16, while in transit by mail from Paris to London.

The man was going to work in Highbury, a district of London, when he noticed the pearls lying in a heap. On picking them up he found there were fifty-eight. He took them to the nearest police station, where they were at once recognized as part of the famous necklace from which only one pearl is now missing.

On Sept. 2, five men, three Englishmen and two Australians, were arrested when trying to dispose of some of the pearls in London. They are believed by the police to belong to a notorious international gang of thieves.

A reward of $50,000, which was offered for the return of the jewels, will go entirely to the workman.

The necklace, said to be the most valuable in the world, was in transit between two dealers when stolen. Rumor indicated that it was destined for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

ALL MEXICO CELEBRATES

People Keep 103rd Anniversary of Nation's Independence.

Americans Reach Saltillo After Trip Through Desert.

Mexico City, Sept. 16.—"Viva La Independencia!" "Viva Mexico!" was the cry which ushered in last night, the celebration of the 103rd anniversary of Mexico's independence. As in the capital, so every other city, town and hamlet observed the time-honored custom marking the hour of the ringing of the liberty bell.

Sharp on the stroke of 11 o'clock, in the presence of thousands who packed the big square in front of the national palace, President Huerta appeared on the balcony, grasped the cord attached to the tongue of the big bell suspended above, and shouted the magic words. Instantly the crowd, which prior to this had been standing in silent expectation, burst into an echoing roar of "vivas" for the independence of the nation.

For the fourth successive year a new president has officiated at the national independence ceremony. Gen. Porfiro Diaz for the last time sounded the liberty bell at the celebration of the 100th anniversary in 1909. He was followed by Francisco De La Barra, who in turn was succeeded by Madero a year ago.

WILSON RETURNS TO THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Sept. 16.—President Wilson returned from Cornish, N. H., today on a train that was an hour late and was driven at once to the White House.

The first thing the president did was to receive several hundred delegates to the international congress on refrigeration. The long line passed through the president's room in the executive offices, where the president shook hands with all but made no speech.

Secretary Bryan had a conference on Mexico, and Secretary McAdoo had an engagement to talk over the collectorship of the port of Boston. It was not expected that any final action would be taken on the collectorship until the president has conferred with Massachusetts members of congress, with whom he has engagements tomorrow.

SECRETARY OF SERVICE CHIEF IN SCHMIDT CASE

WILLIAM J. FLYNN.

SULZER OWES HIM $26,500

Hugh J. Reilly Testifies to Loans Made the Governor.

Colwell of Yonkers Is Reported to Have Disappeared.

New York, Sept. 16.—Hugh J. Reilly, a contractor and railroad builder for the Cuban government, one of today's witnesses before the Sulzer board of impeachment managers, said that he loaned Governor Sulzer $10,000 in cash shortly after his nomination.

Governor Sulzer, he said, still owed him this money, in addition to other loans which brought his total indebtedness to Mr. Reilly up to $26,500.

Reilly was questioned regarding his dealings with Mr. Sulzer when the latter was chairman of the foreign relations committee in the house of representatives, in connection with claims Reilly was pressing against the Cuban government.

Signature Examined.

What had been identified as Governor Sulzer's signature—"William Sulzer—for Mrs. Sulzer"—was under the close scrutiny of a handwriting expert of the board of impeachment managers. The board heard his testimony at a further private examination of witnesses expected to testify at Sulzer's trial on impeachment charges.

The paper bearing this alleged signature was an order for stock given July 19 last to Harris & Fuller, Wall street brokers, by Lieut. Commander Josephthal, Sulzer's naval aide. There was an outstanding indebtedness of approximately $20,000 on the stock, and this Josephthal paid, taking the stock with him. Mrs. Sulzer's name was mentioned in the matter for the first time, so far as yet brought out, in this letter.

Colwell Has Disappeared.

Frederick L. Colwell of Yonkers, regarded as against Governor Sulzer at his forthcoming trial on impeachment charges, has disappeared, according to an announcement by the assembly board of impeachment managers.

COLORED CORPORAL "CONQUERS" MEXICO

Becomes Captain of Rebels, But Is Arrested on Visit Home.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 16.—James M. Shields, corporal of Troop L, Ninth (negro) United States cavalry, has returned from a conquest of Mexico. As a result he is charged by his military superiors with several violations of military law.

In five hours the non-commissioned officer attained a captain's commission and command of a full company of Mexican insurgents. His success occasioned a celebration and he returned to visit his wife on the Arizona side of the line and landed in the guard house. Shields is charged with having held up two fellow members of the border patrol and at the point of his pistol relieved them of their rifles and revolvers. One was struck on the head.

Shields crossed the line into Mexico with his triple armament, and was received with open arms by the rebels. They made him a captain and gave him command of a company of barefooted soldiers.

MILITARY SURGEONS TALK OF WAR WORK

Denver, Colo., Sept. 16.—War and the treatment of wounded were the chief topics discussed today at headquarters of the Association of Military Surgeons. Delegates from the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and China were present for the opening of the twenty-second annual convention, which will continue three days.

POLICE FIND PRIEST TO BE COUNTERFEITER

May Also Be Concerned in Murder of Anna Aumuller.

New York, Sept. 16.—Stripping from New York's river murder its mystery, the police steadily bared a nest of crime, feathered, they claim, by Rev. Hans Schmidt, confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, and his friend, Dr. Ernest A. Muret, dentist by day, by night alleged counterfeiter.

Muret is under arrest on a technical charge of having in his possession a pistol, in violation of the Sullivan law. He was arrested early today after detectives ransacking Schmidt's apartments had uncovered evidence to show that Schmidt was a counterfeiter.

This evidence led them to a flat rented by a man under the name of George Miller, in which were found all essentials to the counterfeiter's craft. The janitress of the building, brought face to face with Muret, greeted him as Miller. Muret, unaware of his impending apprehension, recognized her at once—and said so—as the woman from whom he had rented the flat under his pseudonym.

Posed as Medical Students.

Schmidt and Muret, the janitress said—and Muret admitted—told the renting agents that they were medical students and wanted the flat as a place for making experiments necessitated by their studies. What they really did, the police allege, was to experiment in counterfeiting. The kitchen was fitted up as a dark room. A camera, a printing press, photographic supplies and other equipment handy to counterfeiters was found there. But what the police relied upon to rivet their case was a bundle of charred counterfeit bills under the kitchen sink and bits of many other such bills, charred by fire, scattered through the four rooms.

After detectives had placed Muret under arrest, they took into custody

FIND NO TRACES OF CANADIAN SURVEYORS

Men Caught By Landslide Are Given Up for Dead.

Ketchikan, Alaska, Sept. 16. — The launch Rough Rider, sent out Saturday to give assistance to the Canadian boundary surveyors whose camp was overwhelmed by a landslide, returned yesterday, having been unable to find the bodies of C. D. Robert and Harry Bode, who are believed to have been killed by the slide. The relief party was unable to find any trace of the camp.

The slide came from 1,000 feet up the mountains and in the widest part was 500 feet wide and from 20 to 30 feet deep. It is believed the bodies of the missing surveyors are buried under the mass of rock, trees and gravel.

HEAVY VOTE BEING CAST

Close Watch for Illegal Voting, But None Is Reported.

Voting at the special election being held today to pass upon the Hicken liquor ordinance is generally heavier than expected throughout the city.

Reports from the various precincts in different sections show that the voters visited the polls early and in numbers.

At some of the election precincts the voters were drawn up in line, anxiously awaiting a turn in the booth to pass upon the new liquor ordinance. One of the longest lines was noted at the Endion M. E. church, where as many as thirty or forty voters were standing outside the polling place at one time. In this precinct 270 votes had been cast at noon.

In the first precinct of the Fourth ward, across the canal, the organization was not perfected until after 8

SAYS PLANT LOST MONEY

"Notwithstanding the reports, the water and light department sustained a net loss of approximately $12,000 last year," said Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the utilities division, at the city commission meeting yesterday afternoon.

"But I can see where the water and light department is going to make money," he continued. "We are working to put it upon a sound and substantial basis. To that end we are effecting improvements in the accounting system and are now engaged in gathering data with a view to revising the rates. I am not certain but I think that the proposed new schedule of rates should be ready by the first of the coming year."

It was explained that the department did not show a loss in cash, but that the loss is shown if charges are made for depreciation and various other features are taken into consideration.

While discussing the water situation Commissioner Merritt declared strongly in favor of a frontage tax in order to make unimproved property bear at least a portion of the burden of the extensions. He asserted that real estate dealers have water extended to outlying lots which are likely to be improved and that as the pipes must necessarily be laid in front of intervening vacant property, the lots inevitably gain in value. The commissioner asserted that the owners of these lots should be made to pay for the benefits thus accruing to them and he expressed the belief that it could best be done by means of a frontage tax.

The cost of fire hydrants to the city was brought up in the same connection. It was pointed out that the general fund is paying about $50,000 a year to the water department for hydrant rentals and that it is a serious drain on the fund, particularly in view of the fact that the tax levy is limited to 13 mills for all general purposes. Commissioner Merritt stated that in revising rates a reduction of the hydrant rentals would be considered.

BANQUET FOR COMMITTEE

Membership Hustlers of Commercial Club Celebrate Their Success.

Members of the teams that have been working during the past week for an increase in the membership of the Commercial club were the recipients of a banquet at the clubrooms last evening.

The ten teams who have broken previous records in adding to the list of club members gathered around the festive board and listened to talks.

Maj. H. V. Eva said that the work of the teams was characteristic of the awakening of Duluth, and that the future of the city would keep pace with the awakened civic spirit of its citizens.

R. B. Knox, president of the club, presided, and opened the list of addresses by declaring that the members were deserving of the sincere thanks of every club member. Mr. Knox, upon behalf of the club, earnestly thanked every member of the ten teams.

G. Roy Hall of the traffic commission told those present that Duluth was one of the greatest cities of opportunity on the North American continent, and that its future was assured.

A. C. Klenly, chairman of the membership committee, spoke for the members of that body, thanking them for the hardy and wholly unselfish labor they gave to the club.

Hans Haroldson, R. B. Lewis, O. E. Amsbuechler and several others spoke during the course of the evening.

GIRLS WANTED FOR MANY POSITIONS

Miss Agnes Atwood, in charge of the women's department of the Duluth branch of the Minnesota state free employment bureau, still is complaining that girls are scarce here and that positions are plentiful.

Girls doing domestic work here can get from $25 to $35 per month, with board and rooms, in the best homes in the city.

The domestic maid problem is getting serious in Duluth homes and the labor market is going up in that respect.

Men also are scarce at present, owing to the activity in the harvest fields but it is expected that when the grain is all in there will be plenty of men here for the winter's work.

SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY IS POLICE PROBLEM.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 16.—Richard Tuclowfsky, aged 6, recognized as the most abnormal youngster the city has ever known, is again in the toils of the police. The youthful bandit added to his long police record with an attempt to rob a limousine standing in front of the Stephen Bull residence. He procured a gold watch, but was caught and the property recovered. A second watch was removed from the car of Clarence Richards, and this was also recovered.

"Dick" then went off on a new tack and sought to force an entrance into the flat of Chief of Police Baker, but was frustrated by the chief himself when he was apprised that some one was seking entrance.

The Elks' rooms next were visited and "Dick" got away with cigarettes and tobacco.

A short time ago the youngster was turned away from the industrial school because of his extreme youth.

POLICE RAID A ROOMING HOUSE

Yesterday afternoon Officers Lahti and Boland made a raid on the house at 526 West First street and arrested Samuel Axelson, 41 years old, on a charge of running a house of ill-fame. Alina Jarvinen, 28 years old, who was found in the house, was also arrested.

In police court, following the arrest, Axelson pleaded not guilty to the charge and his case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. He was released on payment of $100 bail. The Jervinen woman, who was arraigned on a charge of residing in a house of ill-fame, also pleaded not guilty and she will be tried before Judge Windom this afternoon. She was remanded back to jail in default of payment of $50 bail.

Axelson claims that he is conducting a respectable rooming house and denies that he is operating an illegitimate place.

The police are watching rooming houses in the downtown section and are making efforts to close those of unsavory character. A close watch is also being kept on hotels, according to the police.

COMPENSATION LAW HELPS WIDOW ONLY.

Boston, Sept. 16.—Only the widow is entitled to compensation under the workmen's compensation act for the death of the husband and father, according to a decision handed by the full bench of the state supreme court. By this ruling, children, except where their only parent is removed, are not to receive compensation.

The decision came in connection with the death of Stuart McNichol, a dock employe who was killed in an assault by Timothy McCarthy, who was found by the court to be in "an intoxicated frenzy of passion."

The industrial accident board ruled that the foreman should not have allowed McCarthy to work with other men, and that the widow and daughter were entitled to compensation. The case was then carried to the supreme court, which decided that only the widow should be compensated.

IS FOUND GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

Stans Nowak, 21 years old, added another conviction to his record this morning. After being out thirty minutes a jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court found the young man guilty of grand larceny, second degree.

Nowak has been convicted several times before of burglary and small thefts. His last offense was that of stealing a gun and a violin from the home of Fred Zurheida, near Highland park on April 29 last.

Nowak's defense consisted of an absolute denial of the testimony of all of the state's witnesses. He was the only witness in his own behalf. Walter Gonska appeared as his attorney and Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, prosecuted the case.

Nowak, a number of years ago, was sent to the Red Wing training school. He broke his parole from that institution on two occasions.

FOUR ON TRIAL FOR ROBBERY

John Milek, Frank Longo, Carl Cusciotta and Sam Petro, four young men who were indicted by the grand jury on a charge of robbery in the first degree and accused of having robbed Harry H. Bishop of $14 near Fourteenth avenue west and Third street about 11:30 o'clock Saturday evening, Aug. 23, were brought to trial in district court this afternoon.

OVER 10,000 MEN ON STRIKE IN DUBLIN

Poorer Classes Suffer Severely From Rise in Food Prices.

Dublin, Sept. 16.—More than 10,000 men have joined in the strike movement started by the transport workers here, and the building and other trades are greatly affected. It is estimated by the leaders that unless peace between the men and the employers is soon reached 6,000 more men will be thrown out of work, as their labor depends on that of the men who have struck already.

There is considerable suffering among the poorer classes, both in the Irish capital and in other towns of the south of Ireland, owing to the rise in the prices of foodstuff brought about by lack of transportation facilities.

Strike Spreads to Liverpool.

PROGRESSING WITH TARIFF

Conferees Clear Away Wool and Paper Duty Tangles.

Thomas of Colorado Defends the Sugar Schedule.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Most of the knotty problems in the wool and paper schedules were disposed of yesterday by the tariff conferees, a good start was made on the sundries schedule.

One of the important agreements of the day occurred when the senate conferees receded from the amendment to free list the cheaper grades of woolen blankets, and accepted the house paragraph making them dutiable at 25 per cent ad valorem. The paragraph on woolen yarns was compromised by splitting almost equally the difference between the two houses, the house having voted a 20 per cent and the senate a 15 per cent duty. Similar treatment was given the duty on tops, made dutiable by the house at 15 per cent duty and by the senate at 5 per cent.

Slight changes were made in the senate's rates on woolen stockings, and the house paragraph on Oriental was adopted. Angora goat and mohair were passed over, the conferees not being able to agree.

Reduce Paper Rates.

Slight reductions were made in the senate rates on paper. The only paragraph in this schedule not disposed of was that dealing with picture cards and booklets, lithographically printed, which was passed by for further consideration.

A delay was caused by a speech in support of the tariff in the senate by Senator Thomas of Colorado, a Democratic member of the finance committee. The senator had prepared his speech for delivery during the tariff debate, but was prevailed upon to withhold it so that passage of the bill might not be delayed. He warmly defended the sugar schedule, and declared that much of the agitation against free sugar by the beet sugar interests was based on a misapprehension.

Overcapitalization of corporations and discriminatory freight rates were denounced by the speaker as causes of the high cost of living. He characterized the watering of stock as legalized robbery, and declared if it were necessary to get equitable freight rates, he favored government ownership of railroads.

FOUR WILL DIVIDE SULLIVAN'S ESTATE.

New York, Sept. 6.—Congressman "Big Tim" Sullivan's wealth will be shared equally by his brothers and sisters. His will, filed for probate today, divides the property among Mrs. Margaret Hickey, Mrs. Mary Ann Summers, Patrick H. Sullivan and Lawrence Mulligan, a half brother.

At one time the Tammany leader was said to be worth more than $2,000,000. Since his illness it is said that his estate had dwindled.

PRIEST'S PARENTS CALL HIM ABNORMAL

Several Relatives Are Crazy and Four Were Suicides.

Aschaffenburg, Germany, Sept. 16.—The parents of the Rev. Johannes Schmidt, confessed murderer of Anna Aumuller, declared today that the young priest is hereditarily abnormal. Several members of the family are confined in asylums for the demented and there have been four suicides in the family within five years.

The letters sent home by the young priest are said by his relatives to be written in a confused and hazy style.

Local physicians consider that the murderer's perverted instincts were accentuated by forced study.

It is known that he resorted to forged certificates, even during his boyhood, and by this means was enabled to enter the classical high school at Mainz, where he was educated. He was arrested and charged with the offense, but released by the court as weak minded and irresponsible.

FINNISH GIANT IS DEAD AT HANCOCK

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Mollanen, the Finnish giant, said to be the largest man in the United States, being 7 feet 8 inches tall and 365 pounds in weight, died this morning in a Hancock hospital at the age of 28 years. "Big Louis" formerly traveled with Ringling Bros.' circus, but of late years has been farming between here and Hancock.

DEVILS LAKE DEPOT ROBBED OF $490

Two Hold-up Men Cover Operator and Take G. N. Money.

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern depot here was robbed of $490 at 3 o'clock this morning by two men. One ordered Operator Ford to turn over the cash drawer at the point of a revolver, while the other stood with a revolver at the office door. The operator was unarmed, so did their bidding.

The men were unmasked and had been hanging about the depot all the evening. Several suspects were arrested, but none answered the description.

"GENTLE" HORSE CAUSE OF SUIT

On June 20 last, Frank Christofferson wanted to buy a horse and thereby hangs a tale.

An ordinary horse would not do. The animal which he would purchase must qualify as being kind and gentle and must come with the best of recommendations.

Mr. Christofferson met Policeman Harry Hood, and made known his wants. Mr. Hood stated that he had such an animal and suggested a dicker.

Christofferson claims that Hood told him that the equine was gentle and that it would not shy at an automobile or a street car and was very even tempered.

Ruth Christofferson, a 17-year-old daughter, took out the prospective purchase for a drive. The animal proved too spirited for her to handle and after shying at a motorcycle ran into a tree and dumped Miss Ruth out unceremoniously.

She sustained a broken left arm and a number of bruises. In district court today, a lawsuit over the affair is being aired before Judge Dancer and a jury.

WANTS MONEY PAID FOR PITCHER RETURNED

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Having completed the necessary work in connection with the drafting of players by major league clubs from minor leagues, the national baseball commission today turned its attention to routine matter. One of the cases to come before the commission is that of "Cy" Morgan, who was sold to Cincinnati by Kansas City when it is alleged his arm was lame and he was utterly unfit for work. The price agreed upon for Morgan was $10,000, half of which has already been paid. President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club, as soon as he heard of Morgan's alleged condition, held up the second payment and brought the case to the attention of the commission, with a view of obtaining a refund of the money already given for the player. President George Tebeau of the Kansas City club, will appear before the commission to defend his action in the case, and Morgan will also be heard by the commission.

At a conference between President Bassett of the Kitty league and President Read of the Ohio State league, an agreement was signed for a post-season series between the championship clubs of the two organizations. Paducah has the flag won in the Kitty league, while the winner in the Ohio State league has not as yet been decided. The proposed series will be commenced in Ohio State league territory on Sept. 23, two days after the season in that organization is over.

SOCIALISTS DEBATE GENERAL STRIKE IDEA

Method Finds Little Favor as Political Weapon.

Jena, Germany, Sept. 16.—The "general strike" as a political weapon in the way it was employed in April this year in Belgium and at earlier periods in France and Russia, was the subject of a warm and extended debate in the Socialists' convention here today. It found few friends as a measure for immediate use.

The debate was precipitated by the failure of the Socialists to gain substantially at the last elections for the Prussian diet, and the evident impossibility of their doing so under the existing conditions of the Prussian franchise.

The radical section demanded today that the Germans should start a fight on similar lines to those which were successful in Belgium. A resolution, introduced by the central committee, approved "in principle" of such a step, but held that the "time is not ripe for it."

BLAMES THREE FOR NEW HAVEN WRECK

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 16.—Three employes of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad are held by Coroner Mix to be criminally responsible for the disastrous wreck at North Haven on Sept. 2, when the White Mountain express plunged through the second section of the standing Bar Harbor Express, exacting a toll of twenty-one lives. The coroner's finding was filed after he had conducted a "private" inquest.

Those held to be responsible are: Augustus B. Miller, engineer of the White Mountain express, and Bruce C. Adams and Charles H. Murray, conductor and flagman respectively of the Bar Harbor train.

The coroner neither blames nor absolves the New Haven road. He finds the signals were in perfect order, and "whether the banjo signals are obsolete or not, the accident could have been prevented if the company's rules had not been violated."

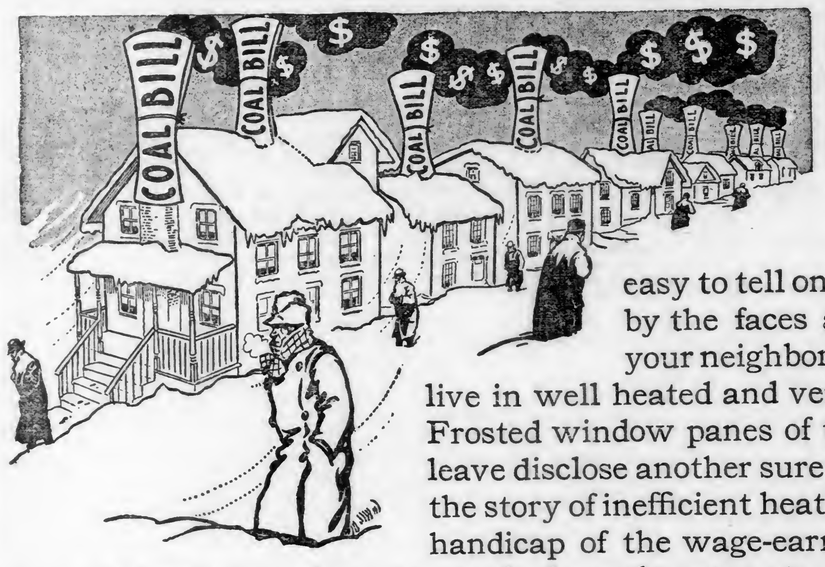

He declares the number of violations of rules by employes "makes a sorry record."

Engineer Miller was arrested on a bench warrant and pleaded not guilty before the superior court. Bench warrants have been issued for Adams and Murray.

For Stealing $10.

Darish Rosi, charged with having stolen a $10 bill from Anoton Makacek while the two were drinking together in a Michigan street saloon on Aug. 9 last, was brought to trial before Judge Ensign and a jury in district court this afternoon. Rosi, it is claimed, snatched the money from Makacek's hands, and made a dash for open air. He was caught by an officer on First street. James A. Wharton is appearing as his attorney and Harry Faber White, third assistant county attorney, is representing the state.

The heating question must soon be faced in every home. It is usually easy to tell on bitter cold days by the faces and bearings of your neighbors which of them live in well heated and ventilated houses. Frosted window panes of the houses they leave disclose another sure tell-tale story—the story of inefficient heating—the serious handicap of the wage-earner in the business competition where so much depends upon starting the day in physical comfort—well warmed and ventilated bedroom, bathroom, breakfast room, and a warm hall in which to say good-bye.

NEW JERSEY HAS A SINGING POLICEMAN

E. J. McNAMARA.

Duluth has produced a "Caruso of the Coal Yard" and now New Jersey comes to the fore with a singing policeman. He is Edward J. McNamara of Paterson and he was discovered by Mme. Schumann-Heink. She heard of him and made inquiries. She found that he had a powerful tenor voice which was much admired in Paterson musical circles but he had always refused to leave the police force for the purpose of cultivating it because he had to support his father and mother. Mme. Schumann-Heink thereupon made him an offer to go on the road with her in concert and he accepted.

WALKING AROUND THE WORLD WEARING WOODEN SHOES OF DUTCH PEASANTS

Has Tramped More Than 45,000 Miles in Six Years.

Lieut. Herbert P. Nordwall, a former officer of the Dutch army, after walking over the stretches of this big world for a distance of 45,000 miles, is in Duluth.

Most of this prodigious feat was accomplished with the aid of wooden shoes, for the former army man travels in the shoes often worn by the peasantry of his native land.

Striding through the streets of Duluth today, this strange man from a strange and far distant country created a unique impression. The lieutenant is dressed in the costume of a peasant. He indeed looks as if he might be somewhat puzzled by the ornate civilization of this land, and was longing earnestly for one of the dykes and queer, funny windmills of his own home, some few thousands of weary miles across the seas.

On Feb. 22, 1907, the lieutenant started on his first globe-circling journey. During the course of the years he has visited the Dutch East Indies, China, Spain, Egypt, Greece, Russia, the Klondike, Canada—and in fact every country of the world.

He set out like the knights of old in diligent search of adventure and it is doubtful if this hardy officer of the little country packed in between the seas could have encountered more exciting hazards than those that have been woven into the fabric of his experiences.

Imprisoned in Turkey.

In Syria he was cast into a Turkish military prison and charged with being a spy in the bizzare disguise of a Holland peasant. Through the intercession of the Dutch consul he was freed from durance vile and set afoot in Greece.

During his travels through Spain the hardy traveler was set upon by bandits and barely escaped with his life, after being stripped of everything of any value.

While exploring the rivers of the Klondike the lieutenant's canoe was capsized and he was swept over one of the most treacherous rapids in all of the frozen north. It was only by a miracle that he escaped with his life.

In several of the larger of the American cities Lieut. Nordwall has been arrested and charged with blocking the traffic. So unique and unusual is his appearance that it is not strange that in the streets that hum with the tread of traffic he has arrested progress.

Sister Joins Him.

Miss Wilhelmina, the 18-year-old sister of the lieutenant, joined him on his second trip around the world, some time ago. She was attending school in England when the wanderlust took possession of her. She came on to New York and joined her adventurous brother there, and since that time has been his constant companion on the miles of country through which they have passed.

The young woman is ill at the present time and did not make the trip to Duluth. She is resting in St. Paul and will join the lieutenant in Winnipeg, to which city he is headed at the present time.

Lieut. Nordwall stated today that there are many modes of viewing the world. He believes that he has adopted the most thorough and satisfactory for he has seen some of the nooks and crannies of this old crust that have never been even explored by the first-class traveler, and he believes that he will have a more intimate knowledge of the world, its peoples and the various countries hereof upon the consolidation of his trip than most of those who employ the railroad and steamship to traverse this big mundane sphere that we live upon.

LIEUT. HERBERT P. NORDWALL AND SISTER, WILHELMINA.

102 YEARS YOUNG

MRS. MARY A. SIMPSON.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

which only proves our oft repeated contention that it "makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous."

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey a great many years, and I find it gives me great strength and a good appetite. I am now 102 years old and in very good health for one of my years."—Mrs. Mary A. Simpson, 833 De Graw St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Many men and women who have passed four-score years and even the century mark tell the same story as Mrs. Simpson about what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done toward renewing their youth and keeping them vigorous, hale and hearty and in possession of all their faculties. As a leading doctor says, the secret of the whole thing is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, if taken as prescribed, assists in driving out disease germs, invigorates the brain, enriches blood, quickens the circulation, brings restful sleep and prevents decay and old age.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure and get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold IN SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice, both sent free.

HEARD in the HOTEL LOBBIES

"I attended the mass meeting on the Hicken ordinance last night," said the Old Chairwarmer. "There is one thing that I have always noticed about mass meetings, no matter what the occasion for the meeting might be. It always gives the choir a chance. Last night there was a big choir, ably led by a woman director, and they sang the 'Star Spangled Banner.' They didn't sing only the first stanza. Not on your life. They sang the whole thing. It was good at that."

"Who said Duluth was a cold city?" inquired a man in one of the hotels this morning. "I just came in on one of the lake boats and this is about the finest weather I have run up against for some time. I would like to get about 365 days of this every year. If this is the 'winter' weather they talk about in the South I am going to move up here."

* * *

"I tell you it can't be done," said a clerk at the St. Louis hotel.

"Well, I don't see why, this is not Sunday," said the thirsty guest.

"No, but it is election day and there is nothing doing before 5 o'clock tomorrow morning," answered the clerk.

"Well, I'm going back to bed. Leave a call for me for 5 o'clock tomorrow morning," yawned the guest.

"No, Paris is not the naughty, naughty city that some people say it is," said L. C. Lafante of Paris, France, who was at the Spalding hotel yesterday.

"The tales told by American travelers about the naughty cafes in Paris are exaggerated, I should say. Take a rich young man, traveling with all the money he wants to spend, and he is apt to be looking for excitement. In Paris he can find it, but he does not have to leave New York to find the same kind of excitement. I believe that I would go all the way from Paris to New York if I wanted to have a real wild time of it.

"It strikes me that there are more naughty cafes in the American metropolis than there are in all the cities of Europe put together. Give any hair-brained youth a million dollars and turn him loose in a large city and it is a safe bet that he will succeed in making a first-class fool out of himself in short order, also get rid of a large part of his money. Then he will return to the peace and quiet of New York and tell of what an awful place he got into abroad."

REFORMATORY BOYS CHARGE CRUELTY

Twelve Make Complaint in Illinois State Institution.

Pontias, Ill., Sept. 16.—Twelve boys, inmates of the Illinois state reformatory, made accusations of cruelty in testimony yesterday before the board of managers of the institution. Their stories were identical as to detail and were said to be without precedent in penal institutions of the state.

Eleven of the boys said they had been sent from Chicago three weeks ago; that they had been ordered to the reformatory hospital the next morning and had been beaten with fists by J. A. Marshall, for a dozen years a reformatory physician, and that they had been whipped with a rubber hose. Each of the boys said that the beatings had been without cause and that the punishment had been administered without warning.

Dr. Marshall denied the charge in a statement.

Much-Wanted Man.

George Harrison, who escaped from the county jail on Aug. 15, pending the action of the September grand jury on a charge of embezzlement, is a much wanted man, according to a communication received yesterday by Chief Troyer.

W. T. Webb, chief parole officer of the Washington state reformatory, Monroe, Wash., in a communication to the local police head, states that Harrison is wanted for violating parole and also on a charge of violating the Mann white slave law. The letter states that Harrison also goes by the name of C. W. Bowman and Harry Hatch.

MUST PAY FOR ENGINE.

The Harris Machinery Company of Minneapolis will recover $825 from Zalk & Josephs, doing business in Duluth under the firm name of the Duluth Machinery company, according to findings and order for judgment made today by District Judge Cant.

The plaintiff concern sold the Duluth company an engine. The defendants admitted receiving it but claimed that it was not up to their requirements and refused to pay for it. The court holds that the sale was an unconditional one and orders judgment in favor of the plaintiff. The defendant company had a counterclaim for damages.

(From Pilgrim Magazine.)

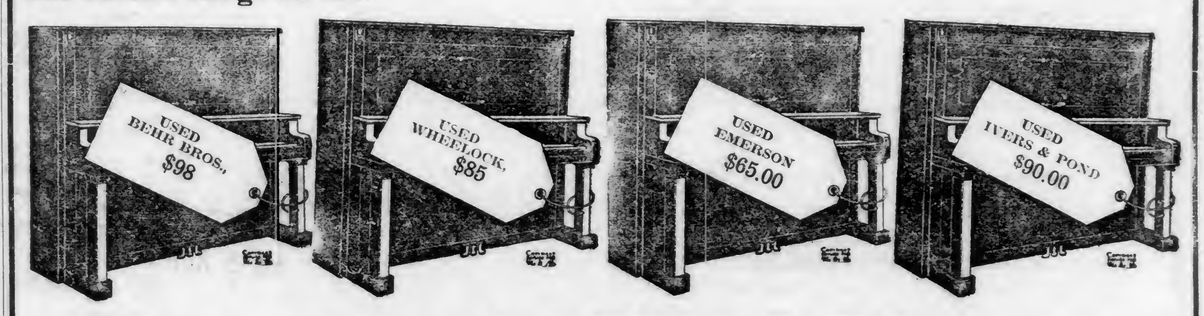

A thin, scraggy neck is due to shrinkage of the muscles and fatty tissues, owing to loss of proper circulation and nutrition. The thing to do is to supply that which is lost. The best way to bring a good supply of nourishing blood to the flabby tissues is by applying parafied plastoid jelly (procurable at any drugstore). Spread liberally over the throat, in the hollows, behind the ears and back on both sides to where the hair begins. Also smear it under and well up over the chin, that the jelly when dry may form a better support for the loose tissues. Keep this on at least fifteen minutes, then remove with plain water.

The tightening and solidifying effect is remarkable, and the increased circulation, shown by the healthy, pink flush, tells you the results are not entirely of a temporary nature. Use this harmless parafied plastoid jelly three times a week and you'll be immensely pleased with the steady improvement. Adv.

TO THE MUSIC FOLLOWING PUBLIC OF DULUTH AND THE NORTHWEST:

At a recent session of the legislature of the great state of Minnesota there was passed a law which is now in effect, prohibiting fake advertising—making it a felony if convicted, and the parties are subjected to a heavy fine. The fake piano sales in the past were many, in fact so numerous that it became necessary to pass a law prohibiting sales of this nature. We have sold a great many pianos to purchasers who have stated they had called at certain piano houses to investigate bargains offered and were either told they had been sold or shown a wreck of some former piano that no one would have. Possibly you have been fooled in this manner yourself when investigating some piano sale. The Kreidler Piano company has been in Duluth for a good many years and we take pleasure in stating and placing ourselves on record (in the face of the recent laws passed) that no one will be disappointed at our store, 108 East Superior street. You will find honest pianos at honest prices and each and every instrument on sale that we advertise according to the terms specified.—KREIDLER PIANO COMPANY.

NORTH DAKOTA GETS SITE FOR BUILDING

Oklahoma Will Sell Bricks for the Exposition Structure.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 16.—Oklahoma and North Dakota jointly took title today to the sites on which they will erect state pavilions at the Panama-Pacific International exposition in 1915. North Dakota plans to reproduce its state capitol.

The Oklahoma pavilion will be built of 100,000 bricks, sold at $5 apiece and each stamped with the name of the purchaser. When the exposition has been closed the bricks will be returned to Oklahoma for the construction of a schoolhouse intended to stand as an example of the civic pride of the state.

RAIN HINDERS PERRY EXERCISES

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Rain interfered with the success of plans for the Perry centennial celebration here today. The presentation of flags to 30,000 school children went on, however, and it was expected that a children's pageant scheduled for late in the afternoon, would be staged.

Tonight there will be an illuminated motorboat parade in the harbor, and musical programs and patriotic addresses in all the city parks.

THREE WOULD BE HOST TO THE I. O. O. F.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Discussion of the next meeting place for the sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which began its eighty-ninth annual session here yesterday, is being engaged in by the delegates. Washington, D. C., Atlantic City, N. J., and Hot Springs, Ark., are contenders for the 1914 convention.

Meetings of the various branches of the order were held this morning, as was also a special session of the Minnesota grand lodge.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon a competitive prize drill was to have taken place by Canton Calgary, No. 2, of Calgary, Alta., at the Light Guard armory. This was to have been followed by a meeting of the grand secretaries and grand scribes at the hall of a local lodge.

At a late session last night the resolution changing the age limit for admission to the order, from 21 to 18 years, was indefinitely postponed. The question is now settled so far as this year's convention is concerned.

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Hilma Delfor, 29 years old, was yesterday afternoon again arrested on a charge of selling liquor without a license. She pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court and her case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. Bail was fixed at $100.

Mrs. Delfor lives at 426 Fourth avenue west and has been arrested before on the same charge. Evidence against her was secured by Arthur Hoffman, a special officer of the police department.

GOOD ROADS TO RANGE CITIES

Plans Will Be Discussed at Meeting in Duluth Friday.

When the Rotary club good roads committee, one from the Commercial club and others from range cities meet on Friday night, a plan to be submitted to the county commissioners for the improvement and establishment of good roads between Duluth and the range cities, and the establishment of a permanent maintenance fund will be submitted.

This was determined at a meeting held yesterday at the Spalding hotel by sixty members of the Rotary club. It is also planned by the Rotarians to have the city make provision to light the Northern Pacific dock No. 4 and the viaduct leading from it up to Superior street brightly lighted each summer hereafter during the tourist season.

A number of other reports were made to the club yesterday. One, from the committee on cleaning and brightening the city, was to the effect that Mayor Prince has declared himself with the club heartily in the matter of lighting and that H. G. Inman, harbor master, is also enthusiastic about it; also that at a meeting with commissioners Merritt and Murchison the latter assured the committee that the lighting would be attended to.

The club is urged to name delegates to the third American road congress which will be held at Detroit, Mich., during the week of Sept. 29, and this will likely be done.

DULUTH BOY IS NOW A PROFESSOR

Frank G. Kane Heads Department in University of Washington.

Frank G. Kane, who began his newspaper career in Duluth, is here from Detroit, Mich., for a few days to visit his father, Frank Kane of 423 North Sixteenth avenue east. Mr. Kane is on his way to Seattle, Wash., to take a position as professor at the head of the department of journalism, in the University of Washington in which he was assistant professor some years ago.

Mr. Kane was one of the star pupils of the Duluth Central high school and after his graduation from the University of Michigan, re-entered the newspaper business for some time, in which he had brilliantly served his apprenticeship between high school and college; but was called to an assistant professorship at the Washington university. Thring of that he went to Detroit where he became one of the editorial writers of the News of that city and has been there ever since. He has now been offered the charge of the department in the Washington university in which he was formerly assistant and is on his way West to take his new position.

denly, and when the hour arrived, a brilliant moon had broken through the clouds. Rockets began to soar from every quarter of the city, and for hours the air was filled with bursting fireworks. The palace, the cathedral and the municipal palace, surrounding the big square and park, were outlined in electric lights. Along San Francisco avenue and Cinco De Mayo avenue, the buildings were ablaze and were gorgeous with flags and bunting.

Preceding the "grito," President and Signora Huerta gave an elaborate reception in the hall of the palace, which was attended by government officials, members of the diplomatic corps and friends of the executive and his wife.

Today the celebration is on in earnest. A monster parade will be the feature, with speech making and general festivities as accessories.

Forming Mexican I. W. W.

Carrizzo Springs, Tex., Sept. 16.—That Emiliano Zapata, whose activity as a revolutionary leader heretofore has been confined to the southern states of Mexico, is perfecting a nation-wide organization with doctrines similar to those of the Industrial Workers of the World, is the assertion of "Barney" Cline, alleged leader of a band of "gun-runners" in jail here charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Ortiz of Dimit county, Texas. Ortiz was taken prisoner by the band which he intercepted attempting to smuggle ammunition into Mexico. He later was killed. The band was arrested by a detachment of United States troops.

Cline made his statement to District Attorney Vallas here. He exhibited a membership in the Industrial Workers of the World, and a letter purporting to be from Jay Smith, financial secretary of the organization, which commended him for his work in a strike at Menardsville, La.

Cline also had papers giving the equal right of all men to property in accordance with their needs and desires. The names of several of the prisoners were attached to promise to fight "for the liberty of Mexicans, for land and liberty."

All fourteen prisoners were indicted in county court here yesterday, charged with murder for killing Candelario Ortiz. Trial was set for Thursday.

Cline, the American, has offered to turn state's evidence. Cline claimed there is an underground railway for what he calls "gun running" from San Antonio through Knoppa and Carrizzo Springs, Texas, to the Mexican border. Federal officers have begun investigation of his revelations, which implicate several Americans. Two merchants here are in jail charged with smuggling.

Carranza Changes Plans.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Sept. 16.—An entire change of program of Constitutionalists is announced by Gen. Jesus Carranza, brother of the Constitutionalist leader. He said their provisional capital probably would be moved from Piedras Negras to Hermissollo, Sonora. Governor Carranza is in Sonora. The leader's brother said political developments in the last two weeks were responsible for this change, and that actions of Gen. Felix Diaz and Gen. Mondragon have further complicated the political outlook.

The Coahuila Constitutionalist army is being remobilized to meet an advance by the Federal generals, Navarrette and Maas.

Americans Reach Saltillo.

Laredo, Tex., Sept. 16.—American refugees from Torreon, Mexico, for whose safety fears have been expressed during their overland journey to Saltillo, reached the latter place in safety yesterday, according to official advices received at Mexican federal headquarters. Reports that they were molested on the way by Constitutionalists were declared unfounded. The party numbered about 100 persons, including many women and children.

THAW WINS VICTORY

sion of the hearing, Judge Aldrich said that search of the statutes had failed to reveal to him any law under which a man in Thaw's position, a lunatic charged with a crime, could be extradited.

Thaw remained in the smoking car during the trip from Colebrook. Crowds greeted him at every station. Sitting by an open window, he made it a point to lean out and talk with the curious.

Had Select Audience.

The little courtroom began to fill up shortly after 10 o'clock. The general public was not admitted, but perhaps 100 of the select friends of court attendants and the like, managed to gain admittance. Outside the building a crowd, in which women predominated, jammed the street from curb to curb. They did not get a glimpse of Thaw, for his quarters were in the rear of the building.

Jerome came in a few minutes before 11 and then the Thaw lawyers, Moses H. Grossman and L. J. Vorhaus of New York city, ex-Governor Stone of Pennsylvania and Merrill Shurtleff of Colebrook.

Women Tensely Interested.

The fugitive closed his eyes, rested his cheek on his hand and did not give the spectators a glance. A girl with blue eyes, cheeks flushed, stood on tiptoe for five minutes gazing raptly at the back of his head.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 16.—Harry K. Thaw, with his custodians and train of contending lawyers, left at 6:18 o'clock this morning for Littleton, N. H., to appear in the United States district court in the habeas corpus proceedings brought to checkmate any attempt to rush him back to New York.

Thaw's attorneys had obtained this writ as a protection in case Governor Felker signed a warrant granting the fugitive's extradition.

Thaw rose earlier than at any time since his escape from the Matteawan asylum on Aug. 17. Early breakfast was ordered for all last night, and the Thaw followers, newspaper men, lawyers, guards, telegraph operators and the persistently curious trooped toward the Maine Central railroad station shortly after sunup to board the train.

Thaw After Continuance.

The chief lawyers for Thaw before Judge Aldrich were Moses H. Grossman and L. J. Vorhaus of New York city. Jerome was sole counsel for the state of New York. He was prepared to bitterly resist the move of the Thaw lawyers to obtain a continuance of the writ, on the ground that it was not a bona fide writ of habeas corpus but an emergency measure designed to meet possible developments after the extradition hearing at Concord, tentatively set for Wednesday.

Thaw's lawyers, on the other hand, said they would contend that while they did not seek their client's immediate release, they desired the court's protection in view of the fact that the New Hampshire statutes afforded them no recourse to the courts once the governor had granted extradition.

Air Was Chilly.

Frost fell in Colebrook last night, and it was a shivering party that gathered at the railroad station. Thaw was silent, but joyful at the prospect of appearing in a Federal court for the first time in his career. He was in the joint custody of Sheriff Drew of Coos county and United States Marshal E. P. Nute.

Jerome's Captor Arrested.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 16.—The Canticook, Que., constable who arrested William T. Jerome there on a charge of gambling has himself been "detained" by Chief of Police Kelly of Colebrook, pending the arrival of the United States immigration inspector. It was alleged that he assisted paupers to cross the border, in violation of the Federal immigration law.

Hope to Get Thaw Back.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 16.—Harry K. Thaw's lawyers have not given up hope of bringing him back to the Dominion. T. K. Laflamme, one of their number, announced in court that he and his associates still expected to ask the appeal court of Quebec for a decision on the constitutionality of the immigration act invoked when Thaw was hustled across the Canadian border into Vermont. If they succeeded in having the law declared invalid, they would make a formal demand through the proper channels, Laflamme said, for Thaw's return to Canada.

Six of Thaw's legal staff appeared today before the appeals court to see what Chief Justice Archambault and his associates would do to the immigration officers for disobeying the court's writ of habeas corpus when Thaw was suddenly deported. To their disappointment the court, instead of meting out summary punishment, adjourned the proceedings until Thursday.

Democratic "noes" quickly disposed of the numerous efforts of Republicans and Progressives to alter the provisions of the measure as agreed on by the Democratic caucus. Not a single material amendment was voted into the bill.

By last night nearly half of the bill had been read. House leaders thought they might be able to finish some time Wednesday.

The debate bristled with charges of "gag law" and "caucus rule" from the minority, with occasional sympathetic replies from the Democratic side, but when the votes were needed the line held firm behind Chairman Glass of the banking and currency committee.

Murdock in Vain Pleh.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming and Progressive Leader Murdock devoted considerable time to pleading with the Democrats to "break the shackles" and desert the caucus pledge. Mr. Mondell became involved in a spirited controversy with Representative Stanley of Kentucky, who had something to say about Republican caucus action.

Representative Donovan, Democrat, of Connecticut, joined with Representative Murdock in one of his attacks, declaring that the leaders had abandoned the currency bill to the new members of the house.

"Not more than half a quorum is here," he shouted. "They draw their pay regularly and abandon the work attached to their positions. This is nothing more than stealing."

"What could they do if they were here?" demanded Representative Murdock. "The caucus has foreclosed all action on this bill."

Lindbergh in Action.

A rapid fire of amendments was directed by the minority against the section of the bill providing that national banks must subscribe a sum equal to 20 per cent of their capital in the Federal reserve bank in their district. Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota endeavored to make the subscription 10 per cent of capital and surplus and allow the banks 120 days in which to pay one-half of their subscriptions. Under this amendment the Federal reserve banks would have been allowed to begin business as soon as the full $3,000,000 capital had been subscribed, without waiting for full payment. The amendment, after a vigorous discussion, was voted down, 78 to 29. Several similar amendments were defeated.

An attempt was made to write into the bill a provision forbidding officers or directors in national banks from holding similar places in other national banks or in any other financial institutions. The Democrats stood by the caucus and the amendment was rejected 77 to 44.

Another flood of amendments designed to curtail the power of the Federal reserve agents named by the bill as the chairman of the board of directors and the representative of the Federal reserve board in each Federal reserve bank, also was defeated.

A few changes in phraseology accepted by Chairman Glass were the only amendments adopted.

o'clock. Two of the judges failed to put in an appearance and those present refused to allow any votes to be cast. The tangle was straightened out after Commissioner William A. Hicken, father of the ordinance, visited the precinct in person, securing the necessary additional judges. Thirty-two votes were then cast in the first half hour.

Before 9 o'clock 110 votes had been cast at Lakeside and 78 at Lester Park. In the fifth precinct of the First ward, one of the largest in the city, over 200 votes had been cast in the first two hours.

In the first precinct of the Seventh ward 160 votes were cast by the middle of the forenoon. Before noon 90 had been cast in the second precinct of the Second ward, 150 in the fourth precinct of the Second ward, 60 in the third precinct of the Third ward, 88 in the first precinct of the Eighth ward, 74 in the sixth precinct of the Seventh ward and 150 in the sixth precinct of the First ward.

The advocates of the ordinance are keeping close watch of the polls. Not only have watchers been stationed at the various polling places but members of the campaign committee have been traveling to the various precincts in an automobile to keep a general check on the situation. No attempts at illegal voting were reported and the conditions were found to be quiet throughout the city.

FATHER SCHMIDT'S ARREST IS MEANS OF BARING NEST OF CRIME

as a material witness the maid employed at his dental office. She said she was Bertha Zech, and protested with sobs that she knew nothing of the crime of which her employer was suspected. The police, busy with Muret, had found little time to ply her with questions this morning, but expected to pry from her during the day whatever she might know concerning the counterfeiting operations.

Suspect Him of Murder.

With Muret locked up, detectives set about searching his office. There they found, in addition to such equipment as a dentist uses in practice, a revolver and all kinds of obstetrical instruments, several surgicals and bone forceps. The finding of these instruments, coupled with the fact that Muret and Schmidt had been cronies for some months, caused the detectives to press with renewed vigor the search for something which might directly connect the dentist with the murder of Anna Aumuller.

A strong physical resemblance between Muret and Schmidt led the detectives to question the dentist as to his possible relationship to the priest. Muret claimed there was none. Inspector Farout, in charge of the detective bureau, was of a different mind, saying he thought them closely related.

The copper plate from which the spurious bills were struck was made, in the opinion of detectives, by an expert engraver. The maker may have been the priest or the dentist, but detectives believe that it was neither. They sought such an expert today as an accomplice. The bills were imitations of $20 yellowbacks.

Blow to Insanity Claim.

Schmidt's pretentions to insanity, in the opinion of Coroner Feinberg, have been dealt a death blow by the baring of his record as a counterfeiter.

"Father Schmidt impresses me as an unscrupulous man with a moster mind," Feinberg said. "Think of a man who is able to qualify for the priesthood, who is a forger of great skill, mechanic enough to coin money, who might have dabbled in medicine, and who had the ability to commit the crime Schmidt is charged with! That indicates no ordinary mind."

William Flynn, chief of the United States secret service, reached New York today and began an investigation of Schmidt's and Muret's counterfeiting methods and plant.

Muret told the police he was born in Chicago. Framed in his office was a membership certificate, issued at Chicago, Dec. 23, 1911, by the Dental Protective association of the United States of America.

When arraigned today on the technical charge of having a pistol in his possession, Muret was held in $5,000 bail for trial. He waived examination.

Knew Aumuller Girl.

Inspector Faurot said he wanted it understood that Father Schmidt had made no confession implicating Muret.

Dr. Muret said he first met Schmidt when the priest visited him to have some dental work done, and it is alleged by the police that Muret told Inspector Faurot that Schmidt first broached the subject of counterfeiting.

"Does Muret, or Miller, admit knowing the Aumuller girl?" Inspector Faurot was asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Have you any evidence that tends to show that Muret, or Miller, visited the Bradhurst avenue home with Father Schmidt and the Aumuller girl?"

"I won't go into that," was all the inspector would say.

Dr. Muret is 31 years old and was born in Chicago.

The police say that Father Schmidt was often seen in the apartments in West One Hundred Thirty-fourth street with Dr. Muret. The agent of the flat is also said to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment with Father Schmidt.

Saw Mattress Burned.

An important witness has been discovered, Inspector Faurot said, in a contractor who saw Schmidt carry the mattress to the vacant lot where it was burned.

A search of the lot where the mattress was destroyed resulted in the finding, among other things, of a bone thought to be from the head of a human being.

From Mainz, Germany, there came today to Monsignor Joseph F. Mooney, vicar general of the archdiocese of New York, a cablegram from the secretary of the bishop, which said that Schmidt had been declared insane there and suspended by the bishop.

The message read:

"Schmidt born at Aschaffenburg. Priest of diocese of Mainz. Ran away from Mainz because of attempted frauds; arrested by police. Declared insane by court and discharged. Suspended by bishop for acts and for presenting falsified document regarding studies he pretended to have made. Then left diocese."

In his cell Schmidt told and retold the story of his crime and how, after the woman was dead, he cut up the body with a knife and sank it, portion by portion, in the Hudson river from the stern of a ferry boat.

"The Lord told me to do it," or "St. Elizabeth, my patron, demanded the sacrifice," were the only reasons he gave for his deed, and he invariably added: "God, in His own time, will clear it up. God and Abraham know why I killed her."

Insanity His Defense.

Alphonse Koelble, Schmidt's attorney, indicated that insanity would be the defense at Schmidt's trial. The district attorney's assistants are preparing for a quick trial of Schmidt. They declare that Schmidt is a criminal, and not an insane man in the eyes of the law.

The portions of the body of Anna Aumuller in the morgue were identified by Anna Hirt, who formerly had served as a domestic with the dead girl. She also identified clothing and trinkets taken from the apartment where the murder was committed, as having belonged to the Aumuller woman.

VOLUNTEER ARMY OF 100,000 IN ULSTER

Force Will Support Provisional Government in Ireland.

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 16.—Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists, landed in Ireland today. The object of his visit, it was said, was to inspect a volunteer army which is being raised in Ulster to support the provisional government, which is to be brought into existence in case the home rule bill becomes law.

The Ulster army is said to be thoroughly organized and to have attained a strength of about 100,000 men. This number its leaders expect to double when recruiting has been completed.

Sir Edward intends to spend a week in Ulster. With several lieutenants, he will visit the various corps which have been formed by drilled men of the Unionist clubs and Orange lodges.

The climax of Sir Edward's visit will come on Saturday, when he has arranged to inspect the Belfast Unionist corps.

In the course of the week a number of private meetings of the Ulster Unionist council will take place to complete arrangements for the provisional government which it is the purpose eventually to establish. There seems to be little hope of a general conference between the various parties on the question of home rule.

APPEAL TO WILSON FOR MRS. PANKHURST.

New York, Sept. 16.—Considering that a telegram from Secretary of Labor Wilson, saying that if Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette, seeks admission to the United States, "her case will be handled in exactly the same way as any other alien seeking admission," is evasive, the Women's Political union has addressed a letter to President Wilson requesting for Mrs. Pankhurst the same treatment shown the Russian revolutionists. Mme. Breshkavitz and Count Tchaikovsky.

"They," the letter says, "were not subjected to any inquiry as to their acts in Russia or attitude toward the czar, and no English militants should be required to answer questions in regard to their attitude toward the English government."

Enlarge Electric Plant.

Alexander, N. D., Sept. 16.—Alexander is to have a larger electric light plant than originally planned. The committee to visit other towns made that recommendation after an investigation. They suggested a larger plant and that not less than a 30-horse power engine be secured and preferably a larger one.

FINAL APPEAL TO VOTERS AT BIG MASS MEETING

Speakers Attack Brewery Control and Cigar Stores in Saloon Fronts.

A final appeal to voters of Duluth to get out and vote for the Hicken ordinance today was made last night at a mass meeting in the Auditorium.

The hall was filled with supporters of the ordinance and the speakers were given rousing receptions.

Watson S. Moore opened the meeting with an explanation of the various sections of the ordinance, pointing out the reforms the ordinance proposed to bring about. He laid especial stress on the assertion that the ordinance would do away with control of the saloons by the breweries. He was greeted with applause when he told of the various reforms claimed for the ordinance but when he informed the audience that free lunch would be abolished there was a big silence until the humor of the American audience realized there had been no applause and a ripple of laughter went over the hall.

When Commissioner Hicken was introduced the audience gave him three cheers and a tiger. The cheering lasted fully a minute. Mr. Hicken declared that the old laws were not strict enough to control the liquor traffic now. He said that old weapons could not be used to fight new methods of business by the saloons.

Hit Music Business.

Mr. Hicken declared that the agitation against the ordinance was started by one man, the representative of a company that controls the mechanical musical instruments in the saloons.

"This man came to me," said Mr. Hicken, "and said he would drop his fight against the ordinance if the clause against the musical instruments was stricken out. I told him this could not be done. Then he got others interested in the fight and was helped by the brewers."

Mr. Hicken said that the cigar stands in front of saloons were instituted several years ago under a lax city administration and that they served as a blind for illicit liquor traffic. He declared that anyone could go into the saloons after hours and on Sundays, through the cigar stores.

In regard to the musical instruments in the saloons Mr. Hicken recited a story of a Duluth boy to show what effect they have.

"This boy went to the woods and came out with $60," said Mr. Hicken. "When he got off the train at the Union station he started to go home but he heard an old familiar air on a musical instrument in a saloon on Michigan street and he walked in. Three hours later we picked him up in the gutter, unconscious from liquor. He told us he never would have entered the saloon if he had not heard the music."

Mr. Hicken asked the audience to get out and support the ordinance today. He said they elected the commissioners and that now they ought to back them up in their work. He said that if the ordinance lost today he would go on doing the best he could without it.

Not Political Fight.

Bishop McGolrick, who followed Mr. Hicken, said he did not wish to take sides in any political fight but that this was not a political controversy. He declared it was a question that every Duluthian ought to interest himself in, regardless of his politics. The bishop gave a talk on temperance in general and the ordinance in particular. He cited the reports of the Humane society and various civic institutions to show the effect of the liquor habit on the downfall of man. He said that the fight for the ordinance was in the right direction and that he never was so glad of his right to vote as he was when he found it could do so much good in helping the passage of the ordinance.

Chester A. Congdon started off on a different tack when he arose to address the audience. He declared that he believed beer could be brewed and sold legally and decently but that when it was sold illegally he believed in destroying the traffic.

"We destroyed the oil trust for selling oil illegally," said Mr. Congdon, "and we have broken up railroad combinations because they violated the law. Why, then, should the breweries be allowed to go on and do business without respect to the law?"

A Necessary Tool.

Mr. Congdon urged that the people give this law to the commissioners that they might go on in their work. He said it was a tool that the commissioners needed and that they should have it. He said that as he had voted for the commissioners he did not question when they wanted a new law. He said he would give it to them if they wanted it, even if he never read the law. In explanation he gave the following illustration:

"If I had a man working for me, handling a certain project, and he wanted a certain tool, which he said would facilitate the work, I would give it to him without asking him why he wanted it. I put him there because I wanted him to conduct the work and I would leave it to him to decide on the tools to be used."

In regard to the stand taken by some of the Duluth business men on the ordinance Mr. Congdon was bitter. "I will speak for one wholesale house," he said, "and say that if it can not sell cigars without having them shield crime, it will cease to sell cigars at all. Every time a moral issue comes up there are business men that say: 'We are going to lose a dollar.' I say to them 'For God's sake lose it.'

"The real question in this ordinance is 'Shall the brewers make the laws for Duluth?' If a city can not prosper unless it allows the brewers to make its laws, let it cease to prosper. If we cannot make a living here unless vice rules let us move to some place where we can live without vice."

Judge Windom, although heartily supporting the and urging the passage of the ordinance put in a good word for the better class saloon keepers. He declared that there were a score of saloon keepers that would like to see the ordinance passed and that would like to see the worse element eliminated from the saloon business.

Brewery Control.

"The brewery control is not liked by the saloon men," said Judge Windom. "The saloon keepers under the control of the breweries are nothing more than slaves. The brewers take every cent they make in selling their product and the saloon keepers are obliged to resort to crime to make profit for themselves. The breweries even charge the men under their control more per barrel for the beer than they do the independent saloon men. And when one man is removed by the police because his tactics are too rough the brewery is ready the next morning with another crook and we have to learn his methods before we can catch him.

"A labor leader told me that in any one of the seven saloons near where I was talking to him, a man with $50 in his pocket would have no chance of getting away with it once he got inside. The man's drink would be doped and the bartender would have his money before anyone else got to the victim first. Then the man would come to several hours later in the gutter or some alley." This is not a fairy story. I know it to be absolutely true.

"With the passage of this ordinance every claw of the breweries will be clipped, along with the power of other evil interests."

Judge Windom took occasion to score the wholesale houses for their activity in the opposition to the ordinance. He said that the jingle of money ruled "across the railroad tracks" and that the men there were opposed to anything or any movement, civic or otherwise, that would take money out of their pockets. He said they feared that the next thing the people would demand was the abolition of the wholesale house control of grocery stores.

A. C. Rankin of Chicago, a temperance talker, also spoke in favor of the ordinance. He urged the people to get out and support the commissioner of public safety today.

A choir from several West end churches, led by Mrs. J. J. Daniels, sang several patriotic songs.

DAKOTA COLLEGES BEGIN NEW YEAR

Fargo Agricultural and Denominational Institutions Report Heavier Rolls.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Both the North Dakota Agricultural college and the Fargo college, a denominational institution, opened for class work today. The preliminary registration indicates increased attendance at each institution. There have been some changes and several additions to the faculties of the two colleges. President Creegan of the Fargo college is positive this will be the banner year of his institution, which has largely outgrown the denominational phases in which the college was founded and is now on a broader basis.

The agricultural college is attracting especial attention this year because of the increased interest in vocational education and special training. The fact that every graduate of the 1913 class has a good position seems to appeal to the new students. Two were selected by the better farming movement, two others have professorships in different state normals and a third has an assistant professorship. One heads a department in an industrial school, while several have similar positions in high schools in a half a dozen states. The graduates are in demand at good salaries immediately on receipt of their diplomas and this is an incentive to young men and women who wish to have an earning capacity immediately on graduation.

Another cause of increased attendance this year is the fact that the long-looked-for dairy building is being constructed. Because of the widespreading interest in dairying in this state many North Dakota boys and girls have gone to schools in other states for special training. With the completion of the building here the department will be as strong as any other and can educate the boys and girls of the state in this important industry.

President Worst reports a largely increased registration over this time last year.

WOULD CONDEMN LAKE SHORE PARK

Condemnation proceedings to acquire title to certain property in the Industrial division of Duluth facing the lake on Minnesota Point for city park purposes were instituted in district court yesterday by City Attorney Harvey Clapp.

The property is wanted by the city for the proposed lake shore park, and steps to acquire it were taken by the city attorney in accordance with a resolution which was passed by the city council on Aug. 25.

In all, 119 lots will be needed by the city. In its petition it states that it is informed that Thomas J. Davis is the owner of the entire parcel by an unrecorded quit claim deed.

The city asks the court for an order of the court appointing commissioners to appraise the value of the land to be taken.

ALASKA RAILROAD BILL UP ON DEC. 8.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Consideration early in the regular winter session of the bill to authorize the president to construct a government railroad in Alaska was assured today when the senate made the measure its "unfinished business" on and after Dec 8. This action followed numerous unsuccessful attempts by Senator Chamberlain to have a day set for taking up the bill.

ASSESSORS SEEK MORE TAXABLE PROPERTY.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—Dissatisfied with the moneys and credits assessments returned by the taxing officials of 290 districts in 61 counties of the state, the state tax commission today ordered reassessments of the item. A large increase of the $151,000 total for the state is expected to result from the assessment which is to be made by special assessors appointed by the commission.

FINAL ROAST FOR MULHALL

Emery Ends N. A. M. Defense Against Lobbyist's Charges.

Brands Former Employe "Utterly Unworthy of Belief."

Washington, Sept. 16.—The defense of the National Association of Manufacturers to the charges of a checkered and improper political career in Washington and elsewhere, made by its former "lobbyist," Martin M. Mulhall, was concluded last night by James A. Emery, chief agent of the association in the capital.

For nearly three hours Emery addressed the house lobby committee. He made a detailed denial of Mulhall's charges that the association packed congressional committees; that it rode roughshod over those members who opposed its legislative will; that it campaigned with frequency and at great expense to elect its favored congressional friends, and that it spent several hundred thousand dollars in "lobby work" through Mulhall himself.

In Impassioned Oratory.

In impassioned oratory Emery declared the association never tried to influence legislation improperly. He pointed to the testimony of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, before the committee, to show that the manufacturers merely opposed the ideas of labor-favoring legislation which Mr. Gompers and the unions campaigned vigorously to get from congress.

Referring to Mulhall himself, Emery surpassed in condemnation any of the public men who have taken the stand during the investigation to attack the lobbyist's remarkable story. "By Mulhall's own testimony against that of his letters, by the falsity of their contents proved by independent witnesses, by the deception, treachery and falsehood that underlies every relation of his life, he is utterly unworthy of belief," said Mr. Emery.

NEW OXYGEN WELDING PLANT

An oxygen factory and welding plant will be in operation in Duluth within a few days.

The Duluth Gas company, a subsidiary of the Northern Welding company of Minneapolis, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday. The new concern is organized to engage in the manufacture of oxygen gas for all purposes and to do welding and cutting of metals under the vulcan oxy-acetylene process.

The capital stock of the concern is $50,000 and is understood to be owned partly by Minneapolis interests. The officers of the company are: J. F. Dacey, Duluth, president; Frances J. Dacey of Duluth, vice president; J. W. Smith, Minneapolis, secretary and treasurer. These with C. E. Van Duzee of Minneapolis, are the incorporators.

J. W. Smith of the Northern Welding company of Minneapolis, one of the principal stockholders in the Duluth concern is a brother of E. A. Smith, West end druggist, who is also interested in the new venture.

The new plant will be housed in a concrete structure which has been erected near the Dacey boiler factory on Garfield avenue this summer. The new building is 30 by 80 feet and is now being equipped with the machinery.

The vulcan oxy-acetylene process of welding and cutting metals is a comparatively new one. It has been in use in Minneapolis for about two years. J. W. Smith of Minneapolis holds the patent rights for Minnesota and adjoining states.

WANT SUGAR STOCK TAKEN OFF 'CHANGE.

New York, Sept. 16.—The stockholders of the Federal Sugar Refining company have unanimously requested that the stock of the company be withdrawn from quotation on the New York Stock exchange. In a statement explaining this action, C. A. Spreckels, president of the corporation, said: "We think the step which has been taken is proper, inasmuch as our stock is not at all active on the exchange, and more important still, the detailed reports which the stock exchange asks us to make would divulge to our competitors the workings of our refinery. There have been no sales of either the common or preferred stock on the exchange for over a year, and during the last four years transactions have been less than 100 shares of each kind per year."

NEARLY 1,000 AT POLISH MEETING.

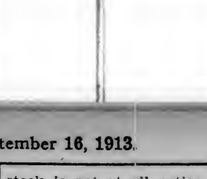

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—Nearly 1,000 delegates, representing 2,300 Polish societies in the United States, are attending the annual convention of the Polish National Alliance in America. It is said there are 1,000,000 members of the societies affiliated with the alliance. The plan for purchasing a vast acreage of land on which to colonize immigrants is one of the subjects to be discussed during the convention.

HAVEMEYER'S WILL FILED IN NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 16.—The will of the late William F. Havemeyer, one of the organizers of the American Refining company, filed yesterday for probate, leaves all but $5,000 of his fortune to his four children. The $5,000 goes to Lydia G. Magee of Pennington, N. J. The will does not disclose the value of the estate. Mr. Havemeyer died suddenly on Sept. 7.

SPANIARDS LOSE MOROCCAN FIGHT.

Paris, Sept. 16.—A dispatch from Gibraltar says the Spaniards have suffered a serious reverse near Ceuta. A Spanish column with convoy fell into an ambuscade, losing 100 killed or wounded. Reinforcements sent from Ceuta were attacked by the Moroccans and forced to retire with considerable loss.

Health and Beauty Hints

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Mrs. O. L.: You complain of brittle, faded hair. You will find that keeping the scalp clean and healthy is the most effective way to restore the natural beauty and softness, but in selecting your shampoo avoid soaps or mixtures containing "free" alkali. By dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox in a cup hot water you will have a mild, soothing, cleansing mixture that makes the head feel fine and removes all dust, dandruff and excess oil, leaving the scalp clean and pliant and assuring a beautiful growth of long, lustrous, fluffy hair.

E. G.: Nature never intended woman to have fuzz on her cheek. Get from your druggist a small original package of delatone and mix a little of the powder with water. Apply the paste to the obnoxious hairs and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and the hairs will come with it. After the skin is washed and dried, it will be velvety and free from hair or blemish.

Katie: Yes, powder has ruined more complexions than it has aided and while you use it you can hope for nothing better than an imitation of a real complexion. Take my advice. Get from your druggist 4 ounces spurmax and dissolve in ½ pint hot water or witch hazel, then add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine and you will have an ideal yet inexpensive lotion, which seems a part of the skin. Apply this spurmax lotion sparingly, and rub lightly for an instant and it will vanish, leaving the skin clear and soft. The daily use of this spurmax lotion rids the skin of that coarse, sallow, oily appearance and renders the complexion divinely fair and beautiful.

Elaine: Yes, there is a harmless way to make your eyes sparkle, a way that will also strengthen and rid them of that dull ache and tired feeling you mention. Make and use the following eye tonic: Dissolve 1 ounce crystos in 1 pint clear water, then put 2 or 3 drops in each eye a few times daily. It is an excellent thing for granulated eyelids, to reduce inflammation and take out soreness.

Miss C.: Dandruff is the cause of your trouble. Cleanse the scalp thoroughly, then twice a week massage a little of this home-made tonic into the scalp. Make the tonic by pouring 1 ounce quinzoin into ½ pint alcohol, to which is then added ½ pint water. This quinzoin tonic is soothing and healing to itching, tender scalps and is wonderfully effective in restoring the gloss and fluffiness to dull, stringy hair and its continued use will induce a lovely growth of long, healthy, beautiful hair.

Distress: You can quickly remove that burdensome fat and regain your former figure if you use parnotis, prepared at little expense, as follows: Into 1½ pints hot water put 4 ounces parnotis and strain when cool. Take a tablespoonful before each meal until your weight is sufficiently reduced, then discontinue treatment. No ill results follow this method of reduction and your flesh and skin will be left firm and smooth.

Maurice: The sallow, yellow color of your neck and chin, of which you speak, is caused by sluggish blood and which is not properly eliminating the poisons from the system. Try this blood purifier and tonic: Into ½ pint alcohol (whisky must not be used) pour 1 ounce kardene, then add ½ cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take 1 tablespoonful of this old-fashioned blood cleanser and tonic before each meal. This is splendid for that weak, worn feeling and restores the vital organs to a healthy condition, and its timely use will save much serious sickness.

Eva: If your skin is wrinkled or saggy, you need the stimulating and beautifying effect of some simple vegetable jelly-cream, which can be easily and cheaply made at home. Try this one, which is the best of many I have used: Get from your druggist one ounce almozoin, and dissolve in ½ pint cold water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Use this with a gentle massage and as a jelly mask on wrinkled surface and it will work wonders on your skin, eradicating wrinkles and restoring that velvety, youthful glow. Adv.

SEEN IN THE SHOPS

One of the Superior street shops has a display window filled with attractive new fall hats which interested the shopper this morning. There were pretty shapes in black and purple, both of which colors are to be worn much this year. In the millinery department of that store there were many of the same make that were much admired. One of black velvet in the "Nitchie" shape was made with a small, soft crown and a narrow, stiff brim rolled up a little which set up on of the head, showing the hair rolled over the ears.

There were hats of the new "laflamme" hue in velour and felt and night blue, purple, seal brown and blacks.

In the window of the same shop some attractive little white felt hats were shown priced at 75 cents without bands and some with fancy bands at $1.25 and up, according to the material used for the band.

The same shop filled one window with table linens and dresser and table scarfs, lunch cloths and other attractive pieces all marked at one-fourth off.

New long, white chamolsette gloves with heavy, black braiding on the backs of the hands were shown there for 50 cents a pair and in their novelty window silver card cases with coin compartments and vanity cases were priced at 98 cents apiece.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion Pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
REX—Photoplay.

Amusement Notes.

Edgar Selwyn's popular comedy, "The Country Boy," will be the attraction at the Lyceum next Sunday matinee and night. On Monday night Miss Olive Vail will be seen in the dainty Parisian musical concoction. Henry Miller, who has never been seen in Duluth, will present his greatest success, "The Rainbow," on Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and night. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Henry W. Savage's great dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," will make up an entire week of the greatest attractions that the Lyceum has ever presented.

There will be a change of pictures at the Lyceum today. A two-part Kay-Bee feature, "The Green Shadow," will head the new program. This briefly tells the story of the colonel's wife's sister who falls in love with a private. The colonel tries to put a stop to the attachment and his actions are misconstrued by his wife, from whom he conceals her sister's love affair. The young couple elope and the colonel pursues them and is attacked by Indians. The young soldier, the post telegrapher, mounts a telegraph post and sends a message for help and is shot by the Indians. The troops come to the rescue and the hero is carried back to the fort and nursed back to health. He is given an officer's commission which removes the barrier between him and his wife. The picture contains several very thrilling battle scenes with the Indians. Three single reels will also be shown in addition to "The Green Shadow."

Ralph Smalley, who is at the Duluth Orpheum this week, is one of the best known 'cello soloists in the United States. For six years he was cello player and soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Later he toured with the Henry W. Savage grand opera company, and was also heard on a concert tour with Emilio de Gorgoza, the husband of Emma Eames.

Mr. Smalley commented last evening, on the growth of American orchestras in the last few years.

"Our American orchestras now outclass those of Europe," said Mr. Smalley. "This may sound like treason to some musicians who have studied abroad, but I firmly believe it. Why shouldn't they? We are sending to Europe for the pick of their musicians, and can afford to bring them to this country because our orchestras have better financial backing than most of the European orchestras. I consider the Boston Symphony the greatest orchestra in this country. It has an endowment of $1,000,000 and is an old established orchestra. It is now on a self-supporting basis, with its endowment, for its concerts are most popular. Next to the Boston orchestra I would rank the Chicago Symphony and the New York Philharmonic. These two are about a stand-off. Next would probably come the Philadelphia, and the Cincinnati, and following them the Minneapolis and Pittsburg and San Francisco. Minneapolis has an excellent orchestra for such a young organization, and it has come to the front rapidly, but I would not yet rank it with the New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia orchestras. I would like to see Duluth have an orchestra. You have a lot of wealth here and a few of your wealthy men might find it not much of a burden."

Another rather good bill of vaudeville is playing at the Empress theater. The headline act is "The Marvelous Salambos" who do many stunts with electricity. They seem to have no fear of this deadly power and perform feats that re extaremely mystifying. A good act of its kind is given by Dave Lubin and his company, who present a Southern playlet "The Humming Coon," a singing act. The company is a quartet of boys who sing well. Edmunds and Gaylor are entertaining with their flippant talk and comedy songs. Sam Rowley lives up to his billing as "the little man with big voice and mysterious whistle." His songs are full of life and comedy while his talk is brisk and snappy. The pictures are unusually good and complete a very neat bill.

The acts coming for the last half of the week are: Gus Neville and company who present "Politics and Petticoats," The Royal Italian Four, Caine and Odum, and La Vine and Inman.

Robert Sherman is sending to Duluth to the Empress theater next Sunday a tabloid production of "Paid In Full," Eugene Walter's greatest play.

Mrs. Fiske, in the five-part production, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," was enjoyed last night by one of the most interested audiences that ever witnessed a picture performance in Duluth. Scene after scene was applauded, and they all deserved it. The interest in this picture, of course, centers about Mrs. Fiske, and her admirers were not disappointed. There was never a moment when the interest slackened. There was a steady pull at the heart strings, lightened on rare occasions by flashes of humor.

At the last evening's performance a young woman sitting with her parents cried out aloud, "Mother," and the mother was heard saying, "It's only a picture, dear."

"Tess" will be shown tonight and all day tomorrow and tomorrow night for the last time in this city. The audience last evening included many people who are rarely or never seen in a motion picture theater, and the photoplay should make many new friends both for the Rex and for motion pictures in general.

By PEGGY PEABODY

The Ordinary Citizen the Best.

I must own to liking ordinary people who are up in the morning in good season, who eat three proper meals a day at regular hours and who sleep in real beds at night, and not in the sort that double up to look like a piano or bookcase during the day. Somehow I associate breakfast at midday and beds that fold up into almost any known piece of furniture at the touch of a spring with unpleasant eccentricity.

Of course I know that many of the most ordinary people in the world breakfast when the rest of us are lunching because their duties require it. I know, too, that the type of bed I speak of is a convenience and an economizer in homes where there are not sleeping rooms to go around, but on the whole I prefer the people who hold out for the ordinary bed and regular forms of living and harbor no eccentricities of person, habit or surroundings.

Fortunately for me and others of my taste the ordinary mortals seem to be gaining ground. It is no crime nowadays to express your own opinions and live up to them, even though you only aspire to plain citizenship.

Not so long ago if you were no running after an "ism" or riding a hobby you were hopelessly out of it and so commonplace that you were by way of being called eccentric because you were not caught by fads and fancies. But now, if you keep yourself occupied in some manner and mind your own P's and Q's you can be as ordinary as you like and you will not be disturbed or looked upon as a hindrance to the progress of the race.

More and more are we becoming free enough to do as we choose and to find happiness in being ourselves. The number of people who have deserted the ranks of those who attempted many things they did not understand and posed as something they could never hope to be, to join the cult of the ordinary, proves that a goodly part of the eccentricity rampant ten or fifteen years ago was a pose pure and simple.

Once it was the thing to be considered delicate, high-strung, queer or "artistic." Now one strives to be natural, and the more natural one is the better one is liked, though some still cling to eccentricity and make it pay. Still it is an attitude that is fast falling into disfavor and is as out of date as a long-haired artist in a paint-stained jacket, smelling awfully of tobacco.

THE END OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The contest over the referendum on the Hicken ordinance is over, and the decision is up to the voters, who by nine o'clock tonight will have registered their verdict.

And whatever the outcome, we guess everybody will be glad it's ended.

It was an unpleasant kind of fight, as such fights are likely to be, and as usual it was made more unpleasant than it needed to be by those on both sides who refuse to give their opponents credit for honesty and devotion to the public good.

It has been by no means a pleasant experience for The Herald to be unable to agree with many good people whom it respects and admires. It has believed them to be mistaken or misled, and doubtless they have believed us to be mistaken. At any rate, The Herald believes them to be sincere and honest in their views, even if these views are not ours. Not all of us take the same course, even when our ends are the same.

There is no reason—at least there ought to be none—why a public issue should not be debated calmly and coolly and with both sides retaining their self-respect and their respect for each other. Passion and heat add nothing to a discussion that belongs in it, and certainly they do not help to reveal the proper course of any citizen.

It doesn't help one's cause to get angry in a discussion. Quite the contrary, in fact; it weakens it. Heat in a discussion does not produce light, and light is what is needed.

The greatest stumbling block to a fair and free discussion of public issues is the individual—or the human trait common to many individuals—who jumps to the conclusion that those who fail to see things as he does have selfish and sordid motives, and that all who disagree with him are crooked.

As a matter of fact, that state of mind is one of the most dishonest and dangerous possible. The danger is that if you invariably suspect selfish and dishonest motives in those with whom you come into controversy, the disinterested may imagine that your suspicions are due to precisely that failing in your own practice.

Happily, anger and prejudice have been confined to a very few people in this instance, and attempts to stir up excitement and bitterness have generally failed.

Whatever happens to the ordinance, whether it be ratified or rejected, we look to see Duluth keep right on about as it was before, and to resume its united efforts for a greater and better and busier Duluth.

It is not at all pleasant to see a city with so much to do as Duluth has, and so much to achieve by doing it, stopped in the middle of its busiest work to divide into sides and enter upon a period of mutual recriminations, with good and loyal and valuable citizens impugning each other's motives and all but flying at each other's throats. Whatever the issue, and however great its importance, it does not justify that kind of a fight.

The brighter side of it is that this spirit does not survive the election, and that however impassioned and red-faced with anger some citizens may be up to the closing of the polls, with the announcement of the result next evening everybody shakes hands with everybody and gets back into the normal again, little the worse for the experience.

That's what we confidently expect to happen tomorrow, whatever the result of the ballot-counting tonight.

The Herald has opposed the ordinance, and believes that it will be best for the community, and best in the end for the cause of decency and order, to have it beaten. But it gives full credit to its author and most of its supporters for good intentions and the highest motives, and its belief that they were mistaken has not shaken in the least its confidence in their integrity and its faith in their good citizenship.

Duluth stands to lose no ground whatever happens to the ordinance, and no matter what its fate Duluth will make the most of it and the best of it and will still be the best city we know of to live in and work in and achieve in.

DULUTH'S NEIGHBORS AND THE DULUTH EXPOSITION AND FALL STYLE WEEK.

We hope nobody will imagine that the entertainment to be offered during Duluth exposition and fall style week is intended only for the edification of Duluthians.

It is for them, too, and it is to be hoped that they will all turn out and see it in order that they may come away with a more splendid vision of the progress Duluth has made and the prospects that lie before it.

But there is nothing selfish about Duluth, and it wants its neighbors to come in and help it enjoy this gala week.

Duluth always has a better time with company in the house than it ever can alone.

And it will be worth while coming. Even if you discount as local pride our belief that it is always worth while to come to Duluth and to be in Duluth, the special attractions of exposition and fall style week will be ample enough to put it beyond any question.

First, there is the exposition itself, which will occupy two great floors in the new curling rink, and which will be an epitome of Duluth at its present stage of development and of the quickly ripening development that has come to the surrounding country—a thing in which every neighbor community is interested.

Second, there is the fall style week display, an exposition in itself worth going many miles to see. Duluth is proud of its stores, and with good reason because they are as large and as elaborate and as profusely stocked with the latest and best as the stores of any community three to five times as large as Duluth. The stores will have an exposition of their own, into which the world's best has been gathered, and they and the streets will be in gala dress for the occasion.

And when the visitor has seen the exposition and has taken in the fall style week display, the theaters offer a full list of excellent attractions, from the Lyceum and the Orpheum down to the many good moving picture shows.

If you have an errand in the metropolis of Northern Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin, or can make one as an excuse, the week of Sept. 22 to 27 will be an unusually good time to get it out of the way and have a good time doing it.

The latchstring is always out, but next week the doors are flung wide, and there will be a hearty welcoming hand at the doorstep.

Harry Thaw insists that he is a legal resident of Pittsburg. It was a cinch that city would have to pay for its sins some time.

WHOA!

Experts of the Federal bureau of labor who keep careful check of our old friend Cost-o'-Living have made a report that indicates that the enactment of the new people's tariff bill into law is very timely.

The cost of living at their last account—in June—was sixty per cent higher than the average between 1890 and 1900, more than three per cent higher than it was a year ago, and nearly fifteen per cent higher than it was two years ago.

Prices in June were practically at the same level as in November of last year, when they helped to turn the country Democratic because they were at the highest level in a quarter of a century.

It is interesting to hear the figures, but the report is not news aside from that. Everybody knows the cost of living is high. Everybody except those whose bank accounts divorce them from any need of considering this vexing subject feels the weight of the burden.

The tariff law will certainly help a good deal. It will not put prices back to the level of the 1890-1900 average. Perhaps that level never will be reached again except possibly through the medium of another panic—which heaven forfend!

The present level of prices has been a generation in the making, and probably it cannot be unmade in a twinkling.

But the tariff had a large part in its making, and tariff revision should have a large part in its unmaking.

Pennsylvania and New York are comparing their respective political machines, much to each other's disparagement. It would help some if each state would take to importing from other states in the hope of beating out its rival.

CURBING RECKLESS BOND ISSUES.

The latest manifestation of the present difficulty in marketing public bonds is provided by the case of the state of Louisiana, which authorized the issuance of eleven million dollars in four-per-cent bonds and has been unable to sell them.

So it has been necessary to call a special session of the Louisiana legislature, which has provided for a constitutional convention to propose changes in the state Constitution which will permit the legislature to raise the interest rate on its bonds.

Though vexatious, the condition under which it has become hard to sell public bonds is not without its compensations.

Something has long been needed to check the universal scramble to load the coming generations with public debt.

Maybe the present shortage of money for investment in public bonds will do the business.

Many states, counties, cities and school districts have bond issues lying on their hands for lack of buyers.

Meantime, they seem to get along somehow without the money that would be derived from the sale of these bonds.

There had to be an end somewhere. The market has been stuffed, gorged and over-fed with public bonds. States, counties, cities, school districts and villages have vied with each other in increasing the flood of securities pouring marketward.

If the ordinary revenues were insufficient to meet the demands of taxspenders, it was easy to issue bonds and let the next generation bear the load.

If there were schemes of visionaries to be carried out, and no money to do it, it was simple enough to float a bond issue and throw the burden on to the generations to come.

The total bonded debt of this country is a stupendous figure—so stupendous that it is small wonder that the bond market shows a lack of appetite, and communities are forced to discount their bonds or raise the interest rate sharply in order to get rid of them.

It is a wholesome warning to the bond-issuing authorities of the country, and a danger sign that the process has been terribly overworked.

If the acute indigestion existing in the bond market continues awhile longer, as it seems likely to do, the lot in life of the taxpayers of this generation and those to come will be greatly eased.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MORE LADDERS ON FREIGHT CARS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The reason that so many men are killed between the cars is that they have only two ladders on the cars. They ought to have four. Then it would not make any difference. They could always catch the car then instead of falling between the wheels. They would hit the side of the car.

W. RICHARDSON.

Brainerd, Minn., Sept. 15.

The "Double Standard" Reversed.

St. Louis Republic: A day or two ago the Republic pointed out that the drift of the practice under the Mann white slave act was in curious contrast with the feminist movement. That movement insists on the substantial equality of woman with man, before the law and in the light of social obligation. Yet the Mann act, as it has been construed since its passage, holds only the man guilty in cases of irregular relations between the sexes and regards the woman as a creature without will and almost without moral responsibility. These two contradictory tendencies, both so strongly manifested today, show what a hodgepodge the thing is which we call "popular thought," and what courage it takes to believe in a "philosophy of history."

Another aspect of this matter is worth attention. For years moralists have very properly inveighed against the "double standard" of morals which holds that as an unpardonable sin in a woman which is treated as a minor irregularity of conduct in a man. Now here is a new "double standard," with the positions of the sexes reversed.

The Mann act, as applied to cases where no charge of a profit gained from vice appears and it is simply the fact that the parties to an immoral act crossed a state line together that brings them within the scope of the law, establishes a standard for the man far more rigorous and exacting than that set for the woman. Her misdemeanor becomes his crime. Will it be said that there is poetic justice in this turning of the tables after so many years of an injustice of opposite character?

All There Was Left to Do.

Chicago Record-Herald: William Collier, George M. Cohan and some of their friends were seated about a table one evening just after the ignominious failure of "Alibi Bill" at Weber's theater.

"Too bad about that 'flivver' of Joe's," remarked someone.

"Yes," agreed Cohan, "but he had it coming; it was a bonehead trick ever to have put it on."

Glancing up, he realized for the first time that Weber was among those present—and that he had opened his mouth only to put his foot in it. Turning to Collier he inquired in desperation: "Willie, what on earth would you do if you'd made a break like that?"

"Well," replied Collier with amiable deliberation, "I think I'd wiggle my tail, and waggle my ears, and go out and eat another thistle."

Anticipation.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph: "'Allo, Bill! You do look pale and thin, Bill! Wot's wrong, Bill? Been ill, Bill?

Thus spoke one jovial frequenter of the gutter to a friend he had not seen for weeks.

"No," he answered. "I ain't been ill; it's work—work from 10 in the morning till 9 at night, and only one hour's rest. Think of it, mate!"

"Lumme!" replied Bill's mate. "And where are yer workin'? 'Ow long have yer been there?"

"I ain't been there yet," retorted Bill, with a groan. "I begin tomorrer!"

A Great Moral Baseball Play

W. J. Lampton in The American Magazine.

The greatest baseball play I ever saw occurred in the autumn of 1869, that year when the famous Red Stockings of Cincinnati played every leading club from Maine to California without losing a game and tying once (17 to 17) with the Haymakers of Troy, N. Y., a club which it had previously defeated. Out of 57 games played, the Reds won 56 and tied one. In these games they scored 2,395 runs to 574 by their opponents, and of these runs George Wright, the great shortstop, made 339, 59 of them being home runs.

However, to the story. I was a boy in those days at Portsmouth, Ohio, and we had a club which had put it all over everything in our neighborhood, as the Red Stockings had put it all over the United States, and we were some proud of our record, just as the Reds were of theirs.

Ours was good enough for the Reds to take notice, and they came up the river to play us after walloping everything else in the country. We thought they would lick us, but it was honor enough to be defeated by such players, and we were not expecting victory.

But as the game progressed we began to think differently, and when at the ninth inning the score stood 37 to 36, as I remember, in our favor, Portsmouth's blood began to surge and every backbone there felt the tingling of strained nerves. The Reds showed signs, too, but not as ours were, and we could see them getting together and passing the word. They may have thought they would have fun with Portsmouth when they came, but they had changed their minds now.

In the ninth inning they got three men on bases, but they had two men out and Portsmouth stock was going up fast. So was the excitement.

Then George Wright took the stick and every Portsmouth heart stood still. Would be or wouldn't he? He did, and the ball soared heavenward, as they did in those days, and curved down to the weeds in the far left field. We had never thought a ball could be knocked that distance and the weeds had been left to grow.

Our left fielder was Lute Huddleston, a fine player and a fine fellow, and Lute headed for the ball, Wrigh in the meantime hitting the bags all around and bringing in three men. Huddleston went down in the weeds with the ball and everybody thought he had it, all right. Portsmouth broke loose in a crazy bedlam as Lute came up out of the ruck with the ball in his hand; the Red Stockings stood stiff betwixt doubt and fear and the umpire held up his hand to hear from the fielder, for he alone knew what the answer was.

Portsmouth was screaming with joy and yelling it to their player who had defeated the unconquerable Reds, the unconquerables were beginning to droop, and then Huddleston stood up straight and shook his head.

He had not caught the ball.

Nobody knew except himself whether he had or not and it was up to him to lie for victory or tell the truth for defeat. He had the strength of character, under extraordinary circumstances, to be square.

The next Red to the bat went out and when Portsmouth came to the plate the Reds got together for all they were worth, now that they had learned how close a call they had had, and the game closed, 40 to 37, in favor of the champions of the United States.

Pedestrians Have Right of Way Against Autos.

Springfield Republican: People who still walk sometimes, even if they are owners of motor cars, will be likely to indorse the decision of the Georgia court of appeals:

"A pedestrian who in using the public highway is in the exercise of due care for his own safety and for the safety of others cannot be held as a matter of fact to be guilty of contributory negligence merely because he does not run to escape injury by an automobile. Automobiles have no monopoly of the highways nor any priority of right in their use, and their operation on crowded streets necessitates exceeding carefulness on the part of the driver (it is hoped many of the drivers here who have ignored this injunction will heed the warning thus given); as to the driver thoughtless inattention is the essence of negligence."

It is only common sense that pedestrians should not be expected "to run to escape injury;" the streets belong to us all, including many who would find it difficult and painful to run.

Missouri Desperation.

Springfield, Mo., Republican: If this warm wave continues to wave much longer we are going to don the first pair of diaphanous trousers we can find that will come any ways near fitting us.

The Night Wind.

Did you ever hear the wind go
"Yoooooo?"
'Tis a pitiful sound to hear!
It seems to thrill you through and through
With a strange and speechless fear.
'Tis the voice of the night that broods outside
When folk should be asleep,
And many and many's the time I've cried
To the darkness brooding far and wide
Over the land and the deep:
"Whom do you want, O lonely night
That you wail the long hours through?"
And the night would say in its ghostly way:
"Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!"

My mother told me long ago (when I was a little tad)
That when the night went wailing so,
Somebody had been bad;
And then, when I was snug in bed,
Whither I had been sent,
With the blankets pulled up round my head
I'd think of what my mother'd said
And wonder what boy she meant!
And "Who's been bad today?" I'd ask
Of the wind that hoarsely blew,
And the voice would say it in meaningful way:
"Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!"

That this was true I must allow,
You'll not believe it, though!
Yes, though I'm quite a model now,
I was not always so.
And if you doubt what things I say,
Suppose you make the test;
Suppose, when you've been bad some day
And up to bed are sent away from mother and the rest—
Suppose you ask "Who has been bad?"
And then you'll hear what's true;
For the wind will moan in its ruefullest tone:
"Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!
Yoooooo!"

Government By Party

By Savoyard.

Washington, Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whether for good or ill, President Wilson has done much to give our country responsible party government, and I long have thought that it is a sore defect of our Constitution that it does not provide for absolute party government such as they have in England. We fancy that our Federal establishment is a government of the people, for the people, and by the people. It is no such thing. You have not enough fingers on both hands to count the times I can name since 1872 when our government has been in utter contempt and in insolent defiance of the people's voice as expressed at the ballot box.

As to the caucus—when it applies to the naming of candidates for place it is altogether evil; but when it is invoked to put in legislative force party principle it is absolutely necessary, and no party can get along without it, if it would be militant.

For nearly twenty years we have heard that the Democrats were the party of negation, that all their cry was this and only this: "You are wrong." And there was a heap of truth in it. The grand old Democratic party had nothing to propose. It was merely the party of opposition. There was nothing constructive in its assertions, and so it was even under Cleveland, a man of giant mind and of immense force. It was so during the Mark Hanna regime, and so continued when Teddy was "everyman himself." It was this Democratic negation that caused the election of Taft in 1908.

But Woodrow Wilson came on the scene. He gave a mind and a conscience, a faith and a force, to the party of Jefferson and Jackson. He reincarnated that which had lain dormant for decade after decade, and now the Democratic party is what it was in old Jackson's day—the dominating force of American politics.

Under our system there was but one way to do it. Here it is: The president is the leader of his party. It is given to him to formulate policies. Let congress mold these policies into statutes and submit the thing to the people. O, had Cleveland only done that, the grand old Democratic party would have come out of the woods, the country would have emerged from the slough of despond twenty years ago.

If Wilson had not asserted that he is the leader of the Democratic party and insisted that the Democratic tariff bill should be Democratic, that bill would be today chock full of "party perfidy and party dishonor," as was the Democratic tariff of 1894. There is no bluster about him as there is about Teddy. He sees the objective and makes straight for it. He cares not a rap for men; he cares all the world for things. It is given to some men to rule. Here is a ruler, not by that fetich of "divine right," but as the appointed agent of a public conscience to execute its longings and to stamp its decrees.

That is all Woodrow Wilson is. I have read his books, and let me tell you—as a debater in the United States senate he would have been greater than Charles James Fox in the British commons. Possibly they are right who say that none of us human are sane; but to my poor understanding the writings and the conduct of Woodrow Wilson are the sanest Anglo-Saxon has had since Jefferson. How could it be otherwise if the man is saturated with the justice that Edmund Burke taught and the aspirations Abraham Lincoln had?

As I have repeatedly said, I am sure Wilson is a man of destiny, appointed by Divine Providence to make ours a government of the people, which is to say the rule of that intelligent and virtuous public thought that looks only to the public weal.

Sir Peter Teazle, in the "School for Scandal," makes this remark to his boyhood friend: "This is a damned wicked world we live in, Sir Oliver!"

And so it is. Mr. Wilson will find tares in his wheat field; but let us stand by him. The prospect is good, the harvest sure will be as glorious as it is abundant.

What Will She Do With It?

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A 10-year-old negro girl, Sarah Rector, is said to have the largest annual income of any resident of Oklahoma. It is estimated that her property returns more than $112,000 a year, and that this will increase rather than decrease in the future.

This child should be an interesting study. Her wealth is, of course, due to no merit of her own. Moreover it is due to no industry or cleverness of her ancestors. It is wholly accidental. What will be its effect on her as she grows to womanhood?

Sarah is the descendant of a negro slave manumitted by a member of the Creek nation. In the allotment of Creek lands the little girl came into the possession of 160 acres which she has never seen, and of which she does not even know the location. On this land has been bored an oil well which is one of the richest producers in the world. Its value is about $2,500 a day, and one-eighth of this goes to Sarah Rector. Other wells are to be bored on the property which will probably materially increase her income.

Here is a case of a child born to riches which were not even earned by her forbears. She may be destined to become something altogether new in the line of the "idle rich." Lacking the advantages or disadvantages of aristocratic early training she may prove to be a notable woman, more notable because she belongs to a race which includes few persons of great wealth.

It is to be hoped that Sarah Rector is for the present under efficient guardianship. She has before her great possibilities for good, and can make her life an example of which her own race and the nation may be proud.

Leisure.

Life: Leisure is the thing which everybody wants more than anything else, but when obtained no one knows what to do with it.

Leisure, in truth, is an impalpable substance. It is not visible to the eye, neither can it be handled. You cannot send a package of leisure by parcel post. If you try to divide it with anyone you invariably lose it. Often you lose your health getting it, and then someone grabs it away from you. Leisure is not for sale in any market place. Some have thought they could buy it in Wall Street, but their success has not been recorded anywhere except in the obituary column.

Millionaires accumulate a vast quantity of moments of leisure, and then pay good money to get rid of them.

Leisure at one time was applied to young children, it being thought a good preparation for their after life; it has now, however, been superseded by supervised playgrounds and cotton mills.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

An Idea.

Pierz Journal: The state should apply an income tax from lumber kings toward clearing the pine stumps from the Northern Minnesota lands.

Minnesota Apples.

Cambridge North Star: It is estimated that Minnesota this year raised a sufficient apple crop to supply the people of the state for the winter, but because there is no organization through which they can market the fruit, most of the apples cannot be sold, and will be a loss to the raisers. So, consumers will buy Washington fruit which is not nearly so good as the Minnesota-raised apple, and will pay Washington farmers and two or three middlemen and the railroads a profit. Why not a Minnesota fruit growers' association?

The Corn Crop.

Cass Lake Times: From almost every portion of the great area constituting the northern counties of our state come reports that the corn crop is a full one and that the grain is ripe. To the abundant rainfall during the period of growth the full crop is largely due and the results of the present season will convince all that Minnesota timbered lands possess all the plant food needed to produce any crop, that the climate admits of without irrigation and with less labor than may be found elsewhere.

Plea for Minnesota Product.

Albert Lea Tribune: The suggestion which has been made urging Minnesota people to eat Minnesota-grown apples, is a good one and should be pushed. Minnesota grows the best flavored apples in the world and with the abundant crop which is reported all over the state, there is no reason why everyone should not have all the apples they want and as long as they last, they should be the Minnesota-grown.

Aid to Democracy Possible.

Lake Crystal Union: "La Follette may become a Democrat!" says the news from Washington. It's better to be a Democrat than to be nothin'. There are worse afflictions than being a Democrat. To be an American is better than to be anytning else.

Where's the Poverty?

Austin Transcript: For the first six months of 1913 the earnings of Minnesota railroads were $49,479,335.24, an increase of $8,020,145.88 over the corresponding period of 1912. On this they paid a gross earnings tax to the state of $2,473,966.70 under the new 5 per cent rate. Yet the railroad companies are crying poverty and asking for increased freight rates and howling general calamity. It is senseless in view of the actual figures.

John Lind.

Princeton Union: Some of the little creatures who for hire in years gone by maligned John Lind are now, figuratively speaking, slobbering all over him. The Union has never misrepresented or slandered John Lind, but we do not regard him as a demigod simply because President Wilson has sent him on a fruitless mission to Mexico. Mr. Lind was one of the ablest and best governors that this state has ever had, and it would not hurt our feelings if, in the near future, he should occupy a seat in the senate of the United States.

Sheep Raising.

Aurora News: There are wonderful possibilities in sheep raising in this section of the state where pasture is so abundant from early spring to late fall. A large flock of sheep could be made to pay handsome dividends on the investment and at the same time they would clean the underbrush from many acres of fertile land which could be cleared and made to raise potatoes, hay or other crops.

A Wonderful Achievement

New York World: Five years ago Col. Goethals modestly set Jan. 1, 1915, for the official opening of the Panama canal. Last September it was estimated that small vessels might traverse it by Oct. 15, 1913. Even this date may be beaten by four or five days; in December freighters of ordinary size should be able to pass from sea to sea.

Water has been admitted from both ends and in the middle. The Gatun lake is filling up; the Atlantic end is navigable for service vessels; the blowing up of the Miraflores dike a week ago admitted the Pacific. There remains the nine-mile Culebra cut section, where dry excavation is finished, machinery is being removed and on Oct 5 water can be let in.

The practical completion of this huge task more than a year ahead of time, and the manner in which the work has been done, make it an achievement to which history fails to record a parallel. The efficiency, the honesty, the science and the precision which it has displayed reflect the highest credit upon the men in charge. The nation which has loyally and generously supported them will fairly share that credit.

Until four days after his appointment as chairman of the Isthmian Canal commission and chief engineer, Col. Goethals was merely a major of engineers in the regular army. He was made a lieutenant colonel March 2, 1907, and is now a colonel. Though he had been chief engineer with brevet volunteer rank in the Spanish war, he was not widely known when he took up the work. Col. Gorgas was better known from his yellow-fever work in Havana.

Under their charge the conduct of the work has been as marvellous from the sanitary as from the engineer's point of view. A management which turned a pest-hole into a health resort, and looked after the employes and their families even to their homes, their furniture, their marketing and their amusements, has not been the least factor in the giant undertaking.

De Lesseps and his aids did not fail for lack of engineering skill or mechanical appliances. Dishonesty in Paris and disease at Colon defeated them. In both respects the American management, repairing their fault, has set a standard for great public works which it will be obligatory in the future to emulate, yet difficult to surpass.

Mystery Solved.

Chicago News: The little agricultural village had been billed with "Lecture on Keats" for over a fortnight. The evening arrived at length, bringing the lecturer ready to discourse on the poet. The advertised chairman, taken ill at the last moment, was replaced by a local farmer. This worthy introduced the lecturer and terminated his remarks by saying:

"And now, my friends, we shall soon all know what I personally have often wondered—what are Keats?"

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

Two New York detectives sailed yesterday for Costa Rica to bring back to this country Lawyer Francis H. Weeks, who fled last spring after embezzling large sums of money from estates and individuals for whom he was a trustee. He has been arrested at San Jose at the request of Lewis Baker, United States minister to Costa Rica. The report of the assignee of Weeks' affairs, filed July 29, showed total liabilities of $1,646,633; nominal assets, $738,423; actual assets, $58,845; nominal value of property apparently belonging to other persons, $472,857. His liabilities to the West Superior Land & River Improvement company are estimated at $500,000. Weeks' dishonesty could at first hardly be credited by the persons who knew and trusted him, so honorable and upright was he considered to be and so unhesitating had many of them confided their all to his keeping.

Bill Murray's Morbid Revenge.

Popular Magazine: Bill Murray, who moves the fast trains for the Union Pacific, sent a request to a theater in Omaha one evening for two seats for the performance of "The Virginian." Ed Kelley, the business manager of the show, refused the seats and made this remark:

Three years later Kelley found himself in a miserable "tank" town about 100 miles out of Omaha, and he was confronted by the fact that the only train he could take within the next twenty-four hours was the Overland Limited, which did not stop there. He finally persuaded the station agent to wire Bill Murray to stop the Overland for him. In a short while the agent, aghast and thunderstruck, staggered up to Kelley and explained that Murray had ordered the Overland to stop at that town, and to take on no passengers except Mr. Kelley.

The next morning Kelley went to Murray's office and began to thank him for his great kindness.

"Who are you?" asked Murray.

"I'm Kelley. You stopped the Overland in that tank town for me last evening."

"Well, Kelley," said Murray vindictively, "three years ago I sent to you for two seats for a performance of your show. You remarked that you couldn't see why any railroad man, should be given seats. I've waited three years to get you, and I've done it. Now, will you buy a drink?"

Draft Is Less.

The draft reported today in the Poe lock at the Soo is 19 feet 3 inches, lower than it has been for some time. This is two inches lower than it was a week ago and boats going through that passage have to govern their loads accordingly.

BOYHOOD FRIENDSHIP HELPS HIM IN SERVICE

GEN. W. T. ROSSELL.

Gen. W. T. Rossell owes his promotion to his present rank to the friendship of Gen. W. H. Bixby. They were boyhood friends and their intimacy continued through their army career. Rossell stood in line for promotion as senior colonel, but in the natural course of events there would have been no vacancy in the grade of general till he retired on account of old age. Bixby is four months younger than Rossell. He would have retired naturally two months after Rossell retired. But because of his friendship for Rossell, Bixby asked for retirement Aug. 11, thus giving Rossell a chance of promotion to the rank of brigadier general and retirement Oct. 11 with that title.

SPARED ONE HORROR.

From the Boston Herald: Shakespeare was just about to tell the stage manager to announce the first act of "As You Like It," when a terrible commotion in front made him suspect that all was not right. Hastening out, he discovered a group of speculators about to begin business, and hastily calling the queen's guards, in eight minutes by the clock he had them all thrown into the Thames.

"Our stage business," remarked William sententiously, "may not be up to date, but at least this horror of future generations is not for us."

THE STAR GAZER OF MADISON SQUARE

New York Herald: The "old star gazer of Madison Square," the stoop-shouldered man with the white chin whiskers, who for forty years had a telescope at the corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street and who gathered many a dime for a gaze at the man in the moon, or a glimpse at the charms of Venus, is dead.

Frederick J. Seybold, commonly known as "the professor," or "the star gazer of Madison Square," was one of the last survivors of a generation when many quaint characters could be found in the streets of Manhattan. Nearly every one of the millions who have passed the square in the last thirty or forty years will remember the slender, studious appearing man with the long, fat brass telescope on a tripod, pointing to the eastern skies, who stood near the old Fifth Avenue hotel.

He had four or five printed signs, always displaying one according to what was to be viewed. One read: "See the Man in the Moon." Others were: "Venus in Her Glory," "The Rings of Saturn" and "The Mighty Jupiter Passes." He never solicited trade in any other way. He never spoke to persons passing. If they wished to peer into the vastness of space through his telescope they got their money's worth without conversation. If they asked questions he would answer them, not only civilly but learnedly. He was a student and he knew his stars as a schoolboy knows his alphabet. But the "professor" never tried to get an extra dime by conversation.

Mr. Seybold was a real man of mystery. He had only two or three friends and but few acquaintances. For years he had lived on board a canal barge that had been converted into a houseboat and which he had kept moored at a pier at Edgewater, N. J., across the Hudson from One Hundred and Thirtieth street, Manhattan. He lived there alone with his many scientific books. The man who was invited there to see him considered himself fortunate.

Among the few men was Edwin Barry Wilcox, a realty broker, who has lived at the Albemarle hotel for many years and who had known Mr. Seybold for at least twenty years. Mr. Wilcox tried to learn something of the mysterious man's life and of his antecedents. He was balked at every turn, except to learn that he had fought through the Civil war and that perhaps he had been disappointed in a love affair, probably early in life. He was 75 years old.

But it was apparent that Mr. Seybold had been a student all his life. He had studied and practiced chemistry, he was a graduate of a medical college and Mr. Wilcox said his knowledge of scientific subjects, particularly those relating to medicine, was profound. On board his floating home he had a chemical laboratory where he carried on numerous experiments. There he also had a workshop in which he manufactured telescopes. He even tried to grind his own lenses.

Mr. Seybold is believed to have possessed much valuable property. It was known that he enjoyed a good income from his privileged stand with his telescope and that his expenses were small. He ate little, drank nothing intoxicating, had no expensive habits and was busy all the time.

Besides his income from his telescope, he was the inventor of several devices which Mr. Wilcox believed materially increased his fortune. He never told anyone whether he was wealthy or in poverty.

Mr. Wilcox was in the habit of leaving the Albemarle hotel, at Twenty-fifth street and Broadway, just before retiring time each evening and walking down to have a chat with the "professor." One evening, just before the "professor" strangely disappeared, he told Mr. Wilcox that he had been to a lawyer's office to have his will drawn. A few days later there was a fire in the cabin of his canal boat home, in which were destroyed all of the papers and documents he had stored in what he believed to be a safe place. If he signed a will it is believed that it was lost in that fire.

It was just after the fire that Mr. Seybold failed to appear as usual at the corner were, with his telescope, he had stood for forty years. Each night Mr. Wilcox was out looking for the philosopher, but did not find him. One night four weeks ago Mr. Wilcox went to Edgewater and on board the canal boat. There he found Mr. Seybold ill, helpless and apparently destitute. The astronomer was unable to tell anything then about himself or how he came to be in that condition. He was weak from the lack of nourishment.

Calling a carriage, Mr. Wilcox conveyed his old friend to St. Mary's hospital in Hoboken, and there engaged a comfortable room with nurses and physicians for him. When the aged man died the physicians ascribed death to a complication of diseases, and then they whispered that they meant starvation.

After Mr. Wilcox had the body sent to the undertaking rooms in Fort Lee he caused a search of the canal boat home to be made to ascertain if there were relatives. He could find nothing. He knew that Mr. Seybold was a member of a Grand Army post and now he is trying to learn what post it was so that his comrades may attend the funeral. Outside of books upon scientific subjects and chemical laboratory apparatus there was nothing of value in the philosopher's floating home. It is believed that the fire on board destroyed papers by which his supposed wealth might be traced.

Many men who made their homes in the old Fifth Avenue hotel, men of wealth and standing, became interested in the "professor," as he commonly was called, and they tried to learn his history and his romance, but he resisted all of them. At times he could be curt to those who tried to pry into his personal matters. For many years before the old hotel was torn down the "professor" was a subject of mystery about the corridors. He had no use for triflers, and when he believed that anyone was endeavoring to learn something about his past he lost no time in dismissing him.

KINDERGARTEN COURT.

Indianapolis News: Chicago's new kindergarten court, the latest step toward reclaiming Chicago's wayward children to good citizenship through education rather than through punishment, has been formally opened on the tenth floor of the county building, adjacent to the juvenile court, presided over by Judge Merritt W. Pinckney. There is a playroom where delinquent and dependent children may run and jump and make as much noise as they please without a bailiff calling them to account.

A LARGE INDEX.

Indianapolis News: On Beacon hill, in Boston, under the golden dome of the state house, is one of the largest indices in the world. In fact, the Russian public index is the only one known to be larger. More than 9,000,000 names, births, marriages and deaths in Massachusetts from 1843, make a complete record, showing not only where people were born and where they died, but also statistics which are vital in making up calculations. Before 1843 the records were kept in the different towns, but now they are all concentrated in the state house in Boston. In a relatively small space all these records are preserved, and different forms of cards are used, and a great variety of names, Grecian, Assyrian, Italian and others now mingle with good old New England names that have been on the records since the landing of the Mayflower.

How to Keep Face Young and Attractive

(National Hygienic Review.)

The way to ward off old age is not to fear it, not to allow one's self to be oppressed by the dread of advancing years. Use only legitimate preventives and avoid trying experiments with preparations not indorsed by physicians. An entirely safe and very effective way to keep the complexion young-looking and beautiful is to apply ordinary mercolized wax at bedtime, using it like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. This gradually absorbs the withered, faded cuticle, which is replaced by the more youthful, pink-tinted underskin. One ounce of this wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to completely rejuvenate a worn-out complexion.

Crow's feet and other wrinkles, the first signs of advancing age, may be removed by a simple, harmless preparation made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. It is used as a face bath. Adv.

RAILROAD IS ORDERED TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSING

Commission Will Test Stand of Northern Pacific on Subway.

May Hasten Car Line Extension—New Armory Is Wanted.

The city commission yesterday afternoon challenged the Northern Pacific to make good on its claim that it is not obliged to provide a viaduct or a subway across its tracks at Smithville.

On motion of Commissioner R. Murchison, head of the works division, the council unanimously passed a resolution directing the Northern Pacific to construct a viaduct over its tracks and right-of-way on Commonwealth avenue between Swenson and Commonwealth avenues.

The resolution calls upon the railroad to have the work completed on or before June 1, 1914.

Some time ago Commissioner Murchison wrote the Northern Pacific officials asking them if the railroad would provide a crossing at Smithville in view of the fact that the local public was extremely anxious that the highway be put in such shape that street car service might be inaugurated at the earliest moment. The company replied that it could not see its way clear to build either a viaduct or a subway at Gogebic street, the latter being recommended by City Engineer John Wilson as the cheaper and more practicable.

The city attorney has expressed the opinion that the railroad can be compelled to construct a viaduct over its tracks on Commonwealth avenue. Acting upon this opinion the commission yesterday afternoon determined to bring the issue to a head. In order to give the railroad plenty of time the resolution fixed June 1, next, as the date on which the viaduct should be completed. It is believed that the subway under the tracks at Gogebic street would not only be cheaper but more desirable from the point of view of the railroad. Should the railroad wish to build the subway instead of the viaduct the city would be willing to meet it on that basis. In any event the municipal authorities are determined to cause the railroad to eliminate the dangerous grade crossing, whether it be through a viaduct on Commonwealth avenue or a subway at Gogebic street. If the railroad elects to ignore the council's resolution the legal department will take the issue through the courts. So many decisions have been rendered sustaining the city's position in this question that the officials have no doubt as to the outcome of a legal contest on the subject.

Street Car Line.

The proposition has a direct bearing on the proposed street car line extension to New Duluth. The city feels that it has done its share in putting the roadway in shape for the laying of street car tracks. There is an almost unanimous objection to crossing the tracks of the Northern Pacific at grade. Should the Northern Pacific have the viaduct or the subway built in the specified time the probabilities of the extension will be greatly enhanced. Should the railroad go to court the likelihood is that the street car company would await the outcome before taking any action. The action of the council yesterday may either hasten the much-desired extension or it may delay it for a considerable time.

New Armory.

F. E. Resche, H. V. Eva and Guy Eaton, representing the local militia companies, appeared before the council to ask the city's assistance in securing the new armory for which $75,600 was appropriated at the last session of the legislature. They wished the council to furnish a site on the lake shore park. Should this be done the site will be deeded to the state, which can be done by first securing the permission of the Northern Pacific, which deeded the ground to the city for park purposes. The commissioners stated that they would take up the matter at an informal meeting, the date to be announced later.

J. H. Brigham, owner and builder of the water works system at Fond du Lac, appeared before the council to urge some action relative to the city taking over the property. Many new cottages have been erected in the suburb this summer and practically all of them desire to have water installed. Mr. Brigham says that he desires to have the city's assistance in making the extensions or to have the city handle the entire situation, as he does not feel that he would be justified in increasing the amount of his investment. Commissioner Merritt said that he and Manager Reed of the water and light department had viewed the water works at Fond du Lac and would probably submit a report at the next meeting of the council.

Improvement Ordered.

The improvement of Faribault and Red Wing streets, between Woodland avenue and Coleman's addition and of Shakopee avenue, between Red Wing and Faribault streets was ordered under the charter provision which makes that possible without the filing of a petition. The estimated cost of the improvement is $5,591.57.

When the matter of awarding contracts for the grading of one block on West Eleventh street and constructing a sewer in Ninth street came up, Commissioner Voss objected on the ground that there is not sufficient money in the fund to meet the expense. On that showing the resolution was laid over for one week.

The communication of D. A. Reed, stating that the physical valuation of the Duluth-Edison company could be made for less than $7,000 was received. The subject did not bring up discussion.

The ordinance appropriating $6,359 for a water main in East First street, between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-third avenues was given its third reading and passed.

The application of Olson & Johnson for an extension of time for the completion of their contract for grading and paving the avenue was referred to the division of public works.

A petition was received for the improvement of East Sixth street, between Fifteenth and Eighteenth avenues and referred to the division of public works.

An ordinance appropriating $975 for ferry service at the aerial bridge was given its firstreading. The council confirmed its pretensions to being an emergency ordinance.

An ordinance appropriating $606 for a twelve-inch meter for the Woodland pumping station was given its first reading.

A large petition was presented against allowing A. L. Brewer to transfer his saloon to 6311 Grand avenue. It was laid over for one week.

The contract for furnishing glass in the city hall was awarded to Paine & Nixon. The price was $155.68.

Diaz 83 Years Old.

Biarritz, France, Sept. 16.—Porfiro Diaz, former president of Mexico, celebrated his 83rd birthday last night by a banquet attended by twenty-five intimate friends from various parts of Europe. The guests included his son, Porfirio Diaz, his nephew Felix, and others. The ex-president appeared to be in excellent health, despite his age.

Self Help For Nervous Persons

Much nervousness is caused by coffee drinking—eminent medical authorities having demonstrated that the coffee drug, caffeine, is a definite nerve poison to many persons.

Coffee has no food value whatever, and is a deceitful friend. Under its use the nerves first become irritated; then so sensitive and "on edge" that a slight variation from general health often appears most serious to its victim.

However, Nature responds quickly to common-sense treatment, and right living frequently does more than medicine. So, if you value peace and comfort, try this easy experiment.

Stop coffee entirely and have hot, well-made

POSTUM

This pure food-drink made from prime wheat has a Java-like flavor and a fine dark brown color which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added.

It contains the genuine nourishing elements of the grain, but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum must be boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a very palatable beverage instantly.

Thousands have been wonderfully benefiited by using Postum instead of coffee—

"There's a Reason"

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

PERSPIRING UPON ONE SIDE OF THE FACE

"E. M." asks: "What can I do for a sweating trouble which occurs on but one side of my face? The right side of my face always is perspiring, the latter coming out in huge drops."

Some time ago a patient came into my office with a complaint that everything tasted salty to him. Even sugar tasted like salt. This is one of the singular troubles of nervousness which cannot be cured by drugs. Your trouble belongs to the same class as the patient with the salty taste. The nerves supplying the left side of your face are being in some manner severely irritated, either at their roots or at the terminal filaments of the nerves, as they reach the blood vessels of your skin. The more you try to determine to overcome your annoyance the less success you will have. It is the same with stuttering. The more the stutterer tries to talk fast, the worse the words stick, and the worse he stumbles in his pronunciation. Do this: Determine at once to stop thinking about your peculiarity. Do not let anybody else cause you to talk about it, either. FORGET ABOUT PERSPIRATION. Quickly direct your thoughts to some subject which interests you. Your salvation will lie within yourself. Pick out the humorous and witty sayings in your newspaper. Study them and enjoy the relaxation of many a good laugh. Write again.

A CURE FOR IMPOTENT MEN.

I get many letters from men asking me to tell them of a cure for impaired virility. One man writes, "I was about to start for a certain medical institute in Missouri and try their treatment of SUGGESTION. They claim that this will cure my trouble."

The age, habits and possible cause for impaired virility are very various. One thing is quite sure, and that is that drugs cannot take the place of good thoughts. Occasionally glandular extracts are of aid for a time, but they alone will not do everything. Further, they have no permanent virtue in themselves. SUGGESTION is a powerful remedy. For example—some one may suggest to you that YOU CANNOT BE CURED. Immediately this idea in your mind starts to work its depressing effects. You get discouraged. Life looks gloomy. Along comes a man from Missouri and boldly declares YOU CAN BE CURED. He boldly tells you that HE HAS THE REMEDY. HIS REMEDY IS SUGGESTION AS USED BY HIM. His suggestion is particularly strengthened by his claims. Personally, I fail to see the necessity of going to some medical institute to obtain suggestion treatment unless you feel that the suggestion will be all the more valuable because it is given in a building termed an institute, in a room for which you pay money.

WHY NOT STRENGTHEN YOUR SUGGESTIVE POWERS AT HOME? Acquire self-confidence. Look things squarely in the eye. There is a hopeful side. It is easier than to be dwelling upon failure. Thrust out all ill-health pictures from your mind. Thrust them out as quickly as you would thrust a thief out from your house who was attempting to rob you. DEPEND UPON YOUR OWN INDIVIDUAL WILL POWER. THINK HEALTH, VIGOR, STRENGTH. Leaning upon the prop of an institution for the suggestion that you can recover your impaired virility strikes me as being unnecessary.

At bedtime do this: Fill an ordinary wash tub with cold water, even ice water. Sit in this for ten minutes. Do this every evening for two months. Do it faithfully. If you are not restored within this period, your urine and prostatic gland should be examined. If syphilis or gonorrhea have ever been contracted, be honest. Tell your doctor.

CHANGE IN GAME LAW CREATING CONFUSION.

Cumberland, Wis., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable complaint is being made by hunters on the change made in the partridge law, which changes the open season for partridges from Sept. 1 to Oct. 1 while the open season for prairie chickens is Sept. 7, as heretofore these birds have been protected both at the same time while the new law changing the dates affords considerable confusion to the hunters.

MADE TRIP TO PANAMA

Tell of Novel Ceremony in One of Canal Locks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shapiro of 617 Tenth avenue east returned yesterday from Panama, where a ceremonial was conducted by the Osman temple, Mystic Shriners, of St. Paul. More than 200 Shriners from all parts of the United States and Canada were in the party.

The trip was made under the auspices of Osman temple of St. Paul and was in direct charge of J. Harry Lewis, the potentate of the Saintly City lodge. Special permission was obtained from the United States government to hold a ceremonial in one of the locks, 170 candidates for the Shrine having been admitted on Labor day.

The Shriners gathered in the Mira Flores lock at 6 o'clock the morning of Labor day and there initiated the candidates with one of the most novel ceremonials in the history of fraternalism. United States soldiers kept the crowds away 200 yards from the canal, so that the secret work could be done by those in charge.

Mr. Shapiro is very much pleased with the trip and the reception given the members of the party in every city visited. The Shriners' club of Panama, which includes all the members of the fraternity now at work on the canal, entertained at a dinner and dance at the Tivoli club the day of the ceremonial.

"The entire trip must have cost Osman temple about $20,000," said Mr. Shapiro this morning. "The St. Paul lodge took along its patrol and band and also entertained the members of the party the entire time. A little shovel made of brass taken from the old steam shovels used by the French when they started on the canal was given to each Shriner in the party by the Shriners' club of Panama. The trip was a delightful one the entire way, most of the journey having been made by boat down the Mississippi to New Orleans and from there to Panama on one of the United States Fruit company's steamers."

Following the ceremonial Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro made a side trip to San Jose, which is about 5,000 feet above sea level. Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro were the only Duluthians in the party.

NO LIQUOR SOLD OR GIVEN AWAY

Saloon Owner Claims His Bartender Was Simply Cleaning Rooms.

That the arrest of James Stanley, his bartender, Sunday morning is an injustice is the claim of P. J. Hickey, proprietor of the saloon at 113 West First street. Stanley pleaded not guilty in police court yesterday morning in answer to a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. His case was set for Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hickey claims that Stanley had gone down to the saloon in the morning to clean the place for the resumption of business on Monday, as was his regular custom. While on the way to the saloon, Mr. Hickey states, Stanley met two of his friends and the two went to the saloon together.

It was while the two men were waiting in the back room until Stanley had finished his work, that the police entered and arrested the bartender. Mr. Hickey claims the bottles found were empty and had been on the table from the night before.

Stanley claims that he and the two men were going on a picnic Sunday afternoon and that the men were waiting until he had finished his work. He declares that he made no sale of liquor to the men, nor did he even give them any.

URGES CHURCH TO ADVERTISE

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the opening of the annual meeting this afternoon of the North Dakota Baptist Ministerial association, four days devoted to Baptist interests in the state were placed under way. About fifty pastors were here for the ministerial meeting, while the number of delegates attending the meeting of the general association, due to open tomorrow, will raise the number attending to about 150.

This morning a meeting of the executive committee of the conference was held, the final business of the year being checked up. Reports of this board will be submitted at the opening of the general association sessions tomorrow.

Baptists have come to regard advertising as a legitimate field, and the feature paper of the afternoon session of the ministers was by Rev. Bruce Jackson of Bismarck, who discussed methods of advertising the church and its various activities. He contended that the free use of the advertising columns of newspapers, window display cards, etc., had the effect of stirring up additional interest in church work.

"The Responsibility of the Pastor in Financial Matters" was discussed by Rev. A. E. Peterson; "How to Make Things Go in a Country Church" was the subject handled by Rev. L. MacKinnon of Calvin; "Discouragments and Encouragments in a Country Parish" were talked of by Rev. John Erickson of Kulm; Rev. C. A. Wicklund discussed "The Devotional Life of the Pastor," and Rev. A. M. Maffus of Fargo discussed "The Employment of the Sunday Evening Service for Evangelistic Purposes."

Dr. Frank Peterson of Minneapolis, Dr. L. C. Barnes of New York, Dr. T. L. Ketman of Chicago, and Rev. D. D. Proper of Omaha, Neb., are the principal speakers who will be here during the week.

Tonight the principal address will be by Rev. Proper, while Rev. G. W. Shepherd of Grand Forks will deliver the evangelistic sermon.

BUTTER AND CHEESE BETTER THAN GOLD

Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—More than all the gold mined each year in Colorado, California and Alaska is the worth of Wisconsin's dairy prospects, according to Prof. E. H. Farrington of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

And the Wisconsin dairyman eats better, sleeps better and lives longer than does the gold miner.

Dairying does not exhaust the soil fertility, and there will always be a good demand for milk, butter and cheese.

The dairy expert points out that since 1896 the dairy farms have doubled in value and the market prices for cheese and butter have more than doubled. In that time prices for city milk have risen from 81 cents to $1.68 a 100 pounds.

Milk products of Wisconsin, he says, have taken a rapid advance every five years between 1890 and 1910. The first step brought the value of milk products from $21,000,000 in 1890 to $36,000,000 in 1895. In 1900 the valuation was $40,000,000, in 1905 $60,000,000, and in 1910 $80,000,000.

Cheese production in Wisconsin has increased from 21 per cent to 46 per cent of the total product of the United States in 1910. This was about 160,000,000 pounds for the state.

Recently Lansford sent out invitations to the representatives of sixteen other towns and all have accepted. There is a great deal of enthusiasm over the plan and it seems certain to win. The soil in this loop country is exceptionally fertile and with the other great advantages this section has to offer it is thought there will be no difficulty in securing additional settlers and new business enterprises for all this section of the state.

WOMAN FIGHTS HER HUSBAND'S CREDITORS

Mott, N. D., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fierce attacks of Mrs. J. D. Sailer on five men who were attempting to haul away the grain belonging to her husband has created considerable excitement here. They claim she threatened them with a gun and struck them and the horses with a club. She insists they roughly used her. T. P. Ewald, J. S. Jungers, E. Herzog, P. Roth, Frank Landsedel are the men. They are all from Hebron. The latter four were assisting Ewald who had sold the land to Sailer and was after part of the crop. The appointment of a receiver further complicated matters. All the men were arrested and brought here where they gave bonds.

NEW BOX FACTORY FOR THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. W. Sharp of this city has purchased machinery and equipment for a paper box factory. He recently purchased the Home hotel building on North Atlantic avenue, just north of the Soo depot. A 30-foot addition will be built on the rear, which will make the building about 125 feet long and 30 feet wide. In addition to this the inside of the present structure will be very considerably changed and fitted up for the establishment of a first-class paper box factory and printing business.

The entire business will be incorporated for $50,000 with a paid-in capital stock of $30,000.

It is expected that business will be commenced in the new building about Oct. 1.

MINING CLUB PLANS PROGRAM FOR SEASON

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 16.—A change in plans of the Copper Country M. C. M. club for its series of fall and winter monthly meetings is announced. The first meeting will take place at the Houghton club the evening of Sept. 27. T. C. ARNEGARD MAY BE NEW G. N. TERMINAL.

Arnegard, N. D., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—That Arnegard will be the winter terminal of the Great Northern if the line is pushed across the river this winter is the local claim. It is said that representatives of the road have made this promise. The extension on this side depends upon the completion of the bridge over the Yellowstone and the 1,400-foot tunnel on this side. With that done either Watford or Arnegard will be reached. Arnegard, with its hotel facilities and other accommodations, offers more advantages than Watford for the accommodation of the public.

COPPER COUNTRY MAY EXHIBIT IN FRISCO.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 16.—It has been proposed that an elaborate exhibit be sent from the copper mining district of Northern Michigan to San Francisco in 1915 for the Panama exposition and it is likely that the proposition will be laid before the next meeting of the Copper Country Commercial club. In the iron districts of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin preparations are being made for sending mineral and metal exhibits and it is felt that the Michigan Copper country should not be behind those sections.

Jacques, as conductor of St. Cloud, was a success both in attendance and in the instructions offered. Nearly sixty-five members were in attendance representing every township in the county except Columbus and Linwood.

Rochester—Upon the complaint of Truant Officer Miller, August Anderson was charged in justice court with employing a lad under 16 years of age, who, according to law, should be in school and had no labor permit. Mr. Anderson plead guilty and paid a fine.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Pembina N. D.—One of five peace monuments that will be erected at points along the international boundary between the United States and Canada, commemorative of 100 years of peace, will be placed between Pembina, N. D., and Emerson, Man.

Bismarck, N. D.—Land Commissioner Frank S. Henry has named his deputy in the person of Henry L. Simmons of North Lemmon, Adams county, and the new appointee will take office Oct. 1. He is a son of the late Rev. H. C. Simmons, for many years president of Fargo college. For several years he has been a resident of Adams county, farming and engaged in the land business.

Fessenden, N. D.—The Oshkosh district near here is to give consolidated schools a trial and if the plan is a success will become united with Fessenden. Two rigs bring the children to school and the small rural school has been closed for the fall and winter. It is the first practical effort at school consolidation in this county.

Sheldon, N. D. — Miss Elizabeth Green is the only lady in Ransom county to take out a hunting license. She is athletic and an expert with a shotgun. Miss Green is assistant cashier in a local bank. Several other counties boast many women shooters but Miss Green is alone in that respect here.

Langdon, N. D.—A miniature cyclone struck the C. J. Bone threshing outfit and J. H. McGorman, who was in the cook car, is in the local hospital as a result of injuries sustained when the car was upset by the wind. The others escaped injury.

Minot, N. D.—Hit by a fast train while riding a speeder, L. Cox, aged 21, was seriously injured at Ralston, near here, but will recover. He was thrown fully twenty-five feet through the air, receiving several broken ribs and injuries about the back, hip and chest. He also was bruised over almost his entire body.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Word has been received to the effect that W. H. Irwin of Wheeling, W. Va., imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will be the guest of Kem temple of this city at the ceremonials to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 25. A large class will be given the work at that time and a banquet close the ceremonial.

Williston, N. D.—Thomas Halvorson, who lives fourteen miles north of Springbrook was the victim of a bad accident when his left foot was torn off at the ankle, following which the lower one-third of his leg had to be amputated. Halvorson made an attempt to jump from a wagon after the team had become frightened and started to run away.

Bismarck, N. D.—The new Commercial clubrooms in the Hinckley block on Fourth street will be ready for occupancy about Oct. 1, and the members plan a big jollification meeting for the occasion. There will be a big banquet served for the members in the new rooms and an invitation has been extended to one of the best speakers in Minneapolis to make the address of the evening.

Cavalier, N. D.—Isaac Moritz sold his home farm two and a half miles southeast of the city to Thomas Haukes of Iowa. The farm comprises a half section and the price paid by the purchaser was $18,000 or about $56.50 per acre. This is the highest price yet paid for farming land near Cavalier.

Escanaba—The West End Improvement association was made a permanent organization of Escanaba at an enthusiastic meeting of taxpayers residing in the western portion of the city. Dr. W. A. Le Mire was present and Taylor Peterson, secretary. Nearly 100 tax payers attended the meeting held at the Washington school building.

Houghton—John C. Mann, proprietor of the Douglass house and owner of the Manndale farm near Houghton, is gaining as much fame for the splendid Yellow Bantam sweet corn he is now shipping from his farm as he has won for his celebrated planked white fish. Chicago and Milwaukee hotels and the St. Paul diners are now serving this corn and their patrons are willing to pay big prices for it.

Escanaba—L. P. Barrett of Lansing, a member of the state geological survey department, visited the Mirror office at Escanaba and looked at the iron ore on exhibition there, a piece that was found on a farm near the city. Mr. Barrett explained that the ore is a piece of "float," probably deposited at the spot where it was found by the movement of a glacier some thousands of years ago.

Ontonagon — The Michigan Trust company of Grand Rapids, as receiver for the Ontonagon Lumber & Cedar company of Ontonagon, has completed collection of accounts receivable. It has also made payment of a final dividend of practically 10 per cent to all creditors, making the total dividends paid during the receivership 85 per cent.

Hancock — Announcement has been received in Hancock of the marriage on Thursday of last week of Miss Mamie Shanahan and Clarence Davenport in Detroit. Miss Shanahan formerly lived in Hancock, removing to the state metropolis a few years ago.

Chassell — Plans and specifications for the proposed new Knights of Pythias hall at Chassell are now in the hands of contractors. The bids will be opened next Saturday and the contract probably will be let at that time. The building is to be two stories in height, 88 by 40 feet in ground dimensions.

Calumet—Not the least of things affected by the strike are the two range musical organizations, known as the Copper Range band of Painesdale and the F. O. E. band of South Range. Both bands have been broken up as a result and their members scattered in all parts of the country. The F. O. E. band, the only band in the state whose members were all members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, has suffered the most. Only eight of its twenty-three members remain.

Hancock — The change in management of the Scott hotel, announced early last week, has been made and William Beilke, clerk at the hotel for the past four and one-half years has been installed as manager. Mr. Beilke succeeds William Deegan. Mr. Deegan and family have gone to Ironwood where they will visit for a short time.

Negaunee — The Rice Amusement company has secured a lease on the Bijou theater and after a thorough renovation will be opened on or about October 8. The management is planning on installing new opera chairs and renovating both the exterior and interior.

Ishpeming—The many friends of Luke Demerce and family in Ishpeming, were shocked to learn of his violent death, while at work in a machine shop at Fort William, Can. where he went some time ago. Just how Mr. Demerce was hurt was not learned but he died early Sunday morning. His family was preparing to go to him to make a permanent home at Fort William.

ADAMS AFTER FOOTBALL HONORS OF NORTHWEST

Triple A Aggregation, With What Promises to Be Its Strongest Team, Will Go After Independent Title.

Garry Is Going to Forsake the Giants---Does White Hope Moran Lack Courage? A Few Players Do Come Back.

BY BRUCE.

MANAGER Johnny Geistman of the Adams announced yesterday that the first game of the season will be played next Sunday at Athletic Park. The Tigers will be the opponents of the 1913 aggregation of the triple A forces, and this game will give the multitude of football fans of the city their first glimpse of what is expected to prove one of the fastest elevens of the Northwest.

Art Buchanan will be the leader of the Adams forces this season. The gigantic lineman is one of the greatest players in independent forces of the Northwest. This will be Art's third season with the Adams and it is expected to prove one of the best years of his pigskin career.

With Roberts, for several years the star quarter back with the Laurels of St. Paul, and Bradley, Stevens and several other crack men for candidates for places behind the line, the Adams should have one of the best backfields in the independent circles of the Northwest.

In the past our independent football efforts up this way have been confined to games between the teams of Duluth. The city championship was the highest goal that an eleven hereabouts aspired to.

Last season the Adams won the city cup for the third consecutive year and thereby acquired permanent possession of the trophy. This year will mark the first organized effort to bring the Northwestern independent football championship to the Head of Lake Superior—to the city side of the bay.

During the present season games will be scheduled with the strongest teams of the Twin Cities. If the Adams come through the present season unbeaten the team will have the right to claim the championship of this section of the country and to win the first leg in the cup contest.

Independent football is now taken with the same seriousness and enthusiasm as the interscholastic and intercollegiate sport. Those who can't find the opportunity to witness the sport played during the week days, find solace in the football of Sunday. It might also be remarked that yearly the habit here has been extended to the fans who are also generally found at the contests of the high school.

Present indications point to the best year in the history of the independent sport here—also the best quality of football.

He'll String With Dooin.

BYSTANDERS were surprised yesterday to hear that Garry, one of the most eminent of the baseball followers of these parts, will in the near future forsake the standard of McGraw and flock to the banner carried gloriously aloft by that intrepid and dauntless red-head, Charles Dooin.

For yars and yars it would seem Garry has led the legion of those who followed with enthusiasm and dollar bills in the proud and somewhat prosperous wake of Johnny McGraw. But the proud period of supremacy palls upon Garry and he longs for a change.

Not until after the completion of the world's series will Garry desert the phalanx of the little Napoleon; but with the fading of the memories of the series that the world impatiently awaits at the present time, the Giant bug will cast aside the baseball raiment of the past and eagerly enter the list of followers who will back Dooin for the pennant of 1914.

Thus do we find it in baseball as in life. No matter how brave, how bold, how successful a leader may be, there will be certain of his henchmen who will leap the traces and fling out in search of another leader to serve under.

Can it be that Garry scents the rout of the Giants in the coming tilt with the Mackmen?

Is Courage Acquired?

THERE are some who hold that it requireth neither courage or brains to engage in the profession of white hopeing. However we will let that pass for the moment. What we are trying to get at, is whether this Frank Moran has what was in the past generally considered as part of the fighting game—namely courage.

One night in Pittsburg, so the story goes, Kid Cotton, who quite unlike his name is not light nor white, but dark and heavy, was in the midst of a ring fracas with Moran. Suddenly Kid Cotton landed one that stung. Without further ceremony Moran fled the ring and there was no more of a fight for that evening.

Pursuing further on the trail of Moran's manners, we find that there was a suspicion as to his courage after the fight with Gunboat Smith. Some were mean enough to say that the devout desire to jump out of the ring greatly hampered the chances of Moran to keep his mind on the fight.

Some of the bouts that are pulled off nowadays, however, don't in the least require a high degree of courage and it may be that Moran will make the grade.

The Seldom Comeback.

RICHELIEU and some others set aloft the cry that in the lexicon of youth the word failure should be waived to the bush leagues. In shining youth, according to these eminent authorities, one should gain rung by rung the topmost resting place of the ladder of success.

Some men fail and then succeed through profiting by the mistakes of their downfall. Others of the countless horde possess neither the courage nor energy to attempt again the ascent of the cragged path to the mountain top, wherein the temple lodges the reward of the weary wayfarer.

In scanning the baseball pages we note Jim Vaughn, once a castoff of the New York Americans, is at the present time the leading pitcher of the National league.

In ninety cases out of 100 the back to the bushes sounds the death of dauntless ambition in the heart of the player. He takes survey of the situation, calculates the years that he may remain in the business, and generally strings along until the last dinky little league has refused longer to countenance his being.

But the others form the rule that proves the exception. Falkenberg, Cheney, Vaughn, Cravath and others have gone back after being consigned to the lower leagues, and they are playing better today than ever before.

Ambition, or an inexorable something that thrusts a man forward to his best efforts always, no matter how discouraging the conditions may be, has brought these chaps back to the big show, while others submissively accept their lot and follow it with docile steps to the end.

WINCHESTER

MODEL 1912

20 GAUGE

Light Weight

Hammerless Repeating Shotgun

This new Winchester is the lightest, strongest and handsomest repeating shotgun made. It weighs only about 5¾ pounds, yet it has surpassing strength, as all the metal parts are made of Nickel Steel, having about 50,000 pounds more tensile strength to the square inch than ordinary steel. The receiver is free from screws and unsightly pins to collect rust and dirt and work loose, and its solid breech, closed at the rear, makes it extremely safe. It operates and works with an ease and smoothness not found in similar guns of other makes. It is simple to load and unload, easy to take down, being separated into two parts quickly without tools. For pattern and penetration, it is fully up to the established Winchester standard of shooting quality, which has no superior.

Ask your dealer to show you one, or send to Winchester Repeating Arms Co., New Haven, Conn., for illustrated circular.

Boston, by a ninth inning rally, overcame a two-run lead in the first game and scored three runs, winning, 6 to 5, while Pittsburg took the second game, 6 to 1. Pittsburg found Rudolph for fifteen hits in the second game, while Adams held Boston to four. Boston's only run was scored on a walk to Smith and singles by Rudolph and Maranville in the eighth. The scores:

Play Thirteen Innings.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—New York defeated Chicago yesterday, 4 to 3, after a hard-fought battle which lasted thirteen innings. The winning run was scored by Fletcher. He opened the thirteenth for New York with a single and Burns beat out a bunt. Archer then tried to catch Fletcher napping off second base and his bad throw enabled Fletcher to reach third. He scored a minute later on Shafer's sacrifice fly. The league leaders had taken a two-run lead on singles by Snodgrass and Doyle, a sacrifice hit by Fletcher, a sacrifice fly by Burns and Shafer's single. The game seemed won until the ninth inning when the locals rallied. Schulte was hit by a pitched ball, but was forced by Phelan. Saier hit the first ball pitched to him for a home run, scoring Phelan ahead of him and tying the score. In the twelfth inning, New York again took the lead on Merkle's double and a single by Snodgrass, but Manager Evers' men tied it again on Saier's double, Good's out and Archer's single.

Leach argued with Umpire Klem on the calling of a third strike and was banished to the clubhouse. The score:

Ten-Inning Tie.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Cincinnati and Philadelphia played a tie, 2 to 2, in ten innings yesterday, darkness preventing further play. Rowan, a recruit from the Dayton club of the Central league, pitched excellent ball, although he was hit safely in every inning except the ninth. Rixey, who started for Philadelphia, was wild and was taken out at the beginning of the ninth inning and Alexander took his place. The latter allowed one run to be scored against him. Groh was the star of the game. He came to bat five times and made four hits, one of them a two-bagger, the other time being hit by the pitcher. Bates was put out of the game for questioning a strike called on him. The score:

Allows Three Hits.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—Young Cy Young pitched fine ball yesterday and the leaders won by a score of 3 to 2. All three Indianapolis pitchers worked in good form. Hughes stole home in the third, and when Casey threw the ball away in disgust over Murray's decision, Lewis also scored. The home club's share of the receipts were turned over to the members of the Milwaukee club. Manager Clark was presented with a check for $500 by the club owners when he came to bat his first time up. Score:

Easy for Millers.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 16.—The locals took a one-sided game from Columbus here yesterday by a score of 12 to 1. Davis was knocked out of the box early in the game, while his successor, Turner, was tendered a warm reception. Minneapolis hit the ball at will and scored as they pleased.

Olmstead was in great form and the visitors could do little with him. But four hits, one a home run, were made off his delivery. Score:

Minneapolis . . . 2 1 3 1 3 2 0 0 x	12	14	0

Colonels Are Blanked.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—St. Paul shut out Louisville, 4 to 0, yesterday. Rieger, for the home team, kept the hits well scattered. Three of St. Paul's six safeties were bunched in the first inning when the locals made three of their runs. Hinchman singled, Schreiber walked and Riggert scored both with a double and tallied himself on Scott's single. Score:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Athletics Win Out.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—Philadelphia and Cleveland played a see-saw game here yesterday, the Athletics winning, 8 to 6. The home team took the lead in the third inning by scoring four runs. Cleveland came back by scoring six runs in the fourth.

Philadelphia tied the game in the fifth on Baker being hit, his steal of second, Walsh's single and two wild pitches by Gregg. With the bases filled and one out in the seventh, Houck, who started to twirl in the fifth, was replaced by Bender, who retired two batsmen without a run being scored. Bender also retired his opponents in order in the last two innings, getting a record of five strike-outs. Philadelphia won the game in the seventh. Collins tripled and Gregg was succeeded by Steen. A wild pitch scored Collins, while Barry scored on an error by Chapman and Walsh's triple.

The feature of the fielding was a one-hand catch by Turner on which a double-play was made and Oldring's catch of a liner off Gregg's bat, on which Oldring ran to second base and made a double-play unassisted. Score:

Cleveland 0 0 0 6 0 0 0 0 0	6	8	2

Batteries—Gregg, Steen and O'Neil; Bush, Blank, Houck, Bender and Schang. Umpires—Dineen and Connolly.

Yankees Lose Out.

New York, Sept. 16.—Detroit, by winning from New York yesterday, 7 to 5, evened up the series here and prevented Chance's men from moving into seventh place. Detroit won in the ninth when Willett doubled with two out and drove in Gibson and Loudon. In five time up, Loudon got four bases on balls and was hit by Warhop. Willett pitched a good game for Detroit, but the locals made their six hits count. Fisher was ordered out of the game in the second for protesting called balls, and Warhop, who relieved him, was ineffective. Both catchers, Sweeney and McKee were injured, and had to retire. Manager Chance put two more recruits on his lineup yesterday—Outfielder Whiteman and Catcher Reynolds, both of Houston. Score:

New York 1 0 0 2 0 2 0 0 0	5	6	2

Boston Defeats Browns.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 16.—Timely batting by Rehg and Lewis enabled Boston to defeat St. Louis yesterday, 6 to 3. It was Lewis who drove in the local's first run in the opening inning. It was Rheg's triple with men on first and second bases which sent two more runs over the plate in the next inning and Rehg scored himself later on a wild pitch. In the sixth Lewis doubled after Speaker's single and steal, Speaker scoring. Lewis got his fourth hit out of as many times at the bat in the eighth inning but was forced at second by Gardner, who ultimately scored on Wagner's drive. A fumble by Rehg of Covington's grounder in the seventh inning put the batter on third and he scored St. Louis' first run on Wellman's out. Engel's muff of Yerkes' low throw in the ninth made Williams safe and triples by Covington and Balenti then sent in the visitors' final runs.

Manager Carrigan will be unable to play further this season, his middle finger of his throwing hand having been broken during today's game. Score:

St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2	3	9	0

Batteries—Wellman and Agnew; Collins and Carrigan, Cady. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

Senators Are Blanked.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Chicago took the second game from Washington yesterday by a score of 5 to 0. Although batted hard, the visitors bunched all six of their hits off Groom in the second, third and fourth innings, and these, coupled with an error, were good for five runs and the game. The locals could do nothing with Russell when hits meant runs.

Shaw, a recruit from York, Pa., relieved Groom with none out in the fourth, and held Chicago to one hit in five innings. Not a ball was batted to the outfield while he was on the mound. Love, from Atlanta, Ga., pitched the final inning for Washington and held Chicago scoreless.

Shanks, who returned to the game after being laid up with a sprained ankle, hurt his ankle again sliding into second base in the second inning and had to be carried off the field. It is doubtful if he will be able to play this season. A one-hand running catch by Collins up against the fence was the fielding feature of the game. Score:

Ray Fenton returned from Cleveland today, where he represented the Duluth Curling club as a delegate to the meeting of rink managers that resulted in the organization of the National Hockey association.

"It will result in one of the greatest boosts that the game has ever known," said Ray. "Not only will it result in great good to the game, but it will mean that Duluth will probably get some of the biggest contests of the country.

"The fellows down there were mighty well pleased over the Manley-McLennan cup. The trophy was shown at Cleveland and won the admiration of all the rink representatives.

"Under the new association all of the teams of the country will be classified and the championship of the different sections of the United States will be clearly defined. Under this plan there can be no dispute as to the rightful title holders and there will be no mixed claims.

"Another benefit growing out of the organization of the association, is that it is very probable that with a championship in view, and the teams of the different sections of the country properly classified as to their standing, the play for the national title will be brought about, while the contests leading up to this event will be keener and contested with a greater end in view."

OPEN GOLF MEET AT BROOKLINE

170 Entries, Including Amateurs and Professionals in Big Tournament.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 16.—Frost was still whitening the green sward of the famous course of the Country club when the first balls were driven across the old polo field today in the Nineteenth open golf championship of the United States. Despite the early hour there were several hundred spectators on the terraces of the club, many of whom had motored out for breakfast.

The field today was limited to half the entry list, which this year reached a record of 170. President S. C. Watson of the National association, and a mid-forenoon starter, was on hand early with other officials to see that each pair of professionals was followed by a scorer. In those pairs in which amateur and professional play together the former keeps the card without the assistance of an official. Besides the interest aroused by the presence of Vardon, Ray, Reid, Tellier and other foreign players, there was considerable speculation at the start today as to the probable standing on Friday of the three American-bred stars, all former caddies, John J. McDermott of Atlantic City, present title holder; Tom McNamara of Boston, and M. Brady of Wollaston, all of whom played in the British championship at Hoylake early in the year.

The starters will play a double round of the course and then wait a day while the second division of the field has its innings tomorrow.

On Thursday the best thirty-two scores in each day will start in the customary 72-hole medal play contest for the championship.

ANDREWS WINS TWO RACES AT DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—Large fields, close finishes and two brilliant victories of horses driven by Andrews marked the opening yesterday of a five-day Grand Circuit harness meeting held in connection with the fair. Fast time was made in several heats, and in the

Racine, Wis., Sept. 16.—Referee Louie Hagey stopped the Sheridan-White go here last night in the second round of a scheduled 10-round affair, after Sheridan had risen from the canvas in an apparently helpless condition. White jabbed Sheridan's head back with a short right and crossed with a hard left hook to the jaw, putting the Irishman down for the count of nine. Sheridan arose and made an effort to continue, but Hagey ruled him out. It was apparent that Sheridan could not continue.

Young Sennell fought an 8-round draw with Artie Armstrong in the semi-windup, the former fighting an uphill battle from the sixth and getting an ever break on his forcing tactics in the final round.

As expected, Directum I, making his debut on a Western track, romped away with the 2:05 pace. Pressed for a time in the first heat by Flower Direct, the sensational pacer came to the front in the stretch and flashed under the wire without exerting himself. The second and final heat was all Directum's. He made the last quarter mile in 29¼ seconds against a stiff breeze, and won the heat in 2:03¾.

Marta Bellini, the favorite, was beaten in the 2:20 trot. The brown mare took the first heat, and in the second she was leading in the stretch when she broke. Westerville Girl, driven by Andrews, passed her and then took the succeeding heats.

Andrews twice guided Newzell to victory in the 2:09 trot. The gelding took the first heat from Derby Boy, but in the second was pushed to the limit by Lady Grattan. The time for this heat was 2:08½ as compared with 2:09¼ for the first.

BEELL AND YOKEL NOT TO MEET AT 158 POUNDS.

The morning paper speaks of the prospective Beell-Yokel match as one involving the middleweight title of the world. The statement is erroneous. Beell can no longer make the middleweight limit, 158 pounds, as was proven in his contest here last winter with Walter Miller, and if the little wonder of Marshfield ever crawls into the ring with the great Mike Yokel it will be with the agreement that the men meet at catch weights. It is believed that there would be after all very little difference in the weight of the two men, as Yokel in the past year has found it very difficult to make the middleweight limit.

OPEN GOLF PLAY STARTS AT BROOKLINE

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 16.—After being the scene of two weeks of hard practice culminating in almost continuous play yesterday, the picturesque golf course of the Country club was swept and dusted and its eighteen holes replaced for the twenty-fourth open golf championship of the United States which starts today.

The entry list of 169 players is the largest in the history of this event. Among the starters will be players from England, France, Mexico and Canada as well as from this country. John D. McDermott of Atlantic City, an Irishman by birth, but a product of the American caddy school of golf, will depend his title won for the second time at Buffalo last year.

TWIN CITIES ARE DROPPED

Fargo and Fort William Admitted to the Northern League.

Burmeister Chosen as President for Term of Three Years.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 16. — The Minneapolis and La Crosse franchises in the Northern league were transferred to Fargo and Fort William-Port Arthur, Ont., respectively, and John Burmeister of Minneapolis was re-elected president of the league for a term of three years at a meeting here yesterday of the league magnates.

The question of dropping Winona from the league and placing a team in some Northern town, either in North Dakota or Canada, was not settled, final action being deferred until the next meeting of the directors.

Details of the transference of the franchises were not completed, but tentative plans would take their ownership entirely out of the hands of the Twin City men and who now control them. The La Crosse franchise, which was placed in St. Paul at the opening of the season, but transferred to La Crosse for want of financial support, will be owned jointly by Fort William and Port Arthur interests.

MINNESOTA SHIFT STAR NEBRASKA PLAY.

Lawrence, Kan., Sept. 16.—First football practice of the season was held in McCook field by the Kansas university squad this afternoon. With seven "K" men back for another year Coach Arthur St. Lege Mosse was very optimistic. The first week will be taken up with the fundamentals of the game.

The Minnesota shift is scheduled to be the Kansans' strong point again this year. This play was brought to Lawrence by Leonard Frank, assistant coach, proving a success last year and the work of perfecting it will be begun soon.

MILITIA COMPANIES TO HOLD AN OPEN SHOOT.

There will be an open shoot under the auspices of the militia on the militia rifle range next Sunday. This is an open event and all that is required to enter the competition is a rifle, ammunition and $1, the price of the entrance fee. The target distances will be 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. It is expected that the crack shots of the city will take advantage of this opportunity and enter into competition with some of the cracks of the militia companies. This will bring together the very best of the shots of Duluth.

BASEBALL GAME MUST BE RESUMED

Contest Forfeited By Umpire Ordered Completed By League Directors.

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—Establishing a precedent, the board of directors of the National league last night ordered the game between the New York and Philadelphia National league clubs played on Aug. 30, finished on Oct. 2, with the same men in the field and the same status existing as on the day Umpire Brennan awarded the game to New York on account of the spectators' alleged interfering with the batters.

At the time the game was called there was a man on base, one man out and a ball on the batter, with the score standing 8 to 6 in favor of Philadelphia. This same situation with the same men in the field and at the bat, is expected to be produced again, and the game finished.

President Lynch was sustained in reversing the decision of Umpire Brennan who awarded the game to New York illegally as there is nothing in the rules which gave him the right to do this.

SCOTT TO MEET SLUGGER MISKE

According to the announcement made yesterday the Superior Athletic club will stage a contest between Billy Miske of St. Paul and "Steamboat Bill" Scott of Buffalo at the new arena across the bay on the evening of Sept. 30.

Jimmy Murphy of Chicago, who fought Pal Brown upon an auspicious occasion in this city, will go on in the semi-windup with Steve Gardner of this town. The rules governing the semi-windup require that both boys weigh in at 133 pounds.

Curly Ulrich announced that the rules of the Wisconsin law do not require that boxers shall break clean, despite the fact that in the last bout across the bay all of the boys were quickly separated by the referee when they showed the least inclination to do any effective work in the clinches.

If this is true, one is at a loss to understand why the clean break provision.

According to Ulrich, the Marquis of Queensberry rules require the boxers to protect themselves at all times.

"I am not going to have the boys that box for me wear eight ounce gloves," said Ulrich yesterday. "I am not going to have champions either, for you may have noticed that champions never hurt themselves trying to box. Miske and Bill Scott are boxers who will meet in the center of the ring and slug from gong to gong. They will give the crowd its money's worth. Miske is a comer, a boy Tommy Gibbons isn't anxious to meet, and Scott is one of the hardest hitters of the East. I figure that this will be a real bout."

DULUTH CLUB IS ADMITTED

Local Organization Becomes Member of Central Athletic Union.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Officers were elected and several new clubs admitted to membership at the annual meeting of the Central Association of Amateur Athletic Union here last night. The following officers were elected:

Among the new clubs admitted were the Michigan Athletic club, Detroit; Interlake Yachting association, Put-In-Bay, Ohio; West Side Commercial club and Minnesota Athletic club, Minneapolis; Greater Duluth Athletic club, Duluth, and the Milwaukee Canoe association, Milwaukee.

DRAFT SEASON IS OPENED

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16.—One hundred and eight minor league players were elevated to the major leagues via the draft route yesterday. The American league obtained 67 players and the National league annexed 41 at the drawing made before the national baseball commission.

The St. Louis American league club was by far the luciciest in the drawing, getting 30 players, more than one-fourth of the total number obtained by all major league teams; the Cincinnati team was second, with 11; the Chicago Americans came next with 10, Detroit with 9, the Philadelphia Americans and the Boston Nationals had 8 each, Brooklyn obtained 7, Boston Americans 5, New York Nationals 5, Chicago Nationals 4, Philadelphia Nationals 3, Cleveland and Pittsburg and New York Americans got 2 each, while Washington and the St. Louis Nationals obtained 1 each.

The drawing of the major league teams for Class AA., and Class A. players resulted as follows:

St. Louis Americans, 8; Detroit Americans and Boston Nationals, 6 each; Brooklyn and Chicago Nationals, 3 each; Chicago American and Cleveland American 2 each; New York Americans, Washington, Philadelphia and Cincinnati 1 each.

Owing to a new national commission rule, stipulating that the major league club drawing for players from a minor league club must be selected by lot before the player is drawn, those to be obtained by the major from Class A, and Class AA, will not be officially announced until today. A resolution by President Ebbets of the Brooklyn National league club was submitted. It aims to revise the drafting rules so as to give the teams which are lowest in the league races the chance to obtain first call on the player that are drafted.

Among drafts allowed from various leagues are:

Ashley, Ludington, Mich., to Chicago Americans; Becker, Kalamazoo, Mich., to St. Louis Americans.

By Chicago Americans, Graham of Appleton, Wis.

Detroit obtained Schreiber of Duluth, Minn.

Pittsburg obtained Kelly of Great Falls, Mont.

REAL STRUGGLE AT DETROIT MEET.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 16.—The most important event on today's Grand Circuit racing program at the Michigan state fair was the 2:12 pace for a $5,000 purse. While there were only four starters in this race, a real struggle was expected. Frank Bogash, Jr., winner of the Chamber of Commerce stake at the recent Blue Ribbon meeting here, was to again meet Leata J. These two horses have participated in more than one memorable battle on mile tracks.

The other races were the 2:14 trot, 2:07 trot and a pace for 3-year-olds.

CARRIGAN HURT BY THROWN BALL.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 16.—The Boston Americans will be without the playing assistance of Manager Carrigan as a result of an accident yesterday when he had the middle finger of his throwing hand broken in the game with St. Louis. Carrigan will be unable to play again this season. The accident happened in the seventh inning when Covington dashed for home and Engle threw to get him at the plate. The ball hit Carrigan's finger.

"RUN BIGGER CARS WITH SMALL CREWS"

Statistics on Railroad Methods Are Presented to Arbitrators.

New York, Sept. 16.—Arbitrators who will decide the wage dispute of the fifty-two eastern railroads and trainmen have received statistics indicating that the roads have increased the size and capacity of freight cars without increasing the cost of operation. The witness was Dr. Frank J. Warne, professor of economics at the University of Pennsylvania. The employes will use his figures to argue that either train crews should have been increased or wages raised.

"Good times are bad times for trainmen," said Dr. Warne. "That is, when the roads enjoy good times of heavy traffic the number of employes is increased and the increase in traffic means an increase in the number of accidents. Statistics show that when the number of employes is increased, accidents increase. This tendency of increased prosperity resulting in greater risk to the employes, is deserving of serious attention at this time because of the fact that the railroads of the country are entering upon such a period."

PREXY IS INDICTED FOR SPANKING FATHER

Rev. Hanley Accused of Assault and Battery By Parent.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 16.—Rev. E. M. Hanley, president of Franklin college, was indicted by the Vigo county grand jury yesterday on a charge of assault and battery growing out of his attack on his father, Calvin Hanley, last Thursday. President Hanley is said to be at Franklin, Ind., and Rev. C. M. Parker, a member of the board of trustees of the institution, told court officials that he would appear when wanted.

The alleged assault on Calvin Hanley occurred at his home near Middletown, Ind., when it was charged, the minister attacked his father because of remarks made to his daughter-in-law and on account of treatment accorded his mother, to which the son objected. The father told neighbors that he had been beaten with a club and kicked by Dr. Hanley.

Have Made Up.

President Hanley asserted that he had not beaten his father, but had "switched and spanked" his parent for ill-treatment of his mother and other members of his family. He said that he should have taken a hand in the matter years before.

Returning to Terre Haute Saturday, Rev. Mr. Hanley went to his father's farm, where a reconciliation is said to have taken place. Then it was said the father begged forgiveness for his actions and the son, kneeling before his parent, asked his blessing and both pledged themselves to forget the incident.

Rev. Mr. Hanley is regarded as one of the leading Baptist ministers of the country, having held important posts at Cleveland, Ohio, and Providence, R. I.

LUTHERANS WILL RAISE $10,000,000.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 16.—As part of a celebration in 1917 of the 400th anniversary of the Reformation, the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran church today adopted a resolution to raise $2,000,000 for the minister's pension fund and missionary work. The jubilee committee of the council will co-operate with other general Lutheran bodies in this country to unite in making a total fund of $10,000,000.

The general council approved the plan of devoting half a day a week to religious instruction in public schools.

Johnson's trial on the Milwaukee cases of his indictments under the Mann act is set for October.

HEAR TOM MANN TURN FIRE UPON GOMPERS

Fifty I. W. W. Delegates Attend Convention in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Fifty delegates declaring they represented a vast army of unskilled workmen attended the opening session of the convention of the Industrial Workers of the World here yesterday.

"Gompers is a pure reactionary," he said, "and has gotten far away from a sympathetic understanding with the needs of the great army of borne down, unskilled laborers.

"He is virtually at the head of the 'American Labor trust.' Instead of welcoming into its membership all who need the benefits of organization, the 'Labor trust' draws a sharp line, excluding the unskilled.

"If the aims of any right movement, ultimate emancipation of the workingmen, are to be conserved, all workers, skilled and unskilled, must be welcomed."

RECEIVERS FOR THREE MORE COAL COMPANIES

Lawyer Says New Freight Rule Caused Their Insolvency.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Acting on the petition of creditors, Federal Judge Carpenter has appointed Fred A. Busse and T. J. O'Gara receivers for the Middle States Coal company, the Vivian Collieries company, and the Imperial Mining company, Illinois corporations with mines at Harrisburg, Ill., and whose liabilities as are said to aggregate $1,000,000.

The same receivers were named for the O'Gara Coal company, the Harrisburg Big Muddy Coal company and the Harrisburg Saline Con collieries, whose liabilities amount to $1,500,000, last Saturday. All of the corporations are said to be controlled by the same interests.

Attorney Eldridge Hancey, counsel for the creditors, said that the insolvency of the corporations was brought about by the new rule promulgated by the interstate commerce commission in July requiring railroads to insist upon the payment of their freight bills within thirty days.

THOUSANDS SEE AVIATOR KILLED.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 16.—Max Lillie, aviator, was killed in a flight at the Galesburg district fair yesterday. Lillie's biplane was overturned by a gust of wind when several hundred feet in the air, and the aviator was hurled to the ground with the machine after him. He died within a few seconds after spectators reached him. The accident occurred before several thousand persons.

The accident was due to the collapse of a wing as Lillie was making a turn. Frequent flights of the machine had weakened the wing and it broke off as though it were made of paper.

Mrs. Lillie was in the grandstand watching her husband's performance. She fainted when she saw him fall. The aviator was crushed by the heavy engine, which broke nearly every bone in his body.

ERUPTION ON ANKLE GREAT SUFFERING

Many Nights Did Not Sleep. Burned All the Time. Wore Bandage Night and Day. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Well.

Kingsville, Mo. — "My trouble began eighteen years ago. Nearly half of the time there were running sores around my ankle; sometimes it would be two years at a time before they were healed. There were many nights I did not sleep because of the great suffering. The sores were deep running ones and so sore that I could not bear for anything to touch them. They would burn all the time and sting like a lot of bees were confined around my ankle. I could not bear to scratch it, it was always so sensitive to the touch. I could not let my clothes touch it. The skin was very red. I made what I called a cap out of white felt, blotting paper and soft white cloth to hold it in shape. This I wore night and day.

"I tried many remedies for most of the eighteen years with no effect. Last summer when my ankle had been sore for over a year and much worse than ever before I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It would itch and burn, besides a great hurting that I think tongue could never explain. The very first time I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment I gained relief; they relieved the pain right then. It was three months from the time I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment until the sores were entirely healed. I have not been troubled since." (Signed) Mrs. Charles E. Brooke, Oct. 22, 1912.

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEW CHARTER FOR EVELETH

City Council Will Consider Draft of Proposed Constitution.

Document May Be Submitted to Voters—Present Law Obsolete.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second draft of a new home rule charter for Eveleth will be presented to the city council at a regular meeting of that body this evening. The charter board completed its labors begun a couple of weeks ago to revise the first draft, defeated a year ago, to overcome some of the objections raised by its opponents. A copy of the instrument was submitted to Mayor Saari Monday and he in turn will turn it over to the council.

Should the council decide to submit to the voters the question of its adoption, a special election will be called forthwith.

At the present time the city is governed by an antiquated, incomplete general law charter that was framed by the state legislature in the session of 1895, eighteen years ago.

In many ways it does not fill the requirements of the city at this time, and worse still, the original law has been amended so many times that even the attorneys confess their inability to figure out just what is law and what is not. Such is the case even now, in the matter of proceeding with the paving of Adams avenue.

Realizing that a new charter, giving Eveleth the right to govern itself, was badly needed, public spirited citizens and taxpayers have been working for several years to have a new home rule charter adopted to take the place of what we now have.

Finally, about two years ago, a charter commission was appointed by the district court and this commission was given power to draft a new charter and submit the same to the voters. The commission spent the greater part of the winter of 1911-12 in working out a charter, and it was submitted to vote in the spring of 1912. Unfortunately, however, the period between the presentation of the instrument in printed form and the election did not give the public sufficient time to carefully consider the question, and in consequence charging opposition on the part of a few local politicians served to prejudice the uninformed voters against it and its adoption was defeated.

But the demand for a home rule charter did not end with the voting down of the first draft. The charter commission felt that they had done the best they could and were disposed to let the matter end there, but a large portion of the taxpayers of the city began to urge the board to continue its work. Finally the Commercial club took the matter up and formally requested the commission to meet and submit again a home rule charter, altered somewhat to overcome the principal objections urged against the first draft.

VIRGINIA SKI CLUB AFTER NEW SLIDE

Organization Negotiating With Mining Company for Desirable Site.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. O. Johnson of the Virginia Ski club is negotiating with Supt. R. J. Mitchell of the Eveleth district of the Oliver Iron Mining company for a lease on grounds owned by the steel corporation near the Missabe railway tracks between Eveleth and Virginia. No ore underlies the land in question. The club members desire it for a site for the new ski slide.

CHISHOLM WILL SPEND $300,000

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council passed a tax levy of $270,000 for the ensuing year late yesterday afternoon. The fiscal year ends March 31 and begins April 1 next, the levy made today will be at the disposal of the new council which takes its seat in office the latter part of March. With the local receipts, the city's income will be slightly over the $300,000 mark.

The indebtedness at the beginning of this fiscal year was around $25,000, but it is estimated that by March 31 it will be around the $125,000 mark.

Many improvements have been forced upon the council which are permanent and will not have to be duplicated for a good many years. Equipment for doing its own paving work by the city has been purchased and will be a factor in keeping down the expense next year.

The water and light board will ask for approximately $60,000 to carry on its work and the up-keep of the departments, and the library board will ask for $6,000 for maintaining the library. These two items were included in the tax levy.

The present council believes that the incoming council next March will allow the cancellation of all outstanding debt and provide for improvements as well.

An ordinance to the Mesaba Telephone company was passed permitting it to construct transmission lines through certain alleys which permit the company to furnish power to the cities to the west of Chisholm.

ITASCA LANDS ARE BEING SNAPPED UP

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 16. —(Special to The Herald.)—The September sale of state lands in Itasca county was held at the courthouse yesterday and 1,621 acres were disposed of. This is one of the largest sellings of the series, and is thought to be due to the cooler weather, which makes it easier for prospective customers to view the land, and also to the fact that the new roads to be built by the county will open up much of the country that has hitherto been difficult of access.

Charles O. and Mathilde Peterson of Lake Elmo purchased the largest holding, 651 acres. The other purchasers were: Nels Lind of Keron, Iowa; Alexander Edner, Elmer Edner, Alice Edner and Adolph Edner, all of Marble; Andrew Bagley of Liepold, Frank Dreary of Nashwauk, Warna Lerea of Bovey, Emil Nurmi of Bovey, Warren Poppe of Marble, Michael A. Keating of Rosy, Keaton Willes of Deer River, and Margaret Livingstone of Duluth.

GRAND RAPIDS JAIL SUITS BILL KELLY

Coleraine Man Pesters Sheriff Riley Until He Is Locked Up.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Kelly of Coleraine, finished serving a term of thirty days for drunkenness in the county jail Saturday, and this morning was reposing again in his old cell, with a sentence of sixty days for the same offense looking him in the face.

Kelly was released Saturday afternoon, and instead of taking the gentle hint passed out to him by Sheriff Riley, immediately started for the nearest saloon, and insisted upon imbibing. Later he became ugly and started out to find Sheriff Riley. When he did find him, he told the sheriff just what he thought of him, but the sheriff was good natured and refused to become angry. Finally the man became so excited that he insisted upon following the sheriff, who finally decided that the only thing to do was to take his ex-prisoner back to the jail. Kelly was arraigned in justice's court this morning, and was sent over for the next sixty days.

FIND BLUE HEMITITE IN VERMILION MINE.

Tower, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials of the North American Iron Mining company report the discovery of a small vein of blue hematite ore on the company's property at the 400-foot level. They assert that the main ore body is lower. The ore found is of much the same general appearance as that of the Zenith mine at Ely.

Developments at this property have been at an interesting stage for several weeks and Supt. T. J. Walsh is confident that the ore at a lower depth will be as high grade as in any of the Vermilion range properties.

FACES LONG JAIL TERM ON PETTY THEFT CHARGE

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Saari of Deer River was brought here on the afternoon train charged with stealing an Ingersoll dollar watch and seven cents in money from James Johnson, also of Deer River. He was bound over from justice court to the grand jury, and in default of bail was lodged in the county jail. The grand jury has been dismissed for the present sitting of court, and unless Saari decides to plead guilty to the charge he will, in all probability, remain in jail until the next sitting of the grand jury in March, 1914.

MORE BALL GAMES FOR GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph O'Day, manager of the Grand Rapids baseball team, this afternoon gave out the following list of games, already scheduled for the fall series of football games: Bemidji at Grand Rapids, Chisholm at Grand Rapids, the Adams of Duluth at Grand Rapids, and Virginia at Grand Rapids. The latter three games have not, at the present time, been scheduled by date but agreements have been made by the managers to allow the local team the games. The Bemidji game, however, will be played Sept. 28.

VIRGINIA HEBREWS FORM SOCIAL CLUB

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Jewish Social club was organized yesterday afternoon with the following officers: Hiram Lewis, president; Joseph Milavetz, secretary; Evelyn Shanedling, treasurer; Ernest Lippman, sergeant-at-arms. The organization consists of young folks who will hold weekly meetings. The initial gathering will be held at the home of Miss Ray Lewis of Central avenue Friday evening.

Luxury for Virginia Man.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new private car, the "Virginia," has arrived here for S. J. Cusson, general manager for the Virginia & Rainy Lake company. It is one of the finest that is produced from the shops of the Pullman company in Chicago. It has eight berths, culinary and dining departments and an observation division.

Virginia Chief Home.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Stickney, fire chief, has returned from New York, where he attended the forty-first annual convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Chief Stickney was well pleased with the meeting and met fire chiefs from Egypt, Berlin and London.

STOCKPILES ARE VANISHING FAST

Ely, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The present shipping season has cleaned out the stockpiles at the different mines here more closely than they have for several years. The stockpiles at the Pioneer, A shaft, the Pioneer B shaft, the Zenith shaft, and the Sibley-Sibley shaft have been entirely cleaned up and shipped down the lakes. Small stockpiles remain at the Savoy shaft and at the Sibley-Jura shaft, but only a few days of heavy shipping remain there. The ore from these two shafts is of a lower grade than that from the stockpiles already cleaned, and as a result do not move so quickly, but there will remain but little of either stockpile by the close of the present shipping season.

The Chandler mine is rushing the shipments from its stockpiles here this week, and has secured a steam shovel and crew from the Oliver Mining company for the balance of the shipping season. The company expects to finish its stockpile by the close of the season.

The cleaning up of the stockpiles on the mines here assures Ely working men of a busy and prosperous season during the coming winter months, and promises well for the general prosperity of the community.

About two years ago a new system of mining was introduced into the mines here. Previously the caving system was used, gravitation being followed in the mining operations. This method was found to be wasteful, the overburden falling in and making the securing of all the ore almost impossible, and leaving in the ground large quantities of ore. But little ore was handled with the shovel under the old plan. Now the slicing system has been installed, making it possible to mine all the ore, leaving no waste, and saving in ore to the companies operating on the range many hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. Under the present system practically all the ore must be shoveled.

HIBBING AUTO HIT BY TROLLEY CAR

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Five Hibbing men narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a trolley car at Buhl. The auto was thrown into the ditch and partially overturned. The occupants remained in the auto and came through with minor bruises.

William Messner was driving at the time of the accident. The others were John Messner, Percy Webster, Dr. St. Julian and Robert Taylor.

The party was motoring to Duluth. Following the collision, the trip was abandoned.

BEAR RIVER HOLDS CHISHOLM TO A TIE

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Assembling at the Spina & Hubin drug store at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, a crowd of Chisholm boosters took to automobiles shortly afterward bound for the hospitable Bear river country and enjoyed a day's outing that will long be remembered by those taking part.

The trip occupied an hour and a half, at the conclusion of which a dinner prepared by Mrs. Prixley to the order of the Bear River Baseball club for its guests was partaken of.

At 3 o'clock the Bear River Cubs and the Chisholm Boosters lined up for honors of the diamond, the local team going to bat. The Chisholm Boosters were represented by Judge William Masters, Sorby, McLaughlin, Osbalt, Alex McDonald, Hubin, Joe Conley, Menty Tramontin and Pakkerlanen. The honor of Bear River was defended by Wold, E. Olson, Eliason, Block, O. J. Oleson, Knutson, Hill, Bartlett and Stram. Henry Pinkey accepted the responsible position of umpire.

The game ended in a tie, both sides scoring six runs. A large attendance of spectators enjoyed the excitement and fun of the game.

COHASSET PASTOR TAKES NEW CHARGE.

Cohasset, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. D. St. Burgess, pastor of the Christian church, who resigned his pastorate a few weeks ago, left today for his new pastorate in Rochester, Minn., where he will immediately assume his new duties. Mrs. Burgess and the children who have been spending the past few weeks with relatives and friends in the southern part of the state will soon join Mr. Burgess, and they expect to be settled in their new home within the next two weeks.

CHISHOLMITES PREFER HOME PICNIC GROUNDS

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The proposal to locate a picnic grounds midway between Chisholm and Hibbing meets with very little encouragement from this end of the line. The Chisholm village council has just purchased a splendid park on the shores of Longyear lake that will serve all the purposes required for picnicking, athletic sports and, when the lake is improved, aquatic sports as well. The park is situated convenient to Chisholm and the payment of fares to the Missabe Railroad company for Sunday outings is therefore eliminated. The record attendance at the F. O. E. barbecue shows that a picnic ground close to the centers of population is popular. The picnics at Minross park are slimly attended. The F. E. outing was held close to Chisholm.

LEC QUYER MURDER CASE WITH JURY

Defendant Completes His Testimony and Jury Retires at Noon.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Homer Lec Quyer, who is charged with the murder of Louis Fernie, finished his testimony this morning after telling his own story. Arguments were then made by the county and defendant's attorney. The jury retired to consider the case at 12:30. The defendant was a little embarrassed by Prosecuting Attorney Greene's cross-examination. Court remained in session a part of the noon hour to get the case to the jury.

Les Quyer walked to the stand with a sprightly step, looked about the court room and at the jurors in an open and free manner and answered questions in the loud tone he has acquired by several years of work in the woods and out of doors. He said he was born at Lake Linden, Mich., and spent his boyhood there but never went to school and could neither read nor write. Lec Quyer stated he came to Duluth nearly twenty years ago and had worked in or about Duluth or in the woods in the northern part of the state ever since, never going home nor hearing from his people. He thinks his mother resides with a brother at Aurora, Ill. He worked in Duluth at the Jean Duluth stock farm and for Paddy McDonnell, contractor.

The state had laid great stress on the finding of blood on Lec Quyer's hat, on his suspenders and in the pocket of his trousers. Dr. Martin of Duluth said this was not the blood of fish as Lec Quyer is said to have stated when he was asked to explain at the time of Louis Fernie's death. Testifying on the stand Les Quyer stated he had cut his thumb while opening a can of beans with a knife, that it had bled profusely when the cut was fresh and had opened and bled several times afterward. He also said he frequently had nosebleed. He also testified that the remains of a tin lamp or torch which was found near the body of the man who was killed was not the kind of lamp he had in the tent.

VIRGINIA YOUTHS TO PLAY BASKET BALL.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Basket ball is to be popular in Virginia this winter. There will be several teams in the high school and the Mohami team, including several of the players on the baseball team will organize again. There will also be a city team and all these will be open for challenges from other towns.

Chisholm Is Victor.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—International Falls returned Chisholm's visit Sunday, playing baseball at the local park in the afternoon. The Falls boys brought their band and kept things lively during their stay. They won the hearts of the Chisholm people and will be given a hearty welcome again at any time they care to come back. The two towns through their baseball teams and bands have become very friendly the past season and the 7 to 0 trimming that the Chisholm team gave them partly paid for the loss of the three games that the Chisholm team suffered at their hands when they played recently.

WINTON BALL TEAM TOO STRONG FOR ELY.

Winton, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ely met defeat here Sunday in a one-sided, although interesting, game of baseball, the score being 9 to 1.

Schmirler was on the mound for Winton, pitching steady ball, holding the visitors to four hits, and struck out ten men. Gianotti, who twirled for Ely, was less effective, the locals securing fifteen hits off his delivery, which together with five errors on the part of his teammates, netted Winton nine runs. The feature of the game was a home run by Campbell of Winton. Aside from this many spectacular plays were pulled off. The following is the score:

E. church of this city, is away attending the annual conference of the church at Milwaukee and will be absent from the city for two weeks. The Virginia church is the only representative of the Norwegian M. E. body on the range, although Mr. Winberg holds mission services in other towns.

Ely, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Theodore Maki, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Maki, who was shot accidentally last Saturday, was held today from the Finnish Lutheran church here at 2 o'clock. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hervi. Theodore was a pupil at the Central school, being in the fourth grade.

The Gilbert team is composed of the following players: Sams, Nodan, Ercul, Matt, Indihar, Shean, Tibbetts, Tinnezona, Rock, Postalo, Kickerle, Freeman, Gulan, Martin.

PLAN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Socialists of State Will Energetically Spread Propaganda During Winter.

Will Have Organization in Every City and Town in Minnesota.

The Socialists of Minnesota are planning an active fall and winter in the way of spreading the propaganda of their party or creed throughout the state and to that end are organizing minutely in every city, town and district of the state so that the gospel of Socialism may reach everywhere.

In this connection they are feeling elated over the fact that during August the records of the party show that in the nation as a whole there was an increase of 5,000 dues-paying members of the party, and that the information department of the national party in charge of Carl Thompson, formerly city clerk of Milwaukee, is meeting with unlooked for success.

The officers of the party in St. Paul, directing the work in this state, are in charge of T. E. Latimer, secretary, and the woman's department is in charge of Mrs. Elsie Henry Latimer. They are in touch with over 100 country newspapers, to which they will furnish plate matter, and in dealing with Socialistic philosophy and in this way they expect to reach 100,000 people. The routing of speakers is now going on and will be ready about Oct. 1. Most of them will be assigned to the country districts. The women's department is active in organizing locals all over the state and this year has organized or is organizing over 200 locals, mostly in the rural districts.

In Duluth the English local has a membership of 100; the Finnish, 400; the Jewish, 150; and the Scandinavian, 200. The English local meets every Friday but after Oct. 1 it will hold a business meeting only on the second and fourth Fridays of each month and an educational meeting on the first and third Friday. At each of the latter some local man, not necessarily a Socialist, will discuss some Socialistic problem and a general discussion will follow. The women's department will meet every other Thursday in the library and on Thursday of this week will hold their first meeting and will be addressed by John A. Keyes. All women of the city are invited.

The usual winter entertainments, held under auspices of the Socialist city central committee, are now being arranged and will be held at 416 East Superior street, the Finnish hall. Further particulars will be given out later. Duluth Socialists have resolved to take the national lyceum course of the party this winter and will announce the speakers later. A course for the smaller towns in this vicinity is being arranged from here. In all the Socialists of this section of the country plan an active winter.

DENY THEY RESTRAIN TELEPHONE TRAFFIC

A. T. & T. Co. and Subsidiaries File Answers to Trust Suit

Portland, Or., Sept. 16.—Individually and collectively denying that they are parties to any conspiracy in restraint of trade, the American Telephone & Telegrath company and subsidiary concerns have filed answers in the Federal court to the complaint of the government, which has started a civil anti-trust suit against them. It was charged that the defendants are in conspiracy to monopolize the telephone business in violation of the anti-trust law of congress, passed July 2, 1890, and demanded that competitive conditions be re-established as far as practicable in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

In their answer the companies make a general and specific denial that they are restraining trade or commerce, or attempting to monopolize trade or commerce.

MORE GOAT.

St. Paul Shriners Disagree on the Stories About Annual.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officers of Osman temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, are in doubt again as to the disposition of the local temple's goat, which was confiscated in New Orleans, while the members were returning from a pilgrimage to the Isthmus of Panama and later captured by a deputation of Shriners of Dallas, Tex. Two St. Paul men are telling entirely different stories regarding the animal.

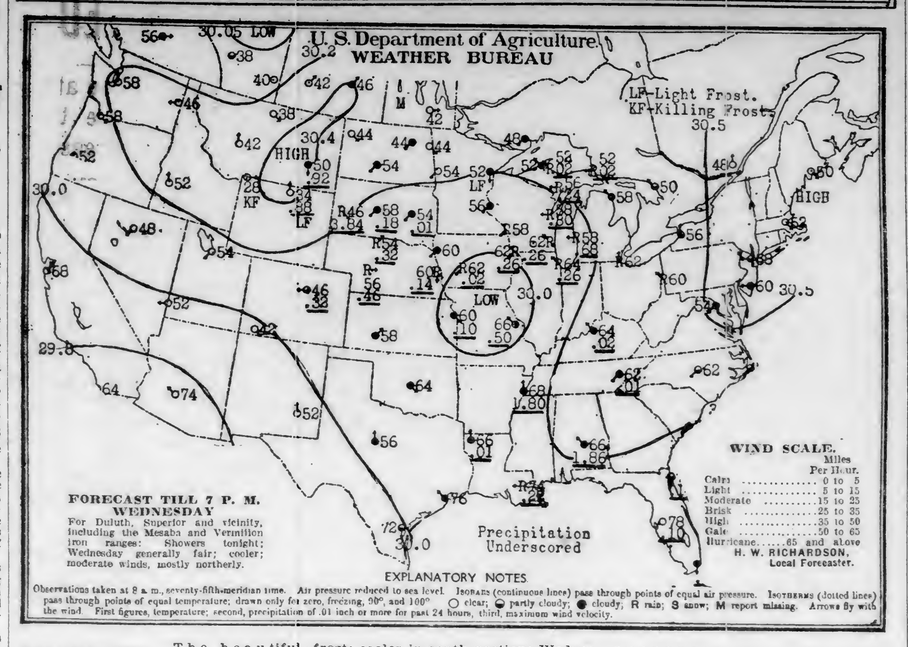

J. Harry Lewis, illustrious potentate, with his right hand raised high, declares that the goat has arrived safely in the custody of J. S. Scott, who had been at New Orleans in an effort to bring the goat home. Mr. Lewis declares that the goat will accompany the temple on its forthcoming pilgrimage to Philadelphia and the governor will be called upon to send a military guard to care for the woolly animal.

On the other hand Mr. Scott says he was unable to bring home the real goat and was only able to secure a celluloid affair, mounted on little wheels, which, he says, has been duly turned over to Mr. Lewis.

Test Panama Chinese Law.

Panama, Sept. 16.—Although the period of grace allowed the Chinese residents here to comply with the law requiring them to register expired Sept. 1, not one application has been received to date. The governors of the provinces have been instructed to proceed against the delinquents, several of whom have been arrested. There will now be a test of the new law, which has been declared unconstitutional by some of the Panama attorneys.

RAIN

The beautiful fall weather continued today, but the weather man looks for showers tonight. A year ago today it was cool with showers. The sun rose this morning at 5:47 and will set at 6:19, making 12 hours and 32 minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Rain fell over Central and Southern states during Monday or last night, principally in connection with the slight barometric depression centered over Missouri. Heavy rains occurred over Alabama, Western Tennessee, Illinois, Eastern Iowa, Western South Dakota, Eastern Wyoming and Southeastern Montana. Light frost occurred last night in Northeastern Minnesota and light to killing frosts in Southern Montana and Wyoming. Cooler weather prevails in the Rocky mountain region and Red river valley, elsewhere the temperature has risen generally. Indications favor rain in St. Louis and Douglas counties during this afternoon or tonight."

RESINOL HEALS ITCHING ECZEMA

Completely Cured When Three Years of Other Treatments Did No Good.

June 14, 1913.—"Four years ago I developed a bad case of eczema on my face which was not only bad to look at, but extremely annoying by reason of burning and itching. It was in very large sores, looked almost like boils.

"As soon as the disease healed a trifle in one place—always leaving the skin dark—it appeared in another, getting worse as it advanced. After three years' treatment it grew no better, until I found Resinol. I used both Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and after two months not a trace of the eczema remained." (Signed) Miss Beulah Amanda Elliott, Greenwood, Del.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are also speedily effective in even the stubbornest cases of pimples, blackheads, dandruff, sores and piles. Prescribed by doctors for eighteen years and sold by every druggist in the United States. For free trial, write to Dept. 16-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

WHEAT STRONG AT THE CLOSE

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 16.—The strength which developed in wheat in the last hour of trading not only was sustained at the close but gained ground, and the close came with the following advances: September spring ⅝c; December, ⅞@½c; May, ¼c; September durum, unchanged; December, ¼c up.

December puts, 87⅞c bid; calls, 88⅜c.

The wheat market this morning was not overly brisk, but was sensitive. It opened soft on heavy receipts and weak cables, and was not helped any by the corn situation which was rather weak also. However as the session went on, corn strengthened up to some extent and news came from the seaboard of export business being done, the market rallied to some extent but has not in the middle of the last hour of trading advanced enough to boast about.

September option in spring wheat opened ⅛c off and for some time had no activity whatever. In the last hour it was ruling from ⅛c down to ⅛c advance. December opened unchanged to ⅛c off, dropped to ¼@⅜c off and held steady at that level up to within a short time of the close. May option opened unchanged, slipped down ⅛c soon after the opening and toward the close was ⅛@¼c lower than yesterday. Both durum options opened unchanged, but September fell off ⅛c and in the last hour December is steady to ⅛c off.

Flax Falls Off; Except October.

October flax was the only option that showed an advance at the close due to the desire of crushers to buy the nearest option, September being practically on a cash basis at this time with only fourteen days left until the time of delivery. There was not much demand in any of the futures anyway, the crushers being willing to wait and see what will happen. October advanced ⅛c for the day, September fell off ⅛c, November dropped ⅛c and December is unchanged.

Iowa crop bulletin: Pastures have revived and show considerable improvement but the rains came too late to be of benefit to corn. The rains, however, were sufficient to facilitate plowing in many sections but not enough to be of material benefit to the water supply. Much corn was cut and many silos were filled during the week.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Eases Off as Result of Selling Pressure.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Wheat eased off today under selling, due in part to a liberal increase of the European visible supply. Generous receipts at Winnipeg counted also in favor of the bears. Falling off in arrivals this side of the Canadian line appeared to be ignored. The opening was the same as last night to ⅛@¼c lower and there was some additional decline.

Big export sales of Manitoba at the seaboard and reports of too much rain in Argentina brought about a subsequent rally. There was also advices that Montana wheat was going to the Pacific coast on account of higher prices. The close was firm at ⅛@¼c to ½c net advance.

Widespread rain made the corn market heavy because the benefit to pasturage. The market started ⅛c to ⅛c off and seemed unable to rally more than a trifle.

Predictions of reduced receipts carried prices later upgrade. The Iowa state report also had a bullish effect. Closing figures were steady, ½@⅝c to ⅝c over last night.

Oats displayed sympathy with the corn weakness. Public speculators did most of the selling.

Provisions held about steady, influenced chiefly by the hog market. The principal trade was in lard.

WON'T HURT HIM.

Indianapolis News: John M. Pratt, of East Goshen, Pa., celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary by smoking a cigar, as has been his annual custom for many years. Many of his friends present him with cigars for the occasion, but he takes only one, remarking that tobacco used to that extent will not injure his system.

Stocks Advance at Opening But Decline Under Steady Pressure.

New York, Sept. 16.—The absorptive capacity of the stock market was tested again today through liberal selling for both accounts which was stimulated by higher prices. Offerings were taken without serious effect on values. Alternately the market averaged a fraction above and below yesterday's close, with the trend upward for the most part. New Haven was exceptionally weak, falling back nearly 2 points. Bonds were easier.

Active buying of Reading and the copper shares caused substantial advances in these shares at the opening of the market today. Reading and Amalgamated rose a point. Canadian Pacific also was in demand and gained 1¼. Changes elsewhere were small, but advances were general among the leaders.

Bulls seemed to have exhausted their energy in putting up prices at the start, for the subsequent transactions were downward. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific reacted to below yesterday's close. Steel and Can also relinquished their advances.

Bull speculation became rampant again in Reading, which soared over three points to 169⅜, the year's best. Strength became manifest elsewhere, with Canadian Pacific, Amalgamated and Union Pacific in keen demand. Canadian Pacific mounted four points and Steel and other favorite issues were a point or more better.

Stocks were supplied when the rise in several issues reached formidable proportions and the whole list fell back abruptly. Reading was let down a point, and Can also became weak, sagging to below yesterday's closing. Business contracted largely after the general list had yielded a half point or more all around.

The market closed heavy. Stocks were under steady pressure in the closing hour, resulting in a pretty thorough obliteration of the gains, except where advances had been exceptional. A few stocks were distinctly weak, including Metropolitan preferred, Can and Consolidated Gas. Canadian Pacific and Reading sold 2 points below the top and Steel and Amalgamated 1.

STEAL APPLES AND DESTROY TREES

Owners of orchards in West Duluth have registered several complaints with West Duluth police charging that boys have destroyed their apple trees and other shrubbery. Among the latest to file complaints were Mrs. W. W. Scott, 126 South Sixty-sixth avenue west, and Mrs. Charles Mehlling, 125 South Sixty-seventh avenue.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Mehling have been growing several apple trees in their yards. During recent nights boys have entered the yards and stripped the trees of the apples. It is said that the boys were not content with taking the apples, but that they had also broken several of the branches and killed the trees.

The police are making an investigation and expect to land some of the boys in jail.

MAY LEASE PROCTOR POTATO WAREHOUSE

The directors of the Proctor Potato company will hold a business meeting at Proctor tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of deciding on leasing the company's warehouse at Proctor to some commission firm. It is said that several applications have been tendered for the lease of the place.

The building was erected last summer by the company, which is an organization of the farmers of Midway, Munger, Hermantown and the business men of Proctor. So far the building has not been put to any use for the storage of potatoes or other vegetables. The building cost the farmers about $2,400.

MAKE ARREST ON PASSENGER TRAIN

John Delaski of Virginia last evening started from Duluth to accompany his little deaf and dumb daughter to Faribault, where the child is to be entered in the state institution for the deaf and dumb. On leaving the city he did not forget to take a sufficient amount of refreshments with him in the shape of pop for the child and fluids of other nature and somewhat stronger for himself. When the night passenger reached West Duluth at 11:40 o'clock last night he had become somewhat unruly and the conductor handed him over to a policeman. This morning he had sobered up and the police allowed him to resume his journey.

HOLD-UP ON THE STEEL PLANT BRIDGE

Mike Barto reported to the New Duluth police late last night that he had been held up and robbed of $2 while crossing the steel plant bridge early in the evening. He said that two negros carrying revolvers had held him up. The holdup men made their escape into Wisconsin. Barto was unable to give a good description of the men.

New Theater Opens.

Crowds filled the new Alhambra theater, 321 North Central avenue, at its opening performance last night. It is estimated that over 1,000 people attended the two shows given during the evening.

The management was complimented on all sides for its handsome new playhouse. The appearance of the place at first glance indicates that it is, as claimed, absolutely fireproof. Equipped with sanitary seats, it is also one of the most sanitary theaters in Duluth. Its interior decorating is pleasing. The indirect lighting system gives a soft mellow glow to the interior, but this light is not strong enough to counteract the effect of the pictures.

In addition to the splendid program of photoplays musical numbers were given by Miss Dryer and Mr. Novak. Michaud's orchestra is furnishing the music for the theater.

Fined for Assault.

Rucco Jones, a negro, who was alleged to have assaulted a man on the steel plant bridge over St. Louis river was fined $40 and costs when arraigned and found guilty before Judge Lanners this morning. The man is said to have been badly beaten about the head. The assault occurred yesterday afternoon and Jones was caught shortly afterwards by Sergeant McDermott and Patrolman Mooney.

KILLED WHEN WALL CAVES IN

Bert Fox, 27 years old, a laborer, was crushed and fatally injured in the caving in of a concrete wall recently built for an addition to a building at 1222 Tower avenue early this morning. He died at 1 o'clock this afternoon at St. Mary's hospital.

Fox was working close to the new concrete wall. Other workmen had begun filling in dirt behind the wall and the weight of the dirt is believed to have been responsible for it caving in. The wall had not been allowed to become sufficiently "set", it is said.

Fox was a single man and resided with his mother. Internal injuries were the direct cause of death. The man's chest was caved in.

Football Accident.

The first football accident of the season was recorded in Superior yesterday. Joe Duff, Jr., a Superior high school student, sustained a broken collar bone in a practice game yesterday when he tackled a player considerably larger than himself. The accident is said not to have been due to unnecessary roughness but to the difference in size of the boys, coupled with the fact that both were traveling at high speed when the collision occurred.

Slashed With Razor.

Fred Boufford, a fireman on the steamer Caldera, is in the local hospital suffering from serious cuts said to have been inflicted by Thomas Greany, another fireman on the boat, during a fight on the boat last night. The fight is said to have been the outcome of a dispute over a debt of $1. Boufford had his face and neck badly slashed with a razor.

Wohlin-Gates.

Miss Bertha Wohlin and Joel Gates, cashier of the United States bank, were married last night at the home of the bride's parents in St. Claire, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Gates will spend a month visiting points of interest before coming to Superior to make their home.

Will Open Oct. 1.

The Carpenter school will open Oct. 1, according to announcement made by members of the board of education last night. This school is the only one in the city which has not opened and will, it is expected, take care of about 600 scholars. An addition has been built to the school and many other repairs made at a cost of $65,000.

TWO OFFICIALS IN ALASKA ARE MISSING

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 16.—Anxiety is felt here for the safety of the power schooner Wasp, which left here six weeks ago for the Kuskokwim river district and has not been reported. The vessel was chartered to carry supplies to the mission in the Kuskokwim district, and on board had Dr. Reed, the newly appointed United States commissioner for the district, and Supt. CLOUDS OVER CHATTANOOGA

Grand Army Members in No Danger of Sunstroke.

Veterans Correct Guides' Stories of Famous Battles.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 16.—Heavy clouds hovered over Chattanooga today, the second of the forty-seventh annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and allied organizations. The welcome extended visiting veterans by citizens at a reception last night will be supplemented tonight, when addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Ben. W. Hooper of Tennessee, William D. Atchley, commander of the Department of Tennessee; Mayor T. C. Thompson of Chattanooga, and others.

Opening sessions were held today by the following organizations with the G. A. R.:

National Association of Army Nurses, Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, Sons of Veterans' auxiliary, National Association of Naval Veterans, National Association of Union Ex-Prisoners of War, National Association of Civil War Musicians; Loyal Legion, and United States Veterans Signal Corps association.

Election of officers, including a president to succeed the late Gen. Gates P. Thurston of Nashville, is the principal business on today's program of the forty-first annual meeting of the Society of the Cumberland.

The veterans' parade will be a feature tomorrow. It was announced that a detachment of Forest's cavalry would march at the head of the Ohio division.

Yesterday was occupied chiefly with sight-seeing tours to historic battlefields in this vicinity. A drizzling rain did not deter thousands of veterans from making pilgrimages to Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga Park and Missionary Ridge.

Corrected the Guides.

The veterans swarmed Lookout Mountain, the scene of the struggle of fifty years ago between Confederate forces under Generals Bragg and Longstreet, and Union troops commanded by Generals Grant and "Pap" Thomas. Guides explained the maneuvers of the competing forces, and told thrilling stories of many sharp encounters. Although these guides learned these facts from what are considered authoritative sources, they were frequently interrupted by veterans who volunteered corrections.

Interest of the veterans is being already manifested in the selection of a commander-in-chief to succeed Gen. Alfred B. Beers. Among the names are Private Orlando Somers of Kokomo, Ind., Col. Clair E. Adams of Superior, Neb., Former Representative Washington Gardner of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Gen. J. N. Harrison of the Department of Kansas.

The first general business session of the national encampment will be called Thursday morning. Delegations from Mobile, Ala.; Houston, Texas, and Detroit, Mich. are seeking the honor of entertaining the forty-eighth encampment.

Estimates place the number of veterans and visitors in the city at 35,000. This number includes delegates to the allied organizations holding meetings in connection with the encampment.

The following departments were reported present:

Iowa, J. Wileto, Des Moines.
Minnesota, Charles H. Taylor, Long Prairie.
Montana, P. W. Sheehy, Dupuyer.
North Dakota, G. B. Wollandingham, Valley City.
South Dakota, John L. Jolly, Vermillion.
Wisconsin, Charles H. Henry, Eau Claire.

CIRCUS "BARKER" GUILTY OF THEFT

Frank Lynch Convicted of Stealing From Man Who Befriended Him.

Frank Lynch, former "barker" for the Wortham & Allen carnival shows which played in Duluth the first week in July, was convicted of stealing $194 from W. A. Spencer, chief electrician for the carnival company, on July 5 last by a jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court yesterday afternoon. Lynch was found guilty of grand larceny in the second degree. He was indicted on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

Tell-tale letters which Lynch wrote from his cell in the county jail while awaiting trial—letters in which he made damaging admissions which practically amounted to a confession of his guilt, fell into the hands of

FRANK LYNCH.

Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, and come back to haunt Lynch when he took the stand in his own behalf yesterday afternoon.

When confronted with the letters, Lynch denied that he had ever written them. They were mailed from Duluth to a friend named West who traveled with the Wortham & Allen shows. West turned them over to Spencer, the complaining witness. Spencer gave them to the county attorney.

In the first letter, Lynch protested his innocence to West, declaring that the charge of stealing had been framed up on him and that he had fallen a victim to a plot. The letter in every essential detail outlined the defense which Lynch used at his trial yesterday.

The second letter appealed to West for help and asked him to try to get Spencer to drop the case against him. In it, Lynch promised that he would square everything up. The second letter was shown to Lynch first by Prosecutor Forbes. Lynch denied that he had ever written it. Mr. Forbes then produced the first letter written in the same handwriting, which Lynch also denied writing.

Spencer told the story on the witness stand yesterday of how he had played the part of the Good Samaritan and on the night of July 4 had taken Lynch, who complained of being "broke," to his stateroom on one of the company's cars, giving him dry underclothing and shared his bed with him. When Spencer awoke in the morning, Lynch and $194 were gone.

Lynch was arrested about a week later at Springfield, Mo., and brought back to Duluth for trial. He is 28 years old and well known among the carnival show people throughout the country. In Missouri, a number of years ago, he was convicted of a larceny charge. Lynch will be sentenced by Judge Fesler sometime this week, it is thought.

POLAR EXPLORERS BLOCKED BY ICE.

St. Johns, Nfld., Sept. 16.—Heavy ice packs have forced Donald McMillan's Crockerland exploration party to land at Etha Harbor, from which efforts will be made to reach Winters at Cape Sabine. This report was brought here by the steamer Erik, Capt. Kehoe, which has the party on board. To help him sledge his supplies to Cape Sabine, McMillan has employed a number of Eskimo and dogs.

The McMillan expedition sailed from Boston, July 4, to explore the unknown Crockerland in the Arctic under the auspices of the American Geographical Society and the Museum of Natural History of New York.

EXPLOSION KILLS WOMAN CHEMIST.

New York, Sept. 16.—While experimenting for a process to take the place of rubber, Mrs. Eva Gottschalk, wife of Dr. Louis Gottschalk, a German chemist, and herself a holder of several scientific degrees, was killed in the explosion of a steel cylinder in the laboratory at their home in Seawarren, N. U. S. WARSHIPS WILL REMAIN IN MEXICAN WATERS OVER LIMIT

Huerta's Opposition Is Expected to Be Ignored By Washington.

Policy Is in Keeping With That Followed in Other Cases.

Mexican President Reads Message to National Congress.

Washington, Sept. 17.—American battleships probably will remain in Mexican waters, despite Gen. Huerta's declaration that they will be unwelcome after another month.

There was no official expression of this government's attitude today, but it was plainly indicated that the United States will keep its vessels off the Mexican Pacific coast and Atlantic coast as long as the present insecurity of Americans warrants.

It was pointed out that in international law the United States clearly has a right to protect its citizens in a foreign country where internal disorders prevail, and to that end may dispatch warships to ports where American interests demand protection.

Policy Followed Elsewhere.

Within the last year American ships also have been dispatched on such missions to ports in Nicaragua, Venezuela and the Dominican Republic, where revolution or threatened revolt made Americans apprehensive of their interests. Visits from vessels of the Asiatic fleet have calmed the fears of Americans in the Chinese revolutionary district.

It was pointed out today that American warships in Mexican waters would continue to adhere strictly to the injunction of President Huerta not to "entail an attack upon the dignity and sovereignty of Mexico," but further than that it is not likely that the Wilson administration will accept dictation from Huerta as to the circumstances in which American vessels may lie off the Mexican coast.

Congress Hears Huerta.

Mexico City, Sept. 17.—President Huerta delivered his semi-annual message last night at the opening of the second session of the twenty-seventh Mexican congress. In it he promised to spare no efforts to bring about the unrestricted election of president and vice president of the Mexican republic next month, declaring that it would constitute the greatest triumph of his career to turn over the office to his successor with the country at peace, as he hoped to do.

President Huerta read the greater

CHICAGOAN MURDERED AND $2,000 STOLEN

Robbers May Be Same Who Attacked Bank Messenger.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Four masked robbers forced an entrance to the delivery station of Mandel Bros. at 2655 West Van Buren street today, shot and killed Michael Waschuk, a stableman, beat three other employes and bound them to wagons and then broke open the safe in the office and escaped with $2,000.

Police Capt. Joseph Ryan, in investigating the crime, discovered tracks in the alley in the rear of the building believed to have been made by an automobile. This led the police to think that the murder and robbery might have been committed by the same automobile bandits who held up Warrington McEvoy, messenger for the Garfield Park State Savings bank, last Thursday and obtained $15,000 in currency and checks.

DECISION IS FOR COTTON

Officers of Butte & Ely Company Gain Victory at Butte.

Application for Injunction and Receiver Denied By the Court.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph B. Cotton, president of the Butte & Ely company, and the other officers of the company won a sweeping vitory in the district court last evening in the case brought by I. A. Heilbronner, a Butte stock broker, asking for a receiver for the company and that the officers be restrained from handling the funds of the company.

Heilbronner alleged that President Cotton, John W. Neukom and Edward J. Maney illegally loaned $100,000 of the Butte & Ely company's funds to the Giroux company which owns a majority of the stock of the Butte & Ely. It was shown by Mr. Cotton that the loan was fully secured and was profitable to the Butte & Ely company and that it was a perfectly legal and proper proceeding in the interests of the stockholders.

The court, at the close of the hearing last evening, promptly denied the orders for an injunction and a receiver. The practical effect of this decision is to end the case on its merits and completely sustains the acts of President Cotton and other officers of the Butte & Ely.

ENGLAND IN LABOR FIGHT

Worst Strike in History of the Country Threatened.

Dublin Trouble Has Spread and May Extend Further.

London, Sept. 17.—England is threatened with the most serious strike of union labor in its history, according to union leaders here today.

The trouble began with the lockouts of large numbers of workmen last week in Dublin in consequence of a strike of transport workers because of the employment of non-union laborers. Rumblings of discontent have since been heard throughout the entire labor community of the British Isles, but thus far eruptions have occurred only in the larger cities.

The sympathetic strike of the Liverpool dockers and of railroad workers there and at Birmingham has already stopped the three great trunk railways serving the Midland counties of England, and the Manchester Ship Canal company also is contending with a strike of dock laborers for better wages.

At Liverpool seven of the great freight depots were idle this morning and others are likely soon to be closed for want of traffic.

No Peace in Ireland.

In Ireland, too, all attempts have failed to settle the Dublin trouble, which was the direct cause of the developments at Liverpool and Birmingham. The difficulty of getting provisions into the Irish capital has become so great that it is believed the markets will have to close their doors.

London has been only indirectly affected by the strikes on the railroads in the Midlands. The metropolis is more directly interested in the threatened strike of motor omnibus drivers because the employers refuse to allow employes to wear union badges. The men held a meeting today and passed a resolution in favor of a strike which would tie up all the motor omnibuses and tube lines in London.

Labor members of parliament declare that the trouble in Dublin, London and elsewhere has been caused by the determination of the employers to challenge the rights of labor to organize.

EXPRESS COMPANIES ASK FOR MORE TIME

Apply to Commerce Commission and Say Schedules Are Not Ready.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Application was made to the interstate commerce commission today by the express companies for an extension of time in which to prepare and put into effect the new express rates ordered by the commission in August.

By the terms of the commission's order, the rates would become effective Oct. 15. At a conference today between members of the commission and counsel for the companies, it was represented to be impossible for the companies to comply with the order by Oct. 15. It has not been possible yet, according to statements of counsel, for the companies thoroughly to analyze the rates and prepare and have printed the necessary tariffs.

PERFECT SCORE BY AMERICAN GUNNERS

Battleship Arkansas Makes Six Hits in Fifty-Seven Seconds.

New York, Sept. 17.—The dreadnought Arkansas, flagship of the first division of the Atlantic fleet, has achieved the triumph of breaking the world's record in elementary target practice. Her No. 4 turret, equipped with two 12-inch guns, fired six shots in 57 seconds in recent practice work off the Virginia capes, making six hits, a perfect score in phenomenally quick firing time.

The Arkansas is a close rival for honors in record practice now held by the Idaho, and formerly by the Delaware, and her officers and men are decidedly encouraged by the fine work done by the No. 4 crew in preparation for the record practice to be held in October.

BUFFALO FIRE OUSTS 250 HOTEL GUESTS

Hotel Broezel Partly Destroyed—Damage Placed at $500,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—That there was no loss of life in the fire which swept the upper two floors of the Hotel Broezel early today was made certain at daybreak, when the last of the 250 guests, who fled to other hotels, was accounted for.

The total loss from the fire was $500,000, divided as follows: Eureka Coffee company, $200,000; Hotel Broezel, $150,000; Dirnberger Popcorn company, $150,000.

Negro Baptists Meet.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 17.—The National Negro Baptist convention opened a six-day session here today, an attendance of 10,000 being expected. A feature will be a semi-centennial celebration of "Fifty Years of Freedom." Booker T. Washington will speak Friday night.

ACQUITTED OF TRYING TO SUBORN PERJURY

MAURY I. DIGGS,
Convicted of White Slavery and Sentenced to Two Years in Prison.

DIGGS GIVEN TWO YEARS

Also Fined $2,000 for Violating the Mann Law.

Caminetti Gets Eighteen Months and Is Fined $1,500.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17.—Maury I. Diggs, a former state architect of California, was sentenced today by Judge Van Fleet in the United States district court to serve two years in the state penitentiary at San Quentin, and to pay a fine of $2,000, for violating the Mann white slave traffic act.

F. Drew Caminetti, son of Anthony Caminetti, United States commissioner general of immigration was sentenced to eighteen months at San Quentin and to pay a fine of $1,500, for a similar offense.

Acquitted of Perjury Charge.

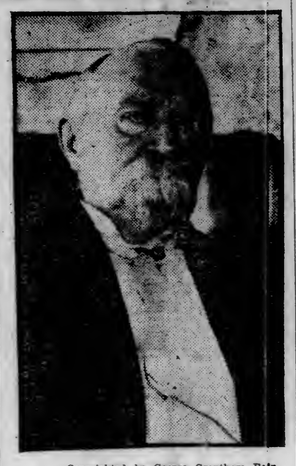

Diggs and Attorney Charles B. Harris of Sacramento were found not guilty by a jury in the United States district court late yesterday, of subornation of perjury in connection with the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases. The jury was out an hour and thirty minutes.

Neither defendant attempted to conceal his elation when the judgment was read.

This acquittal closes the series of cases resulting from the elopement from Sacramento to Reno, Nev., of Maury I. Diggs, F. Drew Caminetti, Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris, with the resultant arrest of Diggs and Caminetti and their conviction of violation of the Mann white slave act.

Charles B. Harris was Diggs' attorney in private matters before the Reno escapade. After the arrest of Diggs and Caminetti, the government alleged, Harris and Diggs made an attempt to influence Miss Warrington to tell a story about the affair that would exonerate the two men.

IS SAVED FROM DEATH BY JAPANESE SERVANT

GEN. HARRISON GRAY OTIS,

PROBE BOMB MAILED OTIS

Second Effort Is Made to Kill Los Angeles Publisher.

Washington, Sept. 17.—A rigid investigation into the latest attempt on the life of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis at Los Angeles, Cal., is being made by postoffice inspectors. No official report had been received today at the postoffice department, but one is expected from the Los Angeles office. Chief Inspector Johnson is giving the case his personal attention.

Second Attempt.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—For the second time within three years, a bomb yesterday jeopardized the life of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Los Angeles Times, whose plant was destroyed by dynamite Oct. 1, 1910. That he escaped injury probably was due to the watchfulness of his Japanese servant, who received from the postman an infernal machine, mailed in this city, and called his employer's attention to it.

The first infernal machine directed at the life of Gen. Otis was found at his residence a few hours after his newspaper had been destroyed through the efforts of the McNamara conspirators.

The attempt on his life yesterday was attributed by the general to agencies friendly to those whose conspiracy eventuated in the destruction of his newspaper plant and the killing of twenty-one men three years ago, but the police and postal authorities believed something might be developed

RENOMINATED FOR MAYOR OF BUFFALO

LOUIS P. FUHRMANN,
Leader of the Anti-Organization Forces.

SULZER MEN NOMINATED

Albany and Buffalo Primaries Won By Anti-Organization Forces.

Organization Candidates Victorious in New York City.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Incomplete returns from yesterday's primaries indicated today that Daniel J. Dugan, a Sulzer adherent, had won over Senate Clerk Patrick E. McCabe, the Democratic organization leader for many years. Dugan appears to have control of the county committee by a small majority.

Fuhrmann Is Re-nominated.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Anti-organization forces won a complete victory in the primaries here yesterday. Mayor Louis P. Fuhrmann, who headed the anti-organization ticket, was renominated by a margin of 2 to 1 over George J. Meyer, candidate of the regular Democratic organization. Allied with Fuhrmann was William J. Conners, former state chairman.

Light Vote in New York.

New York, Sept. 17.—Unofficial figures from scattered precincts throughout New York left no doubt today that the organization candidates of the six political parties represented in yesterday's primaries had been nominated practically without contest.

The vote throughout the city was extremely light. It was the first primary to be held under the Blauvelt direct primary law, and for the first time an American flag floated above each polling place. These flags

HICKEN CODE APPROVED BY CITIZENS BY THE SLIM MAJORITY OF 108 VOTES

Heavy Vote in First Ward Is Responsible for Its Passage.

Duluth approved the Hicken liquor ordinance yesterday at the first referendum election which has been held under the new charter.

The measure carried by the small margin of 108 votes, 4,791 ballots being cast in favor of the code and 4,683 against it.

The First ward swept the measure through, giving it a majority of 824 votes, offsetting the majority against it in five other wards of the city. The Seventh ward, widely credited as being the stronghold of the so-called law enforcement element, returned a majority of only 97 votes while the Eighth ward gave it a majority of 68 votes.

First Ward Did It.

"Guess we'll have to take our hats off to the First ward," said one citizen today. "The First warders not only have a majority of the members of the commission which drew up the code, but they were responsible for its passage. It's the First ward's day to celebrate, today, all right."

The ordinance had a majority in only sixteen of the forty-four precincts, twenty-eight of them voting against it. All six precincts in the First ward gave the ordinance a majority, and in only ten other precincts of the city did it carry.

The Fifth ward was a surprise for the opponents of the ordinance. In the First precinct, which was counted on as a stronghold of the opposition, the Legislators May Not to Pass Financi Bills.

Some Tangles Also Arise From Impeachment Proceedings.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Acting Governor Glynn and legislative leaders were none too hopeful today that a sufficient number of assemblymen would be present tonight when the state legislature is to reconvene to put through the financial program.

The state faces a very serious financial embarrassment unless the revenue bills and appropriations for bond interest are passed. Many of the present assemblymen were unsuccessful in obtaining nominations as candidates for re-election, and the unusual drain on their private resources, owing to repeated recalls to Albany since the extra session convened, has put them in no amiable frame of mind toward incurring further personal expenses.

Solons' Salaries Ceased.

Their salaries ceased with the adjournment of the regular session, and under the law they are allowed mileage for only one trip to Albany to attend the extraordinary session. Their other journeys, caused by repeated recesses, were entirely at their own expense, as was their maintenance in Albany.

In the upper house of the legislature, where the Sulzer impeachment trial will be staged, the leaders expect practically a full attendance of senators. Each senator will be called on tomorrow to qualify as a member of the impeachment court, and for this service he will draw a stipend variously estimated at from $10 to $50 a day.

Friends of Former Governor Declare He Is to Be Appointed.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Joseph W. Folk was indorsed by Senator Stone of Missouri.

THAW TRANSFERRED TO THE STATE CAPITAL

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 17.—Harry K. Thaw moved on to Concord, the capital, today, to await the hearing before Governor Felker on Tuesday in the matter of his extradition. Safe in the knowledge that the United States district court will review his case on a writ of habeas corpus if he loses, the Matteawan fugitive was hopeful and lighthearted, and smiled and waved at the crowds which greeted him on the way to the railway station. His train was due to leave at 9:59 and to reach Concord at 2:10.

Gave Piano Recital.

Thaw celebrated his court victory of yesterday over William Travers Jerome by playing the piano in the parlor of the hotel where he had been quartered here. Around him sat an admiring throng of hotel patrons. He played classical music mostly, and avoided the modern ragtime. For over an hour he was at the piano, and he would have played longer had not his custodians, United States Marshal Nute and Sheriff Drew, told him it was bedtime.

Ex-Governor Stone of Pennsylvania was the only lawyer with Thaw today. The others, satisfied with their work in having the Federal habeas corpus hearing indefinitely suspended, left town last night to rest before the extradition hearing. Mr. Jerome also left. He will go to Concord, probably on Monday of next week, to prepare for the hearing.

Let "Gentleman" Roger Go.

HAUL MEXICAN FLAG DOWN WITH LASSOES

Arizona Cowboys Nearly Start Trouble By Their Prank.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Three American cowboys rode into Pierttleville, Ariz., yesterday and roped and hauled down a pole from which flew a Mexican flag.

Hearing that their national banner had been dragged in the dust on the anniversary of Mexican independence, a mob of 250 Mexicans congregated in front of a saloon into which the cowboys had retreated.

A riot call was sent to Douglas and police sent from here succeeded in dispersing the mob without serious consequences. The cowboys escaped. It was said warrants would be issued for their arrest.

The Mexican flag was raised again and beside it two smaller American flags were placed as a protection against a recurrence of the incident.

MINNESOTAN KILLS SELF

C. R. Pollock of International Falls Is Suicide in Kentucky.

Protracted Spree Ends in Tragedy in Tenderloin Resort.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17.—A well-dressed man about 35 years old, believed to be C. R. Pollock of International Falls, Minn., early today locked himself in a room in a tenderloin resort and fired a bullet into his right temple. He died an hour later in the city hospital.

Harold Romaine, a chauffeur who drove the man to Louisville from French Lick yesterday, was detained by the police pending an investigation.

The man gave the name of C. R. Patton and claimed to be a wealthy New Yorker, but a tag on his clothing bore the address of C. R. Pollock, International Falls, Minn. A check book indicating balance of $1,056 in the First National bank of that city was found on Pollock.

Romaine told the police the man had been on a protracted spree, spending money prodigally. According to a telephone message, the man registered at a French Lick hotel under the name of Patton, giving his address as New York city.

Was Hotel Clerk.

International Falls, Minn., Sept. 17.—C. R. Pollock, who according to dispatches received here committed suicide at Louisville, Ky., yesterday, was clerk of a local hotel, coming here last March for his health from Bradford, Pa., where his home is. His parents are said to be wealthy.

For several weeks he has been ill, and ten days ago left for French Lick Springs, Ind., where he hoped to recover his health.

Investigations made by the bureau of labor show that on June 15th the cost of living was 60 per cent higher than the average between 1890 and 1900; more than 3 per cent higher than a year ago and nearly 15 per cent higher than two years ago.

HUMANE WORK FOR THE YEAR

Reports of President and Agent Are Submitted to Members.

At Memorial hall, courthouse, the annual meeting and election of officers of the Duluth Humane society is in progress this afternoon.

Dr. A. W. Ryan, president of the society submitted his annual report which was received with interest. Dr. Ryan pointed out that effective work is being accomplished by the society and its agent and expressed the hope that the work of the society be supported as liberally in the future as it has been in the past.

The report of Robert D. McKercher, agent of the society, was read to the society. It was an interesting document and showed that the society is now equipped to do effective work along a number of lines. It showed among other things that a total of 1,666 cases have been investigated by the agent during the past year, involving 942 human beings and 2,413 animals.

This is an increase over last year's number. During the year ending Sept. 15, 1912, the humane agent investigated 1,530 cases, which involved 1,049 human beings and 2,542 animals. The increase is in the total number of cases handled and not in the number of animals and humans involved.

The work among children as outlined in the annual report is interesting. According to Mr. McKercher, not a single child has been brought into juvenile court and committed to a state institution because of its mother's poverty. With the help of the poor commission and the general public, these families have been kept together. The children which have been brought into court for the purpose of having them made state wards are those who have been taken from homes in which the surroundings are immoral and in many cases, the report says, revolting.

The report also shows that during the year the agent furnished sixty families with shoes, stockings, underwear and clothing, and 120 families with groceries and other incidentals.

"We have now drawn to the close of another year, and we point with pride to the work which we have been able to accomplish along the different lines as laid out by this society. We have co-mingled with the joys and sorrows, relieving to whatever extent we could, the burdens that seem to be the lot of many to bear. During the past year there have not been very many idle moments as we have been continuously administering in one way or another to the relief of suffering humanity and our dumb friends.

"We have been called on many cases in this city and the northern part of the county where the conditions were indeed heartrending. I could cite many cases, which when investigated would reveal the worst circumstances conceivable.

"Our activities have become so generally known that I have been called during the past year to many parts of the county that heretofore had not been visited. I have also been requested to investigate cases in many other counties of this state and even in Wisconsin. The complaints outside of St. Louis county I have referred to the different organizations to whom I thought they rightfully belonged. When time would permit some of the nearer complaints received our attention.

Relief Work.

"Our relief work during the year just closed, has broadened considerably, and many cases reported to us as neglect, were found to be caused by circumstances which would not permit of the parents caring for their children as they would have liked to do. We brought no children into the juvenile court the past year, for commitment to the state public school on account of poverty, for with the aid of the poor commissioner and the general public, who have so generously responded, we have been able to keep many families intact, which would otherwise have been cared for by the state, and while a number have been committed to the state public school, many of these children were removed on account of the home conditions being of the most revolting nature.

"During the last year, it was necessary to destroy several horses, which were unfit for work, and which has left us, today, with perhaps the best average of horses that can be found in any city in the country. There have been several cases of cruelty to animals, in which the guilty parties have been brought before the court and dealt with according to the law. As the report will show, more arrests have been made during the past year than any time heretofore. The practice of galloping horses to and from the docks in a hurry to unload passengers from the steamers has been broken, and with the arrests of the drivers, which has served as a warning to the others, conditions are very much better. In each of these cases, they have been fined by the court.

"Out of all the cases brought before the municipal district and juvenile courts of Duluth, Hibbing and Virginia, we have lost but one case.

Neglected Children.

"The practice of parents leaving the city, placing their children in some local institution and then neglecting the care thereof, has also been brought to our attention, whereupon warrants for the arrest of the parent responsible have been sworn out, and they have been compelled to support their children, which otherwise, we would have been necessarily compelled to turn over to the state.

"Referring to the state hospital for crippled and deformed children, several children have been treated in that institution, and with the exception of one, such treatment has had the desired effect. For several of these children, the society furnished the necessary clothing and transportation to the institution, as the parents, on account of straightened circumstances, were unable to do for their children, as they would have liked, and so we promptly took care of them.

"The financial situation of the society, which has for some time past handicapped the extent of our labors, has been somewhat relieved, through the enactment, at the last legislature, of a bill drafted by this society, and in the interests of which your agent made two trips to St. Paul prior to its passage.

"We are indeed grateful to the Needlework guild, the different societies, teachers and principals of the several schools, Sisters and nurses of the hospitals, the various relief societies both in and out of the churches, the Children's Home, St. James, Orphanage, St. Luke's and St. Mary's hospitals, and to the business world, laboring and professional man and women of our community. No agency has been more helpful to us than the daily and weekly press in our city and county, being ever ready to assist us in whatever we have asked.

"We wish also to thank the county commissioners, the city council and the poor commission who have helped us most generously in our work. To the police department, Chief Troyer, Capt. Fiskett and all the members of that department, and to the chiefs and patrolmen of the different range towns and locations through the county as well as to the probation officers, Capt. F. E. Resche and C. E. Everett of Duluth and Hibbing, we extend our hearty thanks and vote of appreciation for their help and support. The county attorney's office also deserves our gratitude for their legal aid, which at all times has been cheerfully given. Among these different departments the utmost harmony prevails, so that we have labored together to a common end.

"Thanks are also due to the various railroad officials for their co-operation in the work of this society. We hope that we have the trust of the public and have satisfied as public servants, and that the friendly relation existing during the past year may continue."

DEATH TAKES TWIN BABIES

Infant Boys Die Within Period of Seventy-Two Hours.

Twice in three days did death visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Makowski, 915 East Tenth street, and in that time the 4-months-old twin sons died after an illness of but ten days.

On Sunday morning James Francis passed away and yesterday morning the child was buried in the Calvary cemetery, following a funeral from the family residence. This morning John Bernard succumbed to his illness and he will be buried beside his twin brother tomorrow morning. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock from the residence.

GRANTED DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND

Mrs. Frances Sadowski, rooming house proprietor at 115 West First street, was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon from her husband, Albert Sadowski, on the grounds of desertion. They were married on Jan. 18, 1886, and lived together until June 27, 1907 when, according to her story, he deserted. They are parents of one son, Theodore Sadowski, now 26. Each is 49 years old.

About a year ago, Mrs. Sadowski was intrumental in securing the arrest of Frank Miller, Duluth bartender, formerly employed in her husband's saloon, on a charge of having stolen $4,750 from a safe in her rooming house. Miller was indicted for embezzlement by the September, 1912, grand jury, and was arrested at Saskatoon for the alleged theft.

After the arrest at Saskatoon, a deputy sheriff was despatched to Canada to bring Miller back. Miller denied the charge, but waived extradition and returned with the officer. After his return to Duluth, Mrs. Sadowski refused to prosecute and the case was dropped.

ARE PLEASED WITH RESULT

First Ward Did It, Says Representative of Cigar Dealers.

Duluth's city commissioners are highly gratified at the outcome of the special election yesterday at which the Hicken liquor code was approved by the small majority of 108 votes.

Part of the commission expected that the ordinance would be overwhelmingly indorsed, carrying with a vote of two or three to one. In that they were disappointed as of the 9,474 ballots cast, 4,683 were against the measure, which was considerable of a shock in the face of the hopes which had been held forth.

Commissioner Hicken was reached over the telephone at the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club this noon, being one of the party of city officials on a junket to the steel plant today. The commissioner said that he did not wish to make any comments upon the outcome of the election. "All that I wish to say is that I am satisfied with the result," was his only expression.

Mayor Prince and Commissioners Murchison and Merritt both said that they are very much pleased that the ordinance carried. The mayor asserted that the outcome is an indication that Duluth's future will be one of prosperity builded upon the right kind of a foundation.

Commissioner Merritt stated that the passage of the ordinance signalizes the passage of brewery control of saloons in Duluth and is a step in the right direction.

Commissioner Murchison said that the result was as he had expected and was the climax of an uphill fight.

First Ward Did It.

"The votes of First ward people who are not directly affected by the ordinance, carried it," said Hugh J. McClearn this morning. Mr. McClearn carried on an active fight against the ordinance on behalf of the cigar dealers along Superior street.

"Many of the people of the First ward are interested in Duluth in a business way only as a port. They are in the grain, lumber and iron business. They own their own homes usually, but they are not interested financially in business property. They are well-to-do, comfortable and cozy and are thus able to sit back and moralize for the rest of the people.

"I do not believe the people of the First ward, who adopted the ordinance for the city, realize what the effect of it will be on those whom it will affect. I don't believe they would intentionally do any man an injustice, but they see only a moral issue, not understanding the needs of the people whom the ordinance affects."

Will Canvass Returns.

The returns will be carefully canvassed by the city council at its next meeting, which will probably be next Monday. Should there be any discrepancies, at least one of which has been mentioned, they may appear when the canvass is made by the commissioners. When the canvass has been made the council will pass a resolution declaring the result, after which the ordinance will become effective.

WAS AMONG LAST TO SEE RADFORD.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 17.—E. L. Dowling, a mining engineer who arrived here today, was one of the last white men who saw Henry V. Radford, the New York explorer, before he was killed by Eskimo nearly two years ago in Northwestern Canada. Dowling spent the summer of 1911 in the Arctic region and saw Radford at Fort Norman, west of Great Bear lake.

"Pretty risky," were Radford's last words when Dowling wished him a safe journey from Fort Norman. Dowling said that Radford had a quick temper and that the Eskimo were resentful.

BOAT IS HERE FOR REPAIRS

The steamer Northern Queen of the Mutual Transit line, which went on the rocks near the Rock of Ages light, at the end of Isle Royale, last week, arrived in the Duluth harbor about 3 o'clock this morning, under her own power. The boat is now in dry dock in the shipyards.

The boat has seventy damaged plates, where she crashed into the rocks, and besides repairs forty new plates will have to be supplied. The tank heads are bulged and these will have to be straightened out. The Northern Queen first went into the dry dock at Port Arthur, where she was patched up to make the run to Duluth.

The cost of the damage has not been definitely fixed but it will be considerable. It is not known how long it will take to repair the boat but the shipyards crews will work overtime to get her out again. The boat plys between Buffalo and the Canadian Head of the Lakes.

ENGINEERS ARE GIVEN A RAISE

Talk of a probable strike by engineers on lumber boats on the Great Lakes has been quieted by the action of the Lumber Carriers' association in raising the scale of wages for engineers $10 per month, the raise to be effective from Sept. 1.

This action was decided on at a meeting of the association with representatives of the union in Detroit yesterday. It affects about 200 engineers on 100 boats.

This is the busy time of the year for the lumber carriers, and they now have a free mind about the fall movement of their product.

MORE ACTIVITY IN GRAIN SHIPPING.

Six big boats arrived in Duluth within the last twenty-four hours light for grain. Four boats have cleared with grain in the same time.

Railroads are still pouring wheat into the elevators at the Head of the Lakes, and the boats are in more demand than they were two weeks ago. It is expected that the fall grain rush will start in about two weeks.

SOO LINE IS PROSPEROUS

Growth of Grain and Ore Business Was Largely Responsible.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—The gross earnings of the Soo line for the year ending June 20, 1913, were $21,410,672.03, according to a report submitted at the annual meeting of stockholders of the road here yesterday. For the year previous the earnings were approximately $17,000,000.

The operating expense of the road was $12,096,214.80 and the expense per mile $4,148.99.

All the present directors of the road were re-elected, and Edmund Pennington was re-elected president by the directors.

President Edmund Pennington said that the company had extensive construction work planned which would not be taken up until the attitude of the public as expressed through its various avenues of political activity assured more reasonable treatment of transportation companies.

The Soo line has eighty-five miles of road under construction from Ambrose, N. D., into Montana and will have it ready to handle grain from this year's crop. Its big freight terminal in Chicago will be completed Jan. 1, 1914. Announcement is made of the purchase for $240,000 of 2,400 shares of the stock of the Belt Railway of Chicago, placing the Soo line on parity with twelve other railroads entering that terminal.

Equipment Is Increased.

The company put more than $1,200,000 into additions and betterments during the year, the report says, and has extensive shop additions under way at Shoreham, North Minneapolis. It added to equipment during the year twenty-five locomotives, forty-nine all steel passenger cars, 1,700 freight cars, 300 ore cars, 200 caboose and 200 ballast cars.

The company handled a record business last year or 7,761,407 tons of freight and from the Cuyuna iron range, in Aitkin and Crow Wing counties, Minnesota, from which it drew its first business of 300,000 tons in 1912 to its new dock at Superior, Wis., it hauled in the last fiscal year more than 1,000,000 tons. President Pennington's prediction is for an movement of 3,000,000 tons from the mine sto the Lake Superior dock in the coming year. President Pennington in his comment, introductory to the report, says:

"The substantial increase in the company's gross earnings, while partially due to the unusual grain crop of 1912, reflects also the growth and general prosperity of the northwest, including the Canadian west."

Credit Big Grain Crop.

Soo line tonnage figures present percentages that result from the big grain crop of last year and also from the increasing population density and change of agricultural conditions to diversification in the Northwest. The grain total, at 1,806,140 tons, represents 23.25 per cent of the company's gross business, as compared with 1,033,699 tons, or 16.18 per cent in 1912, and 627,149 tons, or 12.52 per cent in 1911, and the bumper grain crop of the 1912 season is here reflected.

The company hauled 118,999 tons of fruits and vegetables, as compared with 104,481 in 1912 and 62,876 in 1911, and 73,558 tons of livestock, as compared with 63,655 in 1912 and 62,695 in 1911. Its anthracite coal tonnage, not including coal for company use, amounted to 123,818 tons as compared with 79,865 and 105,492 tons in the years preceding, but the bituminous tonnage fell off, there being 350,870 as compared with 547,929 in 1912 and 235,776 in 1911.

The two items that stand out most prominently are the iron ore business, which for the period that ended June 30 had reached 617,065 tons, as compared with 321,202, and 119,209, in previous years, and the lumber tonnage. The feature of the lumber business was that while the company hauled 2,128,037 tons, a liberal increase over the 1,759,265 of 1912, and 1,810,072 of 1911, the proportion that the lumber haul bore to the total business was smaller, making 27.43 per cent compared with 28.37 and 36.11.

Another highly significant total, representing largely the increased business between Minneapolis and the country, was the hauling of 305,891 tons of merchandise loaded by wholesale and distributing firms as compared with 260,809 tons in 1912, and 251,179 tons in 1911. The total tonnage was 7,761,407 as compared with 6,200,764 in 1912, and 5,012,786 in 1911.

Wisconsin Central shows some figures that indicate the extent to which the taking over of the property by the Soo Line build up its traffic and is gradually delivering it from its reputation as a low-grade tonnage road, in which forest products and iron ore predominated, to a showing higher up among the high-grade tonnage roads.

Grain constituted 4.81 per cent of the Wisconsin Central's business as compared with 3.31 in 1912 and 1.94 in 1911.

HICKEN CODE APPROVED

ordinance received a majority of 32.

The Sixth ward offered another surprise. It was counted on by the supporters of the ordinance, as being good for a majority of from 100 to 200, but instead of that it went against the ordinance, almost offsetting the majority for it in the other West end ward, the Seventh.

The most surprising feature of the election was the unexpectedly heavy vote which was cast, 9,474 voters participating in the referendum. Despite the apathy which was general to within three or four days of the election the interest was deeper and more widespread than was evident to the most careful observers. At the last city election 10,282 ballots were cast, according to official count.

A large, silent vote registered its disapproval of the measure. The returns show that 4,683 voters expressed their disapproval of the code. Declarations were freely made after the returns had been received at the office of City Clerk Charles S. Palmer, and today, that had the opposition waged anything like the active campaign that was carried on by the exponents of the code, it would have met with defeat.

Previous to the election the prediction was frequently made that the ordinance would carry by a vote of two or three to one. The heavy vote against it was a surprise even to the most energetic workers against it.

What It Provides.

The ordinance is a codification of the principal ordinances and state laws governing the liquor traffic, with some new features.

Among its principal features are:

The elimination of brewery control of saloons.

Definition of the patrol limits.

Fixing the saloon license at $1,000 per year.

The prohibition of women and minors from saloons.

Prohibition of sales of liquor to drunkards and "blacklisted" persons.

Elimination of free lunches, music and gambling devices.

Placing saloons in front rooms which cannot be more than six feet wider in the rear than in the front, or more than four feet above or below the surface of the street on which they face.

Removing by its requirements after May 1, 1914, many cigar stores and other businessmen who now have stands in front of saloons.

Penalizing buildings, making it unlawful to grant a license for any room for one year after a conviction of law violation.

Requiring applicants for saloon licenses to make sworn statements that they are in no way connected with any brewery or are receiving financial aid from any brewery and answering other questions relative to themselves.

Prohibiting dumb waiters and other similar contrivances.

Making possession of liquor prima facie evidence of the possessor's intent to dispose of it illegally.

Providing for revocation of the license for violating any of the provisions of the ordinance.

Allowing but one entrance to saloons, except in hotels of fifty or more rooms, which may have an additional entry from the lobby.

Making it unlawful to have screens or doors on wine rooms or in any way obstructing the view of their interiors.

NEW YORK IN SORE STRAITS

tion is one of the kinks that the judges of the court of appeals, who also will form part of the impeachment court, are expected to straighten out before the impeachment proceedings begin.

Would Bar Frawley and Others.

The right of certain senators, who as members of the Frawley investigation committee uncovered the evidence upon which the impeachment charges against Governor Sulzer were based, to sit as members of the court of impeachment, will be one of the first questions to be raised by counsel for the accused executive when the trial begins tomorrow. These senators are James J. Frawley of New York, Samuel J. Ramsperger of Buffalo, Felix J. Sanner of Brooklyn, Democrats, and Elon R. Brown of Watertown, Republican.

Counsel for Governor Sulzer will question the propriety of any member of the senate sitting as a member of the high court, who may be called upon to testify before it.

These questions and others, including the expected attack by Governor Sulzer's counsel upon the validity of the impeachment proceedings, will be determined by the court of impeachment itself. Until these preliminaries are decided, no evidence will be taken.

Trial May Last Two Months.

Scores of witnesses will be called for both sides during the trial, estimates as to the length of which vary from one to two months.

Although the impeached executive's legal advisers have not disclosed any of their plans, it is generally understood that Governor Sulzer will not attend the sessions of the court while the preliminary arguments are under way. His friends assert that his presence on the opening day of the trial would be at least a tacit admission that the proceedings are constitutional, a point which his counsel are prepared to contest vigorously. Should the validity of the proceeding be upheld by the court, it is expected that the presence of the accused in the courtroom daily will be one of the features of the sessions.

Mrs. Sulzer Will Testify.

Mrs. Sulzer will be one of the most important witnesses for the defense, according to the governor's friends. She has been going over evidence in the case with her husband at the executive mansion since her recovery from the nervous breakdown following her alleged admission that she was responsible for some of the Wall Street transactions attributed to her husband.

Although Patrick E. McCabe, clerk of the senate, has announced that the roll calls of the court of impeachment have been so arranged that the names of the members of the court of appeals will be called first in alphabetical order, before those of the senators, there is a possibility that this may be overruled on the ground that all members of the high court stand on equal footing and that the votes of the judges and senators should be recorded in alphabetical order.

Public interest in the trial is so keen that great throngs are expected to crowd the capitol corridors in an effort to gain admission to the court room. No one will be allowed on the floor except members of the court, witnesses, counsel, the assembly board of managers and newspaper men. So many applications for news writers' chairs have been made that it was found impossible to accommodate all on the floor of the transformed senate chamber, and the first two rows in one of the galleries have been reserved for press representatives.

The public will be admitted to the galleries until all seats are filled, when the doors will be barred against further admissions.

from the theory that the Mexican question had a part in it.

Has Interests in Mexico.

Gen. Otis is heavily interested in the Mexican lands of Lower California, where two years ago Industrial Workers of the World joined the "direct action" element of Mexicans in an effort to establish a Socialistic commonwealth.

A few weeks ago there was an outbreak, caused, according to reports, by the employment of Chinese in the places of Mexican laborers by ranchers in Lower California, but Gen. Otis asserted at the time that none were employed by him.

The bomb reached "The Bivouac," Gen. Otis' home, wrapped in a small package about five inches long, three inches wide and two inches deep. It bore Gen. Otis' address written in what was believed to be a disguised hand.

The Japanese removed the wrapping paper before taking it to Gen. Otis. He told the general there was something suspicious about the package.

Scoffed at Boy's Warning.

"I pooh-poohed the boy's belief at first," said Gen. Otis, "but examined the box carefully. I could see parts of matches and black powder."

Capt. E. B. Feltz, a powder expert in the police department, took the machine to a sparsely inhabited section of the city and pried open the box. He found matches fixed to the inside of the box in such a way, that, if it were opened in the usual way, they would have rubbed against pieces of sand paper and ignited. There was also black powder, a small section of fuse, two fulminating caps and two sticks of 85 per cent dynamite, each cut into two pieces. Feltz exploded the dynamite, which tore a great hole in the ground.

The wrappings were given over to the postoffice inspectors.

Otis Tells "Surmises."

Gen. Otis had "only surmises" concerning the bomb.

"My surmise," he said, "is that it was sent to me by the devils who want to blow up the Times and me, and who are furious because they have failed so long to do so. They may be the same old gang, or segments of the same old gang, with the same old animosity."

Chief of Police Sebastian inclined to the theory that the bomb had been sent by some person violently opposed to Gen. Otis' newspaper policy with regard to the Huerta administration in Mexico.

To that area of the city which comprises the business section and a portion of the cheap hotel district, the Federal, city and county authorities confined their energies today in the search for the sender of the dynamite bomb.

All were agreed that the maker of the bomb lived in this district, because the package containing the bomb was placed in a parcel post box in the downtown section and carried to postoffice station C., which handles mail for the greater portion of the business district and a large section of the East side.

Dynamite Like McNamaras.

The dynamite used in the infernal machine was that extremely high-powered explosive known as "eighty-five per cent," the same as was used by James B. McNamara in blowing up the Times building, Oct. 1, 1910. The legal limit for explosives in Los Angeles county is 40 per cent nitro, and police and county officials directed efforts today to learning what purchases of 85 per cent dynamite had been made at powder factories recently.

CHILDREN'S BED SET ON FIRE BY MADMAN

Minneapolis Man Saves Grandchildren From Death in Flames.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Fisher rescued his two grandchildren, Mildred Zielke, aged 2 years, and Howard Zielke, aged 4 months, from a deliberate attempt to burn them to death, when he broke down the door to their bedroom at the home here of their mother, Mrs. Robert Zielke, late last night, and carried them from the smoke-filled room. The attempt to cremate the children is believed by the police to have been made by an unidentified insane man.

Mrs. Zielke had left the house for a short time, leaving the children alone. When she returned she found the house filled with smoke. Evidence showed that some one had entered the room and set the bed on fire.

Mrs. Zielke says that when returning to the house she saw a man stealing down the back stairs and she believes he is the one who started the fire.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone.

Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heals the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.

Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results.

An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

SASKATCHEWAN IN NEED OF FARM HANDS

Serious Conditions Are Threatened If Men Do Not Appear.

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 17.—The shortage of farm help throughout the province of Saskatchewan is assuming alarming proportions, and unless conditions are soon relieved there is grave danger that the entire province will suffer. The board of trade of Saskatoon is receiving hundreds of letters from farmers in all directions asking for men to help with the harvest and threshing.

ALL MICHIGAN COAL MINES ARE SHUT DOWN

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 17.—All coal mines in the Michigan coal mining district were closed today, and the operators insisted that they would not be reopened until the differences between the union and Handy Brothers' Mining company, in Bay county, are adjusted. About 3,000 men are affected by the suspension of work.

Thomas W. Davis, commissioner for the coal mine operators of Michigan, in a statement today said the trouble was due to the alleged refusal of the union officials to consent to arbitration of differences with Handy Brothers when 700 men recently struck, claiming that the operators had refused to pay what was due them under the working agreement made in April, 1912.

PREPARE FOR MINE STRIKE

Colorado Employers and Union Men Are Facing Clash.

Walkout on Tuesday If Demands Are Not Granted.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 17.—Officials of the miners' union and operators busied themselves today considering plans to meet the situation that promises to develop with the calling of the proposed strike next Tuesday, the date fixed by the United Mine Workers of America. The demands of the men as set forth in the strike resolution are:

Recognition of the union.

A 10 per cent wage advance for coke oven workers.

An eight-hour day for all classes of labor in mines and coke ovens.

Pay for all dead work.

Check weighmen at all mines.

Enforcement of the mining laws of Colorado.

Abolition of the guard system.

Start in the South.

Miners' officials stated today that the strike order when issued, probably will be directed only to men employed in the Southern Colorado fields of Las Animas, Huerfano and Fremont counties, but that eventually it will be extended to all mines in Colorado, Utah and New Mexico.

are to be returned to the board of elections, and the law provides that inspectors failing to return them will receive no pay for their service. Eighty per cent of the inspectors who made their returns this morning kept the flags, nevertheless.

The balloting was perfunctory for the most part, the interest centering in districts where contests for leadership were on.

Shots Fired in Clash.

In two assembly districts there was trouble. In the Fifteenth, where there was a spirited contest for the Democratic leadership between James J. Hagan and George F. Form, there were clashes between rival parties of gunmen in automobiles, during which shots were fired. Names in one automobile led the police to believe its occupants were "repeaters." Three men, who got away before the police arrived on the scene, are said to have been injured in one of the encounters.

Charges and countercharges that these gunmen had been brought into the district to intimidate voters came from the camps of the rivals for the leadership. For the first time in the history of Tammany politics, a Tammany leader applied for the assistance of the sheriff in protecting voters. Leader Hagan made the appeal and Sheriff Harburger supplied fifty deputies. Hagan won his contest with Form, about four to one.

In the Twenty-eighth district an aldermanic nomination fight led to disorders which resulted in the arrest of Charles B. Largey, the Republican leader, who was quickly discharged by a magistrate.

U. S. WARSHIPS WILL REMAIN IN MEXICAN WATERS OVER LIMIT

The message contained 15,000 words. Many army officers were scattered among the crowd in the galleries.

Blamed United States.

Gen. Huerta said the strained diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States had caused the Mexican nation to suffer unmerited affliction and had retarded the pacification of the country. Nevertheless he hoped for an early solution of the differences between the two nations and to see Mexico and the United States once more united in bonds of friendship.

The provisional president drew a distinction between the attitude of the United States and that of the people of that nation, saying "the tenseness of our diplomatic relations with the government of the United States of America, although luckily not with that people," had put Mexico into a state of apprehension.

No Permit for Warships.

The period of six months allowed American warships to remain in Mexican waters by special permission of congress, will expire next month. In the opinion of the president, a renewal of such permission should not be granted.

The message was disappointing to those who had expected that President Huerta would deal at some length with recent diplomatic exchanges. This subject, however, he said, "being so delicate and the permanent commission of congress being already informed," he passed with a bare mention.

The silence which prevailed during the reading of the presidential document by the clerk, was broken at its conclusion by prolonged cheering, in which the congressmen were joined by the crowds in the galleries.

Huerta's Message.

President Huerta's message in part was as follows:

"Besides the fratricidal strife which exhausts us, the tenseness of our diplomatic relations with the government of the United States, although luckily not with that people, has put us in a state of apprehension, has made us suffer more than one affliction which was not merited, and retarded the complete pacification of the republic.

"As this affair is of so delicate a nature and as the permanent commission of congress has already been informed of the state of the negotiations, which as yet have not been broken off, I have only to indicate that the government hopes, with good grounds, to see quickly solved the differences which day by day keep in suspense that good friendship which of old united, and for an indefinite future should unite us, to our powerful, civilized neighbor.

Recognized by Twenty-Six Nations.

"Upon taking charge, by virtue of the law, of the presidency of the republic, complying with the established international practices, I communicated the fact of my having taking possession to all the foreign governments with which Mexico cultivates relations of friendship. Of these there hastened to answer by autograph letter the following:

"Germany, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Colombia, Costa Rica, China, Denmark, Ecuador, Spain, France, Guatemala, Haiti, Holland, Honduras, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Montenegro, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Salvador, Servia, Switzerland, Turkey and Uruguay.

"I would call the attention of congress to the fact that in this list are not found some of the small governments in Europe, but this is due to the fact that we have no diplomatic relations with them, or that their replies have already been announced through the proper channels and did not reach the chancellory. It has caused surprise, and at the same regret, to the honorable chamber, as to the executive, that some of the countries to which Mexico is united by ties of blood, language and customs, and no less by identical aspirations and destinies, have not vouchsafed a reply to the letter.

Ignorant of Causes.

"The executive is ignorant of the causes which may have prompted this conduct, and it certainly may be entirely worthy of respect. He abstains from endeavoring to learn, and contents himself with putting the result before your honorable body.

"There have been sent to our ports various foreign war vessels, with the object, it is said, of extending protection, if that should be necessary, to the lives and interests of the citizens or subjects of the powers in question by reason of the state of insecurity, it is presumed, growing out of the revolution. In view of this departure in foreign relations I entered into correspondence with certain foreign diplomats, calling attention to the action of their respective governments, and upon receiving due explanation dictated orders towards the fulfillment of the law in such cases.

"Since the law prohibited warships from remaining for more than a month in territorial waters, the senate authorized the said ships to remain, but with the understanding that those remaining should not entail an attack upon the dignity and sovereignty of Mexico. Such authorization limited them to a period of six months, dating from April 25, last, and it was not thought advisable to renew this authorization upon its approching expiration. Other ships, which made visits of courtesy and not of vigilance, have been received by the Mexican authorities according to international laws and customs."

Approaching Elections.

On the subject of the approaching elections, the president said that he had promulgated the law enacted by congress, complimentary to the electoral law, under which the government will hold elections the coming October.

He declares that the government would continue to make efforts towards the pacification of the country within a period relatively short. In this repsect he could inform congress that the situation was already dominated by the government in a majority of the states, only Sonora and Durango being at present totally beyond authority.

He called attention to the fact that within the period treated by the message the most salient accomplishments of the revolutionary movement has been the taking of Zacatecas, which had been recognized later by the forces of the government, the taking of Barango, which was still in the hands of the rebels, and attacks on the port of Guaymas and the city of Torreson, which were repulsed by the Federal troops.

TRYING TO DECIDE MEETING PLACE

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—The sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, this forenoon considered the selection of the 1914 meeting place. The grand lodge resumed its resolutions at 9 o'clock. Meantime the military council was discussing questions of importance to its branch of the order in another hall. Contests by visiting cantons were to have been continued later in the day.

Tonight the parade of grand lodge officers, headed by the Patriarch Militant, the uniformed branch of the order, will take place. More than 10,000 Odd Fellows are expected to be in line.

The business session yesterday was cut short in order that the delegates might participate in the first of the entertainments prepared for them by the citizens of Minneapolis. The afternoon was passed in an automobile ride through the parks, business and residential districts of the city.

Politics is beginning to stir in the hotel lobbies, several candidates being in the field for deputy grand sire, the stepping stone to the head of the order. The election of offices will not take place until later in the week.

SON'S CREDITORS GO AFTER FATHER.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 17.—The hearing in bankruptcy before Referee N. F. Field yesterday, that of Carl Schiller of Stearns county, has a somewhat pathetic side, Mr. Schiller being a well-to-do farmer who signed notes to enable his son to go into business at Albany. The business proved unprofitable, and as the notes have come due, the father has had to pay them. To pay all of them would absorb everything that he has, including his farm home. He is reaching the age where he no longer feels able to work the farm, and wishes to sell it and retire to a small place in town. While he retains it, it is his homestead and exempt from his creditors, but if he attempts to sell it, they can levy on the proceeds. He has therefore decided to go through bankruptcy in order to clear up the indebtedness against it, and will then be in a position where he can sell, take what the farm brings, and retire without being entirely destitute.

MANY FIRES AT RAILWAY BRIDGE

Greater Precautions Will Be Taken By Great Northern Railway.

Frequent fires at the bridge and elevated track of the Great Northern railway on Garfield avenue have resulted in discussion of greater precautions against fire.

During the past summer the local fire department has been called to this bridge on several occasions. Sparks from engines have set fire to the dry timbers of the bridge, and on some of the occasions might have resulted very disastrously for the bridge had not Department No. 2 responded quickly.

This bridge is used by the Omaha and Northern Pacific as well as the Great Northern. The burning down of the bridge would cripple the traffic between the two cities as far as this bridge is concerned and swing the entire traffic to the West Duluth Grassy Point bridge or on to the Interstate bridge, now used by the Soo line.

Fire alarms from the lower end of Garfield avenue are the cause of concern on the part of the local fire departments. A blaze in this district places in danger the entire residence district of lower Garfield avenue, as well as the large lumber mill and yard stocks of the Alger-Smith Lumber company.

The number of fires reported from this bridge and district may result in the locomotives traveling over it being equipped with spark preventers. There is a possibility of the bridge being rebuilt of steel at a later date.

TELEPHONES FOR FARM DISTRICT

Workmen started yesterday making the extension of the telephone system to Hermantown district. It is promised by managers of the Zenith Telephone company that the lines will be in the homes of the thirty subscribers of that district before Oct. 15.

The entire community will be supplied with telephones within a year, said one of the farmers yesterday. It is probable that the company will be asked to put in an exchange near the center of the town of Herman.

"We have needed the telephone for a number of years," said J. R. Grady, secretary of the Farmers' Producers' club of Hermantown, yesterday. "It will be the means of securing information from merchants and commission men as to just what produce is most needed on the market. In case of accident or sickness it will be indispensable."

ARM BROKEN.

Sawmill Employe Injured While Working Beside Slab Conveyor.

He was taken to St. Luke's hospital where the bone was set by Dr. W. P. Abbott. Ritzuck lives at 600 Garfield avenue.

WANT SOCIAL CENTER AT MERRITT SCHOOL.

At a meeting of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club to be held Friday evening at the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street, steps will be taken to ask the city to establish a social center in the Merritt school. The success of other centers, now started in the Irving school of West Duluth and the Bryant school, has caused residents of this district to ask for similar work there.

It is proposed to ask Mayor Prince and Miss Margaret Culkin to attend the meeting in order to thoroughly explain the work of the social center to the residents of the district on Friday evening. A large attendance is expected at the meeting.

SEES PROHIBITION AS NEXT MOVE.

That every voter who cast his vote as "Yes" on the Hicken liquor ordinance yesterday would also have cast his vote in a similar manner for prohibition, and that prohibition would carry in Duluth if it was put to a vote, is the opinion of Rev. John J. Daniels, pastor of the Swedish Mission church, in a statement made this morning.

"I am sure that every one who voted for the ordinance yesterday is opposed to the saloon and would have voted for prohibition," said Rev. Mr. Daniels. "The carrying of this ordinance is just another step closer to prohibition.

"Temperance forces will now have more confidence in placing before the people the question of prohibition.

"The small majority given the ordinance in the West end is the result of not having a thorough organization. The temperance forces were not organized and we depended entirely on the meetings. In another battle at the polls we will be fully organized."

West End Briefs.

Th Modern Maccabee Card club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. White, Jr., 107 North Twenty-seventh avenue west.

Mrs. Charles M. Stevens and Mrs. Charles Stevens of Hibbing have returned home after spending a few days visiting at the home of Mrs. O. F. Wennerlund, 2321 West Second street.

Miss Julia Wheeler, 3406 West Third street, has returned from a month's visit with relatives in Victoria, B. C., and other Pacific coast points.

Miss Ebba Olson, 2305 West Third street, left last night for St. Peter, Minn., where she will resume her studies at the Gustafus Adolphus college.

The Men's Club of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of M. Peterson, 2018 West Fourth street.

J. A. Bellmeur of No. 1 Exeter street left this morning for Balsam, Minn., where he will supervise the organization of a Brotherhood of American Yeomen lodge.

The Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will be the scene of a social and auction tomorrow evening. The affair will be held under the auspices of the Sunday school of the East end branch of the church. The proceeds from the affair will go towards the support of this institution. A musical program will be given.

COURT TAKES A HAND IN PUTTING CITY ON CASH BASIS

Fund Is Overdrawn and Contract Was Therefore Illegally Let.

The courts took a hand in the work of putting the city on a cash basis, when District Judge Fesler signed an order restraining the city from proceeding with the construction of the Glenwood street storm sewer. The decision is an important one, in that it will safeguard the city's permanent improvement fund from further indebtedness this year.

The opinion of Judge Fesler was handed down in the injunction suit brought by Sophie B. German, Harry P. Thomas, Amandus Jensen and Lulu Hodges, Glenwood street property owners, against the city of Duluth, Mayor W. I. Prince, the city commissioners, other municipal officers and Rogers & McLean, contractors.

Under the restraining order which issues, the city officials and contractors are enjoined from proceeding with the construction of a storm sewer on Glenwood street from Fifty-seventh avenue east to the Lester river, and the city officials restrained from executing contract No. 1404 with Rogers & McLean, which was authorized some time ago by a resolution of the council.

Engineering Problem.

Although Judge Fesler touches upon the engineering feasibility of constructing a sewer in Glenwood street where the natural grade is up-hill, he states in his opinion important questions are involved, but not such as to compel the court to interfere although this was one of the two objections raised by the property owners who petitioned the court for the injunction.

The work on the sewer is held up by the court for the reason that the permanent improvement fund, from which the cost of the work necessarily must be paid, has been overdrawn considerably and that further improvements are contrary to section 57 of the city charter. The court finds that there is now a deficit of $62,294.72 in the permanent improvement fund, which will act as a barrier to further obligations on this fund being incurred this year.

Judge's Opinion.

Judge Fesler outlines his position in the matter in an opinion which is attached to the injunction order. The memorandum in full is as follows:

"Two objections are made by plaintiffs to the execution and performance of a contract by the city with Rogers & McLean for the construction of a storm sewer in Glenwood street from Fifty-seventh avenue east to Lester river.

"The first objection is one which goes to the advisability and engineering feasibility of constructing a sewer in Glenwood street between the northerly curb and the sidewalk line. It appears from the evidence that the natural grade is uphill to Lester river; that a reverse grade of 3 per cent down hill to Lester river is provided by the plans; that the gas and water service pipes will be intercepted by the sewer; that the intention of the city engineer is to bend the gas pipes under the sewer; that this will necessitate drips in the gas pipes at additional cost of operation by the water and light department; that the intention is to run the water pipes through the concrete base of the sewer, and that this will subject the water in the pipes to freezing temperatures during the winter, which will necessitate additional expense to the property owners in thawing them out. These are very important questions for the city officials to consider; but we do not believe they are such as to compel the court to interfere, and therefore the court should not act as to them.

Second Objection.

"The second objection requires a reference to sections 53, 54 and 57 of the city charter. The claim is made by the plaintiffs that the permanent improvement fund, out of which the contract price is to be paid, is 'overdrawn,' and that the execution of the contract is prohibited for that reason by the charter. The evidence does not show that any provision of section 53 has yet been violated on this improvement. If the improvement is made, it is clear that it can legally be paid out of the permanent improvement fund provided by paragraph 7 of section 54, unless such fund is 'overdrawn.' It is the intention of the city to so pay it if it pays it at all. If the threatened proceeding violates any section of the charter it violates section 57. Section 57 reads as follows: Add certificates of indebtedness issued Jan. 6, 1913...$ 20,000.00

Total $175,133.56

Outgo.

Payments made up to Aug. 1, 1913 .....$ 85,666.36
Obligations incurred..... 102,994.28

"'Section 57.—Whenever the expense and obligations incurred, chargeable to any particular fund of the city, in any fiscal year, are sufficient in the aggregate to absorb 80 per cent of the entire amount embraced in the tax levy for that year, together with 80 per cent of the amount estimated, in the apportionment of the current year to be received by said fund from other sources, including such amount as may remain in the fund from the levy of any prior year or years, no officer, board or official body of the city shall have any power, and no power shall exist, to create any additional indebtedness (save as the remaining 20 per cent of said tax levy is collected), which shall be a charge against that particular fund, or which shall be in any manner a valid claim against the city, but said additional indebtedness attempted to be created shall be a personal claim against the officer or the members of the municipal board or body voting for or attempting to create the same.'

"Applying the evidence submitted to the test of this section, the state of the permanent improvement fund on Aug. 1, 1913, (a date mutually agreeable to the parties for the purposes of this action) we find that the fund stood substantially as follows:

Income.

80 per cent of other 1913 revenues 5,896.22

"This shows a deficit which cannot be remedied, except as the final 20 per cent of the 1912 levy is collected, until about Oct. 10, when certificates against the 1913 levy may be sold under section 59 of the charter. The contract for the Glenwood street sewer, therefore, cannot be legally executed by the city officials at this time.

"An investigation of the itemized statement of the condition of this fund presented by the city auditor on the trial shows that some $62,294.72 represents obligations carried over from the fiscal year of 1912, and which the present commissioners have had to take care of in addition to the 1913 requirements. While they have to find the money to pay it, they are not responsible for it.

"Under paragraph 7, section 54, of the charter a permanent improvement fund is provided 'for the payment of the cost of all real property which the city shall acquire and for the payment of such proportion of the cost of local improvements as shall devolve upon the city.' Such items in the auditor's statement as repairs and installation of drinking fountains, police telegraph system, fire alarm system, cable for underground wiring, and book stacks for the library, are not 'real property' except as they become so by their installation as fixtures in some building located on the city's real estate, and should have been charged to the public safety, library or other appropriate fund; and some other items charged against this fund are probably more properly designated as 'maintenance and repair of highways' than 'local improvements,' and should have been charged to the public works fund. 'Local improvements' are fairly well defined in chapter IX of the charter. Probably only such local improvements as would otherwise be assessable against public property and street intersections were intended to be charged to the permanent improvement fund. By transferring from the other funds named the amount of moneys that have been inappropriately paid out of the permanent improvement fund, the city may be able to replenish that fund sufficiently to take care of its urgent needs until after Oct. 10, or until the final 20 per cent of the 1912 levy is collected.

"In the opinion of the court, all moneys paid out of the permanent improvement revolving fund for the benefit of the permanent improvement fund should be replaced in the revolving fund not later than Dec 31 of the year in which such payments are made out of the revolving fund. Whether such replacement should be made prior to Dec. 31 is probably a question of business policy which should be left to the council to determine."

"Nothing Grows Hair As Beautifully As This"—

Secrets of Remarkable Formulas Revealed by Valeska Suratt, the American Dramatic Star, Famous for the Beauty She Quickly Acquired Through Her Own Novel Efforts.

By Miss Valeska Suratt.

THERE is only one thing among the dozens of things I ever tried for the hair that produces results which you can actually see. The claims made for most of the hair tonics sold are very disappointing, as many women realize.

The formula which I finally made up after many tests proved to be a very remarkable one. One of the best features about this formula is that you use one ingredient in concentrated form, and by making up the formula yourself in a few minutes, you have several times the quantity which you would get by buying any of the ordinary already-put-up hair tonics—and, besides this economy, you have not a weak hair preparation, but a powerful hair-forcer. You will soon notice a remarkable difference in growth, fluffiness and wealth of hair by using this formula freely and often.

Take a half a pint of water and mix it with half a pint of alcohol (or else take a full pint of imported bay rum if you wish) and add to it one ounce of beta-quinol, which you can get at any good drug store for not more than fifty cents. After mixing thoroughly, it is ready to apply. This makes a clean solution, and without any oil.

"You Will Soon See a Remarkable Difference In Growth, Fluffiness and Wealth of Hair By Using This Formula. It Is No Trouble at All to Use."

Produces Faultless Complexion Quickly

For beautifying the face, arms and hands, here is a formula which is almost magic. It gives the skin a superb pinky whiteness, removes all muddiness and spots in a very short time. In a few weeks your complexion will be almost perfect, with a bloom and freshness that is adorable. You must use this liberally every day. Mix two tablespoonfuls of glycerine in half a pint of hot water and add one ounce of zintone while stirring. It will be ready to use when cooled. The zintone can be secured at drug stores for not more than fifty cents.

Unequaled for Wrinkles

Steaming the face is bad. It makes the pores large, and it never removes wrinkles. A sure wrinkle eradicator and one that will surprise you by its prompt results, is a mixture of half pint of hot water, two ounces of eptol and two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Mix thoroughly and stir over slow fire until it creams. Then let it cool. Use it generously every morning and night. This will not grow hair. Every wrinkle in your face will vanish and you will look younger by quite a few years in a remarkably short time. The eptol will cost you not more than fifty cents at the drug store.

Magic Hair Remover

Hair on the lip, arms, hands, shoulders may be removed almost magically by simply applying on them some simple sulfa solution, which can be procured at any drug store for one dollar. It has the very remarkable effect of dissolving the hair. In a few minutes the hairs are all gone, leaving the skin soft, without the spot, burn or irritation commonly caused by the ordinary hair removers sold. It can be used on the most sensitive skin, and on heavy as well as light growths of hair.

A Glorious Shampoo

Mere soap and water will not get the scurfy film which forms on every scalp. A good shampoo is necessary to hair health. Most shampoos simply make lather and do not sufficiently cleanse. Dissolve one teaspoonful of eggol in half cup of hot water, rubbing well into the scalp and then rinse the hair. You can get eggol at the drug store for twenty-five cents to give you at least twelve splendid shampoos. This helps wonderfully in the production of a beautiful head of hair. I give my hair-growing formula above.

A Marvel for Blackheads

Blackheads will be removed in a few minutes by first washing the face, then sprinkling some neroxin on the sponge, wet with hot water, and rubbing over the blackheads for a few minutes. Then wash the face again. The neroxin can be procured for fifty cents at any drug store.

Develops the Bust Without Fail

For development of the bust, massage does little good. The following always has the desired effect, and acts promptly. It is, of course, entirely safe. Dissolve one cup of sugar in half a pint of cold water and add two ounces of ruetone. Of this mixture, take two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day. The ruetone will cost you one dollar at the drug store.

Best Way to Remove Pimples

Pimples and skin eruptions will all disappear if you will for a time take one or two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day of a mixture of twelve ounces of sugar, one ounce of sarsene, and one-half pint of water. Get the sarsene, which is a liquid, in the original package by the ounce. This will do what no blood tonic or face cream ever can.

Woman's Realm

One hundred and six associate members have been secured by the members of the Apollo club, according to reports made to the treasurer at the rehearsal meeting held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. The Apollo club has instituted a two weeks' campaign during which time they hope to secure 200 associate members and more than half have been signed during one week.

The Apollo club will give two large concerts during the year and an associate membership in the club entitles the holder to six tickets for the concerts besides giving an opportunity for upholding the cause of good music in Duluth and encouraging its growth.

MRS. ELIZABETH E. SCHROEDER,
Of St. Paul, Past Grand Chief.

MRS. LUELLA C. FLEMING,
Of St. Paul, Grand Recorder.

MRS. FRANCES S. KUESTER,
Of St Paul, Grand Chief.

Members of the Degree of Honor attended the Degree of Honor district convention held in Duluth at their hall on Lake avenue yesterday afternoon and evening. Delegates from Crookston, Two Harbors, Cloquet, Moorhead, Moose Lake and other towns in the district were present, guests of Zenith Lodge No. 99 of this city.

Last evening's meeting was open to all interested and a class of seventeen was initiated, Mrs. Frances S. Kuester of St. Paul, grand chief of the order, presiding. Luella C. Fleming of St. Paul, grand recorder, and Mrs. Elizabeth E. Schroeder of St. Paul, past grand chief, assisted. An interesting program of musical numbers and readings followed and refreshments were served.

DRAMA LEAGUE PLANS

Prof. Dickinson of Wisconsin University and Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour Will Lecture Here.

A course of four evening lectures by Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin, with a morning study class when plays will be read and studied, a lecture by Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour next spring and supplementary work are attractions offered by the Duluth branch of the Drama league, included in the membership in the league without extra charge.

An interesting preliminary meeting of the Duluth branch was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. F. A. Patrick, 2302 East Superior street, and was attended by a large number of women, many of them new members, who joined following the meeting.

The members voted to hold the course of lectures free to members and $2 for the four, or 75 cents apiece, and all members pledged themselves to secure at least two new members, having set the goal for 500 members for the year.

A committee was appointed with Mrs. William Prindle as chairman to make arrangements for a class for Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour here during the fall and winter and Mrs. Seymour will lecture before the league in the spring on "Pageantry and Festivals," which will be of special interest, as plans are being made for a big civic pageant to be held in Duluth next summer.

Children's Play.

In December the league plans a children's play to be given by children in an informal way and a reception for the Duluth and Superior branches will also be a special meeting of the year.

The program as arranged and as reported at the meeting yesterday by Mrs. George Morgan, chairman of the educational committee, follows:

Oct. 1—Evening lecture at 8 p. m., "New Technique of the Drama," by Prof. Thomas Dickinson.

Oct. 7, 10 a. m.—Play read by Mrs. George Morgan; Mrs. H. A. Dancer presiding at the meeting.

Oct. 22, 8 p. m.—Lecture, "Defense of Realism," Prof. Dickinson.

Nov. 4, 10 a. m.—Play read by Mrs. F. A. Patrick; Mrs. John Sinclair presiding.

Nov. 19, 8 p. m.—"Twentieth Century Drama," Prof. Dickinson.

December—Matinee for children under the direction of Miss Josephine Carey, assisted by Mrs. T. D. Merrill and Miss Mildred Washburn.

Jan. 6, 10 a. m.—Play read by Miss Rachael St. Clair, Miss Irma Hartley presiding.

Jan. 21, 8 p. m.—Lecture subject to be announced, Prof. Dickinson.

March—Play by the Play and Players' club composed of league members.

May—Final meeting with election and business.

The place of meeting for the league will probably be the sun parlor of the Spalding hotel, although definite arrangements were left to the finance committee.

On Civic Center Work.

Miss Marguerite Culkin, the newly appointed civic center director, told the members present of her plans for the work. "We shall in no sense try to compete with commercialized amusements," she said, "but we want to build up a new line of amusements, giving the people active instead of passive recreation." She told of plans which she hopes to put on in the boys' and girls' clubs throughout the city, giving Alice in Wonderland, Robin Hood and others as example, and she also said she has in view a simple Thanksgiving pageant for this fall and a spring festival for next year, when she hopes to have foreigners residing here work up some of the old games and festival features from their old country customs.

Mrs. S. R. Holden, president of the league, presided and Mrs. F. A. Patrick, chairman of the play-going committee, read a list of the attractions booked for the Lyceum this season, commenting on those especially advocated by the league.

Mrs. M. B. Cullum was elected treasurer of the league following the resignation of Mrs. Steele.

Open Kindergarten.

Miss Elcey Overman is in charge of the kindergarten which has just been opened this week at the C. C. Salter school and classes are held there both morning and afternoon of every school day. The class has been divided into two sections, the older children going in the morning and the younger ones in the afternoon.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion pictures.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
REX—Photoplay.

Amusement Notes.

Next week will be a big week for the Lyceum theater. A special effort has been made to secure some good attractions for fall style week. Sunday, "The Country Boy" will be the attraction, to be followed Monday by Olive Vail in "The Girl From Mumm's." Tuesday and Wednesday, Henry Miller will be seen here, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday "Everywoman."

• • •

A new program of silent players was presented at the Lyceum yesterday and will continue today. "The Green Shadow," an Indian war drama, is perhaps the best of its kind that the famous Kay Bee company has ever produced. There are two very funny comedies on the program, the Keystone company presenting "Baby Day" and the American company "The Poisoned Chop." "The Social Secretary," produced by the Reliance company, points an excellent moral, in addition to being a very strong dramatic production.

Signorita Arenera and Signor Victor, the two Spanish dancers who are at the Orpheum this week have had interesting careers.

Signor Victor was a bull fighter in his younger days, but when his closest friend was killed in the ring by a maddened bull, Signor Victor decided it was time for him to quit, and he abandoned the profession of toreador for that of the dancer.

Signorita Arenera is said to be one of the best known of dancers in her native country. At the time King Alfonso was married many entertainments were planned in honor of the king and his bride. Arenera had the honor of being one of the artists chosen to take part in this entertainment, giving a series of dances for the royal party. One of the other artists selected was Signor Navila, recognized as Spain's leading tragedian.

The two dancers were seen in Madrid by Martin Beck, the managing director of the Orpheum circuit, and booked for an American tour, which they are just beginning. They speak but little English and have not yet become accustomed to the ways of American vaudeville audiences, but in spite of that fact their act has been well received this week.

For the last time tonight the following acts will appear at the Empress theater: The Salambos wonders in the handling of electricity; Dave Lubin and company, who present a singing sketch, "The Humming Coon;" Edmunds and Gaylor, a team of fast and witty talkers and pleasing singers; Sam Rowley, the man with the peculiar voice. Motion pictures of the highest standard are included in the program.

For the three days starting tomorrow matinee, the new bill containing the following acts will be seen: Headliner Augustus Neville and company, who will present the political drama, "Politics and Petticoats;" the Royal Italian Four, harmony singers; Caine and Odum, smart songsters and entertainers; and Lavine and Inman in their novelty sketch, "Sally's Visit." The usual display of moving pictures will complete the bill.

"Paid in Full," Eugene Walters play, will be the attraction at the Empress theater Sunday and for four days following.

Mrs. Fiske will appear in two more complete performances at the Rex theater tonight, in the five-part production, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," from Thomas Hardy's great story, and that will be the last opportunity offered to the patrons of the Rex to see Mrs. Fiske in "Tess." The first evening performance starts promptly at 7:30, and the last one at 9. Lovers of high-class dramatic art, tragedy and romance will find pleasure in visiting the Rex tonight. The exquisite acting, the wonderful scenery, the pathetic situations and the unusual skill in filming of sunsets and cloud effects put this masterful production in a high class and reflects much credit on the managing director, Daniel Frohman.

By PEGGY PEABODY

Women Often Poor Public Speakers.

"Women must learn to argue," declares an instructor in speaking, who is forming classes of women for this purpose. "Business strife with men makes it necessary that women shall be able to express their views with confidence and poise."

It will be a matter of argument among men generally that women need any instruction in the branch aforesaid. Argument has been woman's forte and to good effect in the closer confines of home, if not at the club meeting or luncheon, since humanity found its tongue.

Almost any man will yield the floor to a woman, be that his wife, when she commences to argue, whether from conviction or because he feels it simply a waste of time to continue, is unknown, though we suspect him of the latter.

I have rarely met with a woman having views to express to a man, who could not do it, but I have seen the same woman fail miserably as she attempted some formal pleasantry at a club tea, where she felt that the eyes of all club sisters were upon her. Woman is used to laying down the law to one pair of ears in the privacy of home, and while there, probably no man would dispute her claim to proficiency, if not actual supremacy.

But in public, before men and before women, inexperienced woman makes a sorry attempt, oftimes, at expressing her most cherished and ardent ideals. No sense of inadequacy or failure enters her head until the fateful hour. Then she stands up to speak and suddenly loses all sense of what she intended to say and becomes keenly conscious of herself as a physical creature, hands, feet, pumping heart, bursting lungs and thumping head, and vaguely, of the rows of human beings looking to her for enlightenment. It is a most unexpected and indeed a very unhappy moment for her.

Possibly there are certain points that can be drilled into the person with ambitions to speak in public. I hope that there are for the sake of those who have the desire. There is nothing that causes me greater distress of mind than to watch a woman who has been called upon to address a meeting or make a few remarks and is wholly unfitted or unprepared to do it.

Some women haven't the presence of mind or courage for it any way and others lack the experience. If one has a liking for it there is no better school than that of actual experience to be obtained by airing one's views whenever opportunity presents. When you do talk have something to say and say it as if you were convinced yourself.

MAKE M'ADOO PLAY CENSOR

Make Further Progress in Agreeing on the Bill.

Washington, Sept. 17.—A compromise between senate and house whereby cotton grain bags, used in the West, and "press cloths" of camel's hair, used in the cotton seed oil mills of the South, will both go to the tariff free list, is expected late today.

The conferees today agreed to the senate free listing of photographic films, and giving the secretary of the treasury power to censor all imported photographic plays on pictures. The senate rates on photographic apparatus were slightly reduced.

The more important differences between the two houses on all features of the tariff bill still are to be considered, and it is believed the conference will not end before the early part of next week.

Most Sundries Settled.

The conferees pushed through the sundries schedule yesterday, reaching agreements on most of its provisions. The differences between house and senate over hats, works of art, furs and several other important items, were left for later action.

The house members accepted the senate amendments putting gunpowder and fulminates on the free list, making changes in the method of assessing duties on laces and putting harness and saddlery on the free list. The senate receded from its amendment putting chamois, calfskins and similar leathers on the free list, and accepted the house rates of 15 per cent. The senate also consented to reduction in the rates it had fixed on gloves.

Owing to the large number of amendments to the text of the income tax section, it is said that some time will be spent by the conferees in perfecting the measure, to prevent confusion in the administration of the law.

Bronwsville, Tex., Sept. 17.—United States soldiers yesterday hauled down several Mexican flags at a Mexican independence day celebration about forty miles from here on the American side of the border. The Mexicans then raised an American flag.

Residents of Pharr, Tex., also pulled down Mexican flags until the Mexicans raised one American flag.

SEEK COMPANION OF DROWNED MAN.

An unknown man was found drowned at Portage Lake, Mich., last Saturday and the authorities in that city are looking for his companion, who is now supposed to be in Duluth.

The two men were seen together on Monday, Sept. 8, when the companion of the drowned man took his suitcase and said he was leaving for Duluth. It was the last seen of either of the two men, until one of them was found in Portage Lake. The body of the latter is being held by the Portage Lake authorities, pending the finding of his companion by the local police.

GUILTY LOVERS ARE RELEASED ON PAROLE.

Mary Dorvinen, 25-year-old wife of William Dorvinen, and William Marshall, 33, admitted charges of adultery when brought before Judge Bert Fesler in district court this morning. The court paroled the guilty lovers under a penitentiary sentence.

Mrs. Dorvinen was arrested with Marshall at 5 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 12 last at the Glen hotel, Twelfth avenue west and Michigan street. In police court both waived examination and were bound over to the November grand jury. In district court this morning, they pleaded guilty on information and were allowed their freedom on the promise of good behavior in the future.

DRIZZLE OF RAIN ON PERRY FETE.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Despite a drizzle of rain this morning and threatening clouds afterward, the committee in charge of the Perry centennial celebration planned to carry out the day's program. The big feature of the day was to be a grand military parade in the afternoon.

Broken Hip Fatal.

Lakota, N. D., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—From a broken hip, received in an accident eight months ago, Mrs. Peter La Tourrette, aged 86 years, is dead at her home in this city. Mrs. La Tourrette was a North Dakota pioneer, coming to Petersburg, N. D., in 1883. She was born in Montgomery, N. Y.

QUITE A NEAT LITTLE FIGHT, AFTER ALL.

The Hicken ordinance is carried. The margin is only 108 in a total vote of nearly ten thousand; but for legal purposes it is as good as a thousand. The ordinance is as surely the law in Duluth as though the 108 were ten times as great.

The best thing about the referendum fight is that it is over and out of the way, so that Duluth and its commissioners and its citizens can get about other things of importance to the community and to all its people. The American custom—and it is a happy one—is to fight out its fights in the campaigns and at the polls and then to call them ended when the votes are counted.

The most surprising thing about the election figures—and one of the most heartening things—is the size of the vote. Nobody had expected a total vote of more than seven or eight thousand, and the latter figure was about the highest estimate. The showing of interest is highly creditable to the public spirit and civic vigilance of the citizenship. There was little evidence of it until the last two or three days of the contest, but a lot of hard work was done on both sides, and the rousing and successful Armory meeting the night before election was a good stroke of business for the advocates of the ordinance and had much to do with the large total vote and with the vote for the ordinance.

And, by the way, we must congratulate the workers for the ordinance on the hard and vigorous and effective fight they made. And we should most certainly add the adjective "wise," for no other term can be applied to the liberal and effective use they made of The Herald's advertising columns.

Duluth has a reputation for close elections, and this is another in the long list. The majority for the ordinance is a trifle more than one per cent of the total vote. Three wards voted for the ordinance and five against it, and twenty-six precincts voted against it while eighteen voted for it.

It is very plain that aside from many minor factors, there were two main factors opposed to each other in the minds of the voters, one pulling for the ordinance and the other against it.

It is safe to say that had it not been for the six-foot provision which apparently puts out of business a number of cigar stores and other small business enterprises, the ordinance would have been carried overwhelmingly. Coupled with the fact that present laws seemed adequate to many and that present enforcement of law seemed unassailably efficient, the apparently unnecessary injustice of this provision led many to vote against the ordinance who might otherwise have voted for it.

On the other hand, pulling strongly for the ordinance in many minds was the provision against brewery control of saloons; and had this provision not been in the ordinance it is safe to say that it would have been beaten overwhelmingly. The issue of brewery ownership, which has agitated the state legislature and has spread over the state, has taken firm hold of the minds of many citizens in Duluth and elsewhere; and in a very large degree indeed this fact accounts for the ratification of the ordinance.

These two provisions tell practically the whole story of the fight and of its outcome.

* * *

We heartily congratulate those who have won what they have been striving for, and we sincerely hope that it will do all the good they expect from it and none of the harm many have feared.

One point, however, should not be overlooked. The Hicken ordinance was advertised during the campaign—perhaps for campaign purposes—as a law that would automatically enforce itself.

No friend of law and order should rest upon that dictum; and those who expect it to prove true will inevitably be disappointed.

There is no such law as that, and there can be no such law governing matters of habits and personal conduct.

The success of all such laws rests with and depends upon the vigor of the public sentiment behind them and the firmness and vigilance of the officers charged with the duty of enforcing them.

The fact that those in authority are widely known to be determined to impose the fullest rigors of the law upon those who misbehave, and that public sentiment generally supports that attitude so long as it is inspired by reason and justice, is more powerful than any law providing for law enforcement possibly could be.

That power the commissioners had and used before the Hicken ordinance became law. They still have it, no less and no more, and they will still use it. This is what The Herald has had in mind when it expressed doubt of the importance of the ordinance and when it refused to become excited over the question whether it should be adopted or defeated.

There has been much less bitterness and unpleasant bickering during the contest than there might easily have been, and this is a great credit to the good temper, sanity and balance of the citizenship of Duluth.

Now that it is over, those who have been divided by it will cross the obliterated line of division and join hands once more in the common purpose of working for a bigger and better and busier Duluth, a Duluth that will be better to live in and work in and be happy and good and prosperous in.

The London Times is devoting considerable space to a description of an "unsinkable ship." This will be generally regarded as a direct slap at the lifeboat trust.

THE "OPEN COURT" IN THE CAMPAIGN.

Some dozen or fifteen correspondents who sent letters to the Open Court at the close of the referendum campaign did not see their communications in print.

The Herald is sorry about that, but it couldn't be helped. It strained the Open Court's capacity to its fullest extent during the recent discussion, and on the eve of election day gave it practically all of the available space on this page. The letters that came in were printed in the order of their receipt, but when the page was closed on the last day there were several columns of communications, standing in type, for which it was impossible to find room.

Certainly no complaint of unfairness can be made against the Open Court by those who have analyzed the letters bearing on the ordinance that were published. The space occupied by those favorable to the ordinance was in the proportion of three to one to those against it.

The Open Court is free to all who comply with its rules, whether they write in accordance with The Herald's views or not; but there is a limit on available space, and the record-breaking receipt of communications on the ordinance went far beyond that limit. Hence the disappointment of those whose letters did not get into print.

Because a woman dislikes flattery is no sign she doesn't like to hear nice things about herself when you can keep a straight face and assure her it isn't flattery at all.

WATER AND GAS EXTENSIONS.

Some of the city commissioners are considering the plan of assessing the cost of water and light extensions against the property benefited, instead of the present plan of requiring an eight per cent guaranty on the estimated cost of the extensions.

The idea has been discussed before, and there are strong arguments in its favor. While perhaps not a thing to be adopted off-hand without full discussion and close study, certainly it is worth both study and discussion. And there is plenty of time for that, because the city has got along well with the old plan for a long time, and it can get along with it at least long enough to thresh out the new plan thoroughly.

The advantage of the present plan is that it relieves home-builders, already well burdened with taxes, street and sidewalk assessments and the high cost of building, of the burden of an additional assessment for water and gas service. At the same time the city is fully protected by the guaranty of eight per cent on the cost of the extension.

The disadvantage of the present system is that the non-resident property-owner, or even the resident owner of unimproved property, may refuse to join in the guaranty and thus escape his just share of the cost while accepting his full share of the benefits.

This injustice to the homebuilder might be avoided by putting extensions, except for the assessment part, on a basis similar to that of street improvements; that is, by providing that when twenty-five per cent of the owners petition for water and gas extensions, the guaranty shall be divided equitably among the owners of the property benefited, whether they are residents or non-residents, homeowners or owners of property held for speculative purposes. This would be a better and a fairer system than the present one if it could be worked out. And no reason why it could not be worked out, unless there is a legal one, is evident on the face of it.

Thus the present injustice to the homebuilder could be eliminated, while still relieving him of the burden of paying for the cost of extensions. And the city would be amply protected by the eight per cent guaranty.

On the other hand, it might happen sometimes that where settlement in a section in which gas and water extensions are provided is delayed, the assessment plan would be more economical to the property-owner than the guaranty plan. This would be the case if the annual payment, during a term of years under the guaranty, amounts to the interest on a larger sum than the assessment would be.

The proposal is interesting and important, and it should be studied and discussed fully. If the arguments for it prove stronger than the arguments against it, it should by all means be adopted.

People are so thoughtless, sometimes. It's doubtful if that Ohio mob that hanged a victim in effigy ever thought of such a thing as inviting the proxy victim to be present and share the fun.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

PLEASED WITH VICTORY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Upon your splendid victory for civic righteousness congratulations, Duluth, from a resident of Des Moines, Iowa. Next time make it stronger, Mr. Hicken—open saloons at 7 a. m. and close at 9 p. m. It works! Ask Chief of Police Jenney of Des Moines.

ANNETTE E. LONG.

Duluth, Sept. 17.

HOPES FOR BEST.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I was one of the 4,683 voters who constitute the vicious element in Duluth, according to the morning paper. There is a big party of us, isn't there, Mr. Editor? I am a law enforcement advocate, and a total abstainer, but voted against the ordinance merely from a sense of fair play. The chief quarrel I have with those who so strenuously advocated the ordinance, is the manner in which they stamp all who oppose their views as crooks, or undesirable citizens. They can't grant us credit for honesty of opinion, and if we oppose them we have been bought or "have an ax to grind." I'm glad it's over, and hope it results in complete law enforcement with as little injustice to men in legitimate business as possible.

FAIR PLAY.

Duluth, Sept. 17.

Perennial Swindles.

Toledo Blade: A confidence man of experience once laid it down as a guiding fact for members of his craft that the gold-brick game was "good" once in every ten years. By this he meant that though the swindle was an old one and knowledge of it was about as widespread as the products of the printing press, a gull would appear every decade who would invest and provide the confidence man with means for his livelihood and the exercise of his favorite folly.

But if the gold-brick game is good every ten years, then the extraction of gold from sea-water is good every second year. It seems no time at all since we read of a Philadelphia man upon whom had fallen the mantle of the Keely motor inventor—who had a "house of mystery," into which he introduced sea-water in tanks and out of which he brought gold bright and shining and tremendously fascinating to persons who craved profits of many hundreds per cent. Then there was an Australian concern which operated in the tropics where the gold, so the prospectus read, ran a little heavier to the ton of water. The other day, a Canadian company showed that it cost four cents to handle a ton of sea-water, but it would eliminate that cost by having the high tides of the Bay of Fundy do what handling was necessary. The gold-charged tides would flow in over electrolytic plates and flow out goldless. The only labor for the company employes would be scraping the plates and, of course, that would be a labor of love. Subscriptions poured in, almost as strong as the Fundy tides. A dividend was paid, out of subscriptions. The promoters fled, and no one knows where.

The ability of the sea-water gold-extracting trick to come to life again, like the resurrection plant, matches very well with the gold-brick trick. And surely it pays much better.

Fire-Fighting in Ancient Rome.

New York World: Of course, they had a fire-fighting force in ancient Rome also. Ferrero tells about it.

It was a private brigade, organized and owned by Mr. Crassus, the well-known millionaire, who was later killed by having molten gold poured down his throat. The Crassus methods were peculiar.

A fire would break out. Crassus would saunter around with his brigade, but the owner would not cheer up so much as might be supposed.

"Fine, likely place you have here," Crassus would remark reflectively; looks now, though, as if it would get scorched considerable."

"Would that thou might save it, Crassus," the owner would remark without much hope.

"M-no; that wouldn't be business. I might buy, though. What's your price?"

"Eight thousand sesterces."

"Eight thous—why, man, are you crazy? The thing's half burned now, and money to rebuild will cost 2 per cent a month. There goes the roof of a cubiculum. How about five thousand?"

"Oh, have it as you will," the maddened owner would be forced to reply, facing total loss as an alternative.

"Done it is! Done it is! Hey, Octavius Lenturious, trot up that pump and be quick about it."

Naturally Crassus became a large house and land owner in Rome.

Credit to Wilson's Party Leadership

Press Comments on the Tariff Victory.

Chief Credit to Wilson.

New York Evening Post: For the clean-cut way in which the result has been accomplished, for the holding together of the forces in the face of many causes of dissension—and this without any debilitating compromise—the chief credit must be assigned to the president. That he was able to achieve this in spite of its entailing the protraction of the extra session throughout the trials of a Washington summer would of itself be signal evidence of rare powers of leadership; but the achievement was made the more extraordinary by the circumstance that, almost from the start, Mr. Wilson made it plain that he would not flinch from his purpose of insisting to the utmost of his powers on the passage at the extra session of a banking and currency bill in addition to the tariff bill. His complete success in the first undertaking cannot fail to increase greatly the strength of his position in regard to the second, and if he shall achieve both he will have made a record of constructive leadership rarely matched in the annals of parties. How great is his indebtedness, and that of the nation, to the ability and steadfastness of Mr. Underwood, the whole nation recognizes, and the tribute he pays also to the faithful and efficient work of Senator Simmons is likewise deserved. While the first place in distribution of credit belongs to the president, a large share is due to the whole party as represented in congress, and especially to the leaders in the two houses.

Wilson and the Democracy Vindicated.

Springfield Republican: The passage of the Democratic tariff measure in the senate yesterday constituted a historic spectacle.

The program of this first great measure of legislation establishes the adequacy of President Wilson's leadership. That which was promised by the outcome of the Baltimore convention has been so far accomplished, and to this extent the hope of the people has been achieved and not denied.

It has brought the Democratic party to its first great milestone in the discharge of the responsibility which the people have committed to it. That will give hope and confidence to its members that the rest of the Wilson program is possible of attainment, and so to be expected.

Without threat or bluster, steadily and surely, the president has been working with and leading his party in congress. The critics have been active, but the march has not faltered or wavered. Qualities of mastership that were successful in New Jersey have not proved inadequate in the environment of Washington. Much more there is to be done, but the prospects of achieving it are enhanced by the spectacle which the country was afforded yesterday.

The President's Victory.

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: The Democratic support of the tariff bill in the senate yesterday, solid with the exception of the two sugar senators from Louisiana, whose places were taken by Senators Poindexter and La Follette, was a notable victory for President Wilson and an attestation of the power which he wields over his party in congress.

The schoolmaster has been maintaining strict discipline and holding his class to the stint he has set for them. However much of an amateur in politics he may be in point of experience, or seem to be in methods employed, he has kept a united party at Washington, despite much grumbling and no little disappointment on the part of the officeseekers, and from such signs as the Maine bye-election it is to be inferred that the party at large is as loyally standing behind him. The final passage of the tariff bill will go a long way toward confirming his prestige, but there are still many difficult tests ahead of him before he submits to the general verdict of the nation in the mid-term congressional elections.

Watterson Calls It Workmanlike.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Of course, the new law will not make tenderloin steak sell at the price of brisket or reduce the price of a loaf to the former price of half a loaf. It will not make poor men rich or rich men poor. It will, in short, not work miracles. The best that may be hoped for, and the best that was planned is the elimination, or material reduction, of special privilege for the favored few at the expense of the productive many. If the Democrats remain in power they will assuredly profit by experience and where the law seems subject to improvement it will be improved. The work has been done in a business-like manner, and the law will doubtless prove in operation a workman-like act of legislation.

A Notable Achievement.

Philadelphia Record: The passage of the tariff bill through the senate by a majority of seven is a notable achievement. The party's majority in the senate is small, and local interests arrayed several Democratic senators in opposition during the consideration of the bill. On the final vote, however, only the Louisiana senators were in the opposition, and they were offset by one Republican and one Progressive, if we count the volatile Mr. La Follette as a Republican; he may be a Progressive and he may become a Democrat. There was one Democrat vacancy and one Republican was absent unpaired.

Now for Business.

The Underwood-Simmons tariff bill passed the senate by a vote of 44 to 37—not so deep as a well nor so wide as a church door, but 'twill serve—and in a few days will become a law.

It may as well be understood from the beginning that no tariff measure yet dreamed of gave universal satisfaction, and this one is no exception. President Wilson says the fight for the people and free business has been won, while the Republicans see nothing from this out save ruin and soup houses.

The man outside, the onlooker, doesn't entirely indorse either view. He is inclined to praise the administration for its speedy handling of the matter and redemption of its platform pledge, and, while scoffing at the ides of widespread mercantile disaster, does not believe there will be any perceptible decrease in the cost of living.

But merchants can now tell where they stand and business will no longer be held up.

Redeems Party Promise.

Chicago Record-Herald: The tariff bill, in its essentials, redeems the promises of the party in power. It is soon to undergo the test of practice. The people are in a mood to judge it fairly and soberly. They are going to consult facts, not prejurices and theories. They have genuine revision downward—the thing demanded for years. The future of tariff policy will largely depend on the working of the new measure.

A Sanguine Tone Expected.

Columbia, S. C., State: Everyone is justified in entertaining the hope that a sanguine tone will immediately begin to assert itself in commercial and industrial circles, dispelling the inevitable apathy mingled with pessimism that has lowered since a change in the country's fiscal policy was indicated by the elections last year.

The passage of the bill is, of course, the first achievement of highest rank to be credited to the Democratic administration. The first it should have been. Have not the Democrats labored for tariff through all the years?

How Nature Gives Warning of Rain

Kansas City Star: A writer in the Hamburger Nachrichten, who is evidently one of those rare and favored mortals who find "tongues in trees, books in the running brooks," thus charmingly summarizes the various signs of impending rain:

The idyllic calm of the hen run gives place to a scene of great excitement. the fowls running about and waltzing in the dust.

The ducks are just as lively, diving frequently. Peacocks give vent to their hiard metallic cry expressive of a soul in anguish. Pigeons lose their consciousness of the time of the day and seem to be in doubt whether they ought not at once to seek the shelter of the dove cote.

Swallows give up their aerial circling and press down toward the earth in pursuit of the insects which have also dropped into lower strata.

Other animals seem to know that the time of cheerful sunny warmth is departing. In a corner of the yard the cat scratches herself behind her ear and rubs her fur with a paw as if she wanted to remove some invisible spot. In barn and corn loft rats and mice emerge from their dark corners.

Flies are all agog; their quiet reflectiveness give place to a restless and greedy buzzing round everything and everyone. Bees either stop at home in the hive or come swarming back to it in a hurry. They cease to be pacified and go out of their way to sting an unsuspecting wayfarer if they see a storm coming.

Spiders stop in the middle of the feverish weaving of their webs and hang dully and tiredly by their threads. So, too, with the humble denizens of the soil; worms wiggle up and stretch themselves, while toads come out of their holes in troops. In the pond the chorus of frog voices sounds louder than ever as they invoke the clouds to pour down the long desired rain.

Even under the water the coming changes makes itself felt. Fish rise. Twenty-four hours before the change in the weather the roach comes out of its muddy bed and swims about continually, making what looks like terrified gasps for breath, which gives it its name of "weather fish." The frogs, those true barometers, leave the water and show themselves.

Even the plants reflect the coming bowed back; fennel, too, stands up stiff and straight if colder weather is looming on the horizon. The wood sorrel lifts its leaves before a storm, while those of the narcissus close up. The lettuce again opens its leaves before rain. So many and so varied are nature's signs.

Remedy for Indecent Dressing.

Chicago News: Edward W. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, presents in Collier's Weekly some timely and sensible remarks on the remedy for the present outbreak of indecent dressing by women. The primary blame for the prevailing styles must be placed on Parsian dressmakers. American women themselves are to blame, however, for accepting the freakish and improper designs offered them. Mr. Bok repeats what has been said many times, that French women of refinement do not wear any such garments as the atrocities recently put out bearing the French label. French dressmakers simply induce respectable women in this country to accept a style of dressing that prevails chiefly in the underworld of Paris.

In the matter of dress designing, says Mr. Bok, Paris is on the wane. The women of discrimination in other countries refuse to accept the absurd styles that have been furnished in the last few years by Paris dressmakers. In the opinion of Mr. Bok, American women should encourage American designers, American manufacturers, American dressmakers — in short, American industries.

Mr. Bok's suggestion is eminently sensible. Degenerate Parisian fashions should not be tolerated by American women for themselves and their daughters. Amercan designers and dressmakers should be encouraged to furnish styles in garments suitable to American women. So long as Paris provided modest and artistic styles there was an excuse for the general fondness for French garments. But sensible and virtuous American women should scorn to follow French styles in their degeneracy.

A Harrowing Experience.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Yes," he said, "I once had a terrible experience with a mad bull. I was in a big field when he started after me. It was almost half a mile to the nearest fence, and there was no tree anywhere that I could climb."

"How perfectly awful!" she exclaimed. "Could he run fast?"

"I never supposed there was anything in the world that could run as fast as that bull did. And big! He looked bigger than a passenger locomotive."

"Mercy! It makes me shiver to think of it. Wasn't there even a big rock or a haystack or anything of that kind which you could get behind?"

"Not a thing. The field was absolutely bare. The only thing I could do was to turn very quickly every little while, just as the bull had almost reached me. That would give me a new chance, for the animal, being unaware of my intention, would not be able to change his course immediately, and I would have an opportunity to get my breath again."

"It must have been horrible. And did you finally escape?"

"No. He ran me down at last and gored me to death."

How Language Grows.

Chicago Evening Post: Kansas has had a long drouth. It has been broken by rain, but the corn fields need more moisture still. And to add to the tantalizing conditions the state has been overcast by great clouds that heaped up and looked black and then went sweeping onward—rainless. "It's going to rain, sure," said a Junction City farmer to a railroad brakeman. "See those clouds over there." The brakeman shook his head. "Nothing but a string of empties," he said. Thus does the English language grow. Huerta's "recognition" proposals are "a string of empties." So are Messrs. Barnes, Pearose, Crane et al. It's a picturesque phrase. Kansas ought to push it.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Time to Shiver.

Stillwater Gazette: We note the fact, with a little shiver, that pedestrians do not dodge the sunny side of the street, and the workmen rest in the sun instead of the shade.

The Real Test.

Le Sueur News: No man can be elected to the United States senate from Minnesota the next time who is not a tariff reformer. It will not do him any good to call himself a progressive or other stripe of party man either.

Bubble Over With Enthusiasm.

Browns Valley Tribune: Sometimes we think that the Minnesota press does not sufficiently extol the many advantages of this great state of ours. Think of our great agricultural advantages, call to mind our thousands of beautiful lakes and streams; think of our dairy industry and the prospects of its extension, give a thought to our iron ore industry with its employment of thousands of workingmen; think of our three large cities, the net-work of railroads leading to them and the splendid market and outlet for our produce they afford; call to mind our great waterways connections by reason of our proximity to the Great Lakes and the source of the Father of Waters—the Mississippi. When we consider all these great advantages only passingly mentioned, why should people leave Minnesota or pass through it and on to less desirable locations in search of new homes when we have within our border thousands of fertile acres yet untouched by the plow? The Minnesota press has done much, but it can do more to set forth in stronger light Minnesota's superiority over many of our neighboring states.

No Militancy Needed.

Little Falls Transcript: A goodly number of states have won the ballot privilege without the adoption of militant methods. We doubt if the visit of Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst to this country will greatly advance the case of honest suffrage for women.

Economy Needed.

Northfield News: The total assessed valuation of personal property in Minnesota in 1903 was $132,443,798; in 1913 it had increased to $227,923,882. In 1903 the real estate valuation was $654,426,001; it is $1,163,012,125 in 1913. So far this showing is satisfactory. The trouble is that in that time the rate of taxation has also increased. So far as taxation for state purposes is concerned this increase seems scarcely warranted by the additional benefits received. There is little doubt that greater economy could be practiced without detriment to the public interest.

The Governorship.

Virginia Enterprise: Senator James Elwell of Minneapolis has declared himself as a candidate for governor. He is the author of the Elwell road law that has proven so popular in Northern Minnesota and undoubtedly a very good man in his place. Minnesota's next governor, however, should be a man of more real caliber as gubernatorial timber than anyone who has held the job recently, or who appears to be casting about to land it at the present time. The expense of the campaign will no doubt deter many good men from looking in the direction of the state's chief executive job, more especially if they would get into the game free from mesalliance and subsidizing influences. In the meantime in the case of the progressives too many cooks are going to help spoil the broth and the whole situation is not one affording any considerable comfort to those that believe Governor Eberhart should be succeeded.

Certainties in Minnesota.

Warroad Pioneer: "The Land of Certainties" is a very apt and descriptive slogan for the timber district of Northern Minnesota. The farmer who puts his seed into the ground on cleared land in the timber district—if the land is of average quality and the drainage reasonably good—can be much more certain of what the crop will be than the farmer in the prairie state. The danger from loss by drouth, hail and hot winds are almost eliminated, and danger of loss by frost greatly minimized. "The Land of Certainties" is right.

The Pitcher's Tragedy.

Popular Magazine: Connie Mack, who takes great pride in developing young pitchers and then prophesying how they will show up in action, sent in one of his finds in an exhibition game not long tgo. The slaughter of the young slab artist was pitiful to behold. At the end of the second inning Connie was somewhat peeved.

"What's the matter with you, son?" he asked the terrified youngster as kindly as he could—which was not remarkably kindly.

"I—I don't seem to be able to get the ball over the plate," said the pitcher sadly.

"You're mighty right, you can't get it over the plate," observed Mack, his peeved condition much aggravated. "And I'll tell you why. Every time you start it over they knock it back at you."

Mrs. Lofty and I.

Mrs. Lofty keeps a carriage,
So do I;
She has dapple grays to draw it,
None have I;
She's no prouder with her coachman
Than am I
With my blue-eyed laughing baby,
Trundling by;
I hide his face lest she should see
The cherub boy, and envy me.

Her fine husband has white fingers,
Mine has not;
He could give his bride a palace—
Mine a cot;
Hers come home beneath the starlight,
Ne'er cares she;
Mine comes in the purple twilight,
Kisses me,
And prays that He who turns life's sands
Will hold His loved ones in His hands.

Mrs. Lofty has her jewels,
So have I;
She wears hers upon her bosom—
Inside I;
She will leave hers at death's portal,
By-and-by;
I shall bear my treasure with me
When I die;
For I have love and she has gold;
She counts her wealth—mine can't be told.

She has those who love her station,
None have I;
But I've one true heart beside me—
Glad am I;
I'd not change it for a kingdom,
No, not I;
God will weigh it in His balance,
By-and-by;
And the difference define
'Twixt Mrs. Lofty's wealth and mine.

Washington Man Laughed at Duluth; Marvels Now. Pays Tribute to Electro Medical Doctors.

Z. Mores of Washington, D. C., retired after years of service in the postoffice department in the capital, was in Duluth looking over the city for the first time since he heard Proctor Knott ridicule the Zenith City in congress in 1871. Mr. Mores was cashier in the House of Representatives and he was one of the many who laughed at the famous oration. He called at the office of the Electro-Medical Doctors while in the city to take treatment for a painful malady he was suffering from. "Doctor," he said to the examining physician, "you are practicing in a great city, an advantage of which you should be proud. I was looking for just such an office as yours and I consider myself lucky to have found you. I take similar treatments to yours at home in Washington and they help me every time. I am not a believer in strong drugs. Natural methods are coming to the front with rapid strides and misplace the old out-of-time system of drugging very fast. The more intelligent classes of people all over the world are waking up to the fact that nature has a cure for every disease known, and from what students of nature are demonstrating to the world today we cannot help but believe in natural methods of cure. Moreover, who wants to be a drug fiend or doped when you can get cured without any pain or strong drug? Before when I took morphine to stop my pain I felt sick from the effects of it for several days, lost my appetite, my weight came down. With natural methods I get rid of my pain with few treatments and never have any unpleasant after-effects. Every thinking person should investigate a system that has a record of cures to back it up, such as the most stubborn chronic diseases where both surgery and medicine had utterly failed. And other diseases where operation had been advised as the only means of a cure, and then they were cured by natural methods, such as goiters, tumors, swellings, etc." Natural methods as scientifically employed by the Electro-Medical Doctors, 26 West Superior street, have cured many patients, rich and poor. Mr. Mores understood this method of cure; that is why he applied for it. Are you suffering from any cause? Call on the

LOSES HEALTH AND SANITY IN AMERICA, LAND OF PROMISE

Guiseppe Nanti Will Be Deported to Home in Italy After Two Months in This Country.

Guiseppe Nanti, 23 years old, came to this country just two months ago, healthy and sane; Friday he is to be deported back to Italy, sick and out of his mind. His case is in charge of Brown McDonald, local immigration inspector.

Just two months ago Guiseppe came to Mountain Iron from Pognana, Massa province, Italy, and joined his brother, Ernesto, who had been there for five years. The two young men secured employment in a mine at Mountain Iron, Guiseppe in a test pit and Ernesto on a steam shovel.

About three weeks ago Guiseppe began complaining of illness and he quit working at the mine and rested. After a few days Ernesto noticed his brother mumbling to himself and acting queerly. He attempted to speak to him, but Guiseppe seemed to be unable to understand.

Last week Guiseppe attempted to kill himself several times, but each time his brother was on hand to frustrate the attempt. Guiseppe refused to eat and sat about muttering to himself, according to the story told this morning by Ernesto. Ernesto then wrote to Immigration Inspector McDonald and told him of the case and said that he was planning to take his brother back to Italy.

Yesterday afternoon the two brothers arrived in Duluth and while they were crossing Michigan street from the Union station, Guiseppe attempted to throw himself under a passing wagon. His brother succeeded in pulling him away. The duo went to the North hotel, where they spent the night. This morning Ernesto appeared at police headquarters with his brother.

Mr. McDonald was called and he made arrangements to have Guiseppe taken to the St. Luke's hospital, where he will be kept until Friday, when the immigration authorities will take him and his brother to New York, from where they will sail for their home in Italy on Sept. 24.

Ernesto is 29 years old and fearing for his younger brother's safety has volunteered to go back to Italy with him, so that he will be sure Guiseppe arrives home safely. Their parents, together with two brothers and two sisters, live on a farm in the province of Massa, near Genoa.

FARMERS ARE GIVEN A TIP

Says "Big Five" of Minneapolis Would Take All Profits.

A way for the farmers of Northern Minnesota to get the best returns for their products is pointed out by H. H. Rowley, manager of a co-operative fruit marketing association of Minneapolis. Mr. Rowley urges the farmers to beware of the buyer that represents several competitive commission houses. He declared that these buyers were out to get the produce at the lowest figure, destroying competition between the purchasing houses, but giving the farmers the small end of the profits.

To illustrate his statements, Mr. Rowley told of the market conditions that confronted the berry raisers of Bayfield, Wis., when they tried to market their fruit this season.

Trade at Standstill.

"I went down there to get fruit for my association," said Mr. Rowley today. "There I found a man representing five big commission houses in Minneapolis. He had been there several days but had not bought a single crate of berries. He wanted the growers to consign their berries to the various houses and said that they would be given a good price after the berries were sold.

"The growers refused to do this and things were at a standstill when I arrived. Then when the representative of the 'big five' found there was another buyer in the field he changed his tactics. He offered a fair market price for the berries and the growers were able to do business."

TO THE MUSIC FOLLOWING PUBLIC OF DULUTH AND THE NORTHWEST:

At a recent session of the legislature of the great state of Minnesota there was passed a law which is now in effect, prohibiting fake advertising—making it a felony if convicted, and the parties are subjected to a heavy fine. The fake piano sales in the past were many, in fact so numerous that it became necessary to pass a law prohibiting sales of this nature. We have sold a great many pianos to purchasers who have stated they had called at certain piano houses to investigate bargains offered and were either told they had been sold or shown a wreck of some former piano that no one would have. Possibly you have been fooled in this manner yourself when investigating some piano sale. The Kreidler Piano company has been in Duluth for a good many years and we take pleasure in stating and placing ourselves on record (in the face of the recent laws passed) that no one will be disappointed at our store, 108 East Superior street. You will find honest pianos at honest prices and each and every instrument on sale that we advertise according to the terms specified.—KREIDLER PIANO COMPANY.

Bear in mind we are compelled to vacate our present quarters on or before October 1, 1913. If you do not take advantage of this wonderful saving piano sale, you will have neglected to perform a duty vital to your interest.

SCHOOL WILL GIVE EXHIBIT

Work Done By Pupils Will Be Shown to Parents.

Preparations are rapidly being made for the industrial exhibit to be made on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 25 and 26, by the school children at the Ely school. Principal Harold G. House expects every child in the school to have some article on exhibition during the two days.

The principal feature will be a display of vegetables grown by the children in their gardens during the past summer. Members of the West Duluth Commercial club will be present and award prizes to the best display. A part of the $25 appropriated by the club early this year for this purpose will be given to the children.

An exhibition of the workmanship of the boys in the manual training department as well as that of the girls in the domestic science department will also be prominent in the display. Drawing, writing and other school work will also be shown.

The exhibit will open on Thursday afternoon to the public. It will remain open all day Friday and in the evening the children plan to hold a reception for their parents. Refreshments will be served by the girls of the upper grades in the kindergarten rooms of the building.

WANT STATION OPENED AT ONCE

West Duluthians Annoyed at Canadian Northern Delay.

Residents of West Duluth are becoming curious to know when the West Duluth station of the Canadian Northern railroad is to be opened. Although completed nearly two months ago, with the exception of installing the freight and passenger elevator, no step has been taken toward opening the building.

It is claimed that from ten to thirty people take this train morning and evening at West Duluth and are compelled to go to the company's yards at Seventy-second avenue to do it. Many people coming to the city also wish to stop in this end of the city but are compelled to get off the train several blocks away from the street car lines and nearly two miles from the business district.

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club will request its railroad committee to inquire into the reason why the station is not being put to use. They aver that the company with little or no effort could have the elevators necessary for the station installed at once. They say that the opening of the station is necessary for the convenience of the public.

WILL ELECT COMMISSIONERS

The semi-annual election of mayor and commissioners for the Duluth Industrial high school will take place next Tuesday. The election was to have been held yesterday but the preparations for the affair could not be completed by the present officials.

About fifteen of the students will become candidates for the nine offices. John Davis and John Nettleton will be the contenders for the mayor's chair. The others will seek the election as commissioners.

The students are taking considerable interest in the coming contest. Each of the four classes will be well represented on the ticket. The nominations for commissioners will be made in accordance with the provisions of the Duluth charter, each having at least ten signatures before the application can become approved. The last day of filing these petitions will be on Monday.

NOBODY WANTS TO BE POSTMASTER

There is no one now living in Smithville who wants the position of postmaster. At least no application has as yet been made for the special examination to be held there this week.

It was for this reason that the examination has been continued three weeks until Oct. 11, so that applications may be received by E. M. Barker, secretary of the local examining board. Information regarding the examination can be obtained from Mr. Barker or the present postmaster at Smithville.

The position is open to any male over 21 years of age and any female of 18 years of age. Applicants must reside within the territory to be served by the postoffice. The salary for the position is $216 a year.

TO THE PUBLIC

We are about to publish in this paper a series of articles introducing Father John's Medicine to this city.

We shall tell you its interesting history, how it was prescribed for the Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., from whom it got its name, 50 years ago.

You will understand why it is the leading preparation wherever it is advertised, because of its merit, as proven by a great number of impressive endorsements by clergymen, doctors, hospitals and institutions all over the country.

Father John's Medicine has had fifty years' success as a body builder, for colds, throat and lung troubles, asthma, bronchitis, and consumption. It does not contain alcohol nor dangerous drugs in any form.

The history of Father John's Medicine is guaranteed to be true. We offer to give $25,000 to any charity if it can be shown otherwise.

TAKE JUNKET TO STEEL PLANT

City Officials Spend Day Looking Over Corporation's Property.

The city commission, accompanied by Chief Joseph Randall of the fire department, Chief of Police C. H. Troyer, Building Inspector S. M. Keilley, City Clerk Charles S. Palmer and Dr. H. E. Webster, health director, went on a private inspection trip to the steel plant today.

This morning they visited the site of the model town and the cement plant, and this afternoon they went through the steel plant proper. Lunch was served at the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club. The city officials traveled in the city's automobiles. After the invitation to make the trip was received it was stated that the trip was not of a public nature.

OLD LANDMARK IS TORN DOWN

Wreckers are hard at work on the old Armour Packing company's Duluth storage plant, at the foot of Sixth avenue west, which was ordered town down some weeks ago by the fire authorities.

The building is a landmark in Duluth as well as an eye-sore. It graced the harbor front many years ago and it has disgraced the same locality for some years of late. After the Armour company got through with it several brewing companies used it for their Duluth branches, but it got too dilapidated for that. The last tenant, and the present one, is a paper stock company, which will keep on doing business at the old stand until the roof is taken off.

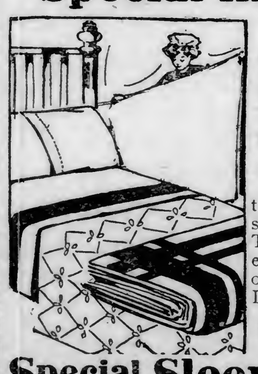

WILL FACE TRIAL FOR SHOOTING WIFE

John A. McLaughlin, who is accused of having attempted to murder his wife, Mary McLaughlin, in a rooming house at 222 West Second street on May 24 last, when he fired two bullets into her jaw and shoulder, will be brought to trial tomorrow in district court on an indictment charging him with assault in the first degree.

McLaughlin, after the alleged assault, escaped to International Falls, where he was captured. After Mrs. McLaughlin got out of the hospital, she was granted a divorce from him on the grounds of cruelty.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILEY LIKES PARK RAPIDS

Railroad Promoter, Recently in Trouble, Resumes Activity.

Endeavoring to Float $10,000 Bond Issue for New Line.

Park Rapids, Minn., Sept. 17.—John M. Wiley, promoter of the Great North and South Railway association, who was tried in the Federal court at Minneapolis about a year ago, is in this territory again endeavoring to interest the people in the project of extending the line from the north end to Minneapolis.

Many citizens of Hubbard county have from the first had great confidence in Mr. Wiley and the fact that the Federal jury stood eleven for conviction, and the evidence at the trial showed that promotion has been his profession for years, has not shaken their trust. He testified at the trial that he had exploited the La Luz Drainage & Transportation company, the Gigantic Mountain & Tunnel company, the Latin-American World's Permanent Commercial Exposition society, the Franco-American Exploration company, the La Lus Mining & Tunnel company and many others, all of which had short lives.

A year ago Mr. Wiley asked Park Rapids to bond for $10,000 and pay him practically $4,000 in cash. The village did not accept his proposition, and his surveyors went to work about two miles west of this town.

Last week he made a proposition to come into Park Rapids for $2,500 cash, the village to vote bonds for $10,000 to be paid when the road is built. This proposition has now been amended and he will come into Park Rapids for nothing if it will grant him the privilege and vote $10,000 in bonds when the road is completed.

The Commercial club will meet this week to consider his latest proposition.

CLOQUET MOTHERS' CLUB TO MEET.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first meeting for the year of the Mothers' club will be held Saturday evening, Sept. 20, in the Lincoln high school and a good program has been prepared as follows: "Welcome to the Teachers," Mrs. Z. B. Hoyt; response, Miss Oyen; vocal solo, Miss Harris; talk on conditions which Miss Elizabeth Barnard, the school physician, has found in Cloquet, Miss Barnard; reading, Miss Eagleson; vocal solo, Miss Gladys Buck. Refreshments will be served and it is desired that a large number of mothers be present.

The club at present has 106 members. It was organized last year shortly after the beginning of the school year and is the largest Mothers club in the state, excepting one Duluth club.

FARMERS MEET TO DISCUSS POTATOES

Knife Falls Club Favors Carman and Early Ohios.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The August Gustafson farm on the Duluth road was the scene of a meeting of the Knife Falls Farmers' club Sunday at which thirty farmers were present. K. D. Van Wagnen, instructor in agriculture in the public schools, and Mr. Pfluthoeft, the Carlton county agriculturist were present and there was a discussion as to the feasibility of all farmers in this section raising the same variety of potatoes, in order to facilitate selling and handling the product. It was practically decided that two varieties, Carman No. 3 and Early Ohio will be the varieties to be raised.

Claus Johnson and K. D. Van Wagnen were in attendance as a committee to decide the matter. Mrs. Gustafson served a fine lunch.

The next meeting of the club will be at the J. P. Peterson home Sunday, Sept. 28.

SOO MAY BUILD ASHLAND ORE DOCK.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 17.—A steel and concrete ore dock may be erected here by the Soo railroad. Reports to this effect are prevalent although confirmation from officials of the road is lacking.

It is reported that the company will build a dock west of Stuntz avenue on property recently purchased. The new dock will be connected with the old one by an elevated trestle.

UPPER PENINSULA COLONY PROSPERS

Escanaba, Mich., Sept. 17.—"A perfect exemplification of what can be accomplished in an agricultural way in Cloverland is offered to all doubters in the new St. Nicholas colony in the Escanaba river valley, near Beaver." This is the verdict of three Escanaba men who visited the site—C. M. Thatcher, George M. Mashek and E. C. Voght. They spent a day at the colony and returned enthusiastic over what has been accomplished.

The colony has been opened less than a year, but practically every colonist has a crop to harvest this fall. One has cleared twenty-five acres and this fall will take a crop from the full amount of the acreage. Every farmer has cleared no less than five acres, with the exception of those who have arrived there only recently. A church is in the course of construction and a road is being completed, it leading to the settlement. The colonists are pleased and the success of the colony is believed assured.

"One must visit the scene to appreciate what really can be accomplished in a single year by a farmer in Cloverland," said one of the members of the party. "If we did not know it to be true we could not believe that some of the settlers had not been located there at least five years. All of the crops are large and there is not a discontented settler in the entire colony. Land is not only easily cleared, but it is rich and there can now be no question as to the success of the colonization scheme."

APPLES ROT FOR WANT OF MARKET

Many Minnesota Fruit Growers Forced to Feed Them to Hogs.

Mankato, Minn., Sept. 17.—For the want of a market, fruit growers of this and adjoining counties are allowing tens of thousands of bushels of the finest kind of fall and winter apples ever raised in this state to rot on the ground under the trees, or are feeding them to their hogs.

Prices offered do not warrant farmers to take the time and trouble to market the apples, and they can be had almost for the asking. In recent years thousands of apple orchards have come into bearing, and the yield this year is almost phenomenal, the lower branches of many of the trees being borne down to the ground by the weight of the fruit.

Such varieties as Wealthies, Iowa Beauties, Greenings, Malindas and many others are among the heavy producing trees.

DAKOTA FARMERS ARE BUYING SHEEP

Agent Is Sent to Montana to Select 2,800 Head.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 17.—Otto Ulhorn, field agent of the North Dakota Retter Farming association in Ransom county, has been sent by Director Thomas Cooper to Montana to purchase 2,800 sheep wanted by the farmers of the southeastern section of the state. Mr. Ulhorn is accompanied by W. J. Howe, owner of a large farm near Casselton, who will purchase several hundred sheep for his own use as well as two carloads of cattle from the Montana ranges.

This movement is a part of the work which the association is doing to introduce livestock into the state. The sheep for Ransom county will be fed upon the stubble fields and fattened on screenings and corn, thus turning the farmers' feed into meat which brings high market prices.

A representative of the better farming association is now in Kansas buying cattle for North Dakota farmers. Advices received yesterday state that the first shipment of cattle from the drouth-stricken section is on its way to this state.

Mr. Cooper is very enthusiastic over the prospects for livestock in North Dakota. He says that farmers in all parts of the state are realizing the benefits to be derived from stock on the farms.

"The farmers have a fine opportunity," said Mr. Cooper, "to cash in at a good price by putting their corn, alfalfa and other farm feed, into meat."

POGUE TRIAL IS ON AGAIN IN BEMIDJI

Former Mayor's Damage Case Against G. N. Before Court.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—John P. Pogue, former mayor of Bemidji, yesterday told a Beltrami county jury how he was dragged fifty feet with his foot caught in the cow-catcher of a locomotive, his right leg broken just above the ankle and of internal injuries he received Oct. 28, 1909, when he and four others while crossing the Great Northern railway tracks in an automobile at Wilton, six miles west of Bemidji, were struck by an eastbound locomotive, alleged to have been without a headlight after dark.

This is the third time the case of J. P. Pogue vs. Great Northern Railway company, in which Mr. Pogue seeks to recover $11,400 damages, has been called in district court. On motion of the plaintiff the case was dismissed in February, 1910, and at the fall term the same year the court dismissed the case for failure to establish a cause of action, but later reconsidered and granted a new trial. Former District Judge Marshall A. Spooner and Attorney John T. Gibbons, both of Bemidji, are appearing for the plaintiff, while A. L. Janes, former state's assistant attorney general, and Thayer Bailey of Bemidji are attorneys for the defendant.

BIG SKYSCRAPER FOR MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneauolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—The biggest office building in the Northwest is planned by R. W. Sears for the north side of Nicollet avenue and east side of Fifth street, when present leases on the property expire at the end of thirty months and Mr. Sears comes into full possession of the corner that he bought a year ago. Mr. Sears, who is a former Minneapolitan, but is more prominently known the country over because of his former active connection with a big mail order house, was in Minneapolis today, visiting his mother.

"Minneapolis will have to wait thirty months," Mr. Sears said. "Tenants of the property have leases, some of which run two and a half years. I shall make no effort to do anything until these leases expire.

"At that time I have planned to put up a building that Minneapolis will be proud of. Necessarily I will have to take down the old structures and put up something better, or lose money, for the town of growing too rapidly to make the revenue obtainable from the present rentals measure up to a fair return on the valuation."

LABOR SECRETARY TELLS OF PROGRAM.

Milwaukee, Sept. 17.—Greater labor unions, a reduction in the hours of labor and more stringent child labor laws were advocated in an address of William B. Wilson, secretary of the department of labor, before 1,000 delegates of the car men's association, which begun its annual ten days' convention yesterday.

"It is my aim," he said, "to make the department of labor one of industrial diplomacy and peace and not merely a department of mediation, as it was first intended to be."

MAN BREAKS BEAM WITH HIS HEAD.

Kensal, N. D., Sept. 17.—J. E. Son broke a 2 by 4 beam with his head in a tumble out of a hay rack, fracturing his skull in the operation. Son, however, will recover.

Standing in such a manner that he did not know the driver was about to start the horses, Son was thrown by the sudden jolt of the wagon.

He formerly was the agent of the Soo railroad at Carrington.

GRAND FORKS WILL HAVE CITY ABATTOIR.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks will build a municipal abattoir at a cost of about $10,000 and the contract will be let at the meeting of the city council next Monday. This abattoir is being constructed as a result of the efforts of Grand Forks women, interested in a pure and sanitary food campaign. They brought about a special election at which bonds for the abattoir were successfully voted on, and the city council has received plans for the structure. It will be thoroughly modern. Coupled with the site, the building will cost about $12,000.

Railroads Lose Point.

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 17.—Judge Willard of the United States court today signed an order allowing the state to present arguments at Sioux Falls Sept. 25 for the dismissal of cases brought by the railroads against the 2-cent and 2½-cent rate laws of the state.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Holdingford — Governor Eberhart has signified his acceptance of the invitation to attend the opening of the new creamery at Upsala. The date of the opening has been fixed for Tuesday, Sept. 30. International Falls — Robert Lee Fischer, the 4-year-old boy who was accidentally scalded at the Shepro home last week, passed away about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, despite all that medical aid could do for him. The mother departed that night with the remains for the family home in Oconto county, Wis., being accompanied as far as Duluth by Mr. Shepro.

Mineral River—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ness of this place with their 2-year-old son were visiting John Wynn of Minot, N. D. The little boy crawled under the house where a collie dog was tied. The animal was cross and attacked the child biting off one ear and causing other injuries. The boy will recover but will be disfigured for life.

Grygla — The board of directors of the Grygla Co-Operative company held their regular annual meeting Wednesday. Their balance sheet shows a good balance on the right side of the ledger, their trade during the eight months of 1913 having been $5,500 greater than during the corresponding period of 1912.

Brainerd — The courthouse committee recently appointed by Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, met at the courthouse Saturday afternoon and took up two propositions, one to build a new courthouse and one to improve the present structure. DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—A charter in the national honorary fraternity of Phi Beta Kappa, has been granted to the University of North Dakota, according to a message received by President F. L. McVey, from Prof. V. P. Squires, who has been attending the national convention of that order in New York.

White, S. D.—A census just taken of the population of White shows the town has 139 families, with an aggregate of 542 persons. This is an increase in population of 16 per cent in the last three years, while the increase was only 3 per cent during the 10 years previous to that.

Fargo, N. D.—Fargo day at the North Dakota Industrial show at Bismarck has been set for Wednesday, Oct. 15. It is expected that a large number of Fargo business and professional men will go to the capital city to attend the show. Elaborate preparations are being made by Commissioner Gilbreath for special entertainment.

Manning, N. D.—While Mr. and Mrs. M. Cluchko were absent from their house in the fields, a 5-year-old child playing with matches set the granary on fire and the farmer's entire grain crop for the season was burned. The loss falls especially heavy on the family who have been rather unfortunate in their farming operations for two or three years.

Alexander, N. D.—When the derrick of the bridge construction gang tipped over Thomas Anderson, the boom man, was caught underneath. His back and legs were broken and death resulted soon afterwards. The sidetrack on which the derrick was operating was defective and the rails spread, causing the accident.

Dickinson, N. D.—No admission fee will be a striking feature of the first annual Stark county fair, scheduled to open Sept. 24 and continuing three days. This was decided upon by the board of directors in accepting an offer of support from the county commissioners, who made such provision.

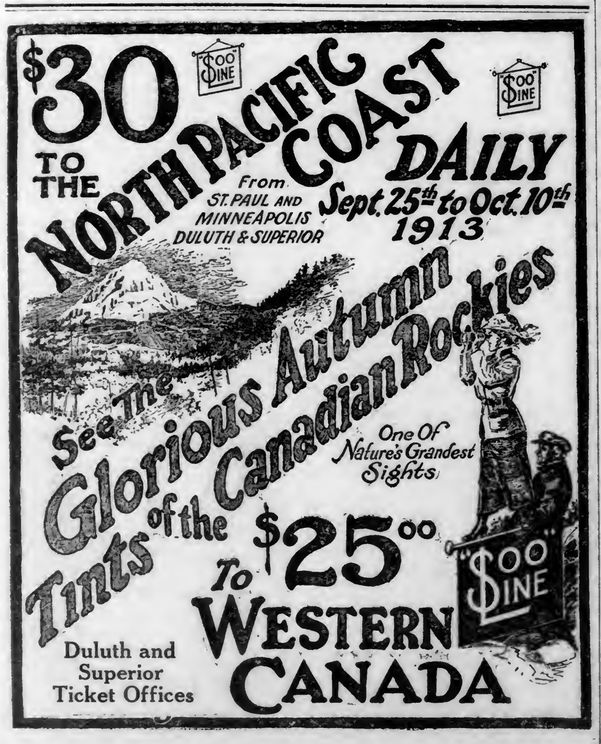

Regent, N. D.—When a threshing crew drove to the homestead of Ole Iverson they found the aged man dead in his shack. He had arranged to have his grain threshed and had been ill for some time, but was too independent to permit any of his neighbors to assist in his care and continued to live alone despite his enfeebled condition. He died alone.

Willow City, N. D.—Either because some explosive had been placed in the grain, or a hot box had developed, the front of the A. K. Johnson separator exploded and several men had narrow escapes from fatal injuries. The belt might have worn until the pulleys became wobbly and created a local condition leading to the explosion. The wreck of the machine was complete.

Bismarck, N. D.—Among the fall weddings of no little interest was that of Miss Gladys Waid to Bernard Montifering of Bismarck, at the bishop's residence, Father Hildner officiating. The newlyweds were given a big send-off when they left for their honeymoon.

Berthold, N. D.—Prof. J. H. Bradley, formerly of Ryder, but now of Berthold, was married to Miss Huidah M. Ronning of Columbus. The bride taught the fifth and sixth grades in the Berthold school last year.

Fargo, N. D.—Friends in the city have received cards announcing the marriage of Rev. Francis Hayes Leslie and Miss Elvesta Thomas of Northport, Mich. The ceremony took place at the bride's home Sept. 10, after which the couple left for the East on their honeymoon trip. Rev. Leslie is well known in Fargo, having graduated from Fargo college in the class of 1911. Since that time he has been engaged in missionary work in Turkey.

How to Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de composee), and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavona ,6 oz. Bay Rum and ½ dr. Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in an 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you cannot find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vise. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. In ten days you will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

JIM O'ROURKE HAS PLAYED BASEBALL THIRTY-SIX YEARS

This Season Is the First the Veteran Has Missed Since He Became a Major League Star.

BY BRUCE.

THROUGH the records that will mould, through the files that are stained and old, through the space of memory's flight, digging through the dope at night, behold, children, scribes search eagerly and with due diligence for the greatest of all the countless players that are playing their little part in the great vaudeville of the national game, or have played their parts and taken the final one.

There have been the Radbourns, the Brownings, the Gores, the Dalrymples, the Ansons, the Jimmy Ryans, the Pfeffers, the Williamsons, the McAleers, the Ewings the Bennets, et al, and the end is not yet. Who is so sapient as to answer the question in all its solemn finality?

Glancing through the dope the other day we chanced to run across some remarks upon old Jim O'Rourke. The game has been filled with the O'Rourkes, the Ryans, the Sweeneys and others of that imperial race that down through the span of history has engraven the name of the Irish on the field of action. Gaw's strength to the Irish. Jim O'Rourke was one of 'em.

Today this old chap is 58-years of age. This is the first season since he broke into the national game that he has failed to play a full game of baseball at least. On the advice of his physician he passed the great old sport by and falls into the ranks of those who have performed in the past.

Tenaciously old Jim clung to the game. You see he started years and yars agone. For eighteen years he was in the big league. For thirteen of these glorious years, back there in the effulgence of his youth, he batted over the magic .300 mark. In five of the eighteen years he failed to reach the swat mark that all of the hitters in all of the leagues of the country strive for. Some record, we take it.

Since this strenuous veteran dropped out of the big show he has been playing with other leagues. Some time ago he organized the Connecticut state league. He was its first president and also the manager of the Bridgeport team. If this wasn't enough to do, veteran Jim added the duties of catcher to the list of activities.

Four years ago the veteran caught a game for the New York Nationals. He was at that time 54 years of age. Those present marveled at the agility of the old man. For three years the old man played on the same team with his son, now playing third base for the St. Paul team.

When the Eastern association was organized Jim O'Rourke was made president, secretary and chief of the umpires. That is the position he holds at the present time.

As was stated several miles back the veteran insisted upon playing at least one game every season in order that his name would be listed with the regular players. This year several regular physicians shook their grizzled heads and sternly murmured nay nay. He desisted, meaning stopped.

For thirty-six years Pa O'Rourke has been a professional baseball player. This is without doubt the world's record. It is doubtful if any other player has gone much beyond the quarter century mark of continuous service. Bill Dacey speak up.

Therefore we acclaim with might of voice that when it comes to the great players of the world that old Jim O'Rourke is deserving of rank and place with some of the great and immortal who have scintillated in the past.

Emil Klank Is Coming.

WORD sweeps along the broad path of sportdom that Emil Klank, that solid and stolid German who looked after the affairs of Frank Augustus Gotch, another well known German, in the days that are done, will be in Duluth in the very near future. Emil will decamp upon us bearing messages from another German, Freddy Beell.

At the present time Klank has the business affairs of Beell in charge. For some two weeks the large German has been at Marshfield, Wis., the home of the little German, laboring with Freddy in the matter of a contest with Mike Yokel.

If this contest is wrestled it will require training upon the part of Beell. Only one man in the history of the grappling game has thrown Mike Yokel. That man is Frank Gotch. Contrary to the first report sent out of Salt Lake City, Chris Jordon did not throw Yokel. Mike got the first fall, but was hurt and compelled to give up the contest.

Returning to the corner where we have left Klank, it might be said that he comes to Duluth to discuss the details of matching Beell and Yokel. While here the former manager of Gotch will listen to the terms the Greater Duluth Athletic club is willing to offer for a contest that should go down with the great matches that have been wrestled during the past two decades.

If the two great wrestlers are matched Klank says he will return to Chicago and secure two of the finest trainers he can get and send them down to Marshfield to get Beell in the finest condition of his career. For this contest the little German will really and seriously train, for if Beell harbors hopes of beating the mighty Mike he will have to be at his best—and then there will be a bit of doubt.

Pictures May Deceive.

WHEN one picks up one of the flaring pinks of Los Angeles and beholds sinewy individuals in bathing suits going through the Rugby football practice, one wonders further along the lane of conjecture regarding the kind of game they have out in that country and the kind of climate.

Could you imagine some of the strenuous youths of this section of the country playing the game in bathing suits? Imagine making a long, low diving tackle in a bathing suit? Why imagine further? Why question further? Suffice it to observe in passing that the weather may be great and gladsomely balmy out in that neck of the woods, but the game must be of the order of the perfumed votaries of ping pong.

Let the Matter Drop.

AFTER a somewhat extended and carefully planned conversation with Tommy Burns, branded Brusso originally, one Arthur Pelkey comes forth from behind the recent obmutescent bushes and declared that he was under the odious influence of liquor when he so carelessly called Tummy a polite crook and grafter.

One very celebrated lord once declared that gents showed whether they were true gents or not when they were under the influence of liquor.

It would have been much better if these two had left the bad mess alone. Such crude attempts to square the thing makes it odorize all the more.

Tommy Burns shouldn't be at all squeamish. He went into a fake deal with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien on the coast and then crossed the Philly gent at the last moment.

Why not permit the whole thing to subside a bit?

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Rain Stops Game.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Rain yesterday afternoon prevented the final game of the season between the New York and Chicago clubs in this city. The teams had fought four innings on even terms, with two leading pitchers of the National league, Demaree and Humphries, pitted against each other, when a shower rendered the ground unfit for further play and Umpire Klem declared the game "no contest." Heine Zimmerman, who had been suspended for three days, resumed his position yesterday and Allison, procured by Chicago from Cadillac, Mich., reported to Manager Evers.

Divide Double-Header.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Philadelphia and Cincinnati broke even in a double-header yesterday, the locals winning the first, 4 to 3, and Philadelphia capturing the second, which went six innings, 4 to 0. The second game was played in a drizzling rain and was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness.

In the opening struggle honors were even up to the eighth inning, when Philadelphia, mainly through Johnson's wildness squeezed a run over the plate on two bases on balls and a single. This put the score at 3 to 2 in Philadelphia's favor. In the ninth, however, with a slippery ball to handle, Seaton lost control. He walked three men and then Groh connected with one of his curves and poked the ball into deep left, scoring Berghammer with the tieing run and Packard with the winning tally.

In the second game, Mayer was effective at all stages, while Robertson, a recruit from Savannah, Ga., had one bad inning, the third.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Johnson Scores Victory.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Walter Johnson and Joe Benz engaged in a pitchers' battle yesterday, the former coming out the victor after an uphill fight. Chicago got off to a one-run lead in the opening inning and it was not until two were out in the seventh that Washington got to Benz for its first hit and tied the score. The game was the last of the season between the two teams.

Weaver scored Chicago's only run. He opened with a single, stole second and third and scored when Chase hit. Although the visitors fought desperately, they could not score again.

Benz pitched sterling ball throughout. Until the seventh inning the only man who had reached first was Johnson, who got there when Easterly let the third strike get away from him. With two out in the seventh, Gandil doubled and scored on Morgan's triple. In the ninth, Milan opened with a single, stole second, went to third on an out and scored when Spencer, a recruit, dropped a Texas leaguer into left field. Gandil and Morgan had been passed purposely to get to the youngster. Score:

Washington ...0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—2	6	3

Batteries — Benz and Easterly; Johnson and Ainsmith. Umpires—Dineen and Egan.

Play Ten Innings.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—In a long drawn out game, Philadelphia yesterday defeated Cleveland in ten innings, 8 to 7. McInnis, who led at bat with a triple, a double and two bingles in five times up, scored the winning tally on his two-bagger and Walsh's single.

After three innings of good twirling, Shawkey and Steen began to weaken. Shawkey was taken out after pitching five innings with Cleveland ahead, 5 to 2. Pennock disposed of the first two batsmen in the sixth and then forced in a run by giving four passes. Houck finished the inning and a single sent in another tally.

Plank pitched the last four innings, and did not permit a hit or run. Steen was taken out in the sixth after giving three passes and being hit for a single which scored one run and left the bases filled while James went to the rescue. Score:

Philadelphia .0 0 0 2 0 5 0 0 0 1—8	10	0

Yankees Lose Final.

New York, Sept. 17.—Detroit won its last game of the season from New York yesterday, thereby evening the season's series with New York. The score was 4 to 3. Jennings' team stopped Caldwell, who had won five straight games, by bunching hits in the second and eighth innings. Dauss was hit harder than Caldwell, but was tight in the pinches. In the eighth inning, with the bases full, he retired Wolter and Caldwell on pop flies while the locals again filled the bases when one was out in the ninth and failed to score.

Onslow's hand was hurt in the ninth inning trying to field Holden's single, and he had to retire. Score:

Boston Wins Out.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17.—Boston defeated St. Louis, 5 to 4, yesterday in the final game of the season between the two teams. The visitors made a hard fight for the game on account of their approach to last place, but were unsuccessful. Williams stole home during the eighth inning and tied the score at four each. Shotten led off in the ninth with a triple and after Austin had been thrown out by Wagner, tried to score when Pratt drove a fast grounder to Yerkes. A perfect throw got Shotten at the plate, the decision being close. After three were out in Boston's half of the final inning, Hooper walked and advanced to second on Engle's infield hit. Both men moved up on a wild pitch and Hooper came home with the winning run when Speaker drove a liner past Balenti. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston .....1 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 1—5	8	0

Batteries—Taylor and Agnew; Bedient and Thomas, Cady. Umpires—Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Hens Win Both.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 17.—Toledo easily took a double-header from Kansas City yesterday, the first game 17 to 3, and the second 8 to 3.

The locals played like school boys in the first contest. Lange, who started to pitch for Kansas City, was knocked off the rubber in the second inning, and Riley, who relieved him, was hammered to all corners of the park. The locals also made six errors.

Covington, who pitched the second game for the locals, was hit hard. In the second inning the visitors put across five runs on six hits and an error. The second contest never was in doubt. Benn, a recruit, kept the locals' hits well scattered. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Toledo .....2 5 4 1 2 0 0 0 3—17	22	3
Kansas City ...0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 2— 5	9	6

Kansas City....1 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0—3	6	3

Batteries—Benn and Jassler; Covington and O'Connor. Umpires—O'Brien and Johnstone.

Millers Are Blanked.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—The locals were helpless before the pitching of "King" Cole here yesterday, and were shut out by a score of 7 to 0. Patterson, who started for the locals, was hammered hard and retired in the fifth to allow F. Delehanty to bat for him. Mogridge, who succeeded him, got along fairly well, but did not appear to have much more than Patterson. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Minneapolis ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	6	5

CENTRAL HIGH CANDIDATES WORK

Preparations Being Made for Game With Alumni Saturday.

Coach Schilling of the Central high school is training his football warriors for the game with the alumni Saturday afternoon. The boys are out raising havoc with the tackling dummy and are getting the signals down to perfection. They have several new plays to spring on the alumni team and a few surprises are looked for.

Bobby Gunderson, who was considered for an end position, will not be out again this season on account of parental objections.

Joe Du Moe, star of the 1912 season, is back in better shape than ever. He will play at half. Franklin Neff, candidate for a line position, sprained his ankle last week and for the time being is out of the game. He will not be seen in the line-up Saturday.

The alumni practiced last night at the Y. M. C. A. and will put in Thursday and Friday nights getting ready for the game Saturday.

JOHNNY KILBANE EARNS DECISION

Cleveland Featherweight Outpoints Jimmy Walsh at Boston.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, Ohio, the featherweight champion, won a decision over Jimmy Walsh of Boston in a twelve-round bout at catch weights here last night.

It was the third bout between the two men and the first decision at any of their meetings. Walsh was apparently much lighter than Kilbane and fought defensively most of the time.

Without offering a very strenuous of fense, Kilbane scored minor points in nearly every round. Walsh did not land half a dozen blows up to the tenth. Then he started an attack with right and left swings, several of which found their mark on Kilbane's body and neck. The champion, aroused, rained blows upon his opponent, and one right uppercut sent Walsh to the mat. He was apparently dazed for a second or two, but sparring for time, waited during a count of eight and straightened out for action. Kilbane rushed him, but was stopped by the bell.

Except for the twelfth round, this was the only extended series of punches throughout the fight. In the closing sessions, Walsh became the aggressor, but Kilbane checked all but a few of his efforts and then himself took up the attack and scored two punches for Walsh's one in the last two minutes of fighting.

OHIO MAN WINS TROPHY AT SEAGIRT.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 17.—Capt. George H. Emerson of Ohio, with a total score of 143, won the Nevada trophy match yesterday; W. E. Reynolds of New York, unattached, was second, with 141, and Maj. William B. Martin, New Jersey, third, with 140.

In the New Jersey State Rifle association two-man match, Capt. Eddy and Capt. Richard led with 192, and Maj. P. R. Wolf and Lieut. Robert Sears were second with 190.

BIG EVENTS ON DETROIT RACE CARD.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17.—A muddy track at the state fair grounds yesterday made it necessary to include in today's Grand Circuit harness racing program the two principal events of the five days' meeting. The 2:12 pace, purse $5,000, was postponed yesterday and was made the third race today. Preceding this event was the Michigan stake of $10,000 for 2:15 trotters. Both races were to be run on the best three-in-five heat plan.

Prospects for fast time today were extremely poor. The track was so muddy yesterday that several horsemen refused to allow their entrants to compete, and they predicted that it would take several days for the course to recover from the wetting it received Monday night.

Three other races were carded today. They were the 2:20 pace, 2:06 pace and a trotting futurity for 3-year-olds.

BADGER FOOTBALL MEN BEGIN WORK

Madison, Wis., Sept. 17.—The first of the football candidates of the 1913 season at the University of Wisconsin arrived in Madison today ready for work.

Practice under regular coaches will not begin until Saturday, by the conference rulings, but the men may do as much cavorting around on their own time as they want to. The lower campus and Camp Randall will be the scene of this pre-season rehearsal, and there will be plenty of the faithful on the side lines to scrutinize the early work of the Badger hopefuls.

The loss of Bellows and Hinman by their failure to return is giving more concern to the coaches than was first thought. Bellows was the best bet for the quarterback position vacated by Eddie Gillette and Hinman was calculated to fill Van Riper's place at halfback. To this extent the prospects for the team are not the brightest.

William D. Richardson, the new manager of athletics, sent letters to eighty football men, and about forty are expected to be on hand by Saturday.

ADMIRAL AND CAPTAIN RUN RACE.

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 17.—A sprint of 100 yards was run yesterday afternoon by Rear Admiral Sir Robert K. Arbuthnot, aged 49, and Capt. Eric Back, aged 48, of the British navy in fulfillment of a bet made by them twenty years ago. The captain won by a yard in the excellent time of twelve seconds.

Both officers were serving in the Pacific ocean on board the Warspite in 1893, when a challenge was given and accepted for a race to be run on the same date twenty years later.

Admiral Sir Hedworth Meux was commander of the Warspite at the time of the wager and was stakeholder yesterday.

CROSS AND RIVERS TO MEET AT VERNON.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—It was announced yesterday that negotiations for a twenty-round bout between Leach Cross and Joe Rivers, lightweights, at Vernon Oct. 7 or 14, virtually had been concluded. Cross and Rivers twice have battled to a draw. This will be the first boxing contest at Vernon since the Jess Willard-John Young match, which was followed by the latter's death, the club having cancelled all scheduled matches at that time.

BASEBALL PLAYER DIES OF INJURIES.

Winnebago, Minn., Sept. 17.—Clarence Stearns, formerly of the St. Paul team of the Northern league, but who finished the season with Sheridan, Wyo., is dead at his home here as a result of injuries he received, say the physicians, while playing ball. Stearns was struck on the head by a ball twice this summer and of late complained of pains in his head.

The cause of the death was hemorrhage of the brain.

NORTHWESTERN STAR QUARTER RETURNS.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—With the return of Wilbur Hightower, last year's star quarterback, Northwestern university football players expect a successful season this year. No official practice will not begin until Sept. 18, many prospective players were out yesterday.

SALE OF MORGAN IS SET ASIDE.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 17.—The national baseball commission, after informally discussing matters of routine interest, adjourned yesterday, having made a ruling on only one case. This was brought up by President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club, who claimed that the Kansas City club had acted in bad faith when it sold to the Cincinnati club Pitcher Morgan, who was unfit to work at the time. The commission ordered the sale set aside and the Cincinnati club reimbursed.

It was announced that a list of players drafted by the major leagues will probably be made Thursday.

COAST PLAYER HAS 100 STOLEN BASES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—Johnston, center fielder for the San Francisco team of the Pacific coast baseball league, brought his season's record for stolen bases up to 100 in the seventh inning of yesterday's game between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

CROSS TO MEET RITCHIE IN GOTHAM.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, announced last night that he had been engaged for a 10-round boxing bout with Leach Cross in New York. Ritchie said the date had not been fixed, but that he thought the fight would take place early in October. He will leave today for the East.

GOLFERS RESUME PLAY AT BROOKLINE.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 17.—Another army of golf followers tramped the Country club course today to watch the performances of the second qualifying division for the American open golf championship, real play for which begins tomorrow.

The section today included the two English players, Edward Ray and Wilfrid E. Reid, and the two American champions, Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, the amateur title holder, and John J. McDermott of Atlantic, who won the open last year at Buffalo.

After the exploits of Vardon and Ouimet yesterday, there was considerable interest today as to whether their scores of 151 and 152 respectively for the double round could be approached, equaled or bettered by any of the second division players.

Light rain began falling as the first pair drove off at 8 o'clock.

"SAPPER" O'NEIL COMING TO AMERICA.

London, Eng., Sept. 17.—"Sapper" O'Neil, the English soldier-boxer, will leave for the United States on Sept. 24 to meet Willie Ritchie in a contest for the lightweight championship.

BALLOON DROPS BOY FIVE HUNDRED FEET

Five Thousand People See 13-Year-Old Lad Fall to His Death.

Woodstock, Conn., Sept. 17.—Thirteen-year-old George Birler, who was holding a guy rope to a balloon while it was being inflated at a local fair, was suddenly carried 500 feet in the air and then dropped to death in front of the grand stand holding 5,000 people.

In order to secure a better hold on the guy rope during the inflation of the bag, the boy wound the rope about his wrist several times. When the balloonist, Harold Gates started his ascension, the boy did not have time to unwind the rope, and was carried swiftly upward, dangling by one hand. Gates was not aware of the boy's predicament until the rope had unwound itself and the boy fell.

BRYAN PEACE PLAN FAVORED AT HAGUE.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Secretary Bryan's peace plan for settlement of international difficulties through the force of sober second thought and the good offices of an impartial commission, was received with acclaim at the recent meeting of the inter-parliamentary union at The Hague, according to Senator Burton, one of the American delegates, who returned here yesterday.

The Bryan plan, said the senator, was received better than almost anything that was talked over. The only objection to the proposal seemed to be that "during the period provided for an investigation of grievances by a commission, the countries involved shall make no additions to their war equipment."

The Bryan plan was only talked about at The Hague. Its adoption depends upon the countries of the world invited to enter into it by the secretary.

LET MEN CALL ON GIRLS IN CHURCH.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Opening of church parlors in the crowded portions of the large cities, where young women can entertain young men callers, was urged in a resolution presented by Dr. G. H. Gerberding of Chicago, and adopted by the convention of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran church at the closing session.

TERRIFIC STORMS SWEEPING FRANCE.

Paris, Sept. 17.—Thunder storms of exceptional violence have swept over France, doing great damage. At Marseilles the streets were transformed into torrents. Hundreds of cellars were flooded and quantities of merchandise were ruined or washed into the sea. All traffic in the city was suspended for a time. A boat containing a fishing party of six was capsized in the harbor and five persons were drowned.

At St. Agrave, in the department of Ardeche and other places, houses were struck by lightning, with some loss of life.

HEINZE HAS SIXTY DAYS TO MAKE MOVE.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17.—Under a supreme court decision rendered today F. Augustus Heinze of Butte, Mont., is given sixty days in which to redeem, or file an intention to redeem, securities valued at between $500,000 and $600,000 which he pledged five years ago with A. D. F. Adams for loans amounting to $300,000. Adams is now serving a prison sentence for rehypothecating the stock security for the Heinze loans.

The court finds that, with the exception of W. A. Gove and Charles P. Gove of Boston, fifteen defendants who loaned Adams money on the Heinze stocks knew that the securities pledged by Adams were Heinze's property.

The case has been in the courts for nearly four years.

LESS GOLD.

Production In This Country Decreased Last Year.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Production of gold during 1912 in the United States amounted to $93,451,500, a decrease of $3,438,500 as compared with the previous year, and the lowest American production since 1907.

The output of silver was 63,766,800 fine ounces, valued at $39,197,500, an increase of $3,367,400 ounces over 1911, the greatest gain being in the state of Utah. The figures were made public in a joint statement by the mint bureau, and the geological survey.

The decrease was caused because Nevada's output lost $4,621,200, as compared with 1911.

George E. Roberts, director of the mint, said that, while the output of gold had decreased in the United States and Australia, there was sufficient increase in South Africa to make the world's production of gold for 1912 greater than 1911.

Statistics are not yet available on the world's production.

California led the states in gold production, putting out $20,008,000; Colorado came second with $18,741,200, and Alaska third, with $17,780,600.

Insane Man Starved.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 17.—John Robertson, a patient in the state hospital for the insane died yesterday as a result, it is said, of existing for forty days in an abandoned basement of the hospital with no nourishment except infrequent drops of water that dripped from a rusty pipe. Robertson disappeared and was discovered by plumbers in the basement.

FRUIT SHOW INCLUDED

Horticultural Society Will Participate in Big Exhibit.

Farmers' Institute Will Also Be Held Here Next Week.

People visiting the agricultural exposition at the Curling club next week will see what the country around Duluth can produce in the line of fruit.

A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of the exposition, announced today that the Northeastern Minnesota Horticultural society has offered premiums on the best plates of Duchess, Okabena, Hiberna and Wealthy apples, with an additional premium to be competed for by other varieties of apples.

"We want every member of the horticultural society and every other person who has good fruit in his garden, to display samples at the exposition next week," said Mr. Hostetter today. "Many people do not believe we can raise fruit here, and we want to show them just what can be done. The fruit section should be one of the most important in the agricultural exposition and I hope there will be many exhibits."

Mr. Hostetter is now making arrangements for a meeting of the horticultural society at the rink during the exposition. The day has not yet been selected, but it will be announced this week. Other organizations are also to hold meetings next week and Mr. Hostetter will arrange a program setting aside a day for each. J. Kimball, whose home is on the Pike lake road, is president of the horticultural society.

Mr. Hostetter also announced today that there will be a farmers' institute in connection with the exposition next week. A room on the ground floor of the rink has been assigned for the purpose and Dean A. F. Woods will send two men from the agricultural college to conduct the work. They will speak with particular reference to marketing, a subject in which there is keen interest among the farmers in the vicinity of Duluth.

New York, Sept. 17.—Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson, who was manager of Mayor Gaynor's campaign for re-election, says the Gaynor Fusion league has ceased to exist and no further effort will be made to nominate a man in Mr. Gaynor's place.

William H. Taft heads the list of twelve men who will be honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Mayor Gaynor next Monday. The pallbearers were selected by Mrs. Gaynor. They are:

RESORT KEEPER GETS JAIL TERM

Found guilty of conducting a house of ill-fame, Samuel Axelson, 41 years old, proprietor of the rooming house at 526 West First street, was yesterday afternoon given a straight sentence of thirty days in the county jail, following a hearing before Judge Windom.

Axelson, who is unable to speak English, declared through an interpreter that he has lived in Duluth for the past ten years and that he never before was arrested for any crime. He declared that he made a mistake and asked the court for leniency. Axelson was arrested Monday afternoon when his rooming house was raided by Officers Lahti and Boland. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned following his arrest and his case was set for yesterday afternoon.

Alina Jarvinen, 28 years old, who was found in the rooming house at the time of the rail and who was also arrested with Axelson, pleaded guilty when her case came up yesterday afternoon. She had pleaded not guilty when arraigned following her arrest Monday afternoon, but she changed her plea following Axelson's conviction. She was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs or serve ten days in the county jail.

Aberdeen, Miss., Sept. 17.—Dr. H. F. Broyles, Mississippi state senator, and E. F. Hendricks of Selmer, Tenn., a timber man, killed each other near Greenwood Springs yesterday. SPEND $75,000 A YEAR ON DRESS.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—There are a few women in Chicago who spend $75,000 per year in personal adornment, according to an estimate submitted at the semi-annual convention of the Chicago Dressmakers' club. The dressmakers figured that the average factory girl spends $3.84 a week for clothing.

These figures were arrived at by averaging the estimates made by the various delegates.

DRAFTS CHARTER FOR STILLWATER

Proposed Document Provides Expert to Manage City Affairs.

Stillwater, Minn., Sept. 17.—Hon. J. N. Searles has completed the drafting of a new proposed city charter and submitted it to the sub-committee of the charter commission that was given authority to engage an expert to prepare a charter along the commission plan.

In a letter accompanying the draft for a charter, Mr. Searles says that it is shorter than the Duluth one, that includes various provisions of law that were not included in the commission plan charter.

The proposed Stillwater charter will be gone over by the sub-committee and later submitted with recommendations to the charter commission which will meet in the near future to take action relative to submitting it to a vote of the people of the city.

The charter provides for a mayor and four councilmen to serve two years and to serve without pay. These are given authority to employ a manager or expert, who shall perform the functions of mayor and councilmen if they desire to take such action.

The municipal court, board of education and water commission as existing are not interfered with as organizations.

No provision is made as to referendum, initiative or recall as to officers.

WOMAN DEAD AND HUSBAND DAZED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 17.—When neighbors rang the bell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Andrews here and received no answer, they summoned aid and broke in the door. Mrs. Andrews was found dead in her bed, and Andrews in a stupor beside here.

Bruises on Mrs. Andrews' body led the police and coroner to believe that she met a violent death. Pending investigation, Andrews is being held. He has been unable to tell anything.

Mrs. Andrews is said to be a member of a wealthy Toronto, Canada, family.

LIKE LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

Duluth Will Present Festive Scene During Fall Fashion Week.

Most Lavish Display of New Styles Ever Shown in Duluth.

Display windows in the Duluth stores will be like scenes in Paris and New York next week when the Duluth Fashion Week opens.

There will be a festive scene on Superior street when the veil is pulled aside disclosing the latest creations in the fall styles and winter models.

It will be like a big fair and the shop windows of Superior street will be the booths. There will also be special attractions for the men, as the latest styles in hats, shirts and other clothing will be shown.

The fashion show will afford the opportunity for all to acquaint themselves with the modes for the coming season by first hand inspection, and not by hearsay. It will bring to Duluth the fruits of the labor of the experts of the whole world. What is being worn in Paris, New York and Washington may be seen without going out of Duluth. The style show will be a regular education in the ways of dress.

The woman who has learned to clothe herself within her means will have something to learn in the exhibits besides the pleasure it will give her to look upon the wonders of the dress-world.

Never in the history of Duluth, have the women seen such a lavish display of new creations and all the best there is in the world of fashion as will be shown next week. Never have the merchants of the city made such preparations.

Other cities are also planning a style show but it is said the displays elsewhere will not have a shade on the exhibits here. Duluth merchants are prepared to uphold their reputations as leaders in styles and they intend to put on a show with some distinctive style of its own.

The much maligned slit skirt will be shown in all its varieties from the ultra fashionable to the conservative one that would be safe at a revival meeting.

The tight hips will be here and the new peg top skirts with the drapery in the back. The skirt with the slit on the side will have to stand a little behind the one with the slit in the front because the latter is more recent in the style book.

Then there will be the hats. They will be the latest creations of the French milliner and they will not have the price mark out where friend husband can see it. That detail of the exhibit will come later after said husband has committed himself on the beauty of the hat.

Besides the hats and gowns, it is said, that there will be other things that go with dresses but that are not always seen on a still dry day.

Take it all in all there will be "some style show" here next week.

ACCIDENTS MAIM MANY DAKOTANS

Automobiles, Threshing Machines and Runaways Have Big Score.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peculiar accidents are included in a long list of mishaps reported in North Dakota today, the automobile, threshing machines and runaway horses being responsible for most of the injuries sustained by various persons in different sections of the state.

Magnus Nelson, an employe of the state reform school at Mandan, was injured in an encounter with a mad bull, being pitched into a barbed wire fence. His right leg was badly mangled.

Jessie Wissnes, aged 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wissnes of Maddock, fell in such a manner that a needle, which she was carring, imbedded itself in her breast, breaking off.

Near Churchs Ferry, while they were driving an automobile, Miss Helen Castel and Miss Edith Solberg were pinned under the machine when it turned over in a ditch. Both girls were badly shaken up, but not seriously hurt.

Ed. Hickson, while working on a threshing machine near Towner, had one arm laid open from the elbow to the hand by a band knife.

Thrown from a wagon and striking his head on a stone, Henry Koester, Jr., of Fullerton was so badly injured that he is now in an Aberdeen, S. D., hospital, undergoing an operation for an abcess, formed as a result.

Orville Thorstad, aged 3, of Rudser, broke his left leg by falling over a loose plank.

William Montgomery, stunned by lightning which struck his home, regained consciousness only after the interior of the house was in flames, and he barely escaped with his life.

While hanging to the ladder at the side of a boxcar at Enderlin, N. P. Baer was struck by a car on an adjoining track, being hurled to the ground, senseless. Other members of the train crew found him.

While driving a nail, G. O. Barstad of Enderlin hit the nail a glacing blow, and it flew into his face, hitting one eye. He probably will lose the sight of the one optic.

V. Svoboda of Osnabrock was thrown from a wagon in a runaway and was seriously injured. Bruises constitute his wounds.

Peter Ramstad of Minot, kicked by a broncho, will recover from his injuries.

While repairing a self-feeder on a threshing machine, Louis Yuhrecht of Russell had one hand badly slashed, the machine being started without warning.

Harold Fauble of Raleigh, tinkering with parts of a threshing machine while it was in operation, had one finger amputated.

Martin Peterson of Ambrose, attempting to stop a team of runaway horses, crawled out onto the tongue of the wagon, but was precipitated under the vehicle. One of the wheels ran over his chest. He will not recover.

Ralph Copple of Flasher, thrown from a carriage by runaway horses, hit a barbed wire fence and was badly cut.

Velva had a string of accidents.

P. W. Miller, driving an automobile, collided with L. T. Erickson, driving a team of horses. Occupants of the latter carriage were thrown out and badly bruised.

Pinned under his automobile when it turned over into a deep ditch, A. W. Nelson of Velva had three ribs broken, and his wife were badly bruised, she also being held by the car till released.

Mrs. M. Steff, in a pasture with her husband, was laid unconscious by a bolt of lightning, but will survive the shock. Her husband also was stunned.

Roy Dow, riding a saddle horse, collided with Thomas Cantwell, driving a single horse attached to a buggy, and both were badly injured. The accident happened near Mandan.

When a cook car in which she was working turned over, Miss Matilda Gelland was badly injured, her skull being fractured and she was slashed by flying glass. Several severe scalds also were received, the stove falling onto her.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lehdahl of Noonan, precipitated to the ground when the seat of their wagon became loosened, were badly injured, Mrs. Lehdahl having one arm broken in two places.

Joe Gargan, a traction engineer, had his foot caught in the revolving fly wheel, being thrown in such a manner as to be badly injured. One knee was crushed.

TAXICAB DRIVER IS HEIR TO $167,000.

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 17.—"Half a million dollars bequeathed to you and your two sisters," reads a telegram received from Sacramento, Cal., by Roy Miller, a taxicab driver here. Five hundred thousand dollars in realty and government bonds will be equally divided among the three children of Mrs. Amelia Miller, sister of J. W. Williams, a land owner, as the result of Mr. Williams' death in Sacramento last week. According to the will, Miller will receive as his portion of the estate about $167,000.

Miller has started west to claim his share of the fortune.

SECRETARY LANE SEEKING QUIET.

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 17.—The condition of Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane was such that his physicians saw fit yesterday to order his removal from the home of his brother, Dr. Frederick Lane, where he had been cared for since his collapse in Oakland, Sept. 9, to a quieter portion of the city. He was taken to the residence of Assistant Secretary of the Interior Adolph Miller, in North Berkeley, remote from the noise of the business district.

MAYBRAY PARTNER PAYS $300 FINE.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Sept. 17.—Joseph E. Wright of San Antonio, Tex., entered a plea of guilty in the United States district court of swindling T. E. George of the same city out of $15,580 on a fake wrestling match, and was given a fine of $300, which he paid.

Wright is the last of the principals in the larger operations of J. C. Maybray and his associates, whose swindling schemes with fake athletic events aggregated a million dollars, to be convicted.

MUST SHOW COST TO GET CONTRACTS.

Washington, Sept. 17.—With more than half a million dollars already saved to the government through competition on contracts for materials for Battleship No. 39, Secretary Daniels has notified the Midvale, Carnegie and Bethlehem Steel companies that he would not accept their recently submitted identical bids for heavy armor plate for this vessel unless they could show him cost of production figures to justify their prices.

The three companies named have the only plants in this country capable of turning out the heaviest grade of armor plate. Mr. Daniels' solution of the problem is the establishment of a government armor factory, and he has been urging this step upon congress since he became head of the navy department, and found that the practice had been to receive identical bids from the three companies and divide the contracts between them.

SAVES THREE FROM GAS IN SEWER HOLE.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17.—To the heroism of Walter Cook, battalion chief of the fire department, three city employes owe their lives today. The men were working in a sewer manhole and were overcome by gas. James Conlon, a fourth workman, was taken from the manhole dead and one of the three rescued may not live. Cook went down the dark opening with a wet sponge in his teeth. His first efforts failed, but he went back again and fastened a rope to one of the unconscious workmen. Coming to the surface again, Cook got an oxygen helmet and plunged down the manhole a third time.

When all of the workmen had been brought up, Cook climbed out and fell unconscious. His condition is serious.

"The Mahnomen Country."

Under the above title the Mahnomen Land company is circulating a booklet which celebrates the resources and advantages of Mahnomen county, one of the newer counties in the northwestern part of the state. The book is admirably written, in a spirit of enthusiasm amply justified by conditions, and more than liberally illustrated with pictures showing more eloquently than words could paint them the agricultural and stockraising possibilities of the section of Northern Minnesota which the booklet describes. With a soil like that of the thickly settled and prosperous Red River valley, and prairie conditions like those that attracted the pioneers to Southern and Western Minnesota, settlement is sparse as yet because this territory was only lately released from Indian ownership. As the booklet says, "this is the only section in Minnesota or elsewhere where the same conditions exist today as in Illinois, Iowa and Southern Minnesota thirty-five and forty years ago." The book is an unusually attractive advertisement for a section that offers an unusual appeal to the homeseeker.

In its consideration of available markets for the output of the fields of the Mahnomen county—which includes not only Mahnomen county but parts of Becker, Clay and Norman counties—the booklet gives special prominence to Duluth.

FRAUD IS LAID TO JUSTICE OF PEACE.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Charles S. Bell, justice of the peace of Morris Park, and Henry Pine, a constable, were arrested in the county court on charges of conspiracy to defeat justice. When arrested, they were being given a hearing on a charge of malfeasance in office in connection with the arrest of automobile parties.

The conspiracy charges arose from testimony of witnesses that a sign giving notice of the village limits had been removed with the purpose of inducing motorists to increase the speed of their vehicles.

Pine, it was charged, would wait for motorists just within the village limits and arrest them for speeding.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

U. S. WOULD BUY THE RIVADIVA.

Rockland, Me., Sept. 17.—The flag of the Argentine Republic went fluttering up the foremost of that country's new superdreadnaught Rivadavia when she started the last mile of her standardizing trials over the United States government's measured mile course at the rate of 22.56 knots an hour. This was the fastest mile of the five which enabled the "largest warship afloat" to meet her contract requirements of 22.5 knots an hour.

It was said that the Argentine government had already received several offers to dispose of the ship, including one from the United States.

The resolution was sent to President Wilson and every member of the conference committees.

Nearly 1,000 delegates from all sections of the country are attending the convention. They represent about 100,000 agents. The reports of officers showed the association to be in a flourishing condition.

STOCK SHOW IS FEATURE

Many Animal Aristocrats on Exhibit at Lake County Fair.

Seventh Annual Event Opens at Two Harbors---Best of Series.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The seventh annual Lake County fair opened under most encouraging auspices this morning and will continue for three days. The stock exhibits were practically all entered this morning, and from the present outlook this year's fair will be the largest and best Lake county has ever had.

The stock department has been increased by 50 per cent, and even though a new building was recently erected for the accommodation of the animal section it appears that there is scarcely enough room for the great number of cattle, horses and all kinds of live stock on exhibition.

The directors are very much pleased with the large exhibit as it was their express purpose and aim to offer such liberal premiums that the owners of fine stock would realize that it meant something to take a prize.

The attendance is expected to be large.

GAME WARDEN IS AFTER HUNTERS

Deputy Tabor of Two Harbors Busy on Trail of Offenders.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ransvald Swanson of this city was arrested yesterday by Deputy Game Warden August Tabor, for killing partridge out of season. The warden caught him returning to the city with the bird in his possession. Swanson was arraigned before Justice Oscar Beckman and pleaded guilty. He was fined $15 and costs.

Deputy Tabor is hard on the trail of several other game-law violators especially those who are killing partridge out of season. Mr. Tabor states that he has little trouble with the Two Harbors hunters, but that it is the settlers in this vicinity who are the greatest offenders. Swanson is the first man from this city for several seasons to be prosecuted for killing game out of season. Mr. Tabor is working hard to protect the game in this section of the state and says that if the game violators can be apprehended and brought to justice, the partridge and deer hunting this fall will be better than ever before.

EVELETH TO VOTE ON CHARTER OCT. 7

City Council Calls Special Election—Paving Contract Approved.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special city election was called by the city council at a special meeting held Tuesday evening, said election to be held on Oct. 7 for the purpose of voting on the adoption of a proposed new charter for the city of Eveleth. The regular biennial election of the city will take place Nov. 4, and the special election date was set sufficiently early to give candidates time to file for the primary election, which, according to the provision of the new charter, must be held ten days previous to the regular election.

The council authorized the city clerk to have 1,000 copies of the proposed charter printed and a copy mailed to each qualified voter not later than Sept. 25.

The contract and bond of the Lawrence-McCann company, successful bidders for the Adams avenue paving, were approved. The Mesaba Railway company was given permission to pave between the rails of its track with concrete one foot in thickness. This change was decided on after a thorough investigation of results at Hibbing, Chisholm and Virginia, that creosote blocks laid between the rails give constant trouble by bulging. The street on either side of the rails will be paved with creosote blocks.

ITASCA FARMERS GOOD DAIRYMEN.

Grand Rapids, Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary O. J. Niles of the Itasca County Co-Operative Creamery association has filed the report of the creamery for the last half of the month of August, showing a fine increase in both the wholesale and retail milk business.

A number of the farmers of the outlying districts are now patronizing the creamery, and this has made it possible to pay unusually high prices during the last month. For the last fifteen days of the month of August the creamery paid 40 cents per pound for butter fat in milk, 34 cents for butter fat in special cream and 30 cents for butter fat in first cream.

A number of the patrons have made an especial attempt to have their names appear on the list of those who received checks for more than $15 for the half month. Those who succeeded were: J. D. Heinegardner, $26.70; Neil Mullins, $48.11; Arthur Ranger, $27.66; George Becker, Sr., $22.70; William Coockhite, $19.44; Hoolihan & Peterson, $79.64; N. C. X. Farm, $188.43; F. O. Guildemeister, $22.21; David Lipsett, $26.34; George Helnezelman, $16.76; Victor Ericson, $15.20; William Poppe, $20.25; Big Fork Mercantile company, $18.06.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO GRAND RAPIDS

Itasca County Fair Next Week Promises to Attract Big Crowd.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for the Itasca county fair which opens here on Sept. 25 for the three last days of the week are almost completed, and promises to be an important event. The sports program will be ready tomorrow.

Mrs. H. W. Stark, who is in charge of the domestic science exhibit, sent out a call today for easy chairs, and other furniture for the furnishing of the new rest room at the fair grounds, which is just being completed. It is hoped that those who have discarded furniture which is presentable will donate it or lend furniture for use during fair week.

The "Fair Week dance" will be given in the village hall on the evening of the 26th, when the band boys and the clerks of the village plan a good time. Invitations are already out and a record-breaking attendance is expected.

Plans are being made to accommodate more visitors than ever before, and the merchants are making a united movement for the purpose of holding special fair week sales of seasonable merchandise.

SUNDAY DINNER COST HIM $46.95

Coleraine Man Fined for Unlawfully Indulging in Partridge.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Range Game Warden George E. Wood has returned from Coleraine, where he, together with Game Warden J. E. Cummings of Chisholm, convicted Frank Lelha and Walno Laevo of violating the game laws.

The arrests were made through the aid of the Coleraine Gun club, which has been of much assistance to Mr. Wood in putting a stop to violations of the law in the Coleraine district. This was the third time in six months that arrests have followed information given out by the Coleraine club, and Mr. Wood has gathered the evidence.

The two wardens left here Sunday by automobile. The charge placed against Leiha was that of partridges unlawfully in his possession and the charge against Laevo was for shooting four partridge. Both cases were tried before Judge Prescott of Coleraine, who fined Leiha $16.50 and Laevo $46.95. Laevo said that he had the partridge for dinner Sunday and the judge then stated the amount of the fine, saying that he thought he had a rather expensive Sunday dinner.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was returned by the jury late Tuesday afternoon in the case of Homer Lec Quyer on trial for the killing of Louis Fernie. The defendant was somewhat pallid and disturbed when he was waiting to know his fate but maintained his composure, as he had done all through the trial. After the verdict Lec Quyer was directed to be returned into the custody of the sheriff and will be sentenced later.

McGUIRES JUDGES AT BARNUM FAIR.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGuire have been selected as judges for the Barnum fair. Mr. McGuire, who is superintendent of the North Central Experiment farm, goes as judge of livestock, and Mrs. McGuire will act as judge of the sewing and cooking exhibit.

Another movement toward progressive farming has been made, in the forming oof a new woman's club, for the farmers' wives in the district about the North Central farm. The club was formed last Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. McGuire brought together eleven ladies, for the purpose of organizing. Those who attended the meeting were Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Washburn, Mrs. A. M. Sisler, Mrs. Nell Mullins, Mrs. Bullis, Mrs. D. G. Anderson, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Behrens, Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. C. Sumner. The afternoon was spent informally with games and music, after which a lunch was served. Later in the season it is planned to get down to serious work, for a more neighborly feeling among the farmers and their families.

HICKEN TO UMPIRE BASEBALL GAME

Duluth Commissioner to Preside at Hibbing-Duluth Contest.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every penny over and above the expenses in bringing the baseball team of the Duluth fire department to Hibbing next Friday will be donated to charity. This was made known by Chief McIlhargey of the Hibbing fire department today.

Tickets for the game have been printed and are being sold by the firemen and their friends, and it is expected that the grandstand and bleachers will be full when Commissioner Hicken of Duluth yells "play ball" at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. Hicken promised Chief McIlhargey, when the latter was in Duluth recently and asked whether he would umpire the game, that he would be glad to come if Chief Randall of the Duluth deportment has "cold feet."

Led by the local chief the fire fighters are practicing daily and the game will be one of the best played here this year. The Duluth team has made quite a record this season and the Hibbing nine has a long list of unbroken victories.

Ely, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last evening gave its endorsement to the 1914 firemen's tournament to be held in Ely by deciding to set aside $100 each month toward entertaining the visiting teams and providing the expenses of the tournament. They voted also to employ one of the residents of Spalding and provide the expenses to look after the gates in the dam at the foot of Long lake. The water of Long lake being extremely low at the present time. The water supply for the city is taken from Long lake.

CAFE PATRONS ARE GIVEN POOR MILK

Virginia Inspector Complains of Quality Served By Some.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—City Milk Inspector M. F. Guidinger, reporting to the council, has given the names of many dealers, restaurants, hotels and milk depots that are selling milk of a low standard and has advised that warrants have been issued for two, the Virginia restaurant and the Frisco cafe.

The council transacted its small amount of business hastily at the meeting Tuesday night. The city clerk stated that in response to advertisements for coal for the winter no responses had come and he was directed to make purchases as required, using his own judgment.

Alderman Mollan reported that he had been advised that Risberg & Marvick were not laying walks according to specifications and the president of the council appointed Aldermen Harvey, Mollan and Heritage, a committee to investigate.

Alfred Johnson was appointed by the mayor to succeed O. A. Poirier as a member of the park board and this appointment was confirmed.

CHISHOLM SCHOOLS TO HAVE $182,500.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Independent School District No. 40 will have $182,500 to spend next year, this amount being decided upon last evening by the school board, when it placed the tax levy at that sum. This amount will take care of the current expense and probably leave a balance for the bonded debt.

A detective will be put on to endeavor to run down the culprit who maliciously destroyed a large number of shrubs, plants and flowers at the school park last week. The board was much exercised over this act of vandalism, and will punish the guilty party if he can be located.

The new addition to the Monroe school was placed in use yesterday and the portable buildings at the high school will be occupied within ten days. These buildings will take care of the overflow until the new high school now under construction is ready for use.

Nine have already appeared in court this week, eight to answer to the charge of disturbing the peace. Six were fined $10.00 and costs each and cases against two were dropped. Those fined were: Andrew Flat, Lawrence Cimzar, Leo Mochnich, John Fugina, Frank Soc and Frank Zergaj. Cases against Joe Str and John Deblok were dismissed. MOYER KEEPS ORDER IN COPPER COUNTRY

Strikers Get Promise of Aid From Illinois Union.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 17. — (Special to The Herald.)—The presence here of President Charles Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners has been productive of absolute quiet in the copper strike region. Moyer has counselled against disorderly tactics, and since his arrival here a few days ago there have been no attacks on workmen or noisy demonstrations. The strikers again today contented themselves with orderly parades and picketing.

John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Mine Workers, has returned here, bringing fresh assurances that his organization will support the strike.

Apparently the effort of the Copper Country Commercial club to settle the strike will rest between the operators and the strikers themselves, ignoring the Federation. It probably will be a week or two before the club's investigation committee is ready to submit its proposition. The committee went underground in the Calumet & Hecla mine to note conditions and interview men engaged in various mining work.

As a result of the protest of the strikers that militiamen were frequenting the saloons, Gen. P. L. Abbey, in command of the state troops, issued an order which will be rigidly enforced, prohibiting either officers or enlisted men from patronizing saloons throughout the remainder of the strike.

ODANAH INDIAN FAIR AN EVENT.

Odanah, Wis., Sept. 17.—The fair committee has met with great success in their search for donations to fund. The amount subscribed to date is $421. It is thought this sum will reach the $1,000 mark. The committee is active in its campaign for funds.

It is an assured fact now that the event this fall will eclipse anything ever attempted in Ashland county. It is learned from different farmers that they will bring large exhibits both in products and livestock. Large delegations from neighboring towns will be in attendance in large numbers and it is freely predicted that from three to four thousand people will be present and preparations looking in the way of providing quarters for that many are under way.

In connection with the fair will be one of the largest Indian carnivals ever held on this reservation and this in itself will be worth miles of travel to see. As Indians from all over this territory will be in attendance this will be an event that should attract people far and near. The occasion can be justly named the "roundup" and classed similar to the "stampede" held in Winnipeg recently.

WOMEN TRY TO BURN TREASURE HOUSE

Suffragettes Set Fire to Historic Penshurst Place in Kent.

London, Sept. 17.—A suffragette "arson squad" early today tried to burn down Penshurst place, the historic fourteenth century country seat of Lord De L'Isle and Dudley, at Tunbridge, Kent.

The inmates of the great mansion, awakened by the crackling of wood and by clouds of smoke, found the framework of a number of windows ablaze. A working party of household employes succeeded in extinguishing the flames, with the efficient apparatus on the premises.

Two women were seen fleeing across the lawn in front of the building, and suffrage literature was scattered about the grounds.

Great indignation prevails among the neighboring residents, as it now is certain that the mansion, hitherto open to visitors, will be closed.

Has Valuable Treasures.

It contains valuable portraits of ancestors of the holder of the title, whose family name is Sidney. Among them are paintings of Sir Philip Sidney, the sixteenth century poet soldier, and Algernon Sidney, who was beheaded in the seventeenth century.

The mansion is a treasure house, filled with unique antiques, old tapestries and articles left there by Queen Elizabeth, who frequently occupied the house during her reign. The art galleries contain some of the most valuable Vandykes and Rolbeins in England.

To Stop Scaling of Psoriasis

This Troublesome Skin Disease Promptly Checkes by a very Simple Attention.

A lady in Lexington, Ky., says that before she began using S. S. S. psoriasis broke out at frequent intervals where she thought it cured. But by getting her blood under control by the influence of S. S. S., the disease entirely disappeared and there was never again the slightest sign of it.

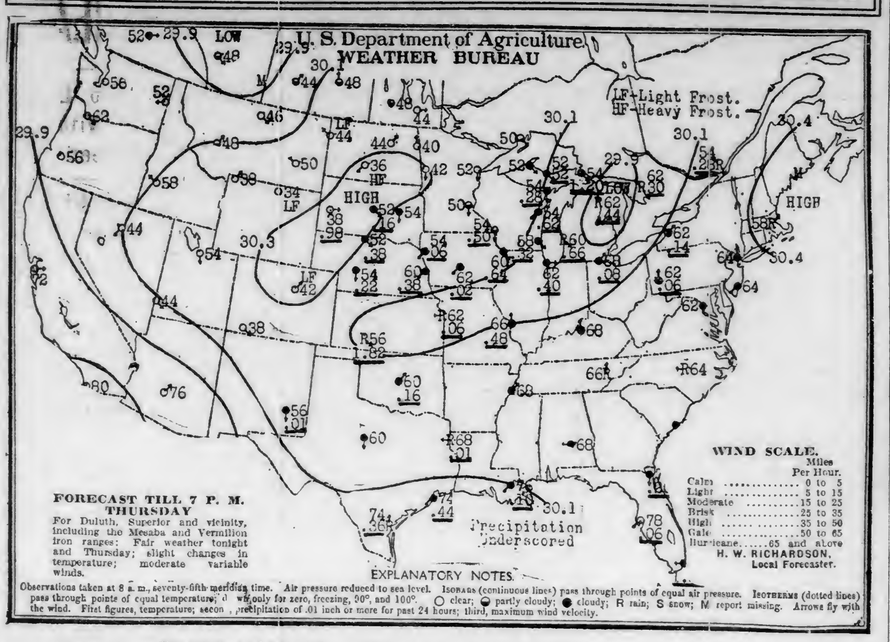

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from the fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 182 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

GOOD CROPS LURE MANY LAND BUYERS

Drouth-Stricken Farmers Flock to Becker County; Threshers Busy.

Detroit, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The threshing from shock in this locality is practically completed, almost all of the grain having either been stacked or threshed. The crops have, as a rule, been exceptionally good in spite of the June drouth. As a result of the fine yield this year and previous years in this vicinity there is a large influx of land seekers, especially from the South and Southwest, where the drouth has been so severe, and real estate men are doing a rushing business. Recent hard rains have afforded an overabundance of water in this section. Another heavy rain fell here Saturday night, making the third such rain in two weeks.

The rural mail carriers of Becker county held their annual meeting at Detroit last week. The officers elected for the coming years were J. Lee of Lake Park, president; G. G. Greenlaw of Detroit vice president; J. H. Long of Detroit, secretary, and R. ley of Detroit, treasurer.

SPANISH CASINO DIRECTOR MURDERED.

San Sebastian, Spain, Sept. 17.—M. Bouelle, director of the San Sebastian casino, was shot yesterday before the eyes of 1,500 persons gathered around the gaming tables.

About midnight a man in evening dress, standing in the doorway, was seen to draw a revolver and fire at the ceiling. A panic ensued, and the crowd stampeded amid the terrified screams of the women. Boulle rushed toward the man, who waited until he was within a few feet of him, and then turned the revolver on the director, firing the remaining five shots.

The assassin stood by as his victim fell and permitted himself to be placed under arrest. He is believed to be a discharged employe, who attired himself in evening clothes so that he might enter the casino with the guests unnoticed to take reevnge.

SUPREME COURT TO HAVE SIMPLER RULES.

Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 17.—The opinion of all the members of the North Dakota State Bar association has been solicited for the proposed changes in the new rules governing supreme court practice.

At the meeting of the North Dekota State Bar association held at Mandan, a committee comprising John E. Green of Minot, Lee Combs of Valley City, and Judge John Carmody of Hillsboro, now assistant attorney general, was appointed to go over the new rules of the supreme court and make recommendations as to any changes deemed advisable.

The members of the committee desire to obtain the opinion of all the attorneys in the state and procure any suggestions that may be practicable and advantageous for the proposed changes.

The new rules of the supreme court in question went into effect Sept. 1. Practice in the North Dakota state courts was simplified by the 1913 session laws on the recommendation of the state bar association at the 1812 convention held in Jamestown.

A Happy Bald Headed Man

Well-Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has Heavy Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A western politician, well known on account of his baldness and ready wit, surprised his friends by appearing with a heavy growth of hair; many of his old friends did not know him and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the remarkable growth of my hair to the use of the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

PRESCRIPTION AIDS CHRONIC SUFFERERS

Sickness Caused by Impure Blood Is Easily Relieved.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a doctor's prescription of many years, are a tonic that have been of the greatest benefit in obstinate diseases caused by impure blood. These pills build up the blood; the restored blood burns up the poisons and normal health follows. In no disease does the blood show more altering and thinning than in rheumatism. No permanent relief is possible until the blood is restored and the rheumatic poisons are cast out.

Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich red blood. When the blood is thin and poor, the food remains undigested in the stomach and ferments, causing gas on the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and the stomach trouble disappears.

A first showing of many new models is the treat we offer those who come Thursday. Will you enjoy the display?

Making Customers vs. Making Sales

We like to make sales—but we like better to make friends. We never could see the profit in a sale that cost a customer.

We think of this every time we buy goods. We keep it in mind every time we make a sale. All our salespeople are trained to the same policy—"It is better to lose a sale than to lose a customer's confidence."

That is why we never have goods too cheap to be safe.

That is why we sell Wooltex coats, suits and skirts.

And that is why we are making new customers daily—and keeping them.

Mme. Savarie and Five Models will present the Paris Fashions at the Lyceum at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, October 7th.

Some of them are embossed effects; others are woven on a heavy quality of chiffon cloth; while still others are on a splendid quality of charmeuse.

See the new Burgandy, Cedar, Canar and the two-color combinations in these fabrics. Widths run from 32 to 40 inches. Priced from $4.00 to $10.00 a yard.

POLICEMAN WINS SUIT

Jury Refuses to Give Damages for Injury Caused By Horses,

Teamster Sues Because Daughter's Arm Was Broken in Ride.

It took a jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court only twenty minutes this morning to dispose of the claim for damages which Frank Christofferson, West Duluth teamster, thought he had against Patrolman Harry Hood.

Last June, Christofferson was negotiating with Hood for the purchase of a horse. Before the deal was closed, Christofferson asked Hood to let Ruth Christofferson, his 17-year-old daughter, try it out.

The animal was hitched to a buggy and Ruth started out. In riding around the block, she ran up onto the sidewalk. In the spill, Miss Ruth's arm was broken. Her father sued Hood for $1,175 damages for her benefit.

Hood this morning testified that the horse was a gentle animal and put fifteen witnesses on the stand to prove his assertion. He also claimed that the horse was turned over to the girl only after Christofferson's urgent request.

SAY SCHMIDT ROBBED PLATE

Easter Collection Believed to Have Been Stolen By Him.

Visiting Priest Also Robbed By Confessed Murderer.

New York, Sept. 17.—Two more crimes took their place on the police record of Hans Schmidt, the priest who already has confessed that he was a murderer and a counterfeiter. In ransacking Schmidt's rooms, detectives found evidence that Schmidt had stolen $400 from the Easter collection at St. Joseph's church, and that he had robbed a visiting priest who spent the night at St. Joseph's rectory as a guest of the local clergy. An empty purse found in Schmidt's rooms today proved to be the one which the visiting priest had lost not long ago.

Schmidt still insisted today that neither Ernest A. Muret, his dentist friend, nor Anna Aumuller, the girl he murdered, knew anything about his counterfeiting operations. In reply to a written question sent to his cell, he wrote:

"Anna knew nothing of my plans to solve the social question by creating money for all the poor people here and abroad."

Counterfeiter for Philanthropy.

Schmidt maintains that he made bogus money from philanthropic motives only.

The case against Muret made little progress today so far as was known outside the police department. The dentist was brought from a cell in the Harlem police court and lodged in the Tombs prison. The detectives continue to receive information casting light upon his past life.

The police have not abandoned hope of finding the head of the Aumuller girl. Today they investigated a grewsome tale about a solitary fisherman who hooked something heavy last night in the North river. Just as the supposed catch was nearing the surface, it dropped off the hook, leaving a long human hair said to resemble in color the hair of Anna Aumuller.

Suspected of Murder in Germany.

Aschaffenburg, Germany, Sept. 17.—A retired school inspector named Heim, committed suicide at Moenchsberg near here today. He was a friend and regular correspondent of Father Johannes Schmidt. He was considered insane by many of the villagers.

The authorities here are inclined to believe that Schmidt may have been responsible for the murder of a telephone girl named Haas, whose body was found near his parents' home a short time before he left there.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS UNSUCCESSFUL.

Fearing some mysterious enemy, Jake Lanavjvk, 23 years old, yesterday afternoon attempted to commit suicide by jumping into the bay at the foot of Lake avenue and Buchanan street. Several workmen saw Lanavjvk jump into the water and he was immediately pulled out. He was taken to police headquarters, where he is being held pending an examination as to his sanity.

Lunch Can No Longer Be "Speared" With Glass of Beer.

Faithful Friend When It Was a "Long Time to Pay Day."

Alack and alas, sobs and sighs galore!

An old friend and stand-by has passed away. Hang the crepe on the front door, put the black band on the sleeve or the hat band, and let mourning pervade the land.

The old friend was faithful and true.

But let the shades be pulled and let Duluth's most famous band play a dirge, for the old friend is no more. The grim reaper knocked yesterday on his door. From 6 a. m. until 9 p. m. the respector of no person and of no wealth was sounding the death knell. It was not until about 11 o'clock that the full purport of his message began to be appreciated and by midnight the last vestiges of doubt fled in long-faced array.

Everybody kne wthe old friend. He has been a character about the city for a number of years. Some of the old residents have kept up the acquaintance which was formed in younger days, and nearly all of the old-timers will remember him. His career has been long and checkered, as well as peppered and mustarded and pickled in more ways than one.

Who doesn't know the old friend? Those who do not number him among their acquaintances have never journeyed where the lights burn brightly, where the most fascinating music in the tinkling of ice floating in a long, thin glass and where the poorer you get the richer you feel.

Who is that old friend who has such a gripping hold on the affections of so many, rich, poverty-stricken, foolish, wise, old and young? Why, he is no other than your old friend, Free Lunch.

Free Lunch was doomed yesterday with the approval of the Hicken liquor code. Exactly 4,791 qualified voters of the city of Duluth said that they didn't want Free Lunch in town any longer, along with several other things connected with his associations. Wherefore they hung the skidoo sign upon his back and told him to beat it.

From next Tuesday Free Lunch will be no more. He is now breathing his last. The city commissioners will say "amen" for him next Monday afternoon, between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. In that interval they will canvass the returns of yesterday's referendum election. City Clerk Charles S. Palmer will read a resolution declaring the ordinance approved by a majority of the voters of the Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas and Mayor W. I. Prince will pronounce it "carried" following the roll call.

When that word "carried" is announced by the mayor, Free Lunch will have been relegated to history and the fond recollections of his friends.

STATE SELLS 1,200 ACRES

About 1,200 acres of state land was sold at the September sale which was conducted this morning for the state land department by L. A. Marvin, deputy county auditor. The land brought an average price of $6 an acre.

About thirty-five descriptions were disposed of, most of them being 40-acre tracts. The descriptions were well scattered throughout the county.

LOOKING FOR FAMILY OF SUICIDE HERE.

Duluth authorities have been asked to try to locate the wife and children of Albert Malmquist, said to be living in Duluth. A telegram received here yesterday states that he committed suicide at Plains, Mont. A card found in his clothes gave the name of C. Arnold, 528½ West Fourth street, to be notified in case of accident. He was a member of the Eagles and Odd Fellows.

HOLD HEARING ON UTILITIES CONTROL.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state senate special committee on public utilities today commenced what probably will be the last public hearing before the members begin drawing a bill for state control. The bill probably will be presented at an extra session of the legislature this fall.

POISON NOT BEST METHOD

"Painless" Plan for Killing Dogs Brutal, Thinks Police Surgeon.

Acid Does Not Act as Quickly as Shot From Revolver.

Dr. I. J. Murphy, police surgeon and medical inspector of the health department, today tried out the "painless and humanitarian" method of killing dogs.

The victim was a dog which had been picked up by the dog catcher and had not been redeemed. Dr. Murphy injected diluted hydrocyanic acid, a deadly poison, with a hypodermic syringe.

After the operation Dr. Murphy declared that he greatly favors killing the dogs by shooting them. Despite claims to the contrary he asserts that shooting is more humane and saves the dog needless suffering. After the poison had been injected the dog lived for about five minutes, groaning, barking and squirming in agony before the drug took effect. He said that it was apparent that the dog suffered considerably and Ruben Johnson, secretary of the health department and the civil service board, took the same view.

Dr. Murphy stated that when a bullet is fired into the dog's brain it is killed almost instantly and does not suffer. It was the first time that the alleged "painless" method had been tried in this city and Dr. Murphy declared his intention of taking the matter up with Commissioner W. A. Hicken, head of the safety division, with a view to discouraging its adoption.

DAIRYMAN'S BARN BURNS TO GROUND

Second Barn Takes Fire But Loss on It Is Nominal.

Fire shortly after 8 o'clock this morning totally destroyed one barn and party burned another owned by Walter D. McLain, who operates a dairy at Kenwood park. The total loss is estimated at $1,600.

The fire started in the larger barn and by the time the fire department arrived the building was a total wreck. Another barn caught fire, but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any serious damage was done. The barn that was burned is valued by Mr. McLain at $1,500, while he places his loss on the other barn at $100.

The stock, which Mr. McLain keeps in the two barns, was all out at the time of the fire.

WHEAT FIRM AT THE CLOSE

All Options But May Show Gain for the Day.

Flax Options Are Weaker on Lack of Buying Orders.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 17.—The wheat market maintained its strength at the close today, and the closing quotations showed results as follows: September wheat, ¾c up; December wheat, ⅛@¼c up; May wheat, ¼c off; September durum, ⅜c up; December durum, unchanged.

Oats gained ⅛c, rye was unchanged and barley was unchanged to 2c off.

December puts were quoted at 88@88⅛c bid, and calls at 88½c asked.

Although exporters were saying nothing, the feeling was general that much of the advance and activity in the local market was due to buying for export. The influence of the cables was noticeable, and the market was generally buoyant. The advance was comparatively slight, but the market was strong and had a tendency upward through the session.

September wheat opened ⅛@¼c off and made a net advance of ¾c by going to 87¾c before the close. December wheat, which opened unchanged at 88¾c, advanced to 88½c. May wheat opened unchanged at 93⅜c and failed to show the gains of the other options during the early hours of the session.

September durum showed a gain of ¼c during the morning part of the session, while December durum was off ⅛c.

The flax market failed to receive the strength of the wheat market. There was a pronounced softening in all options. September dropped off ¼c, October going off ⅝c, November losing ½c and December losing ½c.

All Flax Options Off.

All flax options showed declines at the close today, after an opening unchanged from yesterday's close, and a quiet session. September flax closed ¼c off, October flax ⅞c off, November flax ½c off and December flax ⅝c off. The tendency of the flax market all through the session was downward and little support was offered.

Broomhall wires from Liverpool: "The market has ruled quiet during the week with price changes inconsequential. American wheat is not offered freely but there is a noticeable increased pressure to sell Canadian at lowered prices. Indian wheat is not pressed for sale but stocks at Kurachee are still of large proportions. Shipments are expected to continue heavy from this center. Winnipeg receipts are attracting much attention owing to the high grading. American spring wheat receipts are large and these serve to dissipate reports that farmers are holding."

* * *

In a French official report the yield of wheat is placed at 322,400,000 bu and rye 49,600,000 bu. This compares with wheat 335,000,000 bu and rye 48,000,000 bu last year.

Roumania—Harvesting is nearly finished with the yield satisfactory and quality good. Owing to scarcity of transport arrivals at Braillia are light. The prospects for corn is for a record yield.

Italy—Crop in the south is a small one and there is much interest shown in foreign wheat, especially Russia, which is being purchased freely.

To support his charge that Judge Thayer had assumed the powers of a probate judge, not given to his court by statute, Curtis brought copies of the docket of the China court in probate cases.

READING IS THE FEATURE

Price Jumps to Level Ten Points Higher Than Week Ago.

Later Loses Rise and Other Stocks Sag Under Selling.

New York, Sept. 17.—Reports of an increase in dividends, large earnings and segregation of assets involving a stock dividend, were brought forward to explain the rise in Reading which reached its climax this morning when the price jumped to a level 10 points higher than a week ago. The rumors were classed merely as stock market gossip, however, and the explanation which found more ready acceptance was that the shorts had suffered a violent squeeze.

When the short interest in Reading began to show signs of demoralization, professional pressure was applied against the general market. Foreign houses sold Reading, despite the fact that the advance in that stock in London was greater than the upturn here, a circumstance which gave rise to assertions that the movement abroad was engineered from this side.

Uncertain tendency in the general market resolved into a general decline which continued until the movements in Reading became normal. Then the market improved, and before mid-day prices began to move upward. Some of the losses were fully made up.

Bonds were easy.

Reading almost monopolized the speculative interest in the opening trading today. The sharp rise of the stock in London, following yesterday's buoyant advance in this market, caused excited trading. The opening transaction was a block of 12,000 shares at 169½ to 169¾. The price was run up to 170⅛ on a series of large transactions, establishing a gain of 2¾. It then dropped back a point. New Haven was again weak, falling 1¾ to new low record at 88⅜. Other changes were small and irregular.

Rapidity of the rise in Reading and weakness of New Haven disturbed sentiment and traders hurried to get out of the market. Union Pacific, Interborough-Metropolitan preferred, Can and the Rock Island stocks fell 1 to 1½ under yesterday. Reading reacted 1½ and New Haven lost 2¼.

The market showed drooping tendencies after the rally had brought up prices sufficiently to enable professionals to unload advantageously. Union Pacific sold a point over yesterday's final price, and Reading got close to 170 before it reacted. Independent strength developed in numerous minor specialties, particularly Great Northern Ore and the Petroleum stocks. Central Railroad of New Jersey made another jump of 15 points following yesterday's advance of 9 points.

Extreme weakness of Rock Island securities frustrated attempts to revive buying of the leaders, and speculation became listless. Rock Island fell 2, the preferred 2¾, and the 4 per cent collateral bonds, 3 points. Other Southwestern shares were under pressure, and the market in general evidenced a tendency downward.

The market closed weak. Selling of Reading was on a larger scale after it was learned that only the regular dividend had been declared at today's directors' meeting. The stock lost all of its early rise, and something more, breaking to 167¼. Effective selling went on in other influential stocks. Steel, Union Pacific, Amalgamated, Southern Pacific, Smelting, Canadian Pacific and New York Central sagged a point or more.

CURRENCY BILL BROUGHT TO VOTE IN HOUSE AFTER SHARP DEBATE---PASSED 286 TO 84

HAVE SCRAP OVER "GOLD STANDARD"

Amendment Is Agreed to After Revolt Among Majority.

Minority Members Taunt Glass Over Division of Party.

Senator Burton Attacks Bill in Speech Before Bankers.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The administration currency bill today reached the end of the first stage of its legislative career—passage by the house.

The final vote brought 286 votes in favor of the bill, to 84 against it. The Minnesota members voted as follows:

Against the bill—Anderson, Davis, Steenerson and Volstead, Republicans.

Absent—Stevens and Miller, Republicans.

The three Democrats who voted against it were Representatives Calloway of Texas, Elder of Louisiana and Witherspoon of Mississippi.

The Republicans voting for it were Baltz, Browne, Cary, Cooper, Cramton, Dillon, Esch, Farr, Fess, Frear, Haugen, Helgesen, Kent, Lenroot, Linquist, Mapes, McLaughlin, Nelson, Porter, Samuel Smith and J. M. C. Smith of Michigan, Smith of Minnesota, Stafford, Young of North Dakota.

Two Progressives, Temple and Walters of Pennsylvania, voted against the bill. Fifteen others voted for it. They were: Bell of California, Hinebaugh, Kelly of Michigan, Kelly of Pennsylvania, Lafferty, MacDonald, Manahan, Murdock, Nolan, Norton, Rupley, Thomson of Illinois and Stephens of California.

The measure, completed in detailed consideration, after three days of efforts to amend, reached a final vote in the house today practically unchanged in its essential provisions.

Some house Democrats were inclined to look with disfavor on an amendment incorporated in the measure last night at the suggestion of the banking committee. The amendment, proposed by Representative Fess, Republican, of Ohio, included a statement that none of its provisions was calculated to repeal the law of 1900 prescribing the gold money standard or to disturb the parity of money. Chairman Glass, however, declared that the amendment only made clear the meaning of the bill as originally framed.

Only Minor Changes.

A few minor amendments changing phraseology or designed to make clear possible ambiguities in the bill were the only changes made in the consideration of hundreds of amendments offered by Republicans and Progressives.

Passed by the house, the bill will go to the senate, where a lengthy con-

EMPLOYMENT MEN SWINDLE BOAT LINE.

Hamburg, Sept. 18.—The Hamburg-South American Steamship company has been swindled out of $200,000, according to the officials, by employment agents who hired stevedores for the company and systematically made returns for a larger number than actually worked. Two of the agents have been arrested. It is said that some of the employes of the company are involved.

CARE OF FOOD IS DISCUSSED

"Refrigeration Congress" Opens Its Sessions in Chicago.

Dr. Wiley Addresses Meeting on High Cost of Living.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The "refrigeration congress," which organized here yesterday by choosing presidents to preside over the meetings of the six sections into which the congress is separated, began serious work today. Papers of a highly technical nature were read, dealing with refrigeration.

The South American delegates are taking a deep interest in the congress and the exposition being held at the stockyards, as they realize that Europe and the United States expect some day to import heavily of South American cattle, making the subject of refrigeration an important one.

Among those here from the Argentine are Dr. Jose Tomas Scho, Pedro Borges, M. A. Pashman, N. T. Saurez and Dr. Romolo S. Maon. Brazil, where refrigeration is in its infancy, is represented by M. J. Cunha and George W. Chester. Others are: R. Camilo Diaz, Honduras; Ricardo B.

CONFESSED MURDERER AND HIS VICTIM

HANS SCHMIDT.

ANNA AUMULLER.

SCHMIDT CASE SPREADS OUT

Tag Ends Are Sought in Chicago and in London.

Relationship of Priest and Dentist Insisted on By Sleuth.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Detectives today were unable to find any trace of the woman known as Helen Green, who the New York police belive was a companion of Hans Schmidt, confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, and Dr. Ernest A. Muret and who is reported to have left New York for Chicago a month ago. The police believe that if the woman ever came to Chicago, she is in hiding or has since left the city.

Detectives searched for the woman in the vicinity of the address on North Clark street where Dr. Muret is said to have practiced medicine under the name of Dr. Arnold Held, several years ago, but no clew to her whereabouts was discovered.

Seek Records in London.

London, Sept. 18.—The police authorities at Scotland Yard have no record of Dr. Ernst Muret, the dentist arrested at New York. Their registers, however, show an entry concerning a Dr. Ernst, who the detectives think is Muret. Dr. Ernst, while in London, was under surveillance in connection with the white slave trade and the publication of indecent literature.

Minnie Lawrence of Superior Gets Compensation for Husband's Death.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18.—The industrial commission today awarded to Minnie Lawrence $25 a month for four years as compensation for the death of W. G. Lawrence of Superior, Wis. The order is directed against the Lake Superior Terminal & Transfer Railway company, for whom Lawrence was working at the time of his accidental death last March.

The case is one of the most peculiar that has come before the commission. Ten days previous to his death Minnie Lawrence was granted a divorce from her husband, the court awarding her the custody of the five children and directing him to pay as alimony $25 a month. Mrs. Lawrence asked for compensation on her own account and as guardian for her children.

Had she been living with Lawrence at the time of his death the award would have been $3,000 instead of the $1,200 granted.

TAFT MAY BE DEAN OF YALE LAW SCHOOL

Is Mentioned to Succeed Rogers When Latter Becomes Judge.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 18.—The acceptance by Dean Henry Wade Rogers of the Yale law school of appointment as judge of the United States circuit court leaves the deanship vacant. While no official statement was made at Yale university today as to a successor to Dean Rogers, the name of Former President William H. Taft, now Kent professor of law in Yale college, is mentioned on all sides.

Prof. Taft and his family returned from Murray Bay, Ont., yesterday.

THAW STUDIES LEGAL PHASE OF HIS CASE

Hopes Governor Felker Will Refuse to Extradite Him.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 18.—Harry K. Thaw sat behind a great heap of newspapers at the breakfast table this morning, reading Washington dispatches saying that if his case went to the United States supreme court, years might roll by before a decision was handed down.

"We can wait," said the fugitive. "but I hope Governor Felker will decide against my extradition at once, so that it will not be necessary to press our habeas corpus writ in the Federal courts."

Ten law clerks, retained by Thaw's counsel, were busy today looking up state and Federal court rulings in the matter of extraditing a person charged with a crime, yet held to be legally insane. "So far we have been unable to find any case where a person in Thaw's position was ever extradited," said one of the lawyers.

The same statement, in substance, was made by Federal Judge Aldrich at Littleton on Tuesday in a discussion with William Travers Jerome.

DEPUTY WARDEN ASKED TO RESIGN.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 18.—W. H. Mackey, deputy warden of the United States penitentiary here, is requested to resign before Oct. 15, 1913, in a letter from Attorney General McReynolds, received by Warden Thomas J. Morgan.

Warden Morgan said he was unable to assign a reason for the request for the deputy warden's resignation.

DEATH THINS G. A. R. RANKS

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 18.—More than 11,000 Union veterans of the Civil war died during the twelve months ending Dec. 31, last, and more than 180,000 such veterans still are on the rolls of the Grand Army of the Republic, according to Alfred B. Beers, commander-in-chief of the organization, who delivered his annual address at the reunion here today.

The year started with a membership of 191,346, Mr. Beers said, and 14,779 were added to the rolls by muster, transfer and re-instatement. The losses were as follows: by death, 11,338; by honorable discharge, 435; by transfer, 1,764; by suspension, 6,976; by dishonorable discharge, 63; by delinquent reports, 4,283, and by surrender of charter, 1,039, making a total loss, partially offset by gains, of 25,898. The rate of mortality, based on the membership, was 6.28 per cent.

Another topic discussed at some length by Mr. Beers was the alleged discrimination in railroad rates to Chattanooga between the Grand Army and the Confederate veterans, who held their reunion here in May.

APPOINTED SOLICITOR FOR STATE DEPARTMENT

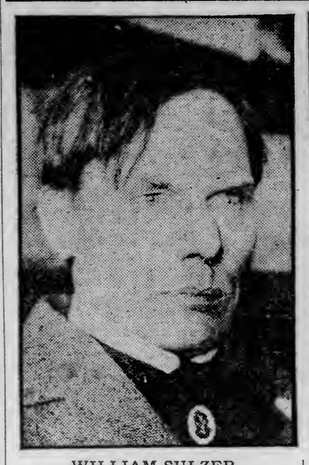

JOSEPH W. FOLK.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Joseph W. Folk, former governor of Missouri, has been appointed solicitor for the state department. Secretary Bryan, in a formal announcement today, declared that Mr. Folk was not an aspirant for the position, but that the office was tendered to him because of his fitness for the position.

"The position is of special importance at this time, when the administration is dealing with questions affecting the Latin-American republics," said Secretary Bryan.

SULZER IMPEACHMENT TRIAL IS BEGUN BY HIGH COURT AT THE NEW YORK STATE CAPITAL

IMPEACHED OFFICIAL AND HEAD OF COURT

WILLIAM SULZER, Governor of New York, Accused By State Assembly.

JUDGE EDGAR M. CULLEN, Chief Justice of the New York Court of Appeals.

ACCUSED MAN APPEARS ONLY BY ATTORNEY

Frawley and His Colleagues on Committee Seated in Court.

Appointees of Governor Also Are Given Places as Judges.

Organization Is Followed By Adjournment Until Friday.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The high court for the trial of the impeachment of William Sulzer, governor of New York state, held its first session today. Organization was perfected and adjournment taken until tomorrow morning, in order to permit the drafting of rules and methods of procedure to be followed during the remainder of the trial.

As had been expected, counsel for the impeached executive objected to the senators who served on the Frawley committee, which unearthed much of the evidence resulting in the impeachment, sitting in judgment upon the governor. They also objected to Senator Wagner, acting lieutenant governor, becoming a member of the court. Notwithstanding these objections, the senators were sworn in, Chief Judge Cullen announcing the points raised would be considered later.

Appointed Judges Seated.

It was also determined that Judges Miller, Chase and Hiscock, three ap-

CHARGES AGAINST GOVERNOR SULZER

The eight articles of impeachment voted against Governor Sulzer by the New York assembly are in substance:

That he filed with the secretary of state a false statement of his receipts and other monetary transactions during his gubernatorial campaign.

That he committed perjury in this statement.

That he bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the legislative committee which investigated his campaign accounts.

That he suppressed evidence, by means of threats to keep witnesses from testifying before the investigating committee.

That he dissuaded a particular witness, Frederick L. Colwell, from attending, under subpoena, the sessions of the investigating committee.

That he committed larceny in speculating in stocks with money and checks contributed for his campaign.

That as governor he threatened to use his office and influence to affect the vote of certain public officers.

STRIKE CALL ISSUED IN COLORADO MINES

Sheriff Says Militia Will Not Be Needed at Trinidad.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 18.—The official call for the strike in District No. 35 of the United Mine Workers of America was issued last night from the office of Frank J. Hayes, international vice president. It stated:

"We are striking for improved conditions, better wages and union recognition.

"We request all members to be peaceful and law-abiding and conduct the strike on a high plane."

Sheriff Gresham, who returned from a conference with Governor Ammons, stated that no move had been made to order the militia into this district and that the civil authorities were able to handle the situation.

Everything in the city and camps is peaceable. Reports that the companies are importing men are denied at the companies' offices.

THIRST ON TRAIN LANDS HIM IN CELL.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 18.—Alphonso W. Jones, traveling from Minneapolis to Chicago, was overcome by thirst when his train passed through La Crosse at midnight. In his suitcase was some excellent bourbon and Jones helped himself liberally. The conductor called the matter to the attention of the station police and Jones was taken to central police station for violation of the Wisconsin law which forbids drinking of liquor on the day coaches of trains. This morning in police court Jones' journey was further interrupted by a sentence of ten days in the county jail.

BANDITS ROB MOTOR PARTY

Get $2,000 and Jewelry on Highway Near Toledo, Ohio.

One Suspect Wounds Sheriff and Is Caught—Eleven Arrested.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 18.—Motoring from Toledo westward, Herman C. G. Luyties of St. Louis, and party of five, were held up by three men in an automobile six miles east of Bryan, Ohio, at 12:30 this morning. At point of revolvers, the thieves secured $2,000 in cash, a gold purse carried by one of the women, several diamonds and other jewelry.

The robbers drove away with the two cars, leaving the Luyties party in the road. They walked to a farmhouse, were driven to Bryan, and aroused Sheriff Samuel Weinland of Williams county. Following the tire tracks, Weinland found the two automobiles at a farmhouse, out of gasoline.

As he approached, Weinland was shot in the left arm and another bullet inflicted a flesh wound in his head. He grappled with one man and arrested him. The prisoner gave his name as R. W. Duffy of Toledo.

Two other suspects were taken later from a passenger train at Wauseon, Ohio.

With Luyties in the machine which was held up were Charles Bye of St. Louis, W. E. Cregier of New York and two women who gave their names as Mrs. Smith and daughter of St. Louis.

Eleven Under Arrest.

Authorities of Williams and Fulton counties have made eleven arrests of suspected automobile bandits, including two at Elmira. The injuries of Sheriff Weinland, shot by the bandit he captured single handed earlier this morning, are only slight flesh wounds. The men arrested at Elmira are said to have confessed.

A ring, stolen from one of the members of the Luyties party was taken this morning from the prisoner who gives his name as Duffy. After his pistol battle with Sheriff Weinland, Duffy was lodged in jail at Bryan.

STEAMER DAMAGED BY HITTING WHALE

Head-on Collision Is Disastrous for Both the Bodies.

St. Johns, Nfld., Sept. 18.—A collision with a whale caused such serious damage to the Danish steamer Vladmir Reitz, lumber-laden for England, that the vessel was forced to put in here yesterday for repairs.

The accident occurred Monday afternoon about 250 miles east of St. John's. The crew of the steamer saw the whale approaching at terrific speed, but could not alter the ship's course in time to avoid a collision. The whale struck head on, knocking a four-foot hole in the bow. The accident is believed to have killed the whale, for the monster sank immediately, its blood discoloring the water over a large area.

YAQUIS AGAIN ON WAR PATH

Fresh Outbreaks Are Reported Among Mexican Indians.

Refugees Blame Washington for Advising Them to Leave.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 18.—Official reports of new outbreaks among the Yaquis south of Guaymas and in the Yaqui river valley, which reached here today, created considerable uneasiness among Sonora state authorities. The report stated that the Yaquis are engaged in continuous warfare against the Mexicans, although they have not molested Americans.

Mexican residents here telegraphed to Washington a protest against what they termed inadequate punishment for Young Davis, the American cowboy who confessed to having torn down a Mexican flag at Pirtleville. The Arizona state authorities also were asked to take up the case.

Davis was assessed a nominal fine on a charge of malicious mischief. Constable Reese of Pirtleville, also arrested in connection with the case, was found not guilty.

SAY CROSSINGS ARE DANGEROUS

West Duluthians Want Protection Against Canadian Northern Trains.

The city commission will be asked to demand that the Canadian Northern railroad eliminate its grade crossings at Sixtieth and Sixty-first avenues west.

Residents of the district as well as business men of West Duluth whose teams require the use of these crossings in making deliveries intend to press these requests.

It is claimed that many of the trains operated over the railroad at this point approach these crossings with the engine on the rear end of the train. This they aver makes the approach of the trains in some cases noiseless.

The Sixtieth avenue crossing is said to be the more dangerous of the two. Here a bank several feet high has to be climbed by teams and a stairway on each side has to be climbed by pedestrians. It is estimated that about 200 children of the Longfellow district use the two crossings four times a day in going to and from school.

The residents want the crossing eliminated before some fatal accident occurs at these points. It is also said that no watchman or safety appliances, giving warning of the approach of trains, are provided by the railroad at the crossings.

FREE READING ROOM.

Books and Games Will Be Available at Social Center.

A free reading room which will also be devoted to quiet games of various kinds will be a feature to be installed in connection with the social center at the Irving school. Miss Francis Earhart, librarian of the Duluth public library, will officially open the room on Tuesday evening, Sept. 30.

Books which will be of interest to the young people as well as the parents of the district will be on hand for the use of the public. Miss Vladovich will be in charge of the library.

It is proposed to equip the room with chess and checker boards. Men and women competent in the instruction of these games will be asked to donate their services in giving instructions to the children. This room will be open on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

FAREWELL SERMON.

Pastor Leaves West Duluth Pulpit to Work on Farm.

Rev. H. A. Stoughton, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church for the past two years, will preach his farewell sermon to the local flock on Sunday, Sept. 28. The pastor will leave that week for Winton, Minn.

Rev. Mr. Stoughton intends to give up the ministry for a short time at least. He will go on his farm, primarily for the purpose of regaining his health which has been rapidly breaking down since his coming to this city. "A few months' work on the farm will, I believe, greatly help my physical condition," said Rev. Mr. Stoughton. "The farm also needs my attention and it will pay me well to take personal charge of it."

NOT WELL PATRONIZED.

Farmers Abandon West Duluth Market on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Lack of patronage of the West Duluth public market on Tuesdays and Thursdays has caused some of the farmers to abandon the place on these days. This morning only one farmer came to the place.

Usually there have been from three to five and sometimes as many as seven farmers at the place during these days. Some of the farmers have complained of the lack of interest which the West Duluth people show in purchasing the fresh vegetables. The business is said to be brisk only on Saturday mornings.

Rally Social.

A rally social to be given tomorrow evening at the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Grand avenue, will be the closing feature of Rally week at the church this week. The program is being arranged under the auspices of the young people's society. Vocal and instrumental numbers will be given following which refreshments will be served.

RUNOVER HEELS CAUSE OF THEFT

Girl "Borrowed" Pair of Shoes to Go to Dance.

Because she disliked to go to a dance with shoes run over at the heel, Julia Hanson, 19 years old, "borrowed" a pair of slippers from Mrs. Amelia Walsingham, for whom she formerly worked, the evening of Sept. 6.

She and another girl each took a pair of slippers from the Walsingham apartments in the Oppel block, gaining entrance with a skeleton key in the absence of the family.

This morning the young woman was arraigned and entered a plea of guilty to a petty larceny charge. Judge Windom placed her on probation for a year, with instructions to report once a week to Probation Officer Frank Hicks. The court warned her that she was starting along the wrong path, cautioning her at the same time not to let her love of finery get the better of her.

The judge also took occasion to advise her against working in downtown hotels. He said that she would be much better off if she would find and keep a place in a private family.

FIVE PRISONERS GIVEN FREEDOM

Four Young Men Jointly Accused of Robbery Are Acquitted.

Two acquittals were returned yesterday afternoon by district court juries trying criminal cases.

John Milek, Frank Longo, Sam Petro and Carl Cusciotta, four young men ranging in age from 18 to 20 years, jointly indicted and tried for robbery in the first degree, were found not guilty by a jury in Judge Fesler's division.

A jury in Judge Ensign's room returned a verdict which freed Darish Rosi from the charge of grand larceny second degree.

The four young men were charged with having assaulted and robbed Harry H. Bishop of $14 at Fourteenth avenue west and Third street on the night of Aug. 23 last.

Rosi was accused of having stolen a $10 bill from one Anton Macekek in a Michigan street saloon on Aug. 9 last.

SHOOTING CHARGE NOT SUPPORTED

Following the report that he had shot Walter Obernskh last evening, John Karasiewicz was brought to police headquarters. Investigation by the police failed to disclose any shooting and he was released.

A small wound on the back of Obernski's head was dressed by Police Surgeon I. J. Murphy, who stated that it did not have the appearance of a gunshot wound but seemed to have been caused by a blow with some object. Karasiewicz engaged in a neighborhood quarrel with several men living in the vicinity of the ore docks. The police say that he may have pointed a gun at the others but that he shot no one.

TRY TRIPLE EXPERIMENT

Concrete Paving on East Second Street Cost $1.12 Per Square Yard.

Jail Labor Used—Old Macadam Melted for Repair Work.

The concrete paving which replaced the tar macadam on the lower side of Second street between Second and Third avenues east, cost $1.12 per square yard, according to figures submitted today to Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division.

The cost of concrete sidewalks is equivalent to $1.37 per square yard, or 25 cents more per yard than the cost of the pavement. The figures include the cost of removing the old paving and excavating. Excluding that expense the cost of putting down the new paving was 99 cents per square yard.

The job was in the nature of a triple experiment. The works division tried out the possibilities of replacing the tar macadam with concrete, utilizing the crushed rock under the wearing surface. Chain gang labor was used on constructive work for the first time, with fair success, and now the macadam stripped from the lower side of the street is being melted and used for filling holes in other parts of the pavement.

The net cost of the concrete job was $599.57, as figured by H. C. Ash, assistant city engineer. The total yardage was 533 1-3 yards, giving a cost of $1.12 per square yard. The cost of the sand and gravel is figured as $1.13 per cubic yard. A two-course pavement was laid, the bottom course being 4½ inches thick and the upper, or wearing surface, being 1½ inches thick. The concrete was laid where there is considerable traffic, which will serve as a test of the durability of concrete paving.

Labor Cost.

As prisoners from the county jail were used on the work the labor item was partially eliminated. The city paid for guards and teams and employed experienced men to do the finishing. This expense was a little less than half the cost of the job, amounting to nearly $290.

Commissioner Murchison stated that some of the men taken from the chain gang proved to be good workmen, while some of the others were not so energetic. The commissioner was satisfied, however, that it is practical to use the chain gang for constructive work of that nature. That will probably be done in the future when the opportunity arises.

Melting and using the old macadam surface has not been tried heretofore, at least not in Duluth. A tar kettle is being used for a "plant," and depressions and holes in the dilapidated tar macadam are being filled. Some crushed rock is being put in the mix before it is laid.

Before the end of the week the works division expects to make repairs to the asphalt paving which was laid last year on East Fourth street between Fourteenth and Twenty-third avenues and to the asphalt paving on East Superior street.

The paving of East Fourth street between Twenty-third and Twenty-seventh avenues was finished yesterday. About four blocks of the concrete bas has been laid on one side of Fourth street between Sixth and Tenth avenues east. The street is to be improved between Sixth and Fourteenth avenues. This is the biggest street job in Duluth remaining to be finished this season.

TWICE ARRESTED; WANTS DIVORCE

Anna Pesler Seeks Freedom From Husband Who Imprisoned Her.

Twenty-two-year-old Anna Pesler, twice accused of adultery and on both occasions freed from the charges brought by her husband, Mike Pesler, also 22, came into Judge Fesler's court yesterday afternoon for a divorce.

John Karda, or Kordah, who was arrested with Mrs. Pesler, as her guilty lover, was also in court to testify on her behalf. Mrs. Pesler charged desertion. After the court had heard her story, he took the case under advisement.

The Peslers were married in Pennsylvania on Aug. 28, 1910. Shortly afterwards they came to Duluth and took up their residence in the West end. Pesler, it is claimed, deserted on April 12, 1912.

In March this year, Mike showed up He looked up his wife and found her, he claimed, living with Kordah in a house on Vernon street, West end. He had the pair arrested.

The March grand jury reviewed the case but returned no true bill, exonerating them. As soon as the no true bill was returned Pesler had them arrested for an alleged offense in Superior.

They were turned over from the district court to the Douglas county authorities. In Superior, Pesler failed to substantiate his case and the charges were dismissed by Judge Parker.

Both Mrs. Pesler and Kordah told their version of the affair in the divorce court yesterday.

DOUBLES REWARD FOR STOLEN JEMS

Thomas Lantry Will Pay $1,000 and "No Questions Asked."

Thomas Lantry, one of the proprietors of the Kaiserhof saloon at 1 East Superior street has increased the reward for the return of his diamonds from $500 to $1,000 and no questions asked.

The diamonds and other jewelry, valued at $3,000, were stolen from him in his home at Lakeside about two weeks ago. The police were notified and made an investigation, but failed to find any clews which might lead to the identity of the thief.

A strange feature of the case was the report that the watchdog, which never fails to bark whenever strangers come upon the premises, did not make any noise the night the valuables were taken.

PROOF FROM UNCLE SAM

The Government Statistics Show Ideal Weather Conditions for Crops Here.

No Extreme Temperatures and No Danger of Drouths Near Duluth.

In order to show that Duluth and vicinity have enjoyed weather conditions during the three growing months of the year not equalled by any other section of the country, some interesting statistics have been compiled by H. W. Richardson of the government weather bureau.

The statistics show that the least rainfall in any one growing season, or for the entire year, in the vicinity of Duluth for a period of forty years has equalled the normal rainfall of the great farming country from the Dakotas southward, and taking in the central part of the United States, including Kansas, Nebraska and Western Oklahoma.

These statistics show that this section is free from dangers of drouths, excessive heat or extreme cold, and that as such, should be an ideal farming district.

While the three months, June, July and August, show over two inches less rainfall than under normal conditions, it is shown that the amount of moisture has been ample for crop conditions in this neighborhood, and that no crops have suffered. The pastures are said to be in fine condition.

The figures compiled by Mr. Richardson show that August averaged about 2 deg. warmer than July, while its mean maximum average was slightly above 70 deg. and its minimum mean average just above 53 deg. The hottest day recorded was 84 deg.

No Extremes Here.

The following statement was issued by Mr. Richardson:

"The table shows the temperature and precipitation conditions at Duluth during the summer of 1913. Examination of the record will prove that there has been neither abnormal heat or drouth worthy of serious consideration as regards this section. In contrast with the heat experienced elsewhere it is of interest to invite attention to the fact that the mean temperature for July was the coolest of record at Duluth, in fact, the summer as a whole was a little cooler than usual, except that some warm weather was experienced in June. As to precipitation the total for July was greatly in excess of the average, while in June only half the usual amount was received, and in August the total was but a third of the average recorded. But while the total amount for the summer is somewhat deficient yet there is ample moisture in the ground and crops have not suffered to any material extent, in fact, so far as can be learned, crops in this section are giving excellent returns. Pastures are fine for the time of year.

"The least rainfall in any growing season in forty years in this locality is practically the same as the normal for the country from the Dakotas southward through the Central United States to Texas, including Nebraska, Kansas and Western Oklahoma."

The tables follow:

Temperature.

	Normal.	Mean.	Mean Max.	Mean Min.	Actual Max.
June, deg.	57.7	59.2	69.8	48.8	88
July, deg.	66.0	60.5	69.1	51.7	82

HEARD in the HOTEL LOBBIES

"I was down on the harbor front yesterday," said the Old Chairwarmer, "and I was watching a little tugboat making a fool out of a 600-foot ore boat. That seemed to be food for thought. It has always happened that when I thought I was about the biggest thing on earth that some little runt came along and took a fall out of me, making me realize that with all my size I was not the whole thing."

* * *

J. A. Magnuson, assistant manager of the Spalding hotel, tells this one:

"When I was a clerk at a hotel in Trinidad, Colo., a man came in and asked for a room without a bath. I gave him one across the hall from an open bathroom. He went up to his room late and prepared for bed. Then he thought he would like a bath so he slipped on his bathrobe and went across the hall, leaving his door slightly open. While he was in the bath the man in the next room checked out and left his door slightly open. In the meantime the first door had slammed shut.

"When the man was through in the bathroom he stepped across the hall into the vacant room and went to bed. In the morning he got up and started looking for his clothes. Then he made an awful squawk. He called me up and said someone had stolen his clothes, even his socks.

"I went up to investigate and found him fuming over his loss. Also I found he was in the wrong room. When he discovered his mistake he insisted on buying a box of cigars for me."

* * *

A man who had traveled all over the country was talking about the various hotels he had stopped at. He said he had been in the best ones in the country and also in hotels that never heard of a bath outside of the regulation Saturday night wash tub event.

"But Duluth has hotels that the city may well be proud of," he said. "For its size this city has more good hotels that most cities in the country."

FREED BY AN ADJECTIVE

But Elias Kickalo Is Immediately Rearrested When County Attorney Adds a Noun.

Stealing a "mackinaw" is not an offense against the peace and dignity of the state of Minnesota.

Judge J. D. Ensign of the district court so ruled this morning in a criminal case which was being tried before him.

The court held that "mackinaw" was an adjective and not a noun. An indictment alleging the theft of a "mackinaw" was defective on the ground that no offense was charged, declared the judge.

As a result of the court's ruling, County Attorney Warren E. Greene dismissed the indictment against Elias Kickalo, charged with grand larceny, second degree.

Before Kickalo could get out of the courthouse, however, he was rearrested for the same offense on a new complaint. He will probably be held to the next grand jury.

Kickalo, the indictment charged, stole a "mackinaw" and a light brown overcoat from Conrad Jager in a Flood-wood restaurant on June 18 last, and was therefore guilty of grand larceny in the second degree.

During the examination of the witnesses for the state, John Brown, attorney for Kickalo, objected to the introduction of evidence concerning the theft of the "mackinaw." The court sustained the objection.

On the stand, Jager, the complaining witness, testified that the coat which was taken was a suit coat and not an overcoat, as alleged in the indictment. Again the indictment was defective.

The court, with reference to the "mackinaw" held that if the indictment had charged the defendant with the theft of a "mackinaw coat" it would have not been defective.

Kickalo was rearrested by Chief Troyer on a new warrant just as he was leaving the courtroom.

Lightning Kills One.

Mr. John N. Watkins, 3431 A Crittenden St., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"Among all the greatly advertised medicine for kidney and bladder trouble there is nothing which equals Peruna. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose, until I took Peruna.

"One bottle did me more good than all the others put together, as they only poisoned my system. Peruna cured me. I used it for four months before a complete cure was accomplished, but am truly grateful to you. The least I can do in return is to acknowledge the merits of Peruna."

A Remarkable Recovery.

Mr. John N. Watkins, whose portrait accompanies this article, has a very interesting story to tell. He sent it to us entirely unsolicited. His statement is, "The least that I can do in return for the benefit I have received, is to acknowledge the merits of Peruna."

A great many people feel this way, and voluntarily give us the privilege of using their testimonial in spite of the fact that there are some who are prejudiced against testimonials.

Mr. Watkins' trouble was kidney and bladder disease, as he states. Just exactly what the nature of the disease was we have no means of knowing. He had, however, what the doctors called kidney disease, and he had suffered for several years with the trouble.

Naturally enough a man of his means and energy would not sit down and whine because of his trouble, but he attempted to find relief. He spent hundreds of dollars in trying to find relief. It seems that he was disappointed entirely.

Spent Hundreds Of Dollars.

At last he was induced to take Peruna. Just who called his attention to the remedy we do not know. We presume it was a neighbor who had taken it for a similar purpose. In beginning to take Peruna he states: "One bottle did me more good than all the other remedies put together." He continued to take Peruna for four months, at which time he claims he was completely restored to health. It was his gratitude for good health again that led him to write the testimonial and allow us to use his portrait in connection with it.

We offer no explanation as to how Peruna effected a change in his case. The operation of medicine is mostly inexplicable. The fact that he had diligently sought relief and tried other popular remedies and began to improve as soon as he took Peruna, is evidence that cannot be disputed that Peruna did for him just what he says it did.

Naturally enough, Mr. Watkins recommends Peruna to other people similarly afflicted. If any one desires to write him and obtain further particulars they should remember to enclose a stamp for reply. Otherwise their letter may receive no attention.

Catarrh of Kidneys.

Judge C. J. Park, R. F. D., 4, Greensboro, Greene Co., Ga., writes: "For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys and after taking Peruna I feel like a new man."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

ORE MOVING MORE FREELY

Fast Time Being Made in Handling Big Boats Here.

Grain Rate Firm and Further Increase Is Looked For.

During the past few days the ore movement has increased considerably and ore shippers are handling the boats in record time.

The local shippers are complaining, however, with regard to the sending of boats light to local ports. They say they are unable to take care of all the vessels and unless some of the boats bring coal shipments, a congestion is expected here before the week is over.

More than 1,000,000 bushels of grain will be shipped during the last half of the week, charters having been made by local shippers early in the week. Seven ships, it is understood, have been taken for next week, while several charters have already been made for October. The general rate at present is 1¾ cents. An increase is expected before the first of the month and a rate of 2½ cents may be charged for November shipping.

There is little change in the coal movement at present, shipments being steady this week. By the first of the month the shipments are expected to increase and continue until the close of the season.

The steamer is to be of the most modern type, including steam unloading apparatus.

Veteran Captain Dies.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—Flags on harbor vessels flew at half mast Tuesday out of respect to Capt. John Driscoll, a veteran of the Great Lakes, who was buried. He was a sailor for forty years, thirty of them being spent in the service of the Starke tug line. He was a master in active work up to within three days of his death.

WANTS DAMAGES FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Damages in the amount of $7,500 are sought for the benefit of 18-year-old Carrie Hanson, widow of Gilbert Hanson, aged 23, from the Stonebridge-Wells company, in whose employ Hanson was fatally injured on Oct. 26, 1911.

The claim for alleged wrongful death is being pressed by Doris Tardiff, administrator of Hanson's estate. Hanson, it is claimed, was employed as a trucker, and while engaged in unloading a carload of merchandise, his truck with a heavy load slipped from the toe-board. Hanson fell with the load and was crushed against the wall of the building. He died seven days later. Negligence is charged against the company.

Frederick Fuller Gets Divorce From Wife on Desertion Charge.

Two years ago Anna Fuller, aged 34, of Chisholm packed her trunk and bade goodbye to her friends, including her husband. She told them that she was off for Sweden and vowed that she would never come back.

So far as Frederick Fuller, 42 years old, and husband of Anna, has been able to discover, she has been faithful to her promise. He has never seen nor heard from her since.

In district court yesterday afternoon Frederick had the matrimonial ties which have held him to Anna since May, 1909, severed. Judge Fesler granted the divorce on the grounds of desertion.

STOLE APPLES; IS ARRESTED

BEGIN COPPER STRIKE PROBE

Copper Country Commercial Club Takes Up Work at Calumet.

Federal Commissioner Has Talk With the Mine Managers.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Copper Country Commercial club's committee investigating the copper miners' strike with a view to offering mediation, will today open offices in Calumet, where testimony bearing on both sides of the controversy will be taken and data collected.

The committee so far has worked eighteen hours a day on its investigation. No information will be divulged until its inquiry is concluded. A conference with the mine managers has been held and strikers now will be interviewed.

Dispatches from Kalamazoo say that the State Federation of Labor assembled in convention there has voted to extend financial assistance to the strikers in the copper mine district. The amount was not decided upon.

Moffit Meets Managers.

John A. Moffit, representative of the United States department of labor, here to aid in a settlement of the copper miners' strike, conferred with the mine managers at Houghton yesterday. He declared the conference was satisfactory, but declined to say what matters were discussed.

The attitude of the department of labor, Mr. Moffit said, was that the men should return to work and have their grievances adjusted afterward. Strikers take this to mean the elimination of the Western Federation of Miners as an issue in the strike.

Word was received from Butte, Mont., that the miners' union there will levy an assessment of one day's pay in October against every member of the organization to assist the Michigan strikers. It is estimated that about $30,000 would thus be raised in addition to the levy of $2 a month for each member, which approximates $14,000 a month.

Powder House Threatened.

A detonating cap, connected with a piece of wire leading through the door of the powder house of the Mohawk Mining company, was discovered last night. Manager Hartmann of the Mohawk mine did not think that there had been a serious attempt to blow up the powder house, but an additional guard was placed about the building.

Ferris Calls on Legislators.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 18.—Although Governor Ferris has repeatedly said that he could see no way of bringing about a settlement of the Upper Peninsula copper miners' strike by calling a special session of the legislature, he announced that he will take the matter up with members of both the house and the senate. He said that he will send a letter to each member asking his opinion on the subject.

"I want to get the opinions of the legislators and then I will use my own judgment in the matter," said the governor.

The strike has already cost the state approximately $200,000 as the result of maintaining national guardsmen in the Copper country, and it is said that a special session of the legislature would necessitate the expenditure of an additional $20,000.

FALL STYLES IN MOTION PICTURES

An item of special interest in the feminine world is the announcement that New York and Paris fashions will be shown in motion pictures at Freimuth's store next week during style week.

The official New York fashion show in which Paris and New York enter into a competitive display of the world's best fall fashions on living models, as held at the Grand Central palace, New York city, July 24 to Aug. 2, will be shown in the pictures. Mr. Freimuth has secured this exhibition as an entertainment for the women of Duluth and their friends, and the fourth floor of his store will be turned into a photo-play auditorium with a seating capacity of 500, where the reels will be shown on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The fashion show in New York was attended by about 1,600 merchants and buyers, and the leading feature was a style parade twice a day lasting about an hour, during which time about 200 different styles in suits, coats and wraps, dresses for evening, furs and hats were shown on living models.

The scenes shown in the pictures are the interior of a manufacturer's show room, displaying tailored suits; a reception room adjoining a ballroom, showing dinner and evening gowns; a scene showing the guests departing from the evening function, showing wraps, and the fourth scene is an afternoon party at which a group of handsomely gowned women join in a discussion of clothes, and there is a parade of models for their inspection.

Another reel shows a parade of mannequins wearing styles shown at the fashion show, and the last ends with a display of children's frocks worn by two little girls.

"GREEN" WORKMAN WANTS $5,025 DAMAGES

A jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court is today trying the personal injury suit which Axel Anderson has brought against the Duluth Iron & Metal company.

Anderson, claiming to be a green and inexperienced workman, just seven months over from the old country, alleges that while employed by the defendant company last April in the work of unloading a heavy rail from a car, the iron dropped on his hand and cut off two fingers. He asks damages in the sum of $5,025.

NO ROOM LEFT FOR HEALTH EXHIBIT

City Too Late to Secure Booth at Industrial Exposition.

The health department officials had planned to have an exhibit at the exposition next week but when Dr. Webster, health director, inquired for a booth this morning he was informed that all of them had been engaged. At the exposition last year, the department had an instructive exhibit which received many favorable comments. The various branches of health department activity were featured and could the booth have been secured the same would have been done this year.

The shooting was one of three in an outbreak of lawlessness in the Italian quarter. Allo and the other two persons fired upon had received threatening letters demanding money.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS OCT. 9 AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, Oct. 9, as Fire Prevention day. The proclamation reads as follows:

"In co-operation there is strength and efficiency. The people of Minnesota have already realized the results that may be attained by co-operation for the purpose of attaining any given end. Accordingly I am calling the attention of the people of this state to an important question which is given us to solve if all work together. The end in view is the prevention of fire losses so that each citizen of the state of Minnesota may be more prosperous at the close of the year than he was at the close of the previous year. Not only will proper co-operation along these lines result in the conservation of property but human life will be conserved as well. Money and property can be replaced but human life snuffed out is an irretrievable loss.

"The fire waste in the United States is absolutely appalling. That it is a useless waste is shown conclusively by comparative statistics. The average per capita loss through fire to the citizens of this country is approximately $2.50. In European countries the average per capita loss is 33 cents. During the past fifteen years it is estimated that two billion dollars and twenty thousand lives have been offered up as a sacrifice to the fire scourge. Shall we admit that Europe can teach us a primary lesson in conservation? Surely we shall not do so. As America has led and blazed the trail in the most difficult lines of human endeavor, so in this question of conservation involving the prevention of loss of property and life by fire America must lead, but before assuming the position of leadership, Americans must learn the lesson which Europe is teaching.

"In Minnesota a strenuous struggle has been waged against fire losses through the establishment of the office of the state fire marshal. Because of the efforts of the state forester and through the interest taken in this subject by the state insurance commissioner, Minnesota has gone far towards solving the problem. Their efforts are to be commended but much remains to be attained and this can be accomplished only through the thorough co-operation of the people of the state.

"A year ago the first national fire prevention congress was called at my instance and was held in the city of St. Paul. At that congress different methods of fire prevention were discussed and the influence of the gathering has been nation-wide. The different states have taken up the matter and everywhere a titanic struggle is being waged against the useless waste of fire. Having set the pace along this line, Minnesota should not be a laggard in carrying on the war. Co-operation is the key to the situation. This co-operation can be attained only through the active influence of those agencies that can bring co-operation to you. These agencies are especially the churches, the schools, the commercial and municipal organizations and private business concerns. A large percentage of the fire losses occur through criminal activity or carelessness. The influence of these agencies for harm can be reduced to a minimum by the active interest of our people. The police power of the state with the assistance of all good citizens will be directed against the crime of arson. The crime of carelessness is one that can be prevented only through the activity of all good citizens. Relentless war can be waged against the careless use of matches. Inflammable rubbish in factories and elsewhere must not be permitted. Hallways and alleys that are noisesome and dangerous should be cleared up. Oily waste, a dangerously inflammable material must be eliminated. Lumber yards, packing houses or factories must be carefully guarded and kept clean. Greater care should be exercised in the homes.

"Accordingly for the purpose of calling particular attention to this campaign against the waste by fire, I hereby proclaim Thursday, Oct. 9, as Fire Prevention day in Minnesota. I urge that it be so recognized in all the departments of the state, in all the public and private institutions of learning, and by all social, religious, educational and commercial organizations, and by individuals interested in the social and economic benefit of our people. The press as the greatest agent of economic betterment in this state is especially urged to take up this matter and to impress upon our people its importance and the benefits to be attained. It is hoped that the chief executives of every city and village in the state will interest themselves in the movement and urge a general fire prevention and clean-up day in their communities so that the fire waste in Minnesota may be reduced to a minimum."

WORKING ON DOCK SUPERSTRUCTURE

Big Cranes Placing Beams and Iron Workers Are Busy.

The first span of the new steel ore dock of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway was put up yesterday. The immense 50-ton crane which will be used in hoisting the steel beams was completed Tuesday and has begun swinging the monster pieces of steel into their places.

The work will progress rapidly from now on. It is planned to put up two spans every day after the work has been well started. A large part of the steel is already on hand, and more is arriving daily at the docks.

The crane is equipped with two arms, each of which is capable of lifting a piece of steel weighing twenty-five tons. The heavier beams, of which there will be very few, will be lifted with the combined strength of both arms.

An army of structural iron workers to be sent here by the American Bridge company, which has the contract, will begin to arrive. Many of the men are here already. It is expected that about 200 men will be employed on the job.

FRENCH CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN MEMBERS.

The French Naturalization club has planned an entertaining program for its members for tomorrow evening. Following the short business session a program of music, speaking and athletic features has been arranged.

Ray M. Hughes will be the principal speaker. He will explain to the members of the club the preferential method of casting the ballots. This is one of a series of addresses planned by the club to educate its members in becoming good citizens.

As a closing feature to the program a wrestling match between "Kid" Sullivan and "Kid" Le May will prove interesting. The two young men have gained considerable reputation as wrestlers in the West end, and many of the followers of the sport have been looking forward to a match between them.

GARDEN COMMITTEE WILL MAKE REPORT.

The West End Commercial club will meet this evening at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The club will hear a report of its garden committee and indorse its report on the prize-winners in the recent garden contest.

The club's garden committee completed its report yesterday, and this will not be made public until at the meeting this evening. The members of the committee and L. A. Simonson, president of the club, have inspected over 100 gardens entered in the contest.

The club will also make plans for its winter's activities at the meeting this evening. It is probable that some step will be taken to institute a campaign to have the government open a post-office branch which will be independent of any business house. It will also hear a report from its "white way" committee. The latter committee has been working quietly in an attempt to get every property owner and business man on Superior street between Eighteenth and Twenty-second avenues to consent to installing the new system of lighting.

Death Ends Long Illness.

Nickolai Carlson, 48 years old, 2023 West Superior street, died yesterday at the Nopeming sanitarium after an illness of six months of tuberculosis. He is survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery. Rev. J. N. Nervig will officiate.

West End Briefs.

Miss Lorena La Brae, 116½ North Twenty-seventh avenue west has left for Winnipeg, where she will study at St. Charles academy.

Miss Diana La Tendresse, 1820 West Second street is spending a two weeks' vacation at Crossey Bay, Minn.

The Sunday school of the East End Mission will entertain this evening at a social and auction at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. A musical program will also be given.

Boiling paint, which spilled over, caused a small blaze in W. F. Schnuckle's broom factory, 212 Gilbert street, yesterday afternoon. The fire was put out by department No. 2 before it gained much headway.

Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Nervig, 310 North Twenty-fifth avenue west, returned yesterday from Hanska, Minn., where they spent a week visiting relatives.

The Young Ladies' Aid of Zion Norwegian Lutheran church entertained at a social in the church parlors last night. A musical and literary program was given.

The confirmation class of Zion Norwegian Lutheran church will meet with the pastor, Rev. J. N. Nervig, Saturday morning.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES-- RESINOL CURED

Atlanta, Ga., April 24, 1913.—"When I received the samples of Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment my face was covered with pimples which defied other creams, soaps and cosmetics. They were a source of constant humiliation to me, coming in contact with many strangers, as I do, as a business woman.

"By the time I had finished a cake of Resinol Soap and half a jar of Resinol Ointment, my skin was soft as velvet, and as smooth. My friends were stunned, and everyone asked me what I had done. When I told them, I think they hardly believed it, for the transformation was simply wonderful.

"Since then I have been using Resinol Soap and shall never be without it again, for I have learned the delights of a clear, soft, beautiful complexion that may be attained by its constant use." (Signed) Miss E. P. Gaddis, 284 South Pryor street.

PRINCE'S ACCUSER TO BE DEPORTED.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18.—Mrs. Clara Melcher, the Viennese laundress who charged that Prince Sulkowski of Austria induced her to come to the United States for immoral purposes, left Los Angeles yesterday in the custody of Federal officers who said she would be deported from some port on the Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Melcher recently told the Federal grand jury of her alleged relations with Prince Sulkowski, who was married in Los Angeles several weeks ago to Miss Marie Louise Freese, daughter of a wealthy resident of this city. The prince is now in the Orient with his bride.

DEAN ROGERS IS PICKED FOR JUDGE.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Dean Henry Wade Rogers, for the last ten years the head of Yale law school, has been selected by President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds to be United States circuit judge for the Second Federal circuit, comprising the states of New York, Vermont and Connecticut. The nomination is expected to go to the senate this week. Dean Rogers is a Democrat.

MAY GET TEDDY TO BOOST EXPOSITION.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Col. Roosevelt may be the special envoy of the United States to England and Germany to secure the participation of England and Germany in the San Francisco exposition.

While no formal tender has been made to Col. Roosevelt, prominent Californians identified with the exposition have suggested to the administration that the former president might be persuaded to go to London and Berlin before he sails next month for South America.

It was stated on good authority also that both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan approve the idea, but are withholding a formal offer until they know the outcome of the negotiations now being conducted in Europe by J. F. V. Skiff, director general of the Panama-Pacific exposition, with a view to obtaining support there for the exposition.

The interest of the administration in securing foreign participation is not alone to celebrate the opening of the canal to civilization, but to make the Panama-Pacific exposition a forum for the cause of universal peace.

ACCUSED OF SELLING INDICTED MEN TIPS

Assistant State's Attorney in Chicago Is Arrested.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Charles Furthmann, assistant state's attorney was arrested last night, charged with having sold grand jury confessions and evidence to representatives of men indicted in connection with the recent investigations of arson cases.

When arrested, Furthmann, according to State's Attorney Hoyne, had $250 in marked bills in his possession. He also received information, he said, that Furthmann had sold copies of a confession by Benjamin Fink for $2,000 of which he had received $1,500.

Arrangements were made for the payment of $250 more, Mr. Hoyne said. Photographs of the money were taken, and the bills marked. When Furthmann was arrested, detectives say, the money was in his pocket.

PROTECT JEWISH NAME.

"Anti-Defamation League of America" Is Organized.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Prominent Jews here have organized the Anti-Defamation League of America, whose object will be to stop, by appeals to reason and conscience, and if necessary by appeals to the law, the defamation of the Jewish people. The new organization will be conducted under the auspices of the Order of B'Nai B'Rith, a Jewish philanthropic organization with a membership of 30,000, and will have branches in every large city in the country. The objects of the league are set forth in detail by a statement issued by Adolf Kraus of Chicago as president of the Order of B'Nai B'Rith.

Stage defamation of the Jew will be dealt with by enticing the co-operation of the producers and managers of the theaters so that an investigation of proposed performances may be made before the piece is given public presentation. Newspaper and magazine defamation will be met by protest to the editors.

Defamation in text books will be met by attempts to eliminate them from the course of study.

A committee of 100 prominent Jews representing all sections of the country was named to perfect the organization.

To Brighten Up Quickly After a Tiresome Day

(From Woman's Tribune.)

After a strenuous day outdoors, when wind, dirt and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and good looks—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a dance on for the evening, or some other social affair. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get some parafied plastoid jelly at the nearest drug store, smear a liberal coating over the entire face, let it remain on fifteen minutes to an hour, rinse off with soapless water—then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! The loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, facial contour and color improved, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, parafied plastoid jelly being perfectly harmless. Adv.

CAMINETTI AND DIGGS TO APPEAL.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—A ten-day stay of execution was granted, and for that period Maury I. Diggs was admitted to bail in the sum of $15,000 and Drew Caminetti in the sum of $10,000, after they were sentenced for their violation of the Mann law.

The stay of execution was granted in order to permit the defense to perfect an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals for a writ of error.

Motions for a new trial and for arrest of judgment were denied.

LAMAR'S CASE UP TO U. S. COMMISSIONER.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Decision on the question of extraditing David Lamar, indicted by a Federal grand jury in New York, for attempting to defraud by impersonating an officer of the United States, will be given by United States Commissioner Taylor next Monday. The commissioner heard arguments by opposing counsel yesterday, Lamar's counsel insisting that there was no case against their client, charged with impersonating Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania, because a member of congress is not an "officer of the United States." Lamar, who was arrested here last week, is out on $3,000 bail.

A. Flannigan, general superintendent of the Mesaba range mines in Minnesota, visited the Negaunee properties recently.

HOPE, it is said, springs eternal in the human breast, but how many afflicted men there are who are disappointed and discouraged either because they have not investigated until they have found the right treatment to take or because they have had unsatisfactory medical service elsewhere.

We expect and do hear daily from patients long stories of unsuccessful treatments. But in almost every case the fault lies with the man himself in failing to discriminate between the ordinary practitioner and the skilled Specialist. In the treatment of Blood Polson, Skin Diseases, Ulcers, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility and such troubles you will find us past the experimental stage.

Come to SEE US and note the difference in the way an experienced Specialist will handle your case.

WATERY BLISTERS ON CHILD'S FACE

Kept Scratching Until Cheeks Fiery Red. Skin Cracked and Scaly. Itched and Burned. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. No Return of Trouble.

Smithville, Ind. — "Six months ago our baby girl, one year old, had a few red pimples come on her face which gradually spread causing her face to become very irritated and a fiery red color. The pimples on the child's face were at first small watery blisters just a small blotch on the skin. She kept scratching at this until in a few days her whole cheeks were fiery red color and instead of the little blisters the skin was cracked and scaly looking and seemed to itch and burn very much.

"We used a number of remedies which seemed to give relief for a short time then leave her face worse than ever. Finally we got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed the child's face with very warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment very lightly. After doing this about three times a day the itching and burning seemed entirely gone in two days' time. Inside of two weeks' time her face seemed well. That was eight months ago and there has been no return of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. A. K. Wooden, Nov. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ECONOMY FOR ZENITH BOARD

High School Publication Must Be Less Elaborate This Year.

As a result of criticism on the amount of money spent on the Central high school Zenith, the annual publication of the senior class, the board of education has placed the maximum amount to be spent hereafter at $1,000.

Last year the book cost about $2,000. Under the new ruling James E. Taylor, a faculty member, will be treasurer; Miss Wilhemina Case, class advisor, and Leonard Young, principal, will be a member of the board along with the other two. The book this year will be standardized, and future publications will conform as far as paper, cover and construction are concerned.

AFTER SCALP OF MANAHAN

State Senator Victor Johnson Wants Nomination in Tenth District.

Visits Duluth on Business and Refuses to Talk Politics.

Senator Johnson refuses to talk politics. He says that he isn't allowing politics to bother him. That despite the fact that he is the man who is generally counted upon to defeat Congressman James A. Manahan for the Republican nomination for congress in the new Tenth district next year.

Senator Johnson has not formally announced his candidacy for congress, but the general cross of the Tenth district are taking it for granted. He is having bouquets thrown at him from all sides. He has a big advantage over Manahan in the district. Manahan has strained a point to establish a "constructive" residence in the district in an effort to hold his seat in congress. Senator Johnson was born and raised there and has had a large part in its development.

Senator Johnson is one of the most effectively progressive and vigorous members of the senate. He showed his caliber in the reapportionment fight last winter, when, as chairman of the senate reapportionment committee, he led the battle for justice to Northern Minnesota. A large part of the credit for the victory over those who would have blocked constitutional reapportionment went to the Center City man and he will have the good wishes of thousands of Northern Minnesota people in his congressional contest. His whole record in the state legislative body gives him strength for the congressional contest, for he has been active along many constructively progressive lines.

"The farmers in my section of the state have raised big crops; they are getting good prices, and peace, plenty and prosperity reign," said Senator Johnson this morning. When the question of politics was broached, he pleasantly waved it aside and enlarged upon the prosperity of the farmers of Chisago county this year.

the services of the veterans of the Union army and the consideration due them are held lightly in the estimation of the railroad authorities." The railroads of the South, however, gave the same rate to both camps of veterans, Mr. Beers added, the alleged discrimination being in the North and against the Union veterans. In this connection, he said:

"The Southern Passenger association composed of railroads east of the Ohio river, gave the same rate to the Union veterans that they had given to the Confederate veterans in May of this year; namely, 1 cent per mile. The remaining associations, except the Trunk Line association, located in New York and the trans-continental lines, fixed the rate at 2 cents per mile, which is, I believe, a higher rate than the Grand Army has paid in some years.

"Included in the associations making the charge of 2 cents per mile, was the association whose roads operate in Missouri and Kansas and perhaps other states, which made a rate for the Confederate Veterans' reunion of 1 cent per mile. The railroads from New York to Washington made no reduction whatever in rates, but charged the full regular fare to Washington, the gateway to the territory of the Southern Passenger association, which rate is in excess of the prices regularly charged for excursion tickets good for ten days, and largely in excess of mileage book rates good for at least one year."

Pensions For the Blind.

Mr. Beers urged that the pension committee present a bill to congress granting a pension of $75 a month to veterans who are blind. He also recommended that an effort be made to have repealed the law providing that widows of veterans who married after June 17, 1890, should not be entitled to pensions.

"The most of us are conversant with the causes that led to the passage of that law," he said. "It was a necessary and a proper law then, but since that time many honorable, kindly and affectionate women have married veterans from the purest of motives, and ministered to them in their last hours. It seems an injustice that such noble women should be made to suffer with the irresponsible class that the law was designed to reach. Surely a law can be framed that will separate the wheat from the chaff."

Ready to Elect.

Election of officers by the Grand Army of the Republic and by the Sons of Veterans, probably will take place today. Caucuses were held late into the night by both organizations. While several candidates will appear on the first ballot in the G. A. R. election, indications are that the selection of a commander-in-chief to succeed Alfred B. Beers will be between Col. C. E. Adams of Superior, Neb., and Washington Gardner of Michigan.

A spirited contest is being waged by members of the Sons of Veterans, John E. Sauter of Pittsburg, Pa., and C. S. Scott of San Francisco will be the principal candidates for commander-in-chief, according to pledged votes announced in caucus last night.

Foot Races for Veterans.

A steady downpour of rain which continued throughout the night was still in evidence today. For this reason the foot races in which Union veterans from six states and a Confederate veteran will participate, will be held in a big tent erected in the heart of the city. The entries for the two races on the program, one a distance of 100 yards and the other three miles, follow: Col. H. Smith, Detroit; C. W. Howe, Port Huron, Mich.; William A. Heinschon, Cleveland; J. J. Pusser, Indiana; Jere M. Clayton, Georgia; T. W. Brainerd, Ohio; S. C. Barnes, Pittsburg, Pa.; W. C. Allen, Kentucky, and Meredith Wolfe, Chattanooga, the latter a confederate veteran. The youngest contestant is 64 years of age.

Captured Confederates.

Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the Forty-seventh annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic prevented the N. B. Forrest camp of United Confederate Veterans from participating in the pageant. Clad in their gray uniforms, the Southerners were preparing to form in the line of march with Forsythe post of Toledo, Ohio, when they were informed of the order.

Nevertheless, half a dozen Confederate veterans, in gray uniforms, were taken "prisoners" by Union veterans during the progress of the parade, and amid shouts of laughter, forced to participate in it, being heartily cheered by spectators.

Admiration was expressed of a huge flag carried by eighteen Minnesota veterans. This flag was more than forty feet long and so wide that its carriers brushed against the crowds on the sides of the streets.

Barred "Boys in Gray."

An invitation to join in the parade had been tendered Col. Dickinson, commander of the Forrest camp, by Col. Hanson, commander of the Forsythe post. Just when they were ready to take their places, Col. Hanson informed Col. Dickinson that the commander of the Department of Ohio, Col. Warnock, had been instructed to bar everyone from the parade except Union veterans. Col. Hanson expressed deep regret over the incident.

The Confederate veterans also appeared distressed, but as they marched back to their headquarters they were greeted with cheers by the Union veterans.

In a statement Col. Dickinson said: "We regretted the incident very much, but I believe our comrades, and especially those in the Forsythe post, were even more distressed. We hold no ill feeling toward the rank and file of the Boys in Blue. The Boys in Blue are with us and for us, and we are with and for them. To show that there is no hard feeling against any of them, we are tendering an invitation to visit our camp. This invitation is to the rank and file of the Boys in Blue."

Statement by Beers.

The following explanation of the incident was made in a statement by Commander in Chief Albert B. Beers of the G. A. R.:

"I learned that a body of women had planned to take part in the parade. I also understood that these women were from Ohio. For this reason I called the attention of the commander of the Department of Ohio to the following extract from General Order No. 10, which reads: 'Women and civilians are prohibited from participating in the parade, and department commanders are directed to enforce this order in their respective departments.'

"I didn't know that an invitation had been extended to Confederate veterans to take part in the parade, nor was the enforcement of such an invitation by headquarters asked.

"The Confederate camp was not excluded because its members were former Confederate soldiers, but because it is the policy of the Grand Army of the Republic to have only its members in the parade, with the exception of sons of veterans, who were officially invited to act as escorts."

Fully 12,000 Union survivors of the Civil war marched through the streets in the parade, in the face of a steady rain.

Heard Dr. Wiley.

The first day of the congress was devoted chiefly to an examination of the exhibits which fill the large amphitheater at the Union stockyards. The discussion and arguments on problems of refrigeration began today.

The cost of living and means of reducing it were discussed by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the chemistry division of the department of agriculture.

"The increasing price of food is not due solely to its scarcity," he said. "There never was a time when man was so well fed as at the present.

"We do not have to look far to see the causes of the increased cost of food.

"First, people are eating better foods than ever before, and, second, the purchasing medium, namely gold, is relatively far more abundant than ever before, hence the quantity of food it will purchase is decidedly less. The great staples, the cereals, however, are not as expensive at the present time as during the past.

Increase Cereal Food.

"For a day's labor, a man can buy more wheat than he could twenty-five or fifty years ago. It is the part of scientific nutrition as well as social economy to increase the quantity of cereals in our foods, and to diminish those nutrients which are of less necessity and of increasingly higher price.

"To my mind, it seems the most important factor of the day to check the aggregation of man in the cities and to encourage the distribution of the great industries where men are employed.

"The factory in a farm neighborhood is a boon to every farmer, affording him a home market and saving the cost of transportation.

"The moral and mental effect upon the people of a distribution of industries is no less important. The saloon has no compelling attraction for the laboring man who, after his eight hours of work, has eight hours for his flower and vegetable garden. If our productive industries in a manufacturing line were properly distributed, the alcohol evil would be robbed of most of its terrors.

"So-Called Fresh Foods."

"The unfortunate condition now exists of providing so-called fresh foods in an advanced stage of staleness and of providing foods which had been properly aged in an immature state. The cured ham is ready for distribution within three weeks of slaughter, and the 4-year-old whisky is made in forty seconds."

The proper methods of distributing foods so as to make seasonal excesses and deficiencies less marked, Dr. Wiley said, was to extend the seasons for fresh foods by proper methods of production and by intelligent and proper preservation of food products.

SULZER IMPEACHMENT TRIAL IS BEGUN

pointed members of the court of appeals, would be permitted to serve on the high court along with the elected judges and the members of the senate.

Governor Sulzer was not in the court room. When he was called to answer the charges preferred by the assembly, Judge D. Cady Herrick, his chief counsel, announced that it was the governor's desire not to appear in person, but to be represented by his attorneys.

Acting Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Wagner called the senate to order as members of the court of impeachment.

Only One Senator Absent.

All but one of the forty-nine senators—John C. Fitzgerald of New York, who is ill, answered to their names as the roll was called. A committee of two notified the court of appeals that the senate was "ready to join with them in completing the court for the trial of impeachment of William Sulzer."

There was a two-minute silent wait. Then the doors opened and the judges, nine in number, clad in their somber robes, filed solemnly into the chamber. Senators and spectators arose and remained standing while the acting lieutenant governor welcomed the court. Chief Justice Cullen, the presiding officer, was escorted to the dais and presided with the gavel, which he brought down solemnly, declaring the court convened.

Seated Sulzer Appointees.

After the roll call Judge Cullen declared the court duly constituted. He announced that the question had been raised as to the right of Judges Hiscock, Chase and Miller, designated members of the court of appeals to sit as members of the high court. He said, in his opinion, the designated judges should be permitted to sit. Counsel for both sides assented.

The right of Senator Frawley, chairman of the committee which brought out the evidence against Governor Sulzer, and other senators on the committee to sit as members of the court was challenged by the defense, but they were permitted to take the oath of office.

Judge Cullen then solemnly administered the oath to every member of the court, in alphabetical order.

Oath Administered.

Each was called to the bar and stood with upraised right hand and answered "I do" to the following form of oath:

"You do solemnly swear to truly and impartially hear, try and determine the impeachment of the assembly of the state of New York against William Sulzer, governor of said state, according to the evidence, so help you God?"

The court had been in session nearly an hour before the last member took his oath. The clerk then called the name of William Sulzer. He did not answer. Judge Herrick rose and announced that in accordance with a notice filed when the court convened, Governor Sulzer desired to appear through counsel. This request was granted by the presiding judge, who then appointed a committee of three to draw up rules and methods of procedure for the court.

The court, on motion of Senator Wagner, then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The notice of adjournment was formally announced by the court crier and all spectators remained in their seats while the members of the court filed solemnly out of the chamber.

Attorneys in the Case.

Arrayed against the governor as counsel for the assembly board of managers today were Alton B. Parker, former chief judge of the court of appeals; John B. Stanchfield, Edgar T. Brackett, Eugene Lamb Richards, Isidore J. Kresel and Hiram C. Todd.

Attorneys for the defense included D. Cady Herrick, Irvin G. Vann, former judge of the court of appeals; Austen G. Fox, Harvey D. Hinman, Louis Marshall and Roger P. Clark.

Rooming-house owners reaped a small harvest from the crowd that poured into the city last night and today. Long before the night trains came in from New York bearing scores of politicians and sight-seers, every available room had been taken at the downtown hotels and those without reservations were forced to go to private houses to find accommodations.

Crowd on Hand Early.

Although noon was the appointed hour for the convening of the court, several thousand persons thronged the capitol building and grounds before 9 o'clock, all hoping to gain admittance to the senate chamber, the scene of the trial.

While there was no indication that any testimony would be taken today, the crowds were eager to witness the solemn opening ceremonies of the court.

Owing to the small seating capacity of the senate galleries most of the would-be spectators were doomed to disappointment. Not more than 300 seats were available, of which fifty were reserved for newspaper men.

Forestalling possibility of any attempt to rush the chamber, the senate sergeant-at-arms and his staff were reinforced by a heavy platoon of city police. Positive orders were issued that no spectator should be permitted on the floor of the chamber.

Was Impeached Aug. 13.

Governor Sulzer was impeached by the assembly for "high crimes and misdemeanors" at the now historic all-night session of Aug. 12 and 13. He is charged with having filed a false statement of campaign contributions; with appropriating contributions to his own use for speculation in Wall Street, and with improper use of his influence as governor to affect the political action of certain members of the assembly. Perjury and larceny are among the "high crimes" named.

The charges are set forth in eight articles of impeachment adopted by assembly and embrace in their substance the findings of the Frawley committee of the legislature, which began last July a public investigation into Sulzer's campaign contributions and his political activities.

This joint committee, created by the Democratic majority in both houses, was charged by the governor with being inspired by Tammany hall to attack him because of his refusal to bow to the will of Charles F. Murphy. It began its investigation shortly after investigations ordered by the governor into various state departments were under way.

Took Much Testimony.

The committee took testimony in New York and Albany and unearthed evidence which tended to show that eleven checks amounting to $8,500 were contributed to the Sulzer campaign fund, which were omitted in the governor's sworn statement. That statement accounted for only $5,460. It was also brought out that during the progress of the campaign he received over $32,850 in cash.

The articles of impeachment charge that this sum, together with the checks, was appropriated by the governor and "a large part thereof" used in speculation in stocks. Several of the checks were traced to Wall Street brokerage houses, in which the governor had accounts, either in his own name or, it was alleged by the committee, in the name of a dummy.

Governor Sulzer, just before his impeachment, denied improper use of campaign contributions. Subsequently, it was explained by the governor's friends that it was his wife who had done the speculating in the funds, without the governor's knowledge.

Nine Managers in Charge.

A board of nine managers, chosen by the assembly, of which Aaron J. Levy, Democratic leader of the assembly, is chairman, has the impeachment of the governor in charge. The board will act in the position of prosecuting attorney in a jury trial in presenting the evidence against the governor to the court of impeachment. The managers have been occupied since the impeachment in gathering further evidence against the governor.

While under the Constitution Governor Sulzer may be removed from office and disqualified from holding any other, if found guilty, this is the extreme penalty, and the court may fix a lighter penalty if it so chooses. He must be convicted by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

Eastern Senaloa, Sept. 10, according to advices which have reached the capital. Robertson left Durango Sept. 3 by the overland route for Mazatlan.

Jesus Madrigal, leader of the rebels in that section, in a signed statement to the American consul at Durango, said that he killed Robertson because the American refused to give up his arms.

Fifty American refugees from Durango are reported to have reached Zacatecas in safety.

Statement by Refugees.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 18.—A lenghty statement setting forth their reasons for leaving Mexico, was issued by those who arrived here aboard the cruiser Buffalo from the west coast of the southern republic. The Buffalo brought 139 refugees.

The statement follows:

"On board U. S. S. Buffalo, Sept. 16, 1913.

"We, residents of the Yaqui valley, desire to state the following facts concerning the exodus of the American and other foreign residents from the Yaqui valley, Sonora, Mexico, on Sept. 7, 1913:

"No uneasiness was felt by the American residents until Consul Vail of the United States at Guaymas, Sonora, visited Yaqui valley on Sept. 6, 1913, accompanied by Lieut. J. R. Henley of the United States marines (in uniform) and exhibited a telegram dated Washington, D. C., Aug. 27, 1913, and signed by Secretary of State Bryan, which stated that the president earnestly urged all Americans to leave Mexico and that the U. S. S. Buffalo was then waiting at an adjacent port called Salinas, to embark all those desiring to leave. The consul added that every one should conform to the president's request.

Abandoned Homes and Property.

"Relying entirely upon these representations, we have abandoned our homes, together with real and personal property of greater or lesser value.

"Since about March 1, 1913, we have been without train service or mails and for that reason we could not intelligently judge for ourselves the necessities of the case. Both contending factions in the present disturbance in Mexico have visited the Yaqui valley, but neither has committed any overt act toward foreigners nor disturbed our homes or property.

"Annoyance from some wandering bands of Yaqui Indians temporarily out of control of the Mexican authorities had occasionally occurred. Otherwise everything had been peaceful. They had levied on their own nationality for necessary sustenance almost entirely, and have made only requests in a few instances on foreign residents, and then in a formal manner, to cover supplies not available elsewhere, particularly hay.

"While the continued disturbed conditions paralyzed business, making it impossible to realize returns on crops, thereby contributing temporarily to financial demoralization, nothing in the attitude of either of the contending parties made the situation any particular menace to our lives or property.

"Despite these conditions, we were continuing to harvest crops and preparing land for extensive fall planting.

"Knowing the aptitude of some persons to exaggerate facts for momentarily personal notoriety, this statement is deemed expedient for all concerned.

"We have left Mexico, entirely under the urgency of the United States government, feeling that they had complete knowledge of the situation throughout the republic of Mexico. We also feel that we are therefore justified, and are, relying upon the United States government to protect our Mexican interests in the ftuure."

HOLDS MAID HEAD DOWN TEN MINUTES

New York, Sept. 18.—In an attempt to commit suicide, Rosa Dicicica, a maid, hung suspended head down for ten minutes from the fourth story window of an uptown apartment house last night. That her attempt was not successful was due to the efforts of her mistress, Mrs. Sigmund Straus, who rushed to the window and seized the girl's feet just as they were going over the sill.

The cries of the women attracted a large crowd, and just as Mrs. Straus was about to lose her hold, three men relieved her, and the services of firemen, which had been requisitioned, were not needed.

LONDON MOTOR BUS STRIKE MAY SPREAD

London, Sept. 18.—The motorbus drivers of London have not as yet taken any decisive step in regard to the proposed general strike of transport workers, but the routes served by the motor omnibuses of the small company, which originated the dispute by refusing to allow its employes to wear union badges, practically were deserted today. Of the 150 vehicles belonging to the concern only twenty were taken out of the sheds this morning.

As both sides show great determination, it is feared that the men employed by the other companies will carry out their threat to cease work tomorrow night.

MERCURY UP TO 110 AT SAN DIEGO, CAL.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 18.—Local hot weather records were imperiled in some sections of California yesterday, while in others there was a marked falling in temperature. Los Angeles reported a maximum temperature of 108, while in San Diego and San Luis Obispo the mercury rose to 110. At 7 o'clock last night it was 102 in Los Angeles, and at Fresno at the same hour it was 104, only 2 deg. cooler than the maximum temperature there for the day. San Francisco got back nearer to normal with a maximum temperature for the day of 84 and at 7 p. m. of 70.

Sun's Rays Start Fire.

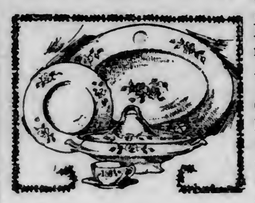

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 18.—The torrid rays of the sun, striking a windowpane in a house on Arizona street yesterday, were reflected in concentrated form fifteen feet, and ingited a lace curtain at a window in the house next door. The fire thus started was not extinguished until both the dwellings were destroyed.

HUMANE SOCIETY REVIEWS PAST YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Dr. A. W. Ryan Elected to Seventeenth Term as President.

Rev. A. W. Ryan was elected to his seventeenth term as president and J. P. Johnson to his twentieth term as treasurer of the Duluth Humane society at its annual meeting which was held yesterday at Memorial hall, courthouse.

All of the officers and all but two of the directors were renamed. The officers are: Rev. A. W. Ryan, president; Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, first vice president; Walter Turle, second vice president; Henry Taylor, secretary, and J. P. Johnson, treasurer.

Mrs. Oscar Mather and S. G. Stevens retired from the board of directors, their places being taken by Mrs. W. J. Bates and Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney.

The new board of directors consists of N. B. Morrison, A. E. Prudden, John G. Ross, Mrs. Marvin McLaren, Rev. George Gebauer, Mason M. Forbes and Mrs. W. J. Bates.

Robert D. McKercher, agent of the society, and his office assistant, Miss Ethel Norris, were retained by the society for another term. This will be Mr. McKercher's fourth year with the society.

At the meeting it was voted that a committee consisting of President A. W. Ryan, John G. Ross and Henry Taylor wait upon Mayor W. I. Prince and the city commission with the view of getting a larger appropriation from the city next year.

The society now receives $200 a month from the county and but $33.33 a month from the city. An effort will be made to have this appropriation increased considerably, in order to carry on the work of the organization more effectively.

"In connection with our animal work, Mr. Luxon and myself have distributed a great number of 'Horses' Prayers and Order Early Slips' among the different teamsters and grocers, and have kept a close watch on the railroad stations and wholesale houses on Michigan street. The sand and gravel docks and the slaughter houses have been inspected from time to time, and where conditions needed remedying, we have taken the matter up with the proper authorities. The dog pound has also been inspected and conditions there are very much improved. The subject of flynets also came under close observation and the liverymen and teamsters have been very willing to comply with our requests to provide nets for their teams."

A total of 16,000 miles was traveled by Agent McKercher in the interests of the society during the past twelve months. Numerous trips were made out into the country around Duluth by team and automobile, and Pike Lake, Proctor, Hermantown, Colbyville, Smithville and Midway were visited.

Thirty-seven visits were made to the range towns, fourteen to St. Paul, five to Faribault, and one each to the following towns, Red Wing, Floodwood, Poupore Siding, Ashland, Sault Ste. Marie and Cloquet.

STYLE SHOW NEXT WEEK

Fully 1,000 "Stage Hands" Have Been Employed on Work.

Next week will see the greatest scenic production ever staged in Duluth in the fashion show.

Approximately 1,000 stage hands have been employed in its setting, and this estimate includes only the buyers, the window dressers, electricians, packers, pressers and even the humble window washers, and does not count the designers, the dressmakers, tailors, haberdashery manufacturers and millinery workers throughout the country who have toiled night and day for six weeks to make the Duluth fashion show a success.

Duluthians have never seen the city lighted as it will be illuminated next week, for the windows of the merchants will blaze forth with thousands of electric lights, that the exhibits may be seen to the best advantage. The lighting of the store windows has especially been made a feature by those having the details of fashion week in charge, and they have insisted that every merchant double, at least, the illuminating power of his windows and store. The result has been that the local merchants have carefully studied the various lighting systems, and many of the most modern have been or are being installed. In one or two instances it necessitated the entire rewiring of an establishment, but it was done cheerfully, and it is doubtful if Broadway itself has ever shone forth more brilliantly than will Superior street in this city during fashion week.

No one not associated closely with the preparations for fashion week can have any idea of the immense detail involved in the work, and the merchants have worked together to make it the most wonderful display of the kind ever shown in the Northwest. Other Western cities have had style shows, but none has ever been worked out with the magnitude of that of the Duluth merchants, both large and small, who are determined to have the best in the country.

On Big Scale.

Many of the merchants of the city who, when it was first decided to have fashion week, made estimates of the probable cost, now find that they have already expended more than twice that sum, with more to follow, but as it had been decided to make fashion week a permanent attraction, all agreed that it should be arranged upon a scale so large that no doubt could be left of its success.

One of the peculiar features of fashion week is that at the same time the women of New York, Philadelphia and Boston are gazing admiringly into the big Broadway, Chestnut and Tremont street windows, and for the first time seeing the new fall creations, the women of Duluth and the surrounding country will indulge themselves in the same delight, and see identically the same things, for it is not until the middle of September that the big Eastern merchants first show their latest designs and final importations. In other words, about Sept. 22 is the last word in the latest fashions in the East, as it will be now in Duluth, so their Eastern sisters will have no advantage so far as style is concerned over the residents of the Northwest. Practically all the merchants locally have had their buyers in New York, and they have returned, bringing with them the last thing in gowns, millinery, furs, shoes and novelties generally, so that so far as variety and newness is concerned, the Eastern and Western displays will be identical.

Largest Stocks Ever Known.

The number of articles that are shown during fashion week in both men and women's apparel would run into staggering numbers, for never before have the merchants brought into the city such extensive stocks or such expensive lines of goods.

"I don't know what I am going to do with all this stock," said one Duluth merchant today, as he watched several van loads of packing cases being deposited at his place. "It is not only the finest stock I ever brought to the city, but it is much the biggest. The principal trouble before me now is where I can put it, that the public may see it next week, for there is so much of it that my room will be taxed to the utmost. To show it all at once will be impossible, so I have planned practically to change my windows and inside displays daily, and I suppose the other merchants will do the same. One thing is certain, the Eastern manufacturers and Paris modistes welcome this fashion show, for Duluthians have been the heaviest buyers of any city of its size in this country during the last two months, and the designers have cooperated with us to make the show a success in a way that has been very pleasant."

COUNTY IS GREAT POTATO CENTER

Prof. Wilson Says Reputation of This District Is Rapidly Spreading.

St. Louis county as a potato raising section was given high praise by Prof. A. D. Wilson, head of the extension department of the state agricultural college, who was in Duluth last evening. Prof. Wilson visited the Jackson Farmers' club fair on the Pike Lake road yesterday and left last evening for the Twin Cities.

"St. Louis county is yearly strengthening its position as a potato raising section, and its reputation in that respect has gone far afield," said Prof. Wilson. "But St. Louis county is doing more; it is also establishing itself as a dairying region. Your farmers around here have wonderful fodder crops, and that means good dairying results.

"Minnesota is one of the most prosperous agricultural states in the Union this year. We had what is called a bumper crop last year, and I don't know what to call the crop this year, it is so much better. The production of corn all through the state has surprised everyone. We have good grain crops of all kinds, and the farmers are the most prosperous class of citizens in the state."

HOT STOVEPIPE CAUSES FIRE

Lakeside Home Scorched; Members of Family Routed From Beds.

An overheated stovepipe early this morning set fire to the residence of E. J. Wilkinson, 4522 Dodge street, Lakeside, and caused an estimated damage of $300 to the building and about $400 to the furniture and interior decorations of the house. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered about 1:45 o'clock by John Wesenberg, 4518 Dodge street, neighbor of Mr. Wilkinson, and he immediately turned in the alarm by telephone. Mrs. Wilkinson awakened the other members of the family, all of whom were compelled to run out of the building, scantily clad. They secured shelter at the home of a neighbor.

Mrs. Wilkinson had left a fire burning in the kitchen range and the heat from the pipe, which extends clear across the kitchen, is believed to have set fire to the ceiling. The two back rooms were completely gutted, while the other rooms in the house are slightly damaged by smoke and heat.

Yesterday and today Dr. Mabel Ulrich of Minneapolis has given lectures in the morning and afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. assembly hall on "Sex Education." In the morning she spoke to a group of prominent women of the city and in the afternoon to a class of young women, and last evening she spoke before the women of the Bryant school district at a free lecture.

Dr. Ulrich took for her topic "The Individual and Racial Significance of the Sex Instinct, and Its Evolution," tracing the scientific history of the development of the human race.

"Moral reformers may always become encouraged when they are depressed," said Dr. Ulrich, "when they consider how short the period of civilization has been in comparison with the period of primitive man, who knew nothing of the higher instincts nor of spiritual life. The length of the life of civilized man is only a minute compared with it. There is much hope for the future of the race."

The other large room of the building will be arranged for a reading room where meetings may be held during the year and entertainments given.

The women of St. John's guild meet every week for a work session and do plain sewing, make over garments into practical and warm clothing for the poor and for the charitable institutions, and a sewing machine is a necessary article to them in their work.

PRESENT AND COMING ATTRACTIONS IN DULUTH'S THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

Henry Miller Coming.

A story both naive and appealing, it is said, is told with freshness and simplicity in "The Rainbow," a play that touches the well strings of sympathy and joy as it is interpreted by Henry Miller and company, who will be seen at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday with a matinee Wednesday.

The play begins in a luxurious apartment in Fifth avenue, shows a stately country place on Long Island and ends in an Italian villa on the Riviera overlooking the blue Mediterranean.

The author, A. E. Thomas, has taken up a theme that has been toyed with by former playwrights with more or less success, and on this theme he has built a story that is said to throb with real life.

In the first act of "The Rainbow," Neil Sumner, the father (played by Henry Miller) is presented as the host of a late card party, at which his guests lose more money than they can afford. He is the owner of a racing stable, a yachtsman, presumably an idler, and rather a gay boy in a gay set, whereof an indiscreet married woman is his particular friend. After an estrangement that has lasted more than a dozen years his wife sends their daughter to him, and the awakening comes. The scenes between father and daughter are at once charming and pathetic. His overwhelming love for her, her devotions to him, and the tragedy of it all, give to the play the qualities which fascinate audiences. Eventually of course, father and mother are reconciled.

HENRY MILLER AND RUTH CHATTERTON IN "THE RAINBOW" AT THE LYCEUM TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

At the Orpheum.

Miss Vivian Gordon, the young woman who appears in the hilariously funny comedy sketch, "Fixing the Furnace," at the Orpheum this week, has had a brief but varied experience in the theatrical world. Starting out with a stock company in Cleveland, she later became a Broadway show girl with Sam Bernard, then tried the motion picture field, and finally entered vaudeville.

Presenting dramas for motion picture companies is a comparatively new field for the actor, but a big one, and one in which the rewards are large for the leaders in the profession.

"The large producers have regular stock companies," said Miss Gordon last evening. "The only way to secure a position with these stock companies is to go through a course of preliminary training as an 'extra man' or an 'extra woman.' There are always several extra men and women waiting about the studios for an opportunity to go to work. They are paid so much per day, generally about $5. It may be more, according to the length of the part played. When there is a vacancy in the regular stock company, the position is filled from the 'extras.' The work is hard and trying, but it is steady employment and it is fully as interesting as straight dramatic work, and the members of the regular companies do not have to worry about the 'show closing.'"

For fall style week at the Orpheum Manager Billings has secured a strong bill of vaudeville headlined by Genero and Bailey, two old Orpheum favorites, and a new dramatic sketch written by Willard Mack, well known for his work in stock companies here.

"Everywoman."

Though the form of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," which Henry W. Savage will offer at the Lyceum theater three nights beginning next Thursday with Saturday matinee, is based on the old morality play, "Everyman," only in immediately labeling the characters does the work resemble the ancient tome. You discover on the entrance of every personage of the play exactly his intentions. Abstract qualities take concrete form, but there is no preaching. When Youth enters she appears as a young girl; Age is a hoary old man; Passion a strutting actor, and Wealth a sordid millionaire. Everywoman, herself, is young and beautiful. She represents the average young woman of the day, therefore in the adventures which befall her, mothers have found a salutary lesson for their daughters. It is an illustrated transcript from life, showing the universal experience of woman who goes forth into the world in search of love. The fawners and flatterers she meets, the dangers she encounters, the true and the false friends who pass through her life and have an influence upon it, are graphically set forth. "I wish every young woman could see 'Everywoman' and learn the great lesson of truth it teaches," wrote Rabbi Hugo Heyman after witnessing the play. "In 'Everywoman' you are sitting in the grandstand watching yourself go by," said Elbert Hubbard. Men of all races and all creeds have found inspiration in "Everywoman."

"The Country Boy."

The Henry B. Harris estate's production of Edgar Selwyn's comedy in four acts, "The Country Boy," will be the attraction at the Lyceum Sunday afternoon and night.

The play is said to be somewhat out of the ordinary from the fact that it shows that success is not necessarily to be found in the city. Mr. Selwyn's hero, a country boy, goes to New York to gain the name and fame that he, in his simple egotism, believes awaits him. He proves to be a dismal failure. Disappointed with the outcome of his struggle for success he is about to end his cares and worries for all time.

In this condition he is discovered by a newspaper man, who proves an optimistic friend. The newspaper worker induces him to put his pride in his pocket and to return to his birthplace and take up his fight for a position in earnest. The boy accepts the advice and accompanied by his new friend returns to his home town, works hard and gains the respect of the community, becomes the owner of a thriving newspaper and at the conclusion of the last act, is about to be married to the sweetheart of his boyhood days.

There are some extremely interesting problems dealt with in telling this story, and Mr. Selwyn is credited with handling the subject in a convincing and at the same time interesting manner. Some of the characters introduced are said to be practically new to the American stage.

"The Girl From Mumms."

Usually when a musical comedy has one or two good musical numbers everybody is satisfied. "The Girl from Mumms" which comes to the Lyceum Monday, has sixteen real hits; six of them—"There's a Reason," "On the Road to Philadelphia," "Teach Me," "Captivating Cleo," "Homesick," "The Girl of Mumms and Mine," are having a race for popularity and from present indications it is going to be impossible to pick the winner.

The music is by F. A. Bohnhorst, and shows the refreshing originality which has made "The Girl from Mumms" a success. Combined with this is the book by J. A. Lacy

Miss Olive Vail whose previous visits to this city have left such an excellent impression heads the cast, comprising such actors as Walter Ware, Jackson Barry, John E. Frank, I. Oliver, Miss Nellie Watters, Miss Erin Lazy, Miss Marjie Dow and Miss Hazel Regan. The chorus has already been named "The Olive Vail Beauty Chorus."

Naturally, with such a production it requires a gorgeous setting and costuming, and in this respect Messrs. Sheehan and Beck have outdone themselves. The gowns including those worn by the chorus are all original creations, having been designed and created by Madame McGregor-Hull; each gown being made and fitted for the individual girl who wears it.

New Bill at Empress.

A telephone message on which hangs a tale of self-renunciation, ambition denied and greatest of all revenge ungratified, is the climax to the plot of the sketch entitled, "Politics and Petticoats," which will be one of the features of the bill which will open at the Empress theater this afternoon for the last half of this week. Augustus Neville will play the part of the hero.

A vaudeville team that will also give some delightful surprises in the entertaining line is Cain and Odum, two singers and talkers who incidentally use the piano to good effect. The songs are all of the popular kind with a pleasing tune and merry swing.

Another team is Lavine and Innman, who will present a novelty of rural life entitled, "Sally's Visit." Fun, laughter and noise comprise the act.

The Royal Italian Four, singers and instrumental artists, will give a program of songs, musical selections and the like. Their numbers are classical and popular.

Two extra good reels of the latest photo plays will be included in the program.

"Paid in Full," a play of contemporary American life, by Eugene Walter, will be played at the Empress Sunday. With the sixth commandment as its moral theme, the play is said to get very close to life.

New Program at Rex.

"The Awakening of Man," a dramatic two-part production by Bannister Merwin, the noted writer, produced with a complete star cast by the Edison company, is a feature at the Rex theater today. The story is of a young man who becomes his father's successor at his father's death. He at first believed that all was pleasure and sunshine in business life and squandered his father's money freely, but belated he learned that sometimes clouds appear. Such is the plot of this striking picture. A number of beautiful visions of his ancestors play a very important part in this drama.

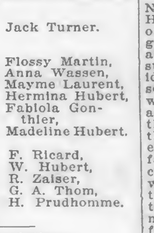

An exciting Vitagraph Western comedy is entitled "Old Moddington's Daughters." He was blessed with six of them, full of the Western spirit. They are not afraid of a gun, and when the soldiers try to capture them the fun begins. The patron is also given another opportunity to spend fifteen minutes enjoyably in seeing the farce comedy, "Whiffles Decides to Be Boss." Whiffles believes that he is so wise that he advises his friend how to manage a wife. "Five Minutes in the Caucasian Mountains" is educational and interesting. Mr. Runkel, the director of the Rex orchestra, offers a number of popular and classical musical selections from the various operas, selected by himself, appropriate for the program. Miss Ethel Frances Berry renders a vocal solo, completing almost an hour and a half of pleasing entertainment.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Avoid Vulgar Display of Mourning.

Two women and a man entered a train the other night and at once became the target of all eyes. They were dressed in mourning of the double-dyed quality and looked not unlike three crows in a row as they stood hanging to the straps.

If black clothing attests to grief then they were grief-stricken, but I doubt if there was any one in the car who gained an impression that their loss was the paramount thing or their sorrow so genuine and deep that they were not all the time conscious of the set of their veils and the notice they attracted. I say this of the women particularly, although I do not think the man in deepest black was unmindful that they were the center of morbid attraction for all the people in the car.

I have often seen mourning when it seemed a vulgar parade of loss and bereavement, an opportunity for pride to satisfy its whim, and for human beings to make themselves conspicuous. And this was a case of it if I ever saw it before. There was a blatancy in the rustle of the new stiff taffeta petticoats, vanity in the new shoes with their high heels and narrow toes, and ample proof that tears had not blinded them to the latest things in hats.

They were in black from toe to toe, with black bordered handkerchiefs and every detail carried out in full, but it was not the unassuming black that sometimes makes us worry for the wearer and our hearts to ache in sympathy. No, indeed, but a strident mourning that affronted the eye and set one to wondering just how much of it represented grief and how much show. It was almost as if they chorused in unison: "Our mother died the other day. What do you think of our new clothes?"

Mourning is rarely becoming, although it is often so startling as to cause people to stare. It makes a sensation which a certain class of people seem to enjoy, no matter how deep in woe they are, presumably. However, they are so conscious of the attention they excite and the onlooker is so conscious that the mourners are conscious that its supposed significance is entirely lost.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: SEPT. 21.

Exodus xxxii: The Golden Calf.

THE CONNECTION.

The chapters between our last lesson and this tell us how the people ratified the covenant they made with God, for they had received more minute instructions about social relations than simply the Ten Commandments. Then Moses and Joshua went up into the mountain to get further directions leaving the people in charge of Aaron and Hur. During the absence of Moses for six weeks the people grew impatient and the passion of the old idol worship seized them. Our lesson tells the sad story. Aaron did as they required and made them the golden calf to worship.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Wrath of Moses. 15-20.

"And Moses turned, and went down from the mount, with the two tables of the testimony in his hand; tables that were written on both their sides: on the one side and on the other were they written. And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables. And when Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp. And he said, It is not the voice of them that shout for mastery, neither is it the voice of them that cry for being overcome: but the noise of them that sing do I hear. And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that he saw the calf and the dancing; and Moses' anger waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the mount. And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it with fire, and ground it to powder, and strewed it upon the water, and made the children of Israel drink of it."

1. EXALTATION.—We cannot help thinking of his exalted state of mind after first getting a message from God, then winning the assent of the people, finally going back into the mountain to have further word with God and bring down the commandments in written form. As he draws near to the camp he discovers what they have done. The shock was terrible.

2. INDIGNATION.—It was a sight of the most revolting kind—the maddened people dancing and singing around the golden calf. Moses and Joshua both knew, when they heard the sound, that it meant no good. Joshua, the warrior, first thought it was a battle, but both said it was not the music of warfare.

The present intoxication of the people in the revelries, with all vile passions let loose, sickened the man of God. Was it for this he had labored and suffered? But that calf worship was a reversion to the Egyptian idolatry, and that was the cause of their wild orgy. And what hand had Aaron in it? Here was a threefold provocation—the idol worship; the evident debauchery of the people; the treachery or weakness of his brother in whose charge he left the poor childish lot. Go back and read verses 1-14 and see how the people grew impatient when Moses stayed so long, revolted against him, calling him contemptuously "this Moses," and, professing to believe he had got lost, demanded to have the help in worshiping God that they had in Egypt; how Aaron had tried to dissuade them, and then at last, thinking he could hold their loyalty till Moses came back by letting them have an idol, had melted up their gold into this calf. It was very weak in Aaron, yet we ought to get his point of view. He didn't intend to encourage idolatry nor to supplant Moses, but simply to hold their loyalty.

3. RETRIBUTION.—Moses visits it on them. Three things he does—throws down the table of the law which he had brought down with him, and he does it not in revolt against God, but in token that it was useless to try to do anything for such people, even with the help of God. Moses had a temper, all right, and it was a good thing. Perhaps that act of crashing the table of stone was the most powerful influence in bringing them to themselves, for it seemed to say God would not try to do anything more for them. He also did a more drastic thing—ground up the golden calf and made the people drink the ashes in water. A third thing—he had the Levites kill the leaders in the revolt.

II.

Moses' Intercession for Them. 30-35.

"And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses said to the people, Ye have sinned a great sin: and now I will go up unto Jehovah; peradventure I shall make atonement for your sin. And Moses returned unto Jehovah and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold. Yet now, if Thou wilt forgive their sin—; and if not, blot me, I pray Thee, out of Thy book which Thou hast written. And Jehovah said unto Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against Me, him will I blot out of My book. And now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold, Mine angel will go before thee; nevertheless in the day when I visit, I will visit their sin upon them. And Jehovah smote the people, because they made the calf, which Aaron made."

1. HOPE.—His indignation had partly spent itself and he was looking for relief.

But in connection with that word is a condemnation of their awful sin. He will not let them forget that or lose the acute sense of it. He assures them that the relief can be expected only from God against whom they have sinned. He also tells them that an atonement is required, a covering up. But there can be no effectual covering up unless it is part of a process for rooting out sin. Some merciful plan for getting rid of the guilt before God must be part of a plan for getting the sin out of their hearts.

2. INTERCEDING.—But he implies that they have so greatly sinned he is not yet sure of pardon for them. He makes a wonderful intercession for them. That intercession is first of all a confession of their guilt, without any attempt at all to explain or condone it. He confesses it in an agony of despair and shame.

In that intercession Moses identifies himself with the guilty people. He recognized that he had not sinned, yet he was so vitally connected with them as to feel that at least their destiny must be his. He felt as if he could not give them up. He said that if God could not forgive them, he would perish with them. Did he mean to say that he wanted simply to die with them? Or did he mean that he would suffer the loss of God's favor rather than be parted from them? If he meant the latter he was very near to the spirit of Jesus, who was, for a time at least, separated from God, for the sake of man. That was the spirit of Paul, who said he could wish that he himself were accursed for the sake of his nation.

The appeal of Moses, so intense, so humble and so unselfish, pleased God and won from him a merciful answer. The reply was that God would only punish the leaders in the guilt and spare those who were led blindly into it; that he would give them his angel to lead them, as if in concession to their weakness; that he will be merciful enough to visit them with punishment at a future time, when it would count. He fulfilled both promises multiplied and the promised punishments proved chastisements, which, more and more tested than purified them.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The first prayer of Moses is brief and intense. There is a passionate, care for the divine honor, remembrance of the saintly dead for whose sake the living might yet be spared, and absolute forgetfulness of self. Already the family of Aaron had been preferred to his, but the prospect of monopolizing the divine predestination has no claim for this faithful and patriotic heart.—Chadwick.

The Jews have a saying founded evidently upon this incident. "No affliction has ever happened to Israel in which there was not some particle of the dust of the golden calf." Such has been the experience of individuals and nations all along the track of history, as witness the fate of Belshazzar, the fall of Babylon, the ruin of the Roman empire, and the wrecking of France in the time of "the commune." As a righteous recompense for its long indulgence in the debaucheries of infidelity, the streets of Paris ran with blood and the whole land was dominated by such a reign of terror as this world had never witnessed before and has never witnessed since.—Cowan.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Why is sin an expensive thing, financially?
2. What is the sin of consenting to the sins of others?
3. How much of our morality is due to the immediate influence of some righteous man like Moses?
4. How may one become qualified to be an intercessor for others?
5. Do God's punishments always have an element of mercy in them?

IS CANDY BAD FOR SKIN DISEASE?

A mother of a boy aged 14 writes for help. She says her boy, for the past three years, has had a severe skin itching, and inquires, "Is candy bad for him?"

Yes, ma'am!! Candy and skin troubles do not get along. Pure sugar candy is less harmful than the "other kind," but, unfortunately, the "other kind" is usually loaded with glucose and other adulterants, such as coal tar coloring matters, sulphate of copper, sulphurous acid, etc.—all most harmful. If your boy must eat sweets—FEED HIM PURE HONEY, taken from the comb.

Do this: Give your boy two tablespoonfuls of castor oil, say on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. KEEP THIS TREATMENT UP FOR THE NEXT FOUR MONTHS. Buy one quart of the cold-pressed variety of castor oil from your druggist. It will then be handy and no excuse should be accepted for not taking it.

SORES CAUSED BY IMPURITIES.

"Miss A. L." asks: "Will you kindly tell me what is the cause of my lips always having black scabs upon them? I am healthy every other way, and 19 years old."

If your system were perfectly healthy, and the blood circulation in vigorous condition throughout your lips, they would rapidly heal. Therefore, do this: Twice each week, say every Tuesday and Friday afternoon, swallow two ounces of castor oil. Have your druggist fix it up in syrup of sarsaparilla and soda water. Continue this treatment for one month. This will purify your internal glands and system generally, stimulating the sluggish sores on your lips. Soon vigorous flesh growth will occur and the scabs will fall off. Keep the lips soft with any simple ointment, such as pure vaseline, during the day. On retiring apply a few drops of pure balsam of peru and rub it in well. If you have no deep-seated disease, this treatment will rapidly bring you the relief you seek, and the relief will continue permanent so long as you keep your system clean within. If all your efforts fail, consult your doctor. Stick to his advice. Don't listen to everybody who tells you of a sure-cure salve or ointment.

STATE RECLAMATION PLAN SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED

Swamp Lands Granted By Congress on Certain Conditions.

Proceeds Were to Be Applied Exclusively to Reclaiming Lands.

Congress Should Be Asked to Pass Act Removing Objections.

To the Editor of The Herald:

According to a recent news item, the state auditor is authority for the statement that about 500,000 acres of "swamp land" in the state of Minnesota is still owned by the United States, and that he has assurances from the officials in Washington that this will be soon turned over to the state.

This, with what remains of former grants, would bring the public lands under state ownership to about 3,000,000 acres, a large part of which is swamp. This land is interlocked with other state land, government land and land under private ownership. Much of this land is known to have a soil of unsurpassed fertility, but roads and drainage must be provided before it can be utilized for agricultural purposes and much of the land must be cleared.

The policy that has been followed by the state of selling its lands in their wild state without any improvement may not be objectionable where only a couple of sections of school land in a township are to be sold, but in a county like Koochiching, where the state owns nearly 900,000 acres, or about half the area of the entire county, it is a different proposition.

Land Policy a Detriment.

There we find large areas of unusually fertile land, interspersed by swales and large swamps, most of which is inaccessible and utterly worthless for agricultural purposes till roads and drainage are provided. There, our state land policy operates as a great detriment to the county and a distinct loss to the state, by retarding settlement and development, which in its turn keeps the price of land below the normal. Forcing these state lands on the market before they are prepared for use results in the choicest of them being gobbled up by companies and individuals who purchase them because they are cheap, to be held for a future rise in price, while the great mass of the land is not in demand and will not sell at any price. This policy, continued, must keep that county a wilderness, attractive only to men interested in despoiling it of its natural wealth.

From the viewpoint of public interest, this state of affairs is not desirable, nor should it be necessary. A plan of development should be devised that will convert such sections of our state into productive farm lands, to be occupied and used by homemakers. This can be accomplished by the state, under a plan that should provide for the construction of highways and the drainage of the swales and swamps, the cost to be assessed against the benefited lands, so that the user of each tract of land thus reclaimed would pay his just share of the expense. The money to finance such an undertaking should come from the proceeds of "swamp lands," which were donated by the general government on the condition that the proceeds be applied for reclamation purposes.

What Congress Required.

By an act of congress approved Sept. 28, 1850, called "An act to enable the state of Arkansas and other states to reclaim the swamp lands within their limits," there were granted to the several states, "the whole of the swamp and over-flow lands made unfit for cultivation which shall remain unsold at the passage of this act—subject to the disposal of the legislature thereof. Provided, however, that the proceeds from said lands, whether from sale or direct appropriation, in kind, shall be applied EXCLUSIVELY, so far as necessary, to the purpose of reclaiming said lands by means af levees and drains aforesaid;" and by an act approved March 12, 1860, this grant was extended to the states of Minnesota and Oregon.

Thus it will be seen that the plan above outlined is in harmony with the provisions of the swamp land grant and it is hard to understand how a just title to these "swamp lands" can be claimed by the state without complying with these requirements.

But if our state laws and Constitution of the state prove to be in conflict with this provision of the grant, that should be adjusted so that the very title to the state swamp lands shall not be in question, which can only be done by carrying out the requirements of the grant.

The plan suggested above, if put in operation, should accomplish this purpose without really taking anything from the school fund. These improvements of the land before offering it for sale would at least double the value of all the agricultural lands owned by the state, and as shown, the cost of development would be borne by the users of the land.

Would Remove All Doubt.

But to remove all question of a constitutional objection to the plan, the 500,000 acres of swamp land the title of which is still in the United States can be made available for this purpose by an act of congress. In order to settle this vexed question to the best interests of the state and with justice to the pioneers struggling to make homes in these new sections of Minnesota, I would suggest that our congressmen be requested to push through a measure in congress which shall provide that all swamp lands in the state of Minnesota now owned by the United States be granted to the state, the proceeds to be used for developing said lands, by clearing or draining the same or by the construction of highways or waterways through or by the same, or otherwise—the care, management and control of this land, with all the proceeds therefrom, to be under the law of the state hereafter enacted.

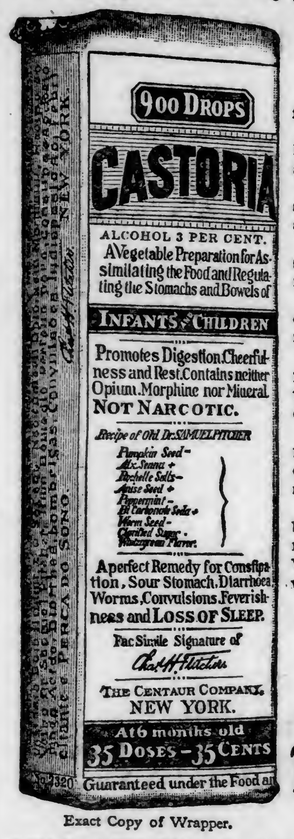

With such an act of congress the legislature could surely devise a measure that would place our state land department on an efficient business basis, so that it could be rapidly improved, sold and used by actual settlers, without any burden to taxpayers and with profit to the state.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ills., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

VACANT HOMES ROBBED.

"Millionaires' Row" in New York Loses Some $200,000.

New York, Sept. 18.—Residents of "Millionaires' row," on Seventy-ninth and Eightieth streets, just east of Central park, estimate that burglaries during the summer have cost them $200,000. The latest robbery occurred Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Karl Wallach. Mrs. Wallach's son said that the thieves had taken silverware, jewelry, furs and household goods worth $100,000.

Several families learned of their losses for the first time when they reopened their houses after being absent during the summer.

Rivals Her Daughter in Youthful Beauty

(From Social Register.)

A well-known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival in this respect—though she does not pose as such—attributes her girlish complexion chiefly to two things. She says:

"I am convinced that creams, by overloading the skin and pores, tend to age the complexion. Mercolized wax has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe, and removes dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that faded look. Whenever my skin begins to get the least bit-off-color, I go to my druggist's for an ounce of mercolized wax; I apply this nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvety.

"The absence of wrinkles and flabbiness I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm." Adv.

SAYS IT WAS ACCIDENT

John McLaughlin Claims Wife Tried to Snatch Revolver From Him.

Went to Her Rooming House in Effort to End Differences.

John A. McLaughlin, who is on trial in district court, charged with murderous assault upon his wife, Mary McLaughlin, took the stand in his own behalf this morning, after the state had rested the case. His defense is that the shooting was accidental.

McLaughlin, on May 24 last, walked into his wife's rooming house at 222 West Second street and without a word being spoken, according to the testimony, fired two shots at her. One of the bullets entered the jaw and the other went through the shoulder.

McLaughlin claims that his wife saw a gun in his pocket and grabbed it away from him. In attempting to wrest it from her hands, it was discharged twice, he testified.

McLaughlin and his wife were not living together. She had started suit for divorce and an order had been served on McLaughlin restraining him from in any way molesting her during the pendancy of the action. This order was made in March.

After the shooting, McLaughlin ran into an alley and secreted himself in a woodshed for about an hour and a half. When the proprietor of the woodshed came in to get an armful of wood, McLaughlin sought out a new hiding place.

The first night was spent at the Lakewood pumping station. The next day found him in Two Harbors, where he bought a newspaper to get an account of the affair and learn of his wife's condition.

McLaughlin was arrested at International Falls on June 5 last and brought back to Duluth for trial.

McLaughlin testified on the stand today that he came to his wife's rooming house to try to adjust their differences.

Detective Schulte, who brought McLaughlin back from International Falls, testified that the defendant had confessed to him that he had shot his wife and that he would be willing to plead guilty and spend fifteen years in prison if his wife would only agree to live with him afterwards.

McLaughlin stated, according to Detective Schulte, that he loved his wife very much. The divorce was granted Mrs. McLaughlin on the grounds of cruelty. She has now taken her maiden name, Mary Dressel. She formerly lived at Park Falls, Wis.

IRON WORKER IS KILLED

Struck By Heavy Girder While Working on New Ore Dock.

In hoisting steel girders, the crane at the new Missabe ore dock allowed one of them to drop and it fell to the ground shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, striking Emil Johnson, who died while on the way to the hospital.

Johnson, who is a structural iron worker, was helping load the girders on the crane. In picking up two girders the crane allowed one to slip through and it fell across Johnson's chest, breaking several of his ribs. He was alive when picked up by fellow workmen.

An ambulance was called immediately after the accident, but Johnson died while on the way to the hospital.

Johnson is survived by a widow and three children. He had been living with his family at Twenty-second avenue west and Fourth street. The body has been removed to the Richter undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made tomorrow morning.

Duluth Manufacturers Are Busy Setting Up Displays at Curling Club.

More Than 700 People Will Attend Home Products Dinner.

With the construction and decoration of the industrial exposition building completed, Duluth manufacturers are today making rapid progress in the arrangement of individual displays.

The large auditorium of the curling club, transformed into a miniature city of industry is the busiest place in Duluth. Machinery is being hoisted into the building through the large door at the rear, trucks of Duluth-made merchandise are lined up on London road and crews of workmen are carrying in and unpacking hundreds of packing cases of every conceivable shape and size.

The pavilions and arcades of the exposition with their varied colorings and design, transform the immense curling club into an attractive maze of carnival streets, courts and alleys. The small display buildings are tinted according to the Spanish style in delicate tones of pink, cream, lavender and green. The Old World idea is still further carried out by the effective use of Spanish yellow and red in roof and ceiling decoration. A score of elaborate white and yellow chandeliers hang from the high ceiling of the auditorium, which is draped with pale yellow.

From indications today the manufacturers will complete the preparation of their displays tomorrow so that the exposition workers can have Saturday and Sunday for rest and preparation for the opening of the big show on Monday, Sept. 22.

The first floor of the curling club is arranged for the agricultural and horticultural exhibits. Under the direction of the Duluth Commercial club a big potato show and prize contest is arranged. Hundreds of entries have been made and more are being received daily by Mr. Hostetter in charge of the agricultural show.

Graden Products.

Every section of Duluth is being represented in the garden products contest. From Lakeside come the fruits and root vegetables for which that suburb is famous, head lettuce, celery and melons from Woodland, while Fond du Lac, West Duluth, the West end, East end and Duluth Heights are all generously represented.

The Duluth Made Dinner to be held Thursday evening, Sept. 25 at the curling club in conjunction with the Industrial exposition is proving even a stronger drawing card than last year. This will be a Dollar Dinner at which only Duluth food products will be served. A. H. McCulloch, chairman of the dinner committee reports that the dinner tickets are selling very rapidly and that he expects to have more applications for tickets than can be supplied. The tables this year will seat 720 people as against 500 last year. But the great success of the 1912 Home Products dinner has put the dinner tickets this year at a premium and the sale goes beyond all expectations.

Mr. McCulloch states the policy of ticket distribution as "First come, first served" and requests that all who desire to attend the Home Products dinner will secure tickets before the supply is exhausted. The number of tickets sold will be strictly limited to the comfortable seating capacity. The tables are already constructed on the first floor of the curling club building with convenient serving stations in conjunction. Special gas ranges are being set up in the kitchen of the club and an elaborate culinary and serving department will be complete early next week.

Boys Given Chance.

Judge D. F. Roberts of the juvenile court gave fourteen boys another chance of behaving themselves yesterday. The boys had been arrested on minor charges by the local police. Many of them had been charged with sweeping wheat in box cars in the local yards.

Police Estimate.

The police department wants $60,993 to cover its running expenses for the next year, according to the petition filed yesterday by Chief McKinnon with City Comptroller Patterson. The petition also recommends the employment of two special officers for juvenile work and five curfew officers. The former will receive $1,000 per year and the latter, $300.

Principal Resigns.

A. B. Cooke, principal of the Howe school for the past nine years, has resigned his position to become state inspector of schools for the deaf and blind. Mr. Cooke recently received his appointment from C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction. The appointment for principal of the Howe school will probably be announced by the school board within a few days.

Arrested for Robbery.

Sam Derry was arrested yesterday charged with having taken money from the person of J. W. Sheridan while the latter was sleeping on the ground near the shipyards. When arrested Derry had $8.70, which Sheridan claims was his change out of a $10 bill.

PRIVATE CAR LINES ALL ARE DEFENDANTS

Commerce Commission Extends Inquiry—Prosecutions Hinted at.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The interstate commerce commission today directed that "all individuals, firms, companies and corporations owning or operating cars and other vehicles and instrumentalities and facilities of shipment or carriage of property in interstate commerce," be made defendants in the commission's investigation of private car lines and the allowances paid to them by the trunk line railways.

The private car line investigation was begun by the commission more than a year ago, on complaint that the operation of such car lines was unreasonable and discriminatory, and that the allowances to them by the trunk lines were excessive. By the terms of the first order only the railways were made respondents in the proceedings; by today's order the owner of every private car line is brought directly into the case.

The intimation is abroad that information already developed by the inquiry is of such a character that it may warrant not only a positive order by the commission against private car lines, but probably action by the department of justice.

JAPAN RESTLESS AS TO LAND LAW STATUS

Ambassador Chinda Calls on President Wilson in Person.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, had an engagement with President Wilson today to discuss the California alien land law. He has had several conferences with Secretary Bryan, but no answer has been made to the fourth Japanese note, sent two weeks ago. The Tokio government, contending with elements attacking the ministry not only for its difficulties with China, but with the United States as well, is said to be growing restive under the delay.

Counselor John Bassett Moore, who has been framing previous notes to Japan, is away on a vacation and is not expected back until next week. Today's conference with President Wilson, however, has been generally interpreted in official circles here as the result of pressure upon Ambassador Chinda from the home government to get definite word as to when a reply is to be expected, and to hasten the progress of the negotiations.

SALOONS WILL BE CLASSIFIED

Sanitation a Requirement as Well as Observance of the Law.

Commissioner William A. Hicken, head of the division of public safety, proposes to classify all the saloons in the city.

Every bar will be examined to determine its sanitary condition as well as to fix its status relative to law observance. The scoring will be by points, as is now done with dairies and meat markets.

Some saloons are said to be very insanitary, constituting a menace to the health of the men who patronize them. The record relative to the character and reputation will come largely from the records of the police court and police headquarters.

Commissioner Hicken explains that the administration has no desire to persecute any one, but that the move is made in the public interest. Since the commission came in it has been its policy to have the records of all applicants for saloon licenses investigated before the licenses have been granted.

MRS. PANKHURST TO BE BELMONT GUEST

"Of Course She Will Be Admitted," Says Prospective Hostess.

New York, Sept. 18.—"Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst will be my guest during her stay in New York city," Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont said on her arrival from Europe aboard the Imperator. "And, of course, Mrs. Pankhurst is going to be admitted to this country. She has not the slightest fear about that, nor have I. Why, we should be the laughing stock of continental Europe if we excluded her.

"Mrs. Pankhurst is not coming here to advocate militant methods," she added; "Mrs. Pankhurst knows perfectly well they are not necessary in this country. Her visit will be one of encouragement to our suffragists here."

HAVE MINORS WHO BUY BOOZE ARRESTED

La Crosse County Saloon Men Turn Trick on Reformers.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 18.—La Crosse county saloon keepers turned a trick in the reform crusade here today by procuring warrants for a number of prominent young men of the town of Shelby for overstating their age in order to procure liquor.

Several arrests have occurred here of saloon men charged with selling liquor to minors, and to offset this difficulty retail liquor men are now keeping a book in which any whose age looks doubtful is required to sign a statement that he is 21 years of age. Investigation is then made and all minors who, in order to receive the cup that cheers, declare they are of age, are being haled into court.

CREDIT MEN COMING.

Duluth Branch Will Entertain Delegates to National Convention.

Duluth will be host to twenty directors of the National Credit Men's association, Oct. 3, when the local credit men's association will entertain the delegates to the annual convention which will be held in St. Paul, Oct. 1. The national association has more than 18,000 members, representing vast wealth in banks, mercantile and manufacturing concerns. George Fairley, secretary-treasurer of the Duluth Credit association, is in charge of the arrangements for the visitors.

FARMERS' CLUB FAIR.

Attractive Agricultural Display Is Arranged at Jackson School.

The Jackson Farmers' club fair, which opened in the Jackson school house on the Pike lake road yesterday, is attracting visitors from all parts of St. Louis county.

The farmers have collected attractive displays of grains, roots and fruits for the exhibit. Livestock and poultry also is being shown by proud raisers. Members of the staff of the University of Minnesota extension course gave short addresses on farming at the program yesterday.

SAYS HUSBAND HAS DESERTED HER.

Charging that her husband, Otto Johnson, is an habitual drunkard and that he deserted her five years ago leaving her to support herself and two children, Selma Johnson of Virginia, started suit for divorce this morning in district court.

The Johnsons were married at Lappfjordi parish, district of Wasa, Finland, on May 15, 1899. Shortly afterwards Johnson came to this country, settling on the Minnesota iron range. Two years later, his wife and family joined him. They lived together until up to five years ago. Mrs. Johnson asks for the custody of the two children, Ellen, 12, and Arvid, 11.

WHY THAW WAS OUSTED

Canadian Officials Explain Action to Appellate Court.

Constitutionality of the Dominion Immigration Law Attacked.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 18.—Representatives of the Dominion immigration department, responsible for the sudden move by which Canada got rid of Harry K. Thaw, appeared before the appellate court today to explain why they had disobeyed the court's order to produce the Matteawan fugitive here last Monday. The hearing resolved itself into an examination of the constitutionality of the immigration act under which C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, acted when he ordered Thaw's summary deportation.

Attorney M. K. Laflamme, representing the Thaw family, questioned the right of the Canadian parliament to pass a law suspending a fundamental feature of British legal legislation; namely, the right to any one to use the habeas corpus writ.

Why Thaw Was Missing.

L. T. Mareschal, for the immigration department, contended that Thaw had not been produced for the following reasons:

"That the original of the writ had not been served on the immigration authorities connected with the case, but only copies, which was irregular; that each writ served should have borne the original signature of the judges issuing them and the man who served them; that, being a criminal matter, Judges Gervais and Cross, sitting in chambers, had no right to issue the writ, which should have come up before a judge of the district in which the prisoner was held; that, being a criminal matter, no civil tribunal had jurisdiction; that the immigration department, under the act, had supreme powers in such a matter, and that its decision could not be reviewed or quashed by any court, unless the party affected was a Canadian or Canadian domiciled."

Not a Canadian.

Judge Archambault, president of the court, asked if it was contended by the immigration department that the legal procedure connected with the writ of habeas corpus could be put aside by legislation. Mr. Mareschal said it could in an instance like Thaw, who was not a Canadian nor domiciled in Canada.

Mr. Mareschal thought the Canadian parliament was supreme in criminal matters.

Judge Gervais, a member of the court, expressed the opinion that the British colonies had the right only to pass laws which were not repugnant to the fundamental principles of British law, one of which was the right of any man to the protection of the writ of habeas corpus.

WATCHMAN MURDERS FELLOW EMPLOYE

Milwaukeean Kills Man Who "Treated Him Unfairly."

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—"Now I've got you, you dog!" exclaimed John Grabowski, 41 years old, a night watchman, as he whipped out a revolver today and shot George Arnold, 55 years old, chief engineer for a hosiery company, through the heart, killing him almost instantly.

Arnold was seated at his desk when Grabowski entered and shot. He staggered from the office into the engine room saying: "I've been shot, boys. Grabowski did it."

Then he died.

Grabowski sat down in Arnold's office after the shooting and remained there until the arrival of the police. He said he killed Arnold because the latter had not treated him fairly.

ABOLISH QUARANTINE FOR SCARLET FEVER

Dr. Murphy Says Rubbing Patient With Oil Prevents Contagion.

New York, Sept. 18.—Dr. J. B. Murphy, the surgeon who cared for Col. Roosevelt in Chicago when he was shot, returned on the Imperator from London, where he attended the imperial contract. It was demonstrated at the meeting that rubbing the patient with eucalyptus oil in scarlet fever cases prevented contagion, he asserted.

"If a child is rubbed daily with the oil directly the case of scarlet fever is discovered," he said, "no one else will ocntract the fever, and there is no need of going to the expense of quarantining the house or separating the child suffering from the fever from its parents.

"Another discovery reported at the congress by Dr. Henry, head of the London hospital, was that insanity eradicates itself in the third generation."

DAKOTANS GUZZLE CANADIAN WHISKY

Federal Law Said to Be Responsible for Much Smuggling.

Pembina, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Webb law is responsible for the extensive smuggling of liquor into North Dakota from Canada, such smuggling operations coming to light at various North Dakota towns and cities lying adjacent to the international boundary, is the belief of officials who have inquired into the law violations.

Smugglers have been operating in numerous sections, as liquor bottles with Canadian brands have been found in many of the North Dakota cities. However, Federal officials have not yet been able to place their hands on the smugglers. The frontier of about 300 miles affords a splendid opportunity to smugglers, and customs officers are greatly handicapped. For the most part, the boundary line traverses level country, where roads are frequent, and with the limited force of men patrolling the boundary, the smugglers have a big chance to operate successfully.

Since the Webb law became effective the illegal sale of liquor in North Dakota has diminished greatly, as interstate shipments are carefully watched. North Dakota as a "dry" state has had less illegal liquor sale this year than any year in its history.

FREEDOM DENIED INSANE MURDERER.

Independence, Kan., Sept. 18.—An application of attorneys acting for A. A. Truskett for a hearing to obtain the release of Truskett from the insane ward at the state penitentiary, for killing J. S. D. Neely, a banker and oil promoter of Lima, Ohio, two years ago, was denied by District Judge Flannelly yesterday.

Truskett shot Neely in a hotel at Caney, Kan., as the result of litigation over oil property.

Benton County Fair Opens.

Sauk Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—The first annual fair of Benton county opened today and will continue three days. Some thirty acres of land has been inclosed and a large force of men and boys have been working to put the grounds in shape. The location is ideal for the fair, and is one block east of the street car line, about midway between St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids. Owing to the impossibility to get a good track graded in time horse racing has been postponed until another year, when a good half mile track will be then in readiness for the speeders

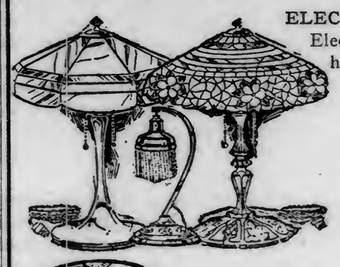

Duck Ponds Dry Up.

Cogswell, N. D., Sept. 18.—Sargent county will not be the mecca for duck hunters it has been in the past. For years Forman, Cogswell, Cayuga, Stirum, Milnor, Rutland and other points have been the favorite locations for those who wanted to catch the northern flight of ducks. This year many of the sloughs and the "pot holes" dried up and there were fewer wild ducks bred than formerly. Unless there is a heavy rainfall this month there will be few places where the northern flight will stop and the sport will not be so good as formerly. The larger lakes, of course, will attract the birds, but the others will be passed up for more favorable feeding grounds to the south.

PRESIDENT WILSON AS A BOSS.

We note some complaining that President Wilson is a "boss."

We note, too, the very interesting coincidence that the complaints all come from Republican sources. No Democrat has complained that Wilson is a boss. No independent voter or newspaper has complained that Wilson is a boss. No follower of Theodore Roosevelt, so far as we have observed, has complained that Wilson is a boss, though no Bull Mooser with a sense of humor could permit himself such a criticism even if he felt inclined, unless his memory had failed him.

The trouble is, as you may have sensed already, in the new tariff bill which is about to become a law.

The indictment is that President Wilson knew what kind of a tariff law would answer the public demand for tariff revision downward, and that he insisted upon getting, and did in fact get, precisely that kind of a law.

Hence these tears—Republican tears—and bitter complaints about Lessism.

We guess the ordinary citizen isn't worrying much about these complaints, and isn't seriously alarmed by them as to the future of the Republic and of government by and for the people.

The ordinary citizen wanted results, and he is getting them. He has observed the methods by which the president got them for him, and he is well satisfied with those methods and with what they have brought and are bringing. He has no particular objections to a president who means business, who knows what the people need and wish and proposes to do all he can to see that they get it, and who does get it for them.

Therefore he is not disturbed by such alarms as that which Boies Penrose—senator from Pennsylvania and successor to Matt Quay in more senses than one—seeks to raise when he complains bitterly of "legislation by executive intimidation and coercion and the personal visits of the president to the lobbies of this chamber in order to whip Democrats into line for free sugar, free wool and other schedules that they know will be destructive to the people of their states."

No, Clarice, scientists have not yet evolved the theory that the inventor of the boomerang got his idea from his own experience when he once fired off his mouth.

4,863 SCALAWAGS IN DULUTH?

We observe the ululations of the morning paper over the ratification of the Hicken liquor ordinance.

Rejoicing in the triumph of what one considers a just cause is praiseworthy indeed.

We are deeply pained, however, to discover a flaw in these jubilations. They appear, strangely enough, to be based chiefly on the very fleeting fact that the morning paper happens to have been on the side of the most votes—but not very many the most—while The Herald has been on the side of the least votes—but not very many the least.

The rejoicing of our unamiable contemporary, whose recent attack of sanctity appears not to be agreeing with it as well as we could wish, seems strangely enough to be more over this very temporary fact than it is over what it seems to think a triumph of virtue over vice. It grieves us to see this, because to a true lover of virtue and social pulchritude the triumph of his cause is vastly of more moment than any little personal victory that may be involved.

Another thing we don't like about our new-broom champion of virtue and zealous overseer of the conduct of others—always others—is the horror with which it regards those who failed to vote its way.

It seems to look upon them, one and all, as evil-eyed and evil-minded agents of vice and crime. Now there were nearly five thousand of them—only a hundred less than there were of those who voted for the ordinance. If the view of the morning paper—which we always shall stoutly insist is the very best and holiest daily paper in Minnesota east of Lake avenue—is correct, then the situation of the community is desperate indeed.

But we bid our distressed contemporary to cheer up. The situation in Duluth is not so bad as it paints it. The population of Duluth has no such horriferous proportion of scalawags as it imagines. The commission has been in power six months, and if it has not done anything else it certainly has rid the city of pretty much all its undesirable elements. We doubt if there is a city of Duluth's size anywhere that is so clean and well-behaved and decent.

Of course we realize the difficulty the morning paper labors under of perceiving that all who disagree with it are not vile.

There is a type of mind, with which all are familiar, which is utterly unable to believe anything but that those who do not see things its way are undoubtedly fools, and almost certainly knaves.

It is a great misfortune to be so constituted, and one so afflicted deserves pity. It is a deep affliction to be so jaundiced, because it prevents one from seeing that folks are just folks, mostly; that mere differences of opinion do not prove differences in virtue; that those who shroud themselves perpetually in dark suspicions of the character and motives of those who disagree with them are the most fundamentally dishonest people on earth; and that the world is full of good people and great who can disagree in mutual respect.

And we wish to assure our uneasy contemporary that the great majority of the 4,683 who voted against the ordinance are just as solicitous for the welfare, moral and otherwise, of the community, and just as decent, respectable and law-abiding as, say, the News Tribune.

Stark county, North Dakota, is going to have a county fair without charging any admission fee. Must be Stark county is out after the attendance record.

The express companies say they haven't had time to figure out the reduction in rates. It must be admitted they never have had any experience in that line before.

A DUTY OF THE STATE—AND AN OPPORTUNITY.

Its present possessions of land which it offers for sale to settlers amount to about two and a half millions of acres, and it expects to get half a million more from the government.

Elsewhere in The Herald tonight appears a letter from a former settler in Northern Minnesota, now a resident of Minneapolis, in which a suggestion is made which deserves the most cordial consideration of the authorities of the state and of the state's representatives in congress.

This is that the remaining acres still owned by the government be deeded to Minnesota only with the stipulation that the proceeds of their sale shall be devoted to the reclamation of this and other land formerly owned by the government and now in the possession of the state.

And reclamation, to be effective, must mean not only draining swamps but clearing cut-over lands and building roads.

Mr. Brown points out that every acre of swamp land given the state by the Federal government was deeded on condition that the proceeds be used for reclamation, and that there is grave doubt if the state's complete failure to comply with this requirement of its contract has not invalidated its title.

If the plan is carried out, the state legislature should create a revolving fund into which the proceeds of all the land sold out of the remaining half-million acres will go. This fund will be used to reclaim state land—including drainage, clearing and road-building. The cost of such reclamation should be assessed against the land benefited, and when the land is sold the money should be returned to the revolving fund.

Ultimately this fund will go into the state school fund. Its diversion from that fund will be only temporary, and it will be put to a use that in the end will vastly profit the school fund.

In the meantime it will vastly profit the whole state by hastening settlement and development, by peopling wildernesses, by putting idle land to use in creating new wealth, and by adding to the tax rolls land which now pays no taxes.

The primary object of this plan would be to hasten development by making settlement possible.

The secondary effect would be to bring increased profits to the state school fund through the sale of state lands at higher prices than are now possible or humane.

Land undrained, covered with stumps and brush, and with no roads reaching it, is practically valueless no matter how rich its soil.

Drain it, and it is worth say ten dollars an acre.

Clear a portion of each tract, say one-fourth, and the cleared acres are worth upwards of fifty dollars, while the uncleared three-quarters of each tract will jump in value to fifteen or twenty dollars an acre.

Provide roads so that settlers may get in supplies and send out their products, and still further value is given to the land.

* * * * *

Minnesota's greatest need is a revolving fund that can be used to make its land fit for settlement and sale. It is not fit for sale until it is fit for settlement.

Selling land to homeseekers when it is submerged, covered with stumps and brush and without means of approach is not only inhuman cruelty but bad business.

In the name of humanity, and in the name of common sense business policy, the state should arrange to fit its land for settlement before it offers it for sale, so that settlers may make a living from the start without wasting two or three years in reclamation.

The plans suggested offers a means of beginning such a revolving fund, and of adopting an enlightened and business-like policy in the handling of state lands.

What do the authorities of the state think about it?

What do the congressmen from Minnesota think about it?

What does the press of Northern Minnesota think about it?

What do the valiant boosters who are working for the development of Northern Minnesota think about it?

A VERY POOR REASON.

Congressman Mann, Republican floor leader, has been explaining to his constituents that the reason he has always opposed the physical valuation of railroads is because he "believed that they would be found to be above their capitalization and thus be entitled to raise their rates."

But that's a mighty poor reason for opposing this necessary step, a step which must be taken before the government regulation of railroad rates can be placed on a sound and stable and permanent basis.

If a physical valuation of railroad property shows it to be worth more than the stock and bonds that have been issued upon it, and if present rates do not return a fair dividend on that valuation and capitalization, then of course the railroads should and would be allowed to increase their rates.

Nobody should ask anything that is unfair from the railroads.

Regardless of capitalization, they should be permitted to charge rates that will return fair dividends on the money legitimately invested in them.

The question whether this means a reduction or an increase in rates is less important than the question of justice both to the railroads and their patrons.

If a physical valuation indicates the need of higher rates, then rates should be increased.

If it indicates the need of lower rates, than rates should be reduced.

Of course, however, one may be permitted to doubt this Republican leader's hypothesis that railroad property is worth more than railroad capital amounts to, or that present rates as a whole do not make a fair return on the capital actually and honestly invested in railroad property.

And in order to be certain that justice is to be done, it is necessary to know exactly what railroad property is worth.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be writteen on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE FIRST WARD AND THE CITY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have just been analyzing the returns from Tuesday's election. I find that eliminating the silk-stocking First ward, the vote on the ordinance was 3,383 for and 4,099 against. In other words, in the seven wards outside the First the ordinance was beaten by almost as great a plurality as it was carried in the First.

Certain facts should be noted in this connection.

First, that there are ten times as great a proportion of consumers of goods made and handled in Duluth in the seven wards which voted strongly against the ordinance as there are in the First ward.

Second, if you will search the wardrobes and homes of those who made possible the majority of 824 for the ordinance in the First ward, you will find an astonishingly large amount of clothing and other goods bought in the Twin Cities, Chicago and New York, on which Duluth labor and Duluth commercial capital profits not a penny.

Third, if you search the larders in the homes of many of these who made this First ward majority possible you will find them well stocked with choice wines and liquors. You will also find that many of them belong to and get their recreation and liquid refreshments at the Northland Country club and the Kitchi Gammi club. They should worry if every saloon in Duluth is closed up; it wouldn't put their homes and their clubs in the "dry" list.

The real consumers who patronize Duluth labor, Duluth manufacturers, Duluth wholesalers and Duluth retailers, are ten to one—I don't know but a hundred to one—outside the First ward, which elected three out of five commissioners and has now dictated our policy as to community conditions.

A SUPERIOR STREET MERCHANT.

Duluth, Sept. 17.

SAYS PARTRIDGES ARE BEING SLAUGHTERED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

There is, among the numerous laws of our fair state, a law which clearly and plainly sets forth, that partridge shall not be killed prior to Oct. 1.

Is it fair to honest sportsmen who observe this law, to wink at the practice of killing this game weeks before the season opens?

I, for one, enjoy hunting as much as any other person, but when I hunt I like to have some assurance that I will get at least a bird or two. I usually plan on getting out as soon after the season opens as possible, and what do I find? As a general rule, nothing, but when I do happen to get a glimpse of a lonesome bird, it is at a great distance. The coveys have all been broken up, and most of the birds that haven't been killed, have at least been shot at a number of times, and consequently are so wild, that one cannot get within a mile of them.

If there is a game warden, and if he can spare the time, I would suggest that he investigate the specie of birds being killed in the vicinity of Duluth every day, (and particularly on Sunday), which the hunters, with a grin, call "prairie chicken."

If the present law cannot be enforced, let's have it changed so that it can be. In this way the few of us who wish to observe the law will get a fair deal, which we certainly are not getting now. SPORTSMAN.

Duluth, Sept. 17.

MR. HARTLEY REPLIES TO "ONE WHO REMEMBERS."

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your paper of last evening the following statement was made by a correspondent, signing his name "One Who Remembers."

"The man or the interests who insinuate that the owners of The Herald oppose the new ordinance forget that the owner of the News Tribune but a few years ago was the owner of the ramshackle saloon buildings on the Bowery where the Soo depot is now located. And as to the character of those saloons, why, the lowest dive now existing is a kindergarten in comparison.

"And there was always a brewery as surety on the lease too, just to make sure of the dollars and cents."

I am not replying because I am displeased with this criticism or with any mis-statement it may contain. I have said some harsh things about our brewery saloons and I would be a poor sport if I could not take something in return. I believe criticism is good. I had rather be severely criticised than to be passed up and forgotten. Criticism tends sometimes to keep one down a little closer to the earth, and I am perfectly willing to have your correspondent publish anything that he knows of my past career, business or otherwise. I will answer, if at all, over my own name.

His letter suggests to me some advice that I would like to give to our real estate owners and city commission. If you will kindly publish the following, I will be much obliged.

I owned just 20 per cent of the capital stock of the corporation that owned the present site of the Soo depot on the corner of Sixth avenue west and Superior street, referred to by your correspondent, and in addition to that, I have purchased 1,940 feet frontage of Superior street property between the Soo depot at Sixth avenue west and Eighth avenue east. With very few exceptions, all this property has been partly occupied by saloons at the time of the purchase. In every case whenever I have become the entire owner and personally in control of the property, I have cleaned the saloons out at the termination of their leases, or as soon after as it was practical for them to get out. I then repaired and leased the property for other purposes.

I wish to say to real estate owners that it has been my experience that in every case the market and rental value of my property has been materially increased by this change of tenants. I do not know of a better real estate investment today than to buy up property on the business part of Superior street now covered by dilapidated shacks occupied by saloons, then clean the saloons out and rent the buildings or land for other purposes. I believe such investments carefully made, will show a profit of 100 per cent in the next two or three years.

The Zenith building, between Lake avenue and First avenue west, was originally built for a saloon and occupied for that purpose until I bought it. At the end of the lease I cleaned the saloon out and inside of a year it was earning more than double the rent that any saloon ever paid for it, and in three years from the time I purchased it, I sold it for three times what it cost.

Discounting the foolish census padding that has been done in both Duluth and Superior, I presume there are very few more than 100,000 people in the two places. To supply these 100,000 men, women and children with liquor, we have 340 saloons. This is out of all proportion to our population and the volume of other business. If the public officials of these two cities would close up and clean out 250 of these saloons, they would greatly improve the other lines of business and increase the rental and market value of our property. I hope our city commissioners will go about it carefully and conservatively, looking out always for the possibility of reaction, and gradually eliminate the most undesirable 150 of our 180 saloons on this side of the bay. This would leave thirty, a number amply sufficient to take care of all our legitimate retail liquor business.

Some people will say that with fewer saloons people will drink just as much liquor as they do now. This is not true. Laboring men draw one week's, a month's or six months' pay, go into a saloon, get a drink or two of squirrel whisky, and they come out, intending to go home. But if they see nothing but saloons all around them and hear the tin pan piano music, they will mill around from one saloon to another until their money is all gone, and sometimes turn up in our county jail, as several thousand do each year.

In the town of Taconite on the Mesaba range there are lots of working men and large payrolls and only one saloon. It is in a good location, immediately across the street from the postoffice, working men's club and city hall, and it is about the quietest place in all that town. I have passed through the town many times and have never yet seen a single individual outside of the barkeeper go in or out of that saloon. Of course, it receives some patronage but I am informed it is not profitable. In Coleraine there are only two saloons, as I recollect it. I do not know whether they are paying or not, but for years when there was only one, the proprietor informed me it was a losing proposition.

To the contrary, at Virginia they have nine saloons in a row without a break, and about fifty in four blocks on one street. They all seem to be busy and murders are frequent in and about them. I was recently informed by a citizen of that town that about three-fourths of the pay checks of all of Virginia's lumber, mine and other employes were cashed through the saloons.

I believe if two-thirds of the saloons in Duluth were closed, the other one-third would not sell very much more liquor than they are doing today. They would sell better liquor and the proprietors would be better citizens. With this change millions of dollars would go into legitimate channels of business that now go out of our city to the corporations that own and control the worst class of our saloons.

I don't know how the Hicken ordinance election is going today, but I believe a large majority of the parents of Duluth's children would prefer 30 to 180 saloons in our little city.

Yours very truly,

G. G. HARTLEY.

The statement that the above communication was handed to The Herald for publication Tuesday and not printed is absolutely false. It was received by The Herald late yesterday—Wednesday—forenoon, too late for use on this page, which it is necessary to send to press earlier than pages held open for the day's news. The Herald has at no time had any idea of not publishing it, and it was in type for publication today before its publication in the News Tribune.—The Editor.

Parcel Post Not Fatal

H. H. Windsor in Popular Mechanics Magazine: Evidently under the inspiration of the express companies, the public were educated to believe that a parcel post spelled bankruptcy to the country merchant. The trade papers preached it for years; to the country dealer it was a constant nightmare, and even people who favored the idea did so with some pangs of sympathy for the poor dealer who was to be put out of business by the big mail-order houses in the large cities. The parcel post has been in operation some eight months, and can you name one solitary country dealer who has failed in business during that time that can honestly say the parcel post did it?

We read of cooked meats and cakes that mother actually made, going by post to her boy in the city; of asparagus and crisp radishes from friend to friend; of human ashes and all sorts of curious and unusual things finding their destination through the medium of parcel post, but how many articles which the country merchant has in stock on his shelves are ordered from the city to come back by parcel post?

As a matter of fact, one of the largest mail-order houses in the world makes practically no effort to advertise its goods in towns which have a really up-to-date department store, and ships the great bulk of its sales by freight as when there was no parcel post. The new service was needed, and is proving of great service to the people; but for the most part the business it does is really created business, including articles which are now sent because the rate permits it, and which were seldom shipped under express rates. It did not occur to people to pay 25 or 35 cents express on articles which the recipient could buy in his own town for 5 to 10 cents; but when the 10-cent article can be mailed for half its cost, the thing becomes practicable. But as for putting the country dealer out of business, that was simply the dream of the express companies.

Minnesota's New Jury.

Chicago Evening Post: Minnesota has a new law which provides that five-sixths of a jury may bring in a verdict in civil cases. This is carrying out an idea which has grown considerably in popularity in recent years, one which the "code states" toy with a good deal. While it is more or less of a break from the jury tradition, that tradition itself has undergone considerable evolution, and this latest modification has a great deal to recommend it. The real fight will come when the attempt is made to provide that five-sixths of a jury may convict or acquit a prisoner. Although the community suffers obviously from the ease with which juries in criminal cases are "hung," there will be the greatest reluctance to abandon the safeguard of entire unanimity.

Popular Discrimination.

Washington Star: "I wonder if I ought to send my wife and daughters to see your play?" said the conservative man.

"Why do you ask such a question?" rejoined the indignant manager.

"So many people are going to see it I was afraid it might not be altogether proper."

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Real Opportunities.

Brown's Valley Tribune: When people get over the Canada and Montana craze, they will take time to look over the golden agricultural opportunities of Northern Minnesota that are awaiting them. Northern Minnesota has cheap fuel, pure water, rich soil and near markets.

Talking Politics.

Cambridge North Star: The Minneapolis Journal thinks that Senator Swanson may be a candidate for congress, and the name of County Attorney Pratt of Anoka has also been mentioned in connection with the same office. These men, with Senator Johnson of Chicago and Senator Dwinnell of Minneapolis — and Congressman Manahan—would make quite a stir in politics, if they all earnestly sought the place.

Do They Always?

Pierz Journal: Chicken hunters always get their fill, but not in the game bag.

Wisconsin Wins.

Hinckley Enterprise: That progressive Minnesota legislature of last winter must have been a bunch of standpatters as only laws enough to fill thirty-one pages of the supplement were passed as compared with thirty-eight pages of new laws passed by the Wisconsin legislature that has just adjourned. There must be some things it is still legal to do in Minnesota. The governor should call the attention of the legislature to its oversight.

Harmful Publicity.

Barnesville Headlight: For seventeen years we have published the names of parties out on the opening day and the number of birds they killed. We shall do it no longer. This publicity is in the wrong direction, for it only makes the hunters seek to kill more birds for the purpose of beating some other party. We want to see the game protected, not in the sense of forbidding hunting, but in the way of having a spot in the county reserved as state hatching grounds and have this spot protected from the hunters the whole year. Furthermore, we want to see the present limit of fifteen birds decreased to ten. And we are going to fight for the election or re-election of a senator and a representative from this district who has a deep sense in the preservation of wild game.

A "Victory."

St. Peter Free Press: From Maine comes the news of a standpat Republican victory. Whether that is a matter for congratulation even from a straight Republican point of view depends entirely upon what is thought of the effect of high or low tariff. This was the only issue involved and the election centered around this point, regardless of partisanship or any other proposition. Maine is a high protection state and the main point it cares for politically is protection for its textile factories. With that assured, it cares very little what becomes of other industries, except in so far as it becomes necessary to combine with them to accomplish their own ends. Otherwise the election has little significance outside of the state's own borders.

"Later State Fair" Again.

Milaca Times: The state fair should be held at least a week later for some of the exhibits from this territory to receive favorable consideration. Corn does not become fully matured without special attention until the second week in September, which shows that the demands of Northern Minnesota for having the fair a week later are justly made.

Sweet Bait.

Boston Transcript: Mrs. A.—I told Willie on his way home from school to get me a bar of soap.

Mrs. B.—Oh, he'll forget it; my boy never remembers.

Mrs. A.—No danger; I said he might buy 5 cents' worth of candy at the same time.

Fruity Transformation.

Washington Star: "She had a peaches and cream complexion before she plunged into the surf."

"And after?"

"She looked like a dish of prunes."

The Rights of Woman.

While Europe's eye is fixed on mighty things,
The fate of empires and the fall of kings;
While quacks of state must each produce his plan,
And even children lisp the Rights of Man;
Amid this mighty fuss just let me mention
The Rights of Woman merit some attention.

First, in the sexes' intermix'd connection,
One sacred right of woman is protection—
The tender flower that lifts its head, elate,
Helpless, must fall before the blasts of fate,
Sunk on the earth, defac'd its lovely form,
Unless your shelter ward th' impending storm.

Our second right—but needless here is caution,
To keep that right inviolate's the fashion;
Each man of sense has it so full before him,
He'd die before he'd wrong it—'tis decorum—
There was, indeed in far less polished days,
A time, when rough, rude man had haughty ways,
Would swagger, swear, get drunk, kick up a riot,
Nay even thus invade a lady's quiet.

Now, thank our stars! these Gothic times are fled;
Now, well-bred men—and you are all well-bred—
Most justly think (and we are much the gainers)
Such conduct neither spirit, wit nor manners.

For right the third, our last, our best, our dearest,
That right to fluttering female hearts the nearest;
Which even the Rights of Kings, in low prostration,
Most humbly own—'tis dear, dear admiration!
In that blest sphere alone we live and move;
There taste that life of life—immortal love,
Smiles, glances, sighs, tears, fits, flirtations, airs;
'Gainst such a host what flinty savage dares.
When awful beauty joins with all her charms—
Who is so rash as to rise in rebel arms?

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

John T. Kingston, Jr., has been appointed postmaster at Ashland, Wis. He is a warm friend and supporter of Col. J. H. Knight. Michael C. Scully has been appointed collector of customs for the Superior district.

Drs. Huntoon and Rodwell have formed a copartnership and will hereafter practice their profession both in Duluth and West Duluth.

Guy Pake of West Duluth has been chosen president of the A class of the high school.

Since yesterday morning the city of Ashland, Wis., has been enveloped in a dense cloud of smoke, and on every side disastrous forest fires are raging. It has required hard work on the part of the fire department and citizens to keep the fires from burning residences on the outskirts of the city and the danger is not over. A family of homesteaders, who were obliged to flee for their lives, arrived in the city last night.

Yesterday afternoon street car No. 30, running on Lake avenue, jumped the track and went into the ship canal. The car was running about ten to fifteen miles an hour. The brake failed to work and the car struck the fence at the end of the truck, went through it, crashed through the timbers of the pier and plunged into the water. Two passengers were upon the rear platform and they and the conductor tumbled off in a heap. The motorman jumped just as the car reached the end of the track. The car landed in the center of the canal where it slowly sank in twenty feet of water.

S. L. Merchant informed the school board last night that he would donate lot 17, block 10, in Merchant's Park addition, if the board would erect a school thereon. No action was taken.

President Norvell of the Superior Street railway line was thrown out of a buggy on Tower avenue, West Superior, yesterday afternoon. His head struck the curbstone and his condition is serious.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Flagler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Gantt of Lockport, N. Y., to David A. Dunlap of Duluth on Sept. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap will reside at 204 East Third street.

The smoky condition of the atmosphere in Duluth, due to the great forest fires in Wisconsin, has increased steadily all day and the fog horn has nearly completed its fourth heat of twenty-four hours' duration.

That Terrible Undercurrent

Life: Georgia has decided not to do anything just now towards helping out her child laborers. We learn this in a special dispatch to the New York Times. A bill had been proposed gradually raising the age limit of working children, but, according to the dispatch, "such an undercurrent of opposition developed on the part of the manufacturers that the measure was shelved."

That same old undercurrent! Perhaps we shall know some day just what particular Col. Mulhall was at work down there in Atlanta, what particular legislators he worked with, and how much he paid them, or rather how little he paid them, for recent revelations have shown that the market price of lawmakers is not at all exorbitant. All this information, however, if it ever comes out, will be of slight interest to the little children who are, in the meantime, being carried out with the undertow. If these children only knew what was good for them they would organize a highly paid lobby in their own interest and put a good man like Col. Mulhall in charge of it.

Different.

Youth's Companion: Ian Maclaren tells a sweet story of his native Scotland. While sauntering along a country lane one hot afternoon he met a bonnie wee lassie who was very red in the face from the heat, and who breathed heavily under the burden of the chubby youngster she carried in her arms.

"Isn't he too heavy for you?" inquired the kindly and sympathetic minister.

Calm Osculation.

Washington Herald: "I hear they are passionately in love with each other."

"It might pass for passion in Boston. They kiss each other with their eyeglasses on."

BOOSTERS IN PARADE

Will Help Open Exposition Week in a Fitting Manner.

Floats Will Show Industrial and Commercial Importance of City.

A call has been issued to the Duluth boosters to be out for the Exposition Week parade next Monday evening.

Frank X. Gravel, chairman of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club, yesterday indited a letter to each man who has participated in a trade excursion, urging him to be out for the parade Monday evening.

Attired in their tan linen dusters and white caps, and carrying canes and pennants, the boosters will form an important part of the big civic, commercial and industrial display.

The boosters have been called to meet at the Commercial club at 7 p. m. Monday. They will form part of the second division of the parade, which will also take in the commercial and industrial divisions.

J. B. Crane, who is in charge of the parade arrangements, has lined up a display that will fittingly start out Exposition Week. The first division will be made up of the military and civic organizations of the city. In the second division will be the boosters and representatives of the business houses of the city. They will be followed by a long line of floats showing the industrial and commercial importance of Duluth.

The parade will form at Second avenue east, march west on First street to Fourth avenue west and east on Superior street to the curling rink, where the industrial and agricultural exposition will be formally opened. Merchants are making preparations for lavish decorations in the downtown district.

ITALIAN SPEED KING KILLED IN AUTO RACE

Norfolk, Neb., Sept. 18.—Louis Manghetti, the Italian automobile driver who won the speed championship of South America in 1909, 1910 and 1911, was instantly killed here yesterday in the second race of the Norfolk fall festival meet. Manghetti's car overturned on a curve, throwing him headlong to the outside of the track, breaking his neck.

Manghetti was known as "Mad Louis" on three continents, because of his daring. He was 32 years old. He is survived by a widow.

BALCONY FALLS ON PERRY FETE CROWD.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 18.—Just as the last section of the big military parade of the Perry Centennial celebration was passing, an improvised balcony on Superior avenue near Sixth street collapsed and fell on the crowd on the sidewalk below, last night, killing one man and seriously injuring three other men and two girls. People were seeking shelter from the rain in the doorway, and were standing directly under the supports of the balcony. Several others in the crowd were cut and bruised by the bricks which fell when the supports gave way.

A parade in which 50,000 members of military, patriotic and fraternal organization took part, finished the day's program of the celebration. Showers hindered the marchers, and for over three hours the sections filed past the reviewing stands. Perry's flagship will remain here until Saturday, when Tuesday's program, which had to be postponed on account of rain, will be finished.

Fireworks displays in the parks furnished the entertainment last night.

BRASS BAND MAY AID ERRING YOUTH

Inmates of St. Cloud Reformatory to Have Musical Organization.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 18.—Supt. Charles S. Reed of the state reformatory believes in the good influences of music. When he was in charge of the Walla Walla prison a band and an orchestra were two features of the institution that had a marked beneficial effect upon the inmates.

He finds there is a great amount of musical talent among the 250 young men at the reformatory here, and he has asked the board of control to purchase musical instruments for a band of thirty pieces, and bids are now asked from musical dealers. A competent instructor will be employed, and by another summer the reformatory officials expect to have one of the finest bands in the state.

This will give those participating something to work for and after they get "tuned up" will give pleasure to the whole membership. Supt. Reed believes the effect will be most mentally healthy and beneficial.

The roof of the big administration building will be used next summer for sacred concerts on Sunday evenings, when the weather is fair, and promise to be a most delightful innovation to both the officers and the inmates in the institution.

BUILDERS HAVE A BUSY SEASON

New Structures Going Up in All Parts of North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—Among the building projects throughout the state reported during the week are the following:

The Regent Grain company is to erect a flour mill at New England. The Hegen Grain company is also laying plans for a mill in New England.

Schmidt Bros., contractors of Fordville, will build a cement block factory at that place.

The old flour mill at Rugby is being remodeled

The Hettinger Milling company's flour mill burned to the ground a short time ago. The exact amount of the loss is not known.

The Wisconsin Vehicle company of La Crosse, contemplates locating a branch plant in Minot. The company manufactures farm wagons, light runabouts and rigs.

Herman Faulk's general store at Baden burned to the ground recently. There was a large stock of goods in the building and the loss is heavy.

The Burt Equity exchange is to erect an elevator at that point. The Farmers' Equity association is rapidly seeing the advisability of building its own elevators.

The Maddock & Kain elevator at Hettinger was completely destroyed by fire recently, with a considerable quantity of grain.

The potato growing industry about Page is growing, and a new warehouse is under construction at that point.

A Farmers' Elevator company has been incorporated at Yates, with a capital of $10,000.

The ordinance for a municipal abattoir passed with little opposition, and a site for the plant was offered by Victor S. Wisner. The city engineer has been ordered to prepare estimates on the cost of both ice and ammonia cooling plants, and also on the general cost of the plant.

Mayville held a special election on Sept. 5 to vote on $9,280 bonds for erection of a power house, and to supply boilers, engines, dynamos and other needed equipment for electric light and waterworks system.

Construction work will soon be begun on a new farmers' telephone line out of Minot.

The bids for Minot's new white way will be received on Sept 22 The system will extend from the freight depot up Main street to Ninth street, and on first street from the viaduct to the river

A new bridge is to be built near Linton

Edgeley is to have a new city jail building

The plumbing on the new auditorium in this city is to be done by Edward Madison. His bid was $2,500.

Minot is soon to have a large new hospital. Bids are being received until noon of Oct. 1 for the construction of the building. R. T. Frost is the architect.

Another schoolhouse is to be built near Belfield. The clerk is now advertising for bids for the structure.

All the bids received for the construction of Washburn's new modern brick school building were rejected by the board, and bids re-advertised in February or March.

The construction of the United Norwegian Lutheran church at Ambrose is well under way, and the structure will be completed before winter comes.

FINNISH COLLEGE HAS RESUMED WORK

Head of Hancock Institution Returns From Soliciting Trip Abroad.

Hancock, Mich., Sept. 18.—The return of Dr. J. K. Nikander, president of the Soumi college, has completed the faculty of the institution. The college resumed last week with a normal enrollment but owing to the absence of Dr. Nikander in Europe, the theological seminary, the principal part of the college, did not open until this week.

The college now has an average enrollment. The strike has cut into the college's expectations to some extent but not as much as might be expected. The enrollment shows a majority of the students here are from the iron ranges and from Minnesota.

The college is an unique American institution, according to Dr. Nikander, who has just been studying educational methods, both in America and abroad. It was founded primarily to give an education to the ministers for the Soumi synod but at the time the college was founded for this purpose it was decided to broaden its courses so as to give students a broad, general training in other lines as well.

The college has a standing debt that is a burden and Dr. Nikander's European visit was partly for the purpose of starting an agitation that might result in its being lifted. The cottage will do much to elevate the position of the members of the Finnish race that come to this country. Dr. Nikander states that it is imperative that some such institution exist in this country for the higher education of members of that race and in seeking support for the college in Finland he was able to advance arguments that left a strong impression abroad.

The students of the college are now planning to revive the various student organizations that proved so effective last year. The students have societies for the study of literature. There is also a temperance society with a large membership and a broad field of usefulness. The students last year for the first time took an interest in athletics and plan this year to again enter into the sport.

ODD FELLOWS ARE LABORING HARD

Sovereign Grand Lodge Begins Work Early—Is "St. Paul Day."

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, began its session at 8 o'clock this morning, hoping to rush through a large amount of business as early as possible. The grand lodge secretaries were to hold a session in another hall later in the day.

Today is "St. Paul day," and the delegates and visitors were to have been entertained during the afternoon in that city. The entertainment program consists of a visit to the state capitol and automobile rides about the city, the festivities ending with a banquet given by the Odd Fellows' lodges of St. Paul, the visitors returning to Minneapolis early in the evening.

The selection of Atlantic City, N. J., for its 1914 sessions, was the most important business transacted yesterday.

Spice was added to the political situation during the afternoon by the entrance of Joseph Oliver of Toronto, Ont., former mayor of that city, as a candidate for deputy grand sire. Other candidates most talked of are Judge J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma City; Judge L. A. Easton of St. Louis, and Frank Doudy of Denver.

An important change was made in the rules of the military council, which has since Monday, been revising the rules, code and ritual of the organization. Under the new rules the decoration of chivalry will be given to only one person for every 100 members or fraction of 100 in each lodge. Formerly there was no limit to the number who might receive the decoration. The council finished its work last night and adjourned until the next annual meeting of the sovereign grand lodge. The revised code will be submitted to the supreme body for approval before the session ends.

SECRET SOCIETIES MUST PAY TAXES

Churches Only Will Escape Assessment in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fraternal organizations must pay taxes under the recent ruling of the attorney general. The only property that can escape taxation in this state appears to be that used exclusively for religious purposes. The churches which rent the auditoriums and allow them to be used for concerts and other entertainments for which admission is charged, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. organizations having dormitories, hall rooms and furniture of all fraternal organizations must come under the law and be assessed.

The ruling will result in churches using their property for only religious purposes and eliminating the public hall features for anything to which admission is charged and will stop religious organizations that run dormitories in competition with boarding houses and hotels from evading taxation. With this additional property placed on the tax rolls and other property now assessed more nearly its actual value, the total assessed valuation of the property of North Dakota may be materially increased.

Relief for Catarrh Sufferers Now FREE

You Can Now Treat This Trouble in Your Own Home and Get Relief at Once.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

By the new method the nose and throat are treated by an effective local remedy applied directly to the afflicted membranes.

The Elixir taken into the stomach, has a direct influence upon the mucous membranes of the body and cures the disease by removing the cause.

THIS terrible disease has raged unchecked for years simply because symptoms have been treated while the vicious germs that cause the trouble have been left to circulate in the blood, and bring the disease back as fast as local treatments could relieve it.

C. E. Gauss, who experimented for years on a treatment for Catarrh, found that after perfecting a balm that relieved the nose and throat troubles quickly, he could not prevent the trouble beginning all over again.

On test cases, he could completely remove all signs of Catarrh from nose and throat, but in a few weeks they were back.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that as the troubles were expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger then ever. Mr. Gauss has gone away ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that

Kills the Germs in the Blood and immediately gives relief to the nose and throat.

He perfected the New Combined Treatment, since admitted to be the logical, sure, scientific method.

Reese Jones of Scranton, Penn., says that after trying many other treatments he used this new method and—"My nose is now entirely clear and free and I am not bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold."

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

Sarah J. Capp, Mount Pelia, Tenn., says, "I suffered the pains and distress of catarrh for thirteen years and needless to state, tried nearly every method. But by your new method I was completely cured and you cannot imagine the joy that has come over me."

Trial Treatment FREE

This new method is so important to the welfare of humanity, so vital to every person suffering from any form of catarrh, that the opportunity to actually test it and prove its results, will be gladly extended without one cent of cost.

A large trial treatment, with complete, minute directions, will be sent free to any catarrh-sufferer.

Send no money, take no risks, make no promises. Simply clip, sign and mail the coupon and the test package of the New Combined Treatment will be sent fully prepaid, together with the valuable book on Catarrh.

CUTS COST OF MINING COAL

Produces Coal at Williston at About $1.30 a Ton.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mining lignite coal for the Williston, N. D., reclamation project, the United States government has successfully demonstrated its ability to handle the mining question by producing coal at a cost below that of private mine owners, and it also is paying better wages to miners. In handling the mining question in the Williston project the United States government has created conditions in marked contrast with those existing in the Eastern coal mining districts.

Expert coal miners and practically all of the men employed by the government are skilled in their work, receive from 4 to $5 a day, working on the tonnage basis, which is remarkable in contrast with the average wage in United States of $2 a day for coal miners. In addition to better wages, the government has created better conditions for its miners. They have their shower bath, private lockers, buns rooms for single men and a restaurant where the miners can secure meals at 25 cents each.

The United States miners seem well satisfied with their lot, and jobs in the government project are much sought after. As a rule the government gives employment, when possible, to married men, showing a preference for a family head.

As against an average cost in private mines of about $1.50 a ton, the United States is mining its coal at about $1.30, and Engineer W. S. Arthus, in charge of the project, anticipates that ultimately the cost of mining will be reduced to $1. Delivered at the project station, coal mined by private owners would cost the government about $2.50 a ton. By doing the work itself it is getting better service at less expense.

Farmer Cremates Self.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Sept. 18.—Claes A. Hedeen, single, a farmer, committed suicide in an unused barn near the Hedeen farm yesterday by shooting himself with a shotgun after first saturating the building with gasoline and setting fire to it. He had suffered from the hallucination that he was being pursued by officers and had been heard to make threats that he was going to kill himself. His family placed him under surveillance and had hidden all firearms. He escaped from his room and his absence was not noticed until the smoldering ruins of the barn were discovered.

CLOQUET Y. M. C. A. BOYS ARE LEARNING USEFUL TRADES

Y. M. C. A. MANUAL TRAINING CLASS.

Cloquet, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—This group is of Y. M. C. A. boys in the junior department who are taking manual training, and their instructor, John Teel. The boys are: Carl Hedlund, Alfred Mitchell, Charles Beaupre, Leonard Bedahl, Reginald Newman, William Blair, Walter Huseby, Ole Bruno, Louis Peacha, Norman Johnson and Sherman Grant.

FARMERS ASKED TO AID STATE SCHOOL

North Dakota Agricultural College Wants Boys' Dormitory.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appeal to the farmers of the state to contribute a bushel of wheat or its equivalent to a fund to erect a dormitory for the boys at the North Dakota Agricultural college is securing responses. The boys decided last spring to make the effort and organized a committee for that purpose. The unique campaign met with popular favor.

The last two or three legislatures have been asked for funds for that purpose but because of the financial condition of the state they felt it would be impossible to make the appropriations.

There is a girls' dormitory but the boys are compelled to secure rooms all over the city. It is contended that with a large dormitory the male students, especially the more youthful, could be accommodated. They would be surrounded with better influences and subjected to fewer temptations.

The institution is a popular one with the farmers and it was decided to make the appeal direct to them. There are about 75,000 in the state. Not all of them will respond, but it is anticipated that a sufficient number will so a large fund will be created. Many of the more interested farmers will no doubt send in larger contributions. It is not the first time that private persons have been asked to contribute to improvements at public institutions.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for a $12,000 building to house the First State Bank of Kelliher, Minn., has been let to George Kreatz of Bemidji. Sheldon interests of Minneapolis. W. T. Barry is cashier.

ENGLISH LUTHERANS PLAN A CAMPAIGN.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — English Lutherans will conduct an active campaign in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Idaho for the organization of new churches, and the board of missions has appointed Rev. J. Nelson Leatz of Grand Forks as missionary in charge.

The English Lutherans hope to bring about the establishment of a number of congregations, and expect that Lutherans of various nationalities will join with them. Up to the present time they have done practically no work in the Northwestern states, although in the extreme West they have been quite successful.

NORTH DAKOTA "U" ADDS TO FACULTY.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fourteen new faculty members for the University of North Dakota will take up their duties when the annual work is launched next week. Of these, two new men in the chemistry department are from the University of Minnesota, being Dr. E. X. Anderson and E. A. Daniels.

One of the most important appointments is that of Dr. Henry W. Brush of Chicago, who takes the post in the department of English vacated by the death of Prof. Henry Le Daum last year.

The new faculty members follow: Dr. Henry W. Brush, Chicago, professor of romance languages and literature; Dr. C. E. King, instructor in medicine; S. Johnson, Cavalier, N. D., instructor in economics; F. V. Archer, coach and instructor in physical department; F. L. Thompson, director of gymnasium and instructor in physical; Miss Blanche S. Hedrick, assistant librarian; J. J. Pettijohn, University of Wisconsin, extension department; Miss Russell Edwards, chief cataloguer of library; Miss Grace Thompson, assistant in extension department; Dr. G. P. Jackson, Northwestern university, assistant in German; E. A. Daniels, assistant in chemistry; Dr. E. X. Anderson, assistant in chemistry; Henry Doak, Dartmouth university, instructor in English; G. F. Schafer, Northwestern university, registrar.

New Threshing Record.

Portland, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming to have established a new threshing record of one-quarter section in one day M. E. Monson, states his machine turned out 3,470 bushels of wheat in eleven and three-quarter hours. It was on one-quarter, 146 acres of which were in wheat and the yield was twenty-four bushels per acre.

Woman Starts Paper.

Pettibone, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pettibone at last has a newspaper. Martha Safford is the publisher. She formerly conducted a paper at Dawson, where there were two. She sold her publication there and removed the plant to this place. E. D. Hicks is the editor. The Spectator is the name selected.

UNIQUE VILLAGE TO HAVE NEWSPAPER.

Fairview, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fairview is to have a newspaper. W. R. Mumby of Buford is the editor. He has moved the plant here with which he formerly issued the Tribune at that point.

There are two Fairviews here in different states with only the state line as a street separating them. The Montana Fairview is the older town. It has saloons, while the North Dakota Fairview is dry, but there is nothing to restrain the inhabitants from this side crossing the street and the reason is frequently more apparent than "why does a hen cross the road?"

The situation here between two towns in adjoining states is more closely related than anywhere else on the North Dakota boundary lines. Beach and Yates are some distance apart. Portal and North Portal, Can., are quite close. Neche and Gretna, Pembina, Emerson, Can., and St. Vincent, Minn., are quite close as are Grand Forks and East Grand Forks. Fargo and Moorhead and Wahpeton and Breckenridge, but none are so closely affiliated as the two Fairviews.

This section is attracting a great deal of attention because of the Great Northern railway construction between New Rockford and Lewistown, Mont. Many settlers and new enterprises will be located here.

CASSELTON TO HAVE A BIG CORN SHOW.

Casselton, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Monday afternoon between thirty and forty automobile loads of Casselton people will invade Fargo, advertising the corn show to be held here Oct. 9 to 11. A committee went to Fargo this week to extend a formal invitation to the business men and the auto excursion will be a general invitation to everybody in the largest city in the state to come out here and see the big corn show.

Governor Hanna and President Worst of the North Dakota Agricultural college are to be the show's chief speakers. The latter will speak Oct. 10 and the governor Oct. 11. In addition to the corn show, which will be the large attraction, there will be other features, including a horse show, a grain exhibit, a poultry show and there will be a horticultural exhibit, art display and baked goods contest.

Want Fish Preserve.

Kensal, N. D., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the purpose of converting Arrowhead lake into a summer resort and for the preservation of the fish now there, F. L. Nichols of this town appeared before the North Dakota game and fish board of control asking that the board order in a dam at the lower end of the lake. At present the water is only six to seven feet in depth. In severe winters the water freezes to such a depth the fish are smothered. It is thought that by increasing the water the fish could be preserved. There are many wooded spots on the east shore which make ideal camping and outing spots. With the water raised many cottages will be built. The citizens of Carrington, Bordulac and Edmunds are also interested and if the board authorizes the dam will be constructed without expense to the state.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tigers Win Both.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Detroit inaugurated its farewell appearance of the season here yesterday, by taking both games of a double-header from Washington, 5 to 1, and, 4 to 2. Bunching of hits in two innings—the fourth in the first game, and the first in the second—proved Washington's undoing. Outside of these two innings, Detroit failed to score.

Gallia started for the locals in the opener, but was batted hard and was replaced by Love in the fourth inning after Detroit had got to him for seven hits, one of them being a triple. By bunching four of their hits and working the youngster for two bases on balls in the fatal inning, the visitors put four runs across the plate. The only run scored against Dubuc was the result of a base on balls and a double.

Detroit jumped on Boehling at the start of the second game. Bush and Bauman hit for singles, Crawford was safe on an error and Cobb brought them all home with a hit for the circuit. Boehling then settled down and there was no more scoring. Williams, a Detroit recruit southpaw, pitched steadily throughout. Scores:

Yankees Win and Lose.

New York, Sept. 18.—New York broke out of the cellar for the first time this season, splitting a doubleheader with Chicago, while the Athletics were beating St. Louis. Chicago won the first game, 9 to 3, and New York the second in eight innings, 3 to 2.

Chicago had little trouble in winning the first game, pounding Ford and Pich, a Central league recruit, for eighteen hits. Pich was wild and the visitors scored at will in the two innings he pitched. Scott weakened in the closing inning, but after getting men on bases, New York could not score. Whitman, a recruit, hit Scott for three doubles and drew a pass in four times up. Schalk stole home in the ninth inning of this game.

New York won the second game by bunching hits with good base running in three innings, helped along in the first by Chase's wild throw. Wolter was ordered off the field in the second game for protesting a decision. Scores:

Browns in Last Place.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Batting rallies in the sixth and eighth innings gave Philadelphia a victory over St. Louis, 8 to 4. Manager Rickey assumed command of the St. Louis team yesterday afternoon. Harry Davis, the veteran first baseman and former manager of Cleveland got into the game through an injury to McInnis. Davis drove in the first run for his club and started the rally in the eighth with another single. Three players were hurt during the afternoon. Outfielder Clarence Walker of St. Louis had his forehead split by running into the left field bleachers during practice. It was necessary to take several stitches in his head. Pitcher Brown of Philadelphia wrenched his knee fielding a grounder in the first inning. Brown then threw wild to first and McInnis, in trying to make a one-hand catch, collided with Pratt. Brown left the field at once, but McInnis, whose left arm was injured, remained in the game until the fourth inning. Shortstop Bysland, formerly of Atlanta, played his first game with St. Louis, while Tomer, who hails from Kentucky, made his American league debut as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning, and fanned. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	300	010	000	4	6	3
Philadelphia	000	000	404x	8	14	2

Batteries — Mitchell, Baumgardner and Alexander; Brown, Pennock, Houck, Bush, Schang and Lapp. Umpire—Hildebrand.

Falkenberg Blanks Champs.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—Cleveland shut out Boston, 2 to 0, yesterday, through the masterful pitching of Falkenberg. Capt. Wagner's hand was spiked by Falkenberg during the third inning and he retired in favor of Janvrin. Wood pitched the final inning. It was Wood's first appearance in the box for several months because of an injury. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

Boston	000	000	000	0	8	1

Batteries—Falkenberg and Carisch; Leonard, Wood and Cady. Umpires—Evans and Ferguson.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Eighteen-Inning Tie.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18.—In one of the greatest games ever played in this city Columbus and Minneapolis yesterday afternoon battled to an 18-inning tie. The game was one of the longest that has been played in the American association in the last two years.

Joe Lake, who has but recently been acquired by the Detroit team, pitched the entire game for Minneapolis and was in wonderful form. Cook started for the Senators, but was taken out in the fourth inning. Although Minneapolis had made no runs off his delivery, they were hitting the ball hard, and he was in hot water all of the time. Ferry, who relieved him, pitched great ball, and shared honors with Lake.

Columbus scored their one run in the first inning. Shelton was safe at first on Altizer's low throw, and stole second. Hinchman sacrificed him to third and he scored on Perring's single over second. For seventeen innings they were blanked.

Minneapolis made their one run in the sixth inning. Smith got a base on balls, but was forced at second by Tannehill. Gerber, in an attempt to complete a double play, threw wild to first and Tannehill went to second. Joe Lake then tied the score with a hot drive to center, scoring Tannehill.

By tieing this game while Indianapolis was taking two from Milwaukee, the locals went into first place by one point. Score:

Columbus—	R.	H.	E.

Minneapolis—

Double for Colonels.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18.—Louisville took both games in the double bill yesterday that marked St. Paul's final appearance for the season on the home grounds. The scores were, 7 to 6 and 5 to 2.

In the first game bunched hits off Gardner gave the visitors the victory, and in the second Loudermilk kept the hits well scattered until he was taken out to permit V. Clemons to bat for him. Clemons made a single and later scored the tieing run. In the ninth Boyle and Weinberg singled and Severeid doubled, scoring both of them, and he scored himself on Burch's infield single. These runs gave Louisville a safe lead. Scores:

First game—			R.	H.	E.
Louisville	100	000	222	7	11	1
St. Paul	000	200	004	6	8	1

Batteries—Northrup and Clemons; Gardner and James. Umpires—Westervelt and Erwin.

Second game—			R.	H.	E.

St. Paul	020	000	000	2	5	2

Batteries—Laudermilk, Powell and Severeid; Brandt and Miller. Umpires—Westervelt and Erwin.

Brewers in Second Place.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—The tailend Indianapolis club dropped Milwaukee into second place by winning both games of a double-header yesterday. The scores were, 4 to 2 and 3 to 2. In the opening game, Cutting weakened in the sixth and the visitors went into the lead. Merz pitched fine ball after the third inning. Young pitched good ball in the second game, but two errors bunched with two hits, and a doubtful decision by Murray gave the tail-enders two runs in the seventh, putting them in the lead. They scored again in the eighth on a trio of singles. Laroy pitched fine ball. Scores:

First game—			R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	101	000	000	2	4	0
Indianapolis	000	010	201	0	4	11	1

Batteries — Cutting, Braun and Hughes; Merz and Livingston. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Second game—			R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	010	000	010	2	6	2
Indianapolis	000	000	210	3	10	0

Batteries—Young and Marshall; Laroy and Casey. Umpires—Connolly and Murray.

Kaws Defeat Hens.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18.—Kansas City took the last game on the home grounds this season by defeating Toledo, 7 to 5. Allison pitched well and kept the visitors' hits scattered, except in the seventh inning when Toledo scored four runs. The grounds were muddy and neither team showed much life.

Kansas City got away to a two-run lead in the initial inning on doubles by Rath and Bower, a sacrifice and a wild pitch. Toledo scored in the second on Burns' double and Bluhm's single. The locals added one in the third on Mattick's single, two infield outs and a double steal. In the fifth Rath walked and Downey singled. Rath stole third and scored when Kirke failed to cover the bag on Bassler's perfect throw, Downey going to second. Compton's single scored Downey. Two more locals crossed the plate in the sixth, when Rath singled with the bases full.

Bassler's double, Jones' single, a base on balls, an error, Gardner's single, and Kirke's Texas leaguer netted four runs for Toledo in the seventh. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toledo	010	000	400	5	11	4
Kansas City	201	020	00x	7	9	4

Batteries—Dashner, Brenton and Bassler; Allison and Moore. Umpires—Johnstone and O'Brien.

FOOTBALL NOW A SPECIAL STUDY

Wesleyan University May Now Score Touchdown on Yale Some Day.

Middletown, Conn., Sept. 18.—Football has been advanced to the dignity of a "special study" at Wesleyan university this year. The faculty announcement made at the opening exercises today included this statement and assigned Daniel Hutchinson of the University of Pennsylvania as special football instructor, assitsed by Dr. Fauver, professor of physical education.

Hutchinson has begun driving the candidates hard in preparation for the game with Yale next Wednesday.

ADAMS TEAM WILL MEET TIGERS

City Football Season Will Be Opened Sunday Afternoon.

Sunday afternoon the Adams football team will open the city football season at the Head of the Lakes, when the eleven will play against the Tigers at Athletic park.

Manager John Geitsman of the Adams team, stated this morning that the West end players have been practicing hard for the past few days and that a strong line-up is expected for the game Sunday.

Manager Geistman is planning to spring several surprises in the way of new players this fall and is therefore reticent about announcing the line-up for Sunday's game. He is now in communication with several amateur players in this section of the state and it is probable that the Adams eleven will be greatly strengthened within the next two weeks.

The game Sunday will be called at 3 o'clock.

CANDIDATES FOR CENTRAL HIGH'S LINE, PRACTISING SIGNAL WORK

GLOBE GIRDLING TOUR WILL COST HUGE SUM

Steamship Company Alone Will Draw $44,800 for Transporting Ball Players.

One-half of the money to cover the transportation of the globe-girdling White Sox and Giants from Vancouver to Port Said has been delivered into the keeping of the steamship company which has contracted to carry seventy-five tourists to the Far East. Several weeks ago the first installment—$11,200—was paid by President Comiskey of the Sox and Manager McGraw of the Giants. At a second meeting of these baseball men yesterday another check was written for $11,200. On Oct. 10 the third and last payment of

CHARLES A. COMISKEY.

$22,400 will be made, the total amount, $44,800, to be applied toward the expenses of the party to Port Said.

That this colossal undertaking is one in which a fortune must be expended to carry out the plans laid down by the promoting forces is evident from the fact that both Comiskey and McGraw will be prepared to write additional checks for $100,000 more to defray expenses from Port Said through the last laps of the world tour.

According to information advanced yesterday by President Comiskey, there will be fifty persons in his party when the steamboat sails from Vancouver Nov. 19. The New York delegation will number twenty-five.

REPORTS FROM THE FOOTBALL CAMPS

Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18.—With only three of last year's team on hand, Coach Yost inaugurated the Wolverines' training season with two practice sessions. Twenty-seven of the thirty-three candidates who were expected to be present were on hand, but of the "M" men only Capt. Patterson, "Squip" Horbett and Jim Ransford showed up. In addition to the punting and passing, two teams were formed and for a half hour they ran through some simple formations.

Capt. Patterson looks bigger than ever this season. He had recovered from the injuries which prevented his best work in the big games last year, and he is confident of playing a vastly improved game this season. Among the new men who looked good in the opening workout was Meade, a member of the reserve squad last season. He put in a half hour or more punting. He kicks a long, high spiral which is particularly hard to handle, and if he can get them away during a game in the form he displayed this afternoon he will be a valuable man on the squad.

Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18—The first of the football candidates of the 1913 season at the University of Wisconsin arrived in Madison today ready for work. Practice under regular coaches will not begin until Saturday, by the conference rulings, but the men may do as much cavorting around on their own time as they want to. The lower campus and Camp Randall will be the scene of the pre-season rehearsing, and there will be plenty of the faithful on the side lines to scrutinize the early work of the Badger hopefuls. The loss of Bellows and Hinman by their failure to return is giving more concern to the coaches than was first thought. Bellows was the best bet for the quarterback position vacated by Eddie Gillette and Hinman was calculated to fill Van Riper's place at halfback. To this extent the prospects for the team are not the brightest.

William D. Richardson, the new manager of athletics, sent letters to eighty football men and about forty are expected to be on hand by Saturday.

WELSH MUST HAVE GOOD PRESS AGENT

English Boxer Will "Knock Out" Imaginary Opponent at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 18.—Freddie Welsh, British lightweight champion, proposes to "shadow box" himself into the world's championship here next Saturday afternoon, the day he was to have fought Willie Ritchie for the latter's title.

After disposing of his imaginary opponent, Welsh said yesterday, he will demand Ritchie's forfeit, proclaim himself world's champion and attempt to collect damages from Ritchie for several remunerative matches Welsh declares he has lost through waiting for the champion.

This is the British boxer's announced program for Saturday:

Weigh in at 2:15 p. m. at 135 pounds; hop through the ropes at the arena an hour later; shadow box an imaginary Ritchie; land an imaginary knockout; declare himself world's champion; visit his lawyers and make a claim for the $2,500 forfeit money.

Ritchie's forfeit was posted as a check on which he stopped payment before he left for San Francisco.

MILLERS LEAD IN ASSOCIATION

Cantillon's Men Sent to Front By Defeat of Milwaukee.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—With the close of the American association baseball season only twelve days away, Minneapolis yesterday assumed the lead in the pennant race by holding Columbus to an 18-inning tie, 1 to 1, while Milwaukee lost two games to the last team in the race, Indianapolis.

Milwaukee had been in the lead for some time, and at one time, had such a commanding advantage that the victory was all but conceded to the Wisconsin team. Minneapolis, which won the honors last season, began to gain recently, while Milwaukee lost repeatedly.

Including yesterday's games, Milwaukee has won 90 and lost 62 and has twelve more games to play. Minneapolis has won 92 and lost 63, having only nine contests left. Milwaukee's percentage of games won is .592, while that of Minneapolis is .593.

While Columbus, with 87 games won and 67 lost, still has a possible chance of winning the championship, and Louisville, with 84 won and 68 lost, might, by a rare chance be a contender, the race apparently will be close between the two leaders until the season closes on Sept. 29. Milwaukee and Minneapolis have no more games scheduled with each other. Neither has any more games at home. Milwaukee closes at Louisville and Minneapolis at Columbus.

SEVEN AMATEURS REMAIN IN PLAY

Championship Round Begins in Open Tournament at Brookline.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 18.—With Wilfrid E. Reid of England setting the pace, championship golf began in earnest at the Country club today. A warm rain was drenching the links as the little Englishman drove off.

An hour later Harry Vardon of England and the favorite for the championship this year, left the first tee, but it was almost noon before Louis Tellier of France, and Edward Ray of England, the last of the foreigners, began their initial rounds.

Before the field of sixty-four players who had survived the two qualifying rounds lay more than fourteen miles of the rough Country club course.

The round of the Country course is a trifle under three and three fifth miles to be played twice today and tomorrow. For the golfer, professional or amateur, who plays this stretch of country and holes out the sevnety-two four-inch cups in the least number of strokes, the championship cup awaits. With the honor will go $300 in cash or a gold medal. H. H. Hilton of England is the only amateur who has ever won an open championship either here or abroad.

When the championship round began today there were seven non-professional golfers in the running.

TONY CAPONI EASY FOR JACK DILLON.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 18.—Jack Dillon, Indianapolis middleweight, defeated Tony Caponi, Chicago, in the eighth round of their scheduled twelve-round fight here last night. After putting Caponi to the floor in the seventh with a hard blow to the head, the Indianapolis boxer, early in the next round, finished the Chicago man with a short right to the point of the jaw, which sent Caponi down and out. He had to be carried to his corner.

Dillon took the offensive early in the fight, which he continued to the finish.

SIX EVENTS ON DETROIT RACE CARD.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—Because rain postponed yesterday's program which included two events left over from Tuesday there were six races scheduled to be run off at the Grand Circuit harness meeting at the state fair today. These included the principal events of the week—the Michigan stake of $10,000 for 2:15 trotters, and the 2:12 pace, purse $5,000. The track was still muddy and no record-breaking performances were expected.

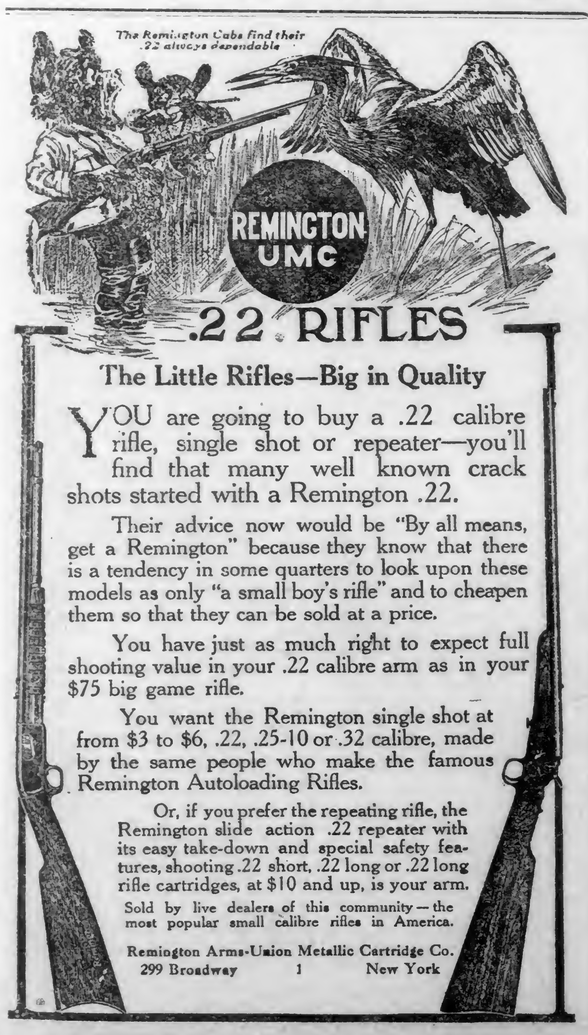

The other races carded were a 2:20 pace, 2:08 pace, 2:14 pace and the Michigan Breeders' Futurity for 3-year-old trotters.

KILLS WIFE, MAN FRIEND AND SELF.

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Joseph Bujecek of Farmington, W. Va., last night killed his wife, killed a man friend and committed suicide. Domestic trouble was responsible.

TWELVE KILLED IN FRENCH ACCIDENT.

Nice, France, Sept. 18.—Three electric cars filled with passengers, while passing over a bridge last evening near the village of Villeneu Houbet, between Grasse and Cagnes, jumped the rails and fell forty feet into a ravine. Twelve persons were killed and thirty injured.

.22 RIFLES

The Little Rifles—Big in Quality

YOU are going to buy a .22 calibre rifle, single shot or repeater—you'll find that many well known crack shots started with a Remington .22.

Their advice now would be "By all means, get a Remington" because they know that there is a tendency in some quarters to look upon these models as only "a small boy's rifle" and to cheapen them so that they can be sold at a price.

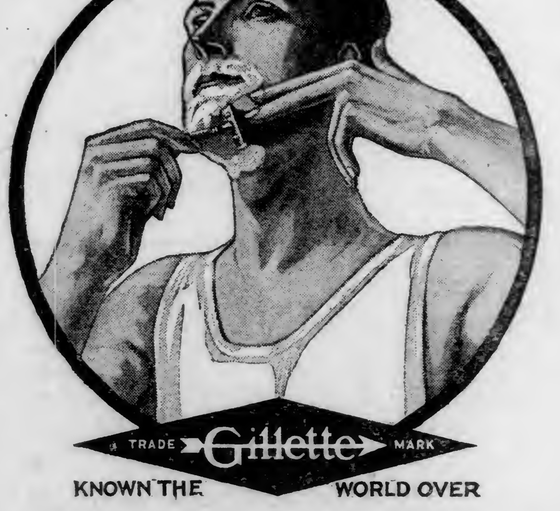

You have just as much right to expect full shooting value in your .22 calibre arm as in your $75 big game rifle.

You want the Remington single shot at from $3 to $6, .22, .25-10 or .32 calibre, made by the same people who make the famous Remington Autoloading Rifles.

Or, if you prefer the repeating rifle, the Remington slide action .22 repeater with its easy take-down and special safety features, shooting .22 short, .22 long or .22 long rifle cartridges, at $10 and up, is your arm.

Sold by live dealers of this community—the most popular small calibre rifles in America.

EIGHT DIE IN ITASCA MINES

Year's Casualty List Reported By County Inspector.

Total Number of Accidents Was 275—Conditions Are Improving.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual report of Mine Inspector P. L. Ramquist, covering the mines of Itasca county for the year ending June 30, 1913, has just been submitted to the county board, and present some interesting figures.

Inspector Ramquist reports that only eight fatalities occurred in the mines of the county during the past year, which considering that 5,464,649 tons of ore were shipped, is believed to compare favorably with any district in the country. The total number of accidents, most of which were trivial, was 275. Of this number 38 were serious. The Canisteo mine led the list with 121 accidents, with the Mississippi mine second with 51. The Canisteo employed 569 men and the Mississippi 205. The total number of men employed at mining in the county is 2,306.

In his report Inspector Ramquist says: "The work of accident prevention by the mining companies in our county deserves a word. Most of the companies, especially the Oliver Iron Mining company, spare no expense in installing safety appliances on their machinery and otherwise safeguarding their men. Safety committees have been organized in many mines, whose duty it is to inspect the workings at frequent intervals. On their inspection trips they note violations of rules, confer about accidents that occurred previous to the trip, and work out measures for their prevention.

"Labor in the iron mines of Itasca county is contented and prosperous. About Feb. 1, 1913, the companies voluntarily increased the wages of common laber from $2.10 to $2.25, with corresponding increases for other classes of labor. The men appear to be on good terms with the mine managements. We have not been troubled with strikes and labor turmoils that beset other regions.

"The new year promises well for Itasca county. Great activity has been going on in explorations of new ore bodies and in development of new mines. The western end of Mesaba range, which for so long seemed to end at Coleraine, is now definitely extended to Grand Rapids and west of the Mississippi river. The outlook is most promising for an increased valuation, greater demand for labor and a great increase in ore shipment."

CRIME CALENDAR HEAVY ON RANGE

District Court Has Much Work Ahead—Friday to to Be Sentence Day.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The district court is grinding fast on criminal work but owing to the large number of cases to be tried it will be two weeks before all are out of the way. There are already nine awaiting sentence and these will be taken into court for sentence Friday.

The jury, after considering the case for about one hour, found John Wilson, whose real name is said to be John O'Connell, guilty of committing an assault upon Mrs. Vodro Simon, a Syrian woman, who has peddled in the range towns for several years. The offense was committed near Buhl a few weeks ago.

The case of Bettie Wuerness and Jacob Kantafa charged with illegally living together as husband and wife in Virginia, was commenced Wednesday afternoon and will go to the jury early Thursday.

The cases of Alex Dobleski and Matt Bartol are expected to be finished before court adjourns for the week Friday.

RAILROAD MUST MAKE A REFUND

Itasca Lumber Co. Wins Suit for Excess Freight Charges.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The petit jury this morning returned a verdict of $5,650.43 for the plaintiff in the case of J. C. Sullivan et al, doing business as the Three J Lumber company, against the Minneapolis and Rainy River Railroad company. The case has been in hearing since last Monday, and the suit was brought to recover excess freight charges on cars for logs shipped to the company from the North.

The case taken up this morning at the opening of court was that of Frank F. Seaman against the Minneapolis & Rainy River railway on similar charges, the sum named as damages being somewhat in excess of $4,000.

CHISHOLM NIGHT SCHOOL TO REOPEN

Success in Previous Year Shows Institution Is Desirable.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A night school will again be instituted by the local board this season. The records for this work during the past year fully justify the action of the board. The attendance, mostly men over 21, last year numbered over 300. Two hundred and seventy-six of these were over age and when they began could not speak a word of English.

The course this season will include English, domestic science, manual training, commercial work, bookkeeping and shortland. Supt. Vaugh is a strong advocate of night school work and has the hearty support of the board.

A recent tabulation of school records indicates that the Chisholm school enrollment is growing very fast. The last census discloses that 1,525 are enrolled upon the records this year, a large number over 16 years of age.

RANGE FARMERS TO HAVE FINE SCHOOL.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for building the new school building in the Farmstead section, in the Pike river district, has been awarded by the school board to Andrew Grande of Virginia, the contract price being $9,413. The site is several miles from the city, but is in the Virginia school district. The structure will be much like the Farmstead building already erected and will have living rooms for the teachers with well-equipped cooking and dining rooms. The living quarters are essential to these schools for the reason that teachers cannot find suitable places to live nearby.

MILLIONS OF LOGS ON WAY TO MILLS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mississippi river log drive is on, and the logs are floating down over the dam in good shape. While the drive is small as compared with those sent down in the days when the North country was young, yet there is about 45,000,000 logs in the one this year.

The drive is in charge of Kennedy & Klement of this village, whose responsibility ends when the logs go over the Pokegama dam.

Build Cement Bridge.

Ely, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Workmen of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad are busy building a cement bridge over the river at Long and Fall lakes, between here and Winton. The river at that point is not wide, and but short spans are required.

Tower, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tower and Soudan schools begin the fall term with one of the largest enrollments in several years, the tolls today showing that 750 pupils are registered. The recently completed census shows that there are 506 children between the ages of 6 and 16 years in the two towns.

George E. Vincent, president of the state university, has sent assurances that the high school in District No. 5 is on the accredited list at the university.

CHISHOLM REACHES OUT FOR CONVENTION

National Slavonic Society May Meet in Mesaba Range Town.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Petrich, Frank Gouze and the other delegates representing Chisholm at the National South Slavonic Catholic union, recently held in Pittsburg, Pa., have returned and give a very favorable report of their efforts to secure the convention for Chisholm for the year 1916. These gentlemen held important committee appointments which placed them in position to do some very effective work.

The by-laws were this year amended so that three towns are placed in nomination for the convention and the towns chosen are Lorain, Ohio, Joliet, Ill., and Chisholm. The reason for the new amendment is that in case the town finally selected should be affected by the mines closing, one of the others can be chosen and the delegates not subjected to visiting a dead place. The local delegates were assured that Chisholm held the best chance of securing the convention, but according to the new ruling the naming of the convention city will not take place until Jan. 6, 1916, or about six months prior to the convention.

BLIND-PIG CHARGE FOR POSTMASTER

Itasca County Stamp-Pounder Indicted By Grand Jury.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Finnick, postmaster at Spring Lake, was brought here and arraigned yesterday afternoon, on an indictment made by the grand jury at their sitting last week, charging him with selling liquor without a license. He pleaded not guilty, and was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

While it was understood at the time the grand jury was excused that a fifth indictment had been found during the sitting, no public statement was issued, since Finnick was not in custody. Officers went to Spring Lake and brought their man in.

It is claimed that Finnick was in the habit of disposing of hard cider to certain of his postoffice callers, and that the cider was of a most superior quality. Indeed it was so good, that the effect upon those who drank it is said to resemble that of an overdose of the stuff sold by saloons and an investigation was made. The case will probably come up for trial next week, after the more important criminal cases have been taken care of.

EXTEND CHISHOLM WATER SYSTEM.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board last evening ordered half a mile of mains laid this season in various parts of town and directed the superintendent of water works to push the laying of the feed main from the Monroe mine so that the work would not lap over into frozen weather.

Superintendent Sullivan and Engineer Lang were authorized to prepare a sketch and blue print of necessary improvements in the pumping station building which will allow for suitable office quarters and leave a room where laboratory work can be carried on. Plans for the Monroe pump house will also be prepared and the work started.

Bids for material for the construction of a clear well which will be located on the corner of Walnut street and Central avenue, the excavation of which is already under way, were opened and contracts awarded.

VIRGINIA PASTOR PLANS TO GO WEST.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Thomas Grice, pastor of the M. E. church, who has tendered his resignation, has asked that he be transferred to a Western conference and expects to have his wish granted and to leave within a few weeks for the new field of work. Mr. Grice has been invited to return at a large advance in salary, but he has stated that he believes the work he came to Virginia one year ago to do has been done, also that after recommending to the people of the church that they obtain a high priced man, he could not consistently accept the place himself.

RAPIDS WOMAN IS VERY LOW AT ELY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The critical illness at Ely of Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, wife of Dr. Carpenter of that town is reported here. The Carpenters made their home here for a number of years, leaving the first of July.

They have had much trouble within the last few month. For some time the doctor was very ill with appendicitis, after which Mrs. Carpenter was stricken for several weeks with the same disease. Following that the doctor was taken with typhoid, and his recovery was not expected. Since moving to Ely the two youngest children have been very ill, and are only recently convalescent.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

Cool weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:50 and it will set at 6:15 this evening, giving twelve hours and twenty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Hot weather prevailed Wednesday in Nevada, Arizona and Southern California. At San Diego the maximum temperature of 110 deg. considerably exceeded all previous records. Further rains fell over Central, Southern and Eastern states, precipitation being rather heavy in Eastern Tennessee and Southeastern Texas. Rains also fell over British Columbia and Alberta. Indications favor a continuance of fair weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. Magnusson a resident of Chisholm, who spends his summers at his farm, came to town last evening with a badly lacerated hand, caused by a horse. The animal managed to get his shoe on the palm of Mr. Magnusson's hand and cut a gash the full length of the hand to the wrist, making it necessary for a surgeon to dress the wound. He will be without the use of his hand for several weeks.

Grand Rapids, Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Paul Rigdon of Omaha, Neb., who is spending some time as the guest of the Sherman family at their home on Horseshoe lake, is recovering from painful injuries received while riding with the family. The Shermans and Mrs. Rigdon had been out driving, and as the rig turned into the yard at the Sherman home, the buck seat of the wagon collapsed, letting Mrs. Rigdon out backwards. She struck on her head and shoulders, dislocating her left shoulder and badly bruising her head. Medical aid was sent from town, and she is reported as getting along nicely today.

The court appointed Attorney Austin yesterday, Bartol not being able to provide an attorney for himself.

Hog Cholera Menacing.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—James J. Hayes, who conducts a dairy and hog farm adjoining the village, is experiencing difficulty with hog cholera. This is the second visit to Mr. Hayes' herd within two years, his former loss running close to $2,000. The disease now threatens to exterminate his entire pen if he is not able to check it. Mr. Hayes and veterinarians have been fighting the disease with every known remedy for a week and prior to yesterday were able to confine it to the young spring stock, but yesterday it developed in some of the brood sows. Fourteen hogs have died so far this season.

CURRENCY BILL

sideration before the banking committee awaits it. It probably will be some weeks before the measure is reported to the senate, where further debate is expected to delay the final passage of the bill.

An eleventh-hour revolt from the will of the caucus and the leadership of the banking and currency committee, spread among Democrats late yesterday and threatened for a time to reach serious proportions, but the party leaders got the situation in hand again.

Worried the Leaders.

Chairman Glass of the committee and other leaders who sided with him were plainly worried, and their predicament afforded unconcealed amusement to the Republicans and particularly to Progressive Leader Murdock. The revolt lasted through many speeches on the Democratic side, several from across the aisle, and one vote on which more Democrats deserted the committee than had left its standard on any of the mooted questions brought up before.

The amendment by Representative Fess of Ohio, designed to maintain all legal money at a parity and insure the retention of the gold standard, caused all the trouble. Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi was the first to announce that, with such an amendment tacked to the bill, he would bolt the caucus and vote against it.

"I will never vote for it," he shouted, "for I am an honest man."

Wingo Charged "Politics."

"I challenge the right of the committee to bring in such an amendment as this," said Representative Wingo. "Somebody is figuring politics and trying to humiliate four-fifths of the Democratic party. It is useless—it is childish."

Representative Murray of Oklahoma declared that it was an insult to Democrats to indorse such an amendment.

"I want to say now," he shouted, walking toward the Democratic committee table, "that the people of this country will not follow you to the polls next November on this issue."

Representative Shirley poured oil on the troubled waters, only to have them stirred up again a moment later by Representative Murdock. Mr. Shirley said the amendment could do no harm, and might do good, and that it was time for Democrats to forget what was behind and reckon with what was before.

"The Republicans are playing politics with you," was the taunt of Mr. Murdock. "They propose to get a separate vote on the amendment and the bill in the house and put the Democrats on record. It is a trap they are asking you to walk into—if you want to walk into it, go ahead."

At the conclusion of Mr. Murdock's speech Representative Wingo announced that he would demand the separate votes on the amendment and the bill. The Democrats paid little heed to the "warning" and the vote stood 104 to 38 for the amendment.

In the house today, Mr. Wingo demanded a record vote on the so-called gold standard amendment, and on a division, 168 Democrats and Republicans voted for it and 45 Democrats voted against it. A roll call was ordered. The roll call changed the vote to 298 in favor of the amendment to 69 against it. All those voting "no" were Democrats.

The Progressives offered a motion to recommit the bill to the committee with instructions to incorporate a provision to prohibit interlocking directorates in national banks. It was defeated 208 to 71.

Burton Attacks Bill.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 18.—Members of the American Institute of Bankers, in annual session here, today heard Senator Theodore E. Burton attack the Democratic currency bill, pending in congress. The senator condemned the regional reserve bank plan proposed in the bill, but his criticism was aimed chiefly at the provision authorizing the Federal reserve board to control the issuance of currency.

"It is based on an erroneous idea," he said; "namely, that a government or political organization may properly assume the providing of a supply of paper currency, directly or indirectly. It is proposed that the government shall assume, in the first instance, the redemption of all circulating notes. This should be left to the banks exclusively. It might be necessary for the treasury itself to maintain a gold reserve as is now held for the redemption of greenbacks.

Fears for Government Credit.

"The proposed plan would cause no derangement in times of fair weather, but in times of panic or crisis, the obligation of the government to redeem circulating notes would be most burdensome and might seriously impair its credit.

"The right to fix the amount and time of issue is equally objectionable. The transactions of borrower and lender and the relations between banks and their customers will settle the question if left alone. This, however, does not mean the absence of a very essential field for government supervision and regulation."

Discussing the plan to put the reserve bank system under the control of a Federal reserve board, composed of the secretaries of the treasury and agriculture, the comptroller of the currency and four others named by the president, Senator Burton said:

"Such an organization might at first seem an ideal solution, securing a proper balance between the people and the banks in the all-important field of the management of our finances. But it is the bane of our national life that politics enters all administrative duties. The competition between opposing parties is so keen that those engaged in enterprises do not feel sure that the authority of a political board will not be used for partisan advantage."

As to Central Bank.

Senator Burton said the idea of centralization had been adopted by foreign countries widely remote and different in policies, but added that "there is no doubt a prevalent opinion, which must be respected, which opposes a central bank, and our geographical area is so much greater than that of other countries that a central bank is believed by many to be out of the question."

The senator strongly commended the provisions granting authority to national banks to accept certain classes of paper, the proposed establishment of branches in foreign countries and the recently inserted clause to require reserve banks receiving the circulating notes of other banks to take immediate steps for their redemption.

he was arrested and confessed the murder of Anna Aumuller, hired another apartment in which he presumably planned to conceal himself, has developed from police discoveries.

Evidence was also found linking closer, and for a longer period than had been supposed, the lives of Schmidt and his alleged counterfeiting partner, the unlicensed dentist, Dr. Ernest Muret. The latter, papers found in his office indicated, had left London for some offense committed while practicing medicine there, and had practiced in Chicago under the name of "Dr. Arnold Held," leaving that city and dropping the name of Held some time subsequent to July 1909.

District Attorney Whitman took the Schmidt investigation in hand, and coincidentally the Federal authorities stepped into the case with warrants for Schmidt and Muret, charging that they had in their possession implements with which to make counterfeit money.

Found Baby Garments.

Two suitcases which were found today contained photographs of Miss Aumuller and Schmidt as well as numerous little feminine belongings evidently those of the murdered woman. Baby clothes made up and patiently embroidered and material for many other garments—enough for a complete outfit for an infant—were among the contents of the grips. Some of Schmidt's things were there, too—clothing marked with the name "Van Dyke," one of his eliases; a false mustache and false goatee, and numerous other articles.

Met in Germany.

Inspector Faurot's theory that Muret and Schmidt are kin, was strengthened by the discovery at Muret's apartment of a photograph of him taken at Mainz, Germany, where Schmidt was a priest. Schmidt admitted that he had known Muret in Germany, an admission which contradicted the story of Muret that he had first seen Schmidt less than a year ago.

"The Mad Doctor."

Aschaffenburg, Germany, Sept. 18.—Regarding the reports from New York that Hans Schmidt, the self-confessed murderer, and the dentist, Albert Muret, an alleged counterfeiting accomplice, may possibly be brothers, Schmidt's father declares that he has another son in America. He talked freely of his son's career and said he was known during his Mainz seminary days as "the mad doctor." He began to show signs of insanity seven years ago, and repeatedly made statements from the pulpit, which caused his hearers to laugh.

Schmidt's mother is prostrated by the affair and is pronounced dangerously ill.

At the state experiment station, at Wooster, the crops have averaged, for a term of years, about twice as much to the acre as the usual yield of all grain field in Ohio.

Rheumatism
A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It
In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.
I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

PROMISING TERRITORY

Canadian Twins Enthusiastic Over Prospects of League Baseball.

Team Will Have Ample Backing to Go Through Season.

(BY BRUCE.)

Fort William, Ont., Sept. 18.—The fans here are of the opinion that this town and Port Arthur are going to make good in the Northern league. Several well grounded arguments are given by the business men and those interested in the baseball proposition to support this belief.

Within the next year two factories employing 3,500 men, will be constructed here. The Canadian Car & Foundry company will construct here very soon on land donated by the city, and a subsidiary corporation of the United States Steel company will also have its plant here completed within a year. Business men say these industries would add 20,000 to the population of Fort William and Port Arthur within the next two years.

Plans are being considered at the present time for the construction of a baseball park between the two cities. This, it is believed, would give equal interest to the team in both of the Canadian twins and would result in the drawing of a multitude of fans from both sides of the river that forms the dividing line between Fort William and Port Arthur.

Baseball Outlook Good.

Ray Meehan of St. Paul will be an interested stockholder and on his recent trip to Fort William and Port Arthur he informed the business men that a strong team would be placed here. From the vast amount of interest shown here an outsider can't help but being impressed with the belief that baseball is going to make good here, and that these two towns are going to make a live member of the Northern league.

Within the next year there will be three transcontinental lines here. There is a population of some 45,000 to draw from at the present time, and those who have been knocking at the door of the Northern league for the past year point out that before the opening of the baseball season there will be an increase in the population of at least 10,000 people, as there will be 5,000 laborers brought here before next spring.

Local Capital Interested.

A number of local business men will be financially interested in the team, according to the plans that have been unfolded. There will be sufficient capital to guarantee the payment of any deficits that might arise during the playing season. It is rather certain that Fort William and Port Arthur will enter the Northern league about as well prepared to take care of any of the exigencies of baseball as any franchise holder that has sought entrance to the portals of organized baseball in the history of the game in the Northwest.

To the casual observer it appears that the men behind the Northern league have made no mistake in invading what might be termed virgin baseball territory. Enthusiasm is one of the valuable assets of this country. Semi-professional games, they say here, draw huge crowds, and the lacrosse and cricket contests boast of attendance records that a larger city than either Fort William or Port Arthur could be proud of. The business men of this city figure that Fort William will be a financial winner from the start. However, those who have been boosting the baseball proposition stand willing to pay their way along and men who contemplate putting money behind the baseball proposition declare that these two towns will trail along with organized baseball until the game becomes a live member hereabouts, if it should fail to pay during its first year or perhaps its second season.

There is already some talk of "Lefty" Davis coming here to assume the management of the team. However this is not definite and there will be little known regarding the team until the next meeting of the league directors.

AMERICANS MAKE BETTER SCORES

Five Professionals Beat Mark Set By Vardon and Reid.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 18.—The American professionals proved stronger than their English competitors today in the first round of the American open golf championship on the links of the County club. Up to noon five American players had beaten the scores of Harry Vardon and Wilfrid Reid of the English team, while Edward Wray, who started late, made poor work of the first nine holes.

The leaders in the first rank, up to 1 o'clock, were: Alex Ross, Braeburn and McDonald Smith, Cincinnati, 71; J. Croke, Calumet, 71; W. Hagin, Rochester, 73; J. J. McDermott, Atlantic City, 74; Vardon and Reid were tied for sixth place at 75.

VETERAN GROUND KEEPER DIES.

New York, Sept. 18.—John Murphy, ground keeper of the Polo grounds, known wherever the game is played as a builder and conditioner of baseball diamonds, died suddenly today at his home. He was born in Indianapolis about 70 years ago. Murphy's brother, Patrick, who died suddenly in Indianapolis, not long ago, was a member of the Washington, D. C., club in 1886 and 1887.

PLEADS GUILTY TO STEALING CARPET

Joe Morley Changes Plea and Sentence Is Deferred.

Joe Morley, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, decided to change his plea from not guilty to guilty yesterday and in Judge Fesler's court admitted that he had stolen a carpet from L. W. Palmer, 412 West Third street, on Aug. 27. Sentence was deferred.

Judge Ensign has taken under advisement his decision on a demurrer to an indictment charging W. A. Gagnon of Floodwood with resisting an officer. Gagnon's attorney claimed that the indictment was faulty in that it did not allege that Gagnon knew the man making the arrest was a duly qualified peace officer.

THRONGS AT BARNUM FAIR

Special Train Takes Big Crowd From Duluth and Superior.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Barnum, Minn., Sept. 18.—This is Cloquet day at the Carlton county fair and the special train from Duluth, Superior, Carlton and Cloquet brought 600 visitors to Barnum. The town today resembles a Western mining camp the day after a big gold strike. The streets are crowded with visitors and the hotels and restaurants are doing a land office business.

The fair grounds have been thronged all day and Secretary F. M. Duesler of the Carlton County Agricultural and Industrial association says it is the biggest attendance in the history of the association.

There are 321 exhibitors at the fair and each exhibitor has from one to a dozen exhibits. All the grains, vegetables and stock exhibited is raised in Carlton county.

Besides the exhibits there are entertainment features and the village band is doing its best to contribute to the gala occasion.

MARKET HAS QUIET CLOSE

Wheat Options Fail to Recover Ground Lost Early in Session.

Flax Also Has a Decline as Result of Heavy Receipts.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 18.—The market continued quiet up to the close and all wheat options failed to recover lost ground. September wheat closed ½c off at 87¾c, December ⅝@¾c off at 87⅞c and May ½@⅝c off at 92⅜c bid.

September durum closed ½c off at 85c asked, and December durum closed ½c off at 85½c.

Oats closed ¾c off at 40c, rye was unchanged at 61c and barley was unchanged to 2c off at 54-74c.

December puts are 87¼@87⅜c and calls 87¾c.

Though the market opened strong this morning, there was an early slump and the tendency all through the morning part of the session was downward. Various reasons were assigned for the situation, but the principal factor seemed to be the heavy receipts in the Northwest. Winnipeg was the principal contributor to the increase in receipts. In the three primary centers, Duluth, Winnipeg and Minneapolis, 2,039 cars were reported against 1,276 on the same day a year ago.

The continued fine weather throughout the Northwest was a second factor in forcing prices down in the local market. The losses were comparatively small, however, for the local conditions were offset to some extent by higher cables and crop reports from European wheat centers.

September wheat which held unchanged after the opening for a time had lost ¼c an hour before the closing, being quoted at 87½c. December wheat opened unchanged to ⅛c off, and dropped later to 88⅛c, ⅜-½c off. May wheat opened unchanged to ⅛c up, and dropped to 92⅞-93c, ⅜c off.

September durum opened ⅛c up at 85¼c, and dropped back to ⅛c off at 85c. December durum held steady, opening unchanged at 85⅛c bid, and being quoted an hour before the close at 85¼c asked.

All Flax Options Off.

Flax went off in a quiet market today on heavier receipts and general neglect. September flax closed 1c off at $1.45 asked, October flax 1c off at $1.45 asked, November flax 1¼c off at $1.45 bid and December 1¼c off at $1.42¾ asked.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Weak With Big Receipts and Little Support.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 18.—Moderate pressure and little support added to heavy receipts caused a weak wheat market. September closed ⅞c lower than yesterday, December ⅝@¾c lower and May ⅝@¾c lower. Local elevator stocks increased 370,000 bushels for five days.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Advance in Wheat Is Overcome By Italian Crop News.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Announcement that the Italian wheat crop would exceed the high record of two years ago overcame today an early advance in prices here. Previous advices had indicated a short yield in the southern part of the country. The strength at the outset was credited largely to improved flour business and to smaller receipts Northwest. Opening prices were ⅛c to ¼@⅜c higher. The reaction carried the market a little under last night's level.

Statements that Canadian threshing is being completed much earlier than in former years tended to weaken prices still more. So also did the fact that cars arriving at Minneapolis were not meeting ready sales. The close was heavy, ½@⅝c under last night.

Profit-taking on the part of leading holders wiped out an advance in corn. An excited advance at Liverpool due to rumors that the United States was making large purchases in Argentina had much to do with the upturn at the outset. The market started a shade to ⅜c higher but receded under last night's figures.

Further weakness resulted from the clearing weather. The close was steady at ½@⅝c net decline.

Oats traders went mainly to the buying side until wheat and corn took the downward track. After that, sentiment seemed evenly divided, with prices at a moderate decline.

Provisions were higher all around with hogs. First sales showed a gain of 2½c to 17½c, which was well held.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Heavy Buying of Union Pacific Is the Leading Feature.

Market Closes Strong for the First Time This Week.

New York, Sept. 18.—Intermittent pressure was applied today to the stock market which felt the absence of the sustaining force exerted by recent spectacular movements in certain issues.

Although there was much irregularity in the movement, fluctuations were comparatively narrow. Copper issues reflected the decline in the metal at London. Reading failed to respond to the decidedly favorable showing of the annual report.

Government 2 per cent bonds whose weakness recently has been attributed to the expected influence of currency legislation, were again heavy. They sold at 97, a loss of 1½ on the week. Bonds were easy.

Renewed weakness developed in New Haven in the early trading today. Opening within a fraction of yesterday's low price, the stock gave way rapidly to 85½, a loss of 2½, and the lowest figure in the history of the company. Aside from New Haven there were few changes of importance. Most of the active stocks showed small losses or gains, with no definite tendency. Canadian Pacific lost a point.

Fitful movements were succeeded by a definite trend upward, the bulls having some success in lifting prices after the selling orders had been absorbed. Union Pacific sold a point beyond yesterday's close, and Reading, Canadian Pacific and Rock Island rallied as much. Petroleum shares broke badly, in support showing that California was down 4½ and Mexican 3 points.

The market acted better after speculation quieted. Small buying orders began to make their appearance which ultimately lifted Union Pacific to its highest level. Other popular stocks also rose sharply, with Can and Reading giving indications of renewed pool operations. California Petroleum preferred dropped seven points. Mexican Petroleum rallied four points, more than recovering its losses.

Established dividend-paying railroad stocks were bought, but the specialties moved in a confused manner. Steel was fed out on all rallies and some of the low-priced copper stocks were heavy on the showing up of general speculation in the group. Pittsburg preferred showed considerably more strength than the common, advancing 3 points to 86¾. Canadian Pacific reflected the necessities of the short interest, but fluctuations in the Northwestern shares as a rule were narrow.

The market closed strong. Speculators bought stocks all around the room when they witnessed the heavy accumulation of Union Pacific. The price went to 161½, the best reached since reports of an extra dividend were first circulated. Short covering was large elsewhere, and the market for the first time this week showed strength in the closing hour. Steel, Reading, St. Paul, Lehigh, New York Central and International Metal preferred were among the stocks which moved up smartly.

"NO PUNISHMENT DUE MADERO'S SLAYERS" IS ARMY COURT DECISION

Finding Is Reported After Six Months' Investigation.

Commander of Escort of President Among Those Examined.

Washington Still Expects Elimination of Huerta.

Mexico City, Sept. 19.—The deaths of the late Francisco I. Madero and Vice President Jose Maria Pino Suarez were not brought about by a punishable crime, according to a decision pronounced by the military court here today.

The investigation lasted six months. It was started by the military commandant of the Federal district, immediately on the conclusion of the ten days' battle in the streets of Mexico City last February, which resulted in Provisional President Huerta's coming into power. The result of the commandant's inquiry was forwarded to the permanent tribunal, which continues the examination of witnesses.

Among those called by the court to give evidence was Maj. Francisco Cardenas, who commanded the escort which conveyed President Madero and Vice President Pino Suarez from the national palace to the penitentiary. Two subordinate officers of rural guards and a number of residents in the vicinity of the jail also were examined.

Refugees Tell of Dangers.

New York, Sept. 19.—A dozen American refugees who arrived from Tampico on the steamship Santiago told of the dangers they escaped in Mexico. Mrs. Lillian Gonzales, a widow and a native of Atlantic City, said she was force to flee for her life from San Luis Potosi.

"Bands of rebels threatened my house," said Mrs. Gonzales, "and I had to use firearms several times to protect myself. I do not want to be a murderess, but I had to fire several times at bandits who came too near.

NO PLACE FOR BRIDE AND GROOM BUT JAIL

Chicago Couple Find Other West Salem Lodgings All Taken.

West Salem, Wis., Sept. 19.—"Direct us to the best hotel," said a youthful bridegroom, George Evans of Chicago, as he shook the rice from his hair and hailed the night constable at this village last night.

"Can't do it, Mister," said the constable; "the boardin' house is already chuckful and won't hold another. Only place I can put you is in the calaboose."

There was no other accommodation to be had in town, so the honeymoon couple were escorted to the town jail, where they spent the night in one cell, while a bibulous wayfarer lodged in the other. This morning the friendly constable unlocked the door and the honeymooners proceeded on their way to friends in the country nearby.

Embarrassed by this occurrence, the village board is preparing to pass an ordinance requiring villagers to open their homes to travelers in cases of this kind.

MAYOR'S BODY AT HIS HOME

Private Services for William J. Gaynor Planned for Saturday.

Body Will Lie in State Until Public Funeral Monday.

New York, Sept. 19.—The body of William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, who died at sea, Sept. 10, lay today in the privacy of his Brooklyn home. In a drizzling rain it was lowered at 4 o'clock this morning from the high deck of the liner Lusitania to the city's boat Correction.

Through a mist that lay heavy over the harbor, the Correction steamed an hour and a half later to Pier A, at the Battery. There a picked squad of 100 police, who had stood all night in the rain, formed its escort to Brooklyn.

The funeral ship glided into the harbor and came to anchor at Quarantine at 1:20 o'clock this morning, the American flag at her stern drooping at half mast.

A dozen stalwart sailors carried the body in its heavy lead casket from the mortuary chapel to the deck. The carpet of flowers under which it lay was removed, and only the great American flag, placed over the casket at Liverpool, covered it as a windlass lowered it slowly twenty-five feet down an incline plane to the deck of the Correction.

In Center of Deck.

Aboard the smaller boat the body was taken to a heavily draped cata-

MAY GET NEW RATE CHANGE

Duluth Interested in Case Filed By South Dakota.

Tariffs on Coal Going West From Lakes Are Attacked.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Freight rates on coal, both bituminous and anthracite, shipped over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and other lines from upper Great Lakes points to destinations in the Northwest, particularly in South Dakota, today were attacked before the interstate commerce commission by the state of South Dakota. It was alleged that existing rates were unreasonable, discriminatory and excessive. The commission was asked to readjust them downward on a basis of equity.

Would Affect Duluth.

The traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club is interested in the action filed with the interstate commerce commission in Washington today asking for a reduction in the rates on coal from the Head of the Lakes to South Dakota points. The action was filed by the state of South Dakota.

Through that case, and through the Southwestern merchandise case which has been on file with the commission for some time, the traffic commission hopes to see established on outbound traffic the principles laid down as to inbound traffic in the grain rate case decided last year.

In the grain rate case the commission held that the relation of rates from the grain field to the Head of the Lakes and Lake Michigan ports should fairly reflect the difference in distance. It is said that the same principle, applied to outbound distribution rates, would bring about reductions in the rates on coal and other commodities shipped from Duluth.

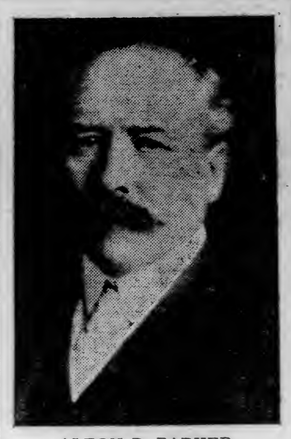

Until a copy of the South Dakota complaint is received in Duluth, its significance cannot be determined, but members of the traffic commission believe that South Dakota people have taken up from that end the effort to obtain better rates from the Head of the Lakes on the same theory on which the traffic commission is working.

SANTA FE CHIEF AND MERCHANT INDICTED

Bribery in Connection With Franchise Charged By Grand Jury.

Sante Fe, N. M., Sept. 19.—A sensation has been caused by the indictment of Chief of Police Armijo, Nathan Salmon, a prominent merchant, and Frank Owen, manager of the Sante Fe Water & Light company, on charges of bribery in connection with the application made recently for the renewal of the franchise of the water company. It is alleged a demand was made on the water company officials for $20,000 to insure favorable action by the city council.

Validity of Impeachment Then Attacked By Defense.

Claim Is Made That Legislature Exceeded Its Powers.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Governor Sulzer's lawyers lost their first fight in the high court of impeachment today when the four senators challenged by the defense were permitted to retain their seats.

The vote which was on the question of whether the court should entertain the challenges, was unanimous against such procedure. The four senators directly concerned, Frawley, Wagner, Ramsperger and Sanner, did not vote.

Read the Articles.

Immediately following the vote of the court, the reading of the long articles of impeachment was begun.

Although Presiding Judge Cullen had the right to decline the question of the qualifications of the senators for holding their seats, he did not take advantage of this prerogative. He first expressed his opinion that the objections were not well grounded, and then permitted the entire court to vote on the issue.

In addressing the court, Judge Cullen said that no court had the right to sit in judgment on any one of its members. In this, he said, a court differed greatly from a jury, the qualifications of members of which might be decided by the courts.

The vote came after a morning of legal argument between Judges Herrick and Parker, representing the defense and the prosecution respectively. Judge Herrick's chief argument was that no man might sit as prosecutor and judge.

Parker Replied.

In reply, Judge Parker said the members of the court were here as representatives of the whole people, that the people established the court of impeachment in the beginning and that none other than the people had a right to remove their representatives.

The scene within the courtroom this morning was vastly different from

PIGEONS FLYING FROM FRISCO TO PITTSBURG.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 19.—Two carrier pigeons freed yesterday here, are winging their way toward Pittsburg, Pa., nearly 3,000 miles, a flight said to be the longest ever attempted by carrier pigeons.

GARRISON IS SENT TO CELL

Sulzer Lieutenant Accused of Contempt By State Assembly.

Effort Is Made to Add to Articles of Impeachment.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Governor Sulzer's personal friend and special graft investigator, James C. Garrison, slept last night in a cell of the Albany county penitentiary. He was remanded to that institution by the sergeant-at-arms of the state assembly for refusing to answer questions put to him by the speaker, following arrest on a charge of contempt. The charge grew out of his alleged statement several weeks ago that four legislators sold their votes on the resolution impeaching Governor Sulzer.

Garrison was a former New York city newspaper man and an ardent supporter of Governor Sulzer. He is said to have been assisting John A. Hennessy, the governor's special investigator, during the last few weeks.

Plans by the Sulzer faction today were to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the supreme court for the release of Garrison. Majority Leader Levy said this morning, however, that such action would be impossible, as the assembly had plenary power to punish for contempt.

Offense Is Unbailable.

The appellate court so held in a similar case several years ago. If the courts should hold this view, Garrison might be kept in prison until next January, when a new legislature convenes. The alleged offense is unbailable, it is said.

The arrest of Garrison came as a climax to a weary evening spent by the assembly in an attempt to round up the seventy-six votes necessary to pass additional articles of impeachment against Governor Sulzer. The body finally adjourned at 2:33 o'clock this morning after an impassioned plea from Majority Leader Levy for a better attendance when the assembly convened at noon today.

Telegrams were rushed to anti-Sulzer assemblymen who are out of the

DODGES UNDERTAKER SENT FOR HIS BODY

Congressman Metz Also Avoids Crowd That Would View Remains.

New York, Sept. 19.—A rumor gained currency last night that Congressman Metz of Brooklyn had been stricken with heart disease on his way here by train from Washington, and when Mr. Metz stepped off the train at the uptown terminal an undertaker's wagon was waiting for his body. A crowd had gathered to do him silent honor.

The representative, who was in perfect health, evaded the crowd without knowing for what purpose it had gathered. No one seems to know who telephoned the undertaker.

MILITIAMAN IS SHOT WHILE ON GUARD DUTY AT ISLE ROYALE MINE

Violence Is Renewed in Strike in Copper Country.

Strikebreakers Arrive to Go Into the Quincy Workings.

Big Demonstration Planned Sunday By the Strikers.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before daylight this morning one of the militiamen at the Isle Royale mine, Private Randolph Harvey, Company A, Second regiment, Kalamazoo, was shot by a striker concealed in the woods, a rifle bullet penetrating his right arm and passing into his body. It is said by the surgeons that Randolph has an even chance for recovery, but they dare not attempt to dislodge the bullet. The woods were scoured, but Randolph's assailant escaped.

This morning in Newtown, near Calumet, four strikers badly beat one man going to work, and attacked deputies who attempted to arrest them. The officers were forced to use their guns to subdue the strikers.

Strikebreakers Arrive.

Strikebreakers run to the Copper country last night by the Quincy Mining company were held outside of the district all night in their train and brought in by daylight. They consist of fifty Italian immigrants, for whom the company has built quarters at the mine. The company has provided an adequate guard. Other large parties are expected in.

Strong guards of deputies and the militia prevented the strikers making any trouble when the strikebreakers were brought in. Gen. Abbey telegraphed the troops in the Portage Lake district to prevent trouble. It is doubted whether any other mining company will handle strikebreakers right now, although it is reported that the Boston offices of the Calumet & Hecla have advised the management they can supply any number needed by these properties.

Plan Demonstration.

A big demonstration is planned by the Western Federation of Miners at Calumet Sunday. The strikers will be addressed by John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Mine Workers.

TWO WOMEN IN SCHMIDT CASE

New York Detectives Are Trying to Trace "Helen Green."

Murderer and Muret Are Believed to Be Cousins.

New York, Sept. 19.—Inspector Faurot announced today that he was looking for another woman in the Schmidt case. He gave no details of what her connection with the matter might be.

The only other woman whose name has thus far been associated with Schmidt's is known as Helen Green, from a letter found in Schmidt's trunk, in which she said she could not live without him. Her name was not signed to the letter, but the address and a telephone number led the police to an apartment house where a woman by that name had lived until about a month previously. There it was said that she had gone to Chicago, and that several letters had been forwarded to her, none of which had come back.

Photos of Death Certificate.

Detectives delving further into the past of Hans Schmidt, the priest who murdered Anna Aumuller, sought today to fathom what was in his mind last April when he photographed the death certificate of Robert Smith, one of his parishioners.

Photographs of this certificate and of blank forms issued by the board of health were found in Schmidt's trunk. The find led the police to believe that the priest either was making preparations then to dispose of the Aumuller girl, or planned other murders.

They questioned him about the certificate today but his answers gave them little information. The priest has evinced a tendency lately to answer all questions with the declaration that he was directed in his acts "by God and Abraham."

Other Killings Planned?

To the belief that Schmidt planned other killings, the police are more inclined, than to the opinion that he was laying plans last April to be rid of the Aumuller girl. They say that a skilled forger like the prisoner would have been able to have the bodies of vic-

"SLIT," LACE YOKE AND HAIR STYLES "BAD"

W. C. T. U. Speaker Also Insists on Night Escorts for Girls.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 19.—"The slit skirt is dreadful and disgracing. It is no wonder that girls stray from the fireside when mothers permit them to wear slit skirts and go unescorted at night."

Thus spoke Mrs. W. H. Little, vice president, at a meeting of the Kansas City district of the Women's Christian Temperance union at the annual convention of the district members.

"The lace yoke waists all open in front and cut low at the neck are as bad as the slit skirt," Mrs. Little added. "So is the way some girls are allowed to fix their hair by covering up their eyes and ears. The face and the hands ought to be seen, but the rest of the body should be fully clothed."

A resolution recommending more fullness in skirts and more clothing on the body was adopted.

Policeman Sent to Prison.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—Pleading guilty to assault with intent to rob, and pointing to his wife and two small children as the primary causes, Hugo Kelling, 29, a member of the Milwaukee police force for six years, was sentenced to three years in the house of correction by Judge Backus.

WAKES HIS FAMILY AT 2 A. M. AND DYNAMITES HIS HOME

Insane Stone Mason Explains "We Will All Die Together."

Wife Escapes Unhurt; All Others Dead or Dying.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19.—In a fit of insanity, Mack Hurst, 50 years old, a stone mason, blew up his home with dynamite early today, killing himself and one daughter, fatally wounding two other daughters and demolishing the house. Mrs. Hurst, in some remarkable manner, escaped.

The dead:
MACK HURST, 50 years old.
MAUD HURST, 16 years old.
Fatally hurt:
Fannie Hurst, 13 years old, one leg blown off, body mangled and almost unrecognizable.
Elizabeth Hurst, 6 years old, body mangled.

But little is known of the tragedy beyond the results.

Woke Family at 2 a. m.

Mrs. Hurst says the man awoke the family at 2 o'clock and told them all to gather in his bedroom. After they had all entered he closed and locked the door and said:

"We will all die together."

Then he picked up a stick of dynamite which was lying on the floor near him, and threw it under the bed.

There was a deafening roar, and Mrs. Hurst remembered nothing more until she came to consciousness at the home of a neighbor, nearly an hour later.

Police and firemen hastened to the scene and at once began a search of the ruins. The bodies of Hurst and his dead daughter were found in a mass of debris at the rear of the home.

The other two daughters were in another part of the ruins. Both were unconscious.

Hurst, who was out of work, had been acting strangely of late.

Frost at Couderay.

Couderay, Wis., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first frost of this season visited this section last night. The damage done was of small account, as corn has been ripe for two weeks past, and the only injury was to tender varieties of late garden truck.

POLICE IN SKIRTS LOSE IN RACE WITH PURSE SNATCHER

Kansas City Officers Have Hard Time on Special Service.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 19.—Two policemen who went forth in the early hours this morning disguised as women in 1914 models, hoping to capture negro purse snatchers "working" in the downtown cafe districts, met their downfall when it came to a foot race with the thieves.

Edgar Wilson and L. C. Morley, the smallest men "on the force," garbed in modish feminine apparel, from small velvet hats with rakish aigrettes to satin shoes and silk hose, took their stand at a transfer corner and giggled as effeminately as they could while ostensibly waiting for a car.

Luck was with them at the start.

A negro slouching down the street seized Wilson's silver mesh purse, containing valuable old keys and washers, and dashed up an alley.

The dainty Wilson called halt in basso, and drew a revolver from somewhere. The negro was oblivious. Wilson and Morley gave chase, but they had reckoned without the sprinting limitations of their garments, and after frequent tumbles on the alley cobblestones, abandoned the pursuit. Three bullets Wilson sent after the negro went wild.

SWISS ARMY PLAYS AT WAR ABOVE CLOUDS

Executes Maneuvers on Peaks Over 10,000 Feet High.

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—A remarkable program of military maneuvers above the clouds was brought to an end today by 600 mountaineers, forming part of the Alpine section of the Swiss army, who have been engaged for some days in a series of movements among the highest peaks of the Alps. The final maneuver was an attack on an imaginary enemy in occupation of the Eggishorn, a mountain 10,000 feet high.

The battalion of 600 hardy Alpinists descended this morning from the Jungfrau Joch, 11,140 feet high, where they had bivouacked in the snow throughout the night. They executed a forced march across the perilous Aletsch glacier during a driving snowstorm without the loss of a single man from fatigue, and concluded the splendid feat by storming the Eggishorn heights.

LITTLE OLD DULUTH IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR THEM

Two Well Known Citizens Return From Lengthy Trips Convinced Zenith City Is Best in America.

After traveling all over the United Stated, two Duluth men have returned to say that this is the best city in the country, after all.

One of these men is Henry Folz, for years in business in Duluth. Mr. Folz left here several years ago and went to the Pacific coast. He lived in the sunny climate on the coast but he got lonesome for a good healthy northwester. He said that wearing a straw hat ten months out of the year was monotonous. He traveled in many other states but he said that the climate here was the best, taking it all the year around.

Mr. Folz has interests in Duluth and he declared his intention of entering business here again. He is determined to make Duluth his home hereafter.

The other man who recently returned to the city is C. E. Bassett. Mr. Bassett took an extended trip through the United States and even went abroad but he said that in all his travels he did not see a city that was superior to Duluth.

He declared that the homes here were of the best in the country and that the grounds could not be beaten. Even Los Angeles, which boasts of a wonderful residence district, was not the equal of Duluth, according to Mr. Bassett, who made the statement that he felt the prospects of Duluth were never as promising as they are now.

CONVICTED OF GRAND LARCENY

Jack Miller Found Guilty of "Rolling" His Companion.

Jack Miller, known to the police of Duluth and Twin Cities as William Deitz, was convicted of the crime of grand larceny in the second degree by a jury which reported to Judge Ensign in district court at 11:40 o'clock this morning. The jury had been out but twenty minutes.

Miller purloined $50 from the person of one John Matti on the evening of July 2 at the Nicollet hotel, where the pair had engaged a room for the night. Miller and Matti were total strangers until they met that evening in a saloon at Superior.

Miller struck up an acquaintance with Matti after the latter had flashed a roll. He even grew so familiar, the testimony disclosed, as to call Matti "father" and "dad." After shaking a few games of dice and putting away a few drinks, they came over to Duluth together on a ferry.

Miller took Matti to the Nicollet hotel, where both registered, Miller taking the name of William Deitz. Matti soon fell asleep when he got into the room. He awoke just in time to see Miller in the act of "rolling" him.

By the time he had recovered his wits, Miller and $60 had disappeared. Matti immediately notified the police and Detectives Toewe and Bradley were sent to investigate. In the first saloon they entered at Superior Matti pointed out his man.

Miller denied the theft to the officers at first, but later handed over the $50, saying that he had taken it from Matti for safe-keeping. Miller was arrested in Minneapolis on a similar offense. At that time he was using the name of William Deitz. He was not convicted by the Minneapolis authorities.

Miller's defense at the trial was that he took the money for safe-keeping. Thomas J. McKeon was his attorney and Warren E. Greene, county attorney, prosecuted the case.

The prisoner will probably be brought before the court next week for sentence.

LOVE OF FINERY BOY'S DOWNFALL

Cashed Worthless Check to Pay for New Clothes.

Numerous girls have gotten into difficulties because they loved pretty clothes and finery but it is seldom that one of the male sex attributes his trouble to reasons of that kind.

Because he liked to "doll up" Melvin D. Bergquist, 19 years old and a business college student, wrote worthless checks. Yesterday afternoon he was arrested on a charge of petty larceny on complaint of Charles Schiller, proprietor of a West First street cigar store.

When arraigned in police court he entered a plea of guilty and his case was set over until this morning for disposition. When Judge Windom asked him today why he had written the check the young man explained that he wanted money for necktles, scarf pins, shows, etc. The court advised him to be more careful in the future, after which he continued the case for six months and placed him under parole with orders to report to Probation Officer Frank Hicks.

Police Prosecutor W. H. Gurnee said that after the matter was called to his attention by Mr. Schiller he took it up with the boy's father, Contractor Andrew Bergquist. The father informed him that the boy had passed a number of checks without having funds in the bank.

Superior

MUST PAY RENT FOR CONDEMNED BUILDING

Fred Lundeen, a saloon keeper was ordered to pay E. F. Randall $25 for rent due for a storeroom at 611 Tower avenue in spite of the fact that the city commission had refused to grant Lundeen a license to operate a saloon at this place and that he has by that reason been unable to occupy the premises. The decision was rendered in the municipal court yesterday afternoon. The place was condemned a year ago by the fire commissionors but according to Lundeen, Randall is said to have made representations that the city commission would allow him to use the place, and thereby induced him to sign a lease for a year. Lundeen got another location later and refused to live up to the other lease.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO TWO HARBORS

Takes Duluth Visitors to the Lake County Fair.

A special train on the Duluth & Iron Range left the Union station at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Two Harbors, where the Lake county fair is being held.

M. M. Hanna, city ticket agent for the Iron Range road, was one of the passengers on the special. Mr. Hanna had been told that the Lake county fair was one of the best in the northern part of the state and he said he was going up to see.

SUNDAY TRAIN IS TAKEN OFF

Soo Line Discontinues Its Extra Service to Cuyuna Range.

The Soo line has taken off its Sunday morning train to Crosby. This train left Duluth at 7:30 a. m., returning in the evening.

The train was an experiment with the Soo road and the experiment did not prove its value after the summer travel dropped off. The train was a paying proposition as long as there was heavy summer traffic but since the schools have opened the travel has decreased.

The change in the Sunday train will not affect the regular daily service.

A city ordinance in Los Angeles compels drivers of automobiles to halt behind street cars as long as the cars are halted.

WANTS SPRAYER FOR CITY TREES

Luther Mendenhall wrote Mayor Prince today suggesting that the city secure a power sprayer for protecting city trees in parks and along the streets.

He pointed out that the trees are now becoming so large that they cannot be adequately treated with hand sprayers. Mr. Mendenhall stated that a power sprayer would cost little and could be utilized for spraying trees of private owners upon payment of a fee sufficient to meet the expense. Mayor Prince considers the suggestion an excellent one and will submit it to the commissioners at the council meeting Monday afternoon. It is thought that a power sprayer could be secured for $200 to $300.

MAKE PLAN STATEWIDE

"Made in Minnesota" Week Suggested By Minneapolis Man.

Minneapolis Has Card Index System for Getting Conventions.

Plans for a statewide "Made in Minnesota" week are suggested by Mac Martin, chairman of the committee on conventions and publicity of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, who is in Duluth today.

Duluth will have its "Made in Duluth" week next week, and Minneapolis has held a "Made in Minneapolis" week. Mr. Martin's plan is for the three large cities of the state to cooperate for a "Made in Minnesota" week.

"For example," said Mr. Martin. "Minneapolis would give space for Duluth and St. Paul exhibits, and Duluth would give space for Twin City exhibits. St. Paul would reciprocate with space for Duluth and Minneapolis exhibits. In this way we would make a statewide week of it. That is the policy the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce has been trying to work on, and I believe it would not only be a great advertising plan, but would result in better feeling between the three big cities of the state.

"Minneapolis is not holding a 'Made in Minneapolis' week this year. It held one last year and will hold another next year. Duluth, I must admit, is going into the plan on a big scale this year, and if I were not such a loyal booster for my home town I might admit Duluth is doing it a little better than Minneapolis did."

Mr. Martin also gave some interesting information regarding the manner in which Minneapolis goes after conventions. Last year Minneapolis entertained 107 conventions with a gross attendance of 200,000 people. The committee estimates that each convention visitor stays four days and spends $5 a day, or an average of $20, making a total of $4,000,000 spent in Minneapolis. This was done on a budget of $8,000.

The committee has a follow-up card index system by which it keeps track of more than 4,000 societies and organizations. The committee members know just when a convention is to be held, and they take steps to secure it through local members of the organization holding the convention.

ODD FELLOWS IN FINAL SESSION

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, began its final session early today, expecting to dispose of all unfinished business before its final adjournment tonight. The work today included the election of officers, which has been looked forward to with much interest by the delegates and visitors all of the week.

Tonight at the Light Guard Armory the prizes will be awarded to the winners in the contests participated in during the week by cantons of the patriarchs militant and degree teams of the subordinate lodges.

The following officers of the international association of past presidents of the Rebekah lodge, were elected at a session last night:

Mrs. Rose McCroskie, Palouse, Wash., president; Mrs. Mae McKinnon, Winnipeg, first vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Cummins, Minneapolis, second vice president; Mrs. L. Marsh, Vermillion, S. D., third vice president; Mrs. Martha Prescott, Laconia, N. H., secretary; Mrs. Emma Talbot, Omaha, treasurer.

The appointive officers were named as follows:

Mrs. Viola Ferguson, Tennessee, chaplain; Mrs. Della Overjohn, Brookfield, Mo., conductor; Mrs. Mae Crowell, Rockford, Ill., marshal; Mrs. Ida Martin, Boise, Idaho, outer guard; Mrs. Case Nichols, Elkhart, Ind., inner guard.

Milwaukee Suicide.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—"All wounds on my body are self inflicted. It is a case of suicide. My head has been working overtime." After writing this message on a slip of paper and then pinning it to his newly purchased suit of clothing, J. W. Powderly, 60 years old, sought out a grassy spot under a tree just south of the city limits today and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Editor Is in Trouble.

Minnewaukan, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Francis X. Kirsh, editor of the Warwick Sentinel, was bound over to the district court yesterday charged with embezzlement. His arrest grew out of a real estate deal. Kirsh, it is said, taking two notes—one for the sale and the other for his commission. It is alleged that one of the notes was not accepted, and that Kirsh increased the value of the other.

CRITICISM OF THE YANKEES

Bitter Tone Is Noticed in the German Papers at Present.

Justice for the Private and Justice for the Officer.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—Veteran American journalists here confirm my impression that the anti-American tone of a big portion of the German press is today more pronounced than for many years before. It appears even in such staid and ordinarily fair organs as the Koelnische Zeitung and the Frankfurter Zeitung, while the references of such papers as the Berlin Post to America and the Americans—who are pretty regularly referred to as Yankees when it is desired to be particularly insulting and superior—are becoming both bitterer and more frequent.

There has been much occasion to note this in connection with the Mexican question and the indictment of Governor Sulzer. Of Sulzer, for example, the Frankfurter Zeitung says: "By the criterion of European conceptions, this is a political scandal of the worst sort. One is reminded involuntarily of the commotion caused on this side of the Atlantic by far more harmless affairs, such, for instance, as the Marconi deal. It is quite otherwise in America. There the people are unable to understand why the European press considers as so earnest an affair in which the Americans take more of a sporting interest, which, indeed, they rather enjoy, because 'something is on again' (dass wieder einmal was los ist)."

What Really Hurts.

This, of course, is a lie, but it would be impolite to say so, so we must content ourselves with thinking it. What hurts, however, is that it appears in the Frankfurter, which probably is, all things considered, the nearest approach to a real newspaper published in Germany.

A comment by the Berlin Boersen-Zeitung on the Sulzer affair is of interest, not because it is anti-American, but because it shows how little even the well-informed press comprehends the Federal system of the United States. The paper explains to its readers: "This delightful spectacle is in the last analysis the public resistance of the possessor of the executive power in a single state to the Federal government at Washington. Governor Sulzer will yield only to force. Thus, he refuses to obey an order of the Federal government, which acts in pursuance of a decision of parliament."

Comment on the Mexican situation has been uniformly unpleasant. From charging, as they did a year or more ago, that the revolution in Mexico was financed with American money the papers have now reached a point where they openly and unashamedly assert that the American government organized and financed the movement, that it compelled Diaz to get out and that Madero was directly chosen by Washington to be president. That the government backed the wrong horse affords a good deal of pleasure to the anti-American press.

Praise From Sir Hurbert.

The United States army, which also was attacked by a writer in the Taegliche Rundschau of Berlin, has found a defender in some German whose name, unfortunately, was not given. The Rundschau published an article declaring that the troop concentration at San Antonio during the main revolution was a "miserable fiasco," and that of the 20,000 men whom it was proposed to mobilize, only 8,000 could be brought together, and that at the expense of great effort. A German who was living in San Antonio at the same time, sent to the Rundschau the next day a letter which makes good reading for Americans. He declared that not only was the full strength planned mobilized, but that it was done in an astoundingly short period, considering the fact that some of the contingents had to cover a distance nearly equal to that from Madrid to St. Petersburg; that every branch of military work was done in an exemplary manner; that the sanitary arrangements reached a point never before reached in an army camp; that the cavalry and artillery horses were unusually good, and that the marksmanship of the troops was amazingly good.

Words of this sort from a German, who, by the tone of his letter, has done military service in the exemplary German army and should know what he is talking about, are praise from Sir Hubert, indeed.

Military Justice.

Two more interesting examples of justice under the German military code are reported this week. Private Schmula of the Twenty-seventh infantry regiment at Halberstadt, angered at being compelled to do extra drill because, according to the sergeant major's ideas, he had not done his regular drill correctly, struck the sergeant major with the barrel of his rifle and then threw the gun away. In the court-martial the prosecutor moved a sentence of ten years and two months' imprisonment. The unfortunate fellow escaped with only seven years and ten months.

Capt. Arthur Koehler of the One Hundred Seventy-sixth infantry regiment at Thorn was sentenced in April to six months' imprisonment in a fortress for having mishandled and maltreated subordinates in more than one hundred instances. He was brought before a court-martial again this week, charged with mishandling subordinates in five instances "under misuse of his weapon." That is, he struck his men with his sword. He was sentenced to stay in his rooms for four weeks. Then he will return with command over men who dare not defend themselves, even against physical attacks from him.

This Village Pays Dividends.

It is not alone the larger German municipalities that serve as examples of city government for the whole world. A report from Klingenberg-on-the-Main, a Bavarian village of some 2,000 inhabitants, shows how municipalities are administered for the benefit of their citizens.

Klingenberg owns and manages forests of considerable extent and also a large pottery, with its clay pits. From this factory the village had a net profit of nearly $100,000 in the last year. It has accumulated a municipal reserve fund of $600,000, its citizens pay only state taxes, there being no municipal taxes, and a dividend of $100 in cash has been paid this month to each citizen of the village.

BEAR FRIGHTENED OFF BY OPENING MUFFLER.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 19.—While returning from a camp meeting to his home in Benton in an automobile, Augustus Oelson was halted by a big black bear, which loomed up suddenly in front of the motorist as his car was speeding through Marshall's Hollow.

Oelson saw the hulk rise in front of his car by the searchlights from the machine, and quickly threw on the emergency brake, bringing his car to a stop only a few feet from the animal.

The lights blinded the bear, and it stood on its hind legs and blinked and winked at the motorist.

When Oelson opened his muffler and raced his engine, the animal took fright and ran with such force against a barb wire fence that it rebounded into the road. It quickly recovered and scampered off into the woods.

WORE DIAMONDS WHEN THE TAX MAN CALLED.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Emil Kiesewetter, a prominent banker and capitalist of the South side, was before the city board of review at the courthouse protesting against the listing of $2,000 in diamonds on the tax duplicate against his wife.

The situation grows out of the activities of John Rasser, an assessor of the section in which the banker resides. When the assessors were making their rounds, Assessor Rasser called at the home of the banker and asked for his personal statement. It was not ready, and Mr. Rasser called several days later and was received by Mrs. Kiesewetter, who was dressed for some social function, and who, he says, was wearing diamond rings and earrings.

When the assessor called again he received the personal statement of Mr. Kiesewetter and noticed that the diamonds he had seen on Mrs. Kiesewetter a few days previously had been omitted. He filed a supplimental return with the board of review, listing these diamonds at $2,000, and Mr. Kiesewetter was before the board resisting the placing of this return upon the duplicate.

This is a joint discussion on Socialism, to be conducted between Dr. John A. Ryan and Mr. Morris Hillquit in successive issues of Everybody's Magazine. Such an open discussion has never before been conducted on such a tremendous scale and before such a large audience. Its main object is to adequately present to the reading public both sides of a much-mooted social problem and to draw attention to the promise, or menace, of a political movement which is rapidly growing in influence. SITE FOR A NEW ARMORY

City Will Donate Part of Park If Railroad Consents.

Will Remove Necessity for New Water and Light Office.

Provided the consent of the Northern Pacific is forthcoming, the city will donate a part of Lake Shore park at Thirteenth avenue east and London road as a site for the new Armory.

The announcement was made today by Mayor W. I. Prince after an informal meeting of the commission with officers of the Duluth companies of the state militia.

The land which would be deeded for the site forms the eastern end of the park property, the frontage extending a short half block east of a line projected lakewards from Thirteenth avenue. The location is considered excellent and if the arrangements can be made it will solve a problem which has been confronting the local militia companies. The consent of the Northern Pacific is necessary as when the road gave the land to the city it was with the provision that it should be devoted to park purposes. It is not thought that the railroad officials would object to the erection of the Armory as it would in no way interfere with the park and would give the city a desirable public improvement.

The state has made an appropriation for the building, on condition that the five local companies raise $1,000 each, or $5,000 and secure a site which is to be deeded to the state. The city will be unable to give any financial aid but will provide the site if the Northern Pacific assents.

If the new Armory is built at Thirteenth avenue east the present Armory building will likely be turned over to the division of public works and the water and light department. This will relieve a condition that has been giving both of these branches considerable concern. It will give plenty of room for the housing of automobiles, machinery and materials. The commissioners feel that too much money would be required to remodel it for any other purpose.

Mayor Prince said that with the extra room thus provided the water and light department would probably conclude to remain in its present quarters, making it unnecessary to negotiate for a new building. He stated that in view of the fact that it is inevitable that a new city hall must be erected in comparatively few years it would be inadvisable to enter into long leases for any city department.

AMATEUR TIES ENGLISH CRACKS

Francis Ouimet Overtakes Ray and Vardon in Golf Tourney.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 19.—Francis Ouimet, the Boston amateur, overtook Harry Vardon and Ray, the English professionals at the fifty-fourth hole in the American open golf championship at the Country club today. Ouimet covered the 18 holes in 74 strokes, which, with his 151 of yesterday gave him a total of 225. The three players started on equal terms in the final round.

BIG LEAGUER VISITS DULUTH

Catcher Stanage Says Philadelphia Will Win World's Series.

Oscar Stanage, catcher of the Detroit American league baseball team; Thomas Farrell, county clerk of Wayne county, Michigan; Robert Sterling, manager of the St. Claire hotel, Detroit, and R. W. Broadway, cashier of the Pennsylvania depot at Philadelphia, are the members of a party that arrived at Duluth today on the Tionesta.

Stanage, one of the best of the catchers of the American league, is on the hospital list at the present time with a badly split finger. Mr. Farrell is one of the best known men of Detroit and is very prominent in the politics of Wayne county. Mr. Sterling is also one of the best known hotel men of the city of the St. Clair flats.

Catcher Stanage declared today that Connie Mack has one of the greatest teams in baseball outside of the rather uncertain work of the pitchers. He also expressed the belief that the American league would successfully hold the title it has held to the world's championship during the coming conflict for the blue ribbon.

MURDER TWO MEN; ROB JEWELRY STORE

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two robbers, with drawn revolvers, entered the jewelry store of J. J. Thompson early last night, commanded the clerks to throw up their hands, and when they refused, opened fire. John A. Thompson and Ed Smith fell dead and Paul Townsend was probably fatally wounded. The bandits escaped.

The three victims were alone in the store when the robbers entered.

The clerks were placing watches and jewels in the cases for the night when the men, masked, entered and demanded that Townsend, the watch repairer, throw up his hands. Townsend tried to grapple with the men and was shot down. A bullet penetrated his neck. He believes the other employes then rushed to his aid and were killed.

The jewelry store is almost in the heart of the business district, and pedestrians passed by while the robbers were within.

Policemen were attracted by the shooting, but the robbers fled before they arrived.

After Thompson fell mortally wounded one of the robbers snatched from his finger a diamond ring, while the second robber placed the contents of several trays of diamonds in his pockets and rifled the cash register.

Townsend, when he became conscious, gave the authorities a description of the bandits.

WANTS TO KNOW THE CITY'S STAND

Judge Cant Asks for Information About Flood Damages.

Explaining that he has daily been asked by Fond du Lac residents who have filed claims for damages against the city for losses sustained from the overflowing of Mission creek last May, as to the city's intentions, Judge W. A. Cant has written a letter to the city commission to learn what the city intends to do.

He explains that he will be glad to arrange any further meetings should the city officials desire. If the city disclaims responsibility the matter will be settled so far as the commission is concerned and can be taken to the courts. The commission will probably discuss the matter at the regular meeting Monday afternoon.

SUICIDE IS WIFE OF WEST VIRGINIAN.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—Information to the effect that Ada Bowles, who committed suicide here last month and whose body was identified as that of Veronica Bishop of Brooklyn, was the wife of John P Davis, said to be a resident of Charleston, W. Va., has been received by the police.

The police declared their belief in the theory that the girl ended her life as the result of a death pact between herself and Louis Laroque, a New York club man who drowned himself in Long Island sound two weeks prior to her suicide.

New Methodist Churches.

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two new Methodist churches have just been dedicated in this county, being at Woodworth and Vashti. Bishop Luccock and District Superintendent S. A. Danford were in charge of the dedicatory services.

In the construction of a church at Vashti, the Methodists have shown remarkable organization ability. The town is one of the newest in the state. Both towns are located on the new line of the Midland Continental railroad.

NO RELIEF IN THE H. C. OF L.

Produce Market Shows No Marked Changes for the Past Week.

Canning Season Is About Over—New York Apples Are Coming.

The produce market has not changed to any marked extent during the past week, and the high cost of living for the consumer remains just about the same.

The canning and pickling season is about over. There are no more Western blackberries on the market, while gerkins are also almost gone. Ripe cucumbers rose during the week from 85 cents to $1 a basket, dill cucumbers, from $1.10 to $1.25 a basket; pickling onions, from $1.90 to $2 a basket; medium pickling onions, from $2.50 to $2.75 a basket; small pickling onions, $2.90 to $3.25 a basket; red peppers, $2.50 to $3 a basket, and bell peppers, from $1.25 to $1.60 a basket.

Consumers will have their last chance next week to secure peppers for pickling, the supply now being almost sold. The peach season will be over within the next ten days. Next Monday large shipments of New York pears are expected here, and the local produce men expect an exceptionally large sale of the fruit for canning.

Grape Season Here.

Grapes are now arriving in carloads from California, and the season for making wine is about here. Large 20-pound trays are being sold by the produce men to consumers. Most of the local shipments are being sold to range towns, where the foreign population makes large quantities of grape wine for the winter.

Fancy Elberta peaches are selling cheaper at the present time than at any other time in the history of the local produce market, according to one of the local commission men this morning. The peaches are selling from 65 cents to 75 cents a crate, it being a slight reduction from that of last week.

Southern and New York apples will make their first appearance next week, the supply being expected to increase considerably from now on. This practically starts the winter supply of apples, it being the first shipment of any winter fruit and usually means the close of the summer fruit season in this section of the country. The apples are not as cheap as last year, however, but they are not abnormally high.

Melon Season Closing.

The watermelon season is over and the cantaloupes are expected to last but two or three more weeks. The prices of the latter are about the same, $2 a crate for the Colorado pony and jumbo and $2.60 a crate for the Colorado standards.

Green vegetables remain about the same, a rise being reported only in cucumbers, which have gone up from 80 cents a basket to $1.25, and tomatoes, both green and yellow, having risen during the past week.

Fancy red plums are out of the market, while the wild and Damson plums are expected to continue selling until snow flies. The heavy movement is over now, but the price is not expected to go much higher before the supply is out.

Butter and eggs are the same as last week, no rise being reported today. Fresh eggs are still selling for 25 cents a dozen, while butter is on sale at 32 cents a pound. Cheese is higher than usual, owing to the hot weather and the light supply of grass.

Cabbage is selling at a reasonable price, $2 a crate. There is a large supply of it on hand at the present time.

Honduras oranges are now arriving, together with the late Valencias. The price is the same as last week. The navel oranges are expected about Thanksgiving, and according to the advance reports received by the commission men, the season has been excellent and the fruit is the best grown for several years.

Grape Fruit.

The grape fruit season will start the first week of October, when large shipments are expected here from Florida. An exceptionally good season is expected. The banana market is about the same as last week, no change being reported this morning.

There are large quantities of sweet potatoes on the market at present, while more shipments are expected next week from New Jersey. There was a slight rise in potatoes during the past week, from 62 cents to 70 cents a bushel.

Cranberries are expected on the market within a week. They are reported to be of very good quality and color.

There are now arrivals of Brazils, almonds, pecans and all other foreign nuts; also Turkish figs and dates. The first car of new honey was received last week, the article selling at $4 a crate. This is the best price in several years.

A new crop of cider is expected from New York by Oct. 10. The quality this year is reported to be much better, owing to the new filter process which has been adopted by every Eastern manufacturer. The cider is much more clarified this year, according to the advance reports.

The prices of meats are holding up strong, but two slight reductions being reported for the past week. Beef is now selling at 10 to 13 cents, this being a reduction of ½ cent, while lamb has gone down 1 cent during the week, selling from 12 to 14 cents a pound.

Broilers, turkeys and geese are all cheaper this week, while hens are selling at the same price as reported last Friday. Heavy hens are selling at 16 cents and light hens at 14 cents. The broilers are selling this week at 17 cents and geese at 12 cents, this being a reduction of 1 cent in each case. The largest reduction in live poultry during the week is that of turkeys, which have gone down to 15 cents from 20 cents, the price quoted last week.

The poultry market is becoming much better and another slump in prices is expected within the next ten days.

WHERE PAGE WILL LIVE IN GROSVENOR SQUARE

London, Sept. 19.—Although he has not followed the financial pace set by his predecessor, Whitelaw Reid, Dr. Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador, in selecting his London home has been careful to get well within the neighborhood of the English aristocracy. The house at No. 6 Grosvenor square, which he has just taken, is surrounded on all sides by the homes of dukes, marquises, earls, baronets and men of mere millions.

Among the residents of the fifty-one houses that form the square are three dukes, one marquis, two earls, seven barons, three baronets, four members of parliament, five ladies of title and one lord. There are also three legations—the Japanese, the Italian and the Chilian.

Mr. Page will have as his neighbors the duke of Manchester and Lord Farquhar and houses in the square are occupied by the duke of Portland, Earl Fitzwilliam, Lord Strathcona, the duke of Somerset, the marquis of Bath, the earl of Durham, Pierpont Morgan and Jack Joel.

"ON SHELF" AT 49 WITH BIG FORTUNE MADE IN BUSINESS

Life Story of Richard Sears Reads Like a Romance.

Is "Watching Game From the Sidelines"—Charmed With Duluth.

R. W. SEARS.

Almost unawares, Duluth yesterday was visited by one of the most unique figures in the history of commercial activity in the United States.

The man is Richard Warren Sears, aged 49 years, retired. Furthermore, Mr. Sears has been entitled to that "retired" after his name for five years. He dropped out of active business when he was 44 years old and has never resumed it.

Ordinarily when a man retires from business, people think of him as on the shady side of 60, going down the hill toward the grave and retiring only because interest flags and he has no heart for the fight. He is thought of as taking a quiet home somewhere to spend his declining days in peace and comfort, with his old age amply provided for.

Mr. Sears does not fall into that class of retired business men. He is still young and vigorous. He retired when he was at the height of his power. Just when most other business men are fighting to put their business over the line to success, he had reached a point where he felt he could drop out with his name secure as a commercial genius and his fortune ample for his family for all time. For it is whispered that when Mr. Sears retired from the Sears-Roebuck & Co. he took with him into retirement a fortune of fully $25,000,000.

Life a Romance.

Mr. Sears has a wonderful life story. He was born at Stewartville, Minn., Dec. 7, 1863. At 17 years of age he was a railroad clerk. With the optimism of youth, he turned to merchandising. He saw his market, not in any city, but out in the hamlets and on the farms, and began selling small trinkets by advertising in the newspapers. In 1886 when he was 22 years old he started a tiny mail order business in Minneapolis. He showed a genius for organization and advertising. His business gained a reputation. It grew with great strides. In 1890, when Mr. Sears was 36 years old, he organized the firm of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and he was the senior member of the firm until 1895. When the firm became a corporation he became its president, and the headquarters were moved to Chicago. The success of the business in Chicago was even more phenomenal and in 1908 when he retired Mr. Sears left his name with one of the two great mail order houses of the world.

"When you retired did you act upon any general principe that you would apply to other sucessful business men?" Mr. Sears was asked last night.

"No, I dodn't," he said. "I don't think I could advise business men to retire at 44. I retired through accident and when I found myself in retirement, I concluded to stay there. Mrs. Sears suffered a serious accident. For a time I dropped business altogether. I didn't think of anything but my personal affairs. When the time came when I could attend to business again, I found I didn't want to. I am on the shelf. I'm young, perhaps, as retired men go, but I like it. If the time should ever come when I feel like taking up the reins again, I feel that I can."

Mr. Sears wouldn't talk about business, mail order or otherwise.

"I'm out of business; I'm on the shelf," he said. "I'm watching the game from the sidelines, and I'm not watching it any too closely. While I retain the chairmanship of the board of directors of Sears, Roebuck & Co., I'm not active and not in intimate touch with the trend of business, and I'm in no position to comment on it.

"I will comment on Duluth. I am charmed. I have been here several times before but I never had such an opportunity to see the city as I had today. You have a wonderful, growing, prosperous city. Your residence district especially impressed me. You have a city of beautiful homes here—more beautiful homes than I have ever seen in a city of this size."

An Expensive Farmer.

"Who's Who," says Mr. Sears has given his time to farming since his retirement. When the subject was broached, it was easy to see that Mr. Sears takes a keen interest in his farm, though he speaks of it in a jocular vein.

"You know, I'm one of those expensive farmers," he said. "If no farm paid any more than mine does, the farmers would all have to go out of business and go to making a living. I have a farm forty miles from Chicago. I spend a good part of my time there and I enjoy myself, but it certainly is expensive. I'm learning, but it's lucky for me that I don't have to depend upon my farm for a living. I like the farm, though, and I like to make experiments on it. That's why it's so expensive. If I just went about farming, without trying too many experiments, I would probably make money out of it. As it is, I've been sinking money in that farm for years, and now I've just got it to a point where is breaks even. I'm a farmer, but I'm no model to other farmers"

Mrs. Sears is a sister of Mrs. R. R. Forward, 2701 West Fourth street, and Mr. and Mrs. Sears were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Ferward. They left last night for Minneapolis and from there will return to Chicago.

NEW CURLING RINK FOR GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks Curling Rink association will construct a rink at $10,000, and the committee in charge is now engaged selling stock in the enterprise.

The rink will be erected in time for the winter season, and Grand Forks will hold a big bonspiel, probably in January. There are a large number of rinks in the northeastern part of the state, including Drayton, Hensel, St. Thomas, Bowesmount and several other points.

Plans for the local building have already been made and the site has been purchased.

Senate Confirms Diplomats.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of Preston McGoodwin of Oklahoma to be minister to Venezuela, after a long contest against him by Republicans. The senate also confirmed a long list of consular appointments, including that of Alexander M. Thackera as consul general to Paris.

Warm Floors and Healthy Children Make Happy Homes

There is no better way for you to avoid worry and expense than by insuring your children's health.

Warm floors in the home, which is the children's play house in winter, are assured when using Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater.

The steel base and body construction allows the heat to be radiated to the floor keeping it warm during the coldest weather.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater
The Cleanest—Easiest to Care For Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal, Crushed Coke, Wood and Cobs.

Users of coal must remember that the ordinary heater is a big care to operate. That its smoke and ashes entail dusting, curtain washing and carpet sweeping. Think then of the ease of operation and the cleanliness of Cole's Hot Blast.

Cole's Hot Blast has a guaranteed smoke-proof feed door—open the feed door and the current of air draws the smoke directly across the top of stove to the stove pipe—away from the opening. Contrast this simple, cleanly feed with the side door in an ordinary heater. The side door used on other stoves permits escape of dirty smoke, unpleasant gas and accumulated soot drops from it. If you overfill a side door stove, coal falls to the floor. And note this, you cannot make a side door heater air-tight—an everlasting advantage in favor of Cole's Hot Blast which is air-tight and guaranteed to remain so always.

No fires to build—the fire is never out in this remarkable heater from fall until taken down in the spring.

Better select one today—surely it is the heater you need—

MISSIONS IN DIPLOMACY

Japan's Part in Recent World's Sunday School Convention.

That It Will Influence American Sentiment Is Prediction.

New York, Sept. 19.—For decades there has been talk of the relations of foreign missions to diplomacy; the present year is giving a practical demonstration of this. The recent world's Sunday school convention in Zurich, Switzerland, and Japan's part therein, afforded a culminating evidence of the effective way in which the agencies of religion may be used for the promotion of international comity.

China affords the other notable recent instance of the relation between missions and statesmanship. One of the first announcements made by President Wilson, was that he desired to appoint a man who would be regarded as representing Christian missions, to serve as United States minister in Pekin. In accordance with this purpose, he repeatedly urged the post upon John R. Mott, an action which elicited such a nation-wide chorus of approval from pulpit and press, that the good politics of the move was apparent, apart from all considerations of international relationships. Dr. Mott declined the post. While Prof. Reinsch, who has since been named, is not identified with the missionary movement, it is certain that he will at least reflect the administration's favorable attitude toward foreign missions in China.

Religion Makes Public Sentiment.

At the present hour, the machinery of the missionary propaganda, which is perhaps the best organized and most widely distributed organization in America, is now promoting sentiments of peace toward Japan. The missionaries in that country months ago sent word to their representatives here that it was important to stir up a friendly interest in Japan's case and to decry all talk of war. Very strong pro-Japanese resolutions were adopted by the missionary bodies in Japan.

Now the business of molding the church sentiment of the country in opposition to the anti-Japanese propaganda and in favor of a peaceful solution of the pending Japanese questions is under way. Hundreds of religious papers, tens of thousands of pulpits and many great missionary mass meetings are all depositing sentiments of good will to our next door neighbor across the Pacific in the minds of Americans. This method of influence works the more effectively since most Americans get their knowledge of the nations of Asia through missionary addresses and literature.

That it is shrewd statesmanship to utilize the churches as far as may be possible has been shown by the Chinese. Yuan Shi Kai's call for a day of prayer a few months ago concentrated the sympathetic attention of the Christian world upon China and her problems as no other action could have done.

No nation has better understood the value of religious avenues of publicity and of sentiment-molding than Japan. For more than fifty years she has been hospitable to missionaries, and has bestowed favors upon them. Her foremost statesmen are at present actively co-operating with missionaries in creating a better feeling between the two governments upon the California question.

A Strategic Occasion.

The recent world's Sunday school convention at Zurich was a strategic occasion. Some 2,600 delegates were present from all over the world, but most of them from America. Each delegate would report to a large constituency. The moment was psychological for evoking a friendly, fraternal and even enthusiastic attention to Japan.

So the Rev. Hiromachi Kosaki, the president of the National Sunday School Association of Japan, extended an invitation to the world's Sunday school convention to meet in Tokio in the year 1916. A large money guarantee for the expenses of the convention had already been subscribed by Tokio business men. Dr. Ibuke, president of the federation of Japanese churches, made a brilliant address in faultless English before the convention. His master argument was that the idea is being widely circulated that Christianity is dead in the West. One sufficient answer to this would be for Christians in a mass from all the world to move upon Tokio.

Naturally, the convention accepted this invitation, and for the next three years there will be a great deal of discussion among the 30,000,000 members of the world's Sunday school association concerning the convention in Japan.

If the Japanese had meant this merely as a diplomatic stroke, for the promotion of good will toward their nation, they could not have done anything more effective.

Making Quakers in Japan.

One of the remarkable changes in new Japan, is the growth of the peace sentiment. For this, one man, and he an American, is largely responsible. Historically, Japan is a warlike nation. The military virtues have been apostheosized. The first place in her social system has been given to the warriors, which is quite the opposite of the Chinese usage, for in China the soldier is ranked lowest in the scale.

Among the many Christian missions in Japan is a small one sent out by the Society of Friends in Philadelphia. Its oldest missionary is Gilbert Bowles, a tall, rawboned, kindly-eyed Quaker from the Middle West, who is still on the morning side of 50. He and his associates, among whom, by the way, is a daughter of President Sharpless of Haverford college, have built up a Friend's meeting in Tokio, which worships after the Quaker order. A girls' school is also conducted.

The unusual character of Gilbert Bowles has enabled him to have access to the colleges and the newspapers, and other influential centers of Tokio. His range of acquaintanceship with the big men of Japan is uncommonly large. Early in his residence in Tokio, he began to work for the organization of a peace society, which, to those in Japan, seemed the height of incongruity. When the Japanese peace society was really established, its membership was largely American, but the growth was amazing.

Soon there appeared a Japanese peace society, officered entirely by Japanese, with some of the leading men of the country on its roll. This is now a considerable factor in the life of the nation. Within a few years it has pushed the peace propaganda into a place of real importance in Japan.

An American peace society in Japan has been formed, also with Gilbert Bowles as its moving spirit, although he has a genius for keeping out of sight. This enrolls many or most of the Americans who are resident in Japan. So successful has been the peace movement that branch societies have been formed in Yokohama and Kobe. All of these organizations cooperate for the common cause of peace.

Peace Sentiments.

It is a rare visitor of distinction who gets away from Japan without having been corralled by the peace societies for a dinner and an address. Bowles and his associates have been simply indefatigable in utilizing prominent men in the making of peace speeches. Official visits from Japan to America, and America to Japan, in the interest of peace have been arranged.

This peace movement in Japan, which is really missionary in its inception and stimulus, has been the largest factor in promoting a spirit of conciliation in the present California crisis. The peace committees in the two countries have co-operated, and there has been a continuous interflow of litterature.

Present conditions strikingly demonstrate how missionary agencies have risen to be a first-class factor in national relationship. In a wider sense than ever, the missionaries have come to be ambassadors of peace. They are an asset of serious importance to America in the country's dealings with the nations of Asia.

SEIZED A CHURCH PEW FOR A CHEESE DEBT.

New York, Sept. 19.—"Go ahead and seize anything you can," said grocer John Krichman of Newark, N. J., a few days ago to representatives of the Columbia Cheese company of the same town, when they displayed to him a judgment for $62.49, which they had been awarded on a debt he owed for cheese. They looked around the store, but couldn't find anything worth taking.

Krichman went to attend services at the Synagogue of Congregation Aushe Russea where he has held two pews for the use of his family. He found the pews locked.

On investigating he learned that they had been attached by the Columbia Cheese company to hold, sell or do what it wanted with them. He paid $600 for them, and they may fetch as much at a sale.

The shrewd cheese men found that the pews were the only tangible property Krichman owned. The supreme court of New Jersey once decided a similar case in favor of the judgment holders.

ELECTRIC STREET STOVES FOR POLICE.

Electricity: In Glasgow the police on night duty are being afforded facilities for warming food and tea at certain street telephone and signal boxes. To this end the boxes are fitted with electrical hotplates, which can be switched on to the corporation mains and utilized for warming food or drink. Twenty minutes are allowed for supper, and the circuit is so arranged that the heater element cannot be left under current when not in use, even if the user omits to switch off. Each box is also fitted with a telephone communicating with the nearest police depot, and a red signal lamp controlled from the superintendent's office. When glowing, this signal indicates that telephonic communication is required with the first constable who sees it.

Physicians were baffled with the case. They all declared he would never get teeth. Finally, after he had passed the age when it was yet possible to get teeth, Morley hied himself to a dentist and secured two sets of perfectly good ones.

PRINCESS CROSSED IN LOVE FOR BANKER'S SON KILLS SELF

Sophia of Saxe Weimar-Eisenach Commits Suicide.

Father Approved Match, But Grand Duke Opposed It.

Heidelberg, Germany, Sept. 19.—Princess Sophia of Saxe Weimar-Eisenach, a beautiful young woman of sunny disposition and much courted by the officers with whom she often rode behind the hounds at Baden court, committed suicide early yesterday morning. Her body, with a bullet wound in the temple, was found in her room in the palace of her father, Prince William.

It was first announced that the cause of the death of the princess was heart disease. She was only 25 years old, having been born on July 25, 1888.

The death of the princess was due to a love affair. She was engaged to Hans von Bleichroeder, the eldest son of the senior member of one of the most powerful banking houses in Germany. When the engagement was announced prematurely some months ago, it was learned that the reigning grand duke, Prince William Erneste, earnestly opposed the union unless the princess renounced all her titles and dignities. This she refused to do.

Opposed Marriage to Commoner.

Princess Sophia and her parents were much beloved in Heidelberg for the interest they had taken in the poor and the general public welfare, although the father was by no means wealthy, and was living on an income from the reigning grand duke. As head of the family, the grand duke objected to the union of the princess with a man who occupied an inferior station in life. Her father, it is said, was inclined to accede to his daughter's wishes, but was unable to take an independent stand owing to his financial relations with the grand duke.

While the princess had been prevented from marrying von Bleichroeder, they had often been seen together at Heidelberg since the engagement was announced. He studied for several years at Heidelberg, and made the doctor's degree last winter.

It is not known whether the pair had resigned themselves to the decision of the grand duke, but von Bleichroeder, it is reported, started for Heidelberg Wednesday.

No statement relative to the tragedy has been given out, and official confirmation of the suicide could not be obtained from Prince William's palace.

Caused Deep Sorrow.

The townspeople have accepted the suicide version, and the pathetic features of the affair have caused deep sorrow.

According to one of the palce employes, the princess killed herself about 6 o'clock in the morning and a maid, entering her apartments soon afterward, came upon her body.

A brother, Prince Hermann, resigned from the Prussian army several years ago. He settled in London and married an Italian actress. Compelled to renounce his title, he took the name of Count Ostheim.

falque in the center of the upper deck, on which rested a coffin. The body was placed in the coffin and the lid closed; a wreath and a branch of palms were placed above it. The Correction cast off and dropped anchor a short distance away, awaiting the coming of day.

The black mist had changed to gray when the engines began to throb and she started on her short journey to the Battery. The rain had ceased. It was full day when the Correction came to rest in her slip. Eight six-foot pall bearers, four in the uniform of the fire department and four in the uniform of the police, each man with a bit of crepe on his sleeve, lifted the casket to their shoulders and bore it over the gangplank to the hearse.

The long vigil of the picked squad of mounted police, sent at 9 o'clock last night to the pier, came to an end. They stood at attention, each man at his horse's head, as the casket was placed in the hearse, and then mounted their horses and led the funeral train through the deserted streets.

Past the City Hall.

Their route lay through Lower Broadway and past the city hall to Brooklyn bridge. Over this bridge, which the mayor had so often trod on his way to and from his home, the funeral party went with measured tread. It was after 8 o'clock when they reached the late mayor's home. There the body was taken to a large room. The committee appointed by the city to receive it withdrew; the hundred policemen clattered back through the streets to their station houses, and the body was left with only the family around it.

It will remain there until tomorrow night. Private funeral services will be held there tomorrow afternoon, and at their conclusion the body will be taken to the city hall, where it will lie in state till Monday morning, when funeral services will be held in Trinity church.

With the committee on funeral arrangements that went down the harbor aboard the Correction were Norman Gaynor, the mayor's son, and Harry Vingut, his son-in-law, representing the family. No other member of the Gaynor household was aboard.

It was Mrs. Gaynor's wish that as little publicity as possible be attached to the landing of the body. To facilitate this the spot at which the body would be landed was not made public in advance. With the exception of the mounted police, less than a hundred persons witnessed the transfer from the Correction to the hearse.

The twelve honorary pallbearers, headed by William H. Taft, formed two lines through which the casket passed at the Gaynor home. For three blocks around the house there was stretched during the night a cordon of police to keep away the curious. The lines still were drawn today.

Widow Suffers From Shock.

Rufus W. Gaynor, the mayor's son, who was with the mayor when he died, looked careworn and aged. He was at the point of collapse when he reached home, and had to be assisted up the steps. A physician was called to attend him and the mayor's widow, both of whom were suffering from shock.

A handful of the children on their way to school stood in a group at the doorway as the body was taken from the hearse. They would have been sent away by the police had not Robert Adamson, the dead mayor's secretary, forbidden it.

Let Children Enter.

"Let the children come into the house," he said, "they were the mayor's best friends."

The order was carried out. A few minutes later the children left with tears in their eyes.

GARRISON IS SENT TO CELL

city, urging them to return here immediately. Tammany lieutenants were ordered not to permit a single man already in Albany to leave. The assemblymen are therefore virtually prisoners in the city.

Arrest a Surprise.

Garrison's arrest was almost as great a surprise to many members of the legislature as it was to him. Threats were made several weeks ago to arrest him, but nothing ever was done and he made no attempt to evade service. He has been around Albany continuously since the impeachment proceedings began, and a few minutes before his detention last night was strolling about the halls of the capitol.

Out of curiosity to see what the assembly was doing he strolled into the chamber. The doors swung inward easily for him, but when he attempted to depart he found himself blocked by the sergeant-at-arms. While Majority Leader Levy was presenting a resolution calling for the arrest of Garrison he was held a prisoner in the cloak room.

When called before the speaker, Garrison was without counsel and he refused to answer questions put to him.

Meantime numerous and widely varying predictions were made as to what would be done with Garrison. Again Levy took the initiative, and presented a resolution remanding the prisoner to the penitentiary until the close of the session unless otherwise ordered by the assembly. The vote for the resolution was 89 to 3.

"Ordinary Prisoner."

A short time later Garrison was being rushed to the penitentiary. An attache of the institution today said that the prisoner was shown no special favors and that the prison authorities had no orders other than to hold him as an ordinary prisoner.

Levy was obviously pleased by the turn of affairs in the Garrison case, and he declared that unless Garrison purged himself of contempt he would have to remain in jail until January.

"The assembly has plenary power to punish for contempt," he said. "Garrison also must go back to jail pending the court's decision on his application for a writ. He cannot be released on bail."

Garrison incurred the enmity of many of Sulzer's political opponents by his activity during the pending impeachment proceedings. He was called the governor's press agent by many.

Girard La Blas, a former resident of New Orleans, who fled from his plantation about 100 miles south of Tampico, said:

"Just before I left a neighbor told me that the man who owns the next plantation crawled over to his place to bring word that bandits had broken into his house the night before, tied him to a bedpost and maltreated his wife before his eyes until she died. After several hours' effort, he untied himself and went for aid."

Wilson's View Unchanged.

Washington, Sept. 19.—President Wilson, let it be known that he takes the view that there was nothing in Gen. Huerta's government last Wednesday in any way inconsistent with the interpretation adopted by the United States of the last note transmitted by Federico Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations, to John Lind, the American envoy.

The administration considers that Huerta, having been declared in the Gamboa note ineligible to succeed himself as provisional president, will not be a candidate in the approaching elections, and the American government is prepared to resume negotiations on this basis.

Mr. Lind has been given the views of the administration in telegrmas sent to him by Secretary Bryan, but has no instructions to take further steps unless the Huerta officials are prepared to specifically accept the American interpretation of the last Gamboa note.

Two Americans Killed.

Official reports of the killing of the Americans, W. O. Robertson and Morris P. Root, were received at the state department. Advices from Guadalajara said Root was killed by a Mexican miner during a quarrel on Sept. 2.

No details of Mr. Robertson's death at the hands of rebels at El Lobo, Sinaloa on Sept. 11, were given.

tims buried in any cemetery by filling out counterfeit burial blanks and forging the signatures. They believe that Schmidt caused the blanks to be photographed in order to obtain exact copies so that he might have duplicates struck off in blank.

The finding of the photographed blanks in Schmidt's trunk caused the detectives to dig deeper into the past of Ernest Muret, the self-styled dentist implicated with Schmidt in counterfeiting.

From London came reports that Muret had been a fugitive from justice since April 29, 1911, when he was charged with having falsely represented himself as Dr. Ernst Stein, a medical practitioner. Thus far Muret has denied all knowledge of the manner in which Anna Aumuller met her death.

Think Men Are Cousins.

Despite protestations of both Schmidt and Muret, the detectives are convinced that they are relatives and today investigated a report from Aschaffenburg, Germany, Schmidt's native town, to the effect that Muret is really Adolf Mueller, Schmidt's cousin.

The co-operation between a skilled forger, having in his possession accurate copies of burial blanks, and a criminal versed in medical matters, would make possible, the police point out, the murder and disposal of many victims without detection.

The photographs found in Schmidt's trunk were those taken of the health department certificates issued for the burial of Robert Smith, aged 69, who died of natural causes last April. As a priest, Schmidt visited him twice before he died, the last time administering extreme unction, and officiated at the funeral.

How he got possession of the burial certificate is not yet clear. Mrs. Smith said that so far as she knew it had not been taken out of the house.

Both sides of the certificates had been photographed. The photographer who did the work for Schmidt said that the priest was in a hurry for the pictures, and fretted when he was told he could not have them for twenty-four hours.

Muret Is Being Held.

Muret appeared in court to plead guilty and will be held on the charge of having a dangerous weapon in his possession. But this charge was more of a formality than anything else, serving merely to hold him while the mysterious twists and turns of his many-sided life are being followed up and his association with the Aumuller girl's murder traced.

The pseudo dentist, who appears, from information the authorities have acquired, to have practiced medicine under other names in Chicago, in England and on the continent, has been thought by the police almost from the beginning to bear some blood relationship to Schmidt. Thus the advices from Aschaffenburg, Germany, Schmidt's birthplace, that Muret is now believed to be the murderer's cousin, Adolf Mueller, caused little surprise among the investigators.

This development, bringing with it the statement that the cousins were close friends and that Mueller long ago disappeared, was perhaps the most important of any along the line of inquiry which seeks to establish a connection of long standing between the two men. It came out also, through the discovery of an engraver who made copper plates for Schmidt, that Muret, as he now calls himself, seemingly had far closer knowledge than he has at any time admitted of Schmidt's counterfeiting operations, having accompanied Schmidt to the engraver's shop when the plates were secured.

As for Schmidt himself, the many aliases he used led Inspector Faurot to suspect that the clerical prisoner might not be the Hans Schmidt of Aschaffenburg, but an impostor.

Coroner Gets Verdict.

At the conclusion of an inquest into Anna Aumuller's death, the torso found in the Hudson river on Sept. 5, and all other exhibits in the case were ordered turned over to the New York authorities. The jury brought in this verdict:

"We find that Anna Aumuller came to her death on Sept. 2, last, in her apartment on the premises at 68 Bradhurst avenue, New York city, at the hands of Hans Schmidt."

SULZER'S LAWYERS LOSE IN FIRST BOUT OF HIS TRIAL

that presented yesterday. Less than half the seats in the galleries were occupied at the opening of the arguments. Throughtout the morning spectators moved in and out, but at no time were all the seats filled. Prospects of a witness being sworn soon after the articles of impeachment were read brought a crowd this afternoon.

The high court of impeachment met at 10 o'clock this morning for its second session. Senator Wagner, chairman of the committee on rules, submitted the report of the committee, which was adopted without objection.

The rules provide for daily sessions, except Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. On Mondays the court will convene at 2 p. m. and sit until 6 p. m., and on Fridays the hour of final adjournment will be 12:30 p. m. The hours may be changed from time to time by the court.

The conduct of the trial is to be governed by the rules prevailing in the supreme court of the state. Rule VI reads:

"The final decision of the court upon the articles preferred shall be taken by the president of the court, who, upon each of the articles as it shall be separately read by the clerk, shall, with its number, propose to each member of the court, in alphabetical order, the question:

"'Senator (or judge), how say you, is the respondent guilty or not guilty, as charged in the * * * article of impeachment?' Each member of the court, when so questioned, shall rise in his place and answer 'Guilty' or 'Not Guilty,' and the president of the court shall also give his vote upon each article, either 'Guilty' or 'Not Guilty,' and when the roll call shall be completed upon each charge, the result upon each charge shall be announced, and shall be entered upon the records of the court.

If Two-Thirds Vote "Guilty."

"If two-thirds of the members present shall concur in the finding guilty, upon any one or more of said articles, the president of the court shall in the same manner put, and the members of the court shall in the same manner answer, separately, the further questions: 'Shall William Sulzer be removed from his office of governor of this state for the cause stated in the article (or articles) of the charges preferred against him upon which you have found him guilty?'

"'Shall William Sulzer be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under this state?'

"And the final judgment of the court shall be certified by the president of the court and the clerk of the court."

D. Cady Herrick, leading counsel for Governor Sulzer, argued in behalf of the challenges he announced yesterday he would make to the sitting as members of the court of Acting Lieut.-Governor Wagner and Senators Frawley, Ramsperger and Sanner.

Judge Herrick stated that the objection to Wagner was based upon the fact that "as acting lieutenant governor he is interested in the result of the trial, as in the event of the conviction of the respondent he would succeed to the dignity, profits and emoluments of the office of lieutenant governor."

"Aroused the Country."

"This case," said Judge Herrick, "in some respects, is the greatest since the impeachment trial of President Johnson. It has aroused the country. There can be no question that the senators on the Frawley committee have formed and expressed opinions on every article of impeachment."

Judge Herrick then read the articles of impeachment as adopted by the assembly, declaring that the defense's challenge is founded on "the right to seek trial by an impartial tribunal—one that is not prejudiced in advance." He cited court opinions bearing on the absolute necessity of all the judges being uncontaminated by bias.

"Every member of this high court," he said, "should be free from even a suspicion of bias, in order that the governor might be given such fair treatment as is accorded the meanest criminal accused of the smallest crime."

At the completion of his arguments he formally challenged the right of the four senators to sit.

Reply By Parker.

As Judge Herrick closed, Judge B. Parker contended that "you are without authority to exclude from membership of the impeachment court any member. The people of the state of New York are sovereign. They said in the beginnig that this court shall be composed of the court of appeals and the senate, and you are without power to say to any member, whether judge or senator, 'You shall not sit in this court.'"

Judge Parker declared that the state Constitution made no provision for judge, senator or counsel to challenge any member of the high court.

Citing precedents established in the trial of the impeachment of President Andrew Johnson and other executives and judicial officers, Judge Parker argued that the people of each senate district in the state were entitled to the vote of their representative. He recalled numerous instances where members of former courts of impeachment, who had served on committees the reports of which had resulted in the adoption of impeachment articles, had requested to be excused from sitting in judgment, but had their request denied by their colleagues.

Precedents Old and New.

His precedents ranged in time from the Seventeenth century, in England, to 1909, when during the impeachment of John H. Shively, auditor of the State of Washington, sixteen of the forty-two members of the senate were challenged.

In the Shively case, Judge Parker pointed out, it had been held that a senator's vote "belonged to his constituents and to himself."

The only precedent in support of the challenges, he said, was in one case in which a senator had been excluded because he was a brother of the accused. He did not specifically mention the case.

At the close of the arguments on the qualification of the senators to serve on the impeachment court, the court voted unanimously not to consider the challenges.

Judge Cullen then directed Clerk McCabe to read the articles of impeachment. The motion by Senator Pollock of New York that the reading be dispensed with was lost and the clerk began slowly to read the lengthy articles.

"What answer does the respondent interpose to the articles of impeachment filed by the assembly?" queried Judge Cullen when Clerk McCabe had finished his reading.

Attacked the Impeachment.

Judge Herrick thereupon stated, pursuant to the notice of yesterday that objection would be made to the validity of the impeachment, that Louis Marshall, of the governor's counsel, would argue that point.

Attorney Marshall, reading from a prepared brief, first asked that the entire proceedings be dismissed on the ground that the court is without jurisdiction and the charges are null, void and of no effect."

The principal attack was directed against the constitutionality of the action of the assembly in adopting the impeachment articles during an extraordinary session when the subject had not been recommended by the governor.

"Governor Sulzer did not recommend the subject of his impeachment," said Mr. Marshall, "nor did he in any way suggest the consideration of charges against himself."

Parker Asked Recess.

When Attorney Marshall concluded Judge Cullen asked if counsel for the managers contemplated taking issue with any of the facts as distinguished from the points of law, raised by the governor's counsel. Judge Parker asked for a five-minute recess while he and his colleagues considered the matter. However, Judge Cullen ordered the usual noon recess and adjournment was taken until 2 p. m.

CHAUFFEUR KILLED BY RIM FROM WHEEL

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The explosion of an automobile tire and the loosening of the detachable rim, which followed, caused the death of Fred Coates, a chauffeur employed by Louis F. Swift. The iron rim, as soon as it had been released, shot out, striking Coates in the chest, breaking several ribs and causing other internal injuries from which death resulted.

Neither Representative Underwood or Senator Simmons would receive the delegation.

BARRED FROM UNITED STATES

Immigrant Who Served Time in Canada Not Wanted Here.

Because James Rendino, 25 years old, was convicted at Fort William, Ont., on a charge of stabbing a fellow workman, he was this morning denied admission into the United States by the local immigration authorities.

Rendino arrived in Duluth this morning with a large number of foreigners on the steamer America. Upon examination by the local authorities it was learned that Rendino is an undesirable alien and he must therefore go back to Canada tomorrow.

According to his own story Rendino and three fellow workmen for a large grain elevator were at work on a car, when one of the men knocked Rendino down and struck him several times. After an argument, in which the quartet began fighting with one another, Rendino stabbed his assailant with a knife, inflicting a slight wound in the man's left shoulder.

Rendino was arrested immediately after the stabbing and later sentenced to eleven months in the Canadian prison. He was released several weeks ago and had decided to come to the United States to live.

Rendino has been in America three years, during which time he spent fifteen months at Utica, N. Y., and the remainder of the time at Fort William. He is unmarried.

MORE CHANGES ON NEW HAVEN

Morgan Firm's Withdrawal as Financial Agent Is Accepted.

Railroad Is Criticized at Massachusetts Commission Hearing.

New York, Sept. 19.—Meetings of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad directors and those of subsidiary lines were held yesterday at which the reorganization caused by the recent resignation of President Charles S. Mellen and the election of Howard Elliott resulted in further changes.

Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale university, and James H. Hustis, recently elected a vice president of the New Haven, were elected directors. It is understood Mr. Hadley's name was first advanced by the New Haven's "New England Protective committee." Mr. Hustis will become president of the New Haven in the future, when Mr. Elliott will be elected to the chairmanship of that system and its subsidiaries.

The New Haven's directors accepted the withdrawal of J. P. Morgan & Co. as the road's fiscal agents. President Elliott declined to discuss the New Haven's future financial policy.

Directors of the New York, Ontario & Western railway, which is controlled by the New Haven, accepted the resignation of Mr. Mellen as president and director, and elected Vice President J. B. Kerr as president. Mr. Elliott was elected chairman of both the Ontario & Western and the Central New England road.

Railroad Criticized.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19.—The New Haven railroad came in for criticism at a hearing before the Massachusetts public service commission yesterday in relation to the road's proposed $67,000,000 bond issue.

One of the commissioners inquired as to whether the railroad company had faithfully complied with the order of the courts separating it from its Massachusetts trolley properties. Counsel for the road said that the New Haven had sold its trolley holdings to the New England Investment & Security company, which transferred them to the New England Navigation company. The latter concern subsequently turned them over to the Dillard company, which is owned by the New Haven road.

"Well, then," said Commissioner Anderson, "if we authorize this bond issue to cover floating indebtedness—which would include the New Haven's holdings in the Dillard company—would not our act be a defiance of the courts?"

"Might Assume" Compliance.

Counsel for the railroad argued that it had disposed of the Massachusetts trolley holdings "as required by law," to the Dillard company. Under the laws of Connecticut the road was permitted to own stock of other corporations, and therefore, he said, "the commission might assume that the railroad company had carried out the mandate of the court." Other facts, he said, were "not material to the present hearing."

James F. Jackson, a former member of the Massachusetts railroad commission, representing holders of 12,000 shares of New Haven stock, opposed the bond issue. Mr. Jackson said that the objectors recognized the railroad's need of money, and wished to be heard "only on the way to get this money." He said of the railroad that "the marvelous ingenuity shown in stock jobbing and shuffling of accounts and bookkeeping maneuvers would make the straightest of transactions look queer, even if they were not crooked."

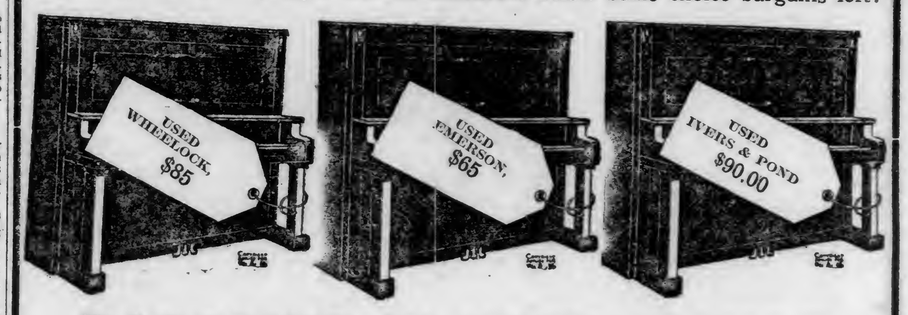

"Magnificent Property."

He added:

"The New Haven is a magnificent property that has been run upon financial reefs in broad daylight. It is still a magnificent property, and there is as yet no hole in the bottom of the ship. The valuable part of the cargo is safe. All that is needed is a sound economy. That is needed in connection with this issue of bonds."

TO THE MUSIC FOLLOWING PUBLIC OF DULUTH AND THE NORTHWEST:

At a recent session of the legislature of the great state of Minnesota there was passed a law which is now in effect, prohibiting fake advertising—making it a felony if convicted, and the parties are subjected to a heavy fine. The fake piano sales in the past were many, in fact so numerous that it became necessary to pass a law prohibiting sales of this nature. We have sold a great many pianos to purchasers who have stated they had called at certain piano houses to investigate bargains offered and were either told they had been sold or shown a wreck of some former piano that no one would have. Possibly you have been fooled in this manner yourself when investigating some piano sale. The Kreidler Piano company has been in Duluth for a good many years and we take pleasure in stating and placing ourselves on record (in the face of the recent laws passed) that no one will be disappointed at our store, 108 East Superior street. You will find honest pianos at honest prices and each and every instrument on sale that we advertise according to the terms specified.—KREIDLER PIANO COMPANY.

After Oct. 1, 1913, we will be in our new store, 20 East Superior street, and now is the time before we move to make your dollar do double duty. We are sole agents for the Wm. Knabe, Mehlin & Sons, Price & Teeple, Segerstrom, Capen, Kline, Lewismann, and many others.

M'LAUGHLIN CONVICTED

Found Guilty of Murderous Attack on Wife With Gun.

Prisoner Denied Guilt and Claimed Shooting Was Purely Accidental.

John A. McLaughlin, who nearly succeeded in an attempt to murder his 23-year-old wife, Mary McLaughlin in her room at 222 West Second street after she had started divorce proceedings and had obtained an order of the court directing him to keep away from her, was found guilty of assault in the first degree by a jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court yesterday afternoon. The jury returned its verdict after having been out for twenty minutes.

The penalty for assault in the first degree is from five to ten years in the state penitentiary. McLaughlin will be brought before the court again for sentence. In the meantime he will remain in the custody of the sheriff at the jail.

McLaughlin came to his wife's room at the Second street rooming house on the afternoon of May 24. Without a word between them, he pulled out a gun and fired two shots into her. One of the bullets entered her face and shattered the bones of her jaw. The other ball passed through the fleshy part of the shoulder. McLaughlin turned on his heel and escaped. He was caught June 5 at International Falls.

Mrs. McLaughlin is still suffering from the wound on her face which she keeps bandaged. McLaughlin claimed that the shooting was accidental and that it was done while he was trying to wrest a gun from his wife's hands.

On the day that the September grand jury indicted McLaughlin for the crime of assault in the first degree, Mrs. McLaughlin secured a divorce from him on the grounds of cruelty. The divorce action was filed prior to his attempt to kill her and consequently his murderous attack was not incorporated in the bill of particulars.

The McLaughlins were married at Park Falls, Wis., on Feb. 6, 1909, and have no children. On March 7 last McLaughlin was served with an order of the district court commanding him to keep away from his wife during the pendancy of the divorce action. When McLaughlin visited her and shot her down on May 24, he was also violating the court's restraining order.

McLaughlin is a painter by trade. His wife was formerly Miss Mary Dressel of Park Falls, Wis.

WANT DAMAGES FROM THE CITY

Two Personal Injury Claims Are Filed in District Court.

The city was made defendant in two personal injury actions filed yesterday with the clerk of the district court.

Albert Thissen, engineer, 224 West Third street, wants $1,000 damages for a broken nose, broken jaw, lacerated head and three missing teeth. On the night of Aug. 24 last, a dark evening, he stumbled over a pile of timbers left in Fourth street. The timber, it was claimed, was left in the street by city employes and was unprotected with lights.

Florence Marie Watson claims that about midnight, Aug. 17 last, she stepped off a Fourth street sidewalk accidentally and fell down a steep slope, receiving injuries to her wrists, ankles, knees and back. She alleges that the embankment was not protected by a fence, and asks the city to pay her $5,000.

THIRD LECTURE IN BIBLE STUDY COURSE

At the Woodmen auditorium, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Pastor Frank Draper of New York city will speak on: "Victory O'er The Grave."

This is the third of the series of I. B. S. A. lectures being given here, and the interest seems to be holding up well.

The purpose of these lectures is the stirring up of a more general interest in individual Bible study. The lectures are from an unsectarian standpoint, not with an idea of opposing the churches in any good work they may do, but with the hope that some may be more deeply interested in the Bible, because of a clearer understanding of its teachings, previously despaired of, on account of the many contradictory doctrines put forth by the many different denominations. All seats are free, and every one is made welcome.

NOT SLAYERS OF THEIR STEPFATHER.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 19.—Joseph Murphy and his brother, William Murphy, arrested pending the result of the coroner's hearing to determine the cause of the death of their stepfather, John C. WANTS SENATE TO ACT ON SUFFRAGE.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Senator Jones of Washington yesterday demanded immediate action on the proposed constitutional amendment to give the vote to women. The amendment was reported favorably to the senate in June. Senator Jones urged that, as the senate is not considering any legislation at present, there was no reason why the amendment should not be taken up.

SAYS MOTOR BUS IS SOLUTION

Easterner Thinks It Will Solve Transportation Problem in Suburbs.

The motor bus is suggested as a solution of the transportation question between West Duluth and the steel plant by W. H. Given of Montreal who was recently in Duluth and who cites an editorial in a Canadian publication to uphold his views.

Mr. Given says that the man who wrote the editorial must have had Duluth in mind, especially West Duluth, as the problems that he discussed would fit the case here exactly.

Following are some of the reasons given in behalf of the motor bus:

"You get on and off at the curb. This makes it safe for women and children, removes a mother's anxiety, and generally lessens the danger of accidents.

"No high steps for our mothers, and their mothers, to climb.

"No stoppage of other traffic while the bus is at its corner.

"Immediate service to new districts.

"The bus can go around any street and so avoid obstructions on the regular route. No delay.

"Can be tried in new districts and if not satisfactory can be stopped without serious loss.

"Express services may be established where found necessary and discontinued at will. By these express services the workman will have more time at home in the morning and may be home earlier in the evening.

"The bus of modern construction allows speed, ease, cleanliness, ventilation and lighting equal to a high-priced motor car, and in these comfortable buses people can be quickly and conveniently taken from congested districts (from the nearest point, and there may be many) direct to any section of the city without change by passengers.

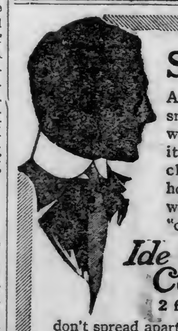

"Any number of direct services may be opened to serve specialties.

"Motor buses permit upper decks and smoking.

"The modern bus to carry sixty-four people weighs between three and a half and four tons, and it does not call for unusually heavy road building. Further, the roadways are not being continually put out of repair by the buses.

"The buses in London are being run at the low cost of 7 pence per mile. This low cost permits the cheapest civic transportation in the world.

"Yes! That's all very well, but how about the snow in winter? In answer, another question. Is not the snow cleaned off the streets for the present system's accommodation? The real answer is, that heavy motor trucks, carrying from six to ten tons, have had no difficulty even on outside city roads in heavy snow, and on the level pavements of the city that question can only be asked by way of obstruction, and not to arrive at an honest answer."

U. S. TRADE WITH MEXICO GROWING.

Washington, Sept. 19.—In spite of the unsettled conditions in Mexico growing out of the revolution, trade of the United States with that country in the fiscal year just closed was greater than ever before. Figures made public by the department of commerce show imports of merchandise from Mexico in 1913 totaled $77,500,000, an increase of $11,500,000 over the previous year. Exports to Mexico amounted to $54,500,000, an increase of $10,750,000 over 1912.

Manufacturers' materials formed the greater part of imports from Mexico, and manufactures the bulk of exports to that country.

SENTENCED TO NOT LESS THAN 150 YEARS.

Estancia, N. M., Sept. 19.—Judge Medler, in the district court, accepted Justiano Moya's plea of guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced him to the penitentiary for not less than 150 years, nor more than 160 years. Moya killed a woman with whom he had been intimate, crushing her head with an ax.

SHIP'S BAND PLAYS FOR MRS. JOHN LIND.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 19.—The first organized landing in Mexico of any part of the American navy was effected yesterday afternoon and was due to the efforts of Mrs. Lind, wife of President Wilson's personal envoy. It was nothing more formidable, however, than the band of the battleship Louisiana. It played at a reception arranged by Mrs. Lind for the American women here and the officers of the ships.

To bring the band ashore it was necessary to obtain permission from Gen. Maas, the commandant of Vera Cruz.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—A package containing $4,380 in cash and negotiable checks was stolen off a brewery wagon yesterday within the view of William O'Meara, the driver, who had stopped at a bank to deposit the money. FIFTY BUILDINGS NOW UNDER WAY

Houses in Suburbs Are Rented Before They Are Completed.

Fifty buildings, of which about fifteen are for store purposes, are under construction in New Duluth and Gary. The building operations at the suburb are very active and many more will, it is said, be started this fall.

According to realty men in the suburbs there is no difficulty in renting the houses. Each building going up is said to be leased long before it is completed. All of the buildings now under construction will be finished before the end of October.

Many of the homes are being built in a very substantial manner. Some of them are constructed of concrete and equipped with all modern conveniences obtainable in the suburb. The average cost of each new residence building is about $1,200.

NEW SCHOOL IS NEEDED AT ONCE

Gary Citizens Will Start Campaign for It Monday Evening.

The matter of getting better school facilities for Gary and New Duluth will be the principal subject of discussion Monday evening at the meeting of the Gary Improvement club. The crowded condition of the Gary school has made this one of the most important subjects to be dealt with by the local residents.

The portable schoolhouse which was supplied for the suburb is now attended by seventy-five pupils. Every seat in the building has two occupants and many of the children are required to use cracker boxes for seats. Every available space where a cracker box could be set has been utilized for this purpose.

During the past week two or three new families have moved to the suburb. Some of the children from these families, it is said, have been unable to go to the school because it is now overcrowded.

The residents believe that the building cannot be used during the cold weather. Last winter the building is said to have been all right for the children because the small number could easily crowd around the big heater and keep warm. This coming winter it is believed that only those nearest will receive any warmth from it while those farthest away will be freezing.

F. H. Osanna, Jr., H. H. Peyton and W. S. Moore, the Gary Improvement club's committee on schools intend taking the matter up at the meeting of the school board. At the meeting of the club Monday the committee will request as many residents of Gary to attend the board meeting as possible in order to impress the necessity of better accommodation on its members. It is claimed that nothing short of a four-room building will meet the need of the suburb for the winter and that this will have to be started at once. G. A. Tomlinson is reported to have guaranteed to finance the building by buying the necessary amount of school bonds.

CHECK CASHED BY WRONG THOMAS

Walter Secured the Money Intended for Walter J.—Arrested.

Walter Thomas was arrested yesterday by Sergeant McDermott charged with grand larceny. It is alleged that he received a letter intended for Walter J. Thomas, a namesake of the former, in which was contained a check for $91, and to have tried to cash it at several business places in New Duluth and Gary.

The check, according to the rightful owner was in settlement of an estate of his late father in Salem, Ohio. The former explained his reason for attempting to cash it, as that of believing he had received it from his wife in Gary, Ind. In order to substantiate this he showed the officer a letter purported to be from his wife in which she said that she intended sending the money. When the letter was translated, according to the officer, the letter was one requesting money instead of one telling about sending any.

Thomas pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court.

TO THE PUBLIC

We are about to publish in this paper a series of articles introducing Father John's Medicine to this city.

We shall tell you its interesting history, how it was prescribed for the Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., from whom it got its name, 50 years ago.

You will understand why it is the leading preparation wherever it is advertised, because of its merit, as proven by a great number of impressive endorsements by clergymen, doctors, hospitals and institutions all over the country.

Father John's Medicine has had fifty years' success as a body builder, for colds, throat and lung troubles, asthma, bronchitis, and consumption. It does not contain alcohol nor dangerous drugs in any form.

The history of Father John's Medicine is guaranteed to be true. We offer to give $25,000 to any charity if it can be shown otherwise.

"SOME FAIR" AT BARNUM

Other Carlton County Towns Are Deserted for the Day.

Duluth Well Represented —Motorcycle Race Nearly Ends Disastrously.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Yesterday, Cloquet day, was the biggest day in the history of the Carlton County Agricultural and Industrial association's fairs, when more than $1,000 was taken in at the gate in paid admissions.

The weather this year has been in favor of the fair promoters, and yesterday it brought throngs from all the nearby towns. The special train from Duluth, which picked up the Cloquet delegation, was crowded and passengers were forced to stand in the aisles. Six hundred persons were on that train alone and every train that stopped at Barnum during the day, from either direction, unloaded scores of fair visitors.

The fair grounds were filled with a happy, fun-seeking crowd and hundreds of staid old settlers mingled with the younger and newer residents of Carlton county. Men who had been on diet for years went off on a tangent and indulged in "red hot" sandwiches and "hamburger" buns.

All the towns in Carlton county were deserted yesterday excepting Barnum. The special train took most of the visible population of Cloquet and Carlton and the natives of other hamlets left their hearths by team, automobile and afoot. Even Barnum was closed up. All the people in the town were out to the fair grounds and only a burglar could get into the stores. The telephone operator was the only one in town who had to stick to her post. And she was not in a good humor.

Altogether there were about a thousand exhibits. There were $31 exhibitors and each one had several exhibits. The judges declared that the exhibits this year were far ahead of anything that had ever been seen at the fair.

"Some" Turnips.

There were turnips as large as a man's head; rutabagas that nearly filled a bushel basket and beets weighing up to twelve pounds. Then there were potatoes of all sizes and shapes, round and oval, red and white, smooth and rough. The prize cabbage heads would almost fill a washtub and the cucumbers were on display in all stages of growth, from the largest ones to the small ones for pickling.

Horses and dairy stock are the staples of Carlton county and they were shown in all grades. Nearly every farmer in the county had some kind of a horse or cow that he thought would take a prize, and the stables and stalls at the fair were all taken.

Not only the men had their products on exhibit but the women were represented with displays of fancy work and embroidery. One of the buildings on the grounds was half filled with these exhibits.

Women Provided "Eats."

The church women of the town took care of the visitors in the matter of eating. There were several rival ladies' aid societies vieing with each other to see which could put up the best meal. The meals were all good and they were consumed before half the crowd had been satisfied.

Besides the exhibits there were horse races, motorcycle races and a baseball game between Cloquet and Moose Lake. Cloquet won the same and that about ended the day at the fair.

A little accident in the motorcycle race was the only marring feature of the fair. One of the riders was unable to make the turn on the circular track and his machine crashed into the fence, taking down two sections and injuring Walter Mattson of Moose Lake. The Mattson boy, who was but 7 years old, had a lucky escape from death. The machine struck him on the head and threw him against the fence as it crashed down. His forehead was cut and his leg was broken.

John D. Connor, president of the fair association, was well pleased with the 1913 exposition. He declared it was the best in the history of the association, and the association has held twenty-three fairs. Mr. Connor said that both the exhibits and the attendance were far ahead of any other year.

F. M. Duesler, secretary of the fair, was probably the busiest man on the grounds. He had to count all the money and answer all the questions.

Mr. Duesler is a farmer and he had exhibits of stock on the grounds. "The number of acres under cultivation in Carlton county is increasing every year," said Mr. Duesler. "The farmers are pushing Guernsey cows now and they are having good success with them. Both the horses and dairy stock are improving in the county and I expect to see the time when Carlton will have the best stock in the state. Dairying is the biggest thing with the farmers now but poultry raising is coming to the front. Potatoes also are a big thing in this county. All the products raised here find a ready market in Duluth."

Thomas Spencer, who owns a farm near Barnum, had a good exhibit of stock and horses. Mr. Spencer declared that the stock this year was the best he had ever seen at the fair. Mr. Spencer was formerly secretary of the fair and he has attended it every fall for some years.

Small Fruits.

"Strawberries and raspberries are getting a good deal of attention in this county now," said Mr. Spencer. "The farmers are finding that they can make big returns on berry patches and as this climate is good for that particular kind of farming I look to see this a big berry center. One farmer near here took 300 quarts of raspberries off two rows of shrubs, each row being 150 feet long."

A. E. Cummins, raiser of almost everything that grows in Carlton county, was at the fair as official superintendent of the horse exhibits. Mr. Cummins makes a specialty of raising small fruits and vegetables. He declared that the horse exhibits were the best he had ever seen. He said the grade mares and colts were a credit to the county.

Hugo Anderson, the biggest poultry raiser exhibiting at the fair, had the pride of his barnyard caged up for the education and pleasure of the visitors to the fair. Mr. Anderson was modest but he did have to admit that his exhibits of poultry were about as good as anything he had ever seen at the state fair.

A. J. McGuire, in charge of the state experimental farm here, was one of the judges of exhibits. Mr. McGuire, who makes agricultural subjects his special study, said that the Carlton county fair was a credit to the farmers of that community. He declared that he saw some of the best exhibits he had ever seen at the fair. Mrs. McGuire was one of the judges in the women's work exhibits.

ARRESTED AFTER SEVEN YEARS' WAIT.

New York, Sept. 19.—For seven years the postal authorities have kept watch abroad of Walter C. Fernald. Yesterday they caught him when he returned to the United States on the steamer Majestic. Fernald was indicted in Trenton, N. J., several years ago on a charge of using the mails in a conspiracy to defraud.

According to the police, Fernald, in 1906, was head of the Security and Purchasing company and Imperial Trustee company of New Jersey. It is charged he advertised to furnish capital for new corporations, and collected fees ranging from $500 to $7,000 from numerous customers.

McREYNOLDS WILL KEEP OUT OF CASE.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Attorney General McReynolds has declined to interfere with the ruling of Judge Van Fleet that Maury I. Diggs and Drew Caminetti, convicted of violating the white slave act, should serve their sentences in San Quentin penitentiary. Counsel for the defendants asked that they be sent to the Federal prison at McNeil's island, Washington. Judge Van Fleet, while refusing to make the change, authorized the submission of the application to Attorney General McReynolds, who today telegraphed that he would neither approve nor disapprove the petition, leaving the whole matter to the court.

WALL STREET ASKS ARMY PROTECTION.

Washington, Sept. 19.—More than 250 New York financiers have petitioned the war department to increase the number of troops on Governor's Island to protect Wall Street and the financial district from mob, uprising or foreign invasion. The movement for increased military protection is said to have been started by Charles E. Warren of the Lincoln National Bank of New York. Scores of printed petitions have poured in on the New York senators and have been sent to the war department.

PROMOTER IS SUING COLORADO COMPANIES.

New York, Sept. 19.—Robert A. G. Peterson, a wealthy mining promoter of this city, has filed suit in the supreme court against the Colorado Mines, Railways & Utilities corporation of Colorado for $600,000, alleged to be due him for negotiating the purchase of the Golden Cycle mine for the corporation for $6,000,000. Suit also was filed by Peterson against the El Paso Consolidated Mining company of Colorado for 10 per cent of its property and profits.

MAMMA, DADDY AND CHILDREN ALL LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Harmless "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful to-night means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'" This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

CURRENCY AND CONVERSATION.

The administration's currency and banking bill passed the house yesterday by a very impressive majority, made up not only of Democrats but Republicans and Progressives more guided by public spirit than by partisanship.

This is the first step, but the easiest. The senate step is the hardest. Once through that body, the bill will find the president ready to sign it promptly and make it law.

The country wants the senate to satisfy itself that the bill is right and just—good not only for bankers and politicians but for grocers and butchers and bricklayers and farmers—best for the whole country and all its people.

But the country doesn't want the senate to delay the enactment of the bill unduly and unfairly by tactics based on partisanship or a zealous regard for private interests unbecoming in public servants.

The country wants action as speedily as may be, and it will not regard with patience a prolonged exhibition of mere conversation for time-killing purposes.

Two hundred and fifty Wall Street financiers have asked for extra troops at Governor's Island to "guard the financial district from mob uprisings or foreign invasion." Is Wall Street planning something that will inspire that kind of an attack?

PSYCHOTHERAPEUTIC WARD, PLEASE.

Led by Charles E. Warren, a banker, a quarter of a thousand New York financiers have appealed to the government to send more troops to Governor's Island "to protect Wall Street and the financial district from mob uprising or foreign invasion."

We don't know Mr. Warren, but if we were among his kin we'd feel concerned about his condition, and we'd see the doctor about it right away.

And we had no idea that the distressingly slim business that Wall Street has enjoyed of late had affected its mind.

But what stroke is Wall Street contemplating now, anyway, to reimburse it for the public's wretchedly inconsiderate failure to patronize it as of yore?

Turkey carries Adrianople, Kirk Kilessch and Demotica. Probably the Turks regard those three places as the First, Seventh and Eighth wards of Southern Europe.

GROSS EARNINGS TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS.

In annulling an assessment upon the Northern Pacific railroad for a local improvement in Duluth the other day, Judge Bert Fesler called attention to the fact that while under the law railroads cannot be assessed for their due share of the cost of local improvements, the law in this respect is highly unjust to communities having large railroad terminals or large amounts of railroad property.

This cannot be gainsaid. While there is no community in the state which has been more burdened by this injustice than Duluth, there is no community in the state with railroad connections that has wholly escaped its share of the wrong.

Many years ago the railroads succeeded in having the ad valorem system of taxation replaced by a specific tax upon their gross earnings, first amounting to two per cent and now to five per cent, "in lieu of all taxes and assessments." Whether or not the legislature meant by that special assessments for local improvements we have no means of knowing; but at any rate that has always been held to be its meaning.

Furthermore, while under the ad valorem system railroad taxes accrued to the benefit of the counties and communities in which railroad property was situated, to each in proportion to the amount of railroad property it contained, when the gross earnings system went into effect the state absorbed the full tax.

The law did not say it should. Indeed it is more easily conceivable that the legislature presumed as a matter of course that the proceeds of the new tax would go where the old taxes went. But it failed to provide for the distribution of the revenue, and the state took it all.

This was unjust enough; but the exemption of railroads from special assessments for local improvements was still more unjust.

Railroad taxes, even now that the gross earnings rate has been put up to five per cent, are no greater than those paid by other property, if they are as great; which is much to be doubted.

Yet owners of other property must pay local assessments as well, and the railroads go free from them even where they make improvements necessary and benefit from them as much as other property.

The Minneapolis Journal, commenting on Judge Fesler's obiter dictum, agrees with it thoroughly, but praises the gross earnings system of taxing railroads. But its statement that the gross earnings system has worked out better than the systems in use in other states is a mere statement, not proved and probably not justified by the facts.

The chief fault with the gross earnings tax is its unsteadiness. It yields a large revenue when business is lively, and the state adjusts its expenditures to that condition. When business falls off and railroad taxes fall with it the state is crippled because while it readily learns to increase expenses, it never has learned how to reduce them.

The restoration of railroad property to an ad valorem tax basis, with the state tax commission to fix values, would be an improvement, whether the tax is apportioned or kept by the state. It would put railroad property on an equal basis with other property, both as to taxes and assessments, and it would provide a uniform and dependable—not fluctuating—revenue from this source.

One more bomb attack and Gen. Otis will be almost ripe for the vaudeville stage.

GOOD WORK!

By the way, the city owes a debt of gratitude to the West End Commercial club for its splendid work in encouraging home gardening by interesting the children in it, and especially to Dr. Oredson, who devised the plan.

It is wise and public-spirited work that the club is doing, beneficial to the city and to the young people—old as well.

No loafer or rascal ever loved a garden and wielded a hoe with liking and affection.

That story of a whale disabling a steamer was pretty good, but to be up to date the whale should have spouted and drowned an aviator.

THE CARLTON COUNTY FAIR.

Like its nearest neighbor to the left—Lake county—St. Louis county's nearest neighbor on the right, Carlton county, has distinguished itself by its county fair.

The Carlton county fair at Barnum is one of the oldest county fairs outside the half-century-old settlements in the southern part of the state. Its history has been a story of constant and steady growth, paralleling a persistent and steady development of the rich cut-over lands of Carlton county that has turned a wilderness into a garden spot.

This year's fair, we are pleased but not surprised to hear, is by far the best yet. It is what we had expected to hear because each year the enterprising pople of Barnum and Carlton county have striven loyally and successfully to outdo the good record of the year before.

It goes without saying that as the agricultural development of Carlton and Lake counties is as important to Duluth as the agricultural development of St. Louis county, so the county fairs of these counties are next in Duluth's affections to the St. Louis county fair at Hibbing.

Why doesn't the Washington administration adopt the popular course and get out a writ of habeas corpus for Huerta?

MAKE THE HOME RULE PROVISION WIDE OPEN.

In response to an inquiry from the Winona charter commission, the attorney general's office holds that the "city manager" plan of city government cannot be adopted in this state unless the state Constitution is so amended as to permit it.

Then the state Constitution should be amended.

It should not only provide home rule, but it should throw down all bars and all restrictions upon the form of government that may be provided in home rule charters.

Each community in the state should be in a position to avail itself of any form of government which experiment and practice proves to be good.

The "city manager" plan has been tried and proved good in one community, and now several others are trying it. It is a variation of the commission plan, and theoretically it has many arguments in its favor.

The present constitutional provisions on this subject are too inelastic, anyway. It will be remembered that it was only by a hard-fought construction of the Constitution by the supreme court that it was made possible to adopt the commission plan at all in Minnesota. As it stands, in the light of this decision, there is little room for experiment or change.

In order that communities which shall hereafter discard the old form of city government in favor of new and proved forms may have the widest possible choice, the home rule charter provision in the Constitution should be made "wide open."

It would be interesting to know how those San Francisco women who burned certain books became convinced that the books really deserved burning.

THE DWINDLING BUT STILL LIVELY GRAND ARMY.

The commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, addressing the forty-seventh encampment at Chattanooga yesterday, made the pathetic report that eleven thousand members have passed away during the past year, and that the membership has dropped to a hundred and sixty thousand.

These are ranks which can never be recruited. The hand of death takes a heavy toll each year, and it is a slender band indeed that remains of the splendid hosts that marched to victory for the Republic half a century ago.

But considering that fifty years have passed, the number of survivors does not seem so small. They were sturdy young men who battled then, and they are vigorous old men today.

Witness the fact that one veteran yesterday did a dash of a hundred and forty yards in seventeen seconds, and that two men finished a two-and-a-half-mile run. Men in the forties whose wind would vanish in the first stretch of such sprints as these will pause in wondering admiration of the vitality of these veterans.

May death's touch be gentle and slow, and may the gallant remnants of the grand army of '65 remain with us long in peace, plenty and prosperity.

San Diego, with all its boasts about climate, got a dose of 110 degrees in temperature the other day. There's no use of these minor aspirants trying to get into Duluth's class.

THE CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT AND THE SPECIAL ELECTION.

It may have been noted by some that while the corrupt practices act is presumed to govern elections in this state generally, there was practically no compliance with it, except as to designation of advertisements, during the recent referendum campaign.

No material violations of the corrupt practices act were heard of, it is true, and it is altogether probable that there were no practices such as the corrupt practices law is aimed to reach. So in itself it is a matter of very minor importance.

But it is rather important in that it calls attention to an important failure of the corrupt practices act, which is that in point of fact it was not specifically applicable to this section at all.

But it should apply to all elections of this character, whether statewide or local.

The corrupt practices act was drawn solely with candidates in mind, and so it reaches only candidates and the parties and committees behind them.

It does not apply definitely to elections upon constitutional amendments, city charters, ordinances and the like.

Yet it may be vastly more important that there should be publicity and regulation in such elections than it is that there should be publicity and regulation of personal candidacies.

Next year this state will vote on several vitally important constitutional amendments, including the initiative, the referendum and the recall. There will be, doubtless, a hard fight for and against these proposed amendments, and it is not at all improbable that a good deal of money will be spent in the campaign for and against them.

Yet there appears to be nothing in the corrupt practices act definitely to require publicity and regulation of such campaigns, or of the expenditures connected with them.

The corrupt practices act should be amended so as to apply not only to candidates, but to issues like the one just passed upon in Duluth and those to be passed upon by the voters of Minnesota next year.

The senate threatens "extended debate" over the currency bill. And it isn't as if the senate didn't know just how to carry out that kind of a threat.

An Embarrassing Moment.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Mr. Milne, who was somewhat deaf, dined one evening with a friend. When the guests were seated, the host bowed his head and began speaking in a subdued tone. "What's that?" demanded Milne, who sat next to him. The host smiled and began in a louder voice. "Speak a little louder—I don't catch what you say," Milne persisted. A low ripple of laughter went round the table. The host, his face crimson with embarrassment, raised his voice still higher. Milne did his best to hear, but failed. "What did you say?" he demanded irascibly. "Hang it, man!" shouted the host angrily. "I'm saying grace!"

Infringement.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Actresses complain that things have reached the point where it is impossible to wear any less on the stage than off it.

WANTS SMALL FRUIT STORES INSPECTED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

You have always shown a desire to publish anything to the benefit of the public and I will respectfully call the attention of the commissioner of public safety to the deplorable condition of several of the small fruit stores. I have noticed one particularly which I claim investigation will prove is a menace to public health and a most disgusting store to look at. The window is a mass of fish, fruit, tobacco, candy, gum and about everything imaginable and all thrown in together. Just a few days ago I noticed a cat asleep in a basket of plums. The front of the place is always crowded with old scrub pails and sour smelling milk cans. I have seen the proprietor empty his old dirty water buckets onto Superior street. This should have been sent to our live safety commissioner, but as he is devoting all his time to the saloon question, matters of great public menace will have to be referred to others.

A DISGUSTED PASSERBY.

THE SONG OF THE STUNG STOCKHOLDER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

After reading the pleadings and rantings of a number of our enterprising brokers I some time ago invested about 200 hard dollars in a mine proven rich in ore, advertised to be shipping and just tottering on the verge of paying a dividend bearing upon the cutting into a proven ore body of some $4,000,000 value. This was the Florence mine. Have like stockholders any redress? Many have agreed to subscribe per share to investigate this raw deal. Will it do any good? I quote a New York state law; is there such a one in Minnesota?

"Directors who organize a corporation, knowing that attempts are being made to induce the public to subscribe to the corporation or to purchase its securities, have imposed upon them a duty which is not to be discharged by wilfully shutting their eyes to the acts of other officers or agents of the company as to the methods used to procure money from the public. They cannot authorize the issuance of circulars and other appeals to the public to secure the benefits of subscriptions to be made to the company and not be responsible for false and fraudulent statements by which investment in its securities are secured."

Since this mine has faded away and is forgotten except by those who hold the highly colored shares, the above is food for thought.

A STUNG STOCKHOLDER.
Duluth, Sept. 18.

The Herald recently published an article regarding the Florence mine, telling how the stockholders had lost money. The questions asked should be passed upon by a lawyer. The quotation is a court decision, not a law.—The Editor.

Deserving of Recognition.

Louisville Courier Journal: If the administration has any patronage left is it not about time for the recognition of Maurice Splain, author of the "Splain Cocktail?"

Let nobody be misled by the quotation marks. They are used merely in deference to the militant cocktail drinkers who would regard the label as being misleading. The "Splain Cocktail" is not a literary effusion. It is not a mixed drink. It is merely a tall glass of pure orange juice. The originator, a gentleman of convivial disposition in the higher and purer sense, but not inclined to alcoholic indulgence, created the drink to fill a long-felt want. It serves a purpose when the conversation has progressed to such a point that thirst has developed, or is supposed to be existent, and a thoughtful participant in the discussion of ships or shoes or sealing wax or cabbages or kings, as the case may be, interrupts the feast of reason and flow of soul with "what'ly-have?"

Grape juice comes in bottles. It may, perhaps, be made by a trust. Nearly everything is nowadays save noise, in which there is no monopoly, despite the militant efforts of the suffragettes. But the "makings" of a "Splain Cocktail" grow on trees. Three oranges of average size and succulence, and a lemon squeezer of suitable power, and there you are! A drink of seductive appearance and aroma, six or seven fingers tall, democratic in simplicity, and no mystery about the formula. A cold drink for a hot day. A cooling drink for heated discussions upon a cold day. A healthful nightcap and, for those who like that kind of a "mawnin's mawnin'," an excellent "mawnin's mawnin'." Harmless to children, and for women a safe substitute for tanglefoot in the various insidious forms in which it is now, unhappily, much too popular with a sex bent upon equality in vices.

Of course the president knows Mr. Splain, and knows that his cocktail is not his only claim to recognition. He is a journalist of long standing, and a Washingtonian of long standing. His popularity is wider than that of his cocktail.

A Real Estate Transfer.

Judge: "Among the tenements that lay within my jurisdiction when I first took up mission work on the East side," says a New York young woman, "was one to clean out which would have called forth the best efforts of the renovator of the Augean stable. And the families in this tenement were almost as hopeless as the tenement itself.

"On one occasion I felt distinctly encouraged, however, since I observed that the face of one youngster was actually clean.

"'William,' said I, 'your face is fairly clean, but how do you get such dirty hands?'

"'Washin' my face,' said William."

Not a Holiday.

St. Paul Dispatch: A man was wheeling two children in a perambulator, while his wife was behind with two more, when a pal called out:

"Well, Bill, 'ow is it yer got a 'oliday today?"

"I ain't," replied Bill. "I've got to take the missus out!"

The Vanished Lobby

By Savoyard.

Washington, Sept. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Democratic administration should be given credit for one thing at least—it has banished the insidious lobby. No longer do the henchmen of privilege swarm the corridors, galleries and committee rooms of the two houses of congress. They no longer parade on the avenue, no longer haunt the lobbies of swell hotels. Before the Underwood tariff emerged from the ways and means committee this town was full of lobbyists seeking to "fix" it; the day the sugar paragraphs passed the senate there was no lobbyist here to steer the thing, and the same is true of wool.

There are lobbies and lobbies—some genuine, some spurious. The open lobby is all right. It is legitimate. It may employ counsel to present its case before committees in open session. That is lending aid to congress, and congress has frequently profited by such open discussions; but the insidious lobby is a very different thing. As for shameless bribery overt, there has been little of that where the money was paid down. The case of Schuyler Colfax has rarely been duplicated, and it is become as difficult as it is dangerous.

* * *

But there has been intimidation, cajolery, and the corruption that "campaign funds" were the seed of. It was that sort of lobbying that President Wilson smote and it withered. A great ado is made over the inconsistencies of Mulhall's testimony, and it is sought to discredit the lobby investigation because of some of his contradictions and lapses of memory; but really they go to support him. Remember he was deposing about multitudinous transactions of various kinds and of many dates. It would have shown a "frame-up" if his story had not contained contradictions.

The memory of man is treacherous. About the last time I saw Emmett Logan—some weeks before his death—in this town he and I had a tremendous discussion as to the date of a frightful and bloody event in the Ohio valley thirty years ago. I insisted that it occurred in July, 1883, a few days after I left Cincinnati. He was positive that it was in March, 1884. Each of us was willing to make oath to the date. We investigated and it turned out that he was right. I was never so confounded in my life.

* * *

And Mulhall, who may be a miscreant of all colors for aught I know, is held to be a liar unspeakable for mistaking the date many years after the fact when he cashed a check for a rather small amount. But Mulhall has the papers; he has the letters, undisputed, that support his testimony in the main, and if he trips as to details it only goes to corroborate his tale.

The shark has his pilot fish—the highwayman has the pickpocket. This town was long infested by sham lobbyists, who pretended to buy and sell the votes of great men in congress they scarcely had speaking acquaintances with. When avarice is credulous it is the greatest simpleton there is. A fellow would come here with a scheme. If he could get a paragraph, a phrase, in a bill it would mean thousands to him. It was circumstantially related in the newspapers that a rascally enrolling clerk was paid $1,000 to insert a comma in a tariff bill about forty years ago and that punctuation point enabled a concern at Pittsburg to reap a profit of millions at the cost of the taxpayers.

* * *

The little scamps who pretend to buy and sell great men get personal letters from prominent senators and representatives, who would not know them in the middle of the big road. It is customary for public men to answer letters from Tom, Dick and Harry. Well, a scamp armed with such a letter shows it to a fellow who is here to get a privilege, and the scamp sells the vote of that public man to that chap who is here to buy a vested right in a tax.

I heard Mr. Carlisle say that he had no doubt his vote had been so sold repeatedly by men utter strangers to himself. Uncle Joe Cannon says the same thing. That sort of lobbying can be guarded against when rascality shall be eliminated from the human economy; but the big lobby business, such as writ Schedule K in the Dingley bill and perpetuated it in the Payne-Aldrich tariff, if exposed that lobby is paralyzed. That is the lobby President Wilson struck. Its day is over.

* * *

The lobby has had its day. There will be no more Credit-Mobilier scandal, no more whisky ring corruption. The Leet and Stocking rascality would be impossible now, as would the star route frauds. Hereafter congress will write tariff bills, even should the people repudiate the Democratic tariff of the present congress. Mr. Oxnard will not make the sugar schedule and Mr. North will not write Schedule K.

And a day will come when the public will not stand for a flock-master in the United States senate to shamelessly advocate by voice and support by vote a protective tariff on wool.

I do not know that the public morals are greatly reformed; I do know that the public conscience is very much more awake and far more sensitive.

"My Dog Blanco."

My dear dumb friend, low-lying there,
A willing vassal, at my feet,
Glad partner of my home and fare,
My shadow in the street.

I look into your deep brown eyes
Where loyal love and homage shine,
And wonder where the difference lies,
Between your soul and mine.

For all of love that I have found
Within myself or human kind,
Hath royally informed and crowned
Your gentle heart and mind.

I scan the whole wide earth around,
For that one heart which leal and true,
Bears friendship without mete or bound,
And find the prize in you.

I trust you as I trust the stars,
Nor cruel loss, nor scoff of pride,
Nor beggery, and dungeon bars,
Can move you from my side.

As patient under injury,
As any Christian saint of old,
As gentle as a lamb with me,
But with your brothers bold.

As playful as a frolic boy,
As watchful as a sentinel,
By day and night your constant joy,
To guard and please me well.

Ah, Blanco, did I worship God
As truly as you worship me,
And follow where my master trod,
With your humility.

Could I sit humbly at his feet,
As you, dear Blanco, sit at mine,
And trust Him with a love as sweet,
My life would grow divine.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

The Up-to-Date Farmer.

Stillwater Gazette: Speaking of evidences of prosperity, the statement is made that more than 2,000,000 farmers of this country have telephones and several hundred thousands own automobiles. Why should the young man from the country desire a job in the city?

Plans for Fair Grounds.

Menahga Journal: The writer should appreciate comments from the state press on our suggestion of putting the state fair grounds to some practical use during the period that it is not needed for fair purposes.

Railroads Should Not Complain.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: There should be no complaint from the railroads over the passage of a proposed bill compelling all cars to be made of steel. The loss of life, which could have been minimized by the use of the stronger material, has cost far more than the new cars would.

Pretty Big to Coddle.

St. Peter Herald: Minnesota's butter output for last year had a value of almost $30,000,000. It pays to coddle the dairy cow.

Tip to Republicans.

St. Peter Free Press: If the progressive Republicans in Minnesota ever expect to do something worth while they had better discontinue their present methods of fighting each other. The rank and file voters stand for principles, but have very little sympathy for the scrapping now indulged in by the various factions. With them it is a question of purer politics and not a matter of preference, as evidently is the case with some of the parties now striving for supremacy.

Leaks Should Be Plugged.

Brown's Valley Tribune: Minnesota is a growing state. There is no doubt about that, but its growth of population comes far from keeping pace with its growth of its public expenses. There are a lot of leaks in the public treasury of this state that ought to be plugged up.

Another Business for Sale.

Pine River Sentinel Blaze: It takes Northern Minnesota brain and resourcefulness to start the measures that make the upbuilding of the newer portions of the state. The latest suggestion for the development of Northern Minnesota is that the state begin a dynamite factory, and dispose of the product to the farmers at a price that will enable them to go in for clearing land on a larger scale. This the state should do, and inasmuch as the southern part of the state has for years been benefited by the manufacture of binder twine by the state, it would be no more than fair if the northern part should have the opportunity of being benefited by the state's manufacture of dynamite. The next legislature will have this problem to contend with, and it is an easy prediction that it will be carried to a favorable conclusion. Northern Minnesota needs this aid.

The Soul of a Working Girl

Chicago Tribune: A girl was sitting on a park bench in New York in a stupor. The practiced eye of a policeman perceived at a glance that she had taken poison. He rushed her to a hospital. A doctor pumped her for the deadly drug. Then the police pumped her for her story. It was simple.

Her father and mother died within a short time. Left upon her own resources she learned the feather curling trade. She earned little at it in her native city and was advised to go to New York. She went there. She looked for work for months, but did not find it. Her capital dwindled down to the last dollar. She gave up her room and slept in the parks. After a few more days her last dollar had shrunk to the last quarter. The girl held communion with herself. It was either "the street"—or suicide. She decided that she would rather die unsullied. With the last quarter she bought the deadly drug.

Some vice crusaders, sincere and otherwise, have put the life of the working girl under the microscope in the last year. Her mental character and moral strength were searched into. And the crusaders appraised these attributes in terms of dollars and cents. On so and so much a week a girl will keep straight, they said. On less she will go wrong. The girl in New York who planned her death because the price to be paid for living was too great, too exacting, shows that well meaning reformers sometimes have only a surface acquaintance with the class they would help.

A Lame Excuse.

Pittsburg Post: "Where did you get that powder on your coat?"

"A suffragette," explained her husband weakly, "exploded a bomb."

New Orleans Picayune: A certain mayor of a well-known city was walking down the street a few weeks since when he perceived just ahead of him an acquaintance whose handkerchief was sticking out of his pocket. Seized with a brilliant idea, the mayor quickened his pace and stepping up just behind his friend withdrew the handkerchief altogether without the owner being in the least aware of what had taken place.

He was just about to address him and call his attention to what he had done when he felt a tap on his arm and half turning confronted a quiet gentlemanly person, who returned to the mayor his own purse, handkerchief and keys, saying:

"I beg your pardon; I didn't know you were one of us."

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Brooklyn, has filed suit here to collect $8,760 said to be due on a contract from the Western Timber Holding company of Portland, Me.

Later Mr. Hillis borrowed $17,713.25 from a bank at Orange, N. J., the contract with the Western Timber Holding company being given as part security.

According to the suit, payments on the contract were allowed to lapse so that Mr. Hillis was held responsible for amounts unpaid.

THREE ARE HELD FOR FATHER'S MURDER

Fourth Son of Slain Missourian Has Not Been Found.

Stockton, Mo., Sept. 19.—Charged with complicity in the murder of their father, Oscar Hammons, a merchant of Dunnegan, Mo., and Albert and Arthur Hammons, well-to-do farmers of Cedar county, were bound over to the criminal court at the close of their preliminary hearing yesterday.

The body of J. C. Hammons, the father, showing three bullet wounds, was found in an orchard on his Cedar county farm, June 21. The three sons were arrested recently while conducting an administrator's sale of their father's estate. Lloyd Hammons, a fourth son, charged by the state with firing the shots that caused the father's death, has not been found.

Bond was fixed at $30,000 for each of the three sons, but being unable to furnish the amount, they were placed in jail.

LAURIUM TEMPLE DEDICATED NOV. 19.

Laurium, Mich., Sept. 19.—Wednesday, Nov. 19, has been chosen as the tentative date of the dedication of the new temple of Keweenaw Lodge of Masons, over the new Laurium postoffice. Committees have been named and are considering arrangements for the gathering, which probably will be one of the most interesting in the history of the lodge. The grand lodge officers, practically all of whom are expected here to assist at the dedicatory exercises, are being communicated with and if the date above designated is satisfactory it will be definitely settled upon. When here to conduct the school of instruction, Grand Lecturer Gilbert assured the local officers he would exert his influence to prevail upon the grand lodge officers to visit Laurium to attend the dedication and it is practically certain they will be here.

TYPHOID DUE TO INFECTED MILK.

New York, Sept. 19.—One hundred and forty-seven cases of typhoid fever reported since Sept. 1 on the lower East side are declared due to infected milk. The health department found that all this milk came from one company, and immediately ordered the company to cease selling anything but pasteurized milk.

The company received its milk from an up-state creamery which bought the product from a number of farmers. The department is now trying to trace the infected supply to its original source.

The epidemic was one of the most virulent the health officers have ever had to contend with.

PRESENT AND COMING ATTRACTIONS IN DULUTH'S THEATERS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion Pictures and Lecture by Globe Trotter Lieut. Herbert Nordwall.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville Bill Headlined by Joe Welch.
EMPRESS—New Program of Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
REX—New Program of Photoplays.

"The Country Boy."

The lure of the city with its lights and its seeming opportunities to make great fortunes provided Edgar Selwyn with the theme for his distinctive comedy "The Country Boy," which the Henry B. Harris estate will present at the Lyceum Sunday.

But the pathway of the country youth in the big city is well illustrated by the boy, who is the central figure in the story of this play. It took the older man who had sounded the depths of the city's treachery and deceit to reveal to this country youth the fact that after all there might be greater opportunities right in his own home town than the big city could possibly offer. "The Country Boy" tells the story of many a boy who has gone forth into the great world, but unfortunately in many cases they do not find the friend to bring them home in time and they are lost in the whirl of the big town and become derelicts and wrecks along the wayside of life.

"The Girl From Mumms."

At the Lyceum on Monday will be presented Sheehan & Beck's Parisian musical concoction in three courses, "The Girl From Mumms."

The book is by J. A. Lacy, the lyrics and music by Fred A. Bohnhorst, the two young authors who have scored heavily in musical comedy construction.

"The Girl From Mumms" was written to entertain, both from a musical and a comedy standpoint. The dialogue, funny situations and ludicrous climaxes, are broken only by tuneful melodies among which are "Captivating Cleo," "There's A Reason," "Teach Me," "The Girl of Mumms and Mine," "On The Road to Philadelphia," and "Waltz of the Night" during which number the famous "Doll-heart Kiss" is introduced.

The cast engaged to interpret this beautiful musical comedy includes Miss Olive Vail, who will be remembered as leading comedienne and star of "A Stubborn Cinderella," "The Girl Question," "A Modern Eve" and "Miss Nobody From Starland."

"Everywoman."

The engagement of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," at the Lyceum theater three nights beginning Thursday, Sept. 25, brings to this city one of the most talked-about production of many years. While the play has been attracting the multitude in the Eastern cities for the past three years, this is the first tour to the Pacific coast, and owing to the enormous size of the production but few places are played. An entire trainload of scenery and electrical effects is carried by the company, which includes over 150 people and a symphony orchestra. The company includes a score of well-known names. Prominent among them are Adele Blood, Kathleen Kerrigan (Mrs. Clay Clement), Nestor Lennon, Clyde Benson and Lea Leture.

Henry Miller.

Henry Miller's tremendous success, "The Rainbow," in which the famous actor-manager will be seen here Tuesday and Wednesday, at the end of its second year had been presented only in a half dozen American cities. "The Rainbow" was produced early in January at the Liberty theater, New York, and ran there until the first week of July. It opened in Boston last August and ran four months to capacity business. Equally successful runs this year in Philadelphia and Chicago exhausted all but the last few weeks of the season. Mr. Miller is beginning his third year in the beautiful play with a tour of the Pacific coast states, a tour of the South, and a possible return engagement in New York. He will probably use "The Rainbow" as his vehicle for four consecutive seasons, a record that eclipses that established by "The Great Divide," his former great success. When he appears here in "The Rainbow" he will be supported by many of the original New York cast.

At the Orpheum.

There are some interesting people on this week's bill at the Orpheum, and they have come by various routes to the vaudeville stage.

Ralph Smalley, for example, was formerly a cello soloist with the Boston Symphony orchestra, probably the best known orchestra in the United States. He played with the orchestra for six years, and later toured with Emilio de Gorgoza in concert. He has also played with the Savage Grand Opera company, but left orchestra work for vaudeville.

Arenera, the Spanish dancer, is a favvorite in her native country in the presentation of Spanish national dances. Her partner, Signor Victor, was formerly a bull fighter. They were brought to America by Martin Beck, the managing director of the circuit.

Fred Warren is a former "blackface" performer, and the old team of Warren and Blanchard was popular in vaudeville for years.

Miss Vivian Gordon with the farce "Fixing the Furnace," is a former motion pivture actress. "Billy" Kelley, the funny little Englishman in the same company is a genuine Cockney and was brought from London for the part he plays.

Joe Welch, who is headlining the bill, with his humorous interpretation of a philosophic old Jewish gentleman of the older generation, has been known in vaudeville and the legitimate drama for years. He lived on the East side of New York in his early life and studied the type he represents at first hand.

This week's bill will close Saturday night, and for Fall Style week, Manager Billings has secured several of the best known acts in vaudeville. Genero and Bailey will be the headliners, and a dramatic feature of the bill will be provided in a sketch by Willard Mack, well known for his work in stock companies here.

At the Empress.

The last vaudeville bill for several weeks opened at the Empress theater yesterday afternoon. Beginning Sunday the local playhouse will present tabloid dramas and musical shows instead of the regular vaudeville programs.

The bill for the last half of this week includes two good sketches, a popular musical act and two entertainers, who introduce jokes and songs.

Opening the show is the comedy sketch. "Sally's Visit," in which La Vaine and Inman introduce some good jokes, several songs and end their act with an exhibition tight rope walking on the old famly clothes line. The scene of the sketch is laid on the farm.

Caine and Odum play in the absence of Bob Richmond, who was scheduled to appear on the bill, but was compelled to leave for the East before reaching Duluth. They are singers and introduce a series of rapid-fire jokes.

Closing the bill is the headline act, "Politics and Petticoats." Gus Neville and company present the sketch, which deals with a mayoralty fight in a small town, where the political boss has vowed vengence on the candidate for mayor. The sketch is well presented.

"An Unromantic Maiden," a comedy film, closes the bill, which will continue until Saturday evening, with daily matinees.

At the Rex.

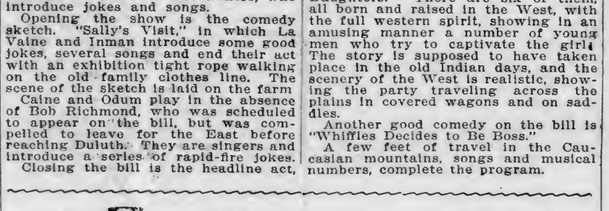

"The Awakening of a Man," one of the famous productions of George Lessey of the Edison staff, and written by Bannister Merwin, is the two-part feature playing at the Rex today. It is a story of business life, love, failure, cowardice and success.

The hero, Benjamin Wilson, does some good work in his picturing of five different figures. He is especially fine in his portrayal of Wenthworth, Sr., at the time of the panic in 1834, and as Wenthworth, Jr., changing from a weakling into a man of sense. Dan Mason's picture of a kindly old family servant is also worthy of mention, as is William West, in the old clerk of the house. As a whole, this feature is entertaining.

"One thousand feet of comedy, giving you 1,000 seconds in laughology," is the description of "Moddington's Daughters." There are six of them, all born and raised in the West, with the full western spirit, showing in an amusing manner a number of young men who try to captivate the girls. The story is supposed to have taken place in the old Indian days, and the scenery of the West is realistic, showing the party traveling across the plains in covered wagons and on saddles.

Another good comedy on the bill is "Whiffles Decides to Be Boss."

A few feet of travel in the Caucasian mountains, songs and musical numbers, complete the program.

"I was down to Barnum yesterday to see the Carlton county fair," said The Old Chairwarmer. "It was the first time since I was a boy that I had been in a country town when the fair was on. It is just like circus day used to be in my home town. All the people turned out to see the fair. The best thing I saw was the country boys who came to town to 'act up.' Their witty remarks about everything in general would have made some of our famous old humorists turn green with envy—not. But it was a good fair. Don't make any mistake about that."

* * *

E. H. Lee, manager of the Spalding hotel, has returned from his vacation, spent in Charlevoix, Mich. Mr. Lee could not rest even on his vacation. While he was in Michigan he organized a state organization of hotel men, and it is probable that the body will affiliate with the national organization. Mr. Lee says that he is much rested by his alleged vacation, and that he is in fine shape to take up hotel problems again.

* * *

John Thomas of Chicago is visiting in Duluth. Mr. Thomas was here when the whaleback steamer Thomas Wilson was sunk in 1902. "I remember that wreck better than I do anything else connected with Duluth," said Mr. Thomas. "Nine men were lost, as I remember it, and the accident has always been associated in my mind with Duluth."

* * *

H. H. Rowley, manager of a co-operative farmers' association in Minneapolis, is in Duluth after a visit to the county fair at Barnum. Mr. Rowley says the vegetables shown at the fair are superior to those raised in many other parts of the state. He said the farmers would get the best of prices for their products if they would advertise what they have.

* * *

Fred Ward, county agricultural agent, returned last evening from the vicinity of Pike Lake, where he attended the farmers' institute and fair which was held on the Jackson school premises for the past two days.

Mr. Ward was very favorably impressed with the showing made by the farmers both in point of attendance and with respect to the exhibits of farm products. The affair, he said, was attended by between 200 and 300 farmers, and the exhibits were of vegetables, garden truck, grasses and grains of all descriptions. A good line of livestock was also on exhibition this week.

"The farmers in the vicinity of Pike Lake are to be commended for the splendid work they are doing," said Mr. Ward. "They have taken the lead in this work and in a number of other lines, and have set a splendid example for other farmers' clubs to follow."

LONDON STRIKE IS AVERTED FOR A TIME

Board of Trade Arranges Conferences With Omnibus Men.

London, Sept. 19.—A general omnibus strike in London was temporarily averted today by the action of the board of trade which invited representatives of the men and employers to attend a conference at the board of trade offices on Monday. The men employed by all the larger companies agreed to remain at work until the result of the conference was known.

Several conferences were held in the course of the morning between the omnibus men and the representatives of the employes of the Amalgamated Tube system. The action of the latter in case of a general strike was discussed.

Practically the entire press of London supports the men in their demands. Many of the newspapers declare that the point in regard to the wearing of union badges should never have been raised.

Men Should Confide Business Affair With Wives.

It is an empty compliment, the one so many men make, that their little wives' heads were not made to bother over intricate business affairs. Probably it is said most of the time in good faith. The really capable man likes to feel that he stands between the woman he loves and all hard and disagreeable things.

Nevertheless it is a mistake, since no man can insure immunity for those he loves from contact with the grim things of life, no matter how he may strive to do so. Something unexpected and out of his calculation arises and the "little head" he has kept in happy ignorance finds itself in a tangle of trouble that it cannot unravel all because of misapplied solicitude.

Woman today is taking a different stand. If she is the right sort, she desires to be her husband's confidant in all matters pertaining to their mutual interest and, while she should not interfere in his affairs to his embarrassment or detriment, she is entitled to know their standing and any details that will help her to protect her interest in the face of the various misfortunes of life.

The opportunity should be forthcoming to the woman who desires it. The least a man can do for any woman, no matter how incompetent she may be, is to put her in the true knowledge of his finances, present position and prospects.

Granted that there are many extravagant wives pushing their mates to the verge of bankruptcy and despair. Yet in all fairness I ask, how many men are wholly or in part responsible for this condition, keeping their wives in complete ignorance one way or the other, or else leading them to believe that money is plentiful?

It is the privilege of those who have been joined together to lessen each other's burdens by sharing them. True marriage is a union in all things and everything should be an open book between husband and wife. A man need not make a business partner of his wife necessarily. Indeed her share in his life prohibits this usually. But he gains nothing by shutting her out of all knowledge of his business life or in deceiving her in the slightest or on any pretext in regard to the same.

WANT CASH TO FIGHT LIQUOR

North Dakota Enforcement League Asks $10,000 Fund.

Supt. Watkins Declares Prohibition Law Is Generally Observed.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the North Dakota Enforcement league requires a fund of $10,000 to carry on its work against the sale of liquor in the state, is the declaration of Supt. F. L. Watkins, head of the league, and formal plans for a concerted campaign to create such fund were launched at a conference held in Grand Forks.

That the failure of the league to handle complaints from certain sections of the state has resulted in threats by contributors to the league's fund that they will withdraw their support, is another statement by Supt. Watkins, and he contends that the situation is so critical that immediate action must be taken.

Under the enlarged plans of the league, if the fund of $10,000 is available, the work of law enforcement will be placed in the hands of Supt. Watkins and three assistants. He will have a deputy superintendent and two detectives, who will be maintained in the field at all times.

"There is no denying that the state of North Dakota is in much better condition at the present time so far as the enforcement of the prohibition law is concerned, but with additional funds available I feel that we can absolutely control the illegal traffic," said Supt. Watkins in discussing the plan.

"There are only a few sections of the state where there is any real need of constant work just now," continued Mr. Watkins. "Districts where violations of the prohibition law were notorious for years, and where it was not supposed that public sentiment could be aroused to the point of bringing about the conviction of accused piggers, have been closed tight. Over 500 men who are known to be blind-piggers have left the state within the past few months and have flocked to adjoining states or to Canada.

"North Dakota, through the passage of its stringent anti-gambling law, has also driven out a large number of gamblers."

ANOTHER BOOST TO MINE VALUES

State Tax Commission Assesses Mining Property at $275,000,000.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—The assessed valuation of mines and mineral lands in Minnesota for the purposes of taxation, will approximate $275,000,000 for 1913, according to estimates. The state tax commission makes the valuation, and today was set for a hearing for those who wished to enter protests against the completed appraisements. There were few complaints as compared with over 100 two years ago.

Last year's assessments amounted to $259,418,277 and it is believed the commission will arbitrarily increase this 5 per cent. In addition, some new properties have been developed during the year and are now subject to a higher rate of valuation than heretofore.

Several weeks ago members of the commission made their annual inspection trip through the range country. It was believed that the Cuyuna district, recently developed near Brainerd, would stand for a considerable tax this year, but it is now understood that the commission has decided to postpone action on this matter until 1914, in the meantime allowing the operators to develop their ore bodies without any additional state burden.

Mines and mining land assessments this year will approximate 40 per cent of the total valuation of real estate in Minnesota. Seven years ago, before the tax commission had charge of this valuation work, these items amounted to but 14 per cent of the total.

BELTRAMI FAVORS BIG ROAD PROJECT

Proposed Border Line Highway Is Given Substantial Boost.

Bemidji, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good roads for Northern Minnesota received a boost yesterday when the Beltrami board of county commissioners, after receiving a petition for the building of thirty-seven miles of highway from Clementson on the northeastern boarder of the county to the northwestern boundary, as part of a broad highway to connect Warroad in Roseau county with International Falls, the board ordered County Surveyor Roy K. Biller to prepare estimates of the cost. The auditor was also ordered to forward them to St. Paul immediately for the approval of the state highway commission. Mr. Paul immediately for the approval of seven miles at $59,000, this amount including two steel bridges over the Rapid and Winter Road rivers, and four small wooden structures over creeks.

The proposition will come before the county board for settlement at its next meeting, Nov. 4, providing the state highway commission approves the project. The building of this road was urged in a resolution adopted by the Northern Minnesota Development association at International Falls in June, 1912. If built, it will be constructed under the provisions of the Elwell law, which provides that the state pay one-half the cost, the county one-fourth and the property owners immediately benefited one-fourth. C. R. Middleton, an attorney at Baudette, who presented the petition, says that public sentiment is strongly in favor of the road.

Koochiching county has already advertised for bids for the construction of its share of this highway, which will be approximately 120 moles long. It is part of the proposed system of state highways stretching on the east and of this from International Falls to the iron ranges and Duluth, and on the west end from Warroad to Crookston.

PAYING CROPS IS SEASON'S RULE

Satisfactory Grain Yields Reported From North Dakota Points.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Satisfactory yields still continue to be reported by North Dakota farmers, and there appears very general satisfaction among the land owners over the results of the season's work. Paying crops have been the rule, and with the prices prevailing, wheat crops, as well as crops of oher grains, have paid out well. Threshing operations are practically ended. The corn crop matured in good shape, and the selection of seed was accomplished by the farmers on a greater basis than ever before. The acreage of corn that matured this year is greater than at any previous time in the history of the state. Individual yields indicate the general crop results quite clearly.

T. G. Buchanan of Shafer, McKenzie county, threshed wheat that averaged 24½ bushels an acre, being one of the best yields in that district.

On the Robert Fisher farm in the Green river district, Stark county, oats averaged 120 bushels an acre, probably being the record yield in the state. Upland oats on the same farm averaged 50 bushels.

In the Edmore district satisfactory yields, averaging from 16 to 22 bushels, are being reported.

On an experimental plot on the John Chiderhouse farm, near St. Thomas, wheat averaged 32.5 bushels an acre, while a tract of barley on the Rudolph Kaedel farm near Glasston averaged 68.93 bushels an acre.

Plaza district yields are interesting, and follow: Hans Louden, 16 bushels of wheat an acre; John Louden, 8 bushels of wheat on oat ground and 21 on corn ground; Carl Burtness, 13 bushels; John Wustner, 16 bushels; Richard Knorr, 25 bushels; Ole Rostad, 9 bushels; Paul Kolden, 11 bushels; H. H. Rud, 9 bushels; Martin Flannery, 17 bushels; E. N. Calkins, 15 bushels.

E. S. Person of Minot had a yield of 50 bushels of corn an acre.

In the Deering district many fields averaged 25 bushels, while most of them averaged about 18 bushels.

Near Cavalier Levi Taulton threshed wheat averaging 22 bushels, with barley averaging 50 bushels. William Jackson reports wheat at 22; barley at 30, and oats at 35. R. Raidel of Hensel threshed barley averaging 69 bushels.

Near Hannah wheat has averaged from 12 to 22 bushels; barley at from 30 to 35 bushels; and oats at 30 to 50 bushels.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT ASHLAND RACES.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the motorcycle races on the Ashland fair grounds late yesterday afternoon, a tire burst on the machine operated by Erick Seestrom and it ran off the track. It struck a ladder and threw the rider and fractured the skull of the 5-year-old son of H. D. Ewer standing near with his father. Seestrom was badly bruised and the child died two hours later.

ARTILLERY COMPANY FOR GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks will have a machine gun company, this new adjunct to the North Dakota National Guard being approved by the war department, and Adjt. Gen. A. I. Berg has given the word to Grand Forks backers of the plan that they must organize and show their ability to handle the proposition if they want to go through with their plans, launched several months ago.

Tonight the meeting of prospective members of the company will be held, and at that time preliminary organization will be perfected. Eighty men, at least, must sign the muster roll, and it is expected that that number will be obtained very readily.

In the establishment of a machine gun company in Grand Forks, officers of the guard are confident that a new department for the state militia will be created that will add generally to the interest in guard work throughout the state. Grand Forks business men have, for some time, sought the establishment of a machine gun company here, and they are ready to finance whatever features may be necessary.

Grand Forks has a building which will be used for armory purposes—the Grand Forks auditorium—for the use of which partial plans have already been made.

PLAN TO HONOR HANCOCK PRIEST

Father Atfield to Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of Pastorate.

Hancock, Mich., Sept. 19.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Father Atfield's pastorate of St. Patrick's church will be celebrated next month. It is possible that the celebration will be held the first Sunday afternoon in October that the congregation may find it more convenient to be present at the exercises.

It was previously intended to have the occasion mark the wiping out of the small debt standing against the parish, but labor conditions are such that Father Atfield has deferred taking action toward raising the debt. Plans also had been launched for the erection of a new convent, but this project also has been dropped for the time.

Rev. Father Atfield was ordained 32 years ago, the ordination being performed by the late Rt. Rev. Bishop Vertin in Marquette. Following his ordination Father Atfield came to Hancock as assistant pastor to Rev. Father Jacker at the church of which the former is now pastor, although at that time it was St. Anne's church. Father Atfield was later transferred to Champion, then Houghton and 25 years ago next month was made pastor of St. Patrick's church which pastorate he has since filled.

Understanding fully the present conditions the pastor has requested that the observance not be an elaborate affair. The children will remember him with a gift and the afternoon exercises, which will be a musical program, will constitute the observance.

RAILROADS FIGHT FOR ORE FREIGHT.

Marinette, Wis., Sept. 19.—The Northwestern and Milwaukee railroad companies are engaged in a war for the traffic of the new Iron River, Mich., mining district.

The Northwestern has enjoyed a monopoly of the business for many years. Recently the Milwaukee road completed an extension to the district and is now trying to build tracks to the mines. To do this the rails of the Northwestern road must be crossed frequently on main and sidetracks.

As the first gun of the battle the Northwestern road raised the grade of the track at the Rogers' line crossing the day before the Milwaukee road got there to cross it. This means a long delay for the Milwaukee road to bring its grade up to the crossing grade.

It is probable that the Milwaukee system may appeal to the state railroad commission.

Courthouse Celebration.

Cavalier, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pembina county's new courthouse, the construction of which has just been completed, will be formally opened Oct. 10, and plans for the event are being laid by the county commissioners. The new courthouse is one of the best in the state, being erected at a cost of about $100,000. Cavalier became the county seat of Pembina county two years ago, and the courthouse plan was conceived and executed within that period.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Knox, N. D.—Escaping death by almost a miracle Sander Nestagard is in a hospital with a collar and other bones broken. He was managing a threshing outfit and while walking alongside the front of an egine which was moving from one field to another, he fell in front of the small wheels and was run over by them, being badly crushed, but he had sufficient strength and presence of mind to whirl over and escaped the heavier and larger wheels and immediate death.

Schafer, N. D.—As a result of a twenty-four-bushel yield on the wheat of T. G. Buchanan, there are additional converts in this locality to the better farming movement. His crop was planted under the direction of that association. Several other farmers will join in the plan for next year.

Hot Springs, S. D.—Sheriff Clark has returned from Fort Pierre with "Bill" Bolt, wanted on the charge of burglary.

Ethan, S. D.—Walter Christion, a farmer, was terribly injured as the result of becoming impaled on the hook of a hayrack.

Chester, S. D.—The 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haeder fell into a pan of hot water and died from her injuries.

Dell Rapids, S. D.—The 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ginther was kicked in the head by a horse with such force that his skull was fractured. The little fellow survived only a few hours.

Fargo, N. D.—The third annual home products show this winter will probably be the largest held. The members of the Manufacturers' association meet tomorrow to make preliminary plans.

Williston, N. D.—Work on buildings here has been greatly retarded by the shortage of help.

Williston, N. D.—So Mutsomoto, a Jap, aged 30, and Clara C. Corkin, white, aged 30, of Kenmare, N. D., reached Williston today at the conclusion of a wedding tour, and Mutsomoto resumed his local business. Mr. and Mrs. Mutsomoto were married at Minot several days ago, Judge William Murray performing the ceremony, with Deputy Sheriff Dougherty acting as best man.

ON THE IRON RANGES

ALL SET FOR MOTOR RACES

Two-Day Event to Open at Hibbing Saturday.

Many Cars Entered and Some Records May Be Broken.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—With all officials selected and agreed upon and weather permitting, the third annual race meet of the Hibbing Automobile association, which will take place tomorrow and Sunday, gives promise of being the most successful of any ever held here.

The meet will be given a rousing start tomorrow morning when the 40-mile road race between Grand Rapids and Hibbing will take place. Entries for all of the races must be in by midnight and a few drivers are waiting until the last minute to announce that their cars will be placed in the race. While there have been ten cars entered in the race, only four have announced drivers and mechanics, these being Elmer Shannon, with Arnold Hubin as mechanic; Frank Bank, driver, S. Taylor, mechanic; M. B. Messner, driver. Del St. Julian, mechanic; Fred M. Smith, driver, Art Murray, mechanic.

The first car will leave Grand Rapids at 10:30 tomorrow morning and the others will follow at intervals of five minutes. Mr. Hughes, who is recognized as one of the best starters in the race business, will have charge at Grand Rapids. Mr. Hughes will also act as the official starter of the track races here. The timekeepers will be Harry Burnham and Fred A. Klass; judges, W. J. West, J. A. Reffern and M. W. Turner of Duluth; clerks of races, Herman Kohrt, G. H. Wellner and Dr. P. R. Thomas.

Eight amateur motorcycle riders of Hibbing have entered in the special races which will be held each afternoon.

The fact that the track is in excellent condition means that the record will probably be broken. William Messner, while practicing at the fair grounds yesterday, is claimed to have established a new record, but which, of course, is unofficial.

The road race machines will begin arriving at the grounds shortly after 11 o'clock. The afternoon program will start at 2:30 o'clock.

HIBBING SCHOOLS HAVE 2,397 PUPILS.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing schools are beginning the new term with the heaviest enrollment at this time of year in their history. The registration list shows 2,397 pupils in attendance, an increase of 225 over last year.

Great gains have been made in the schools at Alice, Brooklyn and Kitzville, while those at Stevenson, Pool and Glen show no increase in attendance.

The school at Leetonia, which formerly comprised two rooms, has been increased to four and that many teachers placed in charge. The school is full, there being an attendance of 117.

Supt Blair reports satisfaction with the progress which is being made since school opened two weeks ago and says that he looks forward to an even more successful year than last. At that time the record was commented upon throughout the state because of the fact that out of a class of more than 100 students taking up eighth grade work, only one failed.

WITHDRAWS CHARGE AGAINST ASSAILANT.

Chisholm, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eric Grossy has withdrawn the complaint made against Louis Jotto, who attacked him with a knife in a boarding car in the Great Northern yards here Tuesday night. Grossy and Jotto came here with an Italian laboring gang several weeks ago. Grossy's wounds are not serious but will lay him up for a short time. Influential Italians here, it is said, influenced Grossy into withdrawing his complaint to hush up the matter. Jotto could not be located but his friends believe that he will now return to work.

RAILROAD EMPLOYE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Two Harbors, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Hanson, who was working as hostler helper for the Duluth & Northern Minnesota railway at Knife River, was seriously if not fatally injured Wednesday afternoon. A small flat car used for transferring the company's material about the yards and shops, and which at the time of the accident was loaded with steel rails and other track material, was being pushed through the yards by a locomotive which was being backed up. Hanson was riding on the flat car, and was passing an obstruction near the track when one of the steel rails which projected over the edge of the car struck the obstruction and knocked Hanson off the car and directly in front of the moving locomotive, dragging him for several feet. One leg was broken in two places, one knee was seriously injured, his right shoulder was broken, and the present indications are that he was seriously injured internally. He was hurried to the Two Harbors hospital in this city, where he is under the care of Dr. Wagner.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES DISAPPEAR

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon.

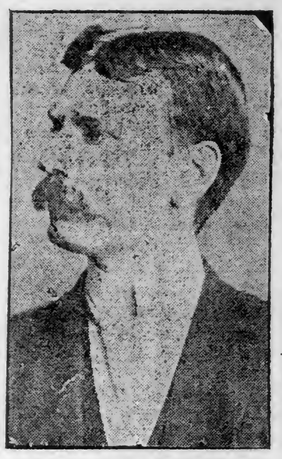

It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such diseases.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

RANGE RIVALS IN DIAMOND BATTLE

Ely and Winton Ball Teams to Play for Large Stake.

Winton, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ely and Winton will again mix in baseball here Sunday, this time to decide the championship between the two towns, who every year are strong rivals of each other in the national game. Thus far this season the two teams have played eight games, each winning four, which makes Sunday's contest the rubber affair.

Both clubs are confident of the game, and the managements of the Ely and Winton teams have made a side bet of $100. The winner also takes the entire gate receipts.

The battery for the local team will be Schmirler and Lambert, while it is expected that Cunningham will twirl for Ely.

CITY HOSPITAL IS HIBBING PROJECT.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A modern city hospital will be established here if the recommendation presented to the village council at its last session is approved at the next meeting of the council. The building will cause an expenditure of approximately $10,000.

Dr. C. F. Morsman, chairman of the health board, is the instigator of the movement. He suggests that the detention hospital be doubled in size and made into a hospital, where all contagious ailments and confinement cases may be taken.

Dr. Morsman contends that the hospital would be self-supporting. He believes that the building of the new place will do away absolutely with conditions as they now exist where persons coming to Hibbing for treatment, cannot secure rooms in the hospitals.

Action was not taken on the proposition by the council because of the absence of Mayor Power and Trustee Curran, However, the aldermen present appeared in favor of the proposition and are of the opinion that the hospital will be built.

GRAND RAPIDS HIGH SCHOOL POPULAR.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nearly one half of this year's enrollment of students at the high school come from the outlying country in District No. 1. Of the 165 students now enrolled seventy reside outside of town, and during the winter will be boarded in town.

At the time when the need of a new addition to the high school was proposed many of the residents felt that the fear of the school board that a very large number of students would come from outlying districts was entirely unfounded, but the board knew that the high school was the only one in the district and that it was sure to draw a large attendance, particularly as the high school is the only one in the district.

Long Deferred Transfer of Water and Light Property Expected.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—All the preliminary preparations for the taking over by the city of the water and light plant of the Virginia Electric Power & Water company are under way. Since the transfer has been twice stopped when it seemed within a few days of consummation, the municipal ownership advocates are trusting that the last of the objections have been presented and that no further attempt will be made to stop the deal.

The price to be paid will be approximately $544,000, part of the cash coming from Bolger, Mosser & Willaman of Chicago, who bought the $450,000 bond issue. Certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed when the taxes are collected will furnish another $34,000 and there is a small amount in the water and light fund. The mayor and other representatives of the city will go to Chicago within a week and hope to bring back with them the money to pay over for the plant.

The people have been promised a reduction of 20 per cent in water and light charges when the city has control. The mayor expects the deal will be closed several days before the end of the month.

TWO PIONEER ELY RESIDENTS DIE.

Ely, Minn., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Eberz, a well-known woodsman, dropped dead from heart trouble here last night. He had recently been dismissed from the hospital here after a short illness, but at about 11 o'clock last night complained to his friends at the Northern hotel of feeling ill. He returned to the hospital, stepped in the door, but dropped to the floor and was dead before the nurse could reach him. He was about 50 years of age and had made his home in Ely for a long time. He leaves no relatives. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow. Eberz was a member of the local lodge of Owls.

The regular meeting last evening was dispensed with and a supper and program given to the members and their families. The Rev. J. W. Schenck, grand chaplain of the order in the domain of Minnesota, was present and delivered the address of the evening. Albert Coombs of Calumet, Mich., gave a number on the program. Past Grand B. O. Strachan. William Nicholls, a charter member of the lodge, and Rev. E. F. Stidd, all made short talks.

HEADWAY BY CONFEREES

Wheat and Flour Tariffs Are Agreed on By Committee.

Pomerene Attacks Brandy Schedules in the Senate.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A settlement of the differences between the senate and house over the proposed duties on wheat and flour, was reached by the Democratic members of the tariff conference committee yesterday. The nature of the agreement was not made public, but it is understood that the house members finally accepted the senate amendment almost without change.

Under this provision, both wheat and flour would go on the free list and a duty of 10 cents per bushel would be assessed against wheat imported from a country levying a duty on American wheat, and a duty of 45 cents per barrel against flour imported under like conditions. The house had put a straight duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and had free listed flour with a countervailing duty of 10 per cent advalorem.

Fix a Precedent.

This agreement established a precedent which it is understood will be followed in other cases in imposing countervailing duties. It is expected that the conference will approve a countervailing duty of 10 per cent on potatoes, which both houses have put on the free list, and that the countervailing duty on wood pulp put in by the house and later stricken out by the senate, may also be adopted.

Wide differences of opinion developed in the conference over the duty on lead and zinc ore, burlap, ferro manganese ore and several other items.

An agreement was reached on the meat inspection provision as applied to free meat from abroad, and the section will be written so that the rigid provisions of the American inspection laws will be applied in some of their more important features to imported meats.

A night session of the conference was held for the first time owing to the slow progress made on the bill.

Attacked in Senate.

The decision to drop senate amendments proposing a tax of $1.10 a gallon on all fruit brandies used to fortify sweet wines, was vigorously attacked in the senate yesterday by Senator Pomerene. He declared that if the provision were dropped, he would make a fight on the floor of the senate against approval of the conference report.

By an agreement reached several days ago it was voted to eliminate the provision and make a separate measure at the next session of congress.

Senator Pomerene criticized the tariff bill managers more sharply than had any other Democrat since Senator Hitchcock denounced the caucus for the defeat of his "trust" tax amendment. He was joined by Senator Vardaman of Mississippi.

"In 1890," Senator Pomerene said, "this favor was granted the California wine producers without debate on the theory that there would be produced a light wine suitable for table use. Instead of that, they add enough alcohol to bring the alcohol in sweet wines up to 22 per cent, and have made it unfit for table use. There is only 40 per cent alcohol in whisky, so the lady who takes her glass of sweet wine is getting more alcohol than the man who drinks his highball."

Pomerene Opposes Delay.

He declared that only the patent medicine manufacturers who use the cheapest sweet wines would suffer from the tax, and objected to postponement of consideration of the tax until the next session of congress on the ground that it would relieve the California producers of the tax for a year, amounting to a bonus of some $7,000,000.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

PERMANENCE AND BRIGHTS DISEASE

We have been asked if the recoveries in Bright's Disease made by Fulton's Renal Compound are permanent. Many cases have established permanence.

For instance in the case of R. M. Wood, Editor of the Wine and Spirit Review of San Francisco, Cal.: It was twelve years ago that "the most noted analysist in San Francisco" established the genuineness of the case. The editor's physician told him that medicine would not avail him and advised him to go to Santa Barbara. He dropped from 225 to less than 190 pounds in a short while. On his return he was put on Fulton's Renal Compound and not only made a recovery but the reality and permanence of it may be judged from the fact that he is well at this writing, January, 1913.

Thousands of cases of Bright's Disease have reported progress or recovery under Fulton's Renal Compound. Medical works admit that they have nothing to control chronic Bright's Disease. And the deaths confirm—nearly ninety thousand annually. If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug company.

ALUMNI AND CENTRAL TO MEET ON GRIDIRON

It is expected that the game tomorrow between Central and the alumni will be in the nature of a real battle between the candidates for the hilltop team and the graduates of the institution.

Last evening the alumni aggregation was out for one of the most strenuous practices the ex-high school students have held since preparations were started for the annual contest. There will be a signal drill this evening, which should put the graduate players about right for the opening game of the season.

There are four strong candidates out for guard position on Central. There is also a strong quartet out for the tackle position. The back field should be the strongest in years with Brown at full, Stevens and Culkin at quarter and Casey, O'Brien and Kerr for the two halfback positions.

Flynn is one of the strongest candidates for center. Hoopes, Ellund and Whiteside are out for guard. Denfeld and Dunn are pretty sure to make the tackle positions, and Lawrence and Du Moe look good to make the end positions.

While Coach Schilling and Capt. Mat Brown are not saying much at the present time, early prospects have pleased both the coach and team leader.

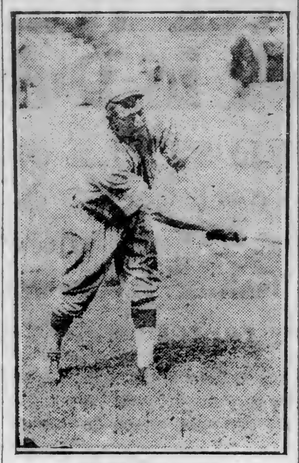

Last season Duluth Central had one of the fastest teams in the history of the school. With about seven of last year's players back and a wealth of material from last year's second team to draw upon, the chances seem bright that Duluth will this season make a valiant effort to win high honors in the interscholastic field.

In the past the alumni team has succeeded in giving Central one of the hardest battles of the year, simply for the reason that the graduates generally have the beef and brawn and for another reason that so early in the season there is little chance to take advantage of the training that comes later in the year.

This season the graduates have rounded up one of the strongest teams that has ever faced Central for the opening game, and the contest promises to be one with the issue much in doubt.

The contest will be called at 2:30 and it is expected that there will be a large crowd on hand to see the first clash of the year.

ADAMS AND TIGERS TO CLASH ON THE GRIDIRON

The independent football season will be opened in Duluth on Sunday with a game between the Adams and the Tigers of West Duluth. The Tigers have been together for the past three years and during the past two weeks have been practicing for the game with the three A aggregation.

Followers of the independent game will be given their first look at what the members of the Adams Athletic association believe is going to prove the best eleven that has ever represented the West end association, and also a team that is going to make a hard try for the independent football championship of the Northwest.

Some of the best of the Adams stars of last season will be in the line-up for the initial game of the season. Art Buchanan will lead the blue and white warriors, and Brickley, the Wisconsin university player, is expected to make his appearance with the Adams.

C. C. Colton has been coaching the Adams boys, who have been out all of the present week. With the stars of last season back in the line-up, reinforced with players like Bradley of Superior and several other new men who are scheduled to make their first appearance in the game with the Tigers, it is generally believed that the Adams will make a bold bid for the cup that has been donated by Max Klein for the Northwestern independent title.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Reds Win Opener.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 19.—Ragon had one bad inning and Cincinnati made enough runs in it to win the first game of the farewell series from Brooklyn, 3 to 2. This was in the sixth when Cincinnati made half of their hits of the game and were enabled to score their three runs. Before this inning Brooklyn was leading, making two runs in the fourth on two doubles, a single, a sacrifice and an error.

Ragon succeeded Rucker after the latter had pitched the first inning and outside of his one bad inning had the locals guessing. Ames, too, pitched good ball and like Ragon kept the hits scattered except in one inning.

Cincinnati made their runs on Bates and Groh's singles, Wickland's double and a single by Tinker. Brooklyn scored on Smith's two-base drive, Fisher's sacrifice, an error by Hoblitzell, a single by Ragon and a double by Cutshaw.

The first game of the double-header, which was to have been played, was called off on account of the bad condition of the grounds. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	0	0	2
Cincinnati	0	0	3

Batteries—Ragon, Rucker and Fisher; Ames and Kling. Umpires—Eason and Brennan.

Divide Double-Header.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Chicago and Boston divided honors yesterday, the home team shutting out the visitors, 3 to 0, in the first game, while the score was reversed in the second. Leach's hitting, base running and ability to wait at the plate was responsible for the locals winning the first game behind Pierce's fine pitching. The visitors won the second game by daring base running and opportune hitting, coupled with Chicago's errors.

Pitcher Cochrehan, formerly of the Topeka club of the Western league, joined the Boston club today, and Pitcher Dowdey is expected to report tomorrow. The scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	6	0
Chicago	1	7	1

Batteries—Tyler and Rariden; Pierce and Archer. Umpires—Klem and Orth.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	3	7	0
Chicago	0	9	3

Batteries—Hess and Rariden; Vaughn, Stack and Archer. Umpires—Klem and Orth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees Continue Streak.

New York, Sept. 19.—New York retained its one-point hold on seventh place yesterday by defeating Chicago in the third game of the series by a score of 6 to 3. The game was won in the fourth inning, when the locals scored four runs, and drove Russell off the slab. Three passes, singles by Maisel and Holden and errors by Berger and Russell accounted for the tallies.

Ed Walsh pitched the last four innings for Chicago. It was the first time he had appeared in the box in two months. He gave a good account of himself, New York counting only once off him. In the seventh Williams singled, took third on an infield out, and scored on Gilhooley's single.

McHale pitched a steady game for New York and kept Chicago's hits scattered. Weaver scored in the first when he doubled, took third on an infield out, and made a clean steal of home. Collins counted in the fourth on a pass, Chase's sacrifice and Chappell's double. Collins also scored in the sixth. After forcing Lord, he went to second on Chase's out and scored on Bodie's single. Maisel in five times up hit a double and three singles and drew a pass. He also stole two bases.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	3	7	3
New York	6	10	0

Batteries—Russell, Walsh and Easterly; McHale and Gossett. Umpires—Connolly and O'Loughlin.

Senators Defeat Tigers.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Washington emerged from a batting slump yesterday and beat Detroit, 6 to 1. Manager Jennings used two of his recruit pitchers, but neither of them seemed to bother Washington. Renfer started and lasted six innings during which time he was hit safely five times. He was wild and before he gave way to Harding five runs had crossed the plate, the latter held Washington to three hits, a triple and a double resulting in one run in the eighth inning. Detroit could do little with Groom when runners were on the bases. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	1	7	2
Washington	6	8	0

Batteries—Renfer, Harding and Gibson; Groom and Henry. Umpires—Dineen and Sheridan.

Errors Lose Game.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19.—Errors by Cleveland were responsible largely for Boston's 5 to 4 victory yesterday. The locals bunched hits during the sixth inning and with the assistance of a wild throw by Leibold, four runs crossed the plate. Cleveland made two runs in the seventh, tying the score on four singles. During Boston's half of the seventh, with two out, Engle hit to Johnston, but James failed to touch first base when he took the toss. Engle started to steal and continued to third on a wild throw by Garisch. Lieboldthrew past third base in an effort to get the runner and the winning tally counted. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	4	13	4
Boston	5	8	1

Batteries—Cullop, James, Gregg and Carisch, O'Neil; Moseley, Bedient and Cady. Umpires—Evans and Ferguson.

Athletics Are Blanked.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19. — Leverenz held Philadelphia to four scattered hits here yesterday and St. Louis won the game, 5 to 0. Battery and fielding errors by Shawkey and Schang gave the visitors their first two runs, while they bunched four hits with a pass in the ninth and scored three more runners. Graff, formerly of Binghamton, N. Y., made a fine impression at third base for St. Louis. He fielded his position well and got two singles and a pass in four trips to the plate. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	5	7	1
Philadelphia	0	4	2

Batteries—Leverenz and McAllister; Shawkey and Schang. Umpires—Hildebrand and Egan.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 19.—"Fighting Dick" Hyland of San Francisco and Young Joe Shugre of Jersey City went ten whirlwind rounds to a draw here last night.

Brewers Lose Another.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—Louisville won and tied with Milwaukee yesterday, winning the first game by a score of 1 to 0 and tieing the second, 4 to 4, the game being called on account of darkness. Hovlik and Toney had a great pitching duel in the first, Hulswitt's scratch single and an out, and Beaumiller's hit in the second scoring the only run of the game. Toney was batted hard, but was given great support, two wonderful running catches by Osborn saving the game for the visitors. Powell was batted hard in the second game, but the home club tied up the score in the seventh on hits by Clark and Gilbert and Hughes' triple, followed by Randall's sacrifice fly. Scores:

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	0	4	0
Louisville	1	8	1

Batteries—Hovlik, Braun and Marshall; Toney and Clemons. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	4	6	1
Louisville	4	10	1

Batteries—Powell and Hughes; Woodburn and Severeid, Clemons. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 19.—England had a two-point advantage in the score and an even greater advantage in position when the final rounds in the open golf championship began this morning on the links of the Country club.

A cold northeast rain had set in when Edward Ray, one of the British trio, started the day's sport, playing with M. J. Brady of Wollaston as the first pair. The inclement conditions, however, failed to keep down the gallery, and when Vardon of England, an even favorite for the event, started twenty minutes after Ray, nearly a thousand enthusiasts, including a fair sprinkling of women, trudged through the wet grass after him.

The third round began with Varden and Reid of England tied for first place at 147, and with Ray and Herbert Strong of Inwood only two strokes behind. In the first six places America had some strong players in MacDonald Smith of Wykagyl, and J. M. Barnes of Tacoma at 150. Francis Ouimet, the brilliant Boston amateur, Alex Ross of Braeburn, George Sargent of Chevy Chase, and W. Hagin of Rochester, were all tied at 151.

There were fifty-five players in the running today and it required about two and one-half hours to send away the field.

GRAND CIRCUIT LEAVES DETROIT

Six Races on Card for Final Day of Meet.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—Today marked the close of Grand Circuit harness racing in Detroit this season, and it was expected to complete a program of six races before the curtain dropped. Three of the races should have been run yesterday, but were postponed in order to stage events which rain prevented on previous days.

The get-away card included a 2:11 trot, 2:17 trot, 2:11 pace, 2:08 pace and 2:17 pace.

A free-for-all pace which was expected to bring together such fast horses as Pickles and Braden Direct, attracted considerable attention.

Lord Dewey, winner of the Empire State trot last week at Syracuse, captured his second $10,000 race of the season yesterday, when he took the Michigan stake for 2:15 trotters from a field of seven in straight heats.

His victory was expected. So was that of Frank Bogash, Jr., in the 2:12 pace, with its purse of $5,000. There were only four starters in the latter event and the brown gelding again proved himself to be the class of the season's green pacers. Leata J., generally his closest rival, tried hard, but never seriously threatened.

Six Events Completed.

Six events were completed. This was made necessary by the rain which curtailed Tuesday's program and postponed yesterday's card. Only one event—the 2:20 pace—went to the limit of five heats. Homer Baughman, driven by Geers, finally won it. It was Geers' first victory of the present meeting.

The 2:14 pace was a romp for Princess Margaret, the favorite, who was followed in each heat by Zanzibar. Dr. E. P. and Jones Gentry of a field of ten fought a merry struggle in the 2:06 pace, the race going to the former. Loretta W had things all her own way in the 2-year-old trot. She won two straight heats, and in the second finished more than two lengths ahead of Frisco Lad.

In the $10,000 race, Reusens never threatened. Almost every time Geers attempted to drive him, he broke. Twice in the last heat, when it appeared as if he might have a chance, he lost his stride.

O'BRIEN SIGNS AN OUTFIELDER

George Williams, an Ohio Slugger, Becomes a Dook.

Darby O'Brien keeps busy. Advices received yesterday state that George Williams, a big outfielder of Marysville, Ohio, has been signed by the Dook.

Williams played with some of the fast semi-professional teams of Ohio, and according to the statement made by O'Brien, hit the leather to the enchanting tune of .387 in forty-three games.

The new man is a big fellow, standing something like six feet and weighing 185 pounds. If Williams can sting the pill in organized baseball with any degree approaching the mark he has hung up in semi-professional circles, he will make a very valuable man for the 1914 Dooks.

Because of the fact that Sweeley will not be able to report to the White Sox until along in June, owing to his college work, the White Sox leader is at the present time raking the alfalfa for some live backstop.

The St. Paul team of the American association wanted to give Sweeley a trial in faster company. Blume persuaded Lennon to allow the youngster more time in minors, and it is only because of the persuasive eloquence of the Duluth president that the Sox will have the services of Sweeley for next season.

McGOVERN WILL COACH MACALESTER.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—John McGovern, former University of Minnesota star and all-American quarterback, will coach at Macalaster college, St. Paul, this season, according to an announcement by the athletic authorities of that institution. This means the loss of McGovern's service to the University of Minnesota, where, since his graduation, he has assisted Coach L. H. Williams.

SCHRIBNER TO COACH NORTHWESTERN LINE.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Gilbert H. Schribner, guard on the Yale football elevens of 1910, '11 and '12, will coach the line of Northwestern university's football team this season, it was announced yesterday. Schribner since his graduation has been an athletic coach at Yale. Lewis Grady will continue as head coach of Northwestern, but will devote his time to developing the back field.

GARDNER IS TRAINING.

Duluth Boy to Meet Jimmy Murphy of Chicago.

Steve Gardner is at the present time training for his bout for Jimmy Murphy, which will be held at the Superior Athletic club. This is by far the most important match that has been made for the boxer who has always made his home here. In the event of Gardner scoring a decisive win over the Chicago boy, he has been promised at match with one of the leaders of the 133-pound division.

Gardner says he can make 133 pounds and be strong. The articles of agreement for the Gardner-Murphy contest call for 133 pounds at 3 o'clock and this will give Steve all the opportunity in the world to be strong when he enters the ring.

Since his bout with Pal Brown Murphy has gained some recognition among the followers of boxing.

Knocked Out in Second.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 19.—Billy Fraser of Oshkosh knocked out Freddie Hagen of Chicago in the second round here last night. The men were to fight at 155 pounds but Fraser was twelve pounds underweight. Freddie Andrews of Milwaukee defeated Mickey Farrell of Pittsburg in eight rounds.

FRONTIER DEFINED.

Turco-Bulgarian Protocol Gives Markings.

Constantinople, Sept. 19.—The protocol of the treaty defining the Turco-Bulgarian frontier provides that the new frontier line shall begin on the Black sea at the mouth of the River Pasova, immediately north of the town of San Stefano (twenty-five miles above Midia). The line joins the old frontier near Develtyagatch and follows the old frontier as far as Sodjouak. Then it passes two kilometers to the south of Mustapha Pasha and two kilometers to the east of Orlakol, joining the Maritza river at Mandra. It follows the course of the river as far as the Delta, where the frontier is formed by the right branch of the river.

BIXBY SEEKS TO SHOW BLACKMAIL.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 19.—George H. Bixby's attempt to prove that he was a victim of blackmailers was begun yesterday at the trial of the Long Beach millionaire, charged with having contributed to the delinquency of two minor girls.

After Cleo Helen Barker, one of the girls, had completed her direct testimony, the defense began a cross-examination which was so severe that Miss Barker fainted.

She declared Bixby had been introduced to her as "Mr. King". Pointing to Bixby in the courtroom, she said he was the man. She had received, she said, approximately $600 and a gold cross and chain from him during six weeks' acquaintance.

On cross-examination, the girl admitted she had been given $200 by Bixby on representing to him that she wanted to get married, and had received other sums for a "trip East" and for clothing.

ALLEGED SLAYER FAILS AT SUICIDE.

Everett, Wash., Sept. 19.—W. S. Schrader, who shot and killed his wife late Wednesday night, wounded two policemen and is said to have killed R. Davis, a night watchman, was captured while hiding in an outhouse near his home. He was weak from loss of blood, having attempted suicide by cutting himself in the neck. He probably will recover. Policeman Tift is expected to recover. Policeman Queen's eyes, cut by glass shattered by the bullet that struck Tift, are in a serious condition.

Insane jealousy is the only motive known for the series of crimes. Davis' partly burned body was found over the fire hole at the Jameson Pringle mill, with a bullet hole through the back.

MANN ASKS PROBE OF HOUSE CAMPAIGN.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Republican Leader Mann dropped a bomb among Democratic leaders when he introduced a resolution calling on Speaker Clark to appoint a committee of seven to investigate the soliciting of campaign funds among members of the house. The Mann resolution was based on a recent circular letter by Chairman Doremus of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, asking each Democrat in the house to contribute $100 to the 1914 campaign fund.

BRINGS MESSAGE FROM ROOSEVELT.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the Progressive congressional committee, brought to a conference of Progressive members of the house a message from Col. Roosevelt, indorsing the plans of the house Progressives for the next congressional campaign and renewing his declaration that no amalgamation of the Progressive party with the Republicans would be considered.

Lupus Worst Form of Skin Diseases

Here is a Home Treatment that Overcomes even Worst Cases.

Lupus or any other Skin Disease will go Skulking Away if you use S. S. S.

A tiny pimple spreads to the side of the face and often covers the cheeks and bridge of the nose. It is very destructive to the tissues of the skin. No external treatments will overcome it, as the cause of lupus is from impurities in the blood supply. The only known method of cure is to get the blood supply under the control of S. S. S., the famous blood specific. Its action is quite remarkable and has direct influence upon the network of small blood vessels and glands in the skin.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. For illustrated book on skin diseases write The Swift Specific Co., 183 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes.

WILL BEGIN STEEL WORK

New Berwind Coal Dock Ready for Structural Iron Workers.

9,000-Ton Steamer Will Be Unloaded in Eleven Hours.

A crew of structural workers will be put to work Monday building the steel bridges for the Berwind coal dock, under construction between the Alger-Smith sawmill and the Grassy Point railroad. Four bridges which will be operated with 4,000-horse power electric motors and capable of unloading two boats within a space of twelve hours will be built.

The Berwind dock will be one of the largest at the Head of the Lakes, if not in the world. It will have a capacity for storing well over 1,000,000 tons of coal and will be equipped with all the modern appliances necessary for the quick moving of coal.

Solid concrete foundations 1,800 feet long have just been completed and tracks on these have been laid for the bridges. The work has been under way all this year and the entire property of the company lying back from the water line to within a short distance of the Carbolite works has been filled in with sand from the river's bottom.

The steel work will take all winter. It will be ready at the opening of navigation next spring for receiving coal. Each of the four bridges will be provided with clamshell buckets capable of grabbing seven tons of coal every time they are dipped into the hold of a steamer and making an average of sixty trips between the hold and the dock per hour. With two of these monster buckets at work unloading a 9,000-ton steamer the boat would be unloaded in about eleven hours.

The dock will provide dockage facilities for three steamers at one time but provision is only made to work two of them. It is expected that over 1,000,000 tons of coal will be handled by its machinery next year.

READS HIS OWN OBITUARY NOTICE

West Duluthian Reported Dead in Twenty Years Ago Column.

It is not everybody who can read his obituary twenty years after his body is supposed to have been found, but such is the case of James Smith, a West Duluth saloonkeeper.

On Wednesday evening The Herald carried the following item in its "Twenty Years Ago" column:

"The dead body of James Schmidt of West Duluth, who has been missing for a month, was found in some timber near Fargo, N. D. His skull was crushed, and murder is suspected."

"I am the 'fall guy,'" said Mr. Smith this morning. "At that time I was in the harvest fields of North Dakota and busy on a threshing crew. I had not had much time to write home and tell the folks where I was and when I arrived home about two weeks later I was surprised to find that the family was grieving my loss. The name was not spelled right at that time and it isn't now.

"I was very much surprised to read it again in the columns of The Herald Wednesday night, but you may inform them that I am still very much alive."

SAVE EIGHT CENTS ON MORNING TRAIN

West Duluthian Protests Against Varying Charges on Northern Pacific.

What is the difference in riding to St. Paul on a morning passenger on the Northern Pacific railroad and that of an afternoon or night train? Eight cents, says Andrew Myles, member of the West Duluth Commercial club.

It is claimed that if a person wishes to go to the Twin Cities on the morning train leaving West Duluth at about 9:20 that the fare is $2.96, or exactly 2 cents per mile when going over the hill via Thomson. A similar ticket for the privilege of riding on the Limited or the night passenger costs $3.04. These trains are run via Superior.

"The extra charge is an outrage. Not that the amount is anything, but the principle of it," said Mr. Myles. "The Northern Pacific received its franchise from the state of Minnesota originally for the purpose of operating its trains within the state. The trouble is that the local people have not taken the trouble of calling the attention of the state warehouse and railroad commission to this injustice.

"Railroad rates in Minnesota are not consistent. If we buy a ticket from Duluth to Bena at the Union depot it will cost $3.90. If we buy the ticket to Carlton and from there to Bena we are able to make the trip a little over $2.60. Why is this? Is there any reason why a ticket on the railroads should be cheaped when bought from station to station than if it was purchased straight through?

WANTS $6,366 FROM THE CITY

Father of Boy Injured Under Bridge Brings Suit.

For injuries which it is claimed that Clement Boyd, 5-year-old son of Alexander Boyd received while playing on a stringer under the Eighty-first avenue bridge over Grand avenue on Sept. 7, 1912, the city is asked to pay $6,366.

In two personal injury actions which are being tried jointly before Judge Fesler and a jury in district court this morning, Boyd asks $5,000 for the benefit of the boy and $1,366 for himself as a result of the loss of the boy's services and for expenses for medical attendance.

While the youngster was playing on a stringer under the bridge and watching workmen in the vicinity, an automobile passed over the structure and loosened a cross beam which fell, striking the lad. He was badly crippled.

HORSE KILLED BY STREET CAR

A horse belonging to J. E. Brotherton was killed by a street car at 7:30 o'clock last night at Forty-eighth avenue west and Oneota street. The car ran into the rear of the wagon which was carrying several long iron pipes. One of the pipes ran into the horse causing its death. The motorman on the car claims to have been unable to see the wagon on the track until too close to it to stop the car in time to prevent the collision. Alvin Johnson was driving the team. The other horse was not injured.

SAWMILL THREATENED.

Sparks From the Burner Start Fire in the Tramway.

A fire caused by sparks from the burner threatened destruction to the Alger-Smith sawmill at 4:30 a'clock yesterday afternoon. The blaze started in the tramway near the slab burner. Several lines of hose were turned on the blaze by the employes of the mill and the fire was out before the city fire department arrived.

A small blaze was discovered in the timbers of the Grand avenue bridge at Sixty-first avenue west late yesterday afternoon by residents of the locality. Several bucketsfull of water were thrown on it and it was put out without calling out the department.

Police officials have been investigating the charges and claim to have the names of several boys some of whom have already confessed to having shot at the building. The matter will probably be taken up with the boys' parents.

HAD THE SPECIAL OFFICER'S "GOAT"

Railroad "Fly Cop" Wanted Detail of Police to Arrest Lone Woman.

When Special Officer Jacobson of the Northern Pacific appeared at the office of Police Prosecutor W. H. Gurnee to swear out a warrant for Mary Elias, he advised that a detail of husky cops be sent to make the arrest. In the special officer's opinion it would not advisable to ask one lone man to take the woman into custody.

When asked for a reason the railroad "fly cop" exhibited his finger, explaining that when he had attempted to stop her from sweeping wheat from a box car in the local yards she had turned upon him and among other things had used her teeth on the digit. He also added that she was anything but a midget.

The warrant charged her with trespass and it was turned over to Patrolman Nyberg. He served it without coming to harm and yesterday afternoon she was arraigned in police court. She pleaded guilty. It appeared that it was her first offense and sentence was suspended after she had been admonished that a repetition would not operate in her favor.

INVITED TO SPEAK BEFORE COMMITTEE

Wisconsin Congressman Is Mistaken for Stranger By His Colleagues.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Representative Edward Everett Brown of Wisconsin, serving his first term in congress, has a place on the powerful house labor committee.

Republican Leader Mann appeared before that committee today in support of his bill to create a Federal labor safety bureau. When he had finished a long argument, Chairman Lewis took notice of rather a diffident elderly man who had taken no part in the proceedings, seated alone at the end of the table.

"Would you like to make a statement before the committee on this bill?" asked the chairman in a polite tone calculated to put the man at his ease.

The elderly one looked about in a surprised, embarrassed way.

"Why, no," he returned. "I am Mr. Brown of Wisconsin, a member of the committee."

Whereupon the new-found committeeman was introduced to his colleagues.

WANTS MORE AID FROM THE CITY

Humane Society Asks for an Increase in Its Appropriation.

Rev. A. W. Ryan, president of the Duluth Humane society, and John G. Ross and Henry Taylor called on Mayor Prince today to ask further financial aid from the city for the society. They requested that the amount given by the city be raised from $400 to $1,000, explaining that the society plans to hire an additional employe and enlarge its field the coming year. The mayor assured them that he would take the matter up with the commission when it meets to fix the budget for 1914 and suggested that it would be well for the officers of the society to appear before the council at that time.

MAJORITY IS REDUCED

Liquor Code Had Margin of Only Thirty-Nine Votes.

City Clerk Palmer has found that thirty of the ballots cast at the special election on the Hicken liquor code were thrown out because they were so marked that the judges could not tell the voter's intent, or were left blank.

This would bring the total vote cast up to 9,504 ballots and give the ordinance a majority of only 39 votes.

The returns showed that 4,791 votes were cast in favor of the ordinance and 4,683 votes were cast against it. Half of the total vote, 9,504, equals 4,752 votes. The difference between 4,791, the number of votes case for the measure, and 4,752, half the total vote, is 39.

Section 52 of the charter, under the caption, "referendum," states that "such ordinance shall not become operative unless a majority of the qualified electors voting on the same shall vote in favor thereof." Considering the total vote the ordinance carried by a majority of only 39 votes.

BOY HURLED INTO CREEK

Is Seriously Injured While Stealing Ride on a Boxcar.

In attempting to catch a ride on a boxcar at Twelfth avenue west and the railroad tracks shortly after noon today, Pasqualle Jeanetta, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jeanetta, 1113½ West Superior street, lost his hold and was struck by the following car and thrown off a small trestle into a creek that passes underneath.

Young Jeanetta was immediately rushed to St. Mary's hospital, where it was discovered that both his legs were broken. It is believed that amputation of one of the legs may be necessary, while the physicians are in doubt as to the other climb. The boy is expected to live.

Pasqualle, and a boy companion, James Davis, who is also 9 years old, had just left the latter's home alongside the tracks and were on their way to the Emerson school. While on their way crossing the tracks toward Superior street, Pasqualle jumped on a boxcar and attempted to catch a ride. He lost his hold just as the train passed to the rear of the Salvation Army building and fell on the tracks, being struck by the following car.

The boy was knocked off the track into the small creek. He was thrown into the creek face downward and probably would have drowned had it not been for two workmen at the Salvation Army, who saw the accident and immediately rushed to the boy's assistance.

Young Pasqualle, according to one of the rescuers, had previously been warned by his father not to catch on boxcars or engines. The Davis boy did not see the accident but learned of it a few minutes later. He was waiting for his companion to return, and missing him after a few minutes, went to investigate and found Pasqualle lying in the creek, unable to move. Just as he arrived on the scene the two workmen pulled the boy out and carried him to Superior street, from where he was removed to the hospital.

The boy's father is a laborer at the steel plant and will not know of the accident to his son until he returns from work this evening. All efforts to reach him after the accident failed. The Jeanettas have three daughters and one son besides Pasqualle.

ARRESTED BY HIS LANDLADY

Prisoner Not Only Neglected Bill But Borrowed Money, She Says.

At the end of three different months Oscar Bergquist, a carpenter, assured his landlady that he would settle his board bill, but each time he squandered his earnings in riotous living, according to the story told the Police Prosecutor Gurnee. Not only that, but he so eloquently pleaded his good intentions that she advanced him $12 with which to buy a suit of clothes. After Bergquist continued to fail to make good she caused his arrest on a charge of defaulting an innkeeper. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Sept. 23 at 2 o'clock.

OWEN PREDICTS EARLY ACTION ON CURRENCY

Says Bill Will Be Out of Committee By Oct. 6.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Fresh from its triumphant passage in the house, the entrance of the administration currency bill to its gauntlet in the senate was signalized by a statement from Chairman Owen of the banking committee that he expected the measure out of committee and on the senate floor for action by Oct. 6.

"I believe I am as fully prepared to act on the currency bill now as I would be if I gave it much longer study," said Senator Shafroth, another Democratic member of the committee. "I believe congress should dispose of it before the next regular session begins."

President Wilson's conference last night with Senator Reed, one of the committee Democrats who has criticized many provisions of the bill adversely, will be followed, it is expected, by individual conferences with other Democrats who have shown opposition to tht measure or criticized its vital features.

Hear Frame of Waukesha.

Public hearings were resumed today with the appearance of Andrew J. Frame, a banker of Waukesha, Wis. Samuel Untermeyer, who conducted the Pujo money trust investigation, will be heard Monday. Country bankers also will appear then and it is expected hearings will be closed by Wednesday.

Frame told the committee that of 450 country banks in Wisconsin he canvassed on the currency bill, 309 did not care to join the new system; nine said they would join, but expected the plan to be modified; two small banks said they would join even though the administration bill were passed without change, and 130 did not answer his query.

DETROIT TO HAVE G. A. R.

Next Encampment Will Go to Michigan City.

Col. Smith of Detroit Proves Best Runner in Camp.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Detroit, Mich., today was selected as the meeting place of the 1914 national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and allied organizations.

The election of officers of the Grand Army of the Republic was expected to conclude official business today of the forty-seventh encampment, in session here.

When the encampment convened this morning the choice of commander-in-chief to succeed Gen. Alfred B. Beers apparently still was between Col. C. E. Adams of Superior, Wis., and Washington Gardner of Albion, Mich.

New York, Detroit, Mobile, Ala., and Houston, Tex., were among the cities with representatives here endeavoring to secure the 1914 encampment.

Detroit Man Wins Races.

Col. J. L. Smith, aged 69, of Detroit, Mich., retained the Grand Army of the Republic speed championship title by winning a sprint and a long distance race from seven challengers. The Michigan champion took the 140-yard dash in the remarkable time of 17 seconds. In the two and one-half mile run Col. Smith crossed the tape 250 yards ahead of the only other man to finish. The elapsed time was 16 minutes, 10 seconds.

Few thought that any of the contestants would complete the two and one-half mile race. Thirty laps were necessary to complete the distance. Col. How covered the entire distance in a slow trot.

W. R. C. Elects.

Election of officers of the Woman's Relief corps, an auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic, also took place late yesterday. Mrs. Ida S. McBride of Indianapolis was chosen president: Mrs. Chleo A. Warren of Plainville, Conn., senior vice president; Mrs. Mahalla A. Arther of Chattanooga, junior vice president; Miss Abbie Lynch of Pittsburg, treasurer, and Mrs. Sarah J. Bradford of Livingston, Mont., chaplain.

THE LOAFER'S EXCUSE.

New Orleans States: Discussing a tariff clause that threatens great injury to the licorice trade, Senator Fall said at Three Rivers:

"The clause was formulated in good faith, but that is not enough. Evil often flows from good. Look at Rome."

He paused, then added impressively: "The fact that Rome wasn't built in a day has served as the loafer's best excuse for 2,000 years."

BEADS WORK WONDERS FOR INVALIDS.

In the Woman's Home Companion a contributor writes a letter suggesting amusements for invalids. Following is an extract:

"As I have never heard of my pet trick elsewhere, and neither had my nurses in two hospitals, nor at home, I suggest it to you. If I could ease one miserable hour for someone that knows misery in that too miserable form, I would be so glad.

If your invalid is a girl or a woman, give her a bead necklace. If she can sit up—even that dizzy half-hour with the back rest—give her beads to string; delicate, designable ones for herself or her friends or her blessed nurse; or gay, kindergarten-style ones for the poor little martyrs in the children's ward. Oh, I could write you a whole textbook on "The Possibilities of Beads and Their Allies'!

"There are days—and nights—you know, long before one can read, or sew, or play solitaire, when one would give, oh, anything, but one's pet nurse, to be amused enough to forget that merciless ache a moment. I have found beads the amusement."

The American Tract society of New York, is trying to raise $500,000 to enlarge its work.

A POOR DANCER'S REVENGE.

St. Paul Dispatch: "Archibald is a splendid dancer; so light on his feet."

"Yes, and he is in no danger of becoming topheavy."

SUSPENDED FROM PRACTICE FOR PERIOD OF ONE YEAR

Joseph De La Motte, an attorney of this city, has escaped permanent disbarment from the courts of Minnesota. The supreme court, however, today ordered that he be suspended from the practice of law in this state for the period of one year.

Mr. De La Motte had to answer to the supreme court on four counts which were preferred against him by the state board of law examiners at the instigation of the ethics committee of the local bar association.

On three of the counts against the local attorney, the court held that there was doubt but on the fourth, one in which Mr. De La Motte is accused of withdrawing a motion for a new trial in a personal injury suit without the knowledge of his client, Paul Golik, the court held the charges had been proven.

FLOODWOOD MAN TRIED

Wilfred A. Gagnon Waives Right to Have Jury Hear Case.

Legal Battle Is New Feature of Feud Between Villagers.

For the first time in years, a criminal case is being heard in district court without a jury. Trial by jury, the inherent right of every person charged with a crimo and so jealously guarded by the Constitution and courts, was waived by Wilfred A. Gagnon this morning when he was brought to trial before Judge Dancer on an indictment charging him with resisting an officer.

Gagnon, a Floodwood merchant, is accused by the grand jury of having resisted the attempt of Frank Chaunard, a village police officer, to arrest him for using profane and obscene language. Chaunard claims that Gagnon pulled a gun on him when he first attempted to arrest him.

Gagnon's prosecution is another incident in an old feud which has been in progress at Floodwood for the past two or three years. The first real outbreak occurred Dec. 17, when Jean W. New, president of the village council, had Gagnon arrested on a charge of having stolen $20 worth of lumber belonging to the village.

Was Convicted.

New, as president of the village, had Gagnon arrested on a charge of stealing 1,000 feet of plank which was the property of the village. In justice court at Floodwood, on the testimony of New and his witnesses, Gagnon was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or spend eight days in jail. An appeal was taken and on May 24, the district court reversed the judgment of the lower court and set the conviction aside.

Shortly after this, New was arrested on the charge of selling liquor to a minor and his case was presented to the grand jury. The grand jury failed to indict. Shortly after this the occurrence which is now being aired before Judge Dancer was reported.

Gagnon was arrested for using profane language contrary to the village ordinance, and also on a charge of resisting an officer. In justice court he pleaded guilty to the accusation of using bad language, but he stood trial on the charge of resisting an officer, and was convicted.

Case Is Appealed.

The attorney for Gagnon appealed from the conviction and judgment of the justice court to the district court. While the appeal was pending the September grand jury was in session and the case was presented to it. When the jury returned an indictment against Gagnon on a charge of resisting an officer the appeal was dismissed.

Resisting an officer is a gross misdemeanor and is an offense over which the justice court had no jurisdiction. Consequently had the appeal been submitted to the district court the conviction would have been set aside.

Recently Gagnon started a $5,000 damage suit against New, claiming that he had suffered great humiliation and mental anguish as a result of New's attempted prosecution in the first case. He holds New liable for damages because he failed to substantiate the charge that he had stolen the lumber from the village.

PROSPECT OF RAIN THAW'S BIG TROUBLE

Weather Threatens to Interfere With Automobile Ride.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 19.—An overcast sky which indicated the probability that he would be denied a promised automobile ride, appeared to be Harry K. Thaw's chief concern this morning. Sheriff Drew told him, however, that if the storm kept the crowd of curious under cover he would be permitted to visit the statehouse and other public buildings.

The usual large amount of mail was awaiting Thaw and newspapers were piled high on his table when he appeared for breakfast. The published accounts of his own case were read as closely as ever.

SAYS ROBBERS GAVE HIM STOLEN GOLD

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Gold coins to the amount of $45, believed by the police to be part of the money stolen by the four bandits who shot and killed Michael Waschuk, a wagon washer and escaped with about $2,600 from Mandel brothers' delivery station, have been found in the possession of Watson Smith, an employe, who is under arrest.

Smith said that he and two other employes of the delivery station were bound and tied with ropes by the four robbers.

The prisoner told the police the robbers put the gold pieces in his pocket after he had told them he was in hard luck and needed money.

INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION

Curling Rink Has Been Turned Into a Spanish Village.

Will Be Drawing Card for Visitors During Fall Style Week.

Art and commerce will be united to produce pleasure and instruction at the Duluth Industrial exposition, which opens at the curling club on Monday, as a special attraction for fall style week.

The plan of the exposition is laid out on the immense skating floor of the curling club as a Spanish village of the renaissance.

As one enters the doors the plaza of the village stretches before the spectator. On either side are streets, and at the further end of the plaza are other and shorter streets, running across the village and at right angles to the longer streets that flank the little plaza that forms a court in the center of all the miniature houses with their minarete and cupolas. All of the seventy-three booths will be in the form of houses that face the little streets that are literally avenues of industry, and which will be teeming with the prosperity and industry of the citizens of a later and liver age than that in which the citizens of the old Spanish age lived.

Red and white is the color scheme of the booths. Overhead are the great festooned banners and the huge chandeliers, all of English primrose color and forming a striking and pleasing contrast to the colors of the booths that cover the huge floor space of the rink.

Flowers of some sort are trellised on the booths and help add to the general scheme of decoration. The whole impression one forms is one of harmonious and splendid beauty, for the big building has been transformed into a veritable bower of beauty.

In the Basement.

Down in the basement of the club, where the curlers listen nightly, during the winter season, to the roar of the stane, will be the agricultural display, and here also will be served the industrial dinner. The dinner, by the way, promises to eclipse any banquet ever held in Duluth.

If one wonders at the beauty of drapery and general scheme of decoration of the big skating floor of the curling club, one will also be struck with the fertility and productiveness of a community that can produce sufficient from the fields of a single country to make so prodigious a showing.

The second floor of the big building combines art with industry; the basement holds the attention of the observer through the products of the soil.

Everything will be in readiness for the opening on Monday. The final touches of the big exposition are being added today. Exhibitors are putting their wares into the booths. The whole exposition at the present time reminds one of a scene in a theater just before the curtain is about to rise.

Men are hurrying here and there putting on the final touches. The scene is one of great activity.

The coming exposition will be larger, more ambitious and more complete than the one last year. Every detail for the comfort of those attending has been provided. Telephones have been installed in different parts of the building. There will be a doctor in attendance during the big show and there will be a temporary restroom for those employed during the week.

Every bit of the material used in the entire scheme of decoration has been made in Duluth. The scheme was originated by a Duluth man, and the general plan of making the exposition a replica of an ancient Spanish village, is one that was originated and carried out here.

In the center of the plaza will be the booth of the Commercial club. The general scheme of having streets and cross avenues will make it easy to see the exposition and will also make it easier to handle the crowds that are expected to throng the huge rink.

HOLD HOUSE TO USE INFLUENCE ON SENATE

Majority Leaders Will Not Let Members Leave Capital.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The big Democratic majority in the house will be kept in Washington as a moral influence over the slender Democratic control in the senate while the currency bill is under way, according to plans announced today by house leaders, who definitely rejected, for the present at least, the idea of a third day recess.

After a conference with President Wilson, Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the house caucus, declared no effort would be made for an extended recess for the house.

It is understood the president believes that the presence of the house will have the effect of strengthening the administration's efforts to pass the currency bill in the senate.

BAPTISTS NEAR END OF SESSION

North Dakota Conference May Establish College—Next Meet at Minot.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today marks the close of the annual conference of North Dakota Baptists, and among other important features that will be considered before adjournment tonight is that of establishing a state college. The recommendation made by several speakers yesterday that the Baptists establish a college affiliated with the university was referred to a special committee from which a report will be forthcoming late today.

Minot was chosen for the next convention, the choice being unanimous on the invitation of Dorr Carroll, representing the Minot church.

Plans for extensive work among the Scandinavian Baptists of the state have been laid by the general board of missions, according to an announcement by Dr. L. C. Barnes of New York, representing that board. He appeared before the executive committee of the conference today to lay detailed plans for the work. The general society recognizes this state as the most important Scandinavian field in the Union.

Another feature to which the state conference will pay particular attention is that of keeping in touch with non-resident members, and President E. R. Pratt will name a special committee to take charge of the work.

In the election of officers in the Baptist Young People's union, the following were chosen: President, Rev. Bruce Jackson, Bismarck; vice president, Mrs. E. Halliwell, Sawyer; secretary-treasurer, Rev. B. P. Stump, Lone Tree.

The state Sunday school board for the year also was announced today, being composed of R. B. Griffith of Grand Forks, Frank B. Hall of Fargo, Rev. C. E. McHaln of Willow City, Rev. C. C. Heidenberg of Kenmare, Rev. Olaf Brading of Powers Lake.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is about a half a million increase in the assessed valuation of Cass county over last year. The total assessed valuation for taxation purposes is $21,066,119. The realty is $14,078,764, the personal $3,457,532 and the corporations $3,530,223. Cass county includes the city of Fargo.

Apples For the Home.

Along about this time of year most of us resolve to do certain things for the home grounds in the spring; but, when spring really comes, we are busy and postpone it for another year or decide that it will not pay to plant trees.

Three years ago a young man remarked, "I want some strawberries and raspberries, but apples are too slow a proposition for me." Trees which I set then are just coming into bearing and will soon be giving rich returns for the time and money expended. He is still a young man with a growing family and has no fruit trees started. A few days ago a visitor pointed to a Virginia crab loaded with fruit and exclaimed, "I would give $25 to have such a tree on my grounds." An outlay of about 50 cents and three years of care and waiting should give him just such a tree.

The proposition as to whether apples and plums pay for the home garden depends on your space and your plans for the future. If you have built to sell and your home is simply a temporary camp for you and your family, don't waste any time on fruit trees. You will be gone before they can bring you either profit or pleasure and your buyer will not consider them in arriving at a purchase price. On the other hand, if you are making a real home your fruit trees should be an important consideration. Do not be tempted to buy too many and be very careful to get varieties which are adapted to this climate. A traveling agent will sell you anything which will insure him a commission. He needs the money, but you don't need the worthless stock which he is trying to sell you. You want trees which will yield fruit and ripen fruit at the Head of the Lakes, and you cannot afford to encumber your grounds with anything else even though the trees may be given to you and set free of charge. You can have apples and plums in abundance, if you select the proper varieties, set your trees properly, and give them one-third the care you are willing to devote to potatoes.

Here are a few of the apples suited to this territory: Duchess of Oldenberg, Hibernal, Tetofsky, Okabena, Wealthy, and Patten's Greening. Among the crabs are the Transcendant, Florence, Virginia and Whitney. The Whitney crab is large and of very fine quality for eating, and the tree is symmetrical and compact in habit. The other crabs mentioned are valuable for jelly and preserving only.

Of the plums advertised for the Northwest, few have any value here. The Aitkin has proven a success, but the Surprise and Minor have been disappointing. The Compass cherry is very hardy and a heavy yielder, but the fruit ripens late and our frosts sometimes catch it before it matures. The Opata and Sapa seem to be the plums of greatest promise for this climate. They are both sand cherry hybrids, begin bearing at two years and fruit annually. The fruit is of good quality and ripens late in August or early in September.

While fruit trees need less care than potatoes, they cannot be neglected. When set the trees should be carefully pruned. I have seen very promising fruit trees lost because the owner refused to cut them back at all when planted. While becoming established the tree has not sufficient vitality to reach the long slender tops. If a portion of this new wood is removed, the tree will make a quicker, stronger root growth, and this will result in a finer top and a more vigorous tree. The trunk and larger limbs of the tree should be painted with lime-sulphur at least once each year—either spring or fall while the tree is dormant. Kerosene emulsion should be freely used if infested with aphis, and arsenate of lead should be used as a spray for the coddling moth when the tree begins to bear.

Head your apple trees rather low, but do not allow them to grow too thick. Keep an open head with a little judicious summer pruning, and you will get fruit. Keep the grass away around the roots of the tree and mix a few wood ashes in the top soil. Trees may be mulched with stable manure if it is not permitted to come in contact with the tree trunk.

RALLIES AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Recovers All the Ground Lost in Quiet Session.

Flax Is Weaker on Almost Total Absence of Demand.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 19.—All ground lost through the quiet session was recovered by wheat just before the close today. September and December wheat closed unchanged and May closed unchanged to ¼c up. September closed at 87¼c, December at 87⅜c and December at 87⅞c and May at 92¾-⅞c asked.

Durum also recovered ground and closed unchanged, September at 85c and December at 85⅛c.

Oats were ¼c up, at 40¾c) rye unchanged, at 61c, and barley 3@1c up at 57@75c.

Flax were 87⅜-¾c bid and calls, 87⅝-⅞c bid.

Lack of demand was the simple cause for the softness in the market today. Heavy receipts were reported again and Duluth alone showed a gain of nearly 2,000,000 bushels for the five days of the week. Cables were lower and that probably had something to do with it. The market was quiet and spiritless and though losses were small, the tone was not strong.

September wheat opened unchanged at 87¼c and went off to 86⅞c. December wheat opened unchanged also at 87⅛c and went off to 87⅜c. May wheat opened unchanged at 92¾c and went off to 92⅝c.

Durum wheat showed some activity and consequent fluctuations. September durum opened ⅛c off at 84⅞c, went off to 84⅝c and recovered to 84¾-⅞c a short time before the close. December durum opened ⅛c off at 85c, went off to 84¾c and recovered to 84⅞c.

All Flax Options Off.

Receipts of flax and offerings from the country, coupled with an almost complete absence of demand, sent all flax options off today. September lost 2c, closing at $1.43; October went off 2c also, closing at $1.43; November closed 1¼c off at $1.43¾, asked, and December closed 1½c off at $1.41¼. The opening in flax this morning showed very little change, but as the session advanced, prices began to droop, and the close was just about at the low point for the day.

The Modern Miller says: "General precipitation over practically the entire wheat belt the past week has furnished ample moisture to put the soil in fine condition for the seeding of wheat and in many sections the plowing is being rushed. Reports from many places, however, show that the fall plowing is retarded by too much rain. Even the sections where complaints of too much rain are being made, it is admitted that the thorough saturation of the soil, following the long drouth will prove a benefit when plowing is resumed. The most reliable reports from all parts of the wheat belt indicate that not much more than one-half of the plowing is completed, but there is ample time in which to make up the deficiency and no shortage in the acreage is looked for on this account. Farmers may say that there is no excess of moisture and that additional rain will do more good than harm. There will be a large increase in the acreage in Missouri as the failure of the corn crop leaves much land in fine condition for the seeding of wheat."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Heavier on the Tariff Prospects.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Apparent certainty that wheat and flour would be on the free list made wheat prices here today heavy. Resting commission orders to buy at a decline formed the only support. Predictions of free Russian shipments counted against the bulls, and so too did the good crop outlook in Argentina. The opening was the same as last night to ¼c lower and the market suffered some additional setback.

Statements that no shortage in winter crop acreage need now be feared acted as a drag against any upturn. The close was steady at prices ranging from last night's level to ⅜c down.

Clear weather favoring shipments from the farms brought about weakness in corn. Concerns that were liberal buyers yesterday led the selling today. Prices started ⅛c to ¼c to ¼@⅜c off and later showed a further sag.

Reports that Argentine corn had been delivered in Montreal 4c cheaper than obtainable from Chicago kept the market depressed until after noon when a rally took place, the result of buying on the part of several leading houses. The close was steady, ¼@⅜c to ½c net higher.

Oats eased in sympathy with other grain. Trade was only of a scattered sort.

Declines in corn and hogs carried down provisions. First sales were unchanged to 10c lower. The market, however, gave no evidence of any particular pressure.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Wavering Market Is Turned Into Heavy One After Noon.

Final Figures Are Near the Lowest of the Session.

New York, Sept. 19.—Traders worked for a reaction today on the theory that the buoyancy of the market late yesterday was merely the result of a drive at the short interest but little was accomplished except in the case of Union Pacific, which became weak.

Speculative interest converged on Reading, whose swings were followed elsewhere within a narrower range. Fresh buying orders were uncovered on reactions of half a point or so, and bidding became more confident as the market began to exhibit a stronger tone. The whole list showed a stronger tone at noon.

Bonds were easy.

New Haven and California Petroleum, however, were conspicuously weak yesterday, again declined on the first transactions today. New Haven receded a point to 86, within ½ of its low record. California Petroleum fell back 1¼. Except for a drop of a point in Canadian Pacific, there were no other changes which exceeded small fractions. Trading was light with an uncertain tone.

Large buying orders were distributed in Reading and when it mounted to nearly 170 other active stocks fell into line and rose briskly. Can gained 1 and Lehigh Valley 2 points. Bidding up of Reading stopped as suddenly as it began and attempts to market stock forced it back to yesterday's close. Union Pacific turned quite weak, losing more than a point.

Advances in the coalers attained greater proportions, but the balance of the list did not rise with its earlier enthusiasm. Backwardness of Union Pacific acted as a drag and there was some hesitation also to the movements of Steel and Amalgamated.

A fresh outbreak of liquidation in Rock Island securities turned a wavering market into a heavy one. All of the Rock Island issues touched their lowest level since their weakness became conspicuous. The common sold at 16⅝, the preferred 23 and collateral bonds 52¼. Amalgamated Copper and Steel broke 1 and Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific 2.

The market closed heavy. Weakness of government bonds was a contributory to the cause of the late depression. The 2's fell to 96¾ bid and other issues were quoted ⅛ to ⅜ lower. Pressure against stocks diminished before the close, but the market showed little recuperative powers. Final figures were near the lowest.

FREE BANANAS AGREED TO BY CONFEREES ON THE TARIFF MEASURE

Senators Also Recede From Position on Other Fruit Duties.

Estimates of Revenue Possibilities of Bill Are Being Made.

Duty Is Taken Off All Foreign Works of Art.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The tariff conference committee today voted to leave bananas on the free list.

After a long controversy, in which the influence of President Wilson was thrown in favor of the continued free importation of the fruit, the senate conferees receded from their amendment, which would have imposed a duty of one-tenth of 1 cent per pound.

The senate conferees also gave way as to the duty on lemons, limes, grapefruit and similar fruits, leaving the rates as fixed by the house, based on the measurements of packages. The senate had fixed a flat rate of one-half of 1 cent per pound. The house rates agreed to are slight reduction from existing rates.

Countervailing Potato Duty.

Two other important decisions definitely removed the proposed countervailing duty against wood pulp and imposed a countervailing duty against potatoes when imported from countries imposing duties on like imports from the United States. The senate had struck out the wood pulp countervailing duty imposed by the house and the conferees today ratified that action. The 10 per cent countervailing duty on potatoes, adopted by the conferees, also was a senate amendment.

A compromise at about 1½ cents a pound was reached on zante currants, upon which Greek importers had made a hard fight.

The senate members also receded from their rate on hats and the house rate of 40 per cent ad valorem was adopted.

Estimating Revenue.

A critical study of the Underwood-Simmons bill to determine whether it will produce enough revenue for governmental needs was still under way today when the tariff conference committee resumed work.

Reductions by the senate have in many instances been opposed by the house conferees on the ground that they would cut the revenues beyond the margin of safety. Chairman Simmons of the senate conferees has announced that the bill would amply meet the revenue needs of the nation.

FEDERAL MEDIATOR SENT TO COLORADO

Washington, Sept. 20.—Secretary Wilson today dispatched Ethelbert Stewart, chief clerk of the bureau of labor, to Denver, Colo., to act as mediator in the impending coal miners' strike.

State Aid Rejected.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—Hope of averting the strike called for next Tuesday in the Southern Colorado coal fields has been abandoned by the state administration, according to a statement given out by the labor commissioner. Both the miners and the operators have refused the state's request for mediation under the special arbitration laws, and the authorities have no other recourse for action.

LINKED SEAS BY RAILROAD

Col. James Ross Dies of Heart Disease at Montreal.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 20.—James Ross, millionaire railroad builder, died here today of heart disease after a two-weeks' illness. He was 65 years old.

Col. Ross was one of the dwindling group of railroad builders whose names were linked with the construction of Canada's transcontinental railroad, the Canadian Pacific. He was born in Scotland, came to America in 1868 when he was twenty years old, was identified in his early career with the Wisconsin Central, and on coming to Canada was appointed first chief engineer and afterwards general manager of the Victoria railroad.

At the age of 35, Col. Ross was entrusted with the difficult task of building the Canadian Pacific west of Winnipeg, through the Canadian wilderness. Two years later he had completed the line over the Rocky mountains, Selkirk and the Gold range. Thereafter he undertook the settlement of the uninhabited stretches along the road east of Montreal. On completion of this task he was given the contract for the remaining portion of the line, and built it.

Bought English Tramway.

During the last twenty years, Col. Ross was interested primarily in traction, power and mining operations. He acquired the tramway systems of Birmingham, Eng., in 1896. He became largely interested in the coal industry of Nova Scotia and reorganized the Dominion Coal company, of which he was president at the time of his death. In 1900 he was appointed lieutenant colonel of the Duke of York's Canadian Hussars. He was one of the wealthiest men in the Dominion.

Col. Ross was identified with many philanthropic institutions and was a member of a large number of clubs. Among these was the Royal St. Lawrence yacht club, of which he was commodore from 1896 to 1899. He owned the Glencairn, winner of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian cup in 1896.

BOY WINS BIG GOLF HONORS

Francis Ouimet Beats English Professionals in Championship Match.

Is Second Amateur to Make Such Record in Game's History.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 20.—Francis Ouimet, a schoolboy amateur of Brookline, won the highest golfing honors in the country, if not in the world, by defeating Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the English professionals, by 5 and 6 strokes, respectively, in the play-off for the American open championship today.

The victory of the boy carried with it a gold medal and the custody of the championship cup by his home organization, the Woodland Golf club of Newton.

No amateur in this country and only one abroad has ever gained such golfing fame. There were few of the 5,000 persons following the play who felt at the start that the youth could possibly vanquish such renowned veterans as the two former British champions.

Closest Opponent Broke.

In order to win, Ouimet was obliged to play the best golf of the week. When he had accomplished the first

BELATED PERRY DAY DOINGS AT CLEVELAND

Flagship Niagara May Be Sent Down the Mississippi.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Perry celebration events postponed from early in the week because of rain, were concluded here today. Patriotic addresses in the parks and a historical pageant by school children entitled "The Hero of Heroes," constituted the daylight program. The Niagara, Perry's flagship, after a final salute from the naval militia ship Dorothea, stationed here, will sail out of the harbor at 10 p. m., proceeding to Erie, Pa., where she will be permanently stationed.

The Perry centennial commission now has under consideration a plan to send the Niagara on a cruise down the Mississippi river, but the proposition is not at all definite.

COAL OPERATORS IN "PROTECTIVE" BODY

West Virginia Companies Unite With $1,000,000 Working Fund.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Coal operators with mines along the Chesapeake & Ohio, Kanawha & Michigan, Virginia & Norfolk and Norfolk & Western railways met here yesterday and organized the Operators' Protective association. A fund of $1,000,000 is said to have been raised to protect the interests of the mines in the organization. It was announced that the operatoirs oppose the "growth of Socialism and other destructive and revolutionary doctrines among their mine employes."

The new organization insists that one of the principal reasons of the banding together is to maintain competition and give employes a fair compensation.

SAYS BANKS' PLAN WOULD WRECK BILL

Retired New York Banker Tells Currency Measure Views.

Claims Chicago Conference Suggestions Are Not Reasonable.

W. W. Flannagan Is Heard By Senate Committee.

Washington, Sept. 20.—W. W. Flannagan of Montclair, N. J., a retired New York banker, told the senate banking committee today that the recommendations of the recent Chicago conference of bankers and its proposed amendments would emasculate the administration currency bill.

The changes proposed by the bankers, said Mr. Flannagan, were not supported by arguments that "appealed to the reason."

"They seem to rely chiefly upon a formidable array of names of banking institutions," said he.

Mr. Flannagan characterized the administration measure as "sound in principle," but recommended some important changes. The chief one, which received some approval from Senators Hitchcock and Bristow, proposed that any bank having United States bonds deposited as security for bank notes equal to one-half its capital stock, should have the right to deposit with the Federal reserve bank commercial paper as collateral for an additional issue of notes, the total notes outstanding not to exceed the amount of the bank's capital stock.

Under that plan the comptroller of the currency would deliver "incomplete notes" which could be put into circulation only when the bank had set aside a gold reserve equal to 50 per cent of the value of the notes.

MOTORIST FACING JURY AT RED WING

Red Wing, Minn., Sept. 20.—Taking of testimony in the trial of Ralph H. Babcock of Minneapolis, formerly of Rockford, Ill., charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Albert Anderson here Decoration Day, was resumed today. The case probably will go to the jury Tuesday.

The state is attempting to show that Mrs. Anderson was struck by the front of Babcock's automobile. Efforts to settle the case out of court by the payment of damages have been rejected by the state's attorneys.

POWERS OF WORLD MAY MAKE AZORES NEUTRAL ZONE FOR ALL SHIPS

United States, England and Germany Credited With the Plan.

Proposal Is Incidental to Opening of Panama Canal.

London, Sept. 20.—A proposal to make the Azores archipelago an international neutral zone is being considered by the American, British and German governments, according to today's Manchester Guardian. The proposal is said to be incidental to the opening of the Panama canal.

The fact that German, American and British companies have a joint cable station on the islands makes free access to them of the utmost importance.

"It is proposed," said the Guardian, "that a joint treaty be arranged between Portugal and the other civilized nations by which a neutral international zone shall be established and strictly maintained in the archipelago. It is suggested that all vessels within this zone be protected against attack or seizure, and allowed to receive provisions and fuel."

SAYS PARCEL POST CUT REVENUES HARD

Express Official Lays One-Third Loss of Receipts to It.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 20.—Testifying before the state railroad commission, which continued today its inquiry into the relations between the Southern Pacific railroad and the Wells-Fargo Express company, Vice President and General Manager Christianson of the latter declared that parcel post competition had caused the company to lose 31.7 per cent of small packages since the first of the year, when the government service was established. In the same period, he said, the company's revenue had been reduced 33 per cent, and this percentage, he affirmed, held good for all other express companies.

"We are confronted," he asserted, "with the proposition of increased expenses, decreased business and decreased revenues. The competition demands increased service and while we have increased the service, current profits have shrunk since as far back as 1910."

Attorney C. W. Durbrow of the Southern Pacific gave the commission today the story of the corporate relationship between the railroad and the express company.

EXPECTS BIG TRADE VIA PANAMA CANAL.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 20.—During the discussion in the chamber of deputies last night of a proposal to lower the import duties on sugar, Minister of Finance Anadon defended the new policy for gradually suppressing protection. He said the opening of the Panama canal would bring about extraordinary activity in trade in the Pacific which would be beneficial to Argentina.

'SNOW BIRD' WILL WED ARCTIC EXPLORER

DONALD B. MacMILLAN, Who Was With Peary on His Successful Trip.

New York, Sept. 20.—There has reached here from St. Johns, N. F., the report of the engagement of Miss Marie Peary, daughter of Rear Admiral Peary, to Donald MacMillan, who accompanied Peary in his dash to the pole.

Miss Peary is the "Snow Bird" of the Esquimos, who bestowed that title upon her shortly after her birth farther north than any white child in the world, her mother being the first white woman to winter with an Arctic expedition. MacMillan started this year for the Far North on a three years' voyage, but the Crockerland expedition which he headed was unable to reach its winter goal, Flagler bay.

BECOMES "WOODROW" UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Two-Weeks-Old Eskimo Travels Mile With Mercury 30 Below.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Of the many children named after President Woodrow Wilson, probably none can boast the hardihood of a little Eskimo boy, who was carried a mile in a temperature of 30 degrees below zero to be christened.

Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson, secretary of the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church, wrote in a letter received by President Wilson today, that a baby "endowed with that name who at two weeks of age could stand such a trip should do well in the world."

Mr. Thompson enclosed a report from the Rev. D. W. Cram, at Point Barlow, Alaska, the most northern mission of the church, in which Dr. Cram wrote:

"It was natural that the first boy born after the first of March should be named Woodrow. Doubtless there are many other little Woodrows scattered throughout the country by this time, but if this one at the farthest north doesn't hold the record for the earliest public christening, climatic conditions taken into consideration, I am very much mistaken."

SEEK TO GET GARRISON OUT

Attorneys Work for Man Imprisoned By New York Assembly.

Glynn in Full Control of State's Executive Powers.

SULZER DENIES ABDICATION.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Governor Sulzer denied today that he had recognized the right of Lieutenant Governor Glynn to perform the duties of acting governor.

Governor Sulzer's action yesterday in transferring certain criminal business to the attention of Mr. Glynn, said his counsel, had no bearing upon the question of Sulzer's present status.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Counsel for James C. Garrison, the newspaper man and former state employe jailed Thursday when he refused to answer questions propounded by the speaker of the assembly, planned to start a legal fight in their client's behalf today. In the meantime Garrison remained in jail. He said the experience was novel and not unpleasant.

Compared with its activity in the earlier part of the week, Albany was a deserted city today. Practically all of the principal figures in the Sulzer impeachment trial were out of town, the court of impeachment having adjourned until Monday and both houses of the legislature until Thursday.

Glynn in Control.

No more clashes between Governor Sulzer and Acting Governor Glynn are anticipated after the governor's letter of yesterday acknowledging that he no longer is governor. The governor has not been at his office in the capitol for two days, and it is said he will not return unless the court of impeachment acquits him. His counsel has notified Acting Governor Glynn that any attaches of the governor's office who may be of any assistance to him are at his service.

Glynn will make no attempt to move into the governor's quarters, but will continue to direct the state's business from his temporary quarters.

Sulzer Is Silent.

Governor Sulzer is maintaining absolute silence. Reports that he has gone into "seclusion" are somewhat exaggerated, for he frequently appears on the streets in his automobile, but he refuses to talk for publication.

WONDERFUL SHOOTING ON U. S. SUBMARINE

Bulls-eyes Scored at 3,000 Yards at Full Speed Under Water.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 20.—Two center hits made with Whitehead torpedoes at 3,000 yards, while running twelve feet under the surface of the sea, is the remarkable record reported by the United States submarine E-1, on its return from target practice in Gardiner's bay.

During Wednesday's practice, the E-1, under command of Lieut. Louis D. Causey, while running submerged at full speed, discharged both of her eighteen-inch torpedoes at a ten-foot moving target. Both of the hits were bulls-eyes.

COMMISSIONERS FACE BIG PROBLEM IN FIXING CITY TAX RATE FOR 1914

Levy Will Be $849,500, Giving Rate of 16.49 Mills.

Street Improvements for Coming Year May Be Tied Up.

City Must Get on Cash Basis Again—Rigid Economy Needed.

The total tax levy for Duluth for 1914 will be $849,500, giving a city tax rate of 16.49 mills, as shown by the estimate completed today by Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss.

The levy for this year was $816,000, or $33,500 less than that of next year, while the city rate was 16.61 mills, or .12 of 1 mill greater.

The levy for 1914 is based upon an estimated valuation of $51,500,000, while the taxes this year were levied on a valuation of approximately $49,150,000.

The sum of $849,500 does not represent the expenditures of the city for the coming year, but only the money raised by taxation. The municipality derives considerable revenue from license fees and similar miscellaneous sources, which go into the general fund. The statement of the finance commissioner gives the amount which will likely be received in that manner as $282,000, which would bring the total operating expenses to $1,131,500. This is exclusive of the street improvements, which are paid from the revolving fund, and of the operations of the water and light department, which are self-sustaining.

Have Hard Task.

The city commissioners will have no easy task when they take up consideration of the budget. The estimate of the finance commissioner does not determine the sums which will be allowed the various funds. It acts as a

INDICT AGED PASTOR ON SWINDLING CHARGE

Grand Jurors Vote Ten Additional Counts Against U. T. S. Rice.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 20.—Rev. U. T. S. Rice, an aged clergyman and loan broker whose financial operations here involved him in difficulties within the last few weeks, was indicted on ten additional counts by the grand jury yesterday. Four of the counts were for embezzlement, four for obtaining money under false pretenses and two for conducting a confidence game. Bail was fixed at $8,500.

Walter Rice, son of the clergyman, also was indicted on a confidence game charge. His bail was placed at $500. He gave bonds.

The elder Rice is in a sanitarium at Charleston, Ill., under guard.

MAYOR'S BODY LIES IN STATE

New York People Given Last Look at William J. Gaynor.

British Flag Will Be Displayed at Public Funeral.

New York, Sept. 20.—The body of William J. Gaynor, late mayor of New York, will be taken from the Gaynor home in Brooklyn late this afternoon and placed at twilight in the city hall, where it will lie in state until Monday morning.

Close friends of the Gaynor family, including a sprinkling of city officials, assembled at the Gaynor home today for the private funeral services conducted by Rev. Frank W. Page of Culpepper, Va., for many years the pastor and close friend of the family.

Late this afternoon the body will be taken under the escort of a squadron of mounted police to the city hall. The American flag draped over the coffin when it was taken to the Lusitania at Liverpool, will be replaced by the official mayor's flag of the city when the body is placed in state.

Will Lie in State.

The body will lie in the rotunda of the city hall, sombre with black draping, until 10 o'clock Monday morning when it will be taken to Trinity church. The face will be exposed and all who wish to gaze upon the dead mayor will be permitted to do so. The body will be buried in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Mayor Kline announced that in appreciation of the extraordinary honors paid to the late mayor by the lord mayor and corporation of the city of Liverpool, as well as the citizens of that city, Mrs. Gaynor had especially requested the committee of arrangements to have the British flag entwined with the American flag in Trinity church during the services on Monday. In further appreciation, the British consul and his aides have been asked to occupy seats in the church with the family.

WINDOWS OF RARE BEAUTY

Merchants Sparing No Expense in Decorating Their Stores.

Superior Street Will Be a Riot of Color Next Week.

Merchants on Superior street have gone to an unlimited expense in putting their shop windows in complete holiday attire for Fall Style Week, while the interiors of the stores will be decorated as they have never been before.

George A. Gray, of the George A. Gray department store announced this morning that the entire building will be radiant in autumn colors all of next we kand that both the exterior and interior of the structure will be decorated for the occasion.

The arcade front of the store will present a mirror of the coming fashions, which will be shown in a most complete variety. One window is to be given over to the Northern Shoe company, which will show how the Duluth-made shoes are constructed, also exhibiting footwear that is compared with the finest in the East.

In another window will be shown two most wonderful creations in evening gowns that smack of Paris. There will also be a complete millinery and fur display, together with articles for personal adornment and the home. Altogether, Mr. Gray declared, the exhibit will be beyond anything ever attempted by his institution.

In one of the Silberstein & Bondy windows there will be new Parisian gowns of taupe gray and peon blue, together with the proper evening wraps. The hats to harmonize will also be shown. Semi-dress suits, presenting new ideas in draped skirts with short coats, will be exhibited in another window.

Drawing Room Scenes.

The windows will each represent a drawing room scene, with the accessories that usually accompany such a display, including large vases of gladiolas in radiant autumn colorings, completing the autumn scene. Each floor will be tastefully trimmed and decorated for the occasion, palms and ferns to be placed in every department and along the aisles. The cloak and suit floor already has the appearance of a drawing room in which the life-like wax figures are seen in elegant gowns and wraps.

Never before in the history of the institution has the Freimuth store been decorated in such splendor as it will be all of next week. In the windows will be shown six models of the latest fashion creations, together with hats. These will include an evening gown with cut beads over black and white peau de cygne, with velvet rose trimmings; a gown with fur-trimmed pink tunic over white brocade satin Duchess with point de Venice laces and rich pearl trimmings; an ermine-trimmed gown of brocade crepe over a dress with a black satin skirt, slashed in the sides; a seal coat, with large kimono sleeves, wide shoulders, ermine trimmings and brocade crepe de chene linings; Scotch mole fur coat, forty-five inches long, with large, pure white ermine collar and large draped scarf fastenings on the sides, and a Copenhagen blue evening coat of plisse velvet, lined with exquisite white chamois and having beautiful white collar and cuffs.

The fur exhibit will include beautiful mole sets, with draped scarfs, Hudson seal, fox, lynx and rich dark mink. The latest creations in Knox, Gainsborough, Rebeau and Georgette hats will be shown in the windows.

Autumn Leaves.

At Giddings the walls and ceilings of the interior will be decorated with smilax and autumn leaves. The displays are to be the most complete ever shown at the local institution. Among the gowns to be shown are the new Mineret creations which have caused such a furore among the feminine world of France. They are declared to be the latest in woman's style and have been brought here direct from Paris. These include several gowns of brocaded velvet over chiffon and fur-trimmed velvet peg-top suits, the cost of which runs into the hundreds of dollars. There are also evening wraps with fox trimmings and of cut velour, a most artistic material.

The fur exhibits to be shown in the windows are all new and of the latest designs. They include Hudson seal, with ermine collar, Caracul fur, leopard skin coats, Baron Duki chipmonk fur set, chincilla squirrel and amber fox. The last named is a yellow-shaded fur and is reported to have made a distinct hit in France.

A new feature at Giddings this fall will be an exhibition of imported hats for children.

At the Glass Block similar preparations are being made and the interior of the building will be decorated as it has never been before, according to Bentley P. Neff, manager. Autumn leaves and flowers will be used in large festoons throughout the building, while the windows will be similarly decorated. The latest creations in gowns, wraps and hats will be exhibited in the windows.

The display windows along Superior street are all closed from view today and will be opened for public inspection either late this evening or Monday morning. They are all to be surprises for the public, according to the merchants.

PARADE ON THE OPENING NIGHT

W. J. Betting, secretary of the committee in charge of Duluth's second annual exposition, declared this morning that the industrial parade Monday evening will be the largest ever held in this city.

From present indications every merchant and manufacturer in this city will take part in the parade. There will be at least 350 vehicles in the line of march, including automobiles and floats and tallyhos.

The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, the line of march beginning at the corner of Second avenue east and First street, going west to Fourth avenue, down to Superior street and then east to the Curling rink.

Lieut. Col. F. E. Resche will lead the parade and will be followed by a battalion of police and the militia. The members of the city commission and Duluth business men will follow in automobiles. The retailers will then follow with their division and the jobbers, with their floats, will bring up the rear.

Two bands will furnish the music in the parade and later on at the curling rink.

The average weekly food bill for a family of five in Canada is estimated at $7.40.

HOME-GROWN FOODS ONLY

Dinner Monday Evening Will Be Attended By 720 Guests.

Souvenirs By Cart Load—Finishing Touches on Rink Decorations.

It is believed that the industrial dinner, which will be given Monday evening to properly inaugurate the opening of the big industrial exposition, will be the largest affair of its kind ever given in the Northwest.

Last year some 500 persons assembled, ate the products of the fertile home-gardens and listened to a series of booster talks. This year the limit has been placed at 720 diners and there is little doubt but that all of the tickets will be disposed of before Monday noon.

The dinner will be given in the basement of the curling club, or in the curling room proper. Half of the huge floor space has been reserved for the tables.

While all of the speakers have not been chosen at the present time, it is believed that there will be something like twenty short speeches made during the course of the evening.

All of the food on the table will be grown or manufactured in Duluth. The menu in this regard will not be changed from the program of last year, with the exception that there will be a greater variety.

Souvenirs.

There will be a large list of souvenirs given away to the diners by the various firms of the city. Each diner will be presented with enough souvenirs of the occasion to stock a young flat.

Today the finishing touches are being placed on the booths and the exhibits are being placed. The electric power was turned on before noon and much of the machinery is being equipped with power and being tested out.

All of the exhibits will be ready by Monday, according to the announcement made today. Some of the machines that manufacture Duluth-made goods were run for a short time to determine whether they were in readiness for the show.

All of the decorating of the big skating room has been completed. The work of putting in all of the exhibits will be completed today and tomorrow, and Monday forenoon is expected to see the last detail ready.

In the number of exhibitors, in the variety of exhibits shown, and in completeness of detail, the show that opens Monday will absolutely eclipse all previous efforts and will establish a very high mark to live up to in the future.

There will be features to instruct and others to amuse. It will be many-sided and will combine the instruction of a serious exhibition of useful products with the joy of a lark.

Serious thought, arduous labor and a vast expenditure have been combined to make an exposition that it is believed will surpass any similar attempt ever made in the Northwest.

To those whose idea of the scope of the manufacturing interests of Duluth is rather vague, and whose knowledge of the variety of products grown in St. Louis county is rather uncertain, the exposition will be in the nature of an eye-opener.

As the largest dinner ever given in Duluth, the industrial dinner will properly inaugurate the big show and will establish the proper spirit to follow during the course of the week.

WILL TELL MESABA RANGE ABOUT STRIKE

Western Federation Will Seek Aid for Copper Miners.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representatives of the Western Federation of Miners will tour the iron mining districts of Minnesota and Michigan to address meetings and appeal for aid for the striking copper miners of this district, it was announced today. The Mesaba range of Minnesota will be the first to be invaded.

The general impression seems to be that the operators will reject the arbitration propositions submitted by John A. Moffitt, representative here of the Federal department of labor, although Mr. Moffitt himself is hopeful of the success of his mission.

Members of the Western Federation of Miners tried yesterday to induce strikebreakers at the Quincy mine to leave the strike district, offering, it is said, transportation and $50 for each man to leave. Fourteen accepted the proposition, but refused to leave when the money was not forthcoming.

RELEASED BY POLICE; WARRANT IS ISSUED.

After the police had investigated the allegation that John Karasiewicz had shot Walter Obnemski Thursday night, he was released yesterday morning. The officers found no evidence to sustain the allegation that he had shot any one.

Yesterday afternoon Obnemski swore out a warrant for Karasiewicz's arrest, charging him with having shot him wit ha revolver. Karasiewicz was rearrested late in the afternoon. When arraigned in police court he waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury. His bond was fixed at $250, which it was said would be furnished.

It is claimed that he did not understand the proceedings, intending to say he was not guilty and wanted a hearing. The police do not think that he would have been held had the case been thrashed out in the police court.

WHAT FARM WILL YIELD

Exhibits at Curling Rink Will Surprise the Unitiated.

Flowers, Fruits, Vegetables and Cattle Will Be Shown.

The agricultural exposition and cattle show, which will be conducted in connection with the industrial exposition at the Curling rink next week will be an education in agricultural development for visitors.

There will be flowers, fruits and vegetables of every kind and every variety. No product that can possibly be grown in Duluth or vicinity will be missing. Many products that few people know can be produced here will be shown. A. B. Hostetter, general superintendent of the exposition, said today that everything is shaping out for an agricultural display that will be complete and astonishing.

The potato feature of the exposition has been given the greatest prominence. Every potato-grower within 100 miles of Duluth has been urged to make a display. At the same time the potato buyers of the big cities have been invited to come to Duluth and see what this section of the country has to offer. The invitation will be accepted. Duluth's position as a potato market has already been established, but it will be more firmly fixed after the exposition.

The railroads of Northern Minnesota have offered liberal premiums for potatoes grown in the territory along their lines and thus every section of the potato-producing district will be represented.

Premiums have been offered for flowers, for apples, for home gardens and for garden vegetables, grown for the wholesale market and retail market. The home garden premiums have stirred up a great deal of rivalry between people in various sections of the city. The old Lakeside-Woodland feud will be renewed with greater intensity than ever at the exposition, while gardeners in the West end hope to step in and deprive both of the suburbs of the blue ribbon honors.

Duluth is fact becoming known as a Guernsey breeding center. Some of the finest herds of that variety of cattle are now stationed on farms near the city. The best of the herds will be shown at the cattle show at the Curling rink and visitors will see why Duluth has won a place as a dairy center.

Mr. Hostetter and the assistant superintendents in charge of the various departments are busy today receiving and placing exhibits. When the exposition is thrown open to the public everything will be in place.

ELECTION COST THE CITY $1,521

Will Add to the Deficit in the General Fund.

The recent referendum election, at which the Hicken liquor code was approved by the scanty margin of 38 votes, cost the city approximately $1,521.89.

The money must come from the already sadly burdened general fund, adding to the deficit which it will have at the end of the present year

The biggest item is the payroll of the judges and clerks and the rental of polling places, amounting to $1,284-64. This will be presented to the city commission at its meeting Monday afternoon. Printing the ballots cost $88.20; the publication of the ordinance is estimated at $61.50; miscellaneous supplies are listed at $10.55; putting up the booths cost $100 and the printing of pamphlets cost $19.

UXORICIDE IS LAID TO FATHER OF SEVEN

Wisconsin Engineer Accused of Killing Estranged Wife.

Jefferson, Wis., Sept. 20.—John Walther was placed in the county jail here today charged with shooting and killing his wife, Louise Walther, last night while she was driving alone in a buggy on an isolated road between Jefferson and Cold Springs.

The couple had separated a few weeks ago and Mrs. Walther instituted suit for divorce. Walther, it is said, asked his wife to come to his home and pick out whatever furniture she wanted, as he was going to sell the remainder. She drove to the place and was returning to her own home when murdered.

Seven young children survive the slain mother, who was 53 years old, and the alleged husband slayer is 56 years old. He is an engineer.

DR. PARK WILL BRING CAR BACK.

Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Duluth Automobile club, left today for Minneapolis to get his car. The car is the one that won the reliability run of the American Automobile association, from Minneapolis to Glacier National park in July. It has been in Minneapolis being overhauled since the return from the run. On his way back from Minneapolis Dr. Park will drive his car over a new road. He says he believes there is a good route through Wisconsin, better than the ones now used between the Twin Cities and Duluth. He will try it out and report to the club on his return.

FARGO MUSICAL UNION IN DISCORD.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Are musicians artists or laborers?

That point seems to be at issue in Fargo, and members of the local musicians' union are planning to withdraw from the local federated trades assembly, with which it has been affiliated for some time.

Criticism by a local labor paper concerning the music for the labor day exercises hastened the action.

FALL STYLES FROM PARIS

Merchants Will Show Many Imported Gowns During Coming Week.

Keen Rivalry Will Result in Greatest Display Ever Seen Here.

Creations from the world's fashion centers, including the new peg-top skirts, slit evening gowns, transparent skirts, imported fur coats and wraps and hats are ready to be shown at the fall style show next week at all the Duluth department stores and other shops.

Without a doubt the exhibitions in the shop windows and the various stores will be the most complete and gorgeous in the history of this city. Never before has there been such activity on the part of the merchants.

Each merchant is seeking to outdo the other in introducing some of the latest creations of the fashion world and Duluthians, together with the out-of-town visitors, who will be here for the style show and exhibit at the curling rink, will have the opportunity for the first time of seeing a real fall opening, such as is characteristic of the stores in New York, Chicago, London and Paris.

Scores of imported evening gowns and wraps from Paris and New York are on display. They are all samples of the best art of the present modiste and should create considerable interest in the feminine world.

Among the gowns to be shown are the new Minaret creations that have created suc ha hit in Paris. The new hoop skirt, evening gowns with long splits, and the transparent skirts are also among the features. The new-top skirt will also be on display during the week.

Among the extreme creations to be exhibited will be beaded dresses, fur-trimmed brocades, ermine trimmed gowns and seal, Scotch mole coats and a most gorgeous Copenhagen blue evening wrap, which is a creation well worth seeing.

The hats to be shown will include the latest Knox models, Gainsborough, Rebeau and Georgette creations. One of the extremes is an Arabian turban in black and gold.

Everything for milady from her head to her feet will be on display. Nothing has been left undone by the merchants in their efforts to make the week the best fall style opening show ever seen in Duluth or the Northwest.

Preparations have also been made by the merchants in arranging for more help during the week, so that Duluthians and visitors alike will be given the best attention in coming to examine the new styles and to view the creations of the fashion world. The merchants declare they have outdone themselves and that everyone will be proud of the exhibits and models to be shown.

WILL BRING MANY VISITORS

Fall Style Week Has Been Well Advertised By Railroads.

Forty-Three Regular Trains Now Arriving in Duluth Daily.

Duluth railroad men are preparing to handle a heavy passenger traffic next week, when the fall style show and the "Made in Duluth" exposition will be the big attractions for persons living in the territory surrounding Duluth.

The railroads have been sending out literature advertising the events to be held here and every small station along the main lines is placarded with posters telling of the wonders of Duluth.

There are forty-three regular passenger trains arriving in Duluth every day and these are expected to bring thousands of visitors. There are things to be seen here next week that will greatly interest persons who are not residents of Duluth. The man engaged in agricultural pursuits will be especially interested in the farm exhibits to be shown here and the men in the mercantile business will come to get pointers on the goods that Duluth offers for sale.

Then there are the women. No matter what her station in life is, almost every women is interested in the latest styles for gowns, and railroad men say that where one ticket is sold usually, for the man, there will be two sold next week, one for his wife too. The women want to come to Duluth to see the styles even if they have to wear last year's dress at home.

Farmers Interested.

J. H. McKinnon, general agent for the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railroad, said that the agents of the road had been busy for weeks interesting the farmers along the line in the Duluth exposition. He said the farmers were being urged to send in potatoes and other roots for the exhibit to be held at the curling rink.

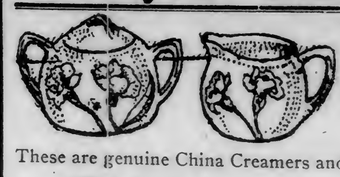

W. C. Wood, city passenger agent of the Great Northern railroad, predicted that thousands of persons from towns in the northern part of the state would come to Duluth next week to see the exposition. He said the traveling agents reported there was much interest in the events to be held here and that the railroad expected heavy travel all week.

J. I. Thomas, general agent here for the Northern Pacific, declared the exposition week would be one of the biggest things of the year in the way of attracting outside visitors. Mr. Thomas said that his road had sent out posters advertising the events and that he looked for big delegations from other communities.

C. W. Kieswetter, general agent for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, said he had been informed that the people on the range were much interested in the exposition. He said that many farmers along the line had sent in exhibits and that there was much local pride in the smaller places concerning the exhibits send from there. He said the women from the range would certainly take advantage of the style show to get their ideas for their winter dresses.

M. M. Hanna, city passenger agent for the Duluth & Iron Range, said there was no question but that Duluth would see many strange faces here next week. The exposition, he said, would bring both men and women to Duluth. He believed that many range women were timing their fall buying trips to coincide with the dates of the style show.

HAS LECTURED $7,000 WORTH

Bryan Ends Chautauqua Season---Will Not Give Up Practice.

Says Critics Are Either Malicious, Partisan or Misinformed.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Secretary Bryan will conclude his Chautauqua lectures for the season tonight with an address at Warrenton, Va.

Secretary Bryan today, commenting upon the termination of his engagements, said that he would continue to lecture as long as he remained secretary of state, whenever he felt there was proper occasion and a desire to do so.

Mr. Bryan issued this statement:

"This evening is the last of the Chautauqua lectures for the season. The total income from Chautauqua lectures this year is a little over $7,000; the net receipts after taking out the necessary expenses are something over $6,500.

Spent Seven Days.

"The number of whole week days which have been used for the lecture is, according to my recollection, seven. The remainder of the lectures have been delivered at places near enough to this city to leave in the afternoon, sometimes as late as 3:08 o'clock.

"I would not assume that the public was interested in these details were it not for the fact that the representatives of a few newspapers have regarded it as a matter of great importance."

When Mr. Bryan was asked if he would lecture any more during his connection with the state department he replied:

"I expect to lecture whenever I deem it desirable or necessary to do so, and have not in the least altered the plans which were made at the time I assumed the duties of the office. The criticism that has been directed against my lecturing is no more bitter than the criticism I have undergone at other times and for other things during my connection with politics.

Three Kinds of Critics.

"A part of this criticism is malicious, a part of it is partisan and a part of it is based upon misinformation. That which is malicious will answer itself; that which is partisan will be accepted as such; that which is based upon misinformation will cease when the critics are better informed.

"No man should enter public life if he objects to criticism; and he cannot stay in political life if he permits criticism to turn him from doing what he thinks is right.

"He must decide his duty for himself, and is answerable to the public for any mistakes he makes. I regard lecturing as an entirely legitimate field. I lectured before I was nominated for the presidency; I lectured between campaigns; I shall continue to lecture, and I shall not believe that any person whose opinion is worth having will think the less of me because I do so. This closes the lecture subject for the present."

"TOO BUSY" TO GET LICENSE

So Mike Pantiliona Got "Pinched" for Running Automobile.

When Mike Pantiliona came into headquarters yesterday to apply for a permit to run an automobile, the police asked him why he hadn't taken the recent examination for chauffeurs conducted by the state.

Mike didn't get his permit but he did "get pinched." When Patrolman Harling saw him driving a car on Superior street this morning he asked him to show his license or his permit. He couldn't. When he was brought into police court he pleaded guilty. His case was continued for ten days. The court advised him that he couldn't run a machine in Duluth unless he could find time to comply with the regulations.

EXHIBIT OF DIVISION OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The public works division of the city will have an exhibit at the exposition to be held at the Curling club next week, space for it having been donated by the Kelley-How-Thompson company.

It will include a colored map showing the amounts and kinds of paving on Duluth streets, samples of the various paving materials and other features pertaining to engineering work in the city.

The health department desired to have an educational exhibit but applied too late to obtain the necessary booth.

ARRESTED FOR GRABBING MONEY

Patrick Carney, 32 years old, was arrested this morning on a charge of stealing $39 from Sam O'Brien, 65 years old. Carney said he was an engineer and O'Brien gave his occupation as a laborer.

Carney is alleged to have snatched the money from O'Brien's hand while the two were drinking together in the West Michigan street saloon under the Saratoga hotel. He ran out, but was apprehended shortly afterwards by Patrolman Montgomery.

When searched at headquarters $39 and some small change were found in Carney's pockets. O'Brien was booked on a charge of drunkenness. Both will be arraigned in police court Monday morning.

The police took the names of Allen Conden and Chris Bachem as witnesses. They are said to have been in the saloon and to have seen Carney grab O'Brien's money.

GARDNER IS COMMANDER

Michigan Man Is Elected Head of Grand Army of the Republic.

Ex-Congressman From Albion Chosen at Final Session.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 20.—Former United States Congressman Washington Gardner of Albion, Mich., was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the final business session of the forty-seventh annual encampment. Detroit, Mich., earlier in the day, was selected as the meeting place for the 1914 encampment. Gardner's election was made unanimous by the withdrawal of the other candidates.

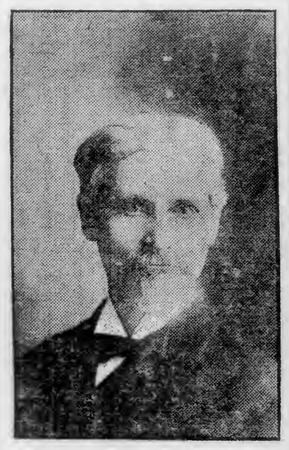

Other officers elected by the national organization were:

Thomas S. Howard, Guthrie, Okla., senior vice commander; William L. Rowe, Pittsfield, Mo., junior vice commander; J. K. Weaver, Morristown, Pa., surgeon-general, and Horace M. Carr, Carson, Kan., chaplain general.

Immediately after the election of officers was completed the commander-in-chief announced the appointment of Oscar A. James of Detroit, Mich., as adjutant-general, and Col. D. R. Stowitz of Buffalo as quartermaster-general.

Was Wounded at Resaca.

Commander-in-Chief Gardner was born in Morrow county, Ohio, in 1845. At the age of 16 he enlisted in Company, D, Sixty-fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was on duty continuously

WASHINGTON GARDNER,
Ex-Congressman From Michigan, Elected Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic

from 1861 under Buell in the Army of the Ohio, under Rosecrans in the Army of the Cumberland, and under Thomas and Sherman in the campaign against Atlanta, until disabled by a wound during the battle of Resaca, May, 1864.

For several years after the war, Commander Gardner attended college and later was a professor in Albion college, Mich. He served for five years as secretary of state for Michigan and for twelve years represented the Third Michigan district in the United States congress. Since his retirement from congress he has been chiefly engaged in educational work for a Chicago publishing firm.

The nominating speeches were begun shortly after 2 o'clock. Adjutant Seeley cast the vote of the encampment for commander-in-chief more than two hours later. Election of the remaining officers occupied nearly three hours.

Nebraskan Chief Contestant.

Only delegates were admitted to any of the official sessions of the encampment, but it is understood that Commander Gardner's nearest opponent during the balloting was Col. C. E. Adams of Superior, Neb.

Fair weather prevailed yesterday for the first time during the encampment. In bidding their hosts farewell at the railroad stations, veterans and visitors professed a closer relationship between the North and South as a result of the encampment.

The ceremony will be conducted in the Scottish Rite auditorium and will be open to all Masons, whether chapter members or not; and their wives or ladies. The affair will be followed by a reception and dance in the ball room of the temple.

T. W. Hugo, retiring high priest of Keystone chapter, will act in the capacity of installing officer. The officers to be installed are: Charles G. Mead, high priest; William J. Works, king; Walter N. Carmichael, royal arch captain; Arthur M. Frazee, master of the third veil; L. Keith Astell, master of the second veil; Ernest H. Fifer, master of the first veil; and Henry Van Brunt, sentinel.

THE BROWN BOTTLE JOKE

The brown bottle fallacy has been so completely exploded that little is left to be said in defense of that side of the question which advocated the use of dark bottles to the absolute exclusion of light bottles. It is admitted that common beer comes in dark bottles and that beer of a high degree of stability is preferably bottled in light bottles.

Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology (America's greatest authorities on brewing) are in accord with this view. Here is their statement in relation to the bottling of high-grade beer:

"FOR SUCH BEERS THE LIGHT BOTTLE is PREFERABLY EMPLOYED because it can more readily be inspected before filling to insure thorough cleanliness, and because the finished package reveals at a glance whether the contents meet the requirements of the consumer as to color, clarity and freedom from sedimentation."

SAYS WILSON TOOK ROOSEVELT POLICY

London Spectator Summarizes Work of Present Administration.

London, Sept. 20.—"There is now a national foreign policy in the United States which may be called imperialistic or not, as one chooses," the Spectator says today in summarizing the work of President Wilson's administration.

Crediting President Roosevelt with extending the Monroe doctrine so as to establish protectorates over Santo Domingo and Honduras, the Spectator adds:

The treaty with Nicaragua which Mr. Bryan hopes to get ratified, means that the Democrats have adopted bodily the foreign policy of the Republicans. It seemed unlikely that such a thing could ever happen, but the character of the Nicaragua treaty leaves us in no doubt. It is evident that Mr. Bryan has taken over President Roosevelt's policy, an event comparable with the adoption of Lord Lansdowne's policy by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary.

The immediate motive for this foreign policy is, of course, to be found in the Panama canal. It is convenient for the United States, which must protect the canal, that the Carribbean sea should be, as far as possible, an American sea."

WOMAN THIEF TAKES LONGFELLOW RELIC.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—A water set presented to the grandmother of Mrs. John W. Teasdale by Henry W. Longfellow, the poet, was stolen when a thief ransacked the Teasdale home while Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale were spending their vacation in Charlevoix, Mich. They returned home to find that a thief, apparently a woman, judging from a footprint found on the polished seat of a chair, had taken the silverware, brass candelabra and arabesque figures.

SUN YAT SEN FAILS TO ENTER AMERICA.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 20.—Traveling incognito as Wong Kwok Yin, Dr. Sun Yet Sen, former provisional president of the Chinese republic and leader of the movement which overthrew the Manchus and in the recent revolt against President Yuan Shi Kai, is said to be in Vancouver. He was recognized by compatriots in spite of the fact that his appearance had been altered by shaving off his moustache, and is said to be en route to England.

It is asserted Dr. Sun Yat Sen landed at Victoria from Japan on the last trip of the Japanese liner Chicago Maru. He remained in Victoria for some days with friends and later attempted to enter the United States disguised as a Japanese student, but was refused admittance.

The impression here is that Dr. Sun does not feel secure in disclosing his identity among his fellow countrymen in British Columbia, who are nearly all supporters of President Yuan.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR ALL DANDRUFF GONE

Girls! Try it! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

LOBBY COMMITTEE HEARS LITTLEFIELD

He Admits Getting Help From N. A. M.—Disliked Mulhall.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The house lobby committee postponed work on its report a day to hear former Representative Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, who, Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, testified, was one of the chief allies of that organization in the house.

Mr. Littlefield testified that beginning with his entrance to congress in 1899 until he resigned in 1908, he found "an active, energetic and powerful labor lobby headed by Samuel Gompers."

Mr. Littlefield said he did not intend to criticize members of the house for their position on labor bills.

"But," he explained, "when Gompers and the labor people became active the tall timber was thickly populated."

Aided by N. A. M.

Mr. Littlefield frankly told the committee that his views on labor legislation coincided with those of the manufacturers, and that early in his congressional career he gladly accepted the aid of the National Association of Manufacturers through Marshal Cushing, then its Washington representative.

"Cushing was doing what he could to counteract the influence of Gompers and the Federation of Labor," said Mr. Littlefield.

Littlefield said Mulhall went to his district in 1906 to help in his campaign.

"The more I saw of Mulhall," said Littlefield, "the less I liked him. I told the National Association of Manufacturers not to send him to this district again."

MRS. PANKHURST NOT TO BE ASKED TO TALK

Evanston Equal Suffrage Society Frowns on English Campaign.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette leader, will not be asked to speak before the Evanston Equal Suffrage association in the event she comes to Chicago on her visit to the United States. This was decided at a meeting of the association.

The members also expressed themselves as of the belief that Mrs. Pankhurst's visit will harm the suffrage movement in the Middle and Far Western states because of the militant tactics of the English women.

"The defeat of suffrage in Michigan recently, I believe, was partly due to reading of the acts of English suffrage leaders," said Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, president of the Evanston association. "We decided that it would not be a wise move to ask Mrs. Pankhurst to speak here."

To Restore Facial Contour When Lost

(From The Clubwoman.)

Often one will gaze long into her mirror, trying to find what it is about her face that is not just right. There's something inharmonious about her features, though she can't just locate the fault. Perhaps she has the habit of sleeping on one side, one cheek pressed against the pillow eight hours out of twenty-four. This is bound to affect the facial muscles and circulation on that side and spoil the general contour.

For restoring symmetry of contour—besides correcting error in sleeping or other cause—there's nothing better than this: Every other night spread a liberal coating of parafied plastoid jelly over the entire face, letting this remain on fifteen minutes to an hour after it dries, then remove with plain water. This draws in and "firms up" loose tissue, evening the features, rounding out the face beautifully. It also increases circulation, bringing a healthy color and making one look much younger. Get some parafied plastoid jelly at your druggist's and see what a wonderful rejuvenator it is. It is perfectly harmless. Adv.

SIDEWALKS ARE NEEDED

Oneota Club Members Discuss Improvements for Their Neighborhood.

A resolution asking the city to build sidewalks on Sixth street from Forty-first to Forty-sixth avenues west, was adopted at the meeting of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club last night. It was claimed that the walks are needed in order to allow the residents to get from their homes to the public market, public library and other institutions in this end of the city.

The club also informally discussed holding a general meeting once each month at which every resident, including women and children, could attend. Programs of a musical and literary nature would be given at these gatherings. Action to start such a movement will be taken up at the next meeting of the club.

Members of the club also discussed the inadequacy of the Merritt school building. The building was constructed to take care of a school poplation of about 380 pupils, but it now has enrolled 450 scholars. It is claimed that the building will have to be enlarged within another year.

The club will take the school matter up at its next meeting and authorize its school committee to bring the subject to the attention of the school board. An addition of at least eight rooms will be advocated.

WEST END WILL DO ITS SHARE

Merchants Are Making Big Preparations for Fall Style Week.

Big preparations are being made by the West end merchants to take an active part in the second Duluth Exposition Week. No expense is being spared by them in decorating their business houses and making them inviting to the general public during "style week."

The windows of the merchants have been beautifully decorated for the special week, bunting, national colors and flags of various nations contributing to the decorations.

Among the big firms of the West end taking a prominent part are the Morterud & Koneczny company, S. W. Hill Clothing company, Charles Mork & Sons Clothing company; Boman, Width & Hegland Clothing company, Juten Shoe company, and Johnson & Thygeson Dry Goods company and the three big furniture stores, those of Enger & Olson, the Anderson Furniture company and Cameron-Johnson-Horgan company.

Some of these merchants are planning on having handsome floats in the great industrial parade next week. These floats will be tastily decorated and represent the energetic spirit of the merchants.

"We are going to put the West end on the map," said one of the merchants this morning. "The only way we can do it is to get before the people in a right manner. By taking a prominent part in the big show next week the people of the city wil come to realize that there are up-to-date merchants in the West end as well as in the central part of the city."

GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE A MINSTREL SHOW.

The Adams Glee club is making rapid progress towards getting its chorus in shape for the minstrel show which it will give next month. The dates for the affair have not yet been set, but it is planned to give six performances during three days.

Rehearsals are being held twice each week. Last year the organization gave four productions and attracted large crowds to each of their performances. The club has selected James Wade, William Cahill, Ed Stevens and H. O. Peterson to be the end men. Several quartet and solo selections will be given.

Quartet selections will be given by the following: Gust Youngwall, Al Peterson, William Eckholm and Carl Anderson; Ray Olson, Ed Olson, James Cahill and Richard Wallin; Ray Olson Frank Carlson, John Wallin and Frank McGinnis. The soloists will be George Frink and Frank Carlson.

The following will comprise the chorus:

Rice, who will leave the city in a short time. Special musical program has been arranged in which the united choirs of all the West end churches will take part. Pastors of the various churches will give short addresses during the meeting, which has been planned especially for the Scandinavian churches.

WRESTLERS ENTERTAIN FRENCH CLUB MEMBERS.

Skill and agility were shown by the two young mat aspirants who performed last evening before the members of the French Naturalization club, at its meeting at the French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. "Kid" Lockhart and "Kid" Le May tussled for fifteen minutes without either showing superiority over the other. The match was declared a draw.

Ray M. Hughes was the principal speaker of the evening. He gave an address on "Good Citizenship," in which he praised organizations like the French Naturalization club for the work that they did in making immigrants to this country better citizens. He also explained the preferential system of voting.

Funeral Sunday.

The funeral of Emil Johnson, 32 years old, 324 North Twenty-second avenue west, who died of injuries sustained by the dropping of a steel beam at the new ore dock Thursday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms and at 2 o'clock from the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Rev. Edward Erickson will officiate. Burial will be made in the Lutheran cemetery.

New Canning Factory.

Casselton, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new canning factory, established here this fall, is giving employment to twenty-five people. Many varieties of vegetables are being canned. The entire output was sold to a Fargo wholesale house and will be exploited by them. So far 25,000 cans of tomatoes have been put up and 50,000 more will be canned. The enterprise is the first of any pretensions in the state.

FREE BANANAS AGREED TO BY CONFEREES

Some of the more important disputes, however, are on articles on which house members fear a reduction of rates will mean too much loss of revenue.

There was little prospect when the conference was resumed today that details of the bill could be completed before the end of next week.

No Duty on Art Works.

Supporters of the demand for free importation of works of art expressed great satisfaction today over the decision of the conference committee to remove all restrictions against free importation. Under the present law, pictures and like art objects must be twenty years old to come in free. The house bill removed the restriction, but the senate increased its rigorous character by placing the age limit at fifty years. Under the new agreement all restrictions will be removed, except that discretionary power will be left with the secretary of the treasury to determine the value of importations as "works of art."

Two Important Steps.

Two important steps toward completing the bill were made when the Democratic conferees decided to retain a moderate duty on angora goat hair and mohair and to free-list ferro-manganese ore.

The house had put a duty of 15 per cent ad valorem on ferro-manganese ore, of which there are large imports for steel manufacturing purposes. The decision to free-list it followed a decision of the conferees to free-list pig iron and other cheap grades of iron, and cutting down the house rates on many forms of manufactured iron.

The senate yielded in its demand for free angora wool and the conferees compromised on angora wool, mohair and yarns and cloths made from angora goat hair.

The senate gave way in its demand for specific rates in the silk schedule levying a definite duty on each pound of imported silk products. The ad valorem plan proposed by the house was adopted, with slight reduction on certain articles.

Ouimet did not get into the lead until the turn for the home holes. All three made the half way mark in even 38. But after that he was never headed.

Enthusiastic followers carried the victor on their shoulders to the clubhouse, where Secretary John Reid, Jr., of the United States Golf association made the presentation speech.

COLD STORAGE MEN SEE STOCK YARDS.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Members of the Third International Congress of Refrigeration today made a tour of inspection of the Union stock yards as guests of the packers. After being entertained at luncheon by the packers the visitors attended the international meeting of ice men.

Subjects of technical importance were discussed in scores of papers read at the meetings of the six sections of the congress. M. George Claude of Paris delivered a lecture on "Liquified Air," with practical demonstrations of its use for various commercial purposes.

DEVICE TO DETECT POISON IS INVENTED

Prof. Abel of Johns Hopkins Announces Success of Experiment.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 20.—By means of an appliance devised by Prof. W. W. Abel, head of the department of pharmacology of the Johns Hopkins university, it has been made possible, it is declared today, to determine whether persons thought to be suffering from the effects of poison are really under the influence of drugs, and to be able to discover almost immediately the poison they have taken.

The contrivance consists of a series of coils and tubes, which are submerged in saline solution, and its action is said to be the same as that of the kidneys.

In making the test for poison it is necessary to have the blood stream flow through the tubes. This is done by connecting the tubes with the jugular vein and the carotid artery. The blood passes through the tubes, which are then immersed in a pan containing a warm solution.

Filters Into Solution.

By means of a porous substance connecting the glass tubes, the foreign and poisonous substances in the blood filter through into the saline solution. The solution being of the same temperature and consistency as the lymph in the blood, none of the natural ingredients which make up the blood are taken up by the solution of salt.

After allowing the blood to flow through the tubes for a given time, a specimen of the saline solution is taken, and then it is but a simple matter of chemical analysis to find what poison or foreign substance is present in the system of the patient.

THAW'S PLANS FOR DEFENSE FINISHED

Mother and Sister Are Expected at Concord to Examine Them.

Concord, N. H., Spt. 20.—The plans of the defense in the extradition proceedings against Harry K. Thaw were completed this morning and awaited the approval of the fugitive's mother and sister, who with the latter's husband, George Lauder Carnegie, were expected later in the day. Thaw was anxious to explain to his family his reasons for placing his case wholly in the hands of his New Hampshire counsel. The latter are working in complete harmony with Former Governor Stone of Pennsylvania, the personal representative of the Thaw family.

Reports that Governor Felker was inclined to give Thaw his liberty and leave the final disposition of the case to the Federal courts finds no support in a statement from the executive today in which he said he would approach the extradition proceedings on Tuesday with a perfectly open mind. His only determination was, he said, that justice should be done.

Thaw slept later than usual this morning and when he appeared at breakfast he was in the best of spirits. He said that he was ready for another hard day's work with his correspondence and law books which he is searching for precedents bearing on his case.

"My counsel are working very hard, you know," said he, "and I shall do my part."

NEW ZEPPELIN FLYER MAKES FIRST TRIP

Averages Fifty Miles an Hour Against Sixteen-Mile Wind.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—The new naval Zeppelin dirigible arrived here today, having made her first trip from Friedrichshafen in eleven hours at an average speed of fifty miles an hour against a sixteen-mile wind. She is a sister ship of the one which was destroyed in a gale off Heligoland on Sept. 9, when fourteen men lost their lives.

STEEL COACH ROLLS OVER THREE TIMES

Twenty Passengers Hurt in Wreck on the Rock Island.

Manhattan, Kan., Sept. 20.—Twenty passengers were injured, one probably fatally, when Passenger Train No. 40 on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, eastbound from Denver and Colorado Springs to St. Louis, was derailed on a curve a mile west of here this morning.

Eight coaches left the rails. One of them, the steel baggage and smoking car combined, rolled down a twenty-foot embankment, turning over three times and landing upside down. The smoking compartment was full of passengers, most of whom were injured, but none seriously save J. P. Baldy of Herington, Kan., who was crushed by a falling trunk. He probably will die.

Flooded by Cream.

The smoking compartment was inundated and the passengers bespattered by a flood of cream from a consignment in the baggage compartment.

Of the others injured J. O. Thompson, conductor, is the only one whose injuries are believed dangerous. Passengers in the steel chair car and in the three sleeping cars were shaken up and some badly bruised.

A defective rail is said to have caused the accident. The train was running about twenty miles an hour when it left the rails.

FOREIGN WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Student Secretary for China Will Lecture in Duluth.

Arthur Rugh, for six years national student secretary for China in the interests of the Student Volunteer Movement, will be the guest of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. Sept. 28-30. Mr. Rugh will talk before the foreign work department of the institution.

Mr. Rugh has had wide experience in foreign work of the kind suported by the Y. M. C. A. and his talks are expected to stimulate interest in the work being done here.

The Duluth Y. M. C. A. has supported the work of E. A. Shuman of Buenos Aires, who represents the association there. Most of the expenses of Mr. Shuman have been shouldered by the Duluth institution. The following is part of a letter from Mr. Shuman, who tells of his annual report:

"The night classes have enrolled 175 men under eight instructors and have kept up the good record of former years in point of attendance and good work. We are a cosmopolitan association. In a recent Sunday afternoon meeting there were present men from eleven different countries. Our boxing classes last season counted men from seven different countries. Our present staff is made up of men from no less than ten different countries. It is good to see these men from all over the world living together in peace and harmony."

NAVY SAILORS FALL OFF TRAIN.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 20.—Two men killed by falling from a freight train here were identified today as sailors from the United States navy. They are B. M. McAlpine, a machinist of the United States battleship Virginia, and Augustus Koch, attached to the Brooklyn navy yard.

IRELAND'S DAY DAWNS

Three Duluthians Return and Say Green Little Isle Is Prosperous.

Crops Are Good and Days of Dire Poverty Are Passed.

T. W. Foran, W. K. Stack and Patrick Foley, three well-known Duluth men, have returned after spending several months in Ireland.

They returned enthusiastic over the prospects in the little green isle. They declare that crops have been exceedingly good this year, that industrial activity is at its greatest height in years and that the people are happy and contented.

"I was delighted over the conditions I found in Ireland," said Mr. Stack today. "Ireland's day has dawned and the sun shines brightly. The people are busy and prosperous. The farm landlord has given way to the farm owner. The crops have been good for several years, but they are particularly good this year.

"In the cities we found commercial and industrial activity that made us think of home. All lines of business are doing well and every manufacturing plant is working to capacity. The dire poverty that has been known in Ireland has been followed by prosperity and when people are prosperous they are usually happy.

"Of course, political conditions are not yet altogether satisfactory, but they are shaping out well. People in Ireland are looking forward to home rule before very long and when home rule is established Ireland will have approached as near to political and industrial emancipation as we can expect for many years."

Mr. Foran said there is only one flaw in the picture of prosperity and contentment in Ireland.

"The taxes are too high," he said. "That is the only drawback. I believe taxation must be lowered considerably before Ireland can expect complete prosperity. In fact I believe that there will be serious trouble before many years if some more equitable plan of taxation is not worked out and the burdens lifted from the poor."

All three said they enjoyed their visit and at the time hated to leave Ireland, but the statue of liberty was a welcome sight and they are glad to be back in Duluth again.

working schedule for the aid of the council, but the total amount of the tax levy will not be changed, because charter limitations make that impossible. The council can now lose no time in taking up the budget, as the final statement of the amounts to be raised by the city by taxation must be in the hands of the county auditor not later than Oct. 10. Numerous important propositions will have to be determined by the commissioners as the budget is framed. The council can adjust the sums allowed for the various funds, but must keep within a limit of 13 mills, or $669,500, for all funds except the sinking and interest funds, which determine themselves. For these two funds $180,000 must be levied, making the total sum to be raised by taxation $849,500 on the basis of a valuation of $51,500,000.

In preparing his estimate, Finance Commissioner Voss has found himself compelled to slash the estimates turned in by the various commissioners for the departments under their direction. Most of them are left as they were this year, while the park fund is chopped almost in two.

Making Up Deficit.

In keeping with the opinion handed down several days ago by Judge Bert Fesler of the district court in the Glenwood street storm sewer case, Finance Commissioner Voss makes provision for making up the big deficit in the permanent improvement fund. Refering to that fund Judge Fesler said: "In the opinion of the court, all moneys paid out of the permanent improvement revolving fund for the benefit of the permanent improvement fund should be replaced in the revolving fund not later than Dec. 31 of the year in which such payments are made out of the revolving fund. Whether such replacement should be made prior to Dec. 31 is probably a question of business policy which should be left to the council to determine."

Commissioner Voss says: "If in your opinion you find it advisable to increase some of these department funds, it can be done only at the expense of some other department, by reducing the levy for the permanent improvement fund, which, in my opinion, should be increased rather than decreased, as the demand on this fund for new buildings and street improvements for the next year will be in excess of the amount allowed."

This situation is one of the nuts which the council will be obliged to crack. After the deficit is made up but $54,020.43 is available for 1914, as detailed by the finance commissioner, despite the fact that the tax levy is placed at the considerable sum of $117,750.

Tie Up Improvements.

If but $54,000 is available for 1914 and the rule is adhered to rigidly, street improvements for next year will be tied in a knot. One of the first jobs scheduled for the coming season is the improvement of West Superior street, Jenswold street and Oneota street. The city's share of that job would alone easily wipe out the $54,000 in the permanent improvement fund. Under the charter the city must pay for all street intersections and storm sewers from the permanent improvement fund. This single proposition alone has many angles and brings up a big field for study, as there are many street improvements and other permanent improvements to consider.

The finance commissioner's statement of the permanent improvement fund is as follows:

Balance in fund Sept. 1, 1913	$ 33,608.58
Due from 1912 tax levy	39,000.00
1913 tax levy	117,750.00
Total	$190,358.58
Obligations—
Due contractors	$ 6,812.75
Various appropriations	12,184.60
Due permanent improvement revolving fund:
City's share of 1912 improvements	12,610.00
Street intersections, 1912 improvements	9,300.00
Street intersections, 1913 improvements	66,187.24
Storm sewers, 1913	6,855.36
Interest due Sault Ste. Marie Railway company	1,687.31
Certificates of indebtedness and interest	20,700.00
Amount available for 1914	54,020.43
Total	$190,358.58

Department Funds.

The funds needed for the various departments must come in for careful analysis. The fire department needs new apparatus; the police department is calling for additional men; the health department wants to install a municipal collection of garbage; the park department desires to expand; the welfare department has several important branches developing, in which connection the work farm must be remembered, although it is governed by a joint city and county commission and there are other big problems to be borne in mind, including the aerial bridge, the electric lighting question, the water and light department, etc. All of them are intimately concerned with the welfare and prosperity of the city, and are vitally affected by the budget.

In submitting their estimates each member of the council declared that the figure had been placed at the lowest possible amount. They stated that the not uncommon method of asking for large sums in the expectation that they would be reduced had not been followed.

The fire department's estimate was $171,727.50; this was left at $144,000, as this year, in the finance commissioner's estimate.

The police department's estimate was $119,267.75, including an improved signal system. This is left as this year at $103,000 by the finance commissioner.

The health department's estimate was $32,700, which included $15,000 for a garbage collection system; this is cut to $20,000 by the finance commissioner.

The works division, which has a vast amount of work on hand, asked for $166,150. This is reduced to $150,000, of which $135,000 would come from taxation and $15,000 from the wheelage tax.

The park department asked for $37,850. The allowance for this year was $31,450. The estimate of the finance commissioner for 1914 is chopped to $17,895.

In his estimate the finance commissioner makes provision for making up the deficit of $32,000 which will exist at the end of the present year. He also provides for a tax levy of $5,000 for the general fund. In past years the fund has consisted of money received from licenses and other sources and has not been augmented by a tax levy.

The General Fund.

The general fund is highly important. The purposes for which it is used and the sources from which its revenues are derived, as concisely set forth in the following statement from Finance Commissioner Voss' estimate:

EXPENSE.

KILLING FROST IS FORECASTED

Perishable Products in Duluth Gardens Should Be Protected.

Gardeners with products which may be damaged by frost had better protect them tonight. H. W. Richardson, forecaster at the weather bureau, said this morning that there will probably be a heavy frost tonight.

There was a light frost last night. Tonight the temperature will drop to 33 or 34 deg. Freezing temperature is necessary for heavy frost, but the temperature within a foot of the ground is always a degree or two lower than at the level at which thermometers are placed, so if the mercury drops to 33 or 34 deg., heavy frost may be expected.

MRS. BENNETT DIES.

Former Resident of Duluth Passes Away at St. Paul.

News has been received of the death of Mrs. Kezia Bennett of St. Paul, which occurred this morning at her home, 1140 Grand avenue, after a two years' illness. Mrs. Bennett, who was in her 76th year, was the mother of Mrs. Wesley Fectham, former general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. here, and Miss Keziah Bennett, who is connected with Y. W. C. A. work at St. Paul. She resided in Duluth for twenty years, leaving here a few years ago for St. Paul. She leaves six children.

RADICALS LOSE IN SOCIALIST VOTE.

Jena, Germany, Sept. 20.—The radical section of the Social Democratic party suffered a second defeat at yesterday's session of the national Socialist congress, when it adopted resolutions impliedly approving the stand taken by the Socialist members of the reichstag, favoring the imposition of taxes for the purchase of armaments. The vote on the resolution was 336 to 140. The first defeat of the radicals occurred last Tuesday when the congress voted against calling a general strike as a means for furthering the Socialists' propaganda.

Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Owes to Those who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without painful strain upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided nervous spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, happy disposition is preserved that reflects wonderfully upon the charcter and temperament of the little one soon to come. You can obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store at $1.00. It preserves the mother's health, enables her to make a complete recovery, and thus with renewed strength she will eagerly devote herself to the care and attention which mean so much to the welfare of the child. SEEKING PROHIBITION IN DENMARK

Leader of Liberal Party Has Started Agitation for Statewide Prohibition and People Likely to Agree to It.

Copenhagen, Sept. 20.—I. C. Christensen, leader of the Liberal party, has started an agitation for statewide prohibition in Denmark. Not long ago the Liberal party successfully fathered a bill which enforces important restrictions on the sale of liquor in bars, restaurants and similar places, and the Liberal leader evidently intends to follow this up with a law enforcing total prohibition of the sale of intoxicants in Denmark.

During the past few years the Danish people have become more and more abstemious in their habits, and as the younger generation is especially temperate, the agitation for prohibition is not based on any growing insobriety on the part of the people of the country.

In explaining why the Liberal party, which stands for a large measure of personal liberty, should be backing such a bill, Mr. Christensen says alcohol is a poison and that the state should forbid and regulate its use just as it does in the case of other recognized poisons.

Until the late temperance legislation went into effect, Denmark had depended upon education to fight the evils of intemperance, and this is the first time the advocates of the prohibition movement have sought government regulation of the liquor traffic.

It is believed that the people will acquiesce in the proposed legislation in spite of the alleged attack on personal liberty, which they feel must be limited for the benefit of the community. Some of the leading Liberal papers have protested strongly against the bill, one pointing out that a person is not educated by making him incapable of managing his own affairs, but by letting him live his life in the largest possible liberty under the responsibility of himself and the community.

The opposition papers attack the minister's new policy, and insinuate that it is for the purpose of catching votes.

To Wed an Eskimo.

By departing for Upernvik, Greenland, to wed an Eskimo named Cemnity, Miss Ellen Groth, a pretty Danish girl, will set a precedent by being the first known white woman to wed an Eskimo. On the other hand several white men have married Eskimo women, and just recently the Arctic explorer, Dr. Freuchen, took an Eskimo woman to wife. The Eskimo women are said to be very pretty.

On leaving for Greeland Miss Groth was given an enthusiastic farewell by her friends and on board ship her arms were filled with flowers. The Eskimo bridegroom is a local missionary.

Went Carnegie Mad.

Hearing that Andrew Carnegie had telegraphed to Copenhagen from Bergen for hotel accommodations, the city became Carnegie mad, and when his nephew, George Lauder Carnegie, turned up instead of the steel king, he received a reception at the railway station which caused him to flee in dismay.

From the day that the Copenhagen papers announced that the philanthropist was coming to Copenhagen the American legation was overcrowded with people seeking introductions to the laird of Skibo. Many of them were possessed with a sincere desire to make the acquaintance of the library donor, but most of them had schemes for aiding him in his philanthropic plans. Many women came to the American minister with most extraordinary devices which they wanted him to assist them in selling to Carnegie. One wanted him to buy what she said was a lock of Abraham Lincoln's hair, and another wanted to sell the ironmaster a portrait of John Kelly at Saratoga. People came from as far as Norway and Sweden to interest Carnegie in charitable institutions in their countries.

When the train arrived the station was crowded with newspaper men and townspeople out to greet the Napoleon of charity, but no one appeared. Some one in the crowd heard a quiet young man tell a hotel porter that he had engaged rooms at the hotel in the name of Carnegie. The shout went up: "Here he is," and before George Lauder Carnegie could gain the shelter of the hotel omnibus he was almost mobbed. Disappointed of the greater celebrity the people had to content themselves with the lesser, and, during his stay in Copenhagen, young Carnegie learned that being the nephew of a famous uncle entails some disadvantages.

Lobsters Now Scarce.

Denmark used to be famous for its lobster fisheries, but lately the tasty shell fish has grown so scarce that it has become very costly, so much so that the market here has been successfully invaded by American canned lobster.

After a long conference of scientific experts and practical fishermen it has been decided to adopt the American methods of hatching lobsters, and the work will be taken up all over Denmark under government auspices. The state will make a large contribution to the project.

Warning Issued.

The Danish papers are issuing warning to bridegrooms under forty years of age not to get married—this month. If they persist in planning weddings they may be missing when the hour arrives, for this is the month when the war department is expected to give twelve hours' notice of mobilization for maneuvers. All men under forty years who are liable to bear arms will be compelled to obey the summons, and not even a wedding will serve as an excuse.

THE INTEREST OF LONDON

Theodore Dreiser in the Century Magazine: The first thing that impressed me was the grayish tinge of smoke that was over everything, a faint haze; and the next that, as a city, street for street and square for square, it was not so strident as New York, not nearly so harsh. The traffic was less noisy, the people were more thoughtful and considerate, the so-called rush, which characterizes New York, was less foolish. There is something rowdyish and ill-mannered about the street life of New York. This is not true of London. It struck me as simple, sedate, thoughtful, and I could only conclude that it sprang from a less stirring atmosphere of opportunity. I fancy it is harder to get along in London. People do not change from one thing to another so much. The world there is more fixed in a pathetic routine, and people are more aware of their so-called "betters." I hope not, but I felt it to be true.

I do not believe that it is given to any writer wholly to suggest a city. The mind is like a voracious fish; it would like to eat up all the experiences and characteristics of a city or a nation, but this, fortunately, is not possible. My own mind was busy pounding at the gates of fact, but all the while I was there I got only a little way. I remember being struck with the nature of St. James' park, which was near my hotel, the great column to the duke of Marlborough, at the end of the street, the whirl of life in Trafalgar Square and Piccadilly Circus, which were both very near.

London Is Always Interesting.

An office I visited in a narrow street interested me, and the storm of cabs which whirled by all the corners of this region. It was described to me as the center of London, and I am quite sure it was, for clubs, theaters, hotels, smart shops and the like were all here. The heavy trading section was farther east, along the banks of the Thames, and between that and Regent street, where my little hotel was located, lay the financial section, sprawling about St. Paul's cathedral and the Bank of England. One could go out of this great central world easily enough, but it was only, apparently, to get into minor centers. It was all decidedly pleasing, because it was new and strange, and because there was a world of civility prevailing which does not exist in America.

The amazing metropolitan atmosphere in which I found myself satisfied me completely for the time being. Life here was so complex and so extended that in days and days that involved visits—breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, suppers—with one personage and another, political, social, artistic, I was still busy snatching glimpses of the great lake of life that spread on every hand. In so far as I could judge on so short a notice, London seemed to me to represent a mood—a uniform, aware, conservative state of being, neither brilliant nor gay anywhere, though interesting always. About Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square, Leicester Square, Charing Cross and the Strand I suppose the average Londoner would insist that London is very gay; but I could not see it. Certainly it was not gay as similar sections in New York are gay.

Drab Acceptance of the Commonplace.

It is not in the Londoner himself to be so. He is solid, hard, phlegmatic, a little dreary, like a certain type of rain bird of Northern loon, content to make the best of a rather dreary situation. On the other hand, I should not say that the city is depressing—far from it—though there are many who have told me they found it so. You have to represent a certain state of mind to be a Londoner, or a Britisher, even, a true one, and, on the whole, I think it is a more pleasant attitude than one finds in America, though not so brilliant. Creature comforts run high with this type of mind, and, after that, a certain happy acceptance of the commonplace. Nothing less than that could possibly explain the mile on mile of drab houses, of streets all alike, of doorways all alike, of chimneys all alike. That is what you feel all over England—a drab acceptance of the commonplace; and yet, when all is said and done, it works out into something so charming in its commonplaceness that it is almost irresistible.

SILVER SUGAR HOLDERS.

Christian Science Monitor: Silver holders are made for sugar for the oblong lumps. The holder, in the shape of a trough, accommodates a single row of lumps and is an improvement over the deep sugar bowl, says the Pittsburgh Sun. Sometimes sugar tongs and fingers become hopelessly confused in the dark interior of the bowl. Some of the sugar holders have small trays on one side, which hold cream jugs, nicely balanced and easy to pass.

A CHARMING LITTLE HOUSE

FIRST FLOOR. UPPER FLOOR.

THE small house of all houses calls for the most careful and painstaking designing—that is the small house that one would pause to look at with real pleasure, the charming, homey, little house. After a house goes over $5,000 it is a different problem and "things" can be done with it—money put in here and there to get some effect; but not so in the small house; everything must be done in the most economical and straightforward manner. It must be a simple, clean cut, livable house, good to look at, built to stay and save repair bills. Most folks content themselves by building an ordinary commonplace, uninteresting little box, just like somebody else's house, when with some good advice and help, without spending much more money, they might build a "home" in the truest sense of the word, a homey individual house expressive of themselves and actually built to their wants and needs.

The above sketch is of a simple, economical little house for a small family which would cost about $2,500 to build in Duluth.

WILL TEST NEW LAW

Nuisance Abatement Case Likely to Go to Supreme Court.

Two Juries Will Likely Pass on the Same Facts.

Not until the guilt or innocence of Mary Le Flohic, alias Madam Gain, charged with being the keeper of a house of ill-fame at the Clifton hotel on July 5 last, has been established in a criminal action, will Judge Bert Fesler dispose of a motion for a jury trial in the nuisance abatement proceedings which have been started against the Clifton hotel.

The court so intimated this morning when it announced that the motion of the defendants, Mary Le Flohic, August Le Flohic and the Alecsi Real Estate company for an order settling certain issues of fact to be tried by a jury, would not be determined until after the trial of the criminal action.

Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, stated this morning that in all probability the criminal case against Madam Gain would be reached in about a week or ten days. B. M. Goldberg, her attorney, will be out of the city for a week and the case will be taken up and disposed of soon after he returns.

Main Issue Same.

The main issue in both cases, the criminal action and the abatement suit, is the same. There is a distinction, however, as to the degree of proof required by the juries which would try the two actions, if the abatement suit gets a jury trial. In the criminal action, in order to reach a conviction, the jury would have to find Madam Gain guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. In the civil action, the burden of proof upon the state to establish the same fact would be considerably lighter, in view of the fact that the jury could reach a conclusion upon a fair preponderance of the evidence, the rule which applies in all civil actions.

The nuisance abatement act is defined in the law itself as an action in equity and one which might be properly tried before the court without a jury.

Attorney Goldberg gave notice this morning that when the proper time came, he would attack the constitutionality of the law and that a fight would be made on this point. In this event, the case will in all probability be carried to the supreme court, regardless of the decision of the lower court.

The nuisance abatement act against the Clifton is the second case of its kind to be brought under the new Minnesota law. The first was also brought in this county and is still pending. It is an action against a house at 233 St. Croix alley, of which Belle Stanley of Detroit, Mich., is the owner and in which Maud Grant is claimed to have conducted a house of ill-fame.

The Grant woman was arrested in a raid on this house on June 11 last and is now under indictment by the September grand jury. It is expected that her case will be called for trial Monday. John H. Norton, former county attorney, will defend the woman, and Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, will direct the prosecution.

THE CASE OF EYTINGE

By Peter Clark MacFarlane in Collier's.

Pronounce it et-tinge.

Why does Collier's go to the Arizona state prison and select a man who is serving a life sentence for murder and present him as an everyday American?

That is a perfectly proper question, and this article is unjustifiable if it fails to disclose a satisfactory answer.

The first impression Louis Victor Eytinge made upon the outside world was by his letters. Those letters have no whine in them. They contain no mouthings of bitterness; but, on the contrary, breathe optimism and—strangest of all—contentment; but, of course, contentment with hope.

They may be business letters, in which event they are crisp and pulling. They may be letters of friendship, in which event they will sparkle with brains and humor, as well as beat with a pulse that is warm and human. These friendship letters, and even the business ones, have a mysterious power to kindle affection for the man behind the typewriter; so that over the country today grows a little circle of men and women, lecturers, writers, advertising experts, wholesale merchants and business idealists generally, who, though they have never seen the man, are proud to call the life termer friend, and speak of him with respect and affection.

Some of the great publishers and manufacturers of America have solicited the assistance of Mr. Eytinge in preparing series of form letters, to be used by them in selling direct through the mails. Recently Letters, a Chicago trade journal, devoted nearly an issue to a consideration of some series of letters prepared by this convict, and concluded by saying:

"A study of Eytinge's style—of his reasoning—will pay any man. Every letter rings with his personality—each is direct, convincing, and no opportunity has gotten by where he could show a greater interest, render greater service, cement and double-rivet the tie that binds—true friendship."

But Eytinge's letters have not only power to persuade to business ends. By the power of a letter he whipped a man in an Eastern state, whom he had never seen, out of drunkenness into sobriety; after which more letters got this reconstructed drunkard into the employ of another correspondence friend in a position that promises to be worth more than $10,000 a year.

Naturally people ask: What kind of a prisoner is it who can write such letters? And: What kind of a prison is it where they allow a convict to throw his mind over the walls to the far borders of the continent?

Guilty or Not Guilty?

Answering the former question first, this prisoner, though still young, has a long record that is deliberately skillfully and viciously criminal—a career in which there is little to excite sympathy and less on which to ground a hope.

And yet, bad as Louis Eytinge has been, it is permitted at the very outset to relieve the feelings of the reader by saying that there is a serious doubt in the minds of many as to whether he ever took the life of a fellow-being.

He went to drive upon the desert outside of Phoenix with a sick man whom he had befriended and who had trusted him. He came back alone. The companion was found dead, his pockets rifled, and an empty chloroform can in the bushes near at hand. Eytinge, with a trail of forged checks behind him and the scene of death, was arrested 1,000 miles away with some of the dead man's property in his possession. That, in brief, was the circumstantial case upon which a conviction was secured. It may appear conclusive. But to many it is not. There exists a doubt. Judge A. C. Baker of Phoenix, who defended Eytinge, became so exercised by this doubt that he paid the expenses of an appeal out of his own pocket. William A. Pinkerton, the detective, is quoted as saying it was improbable that Eytinge was guilty of murder, as his criminal bent did not gallop in that direction.

At the trial it was urged that the corpus delicti was not sufficiently proved. Dead, the sick barber was, no doubt of that; but there was no proof that he was not dead of tuberculosis, or asthma, or a weak heart, from all three of which he suffered.

And so the doubt—which in some quarters grows to a positive belief in his innocence.

Yuma prison was one of the worst located in America. It squatted on a low bluff a few feet above the yellow, writhing waves of the wicked Colorado. The summer temperatures were unbelievably torrid. The cells opened on the river. Hordes of mosquitoes came in and stung the occupants. Eytinge must have mosquito nets or endure a double torture in the hacking months that remained to him. His relatives had cast him off entirely. By a roundabout appeal they were induced to send him $10, but that was all. With this he got netting and milk and eggs for a few days. But he was a very sick man; he weighed less than 110 pounds; primarily his stomach rejected all food, yet by eating two meals in succession he could generally retain the second; but the food itself must be of the most delicate, and the prison diet did not include that sort.

The Dawn of Hope.

But the instinct of life was strong in Louis Eytinge. Though his days must be spent in an adobe prison in one of the most impossible spots in America, nevertheless he wanted to live. He was but 28 years old—too young—too wicked to die. But without fit food, no life; and without money, no fit food; and how to get the money? That was the question. There was no chance to forge a check in prison. But there were ways of earning money in prison.

Eytinge saw prisoners braiding hatbands and belts of horsehair, and ornamenting them crudely with silver rosettes hammered from Mexican dollars, all to be sold through the bars to chance visitors from trains that were sometimes delayed at the railroad station. That afforded an idea, but Eytinge was in the chronic ward, with no chance to see visitors or to sell; yet necessity was laid heavily upon him. From the advertising pages of some journal he cut the names of two Western curio dealers, and wrote them letters, offering to furnish horsehair souvenirs to be sold to tourists. The dealers responded. Eytinge put his friends to working, making hatbands and belts; he learned to make them himself, to twist the hair, to braid it, to hammer the silver, to chase and model it—to do all the mechanical work. Business began to grow and money to be made. There were nineteen men in the chronic ward and Eytinge kept them busy. With the proceeds the men bought themselves comforts. Eytinge got his milk and eggs, and, instead of dying in six months, was alive at the end of a year and gaining in weight.

Then a sudden blow threatened the life of the infant industry. The prison authorities concluded that some of the letter-writing salesmen were overdoing the matter and loading up their appeals with a quantity of "sob stuff" that amounted to faking. With a bang the iron hand came down. This all but wiped Eytinge off the map. He staggered for a bit, but instead of going under, reorganized his business. From dealing with forty retailers per week, he undertook to do business with two wholesalers in each seven days.

And thereby he learned the value of a letter. When a man can write two letters a week, those letters become exceedingly important. They must hit the mark; they must be aimed true; must contain no wasted words, and none that are worse than wasted, as sometimes words are. More than that, they must be letters of compelling power. It may be doubtful if in the history of business any man ever framed selling letters under such compulsion as Louis Victor Eytinge in those days. It was life or death for him. Behind him the little group of nineteen men in the chronic ward, weaving their horsehair belts and hatbands, hammering their trinkets of silver, getting for them a few pesos a month, to spend for small comforts or to send home to families who could live a week upon a dollar—before him the wide, wide, consuming world and his line of communication, two white wings a week. Small wonder that Eytinge weighed the value of his words, that he studied the psychology of selling, that he sent out letters that for pulling power are the marvel of the business world. Moreover, while learning how to write a selling letter that had power in it, Eytinge made the, to him, startling discovery that truth is the fundamental element of power in the formulation of the selling apeal; that a letter with an obvious misstatement or an apparent exaggeration wounded itself, fluttered into the waste basket and died.

He had to write the simple truth about his goods in order to sell them, and discovered, too, that when he undertook to write nothing but the truth he could do it with a force he had never felt before.

All his life he had been doing crooked things because it seemed more effective to fabricate a lie than to hew out the truth. Now he made this striking discovery that truth was power. Not only was that a great big lesson in salesmanship, but all unconsciously it became a great big lesson in character. Louis the Crooked began to be Louis the Straight, for the sake of power.

About this time also personal influences began to affect No. 2608 favorably. Arizona had taken thought to itself and moved the prison from torrid Yuma, far up the Gila valley, to Florence—hot enough, the thermometer tells me on this July day, when it is 106 in the shade as I write—but not unhealthful. Here Eytinge, weighing 190 pounds and looking the picture of health, heard the physician pronounce him cured of tuberculosis.

In the prison at this time was a parole clerk with a great enthusiasm for his work. He had Eytinge taken from the chronic ward and assigned to duty with him. He called Eytinge friend, put his hand upon his shoulder, made him partner of his own enthusiasm for the paroled prisoners who were trying to make good. This gave Eytinge a new zest for life, and took some of the cynicism out of him, so that it began to seem a long time since he had regarded an honest man as a dub. In fact, he began to have respect for honesty.

Along in February, 1912, came the inauguration of Arizona's first statehood governor, George W. P. Hunt, and with it a complete change in prison policy.

Owes Much to Dreier.

And then, most important, of all came Thomas Dreier, editor of "Associated Advertising" and "Character," riding into the life of Eytinge behind the flap of an envelope. Young man as he is, Dreier is a sort of priest of the Melchizedekian order in that esoteric group of writers of advertising philosophy who try to put soul and a spiritual ideal into the body of the ink-and-paper salesman.

Today, when Eytinge sits down and casts up his debts to the world, he finds himself owing most to Dreier.

"Dreier," he says, "made me look up to the law of service—he taught me to give the best that was in me at all times—and it would bring the best from others."

Strange words, are they not, to fall from the lips of a life termer? And yet they do not sound like cant. Eytinge spoke them soberly, reflectively, almost gropingly, as he was trying to explain his debt to Dreier. Here are some more which I quote from a letter of his:

"I believe that he who loves must climb, not so much for himself, but for the sake of those others on whose bent back he stood."

But a new spirit comes stealing into our prison management and a new attitude into the public mind, and both overlook this sealed-up soul. In few prisons outside of America, and indeed in but few here, and in those but recently, could a life termer have enjoyed the privileges which ard redeeming Eytinge. And where but in America would business and professional men have responded to uninvited letters from an unknown lifer with that ready sympathy and frank brotherliness which have reacted so remarkably upon the character of the man?

As a matter of fact, the whole setting of the drama is typically and modernly American. Arizona, with her twin, is the newest of our states. Her benignant governor, thirty years ago a waiter in a restaurant in a mining camp, a storekeeper almost to the day of his inauguration, is essentially a type of our times and country. The prisoner himself, rolled in the dust, scarred, stung, but unbeaten, making his prison bars rattle with defiance to the fates, and sitting down to write: "How far I'll climb is not for me to say—but—if aim and intent count for anything—and confidence, too—then I'll not limit myself," breathes the dauntless American spirit.

Nor is he just one man alone. Rather he is one of a class, and with this class America begins to find a better way.

A METHUSALEH OF THE SEA.

Harper's Weekly: There was broken up lately at Teneriffe, the Canary islands, what was undoubtedly the oldest ship in the world. It was the Italian ship Anital, built in Genoa in 1548, and almost an exact duplicate of the Santa Maria, the famous galleon in which Columbus made his voyage of discovery. The Anita was built for strength rather than for grace or speed. She was broad beamed and clumsy, but she had weathered hurricanes and typhoons in all parts of the seas and escaped unharmed from the perils of the deep, from Cape Horn to Hudson bay. She had a world's record as the slowest ship afloat, averaging 205 days between Baltimore, Md., and Rio de Janeiro. As her lack of speed was losing money for her owner, and as she seemed destined to defy the elements and enrich Lloyds indefinitely as long as she remained afloat, it was decided to sell her for what she would bring piecemeal, and employ the proceeds in the construction of a new vessel.

TAIL-WAGGING MUSCLES.

New York Medical Record: The wearing of tails is no longer considered fashionable, but that we did once have tails and are prepared to grow them again should the fashion change is shown by remains in our pelvis of tail-wagging muscles, now rudimentary and degenerative from lack of use. Wiederscheim calls attention to the remains of arteries and veins which formerly nourished the tail. Gould and Pyle's "Anomalies and Curiosities of Medicine" gives a picture of a child born with a tail. These modern tails, however, are too short for any use, unless it is to make the father stop drinking.

SHOULD PAY FOR ALLEYS

City Should Be Reimbursed for Vacating Property Says Mayor.

Two Applications to Have Alleys Closed Now Being Considered.

That individuals, companies or corporations benefiting by the vacation of streets and alleys should pay a fair price for the property thus acquired, is the belief of Mayor Prince.

For years the municipality has been releasing streets and alleys and getting nothing in return. The mayor's opinion is that they should pay for the ground thus secured at the going market price of the abutting property.

The local executive states that the adoption of that policy would be only businesslike and he thinks that those who seek vacations will recognize the justice of the city's right to compensation.

Mayor Prince brought up the subject following the return of the commission this morning from a trip to view two vacations for which applications have been made. One is the vacation of Sixty-fourth avenue west and Sixty-fourth alley between Grand avenue and the Northern Pacific right-of-way. A new flax mill is to be erected at that location. The other is the alley between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-fourth avenue east between Second and Third streets, in which block several handsome new residences are to be built. The mayor added that no vacations will be allowed until the proposition has been carefully examined and the ground viewed by the officials.

On the same trip the commission looked over the eastern end of Lake Shore park, which it is proposed to deed to the state as a site for the new armory. The general opinion was that the erection of the armory would in no way interfere with the park and the site will be forthcoming if the city secures the consent of the Northern Pacific. The railroad donated the ground to the city for park purposes.

Sues for Commission.

J. T. Moriarty started suit in district court this morning to recover $400 from Louis Wokoun, as commission for the sale of 200 acres of land in 59-14 last March. Moriarty claims that the agreement was that he was to receive a commission of $2 an acre if he found a purchaser for the land. The plaintiff claims that he found a purchaser for the land and that the deal would have gone through had not Wokoun withheld from him and from the prospective purchaser, Peter Wring, the fact that there was a mineral reservation in the deed. As it was the purchaser refused to accept the deed to the property with the mineral rights reserved.

Duluth Methods Win.

A clipping relating to Y. M. C. A. work in South Africa has been received in Duluth and has special interest here on account of its connection with the work of E. D. Ranck, secretary of the association in Johannesburg, who was formerly assistant secretary here. The clipping is from the Johannesburg Transvaal, and tells of the wind-up of a campaign for new members. The clipping stated that the membership of the association there now was 1,450, 860 having been added in six days.

Wife Seeks Divorce.

Frances Emma Brown Emmans started divorce proceedings in district court this morning against Charles Emmans, to whom she was married at Austin, Minn., on May 7, 1903, and with whom she lived until July 10, 1909. She charges desertion and asks that the court give her a divorce and alimony and allow her to resume her maiden name, that of Frances Emma Pearce. She is 41 years old and he is 39.

Drove Wife and Child Out.

The police were informed by telephone last evening that Odin Sand had driven his wife and child from their home, 822 East Eighth street. When officers arrived they found the wife and child on the street and Sand in bed. He was arrested by Patrolman Youngberg on a charge of disorderly conduct. In police court today he was placed on parole with orders to report once a week to the probation officer.

Mike Flavin Released.

Mike Flavin, the bellhop who was arrested several days ago as a fugitive from justice on the ground that he was wanted in Chicago for the theft of some jewelry, two razors and a suit case from the Lake Shore Country club, has been released. Flavin declares that there was absolutely no truth in the charges against him. He states that his arrest resulted in the loss of his job at the Holland, where he had secured work but a few hours before being taken into custody, and that it operates against him in getting other jobs.

Sold Cigarettes to Minor.

Aate Suhonen, a Lake avenue confectioner, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of selling cigarettes to minors, following complaints made to Patrolman John Link. When arraigned in police court he pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $15 and costs. This is the first arrest since the passage of the new ordinance regulating the sale and disposal of cigarettes and "the makin's" in Duluth. The ordinance is practically the same as the state law passed at the last session of the legislature.

Arrested on Street Car.

Paul Kulmala, 21 years old, and Oscar Heino, 23 years of age, were arrested last evening by Patrolman Westerlund on complaint of the conductor of a Duluth-Superior street car, who said they had refused to pay their fares. They had about $35 between them when brought into the station. In police court this morning they entered pleas of not guilty and their trials were set for Monday morning. Bail in each case was fixed at $10.

THWART CLEVER PLAN TO ESCAPE FROM ASYLUM

Officials of the St. Peter hospital for the criminal insane believe that they have thwarted a clever attempt on the part of Joseph F. G. Arnold, known as "Doc" Arnold and a string of other aliases, to escape from the institution. Arnold was committed by Judge Dancer of the district court to St. Peter after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny in the second degree. The court held that the prisoner was insane and did not sentence him under the usual statute.

Arnold recently received a candy-box in the mails which officials found to have a false bottom. The candy was found to contain morphine and it was also discovered that the box had a false bottom in which were concealed three fine tooth saws, capable of cutting the bars behind which he was confined.

The postoffice authorities are investigating and an attempt is being made to find out who sent the box to Arnold. It was mailed from Duluth.

FALL EQUINOX IS DUE SUNDAY

Tomorrow is the date on which the sun is supposed to pass the equator on its way south. It is the fall equinox when the day and the night are supposed to be of equal length. As a matter of fact there will be twelve hours and fourteen minutes of sunlight in Duluth, and not for five days longer will the duration of sunlight be just twelve hours.

The days will continue to shorten and the nights grow longer until Dec. 21. The fall equinox is generally accompanied by storms, and in this respect it lived up to its reputation this year, with a brisk gale.

BRITISH STRIKE IS PRACTICALLY OVER

Basis of an Agreement Is Reached on Transport Lines.

London, Sept. 20.—The strike of the railroad men in the British Isles practically was brought to an end today when officials of the companies reached an agreement with the representatives of the men's unions on the basis of the reinstatement of all strikers who agree to handle all the traffic which the railroads are bound to carry under the law.

Indications also point to a settlement of the motor omnibus trouble on Monday.

DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Robert Francis Dillon, 31 years old, former telegraph operator at the Board of Trade building, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his father, Thomas Dillon, 121 East Fifth street, following a long illness from tuberculosis.

The deceased was very well known in Duluth, having at one time sold newspapers, later carrying a Herald route and finally becoming a telegraph operator on the board of trade. He studied evenings, while he sold papers during the day. He was attacked by the disease several years ago, finally succumbing to it yesterday.

Mr. Dillon is survived by a widow and three children, besides his parents. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from the cathedral, with interment at Calvary.

TEA.

Indianapolis News: Tea was introduced into England about the middle of the seventeenth century, when it was a great luxury and fetched from $30 to $50 a pound. Up to about 1885 the greater portion of the tea imported into England came from China; the bulk is now obtained from India and Ceylon, although China tea of good quality is again working its way into favor.

SEEK CLUES TO MURDERS

New York Police Think Schmidt May Have Other Victims.

He Says Aumuller Girl Is Only One He Killed.

New York, Sept. 20.—All the death certificates filed since the first of the year, 15,000 in number, were examined today to ascertain whether they included any papers forged by "Father" Hans Schmidt to conceal the murder of other persons beside Anna Aumuller.

Schmidt has confessed that he prepared these blank certificates for the purpose of accounting for the death of persons hopelessly sick or crippled whom he meant to kill painlessly for their own good. He denied, however, that he had put his plan into effect or that he had any victims besides the girl.

Had Weapons Alike.

Revolvers found in the quarters of Schmidt and of Ernest A. Muret, his dentist friend, gave the detectives today additional reason to believe that the association between them was closer than they have admitted. The weapons are alike in nearly every detail and made at the same factory in Germany. The ammunition with which they were loaded is the same make.

Muret says he bought his pistol eight years ago in Germany. The police believe that Schmidt got his revolver at the same place and at about the same time.

"What's the difference if I killed one or half a dozen?" asked Schmidt at the first opportunity the newspaper men had been given to talk with the prisoner. In the interview the priest made a number of startling statements.

Eager to Be Executed.

"Why don't you be quick and put me in the electric chair?" he demanded. "The district attorney wants me to go to the electric chair and I want to go, and what's the use of all this delay? I am sorry for anyone who thinks this life is worth living. I have faced death many a time and I will face death in the electric chair without moving a muscle."

Schmidt was asked about the murder of Alma Kellner in Louisville.

"I could convince the Louisville authorities that I murdered that little girl," he asserted, "but that would be false and laughable."

Muret Identified.

Hamburg, Sept. 20.—The police here today identified as Arthur Hoibing the man now detained in New York as "Dr. Ernst A. Muret," and under suspicion of being concerned with the confessed murderer, Father Johannes Schmidt, in his counterfeiting operations.

ON COOKING VEGETABLES

From Good Housekeeping Magazine: Never oversalt any vegetable—this is the first commandment for cooking of vegetables. Too much salt not only toughens the fibers and masks delicate flavors, but helps to extract the valuable mineral contents.

The second commandment is even more important—boil most vegetables in as little water as is safe. The exceptions to this are the cabbage tribe, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts and kale. These need to swim freely, to be put on in cold water, salted so as barely to taste, then to be brought quickly to a bubbling boil, well skimmed, and cooked uncovered until tender. Covering the pot condenses the strong smelling essential oil, along with the steam to be presently re-vaporized by the heat of the lid, and then spread through the house.

Sort vegetables. This, the third commandment, may prove troublesome, but is worth observing. For instance, green peas, full grown, need to be cooked twice as long as those that are tender and watery sweet. If compelled to cook both grades at once, shake the peas, after washing, in a sieve or colander, and add what goes through to the boiling pot after it has been cooking half an hour. This same precaution is advisable for string beans—they can be sorted in the stringing and snapping which should be very carefully done. So with summer squash, okra, lima beans—indeed, the whole list of vegetables. Very tender ones will be but watery rags, if cooked as long as is requisite for those fully matured. Cook potatoes of even size, not small and large ones together, even if they are to be mashed. Every manner of vegetable has its point of perfection; over and undercooking are equally unwise.

Freshen vegetables before preparing them. If they are too wilted to revive after an hour in clean cold water, they are hardly worth time, fire and seasoning. Especially greens. If they revive partially, in picking over be sure to cut away the withered tips. But do not let things stand too long in water—if they are to be kept overnight, remove from the water, shake lightly and lay in a cool place. Vegetable fiber, particularly after it has begun to wilt a little, begins to ferment and decay after twelve hours in water.

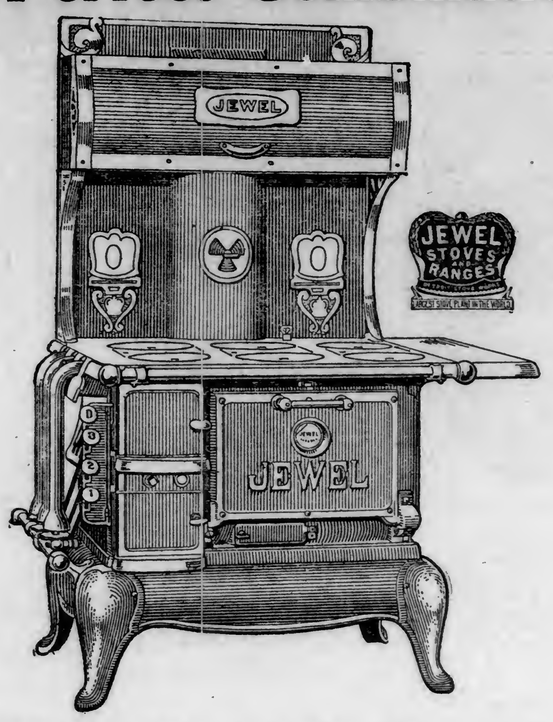

Wash vegetables very clean before beginning to pare, or shell, or snap them. A pared surface holds dirt and taints imperceptible to either eyes or nose.

French cooks blanch all vegetables before cooking. That is to say, they pour boiling water upon them, let stand a minute, then pour it off and cover with very cold water. This improves their flavor and makes cleanliness more certain—the blanching often removes taints which have defied washing. Another fine point is in cutting vegetables, as for soups, sauces, garnishes, to make the pieces as nearly as possible equal in size. Not only do the even bits cook more equally, but the flavor is distributed better.

Tender vegetables are always better cooked inside the oven. Put in pans with a little water and a suspicion of salt, either cover the pans or set one on another, placing the thing requiring most heat at the bottom. Put boiling water in the pans if in haste; otherwise have the water cold and the oven very hot. After the water is hot, heat can be slacked at least half. Rapid boiling toughens vegetables and makes them to a degree tasteless. Simmering, contrariwise, makes for tenderness and flavor.

Mayoralty Candidates at Duluth Industrial High School.

The school election campaign for the choosing of a mayor and commissioners to run the affairs at the Duluth Industrial high school will be at fever heat on Monday. A mass meeting of the students will be held in the assembly hall of the Irving school on Monday morning between 9 and 10:15 o'clock at which the merits of the various candidates will be discussed.

Sixteen scholars have entered the race for the eight commissioners' offices. The mayoralty field is still being contested by only two, John Davis and John Nettleton. The candidates for commissioners are equally divided between the boys and girls, eight of each having entered the race.

These candidates are: Bessie McKinnon, Daisy Wallace, Roy McAdams, Ethel Little, Minnie Brown, Marscela Harold, Marie Hancy, Beatrice Williams, Russell Kilton, Rolland Clark, Page Cashin, Otto Olafson, Otto Blais, Roy Winness, Minnie Anderson and Chester Dunston.

The election will take place on Tuesday morning between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock. Every high school student will be eligible to cast his or her vote, equal suffrage being a recognized factor in the school.

The election will be carried out in a similar manner as that of a regular city election. First, second and third choice votes will be counted unless there are enough first choice votes to decide the election.

The officers to be elected will be in power until in February, when a new set will be chosen.

MUCH INTEREST IN FOOTBALL

School and Class Teams Organized at Industrial High School.

Preparations are being made by the students of the Duluth Industrial High school to have a strong football team in the field this fall. At a meeting of the classes held yesterday afternoon Louis White was chosen captain and Clifford Little, student manager. Henry Sullivan was elected faculty manager.

The various classes also elected their captains and managers for the class teams. Louis White was chosen captain and manager for the senior team; John Nettleton, captain and manager for the juniors; Stanley Allen, captain and manager for the sophomore class and Roy Winness, captain and manager for the freshmen.

The first game of the fall will be played next Friday afternoon for the school supremacy between the junior and senior class teams.

On Saturday it is planned to have a game between the freshmen and sophomores. The winners will play a final deciding game for the championship of the school.

Class officers were also elected yesterday by the senior and junior classes. The senior officers are John Davis, president; Ida Fieldman, vice president; Harry Randall, treasurer and Beatrice Williams, secretary. The junior officers are James Donald, president; Marion McLyman, vice president; Russell Kilton, secretary and Frank Wade, treasurer.

FALL OPENING

The United Style Shows of All the Duluth Stores Will Occur Next Week

From reports on which we can depend, we are safe in saying that no city in the land will have a more representative showing of the season's styles.

Our own Fall Opening will be an event of interest and profit to all women who want to keep pace with fashion.

Every department in our store will contribute its share of timely merchandise.

We particularly call attention to our opening displays of

HATS	FURS	COATS
SILKS	RIBBONS	SUITS
COSTUMES	CORSETS	NECKWEAR
SUITINGS	GOWNS	BLOUSES
GLOVES	LACES	COATINGS

This will be an event of more than local interest. Every woman priding herself on being well dressed within coming to this store should arrange to attend.

Here are gathered the merchandise, the style ideas and style creations of every country sharing in fashion-making.

A conspicuous place is given to an adequate showing of the new Fall and Winter models in Wooltex coats and suits for winter in models showing the influence of Paris, the fashion center of the world, which is in striking evidence.

If you wear one of Gray's modish hats, coats, suits or gowns, you become at once a leader in setting the fashion in this section.

Ask for your free copy of the Styles Coming In.

In addition to the opening displays of merchandise—we invite you to see on our third floor

A $15,000 Working Model of the Panama Canal which we have secured for a week from the White City in Chicago. A man, who has been two years on the job in Panama, will explain its workings. No charge is made to see this great attraction.

Mme. Savarie

It is with rare pleasure that we announce a lecture by the great fashion authority, illustrated by styles worn by Five Living Models, at the Lyceum theater, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 7th. Reserved seats may be had on application at our Suit Department—Second floor.

ELECTRO-TOX-ABSORB CURE FOR MEN AND WOMEN

New Treatments Are Offered by the Electro Medical Doctors. Many Sick Are Getting Well!

OUR TREATMENTS are superior to those of all other schools. Electricity is recognized as the greatest power humanity has been benefited by. When we introduce our remedies into the diseased parts of the body, the poisons are destroyed, because of the establishment of better circulation. The Electrons, produced by Electricity of our scientific machines, are finer than molecules and are so powerful in penetration of diseased organs, that often with a few treatments a patient feels as if he is entirely cured. If you are sick, try it for yourself and you soon find out that this Natural Method has beat everything else.

FEMALE TROUBLES are among the hardest to cure, but when you put your case in our hands, you will find how quickly you will improve. If there is no red blood circulating in your cheeks, and you feel tired, exhausted, rundown, give up taking dope. Come and try Nature's Method and you will find how quickly you will be relieved.

RHEUMATIC TROUBLES, like pain in the back, Lumbago, Sciatica and deformed Rheumatism are among the easiest to heal. There is no one in the world who can claim to have any specific for these troubles, however, we have experienced that our method relieves the sufferer quicker than anything else. People with stiff joints and those with aches and pains have found permanent relief in our office.

CANCER'S MORTALITY is constantly increasing and scientists of nearly all countries have spent years in research work. We are far from claiming to have any specific for cancer, however, we know that our method has given us better success than any other method. While few people ever get well of cancer, we have experienced that some got well under our treatment.

NERVOUS DEBILITY Men and women! Many of you are failing. Your hands are cold and clammy, dark circles about your eyes; your sleep does not rest you; you get up feeling tired; you have catarrh foul breath; palpitation of the heart, trembling, unaccountable, uncontrollable fear, cold feet, cowardice; blurred eyesight, dizziness, and many other almost unbearable symptoms. Dear readers, this must be stopped. Don't wait another day. Come to us. If we can we will cure you. If you are skeptic, come and we will give you a free treatment.

WE CURE Blood poison and skin diseases, Eczema and paralysis. Our system of treatments cures quickly. Bladder Trouble and Urinary diseases, strictures and all chronic diseases of men and women.

Patients are never subjected to pain, neither during examination nor during treatment. There are separate waiting and treating rooms for men and women. Everything strictly confidential. Consultation free. Hours, 9 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 1.

Fall style week in Duluth will monopolize the attention of Duluth matrons and maids next week. The shops have opened vast stores of exquisite models in the latest fall styles and the displays will be a feast of beauty and interest which will draw the attention of the masculine population as well as the feminine during the week. Moving picture displays of fall fashions; parades of living models gowned, suited, hatted and cloaked in the latest style creations, and wonderful window displays will be features of the show, the merchants having outdone themselves in their efforts to give Duluthians the best the market affords, and social affairs have been practically suspended for the week, giving place to shopping tours. Many are planning little tea parties at the tea rooms and hotels after an afternoon's shopping and sight-seeing instead of the bridge parties and luncheons.

Club work has taken the prominent place in the feminine world during the past week and Duluth women are busy with fall programs and arranging details for the opening meetings for the season. During the past week the needlework guild held its preliminary meeting for the discussion of plans for the annual fall round up, at the home of the president, Mrs. A. W. Hartman, when it was decided to hold the round up for the first week of November. A meeting will be held next week for the district presidents, who in turn will meet with their district directors.

The Duluth branch of the Drama league met with Mrs. F. A. Patrick Tuesday afternoon and discussed the lecture course and lecture class, to be features of this year's work. The first lecture of the year will be given by Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin on Oct. 1, the same date selected for the opening afternoon reception of the Twentieth Century club, which will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Spalding hotel.

The Saturday club will open its work next Saturday afternoon with a business session at the library club room, and other clubs will have their first meetings of the year the first week in October.

Music lovers are interested in the opening of the Matinee Musicale, with president's day planned for Oct. 6, and in the membership campaign of the Apollo club, which will close next Tuesday, when those in charge hope to have secured 200 associate members to stand as a backing for the club in its growth and musical work.

Social affairs at the Country club are retaining their popularity and many are planning motor trips for short and long distances for the next few weeks.

OPENING PROGRAM OF MATINEE MUSICALE WILL BE HELD OCT. 6

MISS RUTH ALTA ROGERS.

MRS. J. A. STEPHENSON.

GREAT enthusiasm is felt by Matinee Musicale members this year over the "President's Day" program, Oct. 6, to which each member is allowed the privilege of taking a guest, and which is to be held in the auditorium of the new Masonic temple, corner of Lake avenue and Second street. At this time Mrs. John A. Stephenson, the new president of the society, will open the formalities of the year with greetings to club members and an informal talk of plans for the coming season.

On this program, the appearance of Carlo Fischer, cellist, has been promised as an attraction. Mr. Fischer is an artist of reputation, and has been successively solo cellist of the Cincinnati and Minneapolis Symphony orchestras. During engagements of the latter organization in Duluth, local audiences have enjoyed Mr. Fischer's playing, and music-lovers here will be the more prepared to give him cordial welcome.

A Rachmaninoff sonata for cello and piano, to be played by Miss Ruth Rogers and Mr. Fischer, will be one of the features of the afternoon. This composer, typical of the modern Russian school, is known for the daring and originality of his style, and this composition for its brilliant and colorful character. A group of songs to be announced later will be sung by Mary Syer Bradshaw and will add variety to the program.

Since no tickets will be sold at the door on regular program days this year, another opportunity to purchase tickets will be given the week after the opening at a central location, the time and place of which sale will be announced later. Those finding it more convenient to send check to Miss Bernice Crowley, 606 West Second street, may do so.

APOLLO CLUB WANTS 200 MEN AND WOMEN TO STAND BEHIND PLAN FOR DEVELOPMENT OF GOOD MUSIC IN DULUTH

O. E. AMTSBUECHLER,
President.

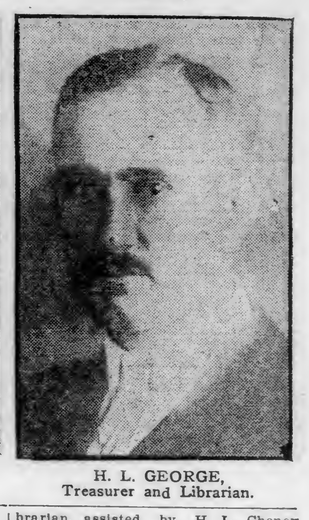

H. L. CHENEY,
Chairman Membership Committee.

S. C. COWARD,
Secretary.

C. R. CARMAN,
Vice President.

H. L. GEORGE,
Treasurer and Librarian.

TO GIVE a substantial backing and support to the Apollo club for the year's work, the forty men who are members of the club have been engaged in a two weeks' campaign for associate members, which will end next Tuesday.

The members want to secure 200 men and women who are interested in the musical events of the year and the development of good music here to stand back of them and insure the success of their work for the year. Last Tuesday, when the members reported on the first week's work, more than half of the 200 had been signed on the club rolls and many more members have been secured since that day.

The Apollo club is composed of forty men, with George H. Madison as musical director, and two big concerts are planned for the year, one to be given about the first of November, when a program of old, favorite songs, especially arranged for men's voices, will be given in duet, quartet, sextet and chorus work. The club meets every Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for practice with Mr. Madison, and next spring a more pretentious program will be given, probably at the Lyceum theater, by the club.

The plan is, as the club grows in strength, if given sufficient backing by those interested in the musical growth of Duluth, to bring the best artists in the country here as soloists at the club concerts.

Starting this year with the reputation of having given a most successful concert last spring at the initial appearance of the singers under Mr. Madison's direction, the two concerts planned for this year promise to be musical treats.

The associate membership of the club entitles the holder to six tickets for the two concerts for the $5 membership dues.

The officers of the club, O. E. Amtsbuechler, president; C. R. Carman, vice president; S. C. Coward, secretary, and H. L. George, treasurer and librarian, assisted by H. L. Cheney, chairman of the membership committee, have been at the head of the campaign, and all members have been earnestly at work securing members.

CUBIST PORTRAIT OF THE PRESIDENT MADE BY ARTIST VISITING IN DULUTH

ROBERT E. MacCOURT.

Robert E. MacCourt, the artist of St. Paul who has been in Duluth this summer sketching and collecting notebook material for commercial art work which he will do during the winter, has done some of the cubists' work for commercial purposes and was considered quite an adept at the art.

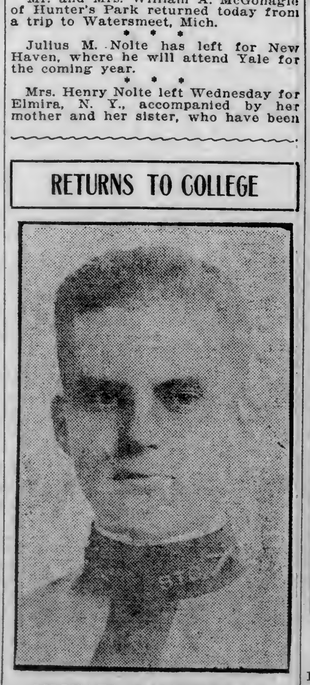

His painting of President Woodrow Wilson, done from a cubist's standpoint, won honorable mention at an exhibit at the Chicago Art institute where he studied last year and the accompanying cut is taken from a photograph of the painting.

Mr. MacCourt is the son of a prominent club woman of St. Paul. She was the organizer of the Housewives' league in St. Paul and was active in securing the Sibley house for the Daughters of the American Revolution as a state memorial.

Fashion Reigns

The fashion of the present day demands that the complexion of the well-groomed woman shall be clear and of snowy whiteness. To possess this necessary requirement invest at once in a bottle of and enjoy the charms that are so admired in a fashionable woman. Gouraud's Oriental Cream is a liquid powder far surpassing the dry powders that have to be applied so frequently to gain the desired effect. It whitens, softens and clears the skin. It is absolutely free from grease, and consequently does not encourage the growth of hair.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream has been in actual use for nearly three-quarters of a century. This is the surest guarantee of its superiority. If you will use it regularly, you will know why it has been popular for so many years. At Druggists and Department Stores.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Married Folk Should Be Courteous to Each Other.

A man expressed much of regret and truth when, in the course of a letter to his wife, he penned these lines: "We are so nice to others that it is too bad we cannot be so to each other."

Hundreds of married men and women are just so. The members of families in the relation of parents and offspring, sisters and brothers, are just so. Outsiders are treated to smiles and praise and gallantry, while the best the home folk receive is growls and sneers and ridicule. How often is a little social gathering spoiled by the manner in which some one of the company treats husband or wife? How often are visitors in a home made ill at ease by rudeness or argument between members of a family?

I have been in company where a wife seemed to glory in making her husband the butt of her criticism and sarcasm. I have also seen men humiliate their wives publicly and evidently relish it, but on the whole I think women must bear the brunt of the odium.

Plenty of husbands are of the snarling variety, but they engage in the pastime privately, while woman seems to have more courage, if not more heart in it, where there is some one by to sort of back her up or at least see that no swift vengeance is taken by her irate spouse.

One should never forget to extend company manners to one's wife or husband or children or relatives when in company. Indeed, if we practised them more assiduously in private, homes would be happier places and the sorry display of domestic infelicity frequently made in public would become of less and less occurrence. There is no one so well worth our attentions, our smiles and praise and all-around appreciation as the individual members of our family. There is no one who will give us better return for courtesy and consideration and kindness than a wife or sister, father, mother, son or daughter. And there is nothing by which we are judged outside more surely and irrevocably than by the treatment of our own.

"We are so nice to others that it is too bad we cannot be so to each other," ought to be taken very much to heart by married couples. They ought to practice the art of being nice whenever they can, both at home and abroad.

We will hold our donation day in November, which last year proved so successful that it was decided to make it an annual affair. Last year the jellies, fruits, pickles and other things donated were given mostly to the anti-tuberculosis sanitarium, but this year there will be a distribution of the donations.

CROOKSTON HOLDS A CORN FESTIVAL

Closing Day of Seed Week Marked By Unusual Interest.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today, the closing day of Seed Corn Week, was practically a corn festival in Crookston and at the Northwestern School of Agriculture here. Notwithstanding the fact that the spring was backward, there is the largest corn acreage in Polk county, and throughout all the Red River Valley counties, ever raised, and it is all ripe and a splendid crop. The fact that all corn has matured, in the face of a late spring, has served to awaken great interest, and the corn acreage will be more than doubled another year. Scores of farmers are building or have built new silos this year, and many of them are already filled.

In following out the proclamation of Governor Eberhart to observe Seed Corn Selection Week, the First National bank of the city, and several land firms co-operated by giving substantial cash prizes for the best half dozen ears of Northwestern Dent, Minnesota 13 and Flint corn. Supt. Selvig of the Crookston School of Agriculture co-operated by sending a general invitation to farmers, teachers and students in the county to spend the day on the state farm, members of the faculty dividing up and taking groups through the cornfields for a seed corn selection demonstration, selecting the seed corn to be used by the state farm next year.

County Supt. of Schools N. A. Thorson had sent invitations to every teacher in Polk county to be present with as many of their students as possible, and there was a big representation. The demonstration at the state farm lasted all day and at noon, free coffee and milk was served, the visitors having brought their lunch.

Thousands of bushels of seed corn have been gathered during the week, sufficient not only for doubling the acreage here next year, but there will be a great deal for shipment to other sections where the crop has not been up to standard.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

STAGELAND

REACTION against inexcusable nastiness in the theater seems to have set in in New York. During the last week two plays which aroused a storm of criticism on account of their pointless parading of vice, have been withdrawn and it is announced that they will be rewritten.

One of the plays, judging from the reviews, had some merit as a drama. The other, apparently, was hurriedly written and rushed to the stage with the idea of taking advantage of the notoriety of its competitor. Both plays exploited the so-called "white slave traffic" and under the guise of reform presented sensational stage pictures that were calculated to appeal to the prurient minded. But they have been withdrawn and a sigh of relief has ascended from the workers for clean theatricals in New York.

• • •

IN this connection the statements of vaudeville performers who come this way are interesting. The men and women who make their living by singing, dancing and fun making for New York audiences are almost unanimous in saying that in the larger vaudeville theaters of the Metropolis the jokes are becoming broader, and suggestiveness more thinly veiled. They complain, when their acts are blue pencilled by local managers, that "it goes in New York." But some of the men in control of vaudeville's destinies are beginning to realize that the limit has been approached. The old time "variety shows" from which vaudeville sprang, had a very limited patronage. The term "refined vaudeville" was originally coined to escape the stigma of the variety show, and it's growth was due to the fact that it was cheap, clean amusement. Those in control are beginning to see that to keep its prestige vaudeville must be kept clean, and there is a tendency to tighten the strings. In future the excuse that "it goes in New York" may not be so common.

• • •

FALL Style Week in Duluth will bring the real opening of the fall dramatic season, with the first "full week" the Lyceum has had since last spring.

At least two of the attractions are of more than passing interest. Henry Miller needs no introduction and his appearance in "The Rainbow" will give Duluthians the first opportunity of seeing him since he achieved eminence on the American stage.

"Everywoman" is a modern adaptation of the old morality plays. The tragic death of its author, Walter Browne, a New York newspaper man, who died on the day his play was produced, will be remembered. Mr. Browne had hawked his play around for months, unable to find a producer, and died when he was on the eve of achieving fame and fortune. Adele Blood, the leading woman, was seen three years ago at the Orpheum in a sketch "The Picture of Dorian Grey." That was practically her first engagement, outside of a stock company, and her rise has been rapid since.

The other two attractions for Fall Style Week are a pleasing little comedy drama that has been seen here before, and Miss Olive Vail, well known here from former engagements, in a new musical comedy. The list certainly offers variety.

• • •

• • •

THE Empress theater management will try an interesting experiment in Duluth next week. Tabloid musical comedies have been popular for a year or more. Next week a tabloid production of "Paid in Full" will be presented at popular prices. If good plays which have lost their novelty and their drawing power at $2 prices can be condensed and presented at the popular scale, it will bring them within the reach of millions of people who would otherwise be barred from seeing them.

• • •

FOLLOWING up this idea of bringing good plays to the people who cannot afford to pay $1.50 and $2 to see them, is the new enterprise of the motion picture producers. Leading American stars are being shown in big productions by means of the motion pictures.

At the new Rex theater last week Mrs. Fiske was seen in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" the terrible, sombre story of Thomas Hardy's. The next best thing to seeing Mrs. Fiske in person on the stage is to see her in motion pictures; and many who have not yet formed the "movie" habit, slipped into the Rex last week to see this picture. It was well worth while.

• • •

THE Duluth branch of the Drama League promises to have a busy and useful winter. Professor Dickinson of the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour will both lecture here during the winter, the former giving a course of four talks. The Drama League proved its value last year, and there is every indication that it will play an even more important part this coming winter.

SCENE FROM "THE COUNTRY BOY," At the Lyceum Sunday.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

The theatrical season is now well under way. From all that can be learned from the reports coming from the most important center of dramatic affairs, one fact stands out most prominently. This fact is that musical comedy and "nasty" play will predominate until further notice. During the week the latter has been especially called to attention again by the action of the New York authorities against the principal persons connected with the production of two particularly offensive plays.

It is difficult to give a valid excuse for the existence of dramas of this type. Managers blame the public, and the latter, on its part, returns the compliment. The fact of the matter is that, probably, as is usually the case, both parties to the controversy must shoulder a part of the responsibility. But this is not to be construed so as to make the offense a willing one on either side. The producer makes his living by furnishing the public with amusement. In order to do so he must give the public what it wants, in other words, he must keep his fingers constantly upon the public's pulse. Sometimes, however, he makes a mistake in counting, as seems to be the case at present.

The public having recently shown a strong—possibly too strong—interest in certain subjects hitherto touched upon only very discreetly, having become accustomed to discuss and hear discussed, things heretofore passed in silence, the producer has drawn from this changed attitude a certain conclusion. But his conclusion was wrong. Whereas, the public, undoubtedly, took its stand for the purpose of the betterment of certain unhealthy conditions, the producer construed this stand as a morbid desire to delve into one of the darkest phases of social conditions. It will only be a question of time, and, it is to be hoped, a short time, for him to realize his mistake. The better theater public, and that means the greater part of the same, does not want the "nasty" play. The sooner certain managers and producers realize this important fact the better it will be for the condition of certain bank accounts, for, while many may be attracted by curiosity at first, that curiosity once satisfied, the reaction is sure to set in. The naturally vicious alone cannot support theaters.

Mr. Erlanger of the well known firm of Klaw & Erlanger has this to say about the matter:

"The public, in the long run, can be relied upon to decide whether or not certain plays are right and proper for public approval—that is, entitled to public patronage and encouragement. Without entering into the question of propriety or morality, and viewing the subject solely as a business man, it seems to me from long experience that, instead of letting the stage drift back to the low level of the days of Nell Gwynne, it is far better to appeal to the public with clean, wholesome plays."

Of course, not all plays dealing with delicate subjects come under the head of the "nasty." Such subjects can be, and have been, handled in an entirely proper and moral manner. There will hardly be found, at the present time, a person of broad and liberal mind who would object to Ibsen because he has touched certain questions. Even Bernard Shaw probably would find favor in the eye of any such person; but, in this case, it would be principally on account of the genius which Shaw brings to his task. His imitators and those who have out-distanced him in the choice of risque subjects have as yet to prove that they have any such qualifications. According to the well known German saying, "two may do the same thing and yet it will not be the same." The trouble with the "nasty" play is not that it handles nasty things, but that it handles them in a nasty way.

Lyceum

"The Country Boy."

In "The Country Boy," which the Henry B. Miller estate will present at the Lyceum tomorrow, matinee and night, Edgar Selwyn has pictured with realistic effect happenings at a typical theatrical boarding house table in the city of New York.

It is a scene which teems with laughter. All the types of the great "White Way" come in one by one including a chorus girl, a near prima donna, a sidewalk ticket speculator, a down on his luck newspaper man, not to forget the all-pervading mistress of the house who sits at the head of the table with her star boarder at her right, monarch of all she surveys. The situation in humor and interest is declared to equal the famous dressing room scene in "The Chorus Lady," and the poker game in "The Traveling Salesman." The fun is fast and furious with an occasional undercurrent of pathos and tragedy.

The theme on which Edgar Selwyn builded his comedy, "The Country Boy," is one that much occupies the public mind in this day when "back to the land" is an economic cry. A rustic youth goes to New York seeking his fortune, and experiences certain profound disillusionments in that quest, finally returning to his home determined to fight it out on the old ground. There with the aid of a friend whom he made in the big city and who had longed for the quiet of a little town, he establishes himself successfully as the proprietor of a country newspaper, wins the regard of the community and the hand of the girl he loves. Thus is the dream of nine out of ten of the workers in the field of "metropolitan journalism" happily realized—though in real life few of the dreamers are ever lured away from the game as it is played in the big cities. Not even 5,000 circulation at $2 a year and four years in congress overcame the curious, unsatisfactory, but compelling fascination of the larger horizon. But they will love the picture in the play for it is full of the truths which one longs for and never has fulfilled.

"The Girl From Mumms."

One of the daintiest musical shows in years and the biggest hits since "Madame Sherry" is "The Girl from Mumms" with the clever and popular Olive Vail in the title role, which comes to the Lyceum on Monday night.

To get real musical comedy success three things are absolutely necessary:

First—A plot which is consistent and actually funny.

Second—Musical numbers with snap and dash—real hits which the audience carry out with them on the street and whistle; the kind you make a dash for your piano for and play by ear.

Third—A company capable of putting the story and music across in an enjoyable manner.

In producing "The Girl From Mumms" these three cardinal objects have been realized to the fullest. The book by J. A. Lacy, has a real plot and the situations and complications follow each other in rapid fire order, and provide a vehicle which gives the comedians full swing of their talents. The music by F.A.Bohnhorst, is the best heard in years. "Madame Sherry" has one great musical hit; "The Girl From Mumms" has six. "There's a Reason" is on everybody's lips and once heard one cannot help whistling its saucy melody. "Teach Me," "The Girl of Mumms and Mine," "Homesick," "On the Road to Philadelphia," and "Captivating Cleo" are other great hits of this show.

The company is comprised of beautiful girls, gorgeously gowned and is headed by Miss Olive Vail surrounded by a strong cast.

"The Rainbow."

Henry Miller's beautiful play "The Rainbow," which comes to the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and night is remarkable for the striking contrasts of character woven into its appealing story.

The opening scene is laid in a card-room, where a select coterie of men about town are gambling at auction bridge for high stakes. They are reckless members of a fast set and possess more worldly wisdom than the average members of our modern complex existence. The leader of them is Nell Sumner, in whose luxurious apartments the gambling is done. The next scene is laid in the same apartments, but a character is introduced who changes the atmosphere of the story. She is Sumner's 17-year-old daughter, Cynthia, who walks into his home, unannounced, to meet the "daddy" she has not seen since she was a baby girl. The meeting between the two is singularly effective.

Sumner's sister, a kind-hearted, though slightly cynical, woman of the world, takes the girl's hand, and, bowing ironically to the startled father, says: "Miss Sumner, allow me the honor of presenting your father, Mr. Sumner." It is a quietly played situation, but one that fascinates an audience. The girl is so young, so beautiful and so ingenuous, and her pride in her new-found "daddy," who is "much more handsome than she had expected," is so sincere that the audience immediately surrenders to the charm of the situation. The delightful camaraderie that develops between father and daughter, and his unending struggle to protect her from the influence of the dissipated life he had led before she came to him, furnish an act and a half of drama that 'ift "The Rainbow" high above the conventional stage stories of the day. Mr. Miller has found a wonderfully effective role in the character of Neil Sumner, and he is supported by a superb cast, many of whom were in the same company that appeared with him throughout the all-season run in New York last year, among them being Ruth Chatterton, Louise Closser Hale, Alice Baxter, Helen Martin, Muriel Hope, Charles Hammond, Robert Stowe Gill, H. Conway Wingfield and Daniel Pennell.

Everywoman.

Conceived by a genius, the life work of a man who died in the moment when success for which he had toiled almost twenty years was about to be his, the dramatic spectacle "Everywoman," possesses a most unusual interest to the theatergoer as well as to the individual who is seldom seen in a playhouse.

As a study it links the present-day drama with the play when it was in its infancy, when it was little more than a tract and the stage the medium through which the religionists of three centuries ago promulgated their creeds. Henry W. Savage's production of the morality play which is presented upon such an opulent scale that it dwarfs even the largest modern spectacular exhibitions, will be offered in its entirety at the Lyceum theater for three nights beginning Thursday with a popular matinee Saturday.

Fashioned after the morality play of the sixteenth century, it retains but little more than the form of the early drama. Characters are for good or for evil and each one is properly and appropriately labeled. There is no mysticism and no doubt as to the intent and purpose of each. The good are painted in attractive colors and the evil do not for an instant deceive the auditor. There is a definite story running through "Everywoman." It is of the quest of a young woman for love. She is beautiful; she is generously endowed by nature and she is happy until in an evil hour she looks into her mirror and sees there instead of her reflection the figure of flattery who tells her what she is longing to hear—that she is beautiful and that there is out beyond, in the vast mystery of things, a mate longing to embrace her and make her his own. The name of this affinity is love. Hearing the name she is filled with a longing to claim him and though warned by Nobody and Truth she sets forth upon a pilgrimage in quest of Love. This is the play. In panoramic form there is unrolled the wanderings of this fair maid and the adventures which befall her while on the quest.

"The Chocolate Soldier."

"The Chocolate Soldier" is enjoying its third season of unabated popularity, and has broken the old rule that "familiarity breeds contempt." In the case of this masterpiece of Oscar Straus and the Viennese school of music, the familiarity that the American people possess of "The Chocolate Soldier," with its captivating melodies and its scintillating wit, has only made them more eager to repeat the experience of an evening in the company of "The Chocolate Soldier."

This explains the coming of the exquisite opera bouffe that Oscar Straus and his associates fashioned from George Bernard Shaw's immortal comedy, "Arms and the Man," to the Lyceum Sept. 29 and 30. Not content with the strength of his company last season and the widely remarked beauty of his scenic equipment, Mr. Whitney, the producer of "The Chocolate Soldier," has sought to surpass his former achievements and to increase, if possible, the power of the spell that the romantic Bulgarian atmosphere and the witching music casts over every audience.

The Whitney Opera company is something of a phenomenon among light opera companies, for it is a rule of Mr. Whitney's, one which he rarely breaks, that every member shall have had a grand opera training. This means a richer and more intelligent rendering of all the subtleties of the music, and insures a dramatic unison which is all-important to the success of an opera which offers as many dramatic opportunities as does "The Chocolate Soldier." Such well-known names as Lelie Hughes, Lottie Collins, Lucille Saunders, Harry Fairleigh, Francis J. Boyle, George Tallman, Sylvan Langlois and the Whitney opera comique orchestra of picked musicians under the direction of Sig. A. De Novellis, are a guarantee that each and every opportunity will be taken advantage of to the fullest extent.

Orpheum

For fall style week the Duluth Orpheum will offer a vaudeville bill of varied attractions, and one that is expected to show visitors to Duluth an excellent sample of what Orpheum vaudeville is.

Heading the bill will be Genare and Bailey, one of the best known vaudeville teams in the country. They have been seen in Duluth before, and their act was one of the most popular ever shown at the Orpheum. It is an act that is difficult to describe, for it contains a little singing, a little dancing, a little comedy, and a little of almost everything that goes to make up variety. They pride themselves on their versatility, and their present act is entirely different from the one they presented last season, with the exception that they have retained the old favorite "La Flirtation Danseuse."

One of Willard Mack's vaudeville sketches will be seen on the Duluth bill next week. Since leaving Duluth this popular stock actor has made a name for himself in vaudeville circles with his sketches. "Your Flag and Mine," is the title of the one which will be seen here next week, and it will be presented by Austin Webb and his company of players. Mr. Webb has an established reputation in the dramatic field, having appeared with Mary Mannering, Charlotte Walker, and in other companies under the direction of Charles Frohman, the Shuberts, Klaw & Erlanger and Henry B. Harris. Last season Mr. Webb played the principal male role with the Western company of "The Woman," under the direction of David Belasco. "Your Flag and Mine" is said to be a sensational melodrama dealing with subjects of timely interest.

Few song writers can boast of more popular successes than Harry Armstrong and Billy Clark. Their compositions have been sung and whistled every place in this country where popular music is known. Among the many songs that have added to their reputation are "Sweet Adelaide," "Can't You See I'm Lonely," "Shaky Eyes" and "I Love My Wife, But Oh You Kid." They are almost as well known for their vaudeville work as for their songs. They sing several of their own compositions, and link them together with a running fire of comedy.

The Duluth theater hasn't had a juggling act this season and the Blank Family will doubtless be welcomed by Orpheum patrons next week. The members of this family are recognized as the foremost of the European jugglers. Their balancing sense is said to be wonderfully developed, and they add a display of strength and daring that makes their act one of the best juggling turns in vaudeville. The act also has its comedy aspects. The star of the troupe is a little blonde girl who is the only feminine member of the company.

Two old favorites with Duluth Orpheum audiences are McIntyre and Harty, "The Sugar Plum Girlie and the Marshmallow Boy." The team consists of a very comely young woman and a fat and jolly young man, and it will be remembered by the song from which they derive their name. In spite of the fact that they have changed the other material in their act several times they have not been able to get away from the old song about the sugar plum girl and the marshmallow boy. Few teams have been as popular in Duluth as this one, and they will doubtless be welcomed back next week.

The Japanese acts presented at the Orpheum have been uniformly good. Every Japanese troupe seen at the theater has had something new to offer in the line of acrobatic work or juggling, and the Kitaro Four is expected to hold its own on next week's bill.

The seventh act on the bill will be offered by Edgar Berger, a contortionist.

The motion pictures of news happenings by the Kinodrome and the overture by the Orpheum orchestra will complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

PROMISES OF THE PRESS AGENTS

Empress

The story of "Paid in Full" which will be seen at the Empress theater for four days starting Sunday matinee under the direction of Robert Sherman, follows:

Act I. It is a summer evening in a Harlem flat. Joseph Brooks, collector of the Latin-American Steamship company, bewails his lot, because Capt. Williams, head of the line, has refused to raise his $18 a week, and charges his pretty wife with mute protest against the mistake she made when she rejected Jimsy Smith, whose salary as superintendent of the steamship line has just been raised to $5,000 a year.

Meanwhile Capt. William calls. Joe enters unnoticed. When Capt. Williams says it is a pity Emma is not better off the spark is touched. Joe bursts into a passionate denunciation of his employer. In a stirring scene Emma comes between the two and saves her husband from the blows of the powerful sailor.

Jimsy, the peacemaker, offers to take them both to the play. Joe scorns the invitation as charity, but if Jimsy will go with him as his guest he will go. Then he invites Emma to the theater. He takes a bank note off the day's collections.

Act II. Joe and Emma are found in a fashionable hotel. Their change from the little flat is accounted for with Joe's explanation to his wife that the magnanimous and forgiving Capt. Williams has trebled his salary and dated the raise back six months. The audience is half prepared for the shock of Jimsy's revelation that Capt. Williams, who has never raised Joe's salary, has been home four days, going over Joe's accounts, and has found him a thief. The young defaulter confesses his crime to his wife, and after their friend is gone he tells her the only chance to save him is for her to use her wiles on Capt. Williams. When she grasps the proposition she is filled with loathing for the weakling who stands before her.

Act III. Jimsy tries to settle the shortage with Capt. Williams, but a million dollars would not do it. Emma comes in full of her mission and dread. In a flash, though not of complete surprise, the rough old skipper reveals her sterling nature. There are only two kinds of women, the good kind and the bad, and he rejoices to know that she has not shattered his faith in her. He hands her the written release of the criminal. This act puts the finishing touches on the destruction of the weakling. Husband and wife meet again, but only to part forever when she realizes the depth of his infamy.

* * *

In the remark of a Federal judge who was recently offered the nomination of one of the great political parties after fining a certain trust a million dollars, "For God's sake leave me my judicial honor, manhood, and the respect of my friends," is the keynote of Charles Klein's great play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which comes to the Empress theater on Sunday, Sept. 28, for four days—giving three shows daily.

The clergy and the press in reference to recent graft investigations, have used this play which Robert Sherman had the wisdom to produce, as a text for sermons and editorials and lately the president of the United States was urged to use the lesson taught by "The Lion and the Mouse" as a campaign document.

It is over five years since the piece had its premiere but a brief resume of the story may not be inapropos. John Burkett Ryder, the unscrupulous money king of the world, is thwarted in his plans by Judge Rossmore of the United States supreme bench. Ryder resolves to ruin both financially and in reputation the honest jurist. The former wreck has been accomplished when Shirley Rossmore, his daughter and Ryder's only son, Jefferson, return from a European trip. They met abroad and had fallen in love. The girl, learning of her father's impending disgrace, sets about to save his reputation and becomes a member of the money baron's household. How the Lion succumbs to the Mouse is unfair from the dramatist's standpoint to reveal.

Miss Elizabeth Day will be seen in the role of Shirley Rossmore and George Monsurat is again dealing with the part of Ryder.

* * *

Among the acts booked at the Empress for the last half of next week, Thursday, Sept. 25, are "The Seven Boarding School Girls," Iza Hampton and company in an act that deals with the "Woman of Tomorrow," the charming comedienne, Mattie Lockett, and the Musical Bentleys, who give an excellent musical program.

* * *

Among the attractions booked at the Empress the coming two months are, "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree," "The Chorus Lady," "Hen Pecked Henry," "The Tenderfoot," "The Three Twins," and various others.

* * *

The "Three Twins" which comes to the Empress theater soon for an engagement of half a week, created a sensation in New York with its fascinating music and good wholesome comedy.

* * *

"The Runaways," a Halton Powell tabloid, left Chicago last Thursday and inaugurated its season at the Majestic theater, at Port Huron, Mich., this week. It is coming to the Empress.

* * *

Alice B. Hamilton seems to be a big hit with Halton Powell's "O, Look Who's Here," to judge from what newspaper reviewers at Saginaw and Port Huron, Mich., say. She is coming to the Empress this season.

H. COOPER CLIFFE AS NOBODY — IN "EVERYWOMAN"

Rex

Daniel Frohman by special arrangement with David Belasco, will present Miss Mary Pickford in a motion picture production "In the Bishop's Carriage" at the Rex. The appearance of "Our Little Mary" at the Rex will begin Monday afternoon, Sept. 22.

It is several months since picture lovers have seen on the screen Mary Pickford. In this refined melodrama little Mary will be seen in a new light. "In the Bishop's Carriage" from the book of Miriam Michelson, it is a crook play, a fascinating drama of the underworld, that approaches tragedy and ends in romance. It is so delicate, so finished, that it will please every class of society.

In its delineation of the character of the charity girl who falls out of the clutches of the virago in the charity house into the hands of a thief, out of the frying pan into the fire, and then under the influence of a man animated by honest motives, the picture production is more than interesting. Little Mary, once a universal favorite, was spirited away to the realms of the legitimate stage by no less a dignitary than David Belasco, and placed in the cast of the "Good Little Devil" company. "In the Bishop's Carriage" the leading character, Nance Olden, a refugee from the charity house, eludes the police by slipping into a closed carriage which turns out to be the equipage of a very pleasant bishop. Feigning sleep the girl succeeds in eluding arrest, and also by her demure stories leads the bishop's household to believe that she is a sweet young visitor lost in a great city. Nance's attempts to reform, her failures and her final triumph over wrong will be followed with the closest attention. Dave Wall as Tom Dorgan, the crook, gives a splendid performance. He has much to do, and it is all well done. House Peters, in the role of the theatrical man, Obermuller, makes his first appearance on the screen in this picture, and he certainly makes good. It is a very popular part in the play that he takes, and carries all through his part the sympathy of the observer. Mr. Peters is tall, of good figure, and altogether of pleasing personality. John Steppling plays Mr. Ramsey, the bibulous husband, who is robbed of jewels belonging to his wife. This versatile actor's work is finished and is always pleasing to see. Grace Henderson will be recognized by a number of screen followers, who will be pleased to see her back in her old place again. She plays well the role of Mrs. Ramsey. Mme. Dalberg is the star actress who leaves temptation in the way of Nance, the former companion of the crook, who is given a chance on the stage. Her delineation is effective and convincing. George Moss, as the bishop, will be enjoyed. His consternation at the discovery of a pretty young woman in his carriage is quite humorous and makes a delightful bit of comedy. Thrilling situations abound; situations legitimately thrilling, made so by the art of the author and the skill of the director and the fine acting of the players. The interest is established in the first scene where Nance is beaten by the matron. Her escape and pursuit by the police, and the finding of shelter and protection in the room of Dorgan mark the beginning of a train of adventures, the number of which precludes description. With the angel of photoplay, little Mary Pickford, this is a feature that will appeal to all lovers of photo art. The management has decided not to raise the admission price for this feature, as is the policy of theaters in other cities, but to allow the old admission price to prevail.

ada particularly is certain to take to Miss Burke's new play, for there all the scenes are laid and the characters thoroughly local types.

* * *

Armand de Caillavet and Robert de Fiers, authors of "Love Watches," have asked permission to arrange for a musical comedy production of "The Doll Girl" at the Apollo theater, Paris. If the arrangement goes through, it will be a unique transaction in the career of a play. Because the book of "The Doll Girl" is founded on "Miquette et sa Mere," of which Caillavet and de Fiers are the authors; so that when "The Doll Girl" is produced in Paris its American book will be translated back into French.

* * *

Ever since the instantaneous success of "Potash & Perlmutter" at the Cohan theater, New York, the manager has been besieged with requests for the translation rights to the play. Offers have been made to turn the comedy into many languages. It may be presented in at least one European country before the end of the year.

* * *

Paris is to hear a new work by Richard Strauss, entitled "Madame Potiphar," this season.

* * *

Albert Mildenberg, the well-known American composer, has about completed a new opera entitled "Adrienne." The action is laid at the time of the French revolution.

* * *

The producers of "Within the Law," have six companies of Mr. Veiller's sensational melodrama already on tour. The coast company headed by Margaret Illington is at present playing a very successful engagement in Chicago. Miss Illington will continue in this play next year. Two more companies of "Within the Law," are now in active rehearsal.

* * *

From San Francisco comes the news that Margaret Anglin made a decided impression in her portrayal of "Electra" at the Hearst Greek theater of the University of California, Berkeley. It was the consensus of opinion among the critics that her acting in this production justified her ambition to devote her future to the classic drama.

* * *

F. C. Whitney, who has engaged Mme. Bertha Kalich for a term of years, plans to send her on a tour in repertoire. She will first be seen in "Her Son's Wife," by Edward Eugene Ritter, translated from the German. This will be followed by "The Daughter of Jorio." Mme. Kalich's repertoire will likely include several pretentious Shakespearean productions.

* * *

A new opera, by Victor Herbert, is to be produced soon. "The Madcap Duchess" is its title. Anna Swinburne will be starred in it, with Glenn Hall as the leading tenor. The opera will open in Rochester, and then will go to Boston for a longer stay.

* * *

Albert de Courville, manager of the London hippodrome and an author of considerable note, returned to London last week on the Lusitania, taking with him an option on "The Passing Show of 1913," with a view of producing this piece over there in November. Mr. De Courville was accompanied to this country by his wife, formerly Miss Shirley Kellogg, who played one of the prominent roles in "The Passing Show of 1912."

* * *

Lew Fields began his tour in "All Aboard" in Brooklyn on Sept. 15.

* * *

Judging from the impression made by William Hodge in "The Road to Happiness," in which he is appearing in Chicago, he will remain there until well after the holidays.

* * *

The English players who appear in "Fanny's First Play," on tour this season, set sail on the Lusitania Sept. 13 and are scheduled to arrive in New York on Sept. 22. The company will immediately begin rehearsing, and will open at the Majestic theater in Brooklyn on Sept. 29, 1913. The cast includes Kate Carolyn, Eva Leonard Boyne, Dulce Musgrove, Jean Sterling, S. Paxton, Ivan Campbell, A. Lucy, R. Dansey, Spencer Beach, Croker King and Vane-Sutton-Vane.

* * *

Rehearsals of "Oh, I Say," the next new musical production to be presented by the Messrs. Shubert, are now progressing rapidly and the premiere will take place within the next ten days. The book is based on the famous English farce of this name which ran all last season in London, and the music by Jerome Kern is particularly vivacious.

* * *

Miss Emily Ann Wellman, who is the leading woman with Louis Mann in "Children of Today," has worked with him in this capacity for the last four years. Miss Wellman is a native of St. Louis and one of the people who believe that dramatic art can be taught. She graduated from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and her immediate rise to prominence thereafter would indicate that she certainly gained some advantage from her training there.

* * *

"The Five Frankforters" will open its second season under the management of the Messrs. Shubert in Boston on Sept. 29. This production ran practically all last season at the Thirty-ninth Street theater in New York city and is to be presented on tour this year with Madame Cottrelly and practically all the members of the original company.

* * *

Attractions now current at Shubert playhouses in New York are: "Americe" at the Hippodrome, "Passing Show of 1913" at the Winter Garden, "The Lure" at Maxine Elliott's, "Believe Me, Xantippe," at the Thirty-ninth street, De Wolf Hopper in "Lieber Augustin," with George MacFarlane at the Comedy, and "The Old Homestead" at the Manhattan opera house.

HENRY MILLER,
Who Will Be Seen at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday Afternoon and Night in "The Rainbow."

ROAD DRAG FESTIVALS.

Frank G. Moorhead in the Country Gentleman: Within the last few months a variation of the underlying principle of festivals has made its appearance in the form of road drag days.

All the merchants of the town club together to offer cash and merchandise to every farmer who drives into town on a certain day astride a drag, the idea being to reward the progressive countryman for putting the roads in good condition between his home and the nearby town.

Every entrant is given a market basket and a handful of certificates, good in exchange at the various stores for merchandise ranging in value from 25 cents to a dollar, the aggregate value being about $5. No less than a dozen towns in Iowa have held road drag days within the last few weeks.

A typical one was held at Centerville. The local paper's report shows how widespread was the response of the farmers, of both sexes and all ages:

"Centerville believes it broke all drag day records when 150 drags were driven to town and prizes were distributed by merchants amounting to $2,000. The sixty-ninth one to register was Miss Edna Gray, 20 years old, who drove thirty-one miles. She got up at 2 o'clock in the morning, left home at 3, drove eight miles to the southwest corner of the county, then twenty-three miles to Centerville, on a drag without a seat on it. She admits she sat down on it occasionally. Her brother accompanied her on the trip with another team. Her prizes aggregate $111 in cash and $9 in merchandise, and good roads boosters propose to raise her a purse.

"Mrs. Blanch Talbot drove thirteen miles with a 7-months-old baby on the drag and took the prize for the married woman coming the farthest. W. S. Creece was the man coming the farthest, driving seventeen miles. Isaac Streepy was the oldest man to finish the drag marathon. His age is 75 years. W. H. Owings was a close second. He is seventeen days younger. Arthur Cozard, 6 years old, was the youngest boy and Marjorie Talbot, 9 years old, was the youngest girl.

"Every dragger was given merchandise prizes by thirty merchants, besides the special prizes. Coming to town and returning, the draggers traveled a total of 1,774 miles."

ALL ABOARD FOR DULUTH EXPOSITION AND FALL STYLE WEEK!

Though there will be busy hours yet for the valiant workers who are getting the show ready, the Duluth exposition and fall style week will begin promptly on schedule time Monday.

The rest of it is up to the public at large.

The show is here, it will be here all the week, and nothing remains to make it a success but patronage.

Some of it you can't escape if you will. The fall style week display will make the business district glitter like an Oriental bazar from one end to the other. Unless you wear blinders, your progress along the street will be constantly interrupted by a display of startling splendor in which the latest and best the world provides will tempt the eye and appeal to thrift.

The parade Monday night, too, you can't evade if you are anywhere about the downtown districts. And of course you'll be there.

But the exposition itself, the foundation of it all, will be out at the curling rink, and that you'll have to go to—it can't come to you. And of course you'll be there, too.

Nor should you, if it is not too late to buy a ticket, miss the home products dinner at the curling rink Thursday night.

It will all be well worth your while.

You will be interested, entertained and instructed.

You will come away with a nobler vision of your home city, with a new pride in its progress and a new hope for its future.

The committees of the various organizations—including, happily, every one that has the common community welfare as its object, and each doing its share nobly—have worked well and wisely and faithfully, and the result will be before you from Monday on to Saturday.

Don't miss it.

The governor suggests Oct. 9 as "fire prevention day," but that needn't keep the rest of the people in the state from preventing fire every day in the year.

IT'S AS EASY TO BE KIND AS TO BE CRUEL.

Prominent Jews of Chicago, according to an Associated Press dispatch in The Herald the other evening, have organized the Anti-Defamation League of America, whose purpose it will be "to stop, by appeals to reason and conscience, and if necessary by appeals to the law, the defamation of the Jewish people."

The mere fact that American citizens belonging to a great and numerous race have felt it necessary to form such an organization as this should make us all think.

And when we think, surely those of us who are kind and who care about the feelings of others will study to avoid needless and cruel offense.

On the side of caricature, particularly caricature of races and nationalities, American humor has been crude and boorish. And this is not, we firmly believe, a characteristic of American humor, which can be keen and still kind.

It has been through thoughtlessness, and not hate or malice, that we have set up stage and literary conventions of the Irishman, the Jew, the negro, the Swede, the Yankee and the Englishman that are rank and cruel caricatures, every one.

Probably we meant our humor to be good humor, but when its objects resent it and take steps to stop it, it is evident that it is not good humor, but brutal and unkind.

No gentleman will give needless offense to others. Indeed, it is that and not rank or race or financial rating which stamps the gentleman; and it is the opposite that stamps the boor.

We like to think that the American public is a gentleman. If it is as we think, it is certain that the first appearance of hurt on the part of any caricatured race or nationality will be the signal to stop caricaturing, whether with pencil or pen or tongue.

And the formation of this organization of Jewish citizens is evidence enough that the thoughtless lampooning of the past has hurt.

That ought to be enough to stop it. It will be enough with those who are kind and have a heart for the hurts of others—for those who do unto others as they would that others should do unto them.

It looks as if Secretary Bryan might be working out some plans of his own as to what is to become of one ex-president.

WHAT ABOUT IT, MEN?

The department of commerce, after investigating maritime safety conditions on the Great Lakes, has made a report which contains this startling paragraph:

> Women, as a rule, in marine disasters have shown courage, self-possession, self-reliance and obedience; and almost without exception any display of cowardice or unrestrained manifestation of the instinct of self-preservation has come from men.

This reflection, written by a man and not a woman, was made in cool deliberation after a careful study of many maritime disasters.

What do you make of it, men? Especially you men who hold womankind in light regard, deeming women to have light and inconsequential minds and unstable characters, and to be deficient in judgment and balance. What do you think of it?

Your only hope is to refuse to believe. Otherwise you must discard a good many of those notions of yours about women. And it is a flat statement that there is much evidence to support—too much to make it possible to disbelieve it without summoning plenty of opposing evidence.

It is well known that women bear suffering with greater fortitude than men. And they have more of it to bear. If the wellsprings of woman's tears start more readily than those of man, it is because through the ages woman has had more to endure, has suffered more pain, than man.

And she bears it better, with less whining and fewer panics.

Pain that a woman will endure with a brave heart and a cheerful face will send a man to his bed, howling for the doctor and in deadly fear for his life.

Since this is true—and any nurse or doctor will attest it—why should it be surprising to learn that in the face of danger women show more courage, more self-reliance and self-possession and greater obedience than men; and that in time of peril exhibitions of cowardice and the mad, brutal, senseless panic in which humanity tramps down weaker humanity in an insane scramble for safety come from men and not from women?

Maybe one reason the carrier pigeon has come to be regarded as the king of flyers is that it doesn't try fool stunts in the air.

STEEL CARS AND SAFETY RULES.

Judge Mills of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission has said that the substitution of steel passenger coaches for wooden coaches is not so important as the adoption and rigid enforcement of safety rules.

Maybe that's so; but why not both?

We can see little profit in debating the comparative merits of these two reforms, when both are vitally needed and both should be required.

If the country adopts a rigid "safety first" policy, the danger of accidents will be greatly lessened.

But it will not be eliminated entirely because there are accidents that are unavoidable, and probably there always will be.

But if we have cars of steel instead of wood, when such accidents occur the loss of life will be greatly lessened.

By all means, let's have "safety first" rules to diminish the risk of accidents, and steel cars to diminish the damage when accidents do occur.

Charley Murphy has not yet announced who is to be elected congressman to succeed "Big Tim" Sullivan. Why this reticence?

AN EX-GAMBLER'S EXPERIMENT.

Tariff revision is going to reduce the cost of living. But it is not going to cure it, for more elements than the tariff have entered into the making of the present burdensome cost of the necessaries of life.

The proper organization of the elementary function of feeding society—of getting food from those who produce it to those who eat it—should be one of the first points of attack; for curiously enough this fundamental and primary function is the weakest point in all our social organization.

In this connection there is interest in an experiment being carried on in Chicago as a private enterprise by James O'Leary, once known as "king of the gamblers." Three months ago he turned Luna park, a former place of amusement, into a public market, renting stalls at moderate prices and encouraging farmers and small merchants handling products directly from the consumers to locate there.

At present, we learn from a report in the Chicago Record-Herald, about two hundred dealers and farmers do business there. Here are some of the prices reported by the Record-Herald, compared with current prices in the outside retail shops:

	Market.	Outside.
Tenderloin steak	.26	.33-36
Spring chickens	.18	.24
Carrots, doz. bunches	.20	.45
Cucumbers	.02½	.10
Cabbages	.03-05	.10
Tomatoes, per box	.50	.65
Pears, per doz	.15	.40
Elberta peaches, box	.90	$1.20

These figures show what CAN be done.

In this case the saving was achieved by taking a short cut from the producer to the consumer—in other words, by cutting out the middlemen.

If there is any other way to make this saving general it is not readily apparent.

The thing to study is how to bring this about.

The ideal condition would be co-operative marketing by producers, reaching straight to co-operative buying by consumers by a single transaction. Producers are co-operating, and they find that it pays. Consumers are not co-operating, and it may be difficult to get them to do it.

Maybe there is something governmental agencies could and should do.

When the express companies got too insistent on their pound of flesh the government stepped in with the parcel post.

Maybe when the country gets tired of the cruel exactions of the food-distributing agencies—or rather of the clumsy and wasteful and needlessly expensive system that has grown up—something like that may happen to the function of getting food from producer to consumer.

One of the Civil war veterans at Chattanooga ran a hundred and forty yards in seventeen seconds. Wow! He must have started at the top of Lookout Mountain.

SHALL WOMEN PROPOSE?

A current newspaper item has it that they are about to pass a law in Sweden giving the woman the right to propose marriage.

Bless her heart, she has that right now! Only custom and convention, which are institutions that are in a decidedly shaky condition these days, are against it. We do not know whether or not the woman often proposes, but we do know that however it may be in Sweden, no law is needed in this country to permit her to inform the man of her choice of his good fortune, and to receive his grateful acceptance of her overtures.

In two of the latest novels of the fall publishing season the heroine has to propose, and the reader finds nothing to shock him—or her—in the proceeding. Indeed, the surprising thing about it is how naturally and with what seemliness it worked out—in the story.

There is no really trustworthy record of what happens when a young couple decide to become parties to a life partnership. The contract is not made before witnesses. Neither are the details of its making reported fully or with any plausible exactness by either party. Indeed, there are many who profess, rightly or wrongly, that for the life of them they can't remember just how it happened.

So there are no accurate statistics or historical records to prove conclusively where the real initiative lies in the majority of cases, or just how much insistence there is on the one side and how much subtle encouragement on the other. It is only by theory and accepted convention, and not through accurate knowledge of the facts, that custom pictures man as the pursuer and woman as the pursued. However, customs and conventions generally have pretty firm foundations, and probably they are right in this instance—in the great majority of cases, at least. But the means of proving that are not easily available.

It seems hardly worth while passing laws on the subject.

If woman takes it into her head to do the proposing she'll probably do it, in one way or another, law or no law.

And the only way such a law as that said to be contemplated in Sweden could be made to amount to anything would be to add another section making it obligatory for the man to accept with what grace he may.

Just the same, it's hard to see where that love-sick princess who killed herself is anything ahead.

THE NEW TARIFF AND ELASTIC REVENUES.

The St. Louis Republic makes a good point, and a new one, in favor of the new tariff measure.

It says, and rightly, that one of the worst evils of the old tariff system was its inelasticity, and that one of the best points in the new system is its elasticity.

This elasticity comes in through the income tax, which can be raised or lowered according to the nation's needs, and thus the need of unsettling business from time to time by readjustments of tariff duties will be avoided.

Most tariff revisions, up to recent years, came about because of the condition of the treasury. There was no way of avoiding this need, and there is now no way except the way the Democratic congress has provided in the income tax.

When times were good and buying profuse, the treasury filled rapidly and a surplus soon made tariff reduction necessary.

When buying fell off and the treasury vaults went bare, tariff increases had to be made.

And every time business had to undergo the shock of readjustment to new tariff laws.

That will be so no longer, for the income tax can be adjusted at any time with no shock to business, and thus the treasury condition can be kept normal without the annoyance and menace of frequent tariff revisions.

Says the Republic: "The income tax can be lowered at times when the increasing customs revenue threatens to create a dangerous surplus. It can be raised when the fall in the nation's consuming power temporarily cuts down the revenue from customs. It will no longer be necessary to unsettle conditions in a hundred industries and lay the paralysis of uncertainty on a hundred trades simply because the revenue and the expense of the government are for the time being out of proportion. Instead of revising the tariff, congress need only raise or lower the income tax rate as business conditions change, and all will be well.

"The Democracy has thus opened the way for the removal of one of the most fruitful causes of business unrest. It has begun to do for industry and trade something of what rational currency reform will do for finance."

The point is well taken, and it is highly important. With the disappearance of any occasion for frequent revisions to fit fluctuations in the revenues, the tariff will be fairly settled on a permanent basis, future changes to be made only as need arises in a particular section.

And with the financial system put on a stable basis by the enactment of the administration's banking and currency law, the country will be as well assured against panics and hard times as laws can make it.

This is not only a splendid tribute to the Democratic administration, but a big bull card for the encouragement of business and industry all along the line.

Col. Roosevelt once more says there is to be no amalgamation between the Bull Moosers and the Republicans. The declaration is getting almost as common as that older one—"I will not again be a candidate."

IF THE POSTOFFICE WERE OWNED IN WALL STREET.

"The postoffice system," said a speaker in Kansas City the other day, "is a practical demonstration of the system of public ownership of public utilities. If it were privately owned it would cost fifteen cents to send a letter to Alaska."

Yes, and probably five cents to send a letter to Cloquet or Two Harbors, and ten cents to New York.

When opponents of public ownership cite the postoffice as a horrible example, they make a very weak argument.

For while it is a thing that receives little notice because people are so accustomed to it, the postoffice is a highly successful institution—as successful and as adequate, on the whole, as any public utility in corporation control.

The postoffice and the Panama canal are standing answers to those who question the public's capacity to handle public business.

Probably the postoffice can be made more efficient and more economical. Recent investigations by efficiency experts have shown that there is scarcely any private business of which that is not true.

But the postal service is cheap and efficient, and if it were handled by private enterprise it certainly would not be so cheap even if it were so efficient.

It is a marvelous thing, the postal service, but one to which we are so accustomed that we seldom think of it except as a matter of course.

For two cents you can send a letter half way around the world. You buy your stamp, affix it to the letter, drop the letter in a slot, and rest assured that it will reach its destination. And though the government is handling millions of letters all the time, the chance that your letter will go where it is addressed is so great that the percentage of failures is absurdly small.

Also, the postoffice will take your savings and pay you interest. It will carry your parcels which until recently you had to give to the express companies. It will send money for you anywhere in the world at moderate rates. And like other enterprises, it is developing and expanding its usefulness constantly.

Suppose the postoffice were owned in Wall Street. During the years of inflation when capitalization was what you could make it and get away with it, the capitalization of the postoffice monopoly—it would have become a trust by that time—would have been watered to a prodigious figure. Upon a gigantic array of stocks and bonds the public would be required to pay interest and dividends

That couldn't be done at two cents a letter regardless of distance. What the rates would be under private ownership can only be guessed; but that they would not be so low as they are now is a certainty.

Pretty nearly everything else except the postoffice service has had its full share in making the present high cost of living. But postal rates have had no share in it whatever.

Also, it will be interesting to watch for the zero weather version of the slit skirt.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Three days after the election, I am still puzzled by this strange fact:

How do you account for it?

SAYS CODE WILL THROW MUSICIANS OUT OF WORK.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Permit me to ask in behalf of the profession is there any way possible to modify the code that applies to music in saloons by some regulation?

I have been under the impression that the ordinance only applied to mechanical instrumental music, such as the slot machine. If it applies to professional musicians, also gentlemen, then we feel that this ordinance is unfair to our profession. Conditions as to the welfare of professionals are not the same—we all cannot play in opera houses nor can we all occupy a seat at the desk of a symphony orchestra. To our judgment, Mr. Hicken, the best we can do is to play where we can get it to do.

The common people, the laboring classes, do not and will not sit around the hotel lobby and listen to an orchestra, nor do they care to visit the fashionable cafes where the elixir of life flows between strains of a long forgotten melody, but they, as a rule, enjoy music where social gatherings are about the same.

In conclusion, Mr. Hicken, the style in which the present day musicians render the music is a great difference from years ago, especially the class who play in saloons. A musician will not entertain boisterous gatherings, in fact saloon proprietors of good standing will not tolerate hilarity. Fiddling troubadours with their instruments under their arms are a thing of the past in saloons.

Mr. Hicken, we are aware of the fact why the music code is enacted. It is alluring, enticing and enchanting and the general impression is that it is bad. Would you isolate from the public gaze beautiful women, because of her charms?

License the professional musicians and they will purify the atmosphere where they render service.

To prevent them from earning a living is unfair.

A MUSICIAN.

ARE INCENSED AT MORNING PAPER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Allow me to use valuable space in your paper to reply to an article in the News Tribune of Sept. 18 that has created a wrong impression in the minds of the public and done an injustice to the employes of the Duluth postoffice.

Said article headed, "Architects Blamed for Thefts in Postoffice," tries to convey the idea that thefts in the Duluth postoffice are prevented only by the use of the so-called "spy gallery," but the facts are different.

The department where the alleged thefts are said to have occurred are as plainly visible from the gallery as any other part of the building. The spy galleries in the Duluth postoffice have been the subject of articles in the papers before, but never in such an insinuating way, and the reporter must be hard pressed for news when he is willing to cast a reflection on the honesty of over a hundred employes of this office for a short article that does not even represent the truth. What are the facts? Less than one-fourth of 1 per cent of the postal employes are dismissed for cause and less than one-half of one-quarter of this 1 per cent for dishonesty. Not over 2 per cent of the postoffices in the United States have "spy galleries," so if you wish to carry the figures far enough into the decimals you can find out what percentage of crooks there is among us and what influence the "spy galleries" have on the postoffice employes and what need there is for this system that does not appeal to American manhood and honesty.

Marriage.

Detroit Free Press: George Ade, at one of his famous picnics on Hazelden Farm, his Indiana estate, turned the conversation, according to his wont, to matrimony.

In the midst of Mr. Ade's jests a business man declared stoutly:

"Well, say what you please, George, marriage broadens a man."

"I suppose it might be put in that way," said Mr. Ade. "'Flattens,' though, is the word I've always used."

Why He Welcomed It.

The Pot and the Kettle

Editorial in New York Sun.

Mr. Taft's address upon the United States judicial system delivered before the American Bar association at Montreal was made the subject of a scathing criticism of legal procedure in this country by the London Times, which found it "hopelessly enmeshed in technicalities" and "a handicap to justice and a comfort to criminals."

Harry K. Thaw was arrested at St. Hermenegilde-Garford, in the province of Quebec, and detained in jail at Sherbrooke, as a fugitive from justice on Aug. 19. Because the commitment was defective counsel for the prisoner sued out a writ of habeas corpus. About the same time two inspectors of the Dominion department of immigration arrived with a warrant for Thaw's arrest. The hearing on the habeas corpus writ was postponed for a whole week. On Aug. 26 Thaw's counsel filed a motion to withdraw the application for a writ of habeas corpus, reserving a right to renew it at any time. The following day a judge of the superior court decided that the application for the writ could be withdrawn, and Thaw remained in jail under the faulty commitment. On Aug. 29 a petition by Attorney General Carmody of New York for the deportation of Thaw was presented to the Hon. Charles J. Doherty, minister of justice, all the facts of the trials of Thaw, his adjudgment to be insane, his commitment to Matteawan and his escape from the asylum being submitted. Eighteen cases of the deporting of insane persons from Canada to various states were cited. A new application for the writ of habeas corpus was made on Aug. 30, this time by representatives of New York, to test the legality of permitting Thaw to remain in Sherbrooke jail on a defective commitment.

It was then that a messenger from Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, appeared in the superior court at Sherbrooke while the case was being argued on Sept. 2 and announced that if Thaw were not turned over to the immigration authorities the premier would intervene to stop the legal quibbling. Thaw was released and a board of inquiry of the immigration department took possession of him and held a hearing, at which much evidence was given and many documents were filed, the prisoner himself being under examination for five hours. The board decided that Thaw should be deported for several reasons, one being that "evidence considered reliable had been submitted that Thaw had been insane within five years from the present date," a fact that under the Canadian law called for his deportation.

The comic drama was not ended, however. While the board was conducting its inquiry counsel for Thaw obtained from the court of king's bench at Montreal a new writ of habeas corpus, the purpose of which was to attack the constitutionality of the Canadian immigration law. A hearing was set down for Sept. 15. As an appeal would lie from the decision of the court of king's bench should it be adverse, and as the matter could be taken up ultimately to the king's privy council in London, counsel for Thaw declare that the proceedings may drag on for a year.

Might not the stricture of the London Times that American procedure was so "hopelessly enmeshed in technicalities" that it was "a handicap to justice and a comfort to criminals" be levelled with good grace at the enforcement of law in the Dominion of Canada?

Ever Visit School?

Yazoo, Miss., Sentinel: You look out carefully for the exterior of your boy as he sets out for school in September. He must have shiny shoes, well brushed hair, a clean necktie, or he must stay at home. But do you know anything about what they are putting into his head? The old-fashioned school used to have a throng on "exhibition day." The children sang sweet little songs about daisies, and spoke pretty poems about the birdies. The question whether they could keep a cash account or write a hand that a human being could read was much in the background. If a parent happened into the schoolroom on any day but the closing one, a hush of awe spread over the little faces at the unexpected sight. Teacher rattled her papers nervously, and the pupils missed. Visitors are more common in modern schools. But probably not one parent in ten enters a schoolroom once in a term. And yet the question what they are doing with your children is vastly more important than what the styles of children's coats are. But the parents do not seem to think so.

An Economist.

Judge: "Now, look here, my man," said the philanthropist to the tramp, "there is no use of an able-bodied fellow like you passing his days in idleness. Come to my office and I'll give you work."

"Thank you, sir," said Weary; "but I'm afraid I can't come. I'm tryin' to keep my income down under four thousand, so's I can save the income tax."

"Nothing to Wear."

Miss Flora McFlimsy of Michigan Boul.
In spite of hot weather is perfectly cool.
She has it all over her namesake, the fair
Miss Flora McFlimsy of Madison Square,
Who, ages ago,
As most of you know,
Lamented the fact she had "nothing to wear."
Miss Flora of old bought her drygoods in Paris;
She shopped (you recall) with her friend Mrs. Harris.
Her garments were many, and costly and rare,
And yet she complained she had nothing to wear.

But Flora McFlimsy of Boulevard Mich.
Dispenses with ev'ry superfluous stitch,
And clad in a single diaphanous gown
Parades in the sunlight, the joy of the town.
"And if I show through,
What harm does it do?"
Says Flora McFlimsy; "I leave it to you."

Why, none whatever, we beg to reply.
You are all to the good to our critical eye.
Proceed, Miss McFlimsy, as far as you wish;
Parade in the sunlight on Boulevard Mich.,
And let, if it please you, your vanishing dress
Grow fine by degrees and delightfully less,
Until, like the dame
Of evergreen fame,
You really have nothing whatever to wear,
Excepting a hank of remarkable hair.
And should you appear as the Lady Godiva,
We'll stand on the corner and hand you a "Viva!"

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

Company H at West Duluth elected the following non-commissioned officers last night. Soren Field, first sergeant; Charles Gunderson, second sergeant; P. Pawn, third sergeant; Martin Aune, fourth sergeant; J. W. Wallinder, fifth sergeant; James McArton, first corporal; Gus Berger, second corporal; M. Nelson, third corporal; G. Auppl, fourth corporal.

Frank Boreen of Willow River, Minn., a cousin of Frank Boreen, the West Duluth restaurant man, was drowned while shooting ducks on the St. Louis river last evening. The cousins were in a boat, and in endeavoring to change positions the boat was upset and both were thrown into the water. Boreen was 23 years of age and has a brother and sister at Stillwater.

P. S. Mumford, who has been in charge of the Western Union Telegraph office at West Duluth for the past three years, will leave Oct. 1 to accept a more lucrative position at Everett, Wash.

Annie Knuckey, the 12-year-old daughter of Hugh Knuckey, a herdsman at Eleventh avenue west and Fourth street, was shot in the abdomen yesterday afternoon by Jorgen Jeronimus, a cigarmaker, living near the Knuckeys' home. The families had trouble recently over the disappearance of three pigeons belonging to the Knuckeys, who charged Jeronimus with making away with the birds. Directly after the shooting, Jeronimus fled from his house with gun in hand. He disappeared in the woods and a detail of policemen searched for him all night without success.

The Duluth union of Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor met at Pilgrim Congregational church last evening and elected Rev. W. W. Dawley of the First Baptist church as president and Leon Shaw as secretary.

Dr. Boyer and H. F. Totman leave tomorrow for a week's hunting trip at Boulder lake, near Cloquet.

Mrs. F. E. Granzow has left for a visit of several weeks with her parents at Chippewa Falls, Wis., and with friends in other parts of Wisconsin.

The plant of the Superior Stove company at South Superior will start up next week for the season's run. General Manager Green says the company has orders for several hundred stoves, which warrants him in starting operations again. Forty or fifty men will be employed.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

No Trust Here.

My eye fell on the legend displayed prominently above the main door of a business establishment. "No trust here," simply meant in this instance, that credit was refused and customers must pay cash. The long-suffering proprietor certainly had a right to protect himself against the dead beats of the community.

Taking this motto, however, as a general rule for life it becomes an appalling one. Followed out in the large relations of men it spells chaos and disaster. It would induce the reign of atheism and anarchy from which the world might well shrink. A more dismal principle for living could hardly be conceived than this same "No trust here."

Society is built upon the foundation of mutual confidence among men. There must be trust everywhere before you can have a civilized community. How few of the facts with which we deal every day admit of personal testing. Our food is prepared by someone else, we ride to town behind an engineer we may never have seen, cross bridges we have never examined, hand money to bank clerks of whose character we know nothing. The whole fabric of business is built on the foundation of faith. Without trust in your fellowmen you could not live your life for a week or a day.

The man without faith in his fellows is bound to lead a pygmy existence. He must walk in the narrow limits of his own consciousness. There are so few things comparatively speaking that he can verify for himself! Every hour of a normal human career he must trust the testimony and yield himself to the service of other people.

I believe there is an island kingdom named Japan—though I have never seen it. I believe there lived on American soil a man named George Washington—though I never saw him. I never saw anyone who had seen him. I believe there was a great battle fought at Gettysburg though the report of no gun fired there reached my ears. A thousand facts that have entered into my thought and life I must accept because other people say so.

Many a man scoffs at faith as a refuge for weaklings. Let us ask him how far he could go in the world without it. How many things has he proved himself? Of how many facts has he personal experience? Honesty will compel the admission that for by far the larger part of his knowledge he walks by faith and not by sight.

It is to be wondered at that so many make a difficult matter of religion. Spiritual facts, men say, are beyond their ken. Why cannot faith, so necessary in all human affairs, be extended to the highest realms? It ought not to be more difficult for a man to believe in God, whom he has not seen, than to believe in Washington, whom, likewise, he has not seen.

Let me live in a world of faith. It is easier for me to believe than to doubt. Doubt paralyzes energy and quenches joy as frost blackens the autumn flowers. It is faith that girds men with power and opens the fountains of enthusiasm. All the moral advantage is on the side of him who believes that "God is and that He is a Rewarder of them that diligently seek him."

THE WILD PIGEON

By SAVOYARD

Washington, Sept. 20. — (Special to The Herald.)—I was reading in the paper the other day a tale to the effect that a flock of American wild pigeons had been seen in a forest in Pennsylvania. It trilled me with pleasure, but as I have seen no more about it I fear it is a false report writ by somebody who knows nothing of the bird except what he imperfectly learned from obscure tradition.

The wild pigeon went as did the buffalo. One short horn of one Jersey cow is worth 100 buffalo. A time came when the latter had to give way to the former, just as the Indian receded before the march of the white man. It was all a matter of evolution —the inferior must retire to make room for the superior.

• • •

But to a man like me—now nearly three score and ten years—there are pleasurable memories clinging about the wild pigeon. If truth hath a license, and in this case it does, I do declare I saw millions of 'em in Barren county, Ky., in my youth, and without license I may say I personally slew great numbers of them, though I hope not wantonly, for there was none of the huntsman's sport in their slaughter.

In those days, when the frost had put its first deadly kiss on the beech trees, about October the middle, a few flocks of wild pigeons would appear in the forest to spy out the prospect. In the upper end of Barren county was Little Barren river. On the north bank, over in Green county, were immense areas of native forest of beech; on the south was "barrens" covered with post-oak and hickory—all scrub, though the soil was splendidly fertile.

• • •

When the beech "mast" was abundant there would come flocks of wild pigeons, countless in numbers. In the heat of the day they fed on the mast of the beech woods. After sundown they would take flight for their roosting place some sixty miles south, in Warren county, and the heavens would be darkened by their number making progress at sixty miles an hour.

The next morning before sunrise the birds would obscure the heavens returning from the roost to the feeding grounds. Tens of thousands of them were killed wantonly. I know a fellow named Cage who slew 200 of them in one day just for the lust of the slaughter of the helpless. I was never in a "pigeon roost" though I heard much about the experience, but it was a string of tales of what I felt to be wanton murder and I never had a desire to participate in the "sport."

• • •

My father had an old negro cook, "Aunt Carline," and she was the only person I ever saw who knew how to prepare a wild pigeon for the "white folks'" table that was fit to eat. I was a small boy, but I recollect how she fixed the bird. At the age of 11 I was a famous squirrel hunter with a rifle, and of course I could knock down a dozen pigeons with a shotgun.

When I fetched the bag home "Aunt Carline" would pick out the young pigeons and they were for the "white folks." These she would dress herself and put in the pot. When she stewed 'em, leaving a rich gravy, and roasted the bird after stewing, putting a delicious crust on the carcass, it was a dish fit for the gods when Lucullus condescended to dine on High Olympus.

But so plentiful were these pigeons that we even got tired of that delicacy and she would broil 'em, barbecue 'em, roast 'em, fry 'em, make pie out of 'em but before the birds left the forest we would have none of 'em. Even "the niggers," as Aunt Carline called her husband and children and grandchildren, rejected the finest and fattest young pigeon she could dish up to them.

In those days the best bacon hams the world ever saw sold for 5 cents a pound in Barren county, and eggs, laid yesterday, were a drug on the market at 5 cents the dozen. No wonder, after a two weeks' feast on wild pigeon, even as cooked by "Aunt Carline," we turned to the coarser dish. And let me say that in my time I have paid a dollar for a Philadelphia squab that was not half as good as a wild piegon cooked by Aunt Carline—one of hers, to the epicure, worth a dozen of the Philadelphia fraud.

And then after the pigeons were gone, after hog-killing with its attending sausage, backbones, spare ribs, and so on, we had the robin roost in old Kentucky. It was a finer bird than the pigeon had been—to my palate better than quail. There were myriads of 'em. You could buy 100 for a two-bit piece and we tired of them also and went back to ham and eggs.

What ignorance we were guilty of! Nobody knew what a friend to man is the robin.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.
Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

THE POISONOUS ACCUMULATIONS WITHIN YOUR SYSTEM MUST BE CLEARED AWAY

A Pennsylvania hotel proprietor asks that I write about muscular rheumatism. "I have read the previous Doctor's Help article on articular rheumatism, but my kind is muscular rheumatism," etc.

I want to urge you to make a repeated study of that "ARTICULAR RHEUMATISM" article. Rheumatism is a word which embraces the articular type, the sciatic variety and muscular rheumatism. The whole situation is dependent upon the excessive accumulation of great quantities of poisons within the system. These produce a toxemia. This is just the same sort of a poisonous condition as when a patient gets pneumonia or typhoid fever and becomes delirious. The poisons circulate in the blood in such excessive amounts as to throw the nerves and brain into utter disorder. In rheumatism, in some instances, the toxemia centers itself upon the joints, in others the nerves, in other folks the muscles are worst affected. Rheumatism comes on as insidiously and quietly as the change from summer to fall, then all at once there is some sudden occurrence, such as wet feet or a chill from a chance exposure, and the real rheumatic fever sets in with all its attending symptoms.

BLADDER TROUBLE, PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT AND "COLDS" CLOSELY CONNECTED TO RHEUMATISM TENDENCIES.

A gentleman dwelling in a very changeable climate writes that whenever he takes cold, a severe bladder irritation sets in. His letter is very personal, and he encloses a stamp.

The very fact that your periods of annoyance are localized to the times when you take cold, as you say, indicates clearly that your general condition has a tendency toward rheumatic poisoning. When the millions of flesh cells which constitute your special organs are unduly depressed and irritated by this poison which filters through them, and suddenly your body becomes chilled, there is a bad reaction. Trouble crystallizes, and in your case it hits you where your system is weakest,—your bladder and enlarged prostate. We do not know as yet of any specific germ causing rheumatism. Several, however, are under suspicion and are being closely studied. One development is quite marked. There is a decided diminution in the number of the red blood corpuscles. These are the oxygen carriers to the flesh cells. They likewise conduct away the poisonous gas from the flesh to the lungs. When they do not properly perform their work in patients with a rheumatic tendency the blood becomes much impoverished. You are right in your describing your blood as being "thin." That is just another way of saying it is below par.

Do this: Divide the care of yourself into two separate problems. Solve one of these at a time. First is the preventive treatment. The second is the treatment of the attack when it is coming on. Your ability to solve the first phase of your difficulty will soon obviate any necessity of your being compelled to apply the second. As to the first, SLIGHTLY CHANGE YOUR DIET. GIVE YOUR SYSTEM THE INDULGENCE OF COFFEE AND MEAT BUT ONCE A WEEK. Otherwise, during week days live freely and entirely upon vegetables, fruits and the various preparations of wheat. I don't mean corn preparations. I mean wheat. Steer absolutely clear of sugars. They increase the already too heavy acidity. Your system will then not be unduly clogged with poisons of incompletely assimilated and oxidized food products. Many folks call these latter uric acid. They are more than this. They embrace many other groups of chemical irritants. For the attacks, study June 17th Doctor's Helps article "FOR RELIEF OF SCALDING BLADDER PAIN," and apply the principles of treatment outlined. They will help you greatly.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

A Fine American Novel.

OTHERWISE PHYLLIS. By Meredith Nicholson, author of "A Hoosier Chronicle," etc. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin company. $1.35 net.

Mr. Nicholson grows in strength, in the sureness of his grasp of American life, and in his ability to put it convincingly on paper. We are getting proud of him.

The new book is a fine, wholesome, satisfying story about nice people—and otherwise—with its leading and most endearing character a splendidly human and lively young woman, Phil (otherwise Phyllis) Kirkwood; as delightful a tomboy as we ever met, though she "grows up" early in the story without losing her piquancy. We were worried about whether she wou'd pick the right fforton boy—one smart, flashy and crooked, the other shy, sturdy and sound as a nut—but not much worried because her good sense was too manifest. And what she did to the wrong Horton lad joyed us greatly.

Next to her in charm is her delightful old uncle, Anzi Montgomery, with his big heart and his vast sense of humor. We weren't as severe as we should have been, probably, toward Phil's erring but marvelously competent mother. And we liked the town of Montgomery, Indiana, too—"just a comfortable, folksy, neighborly town, small enough to make hypocrisy difficult and unnecessary;" a typical and real American town with typical and nice real American folks in it.

The backbone of the story is about an interurban traction deal in high finance; its flesh and blood are the people concerned, including those named and others, particularly the splendid Bartlett girls.

It is a thoroughly good story, entertaining from first to last and satisfying. Moreover, it leaves a sweet taste in the mouth.

A Comedy "Graustark."

A FOOL AND HIS MONEY. By George Barr McCutcheon, author of "Graustark," "Browster's Millions," "The Hollow of Her Hand," etc. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co. $1.30 net.

Mr. McCutcheon, who is one of our w. k. and best liked literary entertainers, has a variety of veins. We liked him least in the vein of "The Hollow of Her Hand"; we liked him best in "Graustark" and "Brewster's Millions"; we like him again in "A Fool and His Money."

It is in a light mood, and in that spirit he returns to Europe and places there the scenes of a comedy—at times farcical—"Graustark" which is lively and entertaining, and the action of which mostly takes place in the ancient castle of the Roethhoefens on the Danube.

John B. Smart is the "fool," and he tells the story. He got the money from an uncle who was fond of the remark that a fool and his money are soon parted, and with this money he bought a castle in the hills of the Danube. And he bought the story with it. And he wasn't such a fool, either.

A woman in white, strangely and comfortably ensconsed in the east wing of the castle, from which he is barred, turns out not to be a ghost but an American countess, fleeing from her divorced Hungarian count with her child, the custody of which the courts had given to her brutal husband for a year. The situation leads to no end of complications, which are described deftly and entertaining and in a well-sustained vein of humor, given substance by a pretty romance.

When Man Was a Brute.

LONGHEAD; The Story of the First Fire. By C. H. Robinson. Boston: L. C. Page & Co. $1.00 net.

The idea of basing a story on prehistoric man is a long way from new or original, the best known examples of the proposition being, perhaps, London's "Before Adam" and Morris' "Pagan's Progress." Yet it is nothing against a man that he should adopt this same idea, and it certainly is not to be counted against him when, as Mr. Robinson has done, he is able to outline a train of development that is logical and apparently borne out, at least to some extent, by the discoveries of science. But the task is one that requires a good deal more caution and better story-telling ability than this author has brought to his work.

He begins well, and we feel an instant interest in the primitive "Longhead" whose proximity to a lightning-rended tree leads to the discovery of fire. But in a very few pages the author lapses from the charm of direct statement to the use of such words as "probably" and "possibly" and "it seems likely he did" thus and so, when he could make his story not only more interesting, but stronger, by direct assertion. Nor would such an assertion detract from it in the least, since after all he is dealing with a purely fictitious character. And the weakness of these earlier pages is repeated later on when he digresses for several paragraphs of accounts of the discoveries made by excavators and scientists on the sites of prehistoric dwellings. He would be much more effective if, having once established a personal interest in Longhead and his affairs, he had kept more strongly to that side of the story instead of branching out into tribal interests or dragging in definitely scientific matter that belongs properly in a preface or appendix.

Nor is Mr. Robinson free from liability to the charge of carelessness in his writing. For example: He tells us on page 10 that "it was many ages after this time before it dawned upon man anywhere that the male animal played any part in the propagation of species," and on the next page, referring to the length of time certain customs and phenomena had been observed by the primitive characters with whom he is dealing, he writes that they "had continued since the fathers fell asleep." Two pages farther on we come upon the sentence, "There being, then, no knowledge of fatherhood, there were no fathers," and on page 72 this: "Had not their fathers always eaten their meat raw?"

Mr. Robinson's book is interesting as a study, and is almost certain to lead the reader into more or less fascinating speculations along the lines of the story. But it leaves a sense of dissatisfaction, and a wish that he had clung more closely to the story-teller's viewpoint and the individual fortunes of the creature whose name gives the story its title.

Too Bad the Beans Were Lost.

THE DOUBLE LIFE OF MR. ALFRED BURTON. By E. Phillips Oppenheim. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.25 net.

Mr. Oppenheim, who is a very busy and businesslike factory for novels of romance and sensation, here turns his pen to humor; and he does it well indeed, making a mightily interesting story withal. Though his fellow-countryman F. Anstey might have been funnier with the theme, even if not any more entertaining.

Alfred Burton is a cockney auctioneer's clerk—crude, unscrupulous, vulgar as they make 'em, and with a wife and son from the same cloth. While showing a client over a house, in a long-closed room he finds a tiny plant with green leaves and little brown beans. Near by is a scroll on which is written: "He who shall eat of the brown fruit of this tree shall see the things of life and death as they are." He eats a bean, and thereafter, so long as the effects of the bean lasts, he can see nor speak nothing but the truth. He sees his own faults, and the hopelessness of his occupation, his family and his surroundings. He redeems himself, but cannot redeem his family. His faculty for truth-seeing enables him to write brilliant stories and sketches, and he makes plenty of money. He meets and falls in love with a dainty girl, who returns his affection even when she learns of his other life and his family.

But the effects of the bean wear off, and he must eat more. His employer, the cheap and crooked auctioneer, eats also a bean and becomes transformed. But the effects are constantly wearing off, and when they find that to make them permanent they must also eat a leaf from the little tree, the tree is lost.

The parallel between the real people and those that the fruit of the little tree creates is excellently well done, and the transitions make the story lively and interesting from start to finish.

Trailing the "Beast" Again.

THE VISION SPLENDID. By William MacLeod Raine. New York: G. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

Present day writers apparently find an inexhaustible source of inspiration in the relation of Big Business to government and the corrupt influences wielded on the political and social fabric by the apostles of predatory wealth; and Mr. Raine, while handling this well-worn subject in a conventional way, has nevertheless provided quite an interesting story.

Two cousins, Jeff and James K. Farnum, are the people around whom the action revolves. Speaking in familiar terms, Jeff is the progressive and James K. the standpatter. While the one is fighting the powers that pray the other is secretly allying himself with them, yet through it all Jeff unselfishly helps his cousin to financial and political prominence. James K. finally becomes speaker of the legislature at a time when Jeff and his followers are trying to put through a program of progressive measures, and when the test comes the speaker deserts the man to whom he is so much indebted and goes over to the "ring."

At this juncture Jeff is removed from the scene by being "shanghaied" around the world, but escapes in time to return in time to expose the "gang," whose extreme plans prove its undoing. During the fight Jeff converts to his cause the daughter of one of his political enemies, a noted captain of industry, and the story closes with their betrothal. A minor character, a Socialist worker, is introduced in the latter part of the story for the purpose of portraying "The Vision Splendid," which is that perfect condition of harmonized humanity, the world ideal of those who love their fellow-men.

A New Hall Caine Novel.

THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME; Being the Story of Mary O'Neill. By Hall Caine. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott Co. $1.35 net.

Through all the ages the literal interpretation of "whom God hath joined together, let no man put asunder" by the Catholic church has aroused protest. The individual, bound in an unhappy marriage, has striven to escape, but the inflexible rule of the church has held that the individual must suffer for the good of society. Separation in extreme cases, but not absolute divorce and permission to remarry has been held out, but that has not been sufficient to quell the protests.

Hall Caine, in his new novel, has worked out an application of the church's law. It is an extreme case, but its extremity only emphasizes the arguments on both sides. Mr. Caine is fair above all. He allows both sides to be heard. Skillfully, and not unsatisfactorily, he leaves the reader to draw his own conclusions.

Mary O'Neill is the daughter of a power-loving, hard-hearted father. She is taken from a convent in Rome, where she had hoped to remain as a nun, to be forced into marraige with Lord Raa, an irreligious rogue, her father baldly purchasing the title for his private ends. Lord Raa wanted money, not Mary O'Neill, and when she rebels against him, he seeks pleasures apart from her. In her suffering, Mary O'Neill meets a childhood friend, and to him she gives the love she cannot give her husband. A child comes, she flees from her husband and father and endures untold suffering. She finds the law not only of her church but of the land against her. She is offered separation by the church, but that is not sufficient for her needs. Later her husband obtains a divorce, but even then she is not free to marry her lover. She is halted by the unbendable rules of her church, and either must conform to them or stifle conscience and accept ex-communication.

The protest is summed up by Martin Conway, the lover:

"I wonder why these churchmen who talk of the impossibility of putting asunder those whom God has joined together don't begin by asking themselves how and when and where God joins them. Is it in church when they stand before the altar and are asked a few questions and give a few answers? If so, then God is responsible for some of the most shocking transctins that ever disgraced humanity—all the pride and vanity and terrible concubinage that ever covered themselves in every age and are covering themselves still with the cloak of marriage.

"But no, it is not in churches that God marries people. They have got to be married before they go there, or they are never married at all—never. They have got to be married in their hearts—for that's where God joins people together—not in churches and before priests and altars."

But when his problem is solved for him, and personal considerations are removed, Martin Conway sees the church's rule in a new light. The personal note is predominant in his protest. He says:

"I only thought with bitter hatred of the accursed hypocrisy of civilized society which in the names of law and religion had been crushing the life out of the sweetest and purest woman on earth merely because she wished to be 'mistress of herself and sovereign of her soul.'

"What did I care for the future of the world? Or the movement of divine truths? Or the new relations of man and woman in the good time that was to come. Or the tremedous problems of lost and straying womanhood, or the sufferings of neglected children or the tragedies of the whole girlhood of the world? What did I care for anything but my poor martyred darling? The woman God gave me was mine and I could not give her up."

Mr. Caine's book is not one for children. It deals with a tragedy too big for the immature mind, and in his realism Mr. Caine sometimes speaks with brutal frankness, if not with indelicacy. He has advanced powerful arguments against the inflexibility of the Catholic rule, but he has not shut out the Catholic argument. He appeals to sentiment; Father Dan, a character whom one might go a long way to meet, appeals to faith and reason.

The big fault in the book—the big flaw in the argument for divorce—is the weakness of the main character. Mary O'Neill's is not a character to inspire respect or admiration; pity is certain to be aroused in the reader. The weakness which allowed submission to her father does not match well with the bravery she later displayed. Sending Martin Conway to the Antarctic strains a point for literary effect. But the theatrical arrangement of the characters does not detract from the power of the story, and it measures up fully to Mr. Caine's previously published novels.

Here is another pretty tale of the interesting and simple folk of Prince Edward Island, and particularly of the young folk and of a fun-loving group headed by Sara Stanley, the "story girl," who is known well and affectionately by Miss Montgomery's readers. The adventures of the King family, as chronicled in an amateur newspaper aided and abetted by the heathen Peter, with its headline features of the long-expected romance of pretty Aunt Olivia, the return of a prodigal which causes temporary anguish instead of joy, and what happens to the Awkward Man, will give pleasure to young and old.

Love and Industry.

HER HEART'S GIFT. By Oliver Kent. New York: G. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

Everyone likes to see a trust outwitted, especially if it's a very wicked trust that doesn't stop at anything in an effort to gain monopoly. Richard Waller, the hero of Mr. Kent's new book, outwits a trust in a most ingenious manner by building a railroad spur across a mountain. He shows himself to be a real captain of industry, but you have an extremely well founded suspicion that he couldn't have done it if it hadn't been for Nora Lyndon. Nora gave him a wealth of suggestions and in the end she gave him her heart. Nora might just as well have gone through a marriage ceremony in the regular way, but instead she just stood up with him before witnesses and declared that she was his "until love ended." Which shows that Nora had a mind and will of her own.

SWIRLING WATERS. By Max Rittenberg. New York: G. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

There is no season for stories of high finance. If they're well told, and have a heart interest to go with them, they will always have a respectful and enjoyable reading. This is a story of high finance, not very much out of the ordinary, but interesting and well told. Of course the idea of a man of millions voluntarily cutting himself off from them to follow science is stretching a point, but the story wouldn't be much unless the financier was of that calibre. It's a good story as it stands.

A Novelized Play.

BROADWAY JONES. By George M. Cohan and Edward Marshall. New York: G. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

One of the common curses of bookdom, from a literary standpoint, is "novelized" play, but Mr. Marshall has succeeded in getting enough good matter into his filling-in paragraphs to make this book read more like a novel than most of such productions. That the story itself has action is assured by the fact that it formed the basis for one of George M. Cohan's best liked productions. The central figure is Jackson Jones of Jonesville, Conn., who in spite of lack of experience has developed such a penchant for talking about New York's famous street that he has earned the nickname of "Broadway." As he approaches his 22nd birthday he becomes the possessor of a goodly fortune from the estate of his father, a wealthy manufacturer of chewing gum. "Broadway" promptly blows the fortune in New York and runs into debt besides. He gets into matrimonial complications with a widow old enough to be his grandmother, but extremely wealthy. His efforts to recuperate his fortunes and at the same time escape this entanglement furnish much action to the story.

The book furnishes entertaining reading of the "popular" sort.

ESCAPES FROM RUSSIAN PRISON IN SIBERIA TO FIND FREEDOM AS A PORTER IN DULUTH

Boris Fild Arrives in Zenith City After Suffering Unbelievable Hardships in the Snow Covered Wastes of Northern Siberia.

Was Arrested as Revolutionist While Attending College—Hopes to Complete Education and Become an American Citizen.

BORIS FILD.

An escaped fugitive from Siberia, where he was sent two and one-half years ago on a charge of harboring revolutionary thoughts as against the law of the Russian government, Boris Fild, student, philosopher and leader at the age of 23 years, has arrived in America, the land of promise and freedom, and here he hopes to receive an education and later become an American citizen.

Although in this country but two weeks, Boris is now working in this city as a humble porter, hoping against hope that he will be able to complete his education and some day become an able to talk English slightly, but through his education in Latin in the Russian schools, Boris is enabled to read and write exceptionally well.

Born of a prominent family in Southern Russia, Boris was able to receive a far better education than is the lot of the average Jew in Russia. Oftentimes his father was compelled to bribe school officials and his inheritance of nearly 10,000 rubles gradually dwindled away.

Always a bright student and an able thinker, Boris rapidly rose among his fellow students and at the age of 19 he was a junior student in the law department of the University of Odessa. Although denied participation in various institutions and societies of the school, Boris made himself liked and when many of the students, most of whom were of Russian birth, decided to campaign for a new democratic government and to abolish the present atrocities in Russia, the young Jew was made their leader.

Closely Watched.

The news soon spread to the authorities and a close watch was kept on Boris and his associates. Although nothing was done by these young leaders, they were all arrested on the charge that they were harboring thoughts against the policy of the national government. A law makes this a criminal offense, for which the maximum penalty is ten years. After a one-sided hearing, in which the defendants were unable to even present their case, the young men were all banished to Siberia for five years.

This all happened two and one-half years ago, when Boris, 19 years old, with an aged mother and several brothers and sisters at home, was compelled to leave his home and go to Siberia, from which region very few ever come out alive. And now, but two and one-half years later, Boris is in America, a free man, but with the appearance of one who is at least 40 years old.

It was the continual suffering during his confinement in prison, that so aged this young man.

The prisoners, among whom were criminals of the worst type, together with women, were compelled to walk to Siberia while the officers and guards in charge rode their horses. The clothing worn by the prisoners was scanty and during the extreme cold weather several of them died of exposure. Many died of hunger but little food being allowed.

Six Months on Way.

The march to dark Siberia is made in a series of relays, stops being made at the various jails and bastiles along the way. Boris and his companions were compelled to visit thirty jails, it having taken a period of six months before he arrived at his prison. There Boris was given seven rubels a month for his own maintenance, amounting to about $3.50.

The prisoners are allowed to go about in the town which is very carefully guarded by soldiers and police. They are not allowed to practise their own professions or to work at their own trades. Any other kind of work is allowed, however.

With such a small allowance, the prisoners must spend their days in the coldest part of Siberia, the region being in the Arctic circle, with scant clothes and little food.

The conditions in these prison towns are indescribable according to Boris who says that the inhabitants are almost all diseased and the prisoners are compelled to eat and sleep with them.

In an interview with The Herald, Boris tells in the German tongue, his own story of sufferings and what he thinks of his mother country.

Black Spot on Map.

"On the whole map of Europe Russia should be represented by a black spot. The treatment of the lower classes in Russia, besides the Jews, is worse than that accorded the negroes in America before the Civil war. Just think, many of the Russians themselves are mere slaves in this unreasonable and unjust nation. What can you expect of the Russian in his regard of the Jew?

"There is not only one czar in Russia, but thousands of them, each petty policeman and officer being vested with almost absolute authority in his community. That is why it is so extremely perilous to live in Russia and even think of righteousness and one's own God. And these policemen are of the lowest type of men, unlearned, uncouth and murderous, so that it is no wonder hundreds of citizens are often found dead without any reason whatever and their homes burned and property confiscated.

"The lot of the Jew is the worst in Southwestern Russia, that is near Kiev and Odessa. The civilized countries of the world cannot imagine what restrictions are placed upon the Jew, to say nothing of the Russian citizen himself. Hundreds of laws are now in force in Russia just applying to the Jew.

Restricted Districts.

"The Jew cannot live wherever he wishes; he must reside only in restricted communities. And should a wealthy Jew desire to live in Moscow or St. Petersburg he must bribe all the officials, in addition to paying the government a tax of $2,000 a year for himself and family. The sons and daughters become liable to a separate tax after reaching the age of 23 years. In Kiev, for instance, the only Jews allowed to live there are the merchants and professional men. If an ordinary Jew is found living in Kiev he is thrown into prison and his property confiscated.

"But the greatest restriction of all is that regarding education. Can you imagine a country denying education to a people anxious and eager for knowledge? And that is just what Russia is doing and has done for centuries.

"There are very few public schools that allow Jewish pupils, while the restriction is even greater in the high schools and universities.

"Only 10 per cent of the attendance in the gymnasiums or high schools may be Jewish students and then the father of a pupil must always bribe the heads of the institutions. The same situation exists in the universities, while no Jews are allowed to attend the polytechnic schools.

"There are but 2 per cent of the population in St. Petersburg of the Jewish faith and these must pay an annual tax. No Jew is ever allowed to hold municipal office. At this time, however, there are two Jews in the dumas, the national congress, and this because they come from districts wholly populated by Jews. A Jew can never become an officer in the army.

Filthy Jails.

"The reason why I was thrown into prison, is because I happened to think of a just government, a government for and by the people. The filth in these jails is indescribable and whoever goes there and comes back alive, may consider himself fortunate. Most of the prisoners go crazy in these jails, while a great number die of hunger and lack of clothes. There is a train running through Russia, going from Moscow to Vladivostok, but the prisoners are compelled to walk the entire way, while the officers and guards ride on horseback.

"Is it any wonder that a prisoner will take any means to gain his liberty? For weeks and weeks I sat up thinking how I could escape and cross the Russian border into Germany. Luckily, I hid about 200 rubles in the lining of my coat when I was arrested and when the opportunity presented itself over two years after I had been committed to prison. I bribed one of the officials to allow me to escape. I hid in a load of hay that was driven by a peasant out of the city and for four hours sat in there almost smothered to death. I then walked almost across Siberia and back into Russia, where I saw my parents for a few days. By train I rode to the Russian border and paid my way across into Germany, having been compelled to bribe my way out of the country.

Sailed for America.

"After spending several days in Germany I set sail for America, my land of promise, and now I am here, happy and content with the position of a porter, as long as I am free. I hope to continue my studies and to some day graduate from an acknowledged law school. I also have hopes of some day becoming an American citizen."

Boris is extremely intelligent and has a knowledge of art and literature that is astonishing. Incidentally, the young man knows as much about America as the average university student in the United States or Canada.

In giving his opinion of America, Boris said:

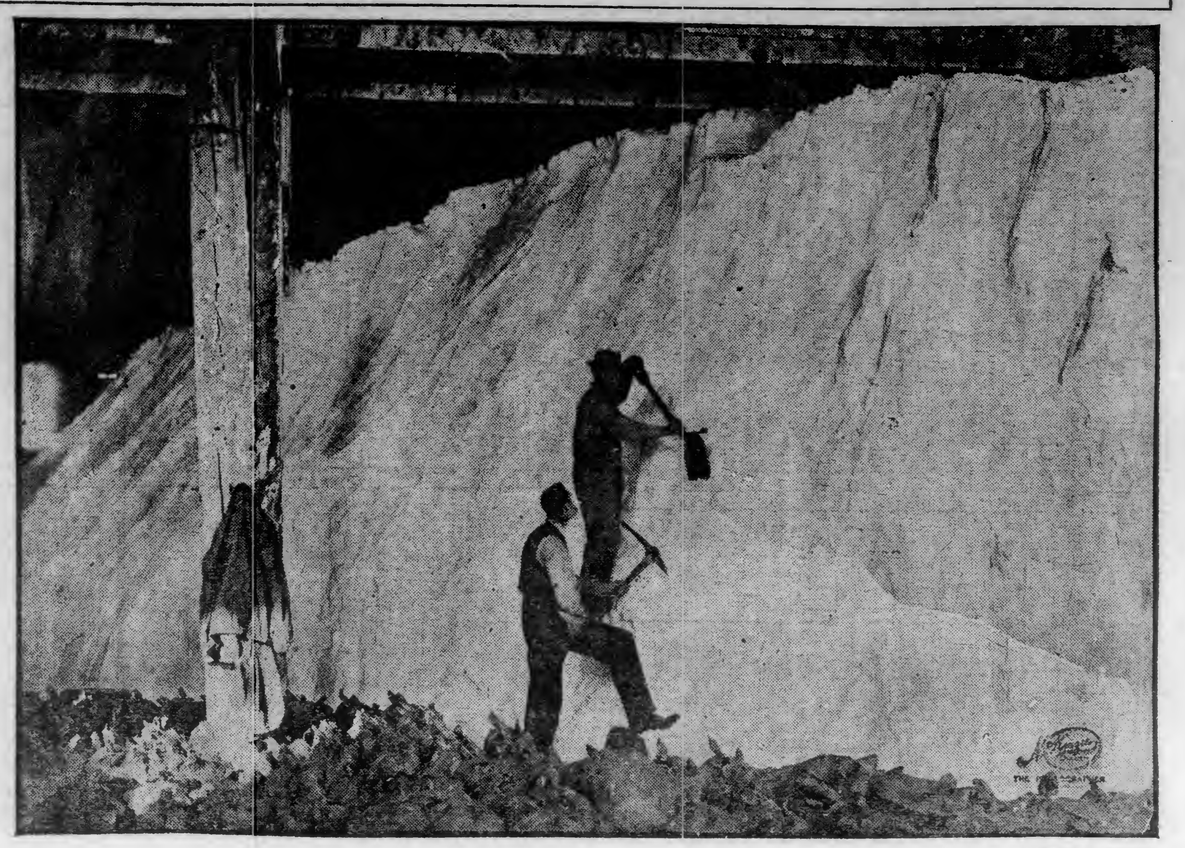

"Your country has made a wonderful gain in commerce and is now leading the world. From now on the United States will develop its art, science and literature and within the next fifty years will become the leader of nations throughout the world. Here will be all the centers of art and literature and here will be the only ideal government.

"For the past century you have brought here the people from every nation on the globe. As soon as these nations intermarry and gradually become as one, then the United States will have reached that point of perfection. This nation is a melting pot, as it were, with the various natives of other lands gradually being boiled into one united force."

At the present time Boris plans to continue his residence in Duluth and to finish his education here, if possible.

SALT USED ON TABLES BUT A SMALL FRACTION OF THE IMMENSE QUANTITIES HANDLED IN DULUTH

HANDLING SALT IN DULUTH.

Salt, almost enough salt, seemingly, to make an ocean out of Lake Superior, is piled in bulk on the docks in Duluth and Superior.

What is the first thing the average man reaches for when he starts his dinner? In nine cases out of ten it is salt. It is the great equalizer of all tastes and it is the cheapest thing on the table.

Salt costs less than spring water. The cost in large lots is about $4.50 per ton, less than coal also.

The salt shown in the picture is piled up on the dock of the D. C. Cutler company at the foot of Tenth avenue west. This salt comes to Duluth in bulk in boats and is handled with clams the same as coal. The salt is of good quality and the finer the quality the less it costs the consumer. The rock salt, which comes in big chunks, costs more than the fine product, although it takes less work to produce it.

Most of the salt used in the Northwest and Middle West is shipped through Duluth. It is packed here in sacks and cartons and shipped to the jobbers.

If the salt men had to rely on the salt used in the household they could make one ton go all around the city. There are ten thousand tons in the pile shown in the picture and that is being rapidly moved. When that is gone another boat load will be dumped on the dock.

Besides the salt used on the table there are several classes of industries that use salt in large quantities. The street car company buys salt by the ton every winter to keep the switches from freezing. The railroad companies buy the salt for the same reason. Then comes the ice cream factories. They use large amounts of salt. The tanneries also are big salt users and stock raisers by large amounts.

If salt was not used on tables the salt dealers would hardly notice the difference.

FAMOUS ACTRESS LOSES 70 LBS. OF FAT

Texas Guinan, Star of the "Passing Show" Company, Offers Her Own Marvelous New Treatment to Fat Folks

NEW TREATMENT GIVES ELEGANCE OF FIGURE AND STARTLING RESULTS QUICKLY

If You Are Fat and Want to Be Thin, You Can Reduce as Many Pounds as You Desire By This Astonishing New Method

As Texas Guinan had to perform at the matinee it seemed the easiest thing in the world to arrange an interview without consulting her. The vigilant stage doorkeeper was easily passed. The dressing room was hospitably turned open by a maid, and then—well, Miss Guinan, that is, what is left of her, appeared.

"So you have come to learn the story of my weight reduction, have you?" said Texas in her breezy style, with her glorious countenance beaming in smiles at her supreme gladness, realizing how appreciative the world was in bestowing admiration and applause upon her, all on account of the new glory of her form which she transformed almost as if by magic with her own marvelous new treatment.

"While you are not going to get away with my secret," said Texas, "it is true that my seventy pounds of weight reduction was brought about with my own delightful treatment, but it cost me a pretty sum of money to learn of it, and I am not giving my secret of how I lost my weight free to reporters, but I have written a book telling all about this wondrous new treatment which rescued me from the thralldom of fat. This book has just come off the press and is offered free to fat burdened men and women, as I early learned in life that the only way to know happiness was to give it to others, and if by letting the world know of this harmless, quick method of reducing weight I can do a great good, then I will feel that I have not lived in vain."

"But won't you give me an inkling of its component parts? Just a suggestion as to what it is, or will I have to be content to read your free book telling all about it?"

"That is exactly it," said Texas, "but I don't mind telling you what the treatment is not. It does not consist of internal drugs or medicine; there is nothing to take internally. Neither is there any pink colored camphor water, or worthless, harmful stuff to rub on the body. There is no sweating, no bandages, no Turkish baths. The treatment does not consist of a single exercise or physical culture of any description. There is no diet. One may absolutely eat all the food they desire of any kind, and go right on reducing without depriving themselves in any way.

"There are no enemas or flushing of the colon, no harmful massaging, no sweating garments to wear, no immerging yourself in hot baths with the tub filled with obesity water or epsom salts, nor does it include any medical concoction of any doctor, and it has nothing to do with any drug store prescription to have filled. There is no formula to carry out, no soaps to rub on the skin; neither is it a religious faith cure or Christian Science stunt. It is not a vibratory electric massage treatment, mental suggestion—no, and it is not a belt or mechanical device of any kind.

"I have tried many such fakes. I tried drugs, pills, capsules, harmful concoctions to rub on the body. I have tried sweating and taking Turkish baths, exercising, physical culture and everything known to science without result, and without losing weight. As I was about to despair and give up in disgust all further efforts to reduce my enormous weight, which was two hundred and four pounds, I, by lucky accident, learned of the most simple, harmless, rapid, safest fat reducing treatment on earth. I tried it on myself with astonishing results. My friends stood aghast in amazement, marveling at the wondrous change in my appearance. My fat just rolled away. After the first three days I noticed it beginning to leave me. My reduction grew greater and greater until finally, I was almost appalled with delight when I realized the stupendous success of my efforts and when I awoke to the fact that I had reduced 70 pounds of my fat without leaving a wrinkle, and the glory of my new figure and the grace and beauty of my curves gave me the admiration of the world. I enjoyed the triumph of my life and the success of my whole career when my manager, Mr. Shubert, on account of my glorious new figure, made me the star of the 'Passing Show,' and mind you, this very same manager had said I was doomed to oblivion just a short time before when I tipped the scales at two hundred and four pounds. I was crushed and bewildered when he told me he could not give me a part in the 'Passing Show' unless I could reduce my enormous weight, and my heart hangs heavy with the memory of the fat days that are gone when my fat, ungainly figure made me realize that I was doomed to despair and failure.

"My success in reducing my own fat proves that there is no such word as 'fail.' I simply would not be resigned to my fate, and although everyone said Texas, there is no way out of your dilemma,' and told me that no fat reducing specialist could reduce my weight, I determined not to give up in despair, with the result that I absolutely conquered my fat. My new, great book on obesity, which gives full particulars of my simple, safe, quick, harmless fat reducing treatment, is now ready and will be sent free to all who wish to reduce their weight any number of pounds."

It is simply astonishing the furor this new treatment is causing among the intimate friends of Miss Guinan to whom she has given it. A letter from the world's most famous dancer, La Petite Adelaide, says: "Dear Miss Guinan: Let me congratulate you upon the high excellence of your remarkable new obesity treatment, which I find reduces me as rapidly as I desire. Sincerely, Adelaide." Other letters of praise and gratitude are pouring in to Miss Guinan from all parts of the country from those who have reduced with her successful treatment. Louise Brunelle, the Quaker maid, one of the earth's greatest beauties, states she lost 10 pounds the first week with this astonishing new treatment. It is said this remarkable treatment is not unlike the treatment used by the court ladies and famous actresses of the Old World, who have been using a similar remedy throughout Europe, and the remarkable thing is that Texas Guinan is the first to introduce it in America. Her free book, which is now ready for distribution, should be requested by all who desire quick reduction. It is written in a fascinating style. It explains how, by her treatment, Texas Guinan, who is acknowledged America's most successful star, reduced her own weight seventy pounds, and conquered the monster FAT.

This glorious little woman is doing her utmost to benefit fat men and women who are in need of a perfect home treatment. Everything will be sent to you in a perfectly plain package so that in your own room, away from all prying eyes, you may plan to reduce your weight at once. Miss Guinan wants to help all who are burdened with superfluous fat, and thereby make life really worth while.

Write her at once, and learn the anguish she felt when her girlish beauty started to develop to abnormal proportions. Read of the tears she wept when that monster "fat" made her realize that she must give up her profession and fade into oblivion. Learn how she experimented, how she tried everything and, finally, with patient effort and determination she conquered her fat. Learn of these things so you may improve your own form and destroy your own fat so it will not be longer necessary for you to suffer the jibes and sneers of others. Remember there is no exercising or physical culture of any description in her treatment, no harmful massage or worthless poison body lotions. You may eat as many meals daily as you desire and go right on rapidly reducing. A most astonishing part of this fat reducing treatment is that it does not produce wrinkles or leave the skin flabby. All who have been dieting and starving themselves, trying to reduce their weight, and who have been taking exercises and internal baths and who have been taking internal and external remedies should write for a copy of her great FREE book entitled "RAPID WEIGHT REDUCTION WITHOUT EXERCISE, DIET OR INTERNAL REMEDIES," so that you may start to reduce your burdensome fat as rapidly as you desire. Simply write a brief letter or a postcard and ask for her new book. Everything will be sent absolutely free. Do not send any money, because it is absolutely free.

Faculty Appointments to Athletic Board---Scandinavian Classes Popular---Seniors Hold Class Meeting ---Civic Pride---The Zenith Board's Problem.

Principal Leonard Young has made his faculty appointments to the athletic board of control. Mr. Schilling will again serve as faculty manager of athletics and Mr. Phillips as faculty treasurer. Mr. Hiestand and Mr. Young are the other members. The officers of the Students' Athletic association complete the membership of the board of control.

* * *

* * *

The popularity of the Swedish and Norwegian classes has gone beyond expectations. More than forty with the Swedish and over thirty have applied for Norwegian. Prof. Victor L. Erickson, a graduate student of the University of Minnesota, has been secured to give these courses and will also have charge of classes in commercial geography and physiography.

* * *

The seniors were the first to start off the new school year with a class meeting, Monday at the close of school. The election of officers brought out a large and edthusiastic membership of the class. The following officers were elected: President, Oliver Vivian; vice president, Miss Mary McLean; secretary, Miss Lucile Biebermann; treasurer, Roderick Dunn; sergeants-at-arms, Charles Whiteside and Chauncey Larson; class artist, Miss Beatrice Forsythe; class historian, Miss Dorothy Hopkins.

Considerable interest is aroused among the students regarding the splendid opportunity which is to be extended to them to join the Matinee Musical society at special rates. The convenience of the programs which are to be given at the Masonic temple ought to be an extra inducement. As no admission charge can be made at the door, a representative of the society will be at the high school next Friday and the students will be given an opportunity to secure a membership. Application blanks are in the hands of Mr. Custance and Mr. Hiestand, and must be made out in order to secure the rates.

Principal Young gave a short, timely talk in chapel on Friday morning in regard to the civic pride movement which is sweeping the nation, and made an application of the same to conditions of order, cleanliness and beauty about the high school. Mr. Young pointed out that many visitors to Central high draw at least a part of their conclusions from external appearances, and that conditions about the campus, corridors, classrooms and assembly hall are largely a matter within the control of the student body.

There will be no chapel on Monday morning owing to the necessity of leaving the students turn in their permanent programs of study at that time. The seating of the assembly hall for the seven periods of the day is always held up until this is done.

* * *

An enthusiastic meeting of the Stump Literary society was held at the close of school Thursday. A lively debate was indulged in when the various sections of the new constitution were read for approval. President Oliver Vivian and Secretary Jacob Garon spoke of the prospects of the work and urged the prospective new members to get into the game early. Prof. Stenberg, who has charge of the debating work, does not expect to devote much time to parliamentary drill which occupied so much time last year. A program committee consisting of Jacob Garon, George MacFarline and Stanley Laskey, will schedule the debates and extemporaneous speeches. The membership of the society will be limited as to numbers, and from the interest shown there will be no trouble in starting the work with a full membership. The following were present: Alex Anderson, Wilbert Anderson, Harold Coe, Morris Litman, H. Silk, W. Hoover, D. Segal, Max Donaeur, Max Goldberg, George MacFarline, Emmanuel Stook, Skull Hrutleford, George Cooper, Sam Gogen, Charles Durs, John Hubert, Neil Upham, Stanely Laskey, Williard Thorpe, Leo Moerke, Allan Heyt, John Fesler, Kenneth Jones, Gustav Moisan, George Sullivan, Jacob Garon and Oliver Vivian.

The Senior Zenith board, on whose shoulders rests the burden of placing before the students a publication which must compare favorably with its predecessor, has come up aginst the hardest problem of the year. How to produce a first-rate publication for $1,000 is more than the board can solve at the present time. Principal Leonard Young came before the Zenith board and explained the recent action of the school board in the matter. Much comment and criticism was aroused over the publication of the 1912 Zenith, the cost of which was enough in itself to justify a change of policy in future publications. And now the ax has fallen on the 1913 Zenith board. The 1912 Zenith cost about $2,000 and this expenditure the school board proposes to cut in two. In order to bring about a closer faculty supervision, it is proposed that Miss Wilhelmina Case, class advisor, and Leonard Young, principal, serve on the board together with James F. Taylor of the faculty, who will act as treasurer.

The Zenith board at a recent meeting confined themselves to ways and means of overcoming their difficulties. It is thought by the members of the Zenith board that a reasonable reduction can be made in the price of publication, the 1912 Zenith costing approximately $1.80 per copy and not including the engraving. Supposing the demand would justify the publication of 750 copies at a cost of only 85 cents, this would amount to $637.50. The engraving of 160 half tones, pictures of the graduates, would cost $240, leaving only $122.50 to cover all other items of expense and make no allowance for any other pictures. It is hoped that some satisfactory basis can be reached at once as the Zenith board is anxious to proceed with definite facts before it. The facts themselves reveal the difficulties of the problem which confronts the senior class.

On Thursday the football candidates were given a careful physical examination by Dr. C. H. Schroeder, one of the medical inspectors of the city schools. Supt. Denfeld regards this examation as very essential to the welfare of the boys and hereafter it will become a part of the athletic policy of the high school. Dr. Schroeder remarked that from the type of young manhood present the school should have no trouble in selecting fine material for athletic teams. None of the boys were disqualified from football, although several showed minor defects over which care and supervision will be given.

* * *

The first junior class meeting will be held next Monday at the close of school in the assembly hall. Election of officers and other important matters will be considered.

* * *

Much interest was aroused in chapel Friday morning for the opening game of the football schedule. Student Manager Floyd Lawson, recently elected by the board of control, gave a short speech and urged all to be present at the Duluth-Central-Alumni game, which is being played this afternoon. Mr. Custance with the assistance of the rejuvenated choir followed with some of the old-time stirring football songs.

* * *

Central plays her first important game of the season today against the all-star alumni team under the leadership of Manager Whitney Wall, Jr. Whitney has secured some of the best talent in the Northwest and Central should gain some valuable experience from the crafty ones of the days of yore.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Registration Lighter Owing to the Higher Entrance Requirements.

Several Receptions for the Freshmen Planned for Next Week.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The university year was formally opened Wednesday noon, when the faculty and the entire student body gathered at the Armory for the annual convocation. At the suggestion of President Vincent, the 3,000 students present rose and gave the Chautauqua salute at the presentation of the new deans, Dean E. P. Lyon of the medical school, formerly of St. Louis university, and Dean Ford of the graduate school, formerly of the University of Illinois. In his address President Vincent spoke of college unity, the furtherance of high ideals through the year, and especially the ideal of service which each individual student owes to the commonwealth of Minnesota.

Lighter Registration.

Registration in the university as a whole is reported to be considerably lighter than last year. The most noticeable decrease is in the college of science, literature and arts. Although no exact figures will be available for several days, it is thought by those in charge at the registrar's office that the registration of freshmen in the academic college will be at least 100 less than a year ago. Preliminary reports show an increase of attendance in the school of mines and in the college of agriculture. The reason for the decrease in the attendance in the liberal arts course is assigned to the fact that, according to the new curriculum under which incoming freshmen are required to register the entrance requirements have been raised considerably over those of former years. It is now necessary for incoming freshmen to present credentials from high or preparatory schools showing a higher grade of work than is required in most universities of the West. Formerly, merely a high school diploma was required, while now a student must have an average of eighty or above in all his high school work. Students with conditions are no longer permitted to enter.

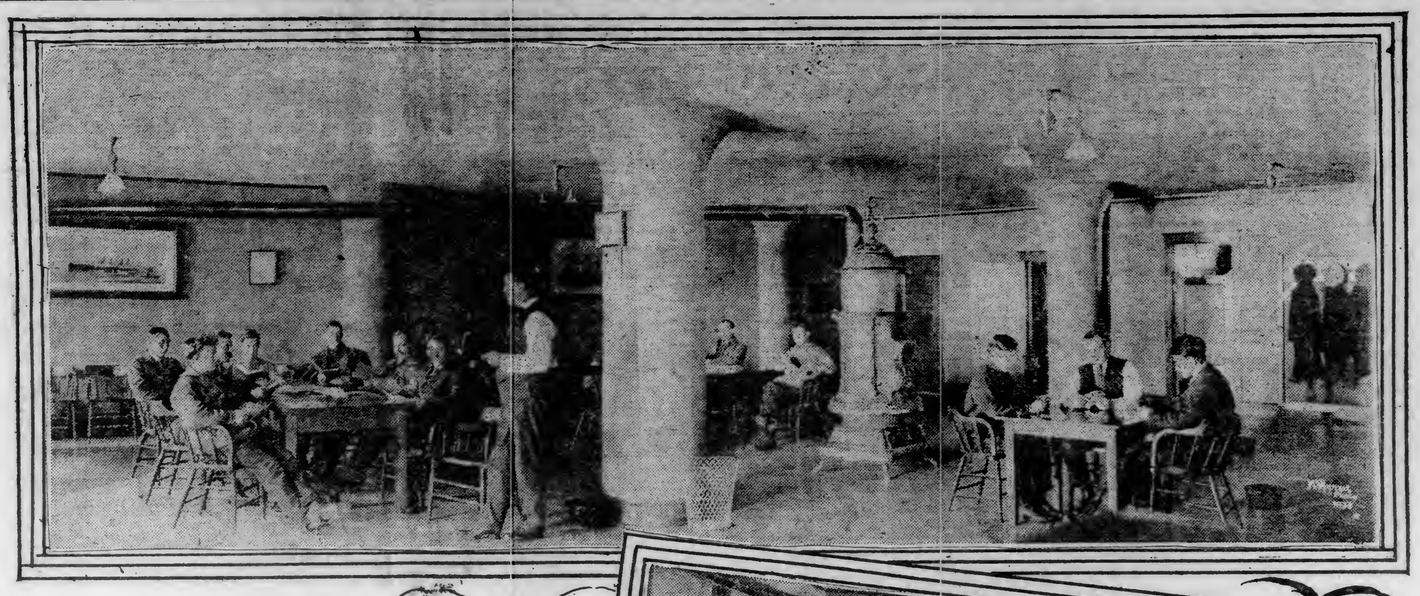

Reception for Freshmen.

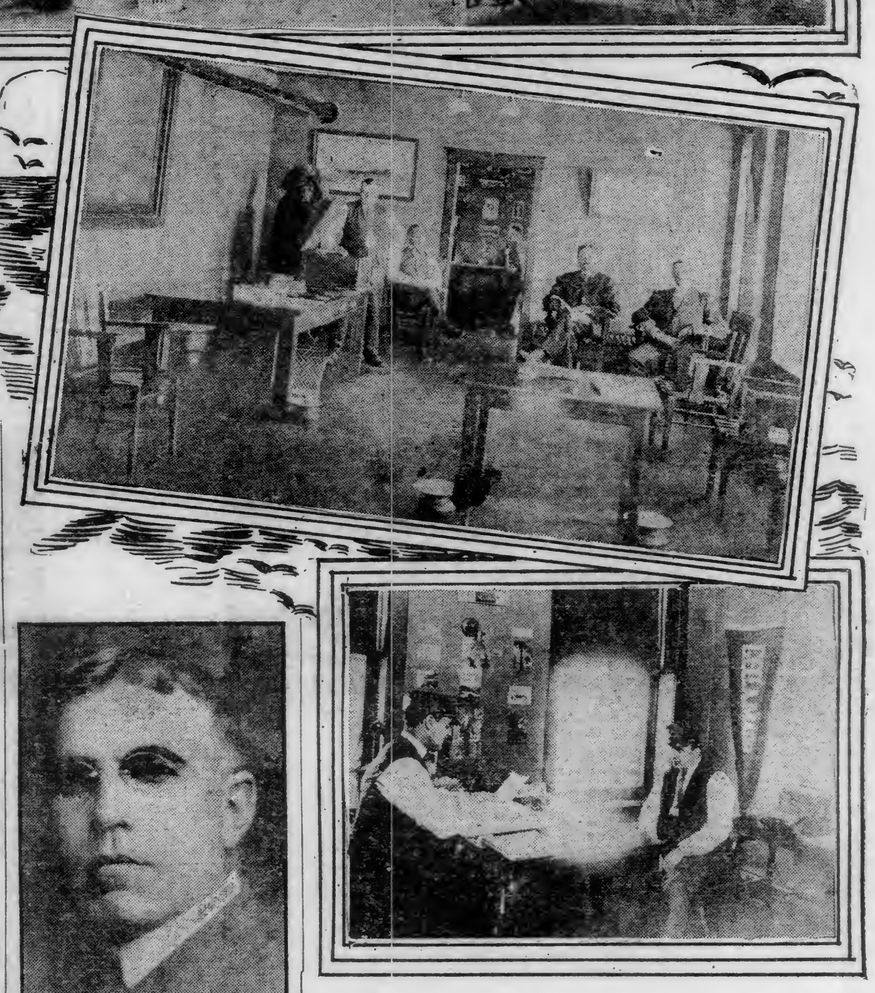

Judging from the number of receptions which have been planned for them, the freshmen will soon have an intimate knowlege of college life. President and Mrs. Vincent have invited all out-of-town students to an afternoon tea and reception at their home next Tuesday. It is Dr. Vincent's earnest wish to get in personal touch with as many of the new members of the university community as possible and that the new members in turn may get to know the administration officer. A reception in Shevlin hall on Saturday afternoon will afford a splendid opportunity for first-year girls to meet the upper classwomen, and also for them to become acquainted with members of their own class. On Saturday night the Y. M. C. A. has planned a stag party for the new students of the university.

Pledges for Sororities.

Wednesday being pledge day for the sororities, considerable excitement was evident among the members of the various chapters on the campus. Twenty bids were sent out by Dean Sweney Tuesday afternoon and the answers were to be received Wednesday between the hours of 4 and 6. This year the rules prohibiting the pledging of freshmen girls went into effect and as a result only twenty bids were sent out by all the sororities and these were confined largely to sophomores and post-graduates. The complete list of pledges is not yet available, and up to the present time the name of no Duluth girl has appeared.

HOW LIFE ASHORE IS MADE PLEASANT AND ENJOYABLE FOR THE MEN WHO OPERATE THE BIG FREIGHT BOATS

GEORGE A. MARR,
Secretary of Lake Carriers' Association.

G. ASHLEY TOMLINSON,
Resident Director of Lake Carriers' Association.

Among other features of the Duluth-Superior harbor unexcelled by any others is the assembly rooms of the Lake Carriers' association here. These rooms are located at the foot of Fifth avenue west on the bay front.

The clubrooms are maintained for the use of sailors on the Great Lakes. The men are welcomed to these clubrooms, where they can read, play cards, attend Sunday entertainments and do other things while they are waiting to get positions on the lake boats.

In the association rooms are shower baths, card tables, reading tables, baggage room and other accommodations for the men.

W. A. Bourke is commissioner for the association in Duluth. He has active charge of the office and assembly rooms. G. A. Tomlinson, a member of the executive board, has charge of the Lake Superior district of the association and he is the man directly responsible for the magnificent rooms placed at the disposal of the sailors.

In other ports the association maintains assembly rooms, but there are none so fine as the club in Duluth.

On Sunday afternoons during the summer there is always some kind of a religious service or a musical program for the men. Among the men who have conducted meetings in the assembly rooms are Maj. Darling of the United States engineers' office, Capt. Swenson of the United States hydrographic office, various speakers from the Y. M. C. A. and leaders in other religious organizations.

The Lake Carriers' association is the outgrowth of the old Cleveland Vessel Owners' association. The present association was formed twenty-two years ago and now has a membership representing 420 boats in the ore and coal trade. Six years ago the association was made into a stock company. The aim of the association is to work for the best interests of the sailors and the owners. The association as an organization, however, has nothing to do with rates or other money matters that concern the individual owners.

The association here works with the Bethel home and has given financial assistance to that institution. The Bethel, in turn, offers a haven for sailors who are out of work.

In furnishing work for the sailors the association does not insist on a man's being right in the assembly room to get his position. If the applicant for work leaves a telephone number that will reach him, the commissioner's office will call him when he is wanted on a ship. This gives the man looking for work a chance to try in several places.

The association has a welfare plan whereby it insures the sailors against injury or death, regardless of the many legal claims the injured might bring against the owners of the boats.

Commissioner Bourke has instituted classes among the men in the assembly room. In one of the pictures above the men are seen studying civics. Studies pertaining to navigation are also taken up by the men.

WOMEN'S WORK AND CRIME

Is Modern Industry Dangerous to Woman's Character?

By MAUDE E. MINER,
Secretary, New York Probation and Protective Association, Formerly Probation Officer in the Night Court, New York.

(Exclusive Service THE SURVEY Press Bureau.)

"Is the trend of modern industry dangerous to the character of woman?" "As an indistinguishable unit in the industrial hosts of today, is she more or less anti-social in thought and deed than as an isolated worker under the simpler conditions of the past?"

These questions are asked and considered in a report which Miss Mary Conyngton made for the Federal government on the relation between occupation and criminality of women. It is part of the investigation concerning woman and child wage earners in the United States, prepared under the direction of former Labor Commissioner Charles P. Neill. Miss Conyngton endeavors to give answer to the questions from a study of women offenders.

The conclusion is that the widening of the industrial sphere of woman has not been accompanied by a proportionate increase in criminality, but as far as change is perceptible, it is toward a diminution of legal offenses.

Statistics were obtained from 3,229 women offenders in six different states who had ben convicted of some offense. An analysis of 1,962 of the 3,229 offenders, who had been gainfully employed, shows that 77.52 per cent had been engaged in domestic or personal service; 16.67 per cent in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits; 3.31 per cent in trade and transportation, and .66 per cent in professional work. Comparing these percentages with the percentage of women in different occupational pursuits throughout the country as given in the United States census for 1900, it was found that a disproportionate number, varying from twice to six times its representation, come from the ranks of domestic and personal service; that manufacturing and mechanical pursuits do not furnish their full share and that trade and transportation, including all store and office work, produce only a small fraction of their proportionate share of offenders.

Inquiry as to the earliest occupations of the offenders in 627 cases indicates that no proportion of offenders beginning in the higher occupational pursuits fall back into the ranks of domestic and personal service, and a study of individual cases shows that those who pass from one occupational group to another remain for the most part on the same industrial plane, thus controverting the theory that any considerable number of women beginning in the higher occupuations seek to conceal their past by classing themselves as domestic workers.

The great bulk of women offenders who come repeatedly into the courts or who offend in such a way as to show criminality are divided according to this report into three classes—moral imbeciles, mentally defective and low grade women who are in the main uneducated mentally, untrained industrially and undeveloped morally. Because domestic and low grade factory work draw the low grade workers, domestic pursuits yield a large proportion of those who violate the laws. The newer occupations, it is reasoned, show far less than their proportion of women offenders because they attract the better grade of workers and because they exercise upon these women restraining influences. At the same time that there are more temptations there are also present more safeguards against these temptations. It is inferred that so far as increased industrial opportunity has had any effect it has been in the direction of greater respect for law and that the apparent decrease of criminality among women is not only an accompaniment but in part a consequence of their wider industrial opportunities.

An inquiry in regard to the relationship between occupation and immorality and the study of the cases of 100 women who were leading lives of professional immorality, leads the investigator to conclude that there is little connection between occupation or want and immorality. As a result of interviewing those who work with women who have been leading immoral lives, the investigator states that not one person consulted gave occupational influences as a leading cause of immorality, and only two laid particular stress on them as subsidiary causes, also that not one worker assigned poverty or low wages as a direct or immediate cause of immorality. In the whole inquiry only five cases were found in which the worker reporting them believed that the women had been driven into wrong doing by want. Four classes of women are considered—the unmarried mother, the girl who leaves and regains the accepted path without any general knowledge of her deviation, the occasional prostitute and the professionally immoral woman. Of the women who had been leading professionally immoral lives, a larger number were employed as waitresses than in any other occupation, and the wrong doing of the members of this group was found to be due not to the temptations in this occupation, but to the fact that the girls were non-moral or actively immoral. Causes assigned for the immorality of 100 women include betrayal and desertion and unfortunate home conditions; a large number are classed as weak or vain or fond of excitement or indolent or easily influenced, and others as moral perverts. These results are taken to show that the downfall of women was due to causes operative long before they entered the industrial world and that the entrance of these women into industry was not responsible for the existence of their immoral tendencies and did not furnish in the majority of cases the occasion for their manifestation.

Although the conclusions are based on a small number of cases and little data and it is not always apparent that they are clearly deducible from the facts given, they are in general accord with the findings of those who have studied the problem of the immoral woman closely. It is true that domestic service and low grade factory work attract the low grade workers and that the percentage of offenders coming from dometsic pursuits is due to this rather than to the dangers of domestic service. The occupational influence is small in comparison with other influences in causing women to enter upon an immoral life, but the importance of the economic factor as an indirect influence and as it affects the homes from which the girls have come, cannot be overlooked. While it would seem that too much emphasis is laid upon the "actively vicious" type, there is recognition of the hereditary and mental causes which are responsible for the waywardness of members of this group. The lack of proper home influence and training is fully recognized as an important factor.

The course of study in the Alabama normal schools is to be radically changed to include such subjects as: Rural sociology, biology, domestic science, domestic art, literary methods, school gardening and agriculture through club work.

FATAL BRAWL AT CASS LAKE

Bartender Dan Lilly Killed By a Vicious Patron.

Slayer John Lloyd Taken to Walker Jail for Safety.

Cass Lake, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lloyd, who shot and almost instantly killed Dan Lilly, a local bartender, last night, is now in the county jail at Walker, safe from possible attack by Lilly's angry friends.

Lloyd and another man were having an argument in Marschik's saloon and talked of shooting each other, when Lilly stepped between them and told them to "cut it out." He then led Lloyd to the door, when Lloyd turned and fired at Lilly, but missed the first shot. Then Lilly grabbed Lloyd and in the scuffle Lloyd fired two more shots, one landing in the stomach and the other near the heart. Death resulted in a few minutes.

Lilly was well liked by all and had a nice family, leaving a wife and five children, the smallest about 9 months old. He was assistant chief of the fire department and president of the relief association.

When the news of the killing spread around town there was at first a good dealing of feeling and some talk of lynching, but there was no serious attempt made towards mob violence.

Lloyd came here from Crookston yesterday and nothing is known of him. He is a farm hand.

HANCOCK GIANT HAD NINE-FOOT CASKET

Eight Men Required to Handle Body of "Big Louie."

Hancock, Mich., Sept. 20.—The funeral of "Big Louie" Moilanen took place yesterday afternoon at the Finnish church. The casket was made to special order and is said to be the largest ever turned out. When the telegram giving the measurements was received, the factory thought a mistake had been made and wired Mr. Crawford for a confirmation. The outside measurements are 8 feet, 10½ inches in length, 3 feet, 2 inches in width and 22 inches in depth. The casket weighs close to 300 pounds. This is double the weight of the average casket. It required eight men to lift the body into the coffin.

It is doubtful if even those who had known "Big Louie" for several years were acquainted with the young giant's actual size. Information procured through measurements taken by Undertaker Crawford yesterday follows:

Height—8 feet, 1 inch.
Weight—400 pounds.
Shoulder width—2 feet.
Chest measurement—40 inches.
Waist measurement—38 inches.
Length inside leg—3 feet, 3 inches.
Length of foot—13 inches.
Arm length from shoulder to elbow—1 foot, 6 inches.
Frow elbow to wrist—1 foot, 2 inches.
From wrist to end of index finger—11 inches.
Glove measurement—12 inches.
Thigh measurement—24 inches.
Calf of leg—1 foot, 5 inches.
Arm at muscle—1 foot, 2¼ inches.
Length of face from chin to forehead—1 foot, 1½ inches.
Neck measurement—1 foot, 6 inches.

ECZEMA ITCHED TERRIBLY ON HANDS

White Little Spots, Scratching Made Them Worse, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

1261 Marion Place, Chicago, Ill. — "I had eczema for four or five years. One day I came into the house and saw some white little spots coming out on my hands. A week later I saw that the spots began opening and in their places came deep holes. Later it took the form of some red little spots. Those spots itched me terribly and every night when I was asleep I always used to scratch and make the spots worse and made some new spots. The trouble caused loss of sleep. My hands cost my father a fortune.

"I used remedies for three and one-half years but they made me worse. I used ———, which helped a little bit, but in a day or two it got worse; also ———. Later on I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment two times a day, in the morning and at night before going to sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment afforded relief in one or two weeks, and it only took two months before the cure was complete." (Signed) Clement Levinson, Nov. 22, 1912.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the toilet, bath and nursery, because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

NEW EFFORT TO IDENTIFY THE "MAN OF MYSTERY" AT ROCHESTER

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banks of Baltimore have been asked to aid the local state hospital authorities and the state board of control in the search for relatives or acquaintances of "J. R. R.", the so-called "man of mystery," whose presence in the institution since he was sent here in April, 1908, has for the past eighteen months furnished plenty of material for speculation in the press. Dr. Arthur Kilbourne, the superintendent of the hospital, today mailed letters to all the banks in the Monumental city giving a brief history of the case and the claim of "J. R. R." that he had money in one of the banks when he was robbed and thrown from a train near Waseca in June, 1907, since which time he has been paralyzed on his left side and unable to say much more than "Aye-he," "Aye" and "Hi," although indicating by signs that he understands much of what is said in his presence.

The superintendent hopes that the newest move in the unique case may bear fruit, despite the rule of banks against furnishing information about deposits, especially those of dead or missing people. "Aye-he," as the hospital authorities refer to the unknown is a tractable patient and is given the freedom of the grounds under limited restrictions. The treppining of his skull several months ago, when about an inch square of the bone was lifted out of place and a large cyst that was pressing on his brain removed, never brought the results expected although it appeared to give temporary relief. For a time he seemed quite bright in his peculiar way but science seems to have failed to furnish noticeable relief. "Aye-he" had a sort of spasm Thursday, the first since the operation, but several hours afterwards he appeared the same helpless enigma as ever and the hospital doctors do not believe its effects were by any means ill. There is a sheaf of letters in the superintendent's office, four inches thick, from all points in the world from people inquiring about missing relatives, which indicates what publicity can do as "J. R. R." would never have been in the public eye the way he is if the press had not taken up the matter.

"J. R. R.," OR "AYE-HE."

SLAYER AN INMATE OF THREE ASYLUMS

Fred Mitchell, Who Killed Fisher at Lakota, a Former Lunatic.

Lakota, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Mitchell, who recently shot and killed Frank Fisher in this city, is a former inmate of the Rochester, Minn., asylum for the insane, being committed from Minneapolis in 1909 and remaining there about a year. Also, Mitchell, who will be removed tomorrow from a Devils Lake hospital to the Ramsey county jail, he having recovered sufficiently from self-inflicted wounds to permit of the removal, has been an inmate of the Mandota, Wis., asylum, and the Miles City, Mont., asylum. He was in the Miles City hospital in 1907, and in the Wisconsin asylum in 1908.

Sheriff Smart of Nelson county, who has been investigating Mitchell's career, has traced him back that far, but beyond there he has been unable to secure any information concerning him.

Mitchell, fighting with Frank Fisher, another member of a pot gang near this city, charging that the latter had mixed rotten eggs in the morning mess, shot and instantly killed Fisher, riddling his body with five bullets.

Several minutes later, after determining that Fisher was dead, Mitchell stood over the body of his victim and fired a bullet into his own body. The shot, however, failed to strike the mark, glancing on a rib and encircling his body, lodging in the fleshy part of his back.

Officials have sought to establish Fisher's connections, but have been unable to do so. He was supposed to have been the missing son of a Tucson, Ariz., millionaire, but investigations along that line failed to establish the relationship. Fisher spent considerable time during the last few years at Sioux City, Iowa, but officials of the Iowa city could not locate any relatives or interested parties.

Within a few days Mitchell will be brought to Lakota and decision as to the disposition of his case will be made at that time.

NORTH DAKOTA KEEN FOR THE WONDERLAND TRAIL

GEORGE K. MUNRO,
Road Enthusiast.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.) — Wonderland trail, the new automobile highway stretching half way across the American contintent, will be one of the finest highways in the entire country, so far as North Dakota is concerned, as a result of the missionary work of George K. Munro, who has just completed a trip over the entire route.

Mr. Munro, as the emissary of the Grand Forks Commercial club, which organization founded the new highway and is promoting its development, established local associations in each county in the state. While in Ward he was successful in bringing about the organization of three local clubs which will take charge of sections of the highway through that district.

The Wonderland trail has its eastern terminus in Duluth and the Twin Cities and extends to the Pacific coast, following the right-of-way of the Great Northern for practically the entire distance.

Montana and Idaho already have organized divisions to handle the road improvement work, while Washington also will have an association soon.

The route is picturesque. In Montana one of the features is a drive through an abandoned tunnel over a grade formerly maintained by the Great Northern, but which has been dedicated to the use of the autoists.

One of the first to make the trip over the road was Robert Griffith of Osnabrock, N. D., who came from Washington in ten days, experiencing little difficulty in crossing the Rockies.

Mr. Munro, in his organization work, established associations in Grand Forks, Nelson, Ramsey, Benson, Pierce, McHenry, Ward, Mountrail, and William counties.

NUMBER OF CHURCHES MAY BE REDUCED

N. D. Congregationalists to Consider Consolidation in Rural Sections.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the matters to come up before the state conference of the Congregationalists here next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be that of consolidation of churches in the rural sections and small villages. For years this organization has favored fewer and better churches and has always stood willing to co-operate with other denominations in such combinations in order to avoid too many churches and making the religious work too great a burden on the small communities.

The church has grown rapidly in North Dakota during the past year and the different officials will have many especially interesting features to report. Local committees have completed arrangements for the reception of the visitors and the conference, it is expected, will be largely attended.

INDIAN MAIDS JUST LOVE THE "BUNNY HUG."

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The duckling glide, the bunny hug, the grizzly, the tango, the turkey trot and a few of the dances that have not yet been adopted by real society, were danced with a vim by fair Indian maids of the Fort Totten Indian reservation at a big dance given by the Sam Crow Dancing club, at which Charles Smith and W. K. Nimmo, both of this city, were the special guests.

The dance was given preliminary to the Fort Totten Indian fair, and both Smith and Nimmo say the Indian maids are right up to date on the new dances.

Red women have adopted society's latest fads in the matter of dances, and can exemplify them to perfection.

IRONWOOD TO HAVE A NEW SAWMILL.

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 20.—The recent conference of the president and secretary of the Van's Harbor Lumber & Land company with officials of the Ironwood Commercial club regarding the possibility of locating one of their sawmills in this city, will result in favor of the city, according to current reports.

The company is one of the largest in the Northwest, having mills in several of the leading lumber centers. It is not only a large producer of lumber but deals extensively in timber land, and with the timber tributary to this region, it is estimated that a large mill could be kept at work for at least twenty-five years.

Sheldon, N. D., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bean center of North Dakota appears to be located in this section of the state. DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bowbells, N. D.—A double wedding occurred at Bowman last Wednesday, when Oscar Oleson of Mott was married to Miss Mabel Stull of Valley City, and Milfred Stull was married to Miss Rose Scott of Valley City. Mr. Oleson operates the Oleson studio in Mott, and Mr. and Mrs. Oleson will be at home to their friends in that place after a few days.

Dickinson, N. D.—Perhaps the largest yield of oats ever recorded in Stark county was grown this year at the Robert Fisher farm on Green river. The field, three acres, was cropped with potatoes last year and was flooded from the river last spring. Fisher Bros. have sometimes raised a little better than 100 bushels of oats to the acre but the yield of 120 bushels from this land beats all their records and so far as known of any in Western North Dakota.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—As the result of taking hold of a broken electric wire, Joseph Colby, electrician, was instantly killed during a rain and windstorm at an early hour Friday. A wire in the alley near the new Orpheum theater building was broken. Colby discovered it and took hold to throw it out of the way. He was standing on the wet ground at the time and this completed a circuit and sent the full voltage through his body.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Negaunee—Miss Julia Arendsen of Marshfield, Wis., representing herself to be an agent of the Silverton Publishing company of Chicago, is wanted by the Negaunee police on the charge of defrauding Negaunee women and for jumping her board bill at the Breitung house, where she stayed for several days. Her present whereabouts are unknown.

Escanaba—All efforts of the officers have as yet proved futile to locate Elizabeth Rowan, 14, and Frank Maleski, 18, North Escanaba school children who eloped from their homes. The parents are having pictures of the youngsters made and will send them to all of the police headquarters in this part of the country. The boy has worked in Milwaukee and has relatives in both that city and Chicago.

Harrison, the Menominee poultry fancier and exhibit judge, has been informed by the committee designated to select the convention city that it had named Menominee.

Gladstone—Launched as an experiment, the operation of a ferry between Gladstone and Maywood has been proved a successful venture by a party of Gladstone business men. The receipts from the first season's operations were greater than expected and it is practically assured that the company will become a permanent adjunct to Gladstone's business life.

Ishpeming—The pastors of both Methodist Episcopal churches in Ishpeming will return to their charges, they having been reappointed for the coming year at the Detroit conference, in session at Ypsilanti for the last ten days. Both Rev. J. G. Haller, pastor of the First church, and Rev. Lewis Keast, pastor of the Salisbury and National Mine churches, had received invitations to return and it was generally understood that the wishes of the congregations would be complied with by the bishop in charge of the conference.

Segola—The election contest of Robert Brown vs. James McKenna, the bone of contention being the office of the clerk of the township of Breitung, Dickinson county, has finally terminated in a victory for Brown.

Houghton—In order that the farmers of the Copper country may the better understand the value to them of the service of the weather bureau, Weather Observer Howard B. Cowdrick, in charge of the Houghton station, has asked of the department permission to make a display at the Copper country fair. He expects no difficulty in getting the required permission.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Hastings—The grain elevator of the Farmers' Co-operative company at Hampton burned Wednesday afternoon, the origin of the fire being due either to friction in the shaft or spontaneous combustion. About 10,000 bushels of grain were destroyed. The loss is in the neighborhood of $12,000 outside of that on the grain. Full insurance was carried.

Spring Valley—Three hundred farmers living in this vicinity have formed a co-operative association for the purpose of buying groceries, wearing apparel and other necessaries directly from the wholesale houses. Some time ago farmers organized what is known as live stock shipping associations, and it has proved a great success.

Luverne—Rev. T. B. Ashton, for several years pastor of the Baptist church in this city, has resigned, and will leave in a few days for Ohio.

Johnston and two assistants obtained 200 members, receiving a $5 application fee from each, it is alleged, misrepresenting the benefit to be derived from the lodge. The specific charge against Johnston is the carrying away of $100 belonging to the lodge.

ONE HONEST MAN

When after many disappointments one has finally found the real remedy, shouldn't he tell it to others? I think so. Well, I have found something at last that will renew vitality, overcome prostatic troubles and restore vigor.

It is a simple and harmless remedy. I do not make it nor sell it, but you can buy the preparation from your own druggist at trifling cost or get it by mail direct from the manufacturers.

If you are interested, write me and I will be glad to tell you exactly what I used and all about it.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE PASSING WEEK'S SPORT PARADE

Beell and Yokel Matched and Will Probably Wrestle in the Huge Arena at the Duluth Curling Club's Rink.

Lakeside Athletic Club Will Broaden Its Scope---Tony Caponi's Aspiration Rudely Shattered---Adams to Open Foootball Season.

BY BRUCE.

EMIL KLANK yesterday afternoon closed negotiations for the world's lightweight championship wrestling contest between Fred Beell of Marshfield, Wis., and Mike Yokel of Salt Lake City, which will probably be held in the Duluth Curling club's mammoth rink some time during the coming month. The former manager of Frank A. Gotch came up from Chicago to close a contest that has been hanging fire for the past year and a half.

Under the articles agreed upon the two famous wrestlers will meet at catch weights. This probably means that Beell will enter the ring around the 168 pound mark and that Yokel, the silent wonder from the West, will scale at somewheres around the 165 pound mark.

Followers of wrestling have for sometime believed that this contest would make one of the greatest wrestled in the history of the game. Fred Beell has a world wide reputation as a wrestler, and as for Yokel the Lion of the Rockies, during the past two years he has come to be looked upon as one of the marvels of the mat.

If the present arrangements are carried through the contest will be wrestled in the huge arena of the Curling club. Because of the high standing of the game here, and because of the fact that the matches of the past have been attended by the best business and professional men of the city, the proposition of holding this contest in the club was advanced to officials of the Greater Duluth Athletic club, which was recently admitted to full standing in the Central Athletic association.

"This should be one of the greatest contests ever wrestled," said Emil Klank. "Beell has found it necessary to do but little training for any matches he has wrestled within the past two years. For the contest with Yokel he will do a regular course of conditioning on his farm, where quarters will be established.

"If Beel beats Mike Yokel he will have to be in grand shape. I have always held that Fred Beell is the greatest wrestling machine in the world for his weight and inches. As manager of the greatest wrestler in all of the history of the world, Frank A. Gotch, I have had good grounds for this belief.

"Yokel is one of the truly great wrestlers in the game today. His wonderful record proves this. Whether the Beell of today, a little older it is true, with his wonderful knowledge of every trick and turn of the game, and with that headlock that has wrought terror to scores of men larger and stronger than the little German, can defeat this younger man from the West, is a question that only the actual wrestling of the contest can decide."

A Good Idea—This One.

A MEETING of the Lakeside Athletic club has been set for Monday evening, when Miss Margaret Culkin will appear before the members of the association and advance a plan to take up some broader lines of work in connection with the very excellent work the club is doing at the present time.

According to the announcement of President Arthur L. Ryberg, an effort will be made to have Mayor Prince, several of the prominent ministers of the city, and Commissioner Hicken also speak to the club members.

Since its organization the Lakeside Athletic club under the able leadership of Arthur L. Ryberg has stood for the best in athletics. It is the ambition of the club members to build a modern and beautiful club house in the East end of the city. Perhaps the broadening of the scope of the Lakeside club will sooner enable the members to carry out this cherished desire.

Athletics, when rightly conducted, stand for the best and cleanest there is in a man or boy, and combining clean athletics with a broader mission strikes one as an excellent plan.

This Lets Tony Out.

FOR some years out of the records of the past, Antoni Caponi has paraded in various and secluded dells of the sporting pasture as the champion middleweight of the world. Toni is a rather nice son of Italy, a boy with few bad habits, and therefore no one took very decided exception to the little practical pranks of the swarthy son of swat.

But after the thorough and highly artistic lacing that the veteran received at the husky hands of Jack Dillon, it will be a remote and hay wire section of the country that will graciously accept the Italian as even a very remote and far removed contender for the much disputed crown that has never found a competent wearer since the memorable day Stanley Ketchel came to his death.

In the fog of the evening one sees the shadowy forms of Battling Levinsky, Eddie McGoorty, Frank Klaus, Billy Papke, shop worn but still in the game; Jack Dillon, Jimmy Clabby, Mike Gibbons and countless others toiling up the path, with face ever turned top of the pugilistic mount, where the candle light of achievement in this division burns extremely low.

Call Out the Militia.

WORD runneth down the line and whispers with great glee of the matching of Wolgast and Battling Nelson. Time there was when the propinquity of these stars would cause the average man to hold his breath and look for generally disastrous results. But time dulls the tools of the fighter as it dulls tools of other of the laborers in the various vineyards of this grim old life.

The sporting world was handed a laugh when it was gently informed of the matching of this fallen pair, the heirs of many of the ailments that come to the fighters who remain too long in the ring. Game as ever, Nelson in all other respects is but a pitiable shadow of the grand fighting hulk of the past.

Not so many days ago Wolgast tried to beat a third rater and was licked in the attempt. There's the angle; an angle that leaves nothing of quality in the matching of two great champions who have degenerated into two ripe and juicy quinces, speaking merely from the present side of their pugilistic prowess.

However, the precedent of John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain and Terry McGovern and Young Corbett combining boxing and vaudeville has greased the skids for the launching of the Milwaukee go, and the thing will be looked upon more as a benefit for the boxers than to the public.

Out for the Title.

THE ADAMS will start their pursuit Sunday for the independent championship of the Northwest. Formerly the city title was the bounded limit of the ambitions of the officers of the hustling West End athletic club. With the increase of the prowess of the football teams of the Adams association came apace the desire to win the highest honors of the Northwestern independent field.

Johnny Geistman believes that he has lined up the team this season that will be able to beat all of the opponents that will be played during the present season. With the two Bradleys in the lineup of the Adams and some new material that promises to develop new strength, the three A aggregation should compare with any of the teams of the Northwest that are classed in the independent field.

While the grade of ball played by the independent teams has been gradually and consistently bettered during the past few years, owing to the fact that the independent team manager who is enterprising has employed a college coach and has also gone after some of the stars of the college teams, it is somewhat doubtful if the independent team can ever approach the standard of the college team.

The methods of training, the facilities for practice and the opportunities for learning the fine points of the game are all in favor of the college man. But despite the handicaps of lack of training, lack of time and sometimes lack of preparation, the proficiency of the independent teams of this section of the country has increased, and the present season promises to witness a pretty scrap for the title of the Northwest, which will be rewarded by the temporary ownership of the Klem cup.

Ames, Iowa, Sept. 20.—With a game against Grinnell college in one week and the annual battle with the University of Minnesota in two weeks, candidates for the Ames football team have been receiving the hardest kind of work this week. Scrimmage will start Tuesday.

The team which meets Minnesota will have but one of the men who played on last year's team, this year's team being constructed solely from last year's freshmen.

YOUTH PLAYS BRITISH STARS

Young Brookline Amateur Tied With Crack Professionals of England.

Unusual Windup to Annual Open Golf Championship Tournament.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 20.—The golfing battle between England and America for the nineteenth open championship with Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, two seasoned British players, playing 20-year-old Francis Ouimet of this town in an 18-hole contest, began today in a typical Scotch mist. Yet the sodden turf and dripping trees failed to keep back one of the largest galleries that ever followed a golf match in this country. One hundred club members armed with red flags and 100 fathoms of rope were necessary to keep the eager crowd from treading on the heels of the three players.

Vardon and Ray were 2 to 1 favorites over the Brookline boy at the drive-off at 10 o'clock, yet the army of Yankee enthusiasts was hopeful of victory, although almost content with Ouimet's exploits yesterday in playing such experienced golfers as Vardon and Ray to a standstill.

Ouimet started the play-off with a most thorough knowledge of every hole on the country club course. "He knows every spear of grass, every trap and every bunker," said his caddie.

Ouimet lives just across the street from the sixteenth hole and has been on the course almost since infancy. He began carrying clubs as a caddie when 9 years old.

This being a holiday and entrance to the course unrestricted, nearly every Brookline school boy was on the links today to watch their recent playmate in the greatest golfing struggle ever seen in this country.

Ouimet yesterday tied with England's famous professional golfers, each turning in a card of 304 for 72 holes contested during the past two days.

Ouimet's Last Stand.

Ouimet's performance yesterday lifted the nineteenth annual open tournament of the United States Golf association out of the usual classification accorded a national champion and brought the contest to a standard little short of other international competitions. Of the half dozen homebred and transplanted professionals, not one could keep pace with Ray and Vardon, and all hope of retaining the titular honors appeared lost until Ouimet was found making his lone stand amid rain and mud against the two older players.

When the spectators realized that in this home-bred amateur, born and brought up on the edge of the Country club course, rested America's chance of winning the championship, they lost that placid attitude and whisper that ordinarily marks the golf gallery, and rooted and cheered Ouimet in a manner they pull off at baseball and football games.

The scenes that attended Ouimet's match over the last four holes have never been equaled on an American or European golf course.

Excitement Is Intense.

When Ouimet's second shot landed on the edge of the green, 5,000 spectators massed themselves in a gigantic ring of breathless humanity about Ouimet and his playing partner, George Sargent. The American youth needed to hole out in one more to win, and had two to tie. He gazed long down into the bowl where the cup lay, dried his hands and made a 35-foot putt that just missed the hole and rolled three feet beyond. Ouimet looked once at that little stretch of sodded turf that lay between him and another chance for the title; gently tapped the ball. It rolled to the hole, curled around the lip for an inch or so, and then dropped in for the four which tied him.

Instantly a tremendous yell went up. The gallery swept past ropes and guards and closed in on Ouimet in a solid phalanx. He was lifted to the shoulders of the advance guard, and carried toward the clubhouse surrounded by several thousand cheering, yelling golfers who forgot their golf in the enthusiasm of being just Americans, cheering an American victory. Many, not realizing that Ouimet was an amateur, thrust bills of large denominations at him only to be met with a smile and a shake of the head which took the sting out of the refusal made necessary by their mistake.

SEVEN EVENTS ON FINAL RACE CARD

Grand Circuit Meet at Detroit Ends With Good Racing.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 20. — Seven events, including a free-for-all pace which Braden Direct won in straight heats, brought the grand circuit harness meeting to a close yesterday. The races, except the 2:17 trot, were won in straight heats.

For the first time since Monday the sun shone. The track was slow, but despite this, surprisingly good time was made. Braden Direct won the first heat of the free-for-all in 2:03¾ and the last half-mile was run in 1:00¼. Walter Cochato was at the black horse's side all the way and they raced neck and neck to the finish. Pickles finished strongly in the second heat, but the winner had too much speed in reserve.

Geers, driving Marta Bellini, won the third heat of the 2:17 trot, after Dr. Thorne had taken the first two. Then Murphy drove George Rex to first place, but Snow's horse made victory practically certain by finishing second. He took the final heat by inches from the black colt.

Peter Billiken had Nata Prime to contend with, but won an impressive victory in the 2:11 trot. Marietta, a strong favorite, did not disappoint her backers in the 2:11 pace. Princess Patch tried hard in the second heat, but the black mare outsprinted her. Favorites won both the 2:17 pace and the 2:08 pace. Neither Cubanola H. nor Margot Hal, was seriously threatened in any of the heats. Dr. Holcomb was the only starter in the Michigan Trotting Horse Breeders' futurity for 3-year-old pacers. He raced one heat in 2:23¾ and was awarded the event.

In the first heat of the 2:17 trot, Baroness Helen, turning on to the stretch, slipped and fell. Driver Fleming was thrown in the midst of a large field of racers, but he and the horse escaped with bruises.

COBB LEADS THE SLUGGERS

Jackson and Speaker Giving Detroit Star Chase for Honors.

Johnson Still Heads Pitchers—Daubert Tops National League Batters.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Cobb of Detroit, with an average of .386; Jackson of Cleveland, with .374, and Speaker of Boston, with .369, are making a neck and neck finish in the race for batting honors in the American league. Cobb's twelve-point lead and the approach of the season's end make him a favorite now. Places in the .300 class of the American league are held mainly by veterans. Henriksen of Boston, whose illness has kept him out of practically all the games of the latter half of the season, pounded the ball for an average of .361 while he was playing his twenty-five games and that percentage is enough to make him fourth.

Next in order are: Eddie Collins, Philadelphia, .342; Lajoie, Cleveland, .340; Baker, Philadelphia, .333; McInnis, Philadelphia, .323; Gandil, Washington, .323; Bauman, Detroit, .317; D. Murphy, Philadelphia, .315; Crawford, Detroit, .308; A. Williams, Washington, .306; Lelivelt, Cleveland, .306; Stovall, St. Louis, .303; Schaefer, Washington, .301.

Milan of Washington now has sixty-five stolen bases and there is hardly a chance for any one to catch him, though Moeller of the same team has fifty-six.

Pitchers' records of the American league show Johnson ahead as usual. The first six rank:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Johnson, Washington	33	7	.825
Houck, Philadelphia	12	4	.750
Falkenberg, Cleve.	22	8	.733
Wood, Boston	12	5	.706
Bender, Philadelphia	21	5	.700
Walsh, Chicago	7	3	.700

In National.

Jake Daubert of Brooklyn has attained the honor of holding undisputed the top notch among the National league batters. His percentage of .361 puts him ahead of Earl Yingling of Brooklyn, who holds an average of .347. Melnie Zimmerman, champion batter last year, is slowly climbing, but is still No. 10 and probably will not be able to reach the top this year. "Three hundred" hitters in the National are, in addition to Daubert and Yingling: R. Miller, Philadelphia, .342; Hyatt, Pittsburg, .336; Cravath, Philadelphia, .335; Becker, Philadelphia, .332; Hess, Boston, .324; Walsh, Philadelphia, .320; Viox, Pittsburg, .316; Zimmerman, Chicago, .308; Titus, Boston, .306; Wagner, Pittsburg, .305; Gibson, Pittsburg, .305; Lobert, Philadelphia, .304; Wheat, Brooklyn, .304; Zinn, Boston, .304; Hauser, St. Louis, .304; S. Magee, Philadelphia, .303; Meyers, New York, .303; Kling, Cincinnati, .301.

Cravath seems destined to win the home run honors for the year, as he now has 18. Luderus of Philadelphia is close with 15, and Saier of Chicago may also be counted in the running with 13. Carey of Pittsburg has taken away the base stealing lead from Myers of Boston, having 49 to the latter's 42.

Jim Vaughn's first defeat of the season came too late to be recorded in this week's averages and he leads the National pitchers. They rank:

STRONG TEAM IN THE FIELD

Adams Stars Will Play First Game Against the Tigers.

According to the announcement of Manager John Geistman the regular line-up of the Adams will be used in the first game of the season against the Tigers at Athletic park tomorrow.

"Bad Bill" Stevens or Doherty will be played at fullback. Brickley will play right hlaf, and Bill Bradley, one of the best backs ever turned out by any of the Superior football teams, will be in the running at the other half position. Roberts will be at quarter, and Dick Bradley will be at left end. Ryan or Whittle will play the other end and big Art Buchanan, the captain of the team, will play right tackle. Anderson will be at left guard and Wicklund at the other guard position. Sweeney will play center and Erickson will be at left tackle.

This is one of the strongest line-ups that the Adams have ever placed on the field and the backers of the team believe that the Tigers will be defeated by a good-sized score.

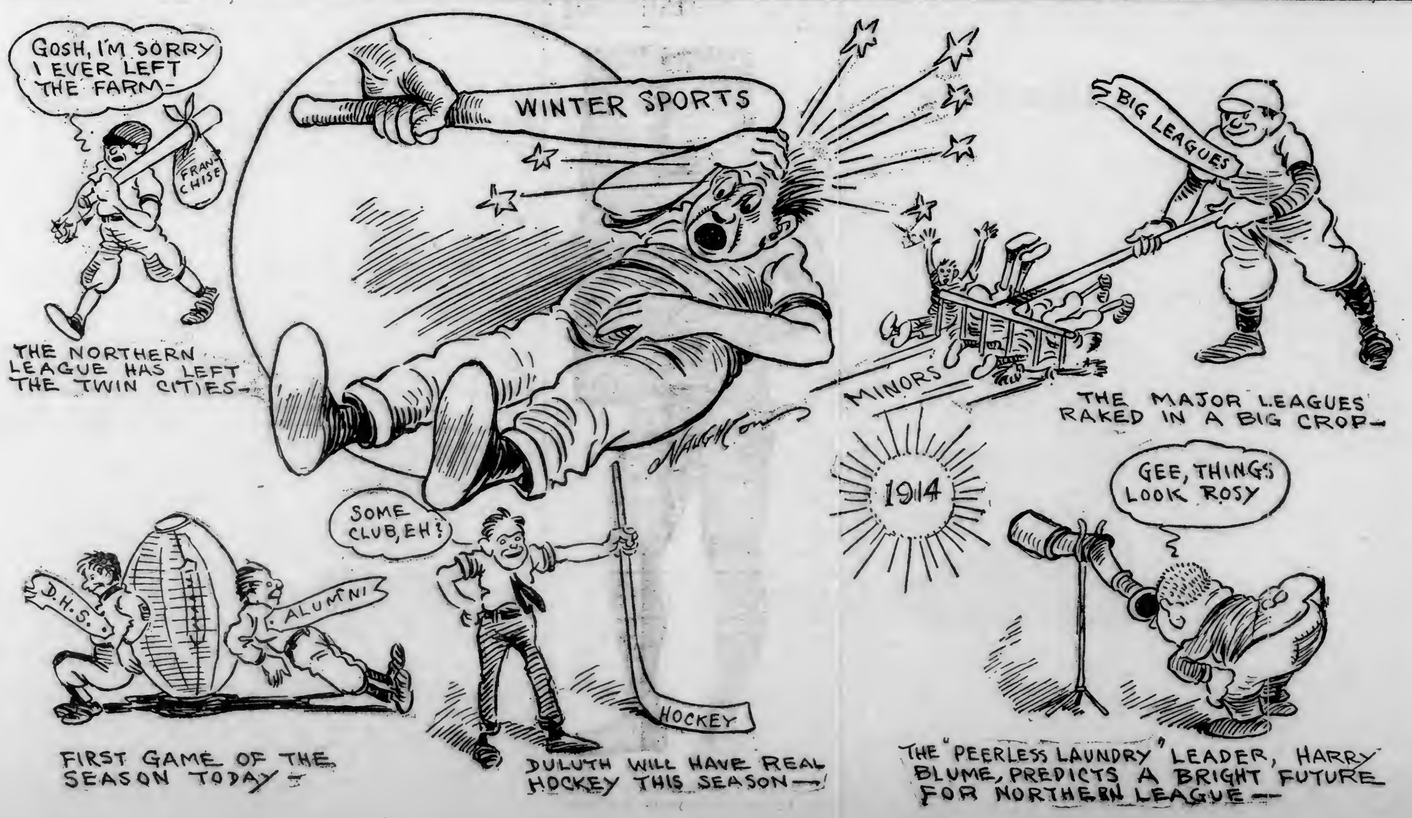

The game of tomorrow will be the first of the season and will give the followers of independent football their first line on the abilities of the team that is expected to make a hard fight for Northwestern honors.

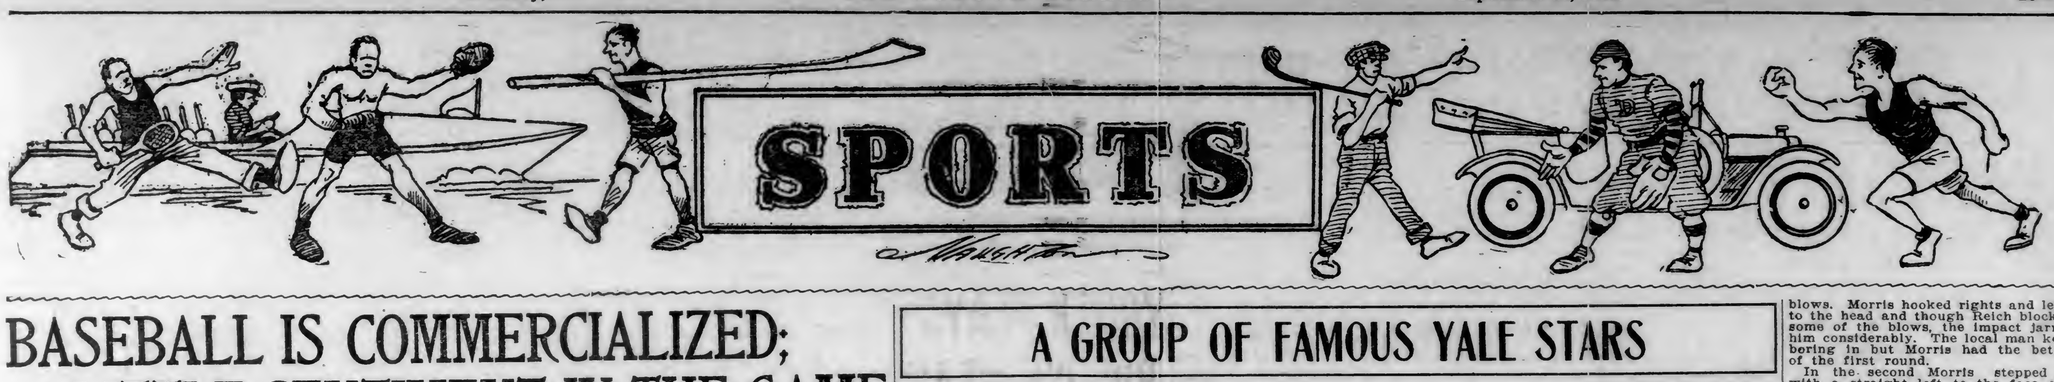

MAY BAR NEGROES TO PRESERVE PEACE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—To avoid disturbances of the peace, the state athletic commission may prohibit sparring exhibitions between white and colored persons, but the commission should not prohibit mixed matches if its action is based solely on the question of race discrimination. Attorney General Carmody has so advised the commission.

Some time ago the commission adopted a rule prohibiting mixed matches, a rule which was questioned when efforts were made to arrange a bout between Sam Langford, negro and Frank Moran. The commission refused to approve the proposed match and Mr. Carmody was asked to pass upon the validity of the ruling.

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK AS SEEN BY THE HERALD CARTOONIST

BASEBALL IS COMMERCIALIZED; LITTLE SENTIMENT IN THE GAME

New York, Sept. 20.—Organized baseball seems to be on the verge of losing its last vestige of sport for sport's sake. The commercial end of the enterprise overshadows all else. The managers are out for the money, and make no bones of the fact. The lust for gold is as deeply rooted in the minor leagues as in the major organizations.

The two big circuits depend upon patronage for financial gains. Because of this it is necessary for them to secure the very best talent to display before the public. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are expended every season by each club in the National and American leagues for the sole purpose of fortifying for the future. Every club owner has several highly paid scouts beating all around the country in search of likely looking "bush" timber. Some have as many as six sleuths under salary. Besides these there is a grand army of amateur sharps, who do business on a commission basis. This policy of near extravagance is all well enough for first division aggregations—the end more than justifies the means. But it is a serious drain upon the pocketbook of the unfortunate holders of second division franchises.

Expenditure is Big.

Because of their weaknesses second division clubs in the major leagues call for the greatest expenditures. This makes their lot all the more severe. The money is put up on a gamble, because a club away down in the race is lucky to make interest on investment. The leading teams, which might well afford to speculate in talent, have not the same crying need to do so. But those leaders usually string along in a sort of "dog in the manger" fashion, and often corral most promising talent which they cannot possibly use, just to keep it away from some lowly rival that might utilize it to the disadvantage of the strong.

The hold of commercialism on the national pastime has been forcibly illustrated time and time again, but never more strongly than in the American league this present campaign. Frank Chance could not get any assistance from his colleagues, many of whom had bench-warmers who would have been of the greatest assistance to New York. He took him a couple of months to secure Shortstop Peckinpaugh from Cleveland. Birmingham had no use for this player. He wished to turn him back to Toledo, the farm of the Naps. When Chance's outfield was performing in a most pitiful manner, Connie Mack was carrying six gardeners, any one of them superior to the best the peerless leader could show.

There was a time when the major leagues, by juggling the market, could maintain a self-supporting recruiting institution. Undesirable talent snatched from the "brush" could often be turned back at a profit. But that time is past. The minors—former prey—have become the close-fisted bargain drivers. "If you desire our good men you must pay dearly enough for the cast-offs." The minor leagues depend to a very great extent upon the sale of players for self-maintenance, and cannot be blamed for getting back at the big fellows on every possible occasion. Major league magnates, who display cold indifference among themselves, deserve no pity when minor league promoters put on the screws.

Major Leagues to Blame.

The major leagues themselves are responsible for most of the present-day commercialism of the game. Always has their attitude been the most exacting and the most grasping. As this sport has gradually become more and more of a show business, the methods of show have attached themselves. The power of publicity has appealed to the club owners, who now take every means of boosting their own game through press agent stuff. Ever since the two big leagues went to war, salaries have maintained the high standard that the fight established. But the magnates in any announcements have never failed to exaggerate the remuneration of a star.

There were "newspaper" salaries of $10,000 in the big leagues years ago, when an athlete involved would have shaken hands with himself for receiving half the sum. And there are reputed salaries today which, if the truth were known, would shrink considerably in the wash of straight fact. But there are instances where the magnate has had to toe the mark and come across with the big money.

Ty Cobb of the Tigers is one. He is the highest paid athlete of the game. Bonuses will bring his stipend this year to fully $15,000. He might have been contented with half the sum of the magnates themselves had not educated the public and the players to the value of publicity. Cobb was in a dictatorial position. He knew that the Detroit management might as well lock up its park as to allow him to be idle while the once great Tiger machine was on the toboggan.

Injured Own Cause.

In kindred fashion the promoters have injured their own cause by talking in stago money. The late John T. Brush set the fashion by paying an alleged $11,000 for "Rube" Marquard. There followed another "alleged" bit of extravagance on the part of Barney Dreyfuss, when St. Paul accepted $22,500 for Marty O'Toole. O'Toole perhaps did not cost more than a third of his reputed sale price, but the record figures made good reading throughout the country—and a big drawing card for Pittsburg. Other clubs saw the advantage. Players that formerly could be had at modest figures soon began to arrive in fast company, heralded as "record" purchases. For a while the minor leaguers smiled up their sleeves. Then they gradually began to take advantage of this mania for publicity and boosted the figure steadily. The result has naturally followed that within the past two or three years the price of "bush" league talent has tripled. Major leagues are not paying today what they say they are for minor league players. But still they are paying, in many cases, double and treble the real value of the player.

A Little Example.

Here is a little example: Charlie Comiskey wished to land Chappelle of Milwaukee. The tip passe daround mysteriously, somehow. Almost every major league rival immediately cast in an oar. Comiskey finally landed his prize, but not until he had to part with several times the original figure. It was the same thing with Frank Ferrell when he went after Naisel. The Boston Nationals were dead set on taking him away from New York. Stallings offered $10,000 and two players. Farrell had to give up two first rate players and a big bundle of cold cash.

The major magnates have no one but themselves to blame for present conditions. Matters have come to a pass where some of our promoters will go bankrupt if care is not taken. Millions are tied up in major league property, but when the price of minor league players soars up beyond all reason, and when salaries advance beyond reason, those millions are bound to be jeopardized. The magnates would do well to pause and consider this tangle. A purchase price limit and a more rigidly enforced and more conservative roster limit would do a heap of good.

Pirates Win and Tie.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 20.—Pittsburg took the first game, 3 to 2, in ten innings from Philadelphia yesterday and the second was called at the end of the ninth inning on account of darkness with the score tied with three runs each. Each team put up a vigorous fight and there was a near fist fight in each contest.

In the tenth inning of the first game, Luderus lost his temper when Hendrix hit him and he hit Hendrix in the back with the ball. They started for each other, but umpires and players intervened. They were put out of the game.

In the second game Becker in sliding into third, brought his foot against Dolan's stomach. Words followed and the two made a rush, but Umpire Brennan threw his bulky frame between them and players pulled them away. They continued to play and kept up their flings at each other throughout.

With the score tied at one each in Philadelphia's half of the first game, Sherwood Magee stole home in the tenth. With one man out in Pittsburg's half, Carey singled, went to third on Dolan's double, and scored on Viox's out. Wilson then singled, scoring Dolan with the winning run. Hendrix pitched a fine game and had the better of Mayer.

The visitors scored three runs by hitting Conselman, the Atlanta recruit, in the second inning of the second game, and running wild on the bases. Pittsburg tied the score by bunching hits off Seaton in the fifth. McQuillen and Seaton then battled to no result until darkness. Score:

Pittsburg	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	3	9	1

Batteries—Mayer and Killifer; Hendrix and Simon. Umpires—Brennan and Eason.

Second game—											R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	3	5	1

Teams Break Even.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Brooklyn and Cincinnati broke even in a double-header yesterday, the locals winning the first game, which went ten innings, 1 to 0, and the visitors capturing the second, 2 to 1. Both games were well played, the fielding being sharp and the pitchers holding up their end. Collins and Moran made spectacular catches in the first contest, while Marsans distinguished himself by a marvelous catch in the second.

In the first contest, Reulbach did not allow a hit until the fifth inning. No runs were scored, however, until the tenth, when Kling doubled and scored a moment later on Bescher's single, putting an end to the contest. Brooklyn obtained eight hits, but Packard kept them well scattered.

In the second game after a man had been retired in the second, Hoblitzell stole second and cantered home when Bodge tripled. This put an end to the run-getting until Brooklyn's half of the ninth inning, when with one man out Daubert doubled and scored on Smith's two-bagger. The latter scored the winning run, when Fisher singled. Scores:

Batteries—Reulbach and Fischer; Packard and Kling. Umpires—Byron and Rigler.

Second game—										R.	H.	E.

Batteries—Rucker and Fischer; Rowan and Clark. Umpires—Rigler and Byron.

Divide Double-Header.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 20.—After waiting a cessation of rain since Monday, St. Louis finally played yesterday and won and lost in a double with the New York club. The home team took the first game, 1 to 0, in the tenth inning, while New York annexed the final contest, 2 to 0.

The first game was a great pitchers' battle between Mathewson and Sallee, with the latter having the advantage. Mathewson was saved from earlier defeat through sensational fielding by his team mates, Merkle especially making stops and throws that cut off probable runs. St. Louis scored its run in the tenth inning when Wingo tripled to left field. In taking third he was hit in the back of the head by a thrown ball by Fletcher. He was knocked unconscious and after being revived, left the game.

In the second game Marquard was almost invincible. But one man got beyond first base, and he was put out at second. Score:

Cubs Score Victory.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Chicago bunched hits off Perdue yesterday and defeated Boston 6 to 1 in the visitors' last game of the season here. The batting of Zimmerman was a feature, his double driving in the first two runs and his homer netting two more in the third. Leach's double drove in the other two runs in the fourth. Davis replaced Perdue and, although unsteady, held the locals hitless. The visitors were saved a shutout when Sweeney was hit by a pitched ball and went to second on a wild pitch, scoring a moment later on a single by Myers. Score:

Chicago	2	0	2	2	0	0	0	0	x	6	8	2

Batteries—Davis, Perdue and Rariden; Cheney and Archer. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tigers Lose Out.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Love, a recruit from Atlanta, who stands 6 feet 7 inches, started his first game for Washington yesterday and was returned the winner over Detroit, 2 to 1, in the last game of the season between the two teams. The tall pitcher was a hit hard and got into many holes during the seven innings he was on the mound. Detroit had thirteen men left on the bases, eleven of them being stranded during Love's regime, the hit needed to win always failing to materialize. Boehling pitched the last two innings for Washington and held Detroit safe.

Washington's first run was helped along by Detroit's only error. Moeller hit in front of the plate and McKee, in fielding the ball, threw over Oldsow's head, Moeller taking third. He scored when Milan singled. In the sixth Moeller walked, and on the hit and run, went to third when Milan again hit safely. He scored a moment later on an out. Bush scored Detroit's only run in the seventh. He singled, stole second, went to third on an out, and scored on an error.

Comstock, who started for Detroit, pitched good ball for seven innings and ordinarily would have won his game. He gave way to a pinch hitter. Score:

Batteries—Comstock, Dauss and McKee; Love, Boehling and Ainsmith, Henry. Umpires—Dineen and Sheridan.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Senators Are Blanked.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 20.—Milwaukee needed but one run to win from Columbus yesterday and got it off Davis in the seventh inning when Clark singled with Gilbert on second base. Two more runs were scored in the ninth off Cook on three singles, as many steals and a passed ball. First Baseman Jones was ordered from the field for failure to obey Umpire Johnstone's order to stop an argument. Score:

										R.	H.	E.

Kaws Take Opener.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 20.—Kansas City defeated Louisville yesterday, 6 to 4, in the first game of the series, which lasted ten innings. Richie proved steady in the pinches. Roth's two triples in the ninth and tenth innings with men on bases clinched victory for the visitors. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Louisville	0	1	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	4	8	0
Kansas City	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	2	2	6	10	2

Batteries—Northrup, R. Clemons, Ellis and Vielemons; Richie and O'Connor. Umpires—Chill and Irwin.

Hens Blank Saints.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 20.—George and Karger pegged a dull pitching exhibition here yesterday, the former's superior skill in the pinches bringing the home team a 3 to 0 victory. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Toledo	2	0	0	0	0	0	1	x		3	9	1
St. Paul	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0

Batteries—George and Bassler; Karger and Miller. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Millers Win Another.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—Opportune hitting gave Minneapolis an 8 to 3 victory over the locals in the opening game of the series here yesterday. In the second, a single, a double and a triple with an error by Casey netted the visitors four runs. Mogridge, who relieved Fiene for Minneapolis, was taken out in the second inning after the first two men up had singled. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

BIG GAMES AHEAD.

Eastern Teams Will Play Curling Club Hockey Team.

Work is being done at the present time on the hockey schedule of the Duluth Curling club's team. According to the announcement of Manager Harbison the chances look bright for a series of games with Boston, New York and several of the other of the Eastern teams.

It is expected that the curling club officials will receive notice in a few days of membership in the National Association of Hockey Clubs. Membership in this association will give the club games with some of the strongest teams in the United States. It is expected that this season will surpass last season in point of interest and in the quality of the games.

TOM NORTH BACK FROM "SCOUTING" TRIP

Thomas J. North, discoverer and brother-in-law of young Cree, the Winona pitcher, has returned from a trip which he took in the form of a vacation, Mr. North being a hard working young man. During his absence from Duluth Thomas saw the famous Marshall, Minn., semi-professional team play, and has some recommendations to make to that peerless leader, Darby O'Brien, in the matter of signing up some of the young players of that team.

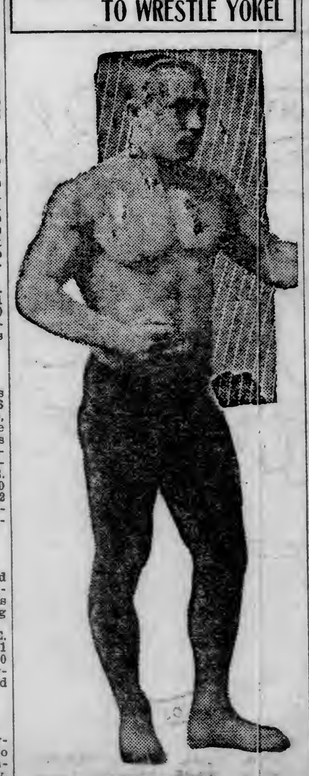

Mr. North also saw several of the teams of the southern portion of the state play and says that there are some players down in that section of the North Star commonwealth who are quite ready for rapid company.

GALAHAD WANTS GAME WITH DULUTH CENTRAL

According to the announcement made yesterday it is possible that a football game may be played between the Galahad school of Hudson, Wis., and Central high.

There has been considerable talk of a game between the two schools for the past year. Galahad desires to meet Central this fall and a contest between the two teams may be scheduled.

HIGHLANDERS TO TRAIN IN TEXAS NEXT SEASON

Peerless Leader Believes Dampness of Bermuda Had Ill Effect Upon Members of His Team.

New York, Sept. 20.—Frank Chance, manager of the New York Americans, has decided to train in Texas next spring. The fine success with which the Giants have met the past several years since they established headquarters in Marlin has influenced the Peerless Leader to take a flier at the Lone Star State. Two good camps are open—San Antonio and Houston. It is said the pilot of the Yankees favors the latter place.

San Antonio boasts an ideal climate, fine hotels and mineral baths, and would make an ideal headquarters, but for the fact that the people there have seen so much alleged "major league" ball in the spring that they have lost most of their interest. Connie Mack had his Athletics there last spring, but decided not to go back. He was satisfied with the city as a training camp, but was not satisfied with the lack of interest. Mack is a cannie Scot and team play, and has some recommendations to make to that peerless leader, Darby O'Brien, in the matter of signing up some of the young players of that team.

Mr. North also saw several of the teams of the southern portion of the state play and says that there are some players down in that section of the North Star commonwealth who are quite ready for rapid company.

ability to hit to major league form, is the best catcher on Chance's staff. Another catcher named Reynolds is to report soon from Texas. Half a dozen other youngsters will put in appearance soon to make a bid for steady employment.

Frank Farrell should pick up a piece of change before the end of the year. The public appears quite satisfied with the earnest endeavors of Chance and will turn out in goodly numbers to see the new men. New York has a long home stand as the East entertains the West in the final intersectional fight.

The Giants should prosper, also, though they finish practically away from home the rest of the run. In the West attendances have been poor in both leagues all season, but the last trip should see better patronage than either of the others. McGraw's boys have practically cinched the third straight pennant and there is always great interest in any winner.

Mack Looks for Hard Series.

"This will be the hardest fought world's series that the country has ever seen," observed Manager Mack, while in St. Louis with his Athletics recently. Mack is about as talkative as an owl, but he finally responded to a remark to the effect that the Giants will win the 1913 world's series through superior pitching.

"I have some youngsters who will give the Giants a tussle," he remarked, "and they are Brown, Shawkey, Houck and Bush. Now, mind you, I am going to have in this world's series two old-timers in Plank and Bender. These veterans took part in the first battle that I had with McGraw, also the second, and they are going to be featured in this series, providing McGraw and I win out.

"I realize that McGraw's club is stronger than it was in 1911," said the Philadelphia strategist, " and I can see that my men have a battle ahead of them. No, I won't say that the Athletics will outhit New York. I suppose a good deal will depend upon the break of luck.

"Neither Danny Murphy nor Harry Davis will get into the coming series, but they will be on hand with timely advice. My club fought the Giants in a disabled condition in the first battle. They were right in 1911, and although it is doubtful whether Coombs can come back, I will have a well-conditioned team on the field this year. McGraw's club looks so much better than it did in 1911, that if I were a betting man I should say it was a even wager between these two clubs, always supposing that each wins the pennant."

BASEBALL DIRECTORS HAVE JOY MEETING.

There was a meeting of the Duluth Baseball association at the Spalding last evening, during the gathering Messrs. Collier, Lucore and Mehling expressed the belief that the coming year will see the greatest season here in the history of the sport. Dr. J. A. McCuen told the other directors of the club that baseball during the present year had been the most successful in the history of the local club, and stated that the White Sox would have one of the best teams that Duluth has ever had during the season of 1914.

MORRIS KNOCKS OUT NEW YORKER

Sapulpa Giant Wins From Al Reich in Second Round.

New York, Sept. 20.—Carl Morris, heavyweight, of Sapulpa, Okla., knocked out Al Reich of this city, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night.

A hard right to the point of the jaw after Reich had been worn down by considerable body punishment ended the bout. This was Reich's second professional bout, as he made his debut a week ago when he defeated Sailor White.

Morris, who weighed 235 pounds, an advantage of twenty-six pounds over the local man, showed considerable improvement both in ring tactics and physical condition. He began the bout with a stiff right to the head and landed lefts and rights to the body before Reich got in several hard body blows. Morris hooked rights and lefts to the head and though Reich blocked some of the blows, the impact jarred him considerably. The local man kept boring in but Morris had the better of the first round.

In the second Morris stepped in with a straight left to the face and then sent in lefts and rights to the head, Reich only partly stopping the blows. Morris kept his man on the defensive and administered severe body punishment, a heavy blow to the stomach making Reich unable to extend himself. Shortly after the breakaway Morris sent across the finishing blow. Reich was apparently conscious of his surroundings, but made no effort to get up until after the count.

GOPHERS HOLD FIRST PRACTICE

Dr. Williams Begins Work on Squad at Northrup Field.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 1913 football season at the university was opened this afternoon when Dr. H. L. Williams led a large squad of men out into Northrup field. The prospects for a winning team are much better than last year, though a lighter team is expected. Owing to the fact that reports on condition examinations have not yet been received, the lineup for the game with South Daota is as yet very uncertain.

Coach Williams, with the aid of Sig Harris and Elmer McDevitt, expects to easily reverse the score of last year's disastrous game. The Minnesota back field will be one of the lightest and shiftiest in years. The veterans Tollefson, McAlmon and Bierman will be hard pressed for their positions by Mattern, Bierman, Haskins, Shannon and Solon of last year's freshman team. From end to end, the line will be practically intact. Those who will be back again will be Robertson, center; Rosenthal and Ostrom, guards; Sawyer and Shaughnessy, tackles, and Capt. Aldworth and Fournier, ends.

ROWING DUMMY SHOWS REAL ROWING POSITION.

Jimmy Ten Eyck has rigged up a dummy in the window of the Northern hardware store in imitation of the way his brother used to look in the days when he was the greatest amateur in the history of the world. Of course the dummy fails to do the wonderful Ned justice, but at the same time it is supposed to give the layman a passing idea of the way a man looks in a shell. One week from today the annual fall regatta of the Duluth Boat club will be held, and it is expected that the best races in the history of the club will be held. The trophies of the local club will form an interesting part of the Duluth Industrial exposition.

MURPHY PLACES FORFEIT MONEY

Chicago Boy Posts Coin for Bout With Gardner.

A forfeit for weight and the appearance of Jimmy Murphy against Steve Gardner, the Duluth boy, in the semi-windup of the boxing card of the Superior Athletic club, was posted with the sporting editor of The Herald yesterday.

According to the statement of Gardner the amount of money placed by the Chicago boy will be covered by the local boxer today.

Steve is working hard for the bout with Murphy, as he thoroughly realizes that this is the greatest chance that has been thrust his way since he entered the lists of the professional boxers.

A victory over the "three fingered" gent from the large city of Chicago will mean more to Gardner than anything he has done so far in the boxing game.

Some of the friends of the Duluth boy have expressed the opinion that Stevie cannot make the required weight and be fit to do his best. Yesterday the Duluthian hopped on the scales and proved that he is well within striking distance of the weight at the present time. It will not be necessary for Gardner to do any drying out on the day of the bout.

Curly Ulrich says that the bout between Miske and "Steamboat" Bill Scott will be the best that has been staged on the other side of the bay since boxing has been the chief means of diversion on the village side of the bay.

Miske is a comer, as he has proved in his scrap with Thor Thompson. He is the kind of a boy who dearly loves to stand in the center of the ring and merrily slug until something or someone falls.

Thompson was something of a slugger, but the Miske fellow met the rugged St. Paul boy at his own game and made him like it.

Bill Scott, according to the things that have been said of him, is also of the slugging, biff bang type of miller, and it is expected that this bout will be one of the stirring order.

MASSACHUSETTS RIFLEMEN LEAD.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 20.—The Massachusetts rifle team led yesterday at the end of the first stage of the Sadler trophy with a total score of 595 on the 800 range, which established a world's record. Other scores were: United States infantry, 588; District of Columbia, 585; New Jersey, 585.

The Fourth regiment, New Jersey, won the Old Guard match with a total of 233.

The American Association of International Riflemen yesterday elected the following officers: President, General W. Bird Spencer, sixth term; vice president, W. B. Thurston, New York; secretary-treasurer, Captain K. V. Casey, Pennsylvania.

Negroes to Meet.

New York, Sept. 20.—Gunboat Smith and Sam Langford will meet here in a ten-round bout Sept. 26, it was announced last night, after notification that the attorney general had ruled that the state athletic commission cannot prohibit mixed bouts solely upon racial grounds.

LATEST HAPPENINGS IN AUTO WORLD

FARMERS ARE BUYING AUTOS

Minneapolis Dealer Talks of Trade Conditions in Country.

Says Men on Farms Are Making Life More Pleasant.

Warren Munzer, of the firm of R. W. Munzer & Sons of Minneapois, Northwestern distributers for the Hupmobile car, is in Duluth looking up an agent. The Munzers have placed a number of Hupps in Duluth and they believe an agent here will be able to sell the cars easily.

Mr. Munzer will be here several days after which he will take a trip in the West, to call on the various agents handling the car.

Mr. Munzer has been out about two weeks and he says the automobile business looks better than it has for some time.

"Farmers are getting to be large automobile buyers," he said. "The farmers are beginning to realize that they need cars to make life on the farm more pleasant and at the same time more profitable.

Horse Is Passing.

"The man that is from five to fifteen miles from a railroad needs some quick means of communication with the towns near him and the automobile is taking the place of the horse. The slow, plodding travel of ten years ago in the country is passing and in its place comes the faster and more efficient mode of travel by the motor car.

"The car not only is of help to the farmer in traveling but he can jack up the wheels and use the motor for a power center to run various fanning mills and separators.

"In Minnesota and the Dakotas especially the farmers this year are in a position to buy cars. They had good crops last year and the crops for 1913 have been above the average in most places. That makes the farmer able to have what he wants in the way of luxuries and necessities. The motor car is considered a necessity by many of them."

AUTOS MENACE TO BIG GAME

Motorists Can Now Follow Deer and Moose in Forest.

Not only does the horse suffer from the automobile but now the deer and moose of Minnesota have a new peril. In the early days the big game in the woods had a chance to get away from the railroad lines and seek safety in the little traveled forests but now the automobile takes the hunters wherever the deer go.

A man with an automobile can get into good hunting territory within a few hours and by driving all day there is hardly a place in the state that the motorist can not reach.

The condition of the roads does not make much difference to the motorist who is determined to get there. There is hardly a tote road in the woods that the modern automobile will not take.

And as for partridge—well every sportsmen knows how easy it is to get birds with a car.

Autos in Season.

Now is the time of the year that an automobile can best be enjoyed in Duluth. The real good weather comes in September and October and the man with a motor car can get real enjoyment out of life. The 1914 models are now being sold by most of the dealers and Duluthians have many makes of cars to select from. Cars are now run all winter and few are laid up, thus increasing their efficiency.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Want One License.

"No person who shall have qualified by complying with the laws and regulations of the state, territory or district of his residence to use and operate such vehicle or vehicles (self-propelled) shall be required in any other state or territory or district into which he may go for business or pleasure, to make any additional registration or take out any additional license in order to use or operate any such machine."

This is the kind of a Federal regulation which thousands of motorists believe should be enacted, and that is why the executive board of the American Automobile association, at its monthly meeting held in Bufalo, at the invitation of President Laurens Enos, indorsed the brief and concisely worded measure containing this proviso introduced in the house of representatives by Congressman William P. Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The title of the bill designates it as an act "to regulate the interstate use of automobiles and all self-propelled vehicles which use the public highways in interstate commerce."

It will be remembered that the A. A. A. on two occasions in past years made vigorous contention for a law that would open the country's roads to a motor car owner in the same manner that is within the discretion of all other interstate travelers. Sentiment has changed, and over a million motorists testify to the gradual disappearance of an unreasonable prejudice, which Chairman Charles T. Terry of the association's legislative board hopes will evaporate entirely when the Adamson bill receives attention at the regular session of congress next winter.

The Buffalo meeting also saw the first draft of the uniform traffic regulations prepared by a special committee, the chairman of which is Dr. H. M. Rowe, president of the Automobile Club of Maryland. When the report is completed the A. A. A. will recommend the regulations to its 500 odd clubs in all parts of the country.

Grade crossings abolishment and efforts to lessen this menace to increasing road travel will be taken up by a committee, the head of which is Preston Belvin, president of the Virginia State Automobile association. That this matter demands urgent national consideration is attested by the multiplying fatalities at railroad crossings, which, in many instances, are marked by warnings that are inadequate for modern needs.

The dates for the annual meeting in Richmond, Va., were set for Dec. 1, 2 and 3, and it is expected that a record-breaking attendance will be present.

Bus Versus Trolley.

There is serious and insistent agitation in many communities against the trolley car and in favor of the motor bus as a substitute. Phoenix, Ariz., though never openly accused of being either particularly effete or aesthetic, has been prominent among cities advocating this idea and its street railway corporation, the Phoenix Rapid Transit company, has decided to make a practical test of the bus. With this end in view, a Kissel Kar, two-ton chassis has been bought and will be equipped with a 25-passenger body for early service. If it is a success more will be purchased.

Truck Makes Record.

A remarkable record for the transportation of large tonnages of sand, gravel, bricks and various building materials with the use of a motor truck in connection with trailers, has been made lately by a firm of Cleveland building contractors.

Some time ago this company put in service a Peerless five-ton truck with screw power hoist dumping body. It has the contract for building construction at Nela park. From the Austin yards to Nela park is a haul of about a mile.

On each trip the truck is loaded to capacity and each of two trailers is loaded with two and a half tons. Extra trailers are employed so that they may be loaded while the truck is away, and only have to be hitched to the machine on its return to the yard. The truck itself is loaded as expeditiously as the material to be hauled will allow.

The truck has averaged about seventy tons every working day since it has been in service and its goes up a stiff grade at the park approach hauling its trailers without difficulty.

Advertise Route.

Henry B. Joy, president of the Lincoln Highway association, has entered into the work with characteristic vigor and enthusiasm.

In one day eleven large truck loads of posters and display proclamations were shipped from Mr. Joy's executive offices. They are to be used in decorating store windows and salesrooms on Sunday, Sept. 14, the day fixed for the official announcement of the transcontinental route.

It cost $6,000 in stamps to mail the 125,000 large tubes containing the printed matter. The addressing was done by a large corps of stenographers who worked at the task exclusive of everything else.

The posters have been sent to governors, legislators, business houses and automobile concerns in the thirteen states to be traversed by the Lincoln way, and to public officials and leading business men in all of the larger cities of the country.

The decorating plan has met with hearty response. Municipal, county and state governments have signified their willingness to help. Many of the large automobile companies are cooperating with Lincoln Highway officials.

Speeding a Menace.

Drive slowly over bad roads and not too fast over good ones is the advice for achieving good tire service offered to consumers by many concerns. Where a rough road, full of ruts and depressions is taken at speed the tires are subjected to a series of shocks that must naturally be injurious to the fabric and must make it harder to keep them going.

And then on the other hand very fast driving on smooth roads makes the rubber heat up and unquestionably spoils their chances of longevity.

Speeders are without a question of a doubt the worst enemy of the motoring world, and to those law abiding citizens who own and drive cars for pleasure and health and not to see how close they can come to pedestrians while going at a high rate of speed without hitting them.

The speeder has not only been responsible for many deaths that have cast gloom over what were once happy homes, but they are alone to blame for many of the drastic laws passed by many states in the last few months.

Some of the laws, while they protect the public to a certain extent, certainly work many hardships upon the law abiding motorist. It is only another instance where the innocent are made to suffer along with the guilty.

Horse Is Humbled.

First the motor car scared the horse almost out of its senses; and then gradually edged him over towards the ditch and tagged him for the discard. This, of course, in the city.

Next he was robbed of one task and then another around the farm.

And yet in many sweetly silent places Old Dobbin has trudged along contentedly, serene in the assumption that his buggy at least was secure and would be left him for his own until the crack of doom.

Now the crowning insult has come to pass — with the motorcycle, little brother to the motor car—playing the part of the villain.

P. P. Wienand of the Mountain States Telephone company, Trinidad, Colo., on a Sunday afternoon not long ago public ally disgraced poor Old Dobbin by hitching his motorcycle to a buggy and driving some of his friends to El Moro and back.

SULZER CASE IS ADJOURNED

High Court Will Not Meet Again Until Monday.

New York Assembly Recesses Without Adding to Charges.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—After counsel for William Sulzer lost the first skirmish in a legal battle they began at the second session of the high court of impeachment, to prevent the accused executive from coming to trial, their objections to permitting four senators to sit as members of the court being overruled, they attacked the validity of the impeachment with a motion to dismiss the proceedings, but failure to complete their argument when adjournment was taken until Monday precluded a decision in the matter.

Sulzer Recognized Glynn.

Meanwhile Governor Sulzer formally conceded that he had no right to exercise the functions of chief executive pending the determination of the impeachment. This he did in a letter to Lieutenant Governor Glynn, turning over to the latter a request for the extradition of a prisoner and explaining that he had taken such action because of recent decisions of the supreme court that the executive functions had been performed by "yourself as acting governor."

The formal recognition came in the form of a letter from Lester Platt, Governor Sulzer's secretary, containing enclosures relating the extradition of Mose Guzman who is wanted in New York state, is under arrest in Chili.

Assembly Takes Recess.

After striving futilely from noon until 7:30 o'clock last night to obtain enough anti-Sulzer votes to insure the passage of additional impeachment charges, Majority Leader Levy moved that the assembly recess until next Thursday. The motion was adopted amid shouts of joy, and members who had been imprisoned in the chamber for hours dashed for trains and their homes.

In making the motion for a recess, Mr. Levy explained that the senate had adjourned until the same day, and that even if the board of managers put additional charges through the assembly last night, the senate could not be notified immediately. He made an urgent plea for all to be present on Thursday. The fight for additional charges will be resumed immediately on the convening of the assembly, and meanwhile the Democratic leaders will use every means to obtain a full attendance.

Charges Completed.

It is generally understood that the charges were completed. Three chief allegations are, it is said, that the governor usurped powers after his impeachment; made a pre-election promise to make Dr. Julius Broder, state commissioner of health; and failed to account for the fund which he obtained to wage his direct primary campaign.

At the "people's house," Governor Sulzer spent a quiet day. Late in the afternoon he went out automobile riding. Before leaving he told attaches of the mansion that he would not grant any interview.

The session of the court of impeachment was given over to legal argument, and indications were that Monday and Tuesday would be similarly occupied, precluding the calling of witnesses until Wednesday.

PURDUE SOPHOMORE CHOKES TO DEATH

Lovette, Ind., Sept. 20.—E. J. Obenschain, aged 20, of South Whitley, Ind., died during the annual tank scrap between the freshmen and sophomore classes at Purdue university here last night. Obenschain, a sophomore, and his classmates wore leather collars, reinforced with metal tops to protect their necks. The dead student had a goiter of the neck, and during the excitement attending the fight his neck swelled until he was choked to death.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the student died of heart failure caused by the excitement of the fight.

Shortly before the fight ended, two freshmen, noticing the sophomore lying on the ground, dragged him away When the man made no resistance, they examined him and discovered he was dead. Physicians said Obenschain had been dead fifteen minutes when found.

University authorities issued a statement in which it was said Obenschain's death was not due to any injury received in the fight, but it was announced that the historic tank scrap would never be held again.

The annual freshman-sophomore fight got the name of "tank scrap" because of its being held near a water tank. The freshmen, victors in last night's fight, were parading their victims around the campus and had lighted the bonfires when Obenschain's death was announced. The sophomores were at once released and the fire extinguished.

NEARLY ONE INCH OF RAIN IN TEN MINUTES

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 20.—A rain storm, accompanied by a high wind flooded the streets and the basements of many buildings in this city late yesterday. Ninety one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell in ten minutes, according to the reports of the government weather bureau. In some parts of the business center, immediately after the downpour, water three feet deep rushed through the streets.

The wind, which blew at the rate of fifty miles an hour, tore down awnings and street signs.

DIFFERENT NICKELS NOT COUNTERFEITS.

Washington, Sept. 20. — Needless fears of supposedly counterfeit nickels, it is stated by secret service officials, are disturbing people throughout the country. Complaints of counterfeiting are pouring into the treasury department, but Acting Chief Moran says the apprehension is due to unfamiliarity with the fact that the department recently made a slight change in the new coin. In the revised design the words "Five Cents" are brought out in greater relief than in the original. This difference gives rise to reports of counterfeits.

ARE SUPREME IN RELIGION

Jews Have Given World Its Greatest Book, Says Rabbi.

In No Other Realm Has Race Developed Undisputed Masters.

Although the Jewish race has given to the world men of the first rank in every direction and walk of life, the undisputed masters were never sons of Israel, was the declaration made last evening by Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits in his sermon on "Forward" at the fall opening service at Temple Emanuel. The service last evening marked the beginning of the seventh year Dr. Lefkovits has had charge of the local congregation.

In one direction only have the Jews led the world during the past centuries, said Dr. Lefkovits, and that is in religion. In this direction, the pastor declared, the Jews are the undisputed masters, standing supreme without a single peer.

Dr. Lefkovits said in part:

"We constantly read of the remarkable capacities of the Jews, the bright children in the public schools, the exceptionally clever students in the high schools and universities and the leaders in the merchant world, laboratories and studios. The Jews have presented to the world renowned sculptors, scientists and political economists. All this a wonderful testimony to the intellectual capacity of the Jew.

Many Celebrities.

"While celebrities have risen, the Jews have not yet produced the world's master for all times in any direction, but one. Let me explain. There died in Russia a few years ago, Antrokolski, the greatest sculptor of his day, but he was no Michael Angelo, and I doubt if at any time men will refer to him as mankind's greatest sculptor. The Jews gave to the world Meyerbeer, the great musical celebrity, but he had his superiors in Bach and Wagner. The Jew produced a David, Joseph Israels and J. Solomon, distinguished painters, but they are eclipsed by Titian, Rembrandt and Velasquez. Consider a moment the financial world, in which the Jews have played so important a part. It is true that the Rothschilds and Schiff have risen in the Jewish ranks, yet their wealth is small in comparison when compared to the accumulations of Morgan, Rockefeller, Astor, Carnegie and Gould. The Jew is supposed to excel as a merchant, yet the world's merchant prince is not a Jew.

Supreme in Religion.

"There is, however, one direction in which the Jew has excelled the entire world. There is one field in which he is the master. There is one realm in which he stands supreme. There is one area of activity in which none have surpassed him. There he stands alone. I mean the realm of religion. The religion of the entire world comes from Israel. In this instance the world must come to Israel; here the world to the Jew is debtor. For sacred literature, for masters, teacher and prophet, for the very God worshiped throughout Christendom, the world must come to Israel. It was Israel's experience that revealed these to the world, but it is in the sphere of religion that Israel has rendered the world the most distinguished services. The world's greatest book, the Bible, is the Jews' book. The world's greatest prophets are the brethren of the Jews. The man of Galilee, Christianity's master, was a Jew, a member of the house of Israel. Yes, in the realm of Israel, mankind's eternal need, the Jew is the master for all time, and were we to take away from humanity the contribution made by the people of Israel, chaos would take the place of civilization.

Need Simple Religion.

"The world stands in need of Israel's sane, sober and simple view of religon. Alas, that so many still err in their views of religion. There are millions who regard religion as some spiritual morphine, some moral sedative which may dull the wrecked nerve and render it insensible to the world's pain. To many still believe that the attitude of religion is the clasped hand. Too many regard religion only as the consoler in adversity's hour. Would to God that a religon of love did sway men, that it did influence the world. Such is the right, true and sane religion.

"Where is the religon of love? Think ye that the Turkish men, women and children are ready to bear testimony to the religion of love, that they came in contact with it on the fields of Adrianople and Salonica? Think ye that the blood-soaked fields of Mexico are evidences of the religion of love? Think ye that Duluth can bear testimony to a religion of love, when all we hear are such epithets as robbers, gamblers, thieves and hypocrites hurled by citizens at one another?"

HERO OF WRECK IS FOUND TO BE THIEF.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 20.—Hanford Donnelly of Stamford, who did heroic rescue work in the wreck of the Springfield express on the New Haven road at Westport last October, was found guilty in the superior court late yesterday of the theft of jewels valued at $3,500, taken from one of the wrecked cars. The jewels were owned by Mrs. Elizabeth H. James of Chicago. Donnelly was sentenced by Judge Reed to not less than one nor more than five years in state prison.

Witnesses testified that Donnelly had acted in a heroic manner at the wreck, Mrs. Florence P. Waring of New York stating that it was through Donnelly's efforts that she was saved from being burned to death in one of the parlor cars.

HEARD in the HOTEL LOBBIES

"Yesterday I heard a man complaining about the rain," said the Old Chairwarmer. "That man would kick if his brother-in-law died and left him a fortune. After all the delightful weather Duluth has had in the last several weeks I think we ought to be able to stand a little rain once in awhile. I believe with James Whitcomb Riley when he says:

"'Taint no use to grumble an' complain,
It's just as cheap an' easy to rejoice,
When God sorts out the weather an' sends rain
Why rain's my choice.'"

"I have had all kinds of requests from persons who have wanted me to put valuables in the safe," said J. A. Magnuson of the Spalding hotel, "but last night I was slightly staggered when a man approached and asked if I would put his baseball shoes in the big vault where they would be safe until morning. And the baseball season about over at that."

John C. Adams of Chicago, who was in Duluth in 1895 was here again yesterday for the first time since then. He said that Duluth presented a greatly changed appearance since that time. Superior street has been about made over, according to Mr. Adams.

A crusty old gentleman who believes that a penny saved is a penny earned got into a wrangle with one of the girls at a news stand in one of the hotels yesterday. The man bought a newspaper and the girl charged him 3 cents. The old gentleman handed back the paper and got his money. "I can buy that paper out on the street for 2 cents," he said as he walked out.

* * *

A "tourist" who has traveled all over the country in side door Pullmans arrived in Duluth yesterday. He had just a nickel in his pocket and he started making the rounds of Duluth saloons looking for the one with the best free lunch. He walked up one side of Superior street and down the other but there was nothing happening in the way of free foods. He said he was here three years ago and lived high without spending any money. Then he got on the ferry and went to Superior where he said he understood there was plenty to eat on the bars.

TWO MEN KILLED AND WOMAN IS WOUNDED

Shooting Affair in Garage Laid to Jealousy of Third Man.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 20.—William Ackler, a chauffeur, and George Kovack, watchman in a downtown garage, were shot and killed and Mrs. Kate Gallagher was dangerously wounded yesterday as the sequel to an automobile ride to a beach resort, followed by a carousal in the garage. A. R. Coulson, proprietor of one of the largest poultry supply houses, was arrested, charged with the shooting.

No one but the trio that formed the automobile party was in the garage when the murderer entered. Mrs. Gallagher was found some time later on the street, where she had fallen, and before lapsing into unconsciousness declared Coulson had shot her. A trail of blood she had left was traced to the garage where the dead men lay.

Ackler, the chauffeur, had been killed as he leaned against his motor car. Kovack, it was learned later from the woman, was shot in the garage office, where he had fled from the murderer.

Coulson's wife was committed to a state insane asylum for the insane about five years ago, and since then he and Mrs. Gallagher had lived together, according to the woman's statement. That he was insanely jealous of her was her explanation of the tragedy.

Coulson was found after an all-day search in the office of his attorneys. He refused to make any statement.

DREYFUS' FRIEND IS IN BOSTON HOSPITAL.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—Maitre Farnard Labori of Paris, who led the fight which freed Dreyfus from Devils island, is ill in this city. He was stricken with appendicitis following the meeting of the American Bar association in Montreal, which he attended. The attack came while he was en route here, and upon his arrival he was removed to a hospital. There he was operated upon.

Physicians say the operation was successful and they expect Maitre Labori will be able to return to France within a fortnight. His wife, three daughters and a son, who accompanied him here, are staying at a hotel.

TRADED HER BABY GIRL FOR POULTRY.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 20.—How a mother traded a year-old baby girl for six hens and a rooster because she had been deserted by her husband, and could not support it, came to light through the death of Mrs. Mullie Karnes. Mrs. Karnes was fatally burned while making a fire at her home. Several months ago, according to a story told the juvenile court officers, Mrs. Karnes took the baby to a Kansas City woman and asked that she care for it. When she left the child, she was given the poultry. The court officers believe the baby has a good home, and will leave it with the foster parents.

FEDERAL JUDGE IS ASKED TO RESIGN.

Nome, Alaska, Sept. 20.—United States District Judge Cornelius D. Murnane has been asked by the department of justice to resign. The term of office for which he was appointed has one year more to run.

It is said also that United States District Attorney Bernard S. Ready, who formerly was delegate to congress from New Mexico, and federal judge in Porto Rico, has been asked to resign.

Charges against Judge Murnane are alleged to have been filed in Washington by representatives of large gold dredging interests of Nome.

FIRE DESTROYS FINE PINE GROVE.

Banning, Cal., Sept. 20.—One of the finest pine groves in the Cleveland national forest and a portion of the water shed from which the Redlands, Riverside and San Bernardino citrus fruit growers obtain their irrigation supplies, was destroyed yesterday by a forest fire which, after three days' steady progress, reached the south fork of the Santa Ana river. There are three distinct fires, one threatening Seven Oaks mountain resort.

District forest rangers regard the fires as the most serious of the last three years.

Shaved Lincoln; Is Suicide.

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 20.—Dalton C. Steward, 84 years old, for sixty years a barber, shot and killed himself here yesterday. He shaved Abraham Lincoln in Springfield before the Civil war and was also a janitor for a time in Lincoln's and Herndon's law office.

CONTRACTS FOR THREE

Eveleth City Council Makes Awards for Proposed Work.

Public Market to Be Built at the Cost of $2,140.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council in special session Friday evening opened bids for remodeling the city quarantine hospital, for removing the Presbyterian church from its present site on the southeast corner of Central park to a site on Roosevelt avenue adjoining the Episcopal church, for erecting a building to be used as a public market place, and for installing a new steam pump at the water works station.

The contracts for remodeling the quarantine hospital and moving the church was let to C. H. Rutty for $2,790 and $2,200, respectively; George H. Spurbeck got the job of building the market place for $2,140. The contract for the pumps was not let but was referred to a committee of the whole to report at an adjourned meeting to be held next Friday evening. The Home Electric & Heating company appeared at the council meeting and presented the merits of electrical power for operating the city pumps and offered a comparative table of costs showing an estimated saving of approximately $15,000 the first year for the city, in case it should adopt electricity. The representation moved the board to hold up the purchase of steam pumps until it could determine whether the representations of the electrical company were correct.

EVELETH BOYS LEARN WHAT NOT TO READ

Superintendent of School Tells Club "Dime Novels" Are Pernicious.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Boys' Study and Recreation Club of the Presbyterian church was delightfully entertained at the home of President and Mrs. Joseph S. Wilson on Lincoln avenue last evening. The subject under consideration was "The Missionary Spirit," and the biography of David Livingstone, the famous African explorer and missionary, was used to illustrate the true and heroic missionary spirit.

After studying and discussing this subject in which the boys were much interested, Burton O. Greening, superintendent of schools, gave a helpful and practical talk on "Books." In speaking on what not to read Mr. Greening warned the boys against the pernicious "dime novel" and "trashy" literature and pointed out to them the evil influence of all such reading. He also gave some excellent suggestions as to how to read the best books so as to derive the greatest benefit from the same, closing his address by giving a list of carefully selected books by best authors that are specially adapted for boys and can be found in the Eveleth school library.

The rest of the evening was spent with games and refreshments were served, Miss Marion Rutty assisting Mrs. Wilson, hostess.

The next study meeting of the club will be on Friday evening, Oct. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pfremmer on Jones street, when the subject will be "Honesty," and the biography to be studied that of Abraham Lincoln. The speaker at that time will be John H. Hearding of Duluth.

HIBBING ALUMNI LOSE FIRST GAME.

Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the opening game of the 1913 football season in Hibbing the high school eleven was victorious over the members of the alumni, the score resulting 9 to 6. Although much heavier than their opponents, the alumni lacked practice and frequent fumbles lost them ground. Clever forward passes were worked to advantage by both elevens, and much ground was made following these plays. Near the close of the first quarter the alumni lost the ball on downs on its own 20-yard line. The high school was unable to gain and Kleffman, the high school halfback, dropped a neat goal, giving the students 3 points.

Following this score the alumni took the ball down the field and after a hard struggle managed to place it across the goal line for the first touchdown of the year. St. Julian's kick-out was allowed to strike the ground untouched and the extra point was not secured.

The remainder of the game was nip and tuck until the last minute of play, when Johnson, following a short run, threw the ball to Kleffman, who hurled it thirty yards into the waiting hands of Smith, who trotted across the alumni goal line with the winning points. Kleffman failed to kick goal.

The outcome of the contest was very gratifying to the high school boys and Coach Shafer and the prospects of a winning team have taken a decided jump. The loss of Guard Burkman, whose arm was broken, is keenly felt.

CEMENT PAVING IS SOURCE OF KICKS

Eveleth Property Owners Object to Privilege for Trolley Company.

Eveleth, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prominent property owners on Adams avenue declared today that they would apply to the court for an injunction restraining the city from giving the Mesaba Railway company the special privilege of paving between the rails of their track with concrete when the property owners were compelled to pay for creosote blocks. The objection is that the concrete is a much cheaper paving and altogether too noisy to be used on a residence street, and that it would cheapen the appearance of the entire job.

The railway company's claim that the creosoted blocks cause trouble by bulging, these gentlemen declare, is not true in case proper rails are used, and they say the company induced the council to give it this special privilege to effect a saving of several thousand dollars in the construction.

EIGHT PRISONERS LEARN THEIR FATE

Judge Hughes Sentences LecQuyer to Pen for Life —Protests Innocence.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The greatest number of prisoners ever taken into the range district court for sentence in a single day appeared before Judge Martin Hughes here Friday afternoon. Eight were disposed of and sentence was deferred in the case of four others for want of time. Nearly the entire afternoon was taken by the judge in interrogating those who had entered a plea of guilty or had been found guilty after trial.

The greatest interest was centered in the case of Homer LecQuyer, convicted of murder in the first degree, although under the law the court had no option to do other than impose a life sentence in the state prison at hard labor. When given an opportunity to say something before the imposing of sentence Lec Quoyer stated in a clear voice that he was not guilty. After sentence was imposed he reasserted that he was innocent and asked the court if he would be turned loose, if it were found out that somebody else murdered Louis Fernie. Lec Quyer maintained his alert and active manner and spoke in loud, clear tones as he addressed the court.

In the case of William Delahunt and Herman Herbert, arrested for having robbed a store in Hibbing and who pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the first degree, Delahunt was sentenced to an indeterminate sentence in Stillwater without parole and Herbert to the state reformatory at St. Cloud with parole, conditioned on his reporting every month to C. E. Everett, range probation officer at Hibbing, and the judge at the opening of the February and October terms of the court in 1914.

Paul Peccitano, the Eveleth boy charged with a statutory offense against Mary Mucich, aged 14, was sentenced to the state reformatory at St. Cloud until discharged, with sentence stayed one year with parole conditions the same as in the Herbert case.

Alex Dobleski, who stabbed Tom Cross at Cusson and pleaded guilty to an information for assault in the third degree, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve a term of three months in the county jail.

Eli Karkas, the North side man, who, during a neighborhood row, struck Rosie Allars over the head with a shovel and was allowed to plead guilty to assault in the second degree, was sentenced to Stillwater until discharged.

John Mattson, whose plea of guilty to grand larceny in the second degree had been accepted, he having stole liquor from a railroad car, was first sentenced to the state reformatory at St. Cloud for an indeterminate period and was let go on a one-year parole.

Wet Farmers' Day.

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia's third annual farmers' day was marred by unfavorable weather, the showers of the morning deterring many from coming to the city. The quality of produce was of the very highest, but the quantity was not up to the standard of former years. The features of automobile rides and visits to the show houses were carried out, but owing to the rain the athletic program had to be abandoned. The information gathered from those who attended and made exhibits was that the number of acres under cultivation in the various farming regions is being greatly increased.

"CASCARETS" ALWAYS STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

When Constipated, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

ASHLAND TAX VALUES GROWING.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 20.—The tax roll of the city of Ashland has been totalled and is now in the hands of the city clerk. The roll shows $2,084,085 in personal property, against $2,072,900 in 1912, and $6,013,137 in real estate, against $5,951,603 in 1912.

This is a gain of $73,439 in valuation over last year, notwithstanding the fact that the gas plant was not placed on the rolls this year and was on last owing to an error. This was assessed at $50,000, which practically means that Ashland's valuation this year has increased about $125,000.

DOWN IN AFRICA.

Indianapolis News: J. H. Harris, in his book, "Dawn in Darkest Africa," finds that the industrial instinct is developing among native Africans. "It is said," he remarks, "of the Indian coolie that anywhere he will make two blades grow to the one blade the white man can produce. In this respect the African follows hard on the heels of his Indian rival. In Southern Nigeria I met several successful native farmers. • • • One of these, some years ago, bought 200 acres of land at $1 an acre. • • • This man has now a turnover of nearly $100,000 a year.

LIKE VIOLET? THEN BEWARE

Persons Fond of That Color Are Three-Quarters Insane.

At Least This Is Statement of Eminent Mental Alienist.

Munich, Sept. 20.—People with a passion for violet clothing are three quarters mad. This is the discovery of the distinguished mental alienist, Dr. Bernard Holz, and he is backed by other investigators. Generally he declares that fashion and clothes have the directest influence on insanity. Dr. Rudolf Foerster of Berlin has been investigating the same subject and he has just published a book on "The Connection of Professions and Fashions With Mental Disease." Dr. Foerster says that it is a sign of progressive paralysis when a man of plain life takes to dressing himself up like an Unter den Linden fop and wears a silk hat. And Dr. Holz says that it is a sure sign of paranoia when elderly persons show a minute zeal about their clothing, and particularly when two elderly members of the same family copy one another's garb.

"A certain proportion of lunatics," says Dr. Holz, "probably 3 per cent, owe their troubles to the influence of fashion, that is to women's fashions. This does not include the vast number upon whom fashion acts indirectly in an injurious sense, for instance, to tight-laced women who suffer from hysteria. Hysteria is essentially a fashion nervous disease. Also it does not include thousands of indirect victims whose nervous systems are undermined through disappointment with their dressmakers, jealousy of other women's clothes, inability to pay modistes' bills. If these cases are counted, then a third of woman lunatics are victims of fashion.

Means Mind Unbalanced.

"The greatest of all dangers for women of between 40 and 60," says Dr. Holz, "is a too minute attention to clothing and to changes of mode. When a young woman is unreasonably keen on fashion that may mean mental disease; but when a woman getting on in life does so that almost certainly means a mind unbalanced. One sign of all half-lunacy is an entire lack of sympathetic and human interest and a fussy self-concentration on one's own petty, often insignificant needs and imagined needs. This concentration is petty and insignificant when in an elderly woman it takes the form of dress. Women with grown-up children, perhaps grandchildren, who persist in leading fussy, worldly lives, who think only of their complexions and their hats, are nearly always half-way toward insanity."

With this view Dr. Foerster's book agrees, for it notes that insane women often collect vast quantities of useless clothing, spend extravagantly and show an unnatural desire to shine in society.

"The first sign of a normally healthy-brained organism is," says Dr. Holz, "a considerable decline of interest in clothes after one passes 30. When a woman has passed 60, a craze for clothing may mean premature dementia senilis.

"In such cases," says Dr. Holz, "the craze for fashion may be merely a symptom of insanity which is already well under way. But insanity may be caused in perfectly healthy persons who pay too much attention to clothes, concentration of the mind on one subject; the sight of unattainable furs and gems, and above all, the consciousness of a woman of small means that she appears badly dressed at social gatherings—these things have a distinctly disorganizing effect upon the nervous system. A woman of strong mind escapes this peril by keeping to her own class; but if ambition is stronger than common sense, the ceaseless struggle for fine clothing, with perpetual self-consciousness, may undermine sound mental health. Probably there are usually other causes. But it is not necessary to assume inherited or constitutional mental weakness in every case of madness brought on by fashion."

Nerve-Disturbing Colors.

Dr. Holz's experiments with patients and animals indicate that possibly colors may have something to do with insanity. He holds that blue and violet are "insane," that is, nerve-disturbing colors; and adds that the lunacy rate may be affected by fashion when the prevailing mode compels a particular color to be worn. Dr. Holz tested the pulses and nervous reaction of seven women patients when handsome colored articles of attire were unexpectedly placed before them. He found that, contrary to current belief, red and orange do not excite. Green soothes; but purple, violet and blue have disturbing effects. The craze for violet which is common with South German women may be one cause of mental instability. The experiments with animals chiefly consisted in dressing dogs and rabbits in violently colored jackets. In most cases violet and blue caused a more violent revulsion and stronger desire to get rid of the jackets than any other color. Rabbits, in particular, were bewildered when dressed in blue.

Dr. Holz thinks that pyromania, the passion for setting fire to property, may be a fashion disease. He says he treated three women victims of pyromania, all of whom showed a craze for minutely careful dressing.

"Hysteria," says Dr. Holz, "is prevalent with women and very rare among men, partly because men wear a uniform dress and are, therefore, saved from the morbid excitements of fashion. That, too, explains why peasant women in countries where an unchanging national dress is worn, are so remarkably free from hysteria. They are not subjected to the exactions and despotism of fashion, which is one of the most fertile causes of nervous diseases in the world."

DUST ABSORBENT.

From the Pharmaceutical Era: Intimately mix by weight twelve parts of mineral sperm oil with eighty-eight parts of Roman or Portland cement, adding a few drops of oil of mirbane. Upon stirring a uniform paste forms at first, which then passes into a greasy, sandy mass. This mass is sprinkled upon the surface to be swept and cleaned of dust, next going over it with a broom or similar object, in the customary manner, at which operation the dust will mix with the mass. The preparation can be used repeatedly.

A SASKATCHEWAN SCHOOL.

Canadian News: Although it is really quite easy for an Englishwoman to obtain a post as teacher in Canada, it is not equally as easy to keep it. All beginners and newcomers are given rural schools, where probably twenty to thirty boys and girls of all ages have to be taught by one teacher, and many of these pupils will be foreigners. I went into one prairie school in Saskatchewan and saw Japanese, Chinese, Germans, Russians, Swedes and a big negro boy who looked about 20 years old, all being taught in one tiny wooden schoolhouse by a young teacher who could only have been a year or two older than her eldest scholar. In Manitoba a highly placed official said to me: "Teachers must be 'mixers'—that is, able to mix with and make themselves agreeable to all sorts and conditions of people."

THOMAS F. COLE NOT JOINED HANDS WITH GUGGENHEIMS

Purchases in Butte District Are for North Butte Company.

New Company May Be Formed to Develop the Properties.

Butte, Mont., Sept 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The old story has been revived by an Eastern financial paper to the effect that the Guggenheims are interested with Thomas F. Cole in buying up properties in the eastern part of the Butte district to an amount involving some $1,250,000. While there is no doubt the people generally would welcome the Guggenheims into this district in assisting in the development of ground in the outlying sections, up to the present time there is absolutely no truth in the Cole-Guggenheim coalition. The only part of the story that is true is that a large acreage of ground has been purchased, and somewhere in the vicinity of $1,250,000 has already been paid for the properties. Every possible piece of ground or claim which could be bought at a reasonable price has been secured, clear from the East Butte property to Columbia Gardens, amounting in all to about 15,000 acres, but the purchases have not been made for any Cole-Guggenheim combination. The persons who have been buying up the properties refuse to make any statement as to who is furnishing the money, but there is no question in the minds of those who watch such matters closely that the North Butte company is at the back of the whole business. W. D. Thornton, a close friend of John D. Ryan, has been directing the securing of the properties and an attorney in the city has been acting for Mr. Thornton. Some time ago Eastern papers reported that all the properties were being secured for the Amalgamated Copper company, but this conjecture is also known to be untrue. It will be remembered that in the last annual report of the directors of the North Butte company it was stated that it was the intention of the directors to secure additional property, and the 15,000 acres bought up during the past few months was undoubtedly what was hinted at. One thing is certain, it can be depended upon that Thomas F. Cole has not joined hands with the Guggenheims. The North Butte company has the money to buy all the ground acquired. The only question now is whether the North Butte people will increase its capital stock and take in the new properties or a new company will be formed to develop the properties. There are yet some claims to be secured but the people owning them have become wise to the fact that Eastern capitalists are desirous of securing them, and the price has been doubled with the result that it has been announced that no more claims are to be purchased. Nothing will be done in the way of development before next spring.

Barnes-King.

The Barnes-King company in the official monthly report for August shows net bullion returns of $32,088.55 on 4,310 tons of ore treated. The mining and milling expenses, at $3.50 per ton, were $15,085, leaving a balance of $17,-003.55 of which 75 per cent goes to the North Moccasin owners as partial payment of property, amounting to $12,752.66. With the mining and milling expenses this makes the amount retained by the Barnes-King company $19,335.89. The purchase price of the North Moccasin property was $150,000 and the total amount paid to Sept. 1 in bullion and $5,000 cash is $120,-908.52, leaving a balance due the North Moccasin people of $29,091.48. It would now appear that by the time the November returns are received the Barnes-King company will have paid off its entire indebtedness. The amount of money retained by the Barnes-King company from the net bullion returns of last month was $4,250.89. Manager McGee, in reporting to President Charles W. Goodale, says: "The bullion shipped for the month of August weighed 2,084.66 ounces. It was hoped that the tonnage for the month would be around the 5,000 mark, but heavy ground prevented the 500 and 600 faces west from being worked for nearly a week. These faces are in good ore at the present time, but they will be continued in the expectation of great improvement. The raise under the Santigo shaft has been holed, the station of the 500 foot level, thirty feet long by fourteen feet wide, has been cut, and after a few rounds have been taken out of the bottom, the full sized shaft will be raised from the 500 to the 350. Three of the new tanks were loaded with ore by the last day of the month. The remainder will be in commission by the end of the present month, together with the addition to the zinc room. At the Piegan-Gloster a small head frame and hoist were put in use the first of September and cross-cutting commenced from the shaft. This work will explore the east end of the Gloster claim."

Butte Central.

Involuntary bankrupt proceedings have been brought into the Federal court of the Butte district against the Butte Central Copper company on the ground that the company shipped to the Selbey Smelter company in California $2,500 worth of precipitates while insolvent with the intent to prefer certain officers of the concern over the workmen. The proceedings were brought by former employes, and it is alleged that when the company closed down the plant last July it left the employes unpaid in amounts ranging from $100 to $300 each. The suit is brought against the officers of the company and Sam McConnell, the manager. The suit is the result of receivership proceedings brought against the company in Massachusetts. Every mining man who has examined the concentrator declares that it is in every respect a very complete one and equal to any in the country. This is no doubt a correct view, but the fact remains that there is not any ore in the mine of high enough grade to treat according to some experts who have made an examination. However, it must not be considered from that statement that the property is without value, as engineers of much experience have reported that if the shaft were carried down possibly another 500 feet some good shipping ore might be encountered. The shaft up to the present time is down to a depth of 500 feet for mining purposes, although there is a depth of 1,000 feet, but no explorations have been made.

Butte & London.

The electrical equipment for the Butte & London company is expected within the next few days and it is estimated that between two and three weeks will be required to place it in position. This means that about the first of next month the work of unwatering the shaft will be commenced and this will require a month. It will be Dec. 1 before the actual work of shaft sinking will be started, and it will be next June or July before the depth of 1,800 feet as required under the agreement entered into with Thomas F. Cole of the Rainbow Development company is reached. However, in the meantime it is proposed to run several crosscuts for the purpose of exploring the ground, and it may be that early into the spring some good ore bodies will be encountered, as it is a well known fact that just before the company ceased operations six years ago some good shipping ore was in sight, but the funds in the treasury and the market conditions caused the directors to close down operations.

Very Rich Ore.

Col. Tom Cruse, the well known mining man, is reported to have opened up ore on the 200-foot level of the Franklin mine in the Scratch Gravel district, which will run $1,000 to the ton. The lead is reported to be seven feet wide, and four and a half feet of this is good shipping ore and thirty-five inches of it is very rich. A large force of men has been put to work and development is to be rushed with all possible speed.

Anaconda.

The Anaconda Copper Mining company is shipping 10,000 tons of ore daily to the Washoe smelter and about 5,000 tons are going daily to the Great Falls smelter. This is practically the capacity of the two smelters and the outlook at the present time is that the company will turn out in the vicinity of 26,000,000 pounds of copper during the present month.

Ryan Banqueted.

Just previous to his departure for New York, John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, was tendered a banquet by the business men of Helena in recognition of the valuable work being done by the Montana Reservoir & Irrigation company of which he is the head. In his speech Mr. Ryan said that before the year 1915 the second unit of the Prickly Bear valley irrigation project, comprising 13,000 acres, will be completed. He also announced that he would subscribe $50,000 toward the construction of an interurban line to Hauser lake, provided the citizens of Helena would raise an additional amount sufficient to complete the line. Mr. Ryan said that the Anaconda company was producing copper at the rate of about 300,000,000 pounds a year and was distributing directly and indirectly approximately $40,000,000 a year in the state.

FIRST CHURN DRILL AT BUTTE-DULUTH

Object Is to More Thoroughly Prove the Ore Bodies.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 20.—The Butte-Duluth company has installed at its plant near Columbia gardens the first of the churn drills that it is putting in. The purpose is to prove up the ore body of the entire property, which already is fairly well developed to the length of 2,800 feet north and south, 500 feet wide and to a depth of approximately 300 feet.

If the first drill proves a success, two others will be added. The second one is expected to be on the ground within a few days and the third will be leased.

The ground has been mapped out into squares 100 feet each way. The proposition is to sink the test holes to a depth of about 200 feet in proving the ore, and should the test prove successful at least a hundred holes of this kind will be sunk with the churn drills.

These holes will not only give the test of the ore bodies but will also be utilized in the blasting later when the ore is taken out in the different sections.

It is estimated that each drill will sink about forty or fifty feet a day, and by spring the entire property will have been gone over.

In speaking of the plan, Capt. Wolvin said:

"The churn drill plan is for the purpose of more thoroughly proving the ore bodies that we have on our property. We already have installed one. We will use it in blasting the ore in the face for mining purposes. These drills put down holes about six inches in diameter and we can run to a depth of 500 feet with them, but will probably go down only 200 feet at present. If we find the drills will do the work, then we will go right on over the entire property with them."

This would mean some 20,000 feet of drilling, all told, before the task is ended.

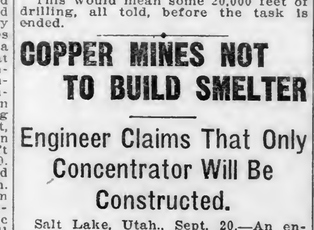

COPPER MINES NOT TO BUILD SMELTER

Engineer Claims That Only Concentrator Will Be Constructed.

Salt Lake, Utah., Sept. 20.—An engineer of wide experience in Nevada is in the city and while not desirous of being quoted he says he does not believe that Consolidated Coppermines company will construct a smelting plant in the near future. He says he does not understand that new financing contemplates all the improvements that have been claimed, yet he feels confident that a mill plant is to be built and placed in operation at the earliest date possible.

As a reason for not building the smelter he says that the money to be raised, and which is said to have been guaranteed by some of the large interests in this company, is insufficient to construct a large concentrator and a smelting plant. That the mill alone will cost about as much as has been pledged, and that while the Giroux company found it could not make as great a profit on having its ores concentrated by a custom plant as it could by treatment in its own plant, the smelting propjosition will be entirely another thing.

The Steptoe furnaces are able to handle all the ore coming from the Nevada Consolidated and as much ore as the Coppermines company will produce for years to come, according to this engineer. The Steptoe company can afford to make a contract for treating the Coppermines ores at a reasonable price and thus relieve the Coppermines company of the necessity of raising a lot of money for building a smelter. Mining men of experience have found it was not profitable to build smelter plants for one property, unless there was a possibility of treating custom ores. The exception to this rule has been in cases where large deposits were being mined and the property was at too great a distance from custom plants. With a modern mill plant Coppermines should be able to show some profits on the ores now exposed in its various holdings, and there is always the possibility of more ore being developed.

COLE IS BACK FROM ARIZONA

Calumet & Arizona Likely to Take Over Bonded Ajo Claims.

Will Add Wonderful Steam Shovel Proposition to the Company.

Thomas F. Cole has returned to Duluth from Arizona, where he was accompanied by President Charles Briggs and Directors Thomas Hoatson and Peter Ruppe of the Calumet & Arizona Copper company on an inspection of the company's properties. They visited the underground workings of the Calumet & Arizona at Bisbee, also the new smelting plant at Dorgals, and made an examination of the development now in progress in the Superior district in Pinal county, and in the Ajo mountains in Pima county. They were accompanied on the latter trip by General Manager J. C. Greenway of the Calumet & Arizona, and Dr. Ricketts, and the latter two came back with them as far as Chicago, en route to Europe, where they will remain for two months.

The Ajo Holdings.

It is believed that the visit of Mr. Cole and his associates was prompted largely by the development of the Ajo properties, which are under bond to the Calumet & Arizona company, and the option of which will expire in October. There is every reason to believe that the company will take up the properties and that Mr. Cole's visit was simply to satisfy himself and the other directors by a personal inspection of the Ajo holdings prior to taking up the bond. In fact, so pleased have the Calumet & Arizona managers been 6with their original options in the Ajo district that in 1912 they increased their holdings and a month ago began the surveys for a railroad line extending from Tucson—eighty miles to Ajo. They have also spent considerable sums of money in testing the metallurgical treatment of the rather difficult Ajo ores and are reported to have met with encouraging and satisfactory results.

The Ajo district is forty-two miles from Gila, the present nearest railroad town. The group of which the Calumet & Arizona holds under bond belongs to the Cornelia Copper company or the New Cornelia Exploration company. The only other big operator in the district is the Ajo Consolidated Copper company. The Calumet & Arizona took its first option on the Cornelia ground late in 1911, when twenty-two claims were taken over for a bond of $800,000. Development work was so satisfactory that in 1912, additional claims to the number of nineteen, were optioned by Calumet & Arizona, and two fractional claims were purchased outright.

Ores and Ore Body Peculiar.

The ore, however, is of a peculiar character, necessitating a new treatment. The ore body is a steam-shovel proposition in monzonite and silicious rock, similar to the steam-shovel ore bodies being mined by the Utah Copper company and the big porphyries of the Ray, with this exception; that there is no overburden to strip in the Ajo district. The top carbonate ores come right to the surface and contain anywhere from 1.70 to over 2 per cent copper over large acreages. The chief problems to be grappled with are the successful and economic metallurgical treatment of these carbonate ores, but it is believed that they can be profitably leached along lines similar to those successfully carried out at Butte, Mont., where the low costs are attained by the leaching of carbonate copper ores. The carbonate ore body has a thickness of 30 to 150 feet and will average about seventy feet deep.

Below the carbonate ores, there is a great body of sulphide ore of good grade and indeterminate thickness. The ores here are in the form of very finely disseminated chalcopyrite and will also require a new process of treatment. There is little doubt but that Dr. Ricketts and the efficient corps of engineering talent on the Calumet & Arizona will successfully solve the milling problems. In fact, Dr. Ricketts and his assistants have been experimenting for many months on the treatment of Ajo ores and have met with fairly satisfactory results—so much so, that Dr. Ricketts and Capt. Greenway have no hesitancy in leaving Arizona for a well earned rest in Europe.

If the carbonate ores represent the leaching of the top portion of a sulphide ore body, then the top 150 feet of ground at Ajo in which carbonate ores have been encountered, represents merely the upper portion of a sulphide body, the lower limits of which have not yet been encountered by the churn drill.

Up to July, 29,000,000 tons of ore of an average grade, reputed by various estimates to be between 1.70 and 2.2 per cent copper, had been blocked out on the Ajo holdings of the Calumet & Arizona. It is probable that the copper content of the ore is very close to 2 per cent.

Surveys Railroad to Ajo.

On Saturday, Aug. 2, the Calumet & Arizona began a preliminary survey for a railroad extending into the Ajo district. While the present nearest railroad point is Gila, 42 miles away, on the Southern Pacific line, the proposed Calumet & Arizona road will extend from Tucson on the El Paso & Southwestern and will run eighty miles southwest into the Ajo district. R. H. Jones, who made the survey for the original El Paso & Southwestern line between Fairbank and Tucson, is locating engineer for the proposed Calumet & Arizona line and is assisted by E. E. Fitzgerald.

The Ajo holdings, if they be taken by the Calumet & Arizona—and there is every indication that such will be the case—will be the first steam-shovel proposition to be owned by the company. All its present workings at Bisbee are underground affairs. They will represent, too, a steam-shovel proposition where "stripping" will be a source of profit, instead of the great expense which removal of surface material entails upon Utah, Chino, Ray, Miami, Nevada Consolidated, etc.

Mr. Cole says they were highly pleased with what they saw at the Ajo properties. Of the company properties at Superior the visitors had a good deal to say that indicated satisfaction with results obtained there. While they have by no manner of means made a mine there, the outlook is considered very satisfactory. They have encountered ore in sinking at several points, and the outlook is encouraging.

In the Warren District.

The inspection of the mines at Bisbee gave great satisfaction, as everything is in splendid shape. A couple of new shafts have been decided upon as a result of the inspection of underground workings of the company. One of these will be on the property of the Warren townsite. Location of the other has not been announced. It is significant in connection with that fixed for the Warren townsite that this shaft is likely to prove up an extension of the Briggs ore body that might readily develop into one of the biggest things that ever happened in the camp.

Relative to the Junction shaft, it was stated that concreting would be continued without pause to the 1,800-foot level. This shaft is now concreted to the 1,500-foot level, and is held to be the greatest piece of shaft work of the kind in the world. With its entire depth concreted it will be just that much greater an engineering triumph. That this shaft will be used to very great advantage in connection with other mining of the company in the district, is a certainty. However, the directors did not make any statement as to their future plans for Junction. Evidently it is the intention to await completion of the further deep level concreting before taking active steps in the matter of development of the recently acquired Saginaw ground, for it was said that Saginaw development plans were in abeyance and entirely a matter of the future.

WORK ON MILL TO START THIS FALL

Butte & Minnesota Will Develop Its Claims Without Delay.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 20.—There is every likelihood that the Butte & Minnesota company, which has secured options on a number of claims near Wolf creek, thirty miles from Helena, will develop them extensively this fall. The options were closed recently and the property was taken over. The mine is nine miles from the Great Northern railroad, and while the road is down grade, it is in poor shape, and for this reason it is the intention of the management to build a mill. As a minimum it is estimated that 50,000 tons of ore are blocked out, and that this ore treated in a mill will net $5 a ton. Work on the construction of the mill in all probability will be started this fall. The ore-bearing formation is fifteen feet wide and contains values in gold, silver and copper. It is exposed in a narrow canyon to a depth of 400 feet. Several properties in the district are producing all the time, but owing to the long haul only the high-grade ore is shipped.

OHIO-KEATING IS MINING AT PROFIT

Gratifying Results Are Reported By Mine in Radersburg District.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 20. — News of steady progress and promising outlook comes from the Ohio-Keating property, which lies in the Radersburg district, about one and a half-miles from that famous old mining camp.

The shaft of the Ohio-Keating is now down 500 feet and drifting has been done on all levels in both directions. The equipment for this property is among the best in the state. It has electrically-equipped compressed air hoist and pumps. There is one triplex vertical pump on the 300 and another on the 500 levels.

During August Ohio-Keating shipped twenty carloads of ore, this being treated at the Washoe smelter in Anaconda. At present the management has ore blocked out on the third, fourth and fifth levels south, and on the fourth and fifth levels north.

"The ore is of the sulphide iron kind, carrying a heavy excess of iron," said Jack Cohen, one of the directors. "The veins vary in width from two to five feet wide and will probably average clear through about three feet. Gold is the principal metal value and the ore runs from $22 to $52 to the ton, averaging about $30, which gives us good pay ore. The mine is working at a profit now and will be soon laying up a surplus."

The Keating Gold shaft is the deepest in the Radersburg district, being down 800 feet, and the shaft of the Ohio-Keating, which is 500 feet down, is the second deepest.

BIG COMPANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

Has Acquired the Properties of Four Arizona Companies.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 20.—The London-Arizona Consolidated Copper company has been organized under the laws of Maine with a capitalization of 2,400,000 shares par $5 each or a total of $12,000,000. This new organization has taken over the properties of the London-Arizona Copper company, London Range Copper company, London Shamrock Copper company and Ball Copper company.

The consolidated property comprises 2,357 acres of highly mineralized and developed copper ground lying about five miles north of Winkleman, Ariz., and four miles from the new smelting plant of the American Smelting & Refining company at Hayden, Ariz. The holdings of the consolidated company comprise the heart of the lime porphyry deposits in this district in the limestone, with the exception of the properties of the Gila Copper Sulphide company, which adjoins the consolidated companies' properties on their east line. Ample railroad facilities are available, the Southern Pacific railroad running on the east and also on the south side of the properties within a distance of less than five miles. The Gila and the San Pedro rivers afford an abundance of water for all purposes. A large amount of development work has been done on these properties and since the first of January the London-Arizona has been shipping to the El Paso plant of the American Smelting & Refining company. The ores of the consolidated property are of the self-fluxing type, being also largely direct smelting, requiring no concentration. The ore bodies occur in the form of large beds, being replacements in the limestone and quartzite similar to the properties of Bisbee, Clifton-Morenci and Cananea, also as disseminations in the associated porphyries.

The ores of the district range in copper from 2 per cent to 18 per cent, besides gold and silver values. The silver lead ores of the district so far shipped have shown an average of 23 per cent lead.

QUINCY HAS SMALL FORCE

Will Increase Production By the Employment of Strike-Breakers.

Keweenaw Is Continuing Exploratory Work With Encouraging Results.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Quincy Mining company has made arrangements to employ strike breakers in the operation of its mines, and by this means hopes to get production up to normal within the next thirty to sixty days. The men will be housed and fed on the property. Underground forces at the Quincy are very small, the "Old Reliable" seemingly not having the good will or loyalty of its former employes to the extent that Calumet & Hecla, Copper Range and the several other companies have. Only about 20 per cent of the men have gone back to work in this mine, as compared with nearly 60 per cent in the Calumet and quite 75 per cent in the Trimountain mines. Despite this small number, however, Quincy is making a good record in production, sending upwords of 1,000 tons of rock to the mills each day. Two shafts are in commission and a third, recently equipped with a new deep level hoist, is expected to be ready for service at an early date. This is the No. 8, or Mesnard shaft, one of the mainstays of the mine, with a normal output of about 1,600 tons daily. The No. 9, or Pontiac shaft, next north, will have the old hoist formerly in service at the Mesnard shaft, and then too will be ready for production, giving the Quincy four big shafts easily capable of a combined output of 5,000 tons daily, or about 25 per cent over normal. The old No. 7 shaft, on the hill overlooking Portage lake, has been bottomed for some time, and is to be abandoned.

Mass.

The Mass has decided to keep the mine closed until May 1, at the earliest, regardless of the outcome of the present labor troubles. Everything in and about the mine has been put in shape for the winter, and the property is now being looked after by the caretakers. Supt. Walker has gone East to spend the winter.

Keweenaw.

The Keweenaw continues actively engaged in exploratory work on the Ashbed lode where two diamond drills are testing the formation for copper deposits of commercial value. Results are altogether encouraging. The lode is uniformly mineralized to a very fair degree and of good width, neither freakish nor sensational, and makes a good average showing. An old shaft on the Phoenix property, controlled by the company, is being cleaned out and equipped with a small hoist preliminary to underground work on the Ashbed lode west of the point at which the Keweenaw drills are working. This step was induced by the good showings obtained here about three years ago as much as by more recent results obtained further east.

Contact.

The Contact has suspended operations, being unable to continue longer for want of working capital. Results too have been rather discouraging. The company was engaged in diamond drilling in the area east of the Winona lode, in a horizon thought to be identical with that occupied by the Lake and Baltic lodes. Aside from securing a geological cross-section of the eastern portion of the property, little else has been accomplished. About sixteen drill holes were sunk in this campaign, only one of which, hole No. 5, yielded results of a nature to warrant further attention. The company succeeded the Elm River Copper company in May, 1910, and on Jan. 1, 1913, had a cash balance of $17,886 which has been materially reduced since.

Superior.

The Superior is shipping regularly at the rate of 300 tons of rock daily, and is nearer normal production than any other of the many producing companies effected by the labor strike. The output normally is around 600 tons daily. Excellent ground is being mined and the output of copper should be well up to normal hereafter.

KAHN'S HIGH PLAY AT BACCARAT

Immensely Wealthy Prince of India Is Indifferent Whether He Wins or Loses---High Hotel Charges at French Resorts.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The Aga Khan, the immensely wealthy prince of India, who among other things is head of the Mohammedan religion in his country, caused a sensation at Deauville Casino recently by his high play at baccarat. He seemed to be quite indifferent whether he won or lost, and many people who observed him expressed their conviction that he had no actual knowledge at any time on this point.

It was the custom of the prince to go to the gambling rooms accompanied by a servant carrying a valise full of bank notes. The prince, from time to time during the play would either request his servant, who stood behind his chair, to remove the piles of winnings and stuff them in the valise, or else to supply him with fresh bundles of 1,000-franc notes to hazard. Perhaps the servant was more observing than his master and knew whether fortune smiled or not, but to observers he was as inscrutable as the prince, and gave no sign.

The Grand Duke Boris of Russia divided the attention of onlookers with the Aga, frequently winning or losing 50,000 ($10,000) francs at a sitting.

High Hotel Charges.

Americans taking their vacations at French resorts this season have been amazed at charges which appear to be higher than anywhere else in the world. A room with a bath for 35 francs ($7) a day during July at one of the frequented hotels in Deauville, rose to 200 francs ($40) a day throughout August. The ordinary charge for a single room at the resort is 100 francs ($20) a day. These are prices asked of all comers, whether Americans, Russian, grand dukes or Frenchmen.

A Parisian journalist made note of his experiences at Deauville. The clerk at the first hotel he entered replied to his inquiry for a room that one remained at 80 francs ($16) a day, just a room for one person, with, of course, no bath. The clerk seemed to apologize for the low price, and to fear the visitor might suppose that a room at so trivial a rate could not be of much account. "We abandon it to you at 80 francs," said he, "because it is not large, but it really is a good room." The inquirer hesitated at that and crossed the street to another establishment. The best that could be done there was a room for 120 francs ($24) a day; he returned and took the 80-franc room. A simple lunch at 31.50 ($6.30), a cab to the races after considerable bargaining, 40 francs ($8), and dinner at 48 francs ($8.60) completed an expensive day.

Aerial Racing.

The refusal of several areoplane manufacturers to enter their machines for the international cup competition, at Rheims, indicates that aerial racing is going the way of automobile racing.

Designers aver that the over-engined and lightly constructed air machines built for speed do not actually advance aviation more than machines built for automobile racing alone are fit for every-day practical use. Aviation appears today to be entering upon a period in which study and experiment will be carried out in the direction of heavier, slower and safe machines. The effort will be to drive a heavier apparatus at a speed less dangerous than a mile-a-minute or more, the velocity attained by most lightweight aeroplanes of this season.

Four Centenarians.

President Poincare received four centenarians during his recent visit to the Limousin country. The eldest was 106. The youngest, 100 years old, had been the postmaster of the village of Vaulry for sixty-seven years.

The president was told, as are all visitors to the Limousin, that health and long life are the finest products of the region. Besides the four centenarians, the president was told of ten other persons who were 99 years old, and of twenty near the village of Vaulry who are in sound health, although well along in the tenth decade.

M. Schomel-Roy, a resident of Versailles, has attracted attention to himself on account of his age. He recently started civil proceedings in an infringement case, and it came out during the hearing that he was born Aug. 25, 1807, at Versailles, and that he saw Napoleon I frequently. Owing to the fact that his father had an appointment at Napoleon's court, M. Schomel-Roy frequently played with the little king of Rome.

Fine Specimen of Mammoth.

Count Stenboch Fermor, of the island of Great Lyakersky, New Siberia, has presented to the natural history museum in Paris what is considered to be the finest specimen of a mammoth yet found.

The gift is especially interesting because the animal had not finished digesting his last meal at the moment of his death, ccuntless centuries ago. Thus the savants are, for the first time, able to study accurately the nature of the flora of the far distant epoch; they have simply to examine the contents of the mammoth's stomach. He was found in an absolutely complete condition in a strata of ice. The skin, which is without a scratch, is covered with reddish hair, thick and soft to the touch as that of a lap dog. The work of digging out the monster from his prison and cold storage and bringing him to Paris was one of extreme difficulty. The body was cut carefully into pieces, each one labeled, and then carried 1,800 miles to a railway line on dog sledges.

The museum has come into possession of the skeleton of an enormous dinosaurus found near Majunga, on the west coast of Madagascar, by the explorer Perrier de la Batie. Some idea of the dimensions of this monster may be gained from the fact that a strong man can barely lift one section of the vertebrae. Although only partially disinterred, the natural history experts of the museum estimate from measurements of the parts they already have that this dinosaurian considerably exceeds in size the diplodocus, a plaster cast of which Mr. Carnegie gave the museum. Another acquisition is the skeleton of one of the famous birds known to palaeontologists as aplornis, which stood eighteen feet tall.

Talks Frankly to King.

Senor Maura, the Spanish Conservative leader, who has twice resigned the premiership of Spain, has a way of speaking frankly to his royal master, King Alfonso. Just now Paris is amused at two remarks made by Maura to the king in public.

When he resigned the first time the statesman said: "Kings who amuse themselves at playing with crowns frequently lose them."

On the second occasion he said:

"The premier in most constitutional countries must have two things in order to govern, first the confidence of parliament, and second the confidence of the crown. In Spain, however, three things are necessary, the confidence of parliament, the confidence of the crown, and confidence in the confidence of the crown."

FLAX HITS TOBOGGAN

Losses of About Five Cents in All Options Are Recorded.

Heavy Receipts and Lack of Support Cause—Wheat Lower.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 20.—Both wheat and flax suffered in today's session, but the raid on flax, terminating in losses of from 4¾c to 5¼c was the feature. Wheat options closed 1c to 1⅛c off.

The swift drop in flax has been coming for several days. Offerings from the country have been increasing and there has been no demand from buyers. Crushers have been practically out of the market waiting for more favorable prices. The European situation has been extremely unfavorable, as there is a surplus supply. Speculators have held the field and they have given practically the only support to the market.

Yesterday flax lost somewhat and this morning when it continued to drop there was a flood of stop loss orders. The Winnipeg flax market dropped 2c in about two minutes and the descent locally was about as swift. Practically no support was offered the market and it went down in jumps. There was some little support toward the close, but the recovery was fractional.

Continued heavy receipts of wheat in the Northwestern markets and continued fair weather sent wheat down again today. September wheat lost 1c, opening unchanged at 98⅛c and closing at 86⅛c. December wheat opened unchanged at 88c and dropped to 86⅜c at the close. May wheat opened unchanged to ⅛c off at 92¾c and closed ⅛-¼c off at 91⅝c.

December durum opened unchanged at 85c and closed ⅜c off at 84⅝c. December durum opened unchanged at 85⅛c and closed ½c off at 84⅜c.

September flax opened unchanged at $1.43 and closed 4¾c off at $1.38¼ nominal. October flax opened unchanged at $1.42 and closed 4¾c off at $1.38⅛. November flax opened ¼c off at $1.43½ and closed 4¾c off at $1.39 bid. December flax opened unchanged at $1.41¼ and closed 5¼c off at $1.36.

Oats closed ½c off at 33¾c, rye 1c off at 60c, and barley unchanged at 67-75c.

Puts are 85⅞c nominal and calls 86⅞c asked.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Firm Cables Help Hold Wheat Prices Steady.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Firmness of cables today helped to hold the wheat market steady. Canadian offers were said to be tighter. On the other hand, there were continued favorable crop advices from Australia and Argentina. The opening was unchanged to ⅛c lower. A reaction to slightly above last night's level ensued.

Later a setback took place, the result of some aggressive short selling which resting orders could not stem. The close was weak, ¾@1c under last night.

Wet weather that threatened to delay the movement of the crop from the farms had a strengthening effect on the corn market. Prices started the same as last night to ⅜c higher and made some additional gain.

Afterward the market receded owing to temporary exhaustion of buying power. The close was easy at a net decline of ⅛c to ¼@⅜c.

Smallness of offerings allowed oats to rise with corn. The range, however, was narrow.

Demand cars provisions seemed to be fully balanced by supplies from miscellaneous sources. Quotations averaged about where they left off the night before.

LOSSES ARE RECOVERED

Stocks Open With Declines Under Active Selling By Bears.

Interest Vanishes When Average Is Restored to Friday's Figures.

New York, Sept. 20.—Quotations drifted downward slowly on the first transactions today. Union Pacific was the only active stock to open above yesterday's close and it quickly gave way until it showed a loss of a point. There was active selling of Reading, Steel and Southern Pacific, all of which were set back by substantial fractional declines. Pacific dropped 1⅝. Rock Island was again under pressure and dropped a point to 14½, a new low record for the movement.

Shorts took stock on a scaledown, and their buying soon stopped the decline. Prices later went back to yesterday's close.

The market closed firm. Speculation languished during today's brief session. The holiday in London cut off the chance of leadership from that source and at home traders saw nothing in the situation to provide a fresh impulse. Bears forced down Rock Island to a new low price for the movement and unsettled the Pacifics. Attempts to get back stock revealed the character of the selling. The market apparently was bare of actual stock.

By the time the average had been restored to yesterday's closing level interest in the market had vanished. The only feature of financial importance was the sharp recovery in sterling exchange rates. Demand bills jumped 25 points to near 486. Scarcity of cotton and grain bills and preparation for remitting funds to meet the interest and dividend payments due abroad caused the rise.

Bonds were easy.

Local operators in real estate who have been handling Duluth property for years and who make the real estate market their life study have predicted that 1913 will exceed previous records in the volume of business transacted in land, houses, home sites, factory sites and other branches of real estate. Confirmation of these predictions is to be seen in the amount of business which is now being handled each week.

"The demand for houses, not only from prospective home-builders but from investors who see opportunity for remunerative returns from the property within a few years has never been surpassed," declared one dealer yesterday. Dealers are unanimous in the expression of the opinion that the development activity prevailing in all parts of the city is but in its initial stage—a mere sign of what it is to be in the future.

Future For West Duluth.

John A. Stephenson of John A. Stephenson & Co., sees a great future for West Duluth property. The western end of the city has possibilities as a manufacturing center which are hard to excel. This in itself, he holds, insures for the real estate interests a positive future which can hardly be equalled by any other section of the city. The proximity of West Duluth to the new steel plant is another factor which will enhance the value of real estate he believes.

Practically all of the real estate men who are operating in sub-division property report a successful week. Activity at Exeter farms continues brisk, according to George E. Lynott, sales manager of the Alliance Real Estate company. This firm during the past week sold fifteen more of the tracts, ranging in size from one to 3½ acres. Other firms also state that they are meeting with unusual success in keeping such tracts moving. In a great many cases the sales have been made to newcomers.

Among the sales of the week in residence property were the following:

The sale of lots at Gary continues unabated. During the week just closing A. W. Kuehnow, sales manager for the Gary Land company, closed up fifteen contracts for the purchase of Gary lots at sites for business houses and residences. Mr. Kuehnow reports that prospects are unusually bright. A number of new buildings are now going up. Among the new ones are a butcher shop and clothing store on Commonwealth avenue.

At the September sale of state lands located in St. Louis county, which was conducted this week, 1,191½ acres were sold to the highest bidders. The average price was $6 an acre, and $1,498.52 was turned over to the county treasurer as partial payments on the property. Some of the choicest of the tracts brought as high as $10 an acre and some were disposed of at the appraised value, $5 an acre.

Ebert, Walker & McKnight company report the sale of forty acres for John Holmes to H. C. Schulz in section 5, 50-15, price $800. Mr. Schulz is going to move from Southern Minnesota and develop the land into a farm and make his home in St. Louis county.

The same firm has sold eighty acres eight miles north of Aitkin to M. Desmond; forty acres in section 27, 48-26, close to Aitkin, to B. F. Carr; and has received earnest money on forty acres in 26-50-16, sold to C. Lloyd. This land will be developed into a truck farm.

Among the deals closed were the following: Two lots on Eleventh street in block 33, Lakeview division; two lots on Thirteenth street in block 2, Chambers division; one lot on Eighth street in block 59, West Duluth, Fourth division, and two tracts in Norton's acre outlots. One large acreage deal is reported to be pending.

* * *

L. A. Larsen company reports a good week. Among the sales closed were two lots from W. J. Bates on Sixth avenue west and the boulevard to local parties for improvement. The central section on both sides of the incline railway and below the boulevard, Mr. Larsen reports, is getting more popular every year. Over a dozen houses are under construction there and more are to follow. New cement walks are being laid. The connecting of the boulevard with Seventh street has made this section even more accessible than heretofore. This much

BUILDING IS CONFINED TO SMALLER CONTRACTS

No Large Projects Announced During the Week Just Closed.

Excavating Begun for New School—Completing Ore Dock Foundations.

Building operations in Duluth for the past week, although developing no surprises, have kept pace with activities of the past month and season. Architects claim to have a number of new projects under way which are not developed to such an extent that they may be made public.

Building permits for the week numbered twenty-two and represented a total estimated cost of $21,250. No large permits were taken out and most were for small residences or for alterations and improvements.

City officials this week visited the site of the model city which is being constructed by the Minnesota Steel company near the new steel plant. Three sewer systems, two water systems and one gas system are now being installed there.

* * *

Architect P. M. Olson awarded the general contract this week to Gustafson & Olson for the $4,500 residence to be built for N. H. Nilssen at Kenilworth park. The heating and plumbing job went to Archie McDougall and the electric wiring work to George Schuler.

Architect Olson has prepared plans for another dwelling at Kenilworth Park to be built for M. I. Kemp and to cost $5,000. Figures are now being taken on this job.

Plans have been prepared in the same office and figures are now being taken on the construction of a residence for Mrs. James Stevenson at Forty-first avenue east and Regent street.

The same architect this week let the contract for a brick garage to be built for Oscar Peterson at Twentieth avenue east and Fourth street to Gustafson & Olson for $1,100.

* * *

Excavation work was started this week preparatory to the erection of the $50,000 schoolhouse for the St. James Catholic parish at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Elinor street. The Bow-Burke company, general contractors, have sublet the excavation work and a crew of men has been on the job all week.

The new school will be modern in every particular. One of the features of the building will be an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,000 people. It is planned to have the school ready for occupancy by Aug. 1, 1914.

* * *

By Nov. 1 it is expected that the entire concrete foundation work for the new $2,900,000 ore dock under construction at Thirty-fourth avenue west will have been completed. The steel covers for a number of the concrete pillars are now being placed in position in readiness for the steel girders. Low land in the path of the approach to the new dock is being filled in by the hydraulic dredge which is providing the slip alongside of the new dock.

* * *

A $5,000 store and flat building, two stories high and of brick construction, will be erected on Commonwealth avenue at New Duluth for Pretner & Skala. The building will be 25 by 70 and the plans for it have been prepared by Architect E. S. Radcliffe. The structure will be built by day work.

The Steel Corporation

Just at this time when the big work of the Steel Corporation is under way, Proctor is feeling the influence and will share in the development and "boom" now in sight for this region.

The same people own and control the railroad, shops and terminals here at Proctor that are building the Steel Plant on the bay below, and it is believed that the big Proctor shops will be used as an adjunct and auxiliary in the construction of the Steel Plant buildings and improvements.

Already the Railway Company has made the survey to extend a new ore road from the Yards to the Plant and another immense ore dock is being constructed on the bay.

These improvements will be direct feeders for Proctor, and with its two shop plants, yards and terminals, Proctor is really an important part of the Steel Plant. The position is such that when the street cars come from West Duluth, it is said, they will be extended from Proctor and make a "loop" around by the Steel Plant and back to West Duluth. While property is low call on or write Real Estate Dept., Proctor State Bank.

"BACK TO SOIL" MOVEMENT IS SHOWING RESULTS IN THE RAPID DEVELOPMENT OF TRUCK GARDENS NEAR DULUTH

SCENES IN THE LESTER RIVER VALLEY.

FOR persons in Duluth who desire to own their own homes, the problem is far easier to solve than it sounds to the poor man. This is because there are a number of men and firms in Duluth whose business it is to make home-buying easy.

It is true, of course, that to the average wage-earner with little or nothing saved up, the gratification of a desire to own a comfortable home of his own seems like too great an undertaking. He usually staggers at the price and figures that it puts the home proposition out of reach.

But any wage earner who means business and who has a small amount saved to make an initial payment can find a real estate firm, a building contractor, or other property owner who is willing and anxious to build him a house or sell him one already built, and allow him to pay for it on the easy payment plan.

In reaching a solution to this problem, Duluth wage-earners are finding the "homecroft" movement which was inaugurated in Duluth about two years ago, a great factor. During the past few months the "back to the soil" movement has been bearing results, in that it has helped a number of families to secure a good home, a good living and independence.

Break Up Big Tracts.

In local real estate circles there has been a heavy trend looking towards the breaking up of large unwieldy tracts of land in or near the city limits, which have been held by the owners for years, but which under the impetus of the homecroft movement are yielding to the demands for small acre tracts for truck gardening and small farming purposes.

The homecroft movement in Duluth has not only started, but it is well under way. It is of interest to hundreds of families in Duluth who pay rent and where only the head of the family can contribute to the support. Within easy walking distance of the city's street car lines, a number of these acre tracts have been put on the market and the sub-dividers have had unusual success in disposing of them.

On these garden tracts, the wage earner can work out his salvation and establish in time a home that is self-sustaining. The prices at which the tracts are sold and the easy terms of payment place the property within the reach of every man who is capable of supporting a family. With some firms which are developing new subdivisions, the homecrofter can acquire his home site on almost his own terms and when he begins to pay for it, he finds that he has discovered an excellent way to save his money.

The attractive feature of the homecroft movement is that the investment can be made a source of added income by providing the necessaries of life in the way of food stuffs to a large extent from the soil, through the employment of time which would otherwise be idled away. It puts the wage-earner and salaried man back on the land without cutting off his wage or salary.

Not a Speculation.

Subdividers are not holding their properties out as inducements to the speculators, although it is claimed that they are safe, conservative and attractive investment. Acre tracts in close proximity to the older residential districts of the city will increase in value in proportion to their growth and development.

The soil in the vicinty of Duluth is of such a character as to be adapted to most any kind of culture. It is known from analysis, practical tests and demonstrations to be practically unexcelled in point of productiveness and fertility.

One mile west of Exeter farms, the largest of Duluth's subdivision of acre tracts for homecrofters and truck gardeners, the state has established its demonstration farm, the purpose of which is to educate and help those who are interested in homecrofting and gardening. At the demonstration farm the best methods of treating and cultivating the soil are studied and the crops best adapted to the soil are grown.

The past summer has witnessed a healthy movement in sub-division property. The largest proposition of this kind on the market is the Exeter farms tract of 625 acres in the Lester River valley, one mile east of the demonstration farm. The Alliance Real Estate company, of which George E. Lynott is manager, purchased this property during the fall of 1911 and according to Mr. Lynott, have disposed of 160 acres in one, two and three-acre tracts this summer. The slogan of the firm is "Buy an Acre and Live on It."

Smaller tracts have been sub-divided and put on the market by other local firms. Stryker, Manley & Buck, who have been quite successful in the sub-division field of investment, put on two propositions this year. One was the Harbor View tract on the Hermantown road and the other Ingleside park, located about one mile and a half from the end of the Woodland car line. Richardson, Day & Cheadle three months ago put Norton's acre outlots on the market on the easy payment plan. This tract adjoins the Hartley celery and lettuce farm on the west and is about one mile from the Woodland car line.

REALTY BUSINESS VITAL TO CITIES

Many Fail to Realize Real Estate Is Basis of All Wealth.

There is probably no other business in which the general public is so vitally interested and with which it should be in closer touch than the realty business, writes A. B. Cleveland in the Portland Oregonian. Most people recognize that real estate is the basis of all wealth, and the realty dealer, therefore, plays an important part in the upbuilding of the community. It is highly desirable that a get-together spirit be fostered between the public and the dealer in order that the greatest good can be worked out for the greatest number.

Enthusiasm of the public is the fire underneath the boiler of business, but the realty man with his hand on the throttle only directs and applies the power. Confidence is the great force which kindles enthusiasm and this when linked with co-operation builds mighty communities and keeps our business, civil and social affairs intact.

The principles which govern successful operations in real estate are no different than those of any other business. Confidence always has and always will be the foundation of all business affairs, and I think I am safe in saying that any real estate dealer whose transactions are not bent toward the establishment of that confidence will go down to utter failure and ruin by virtue of his own shortsightedness. There may have been a time when shady transactions and questionable methods were looked upon with no more than a frown. That time is no more.

The successful real estate man is today just as careful concerning his statements and his promises as is the successful merchant. What is best for the public is likewise best for the dealer. The realty man who would be a permanent success cannot sacrifice the future welfare of his patrons for temporary gain. The successful realty operator not only formulates the plans for the betterment of the city, but must stay with and back up those plans and see that they are carried to completion. He is the foremost booster for civic development. The great problem of upbuilding a city can be worked out only through the continued cooperation of its citizens and the man who contributes most of these improvements (the realty man) is the man who is entitled to co-operation. An old Roman scholar once said: "We are made for co-operation."

Modern business compelled competitively to take advantage of every opening for the furtherance of its interests has seized upon this idea and is actively acting upon it. Ebert Hubbard recently expressed the thought in this way: "Men are valuable just in proportion as they are able and willing to work in co-operation with other men." To agree with the conclusions of these master minds is intuitively to govern our actions accordingly, but the thought involved may be misconstrued and we are, therefore, liable to disagree again through not having really understood the principle involved, for co-operation consists not only in helping the customer to do what he wants to do, but seeing that he and the other contributors do it right.

AN OLD LOVE STORY OF THE CIVIL WAR

From Mrs. Burton Harrison's "Recollections, Grave and Gay."

The day before, a closely veiled, shabbily dressed little woman, her luggage a small archaic hair trunk inscribed with undistinguished name, had been put off a train from Richmond upon the platform before our poor, overpacked hostelry. In vain did Lipscomb, our distracted host, assure her that there wasn't a room or a bed left for anyone—nothing save a servant's pallet on the floor of a hot garret. Also, he stated, looking over her doubtfully, all the occupants of this "hotel" were members of officers' families well known to Gen. Beauregard. She kept her ground manfully, explained that she had been ill of typhoid, had come all the way from New Orleans to be near her brother at the front, and had no strength to turn back; so he gave her the garret, where a negro girl carried her food and drink; and we lookers-on thought no more of her in the greater excitement of the coming battle.

In the evening, my mother having gone on to Culpepper House to volunteer as a nurse in the new military hospital, my aunt, who was busy elsewhere, suggested that I go up to see what had become of the odd little woman in the garret. When I tapped at the door it was no uneducated voice that bade me enter, but one sweet and refined, coming from a girl huddled on a chair near the window, who sprang up to meet me with a cry of joy.

"News! News from the front?" That was all she wanted, not supper nor anything. The servant girl had told her the troops were moving. It was a mercy to speak to anyone; she had cried all day and now thought she would go mad.

Little by little, it came out that she was the petted daughter of a wealthy Creole family, engaged to a lieutenant of artillery, with whom she had quarreled and broken just as he went off to Virginia with the battalion in which her brother was also an officer. Repenting, she tried to wire him her regrets and finally, on the impulse of a moment, had left the plantation where her family was, went into her mother's town house, possessed herself of the housekeeper's trunk and garments and set off for Virginia. Her intention, only to see him and then go back again, spite of her dread of the brother's wrath should he find out her escapade, was now frustrated by the movement to the front!

Taken thus into confidence in a rare romance of which the heroine seemed to my fervid imagination one of the most fascinating little creatures ever seen—charmed by her good looks, her dainty lingerie with fine embroidery and lace, the rich toilet articles strewn about and the gold mounted writing case from which she took her lover's portrait to show it to me—I readily promised secrecy and, if possible, help. She cheered up at this, and to my surprise ended by kissing me, then promised to eat her neglected supper and try to sleep.

During the battle next day she again passed out of my mind and when, at dusk, a shabby little veiled figure stole up from the platform and begged me to go with her for an instant to her room, I acquiesced. When there she burst into a storm of tears and sobs. They day had nearly killed her, she had spoken to nobody, her heart was breaking with anxiety. She had heard there was a list of wounded in the grocery store; would I mind seeing whether his name or her brother's was upon it?

And then she told the names which I was to come to know well and respect in after days!

I coaxed her downstairs again, and while all the rest of us squeezed into the little country store where, behind the counter, by the light of a tallow candle, a man was spelling out a newly arrived register of the casualties of the day, she stood outside in the darkness, afraid to show herself. Begging for a glance at the paper, I ran my eye hastily over it, and the third or fourth name was that of her lover, "badly wounded!" And—strange happening of my first war love story! Just after I had induced her to go back to her room with her misery, the first train of wounded men from Manassas slowed up at Bristoe, and while every woman and girl in the hotel except herself went through it carrying milk, water, brandy and bread, to my lot fell to minister to a young Louisiana artilleryman lying upon a cot in a freight car, suffering greatly, but with perfect fortitude; while she who had been his affianced was not ten steps from him, wearing her heart out in longing for him, yet knowing nothing of his vicinity.

The sequel of this episode was, alas! not cheerful. They met again in Richmond, whither he was taken and she followed, but the breach between them widened instead of drawing together, and then two lives went apart.

NO ORDER HAS REACHED DIAZ

Candidate for Mexican Presidency Is Visiting in Paris.

Huerta Appointee Rejected By Mexican Congress.

Paris, Sept. 20.—Gen. Felix Diaz, candidate for the Mexican presidency at the approaching elections, had not up to a late hour this afternoon, received any word from Provisional President Huerta concerning his return to Mexico. He spent the day visiting a number of friends here.

Veto Huerta's Choice.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The Mexican congress has vetoed by a vote of 90 to 14 Provisional President Huerta's appointment. Tamariz is one of the younger leaders of the Catholic party which is avowedly in favor of electing Gen. Huerta president.

Foreign Minister Gamboa appeared in the chamber of deputies and endeavored to explain that the naming of Tamariz established no precedent, since Pedro Lascurain, a prominent Catholic, had held the portfolio of foreign relations under President Madero. The deputies, however, by approximately the same vote as the first, denied Senor Gamboa permission to proceed with his explanation.

Senor Tamariz will not assume office of minister of public instruction pending an adjustment of the situation.

Move Smugglers' Trial.

Carrizo Springs, Tex., Sept. 20.—The trial of fourteen alleged ammunition smugglers charged with the murder of Posse-man Candelario Ortiz was transferred to Pearsall, Tex., because of the improbability of securing a jury here. When the transfer was ordered one juror had been accepted out of 141 talesmen examined. The population of this county (Dimmit) is sparse, totaling 3,460 in the 1910 census. The case will be taken up again on Sept. 29 at Pearsall.

J. W. Evans of Brenham, Tex., special agent for the Santa Fe railroad, identified Charles Cline, the American among the alleged smugglers, as a man deported from Merryville, La., on Feb. 25, last, because of his activities during a strike there.

Cline has asked for a separate trial.

CELEBRATE CAPTURE OF ROME BY TROOPS

Imposing Demonstration Is Made By 20,000 People.

Rome, Italy, Sept. 20.—An imposing demonstration in which about 20,000 people, including many red-shirted Garibaldians and other veterans took part, was held today in celebration of the anniversary of the capture of Rome by the Italian troops in 1870. A procession was formed and marched to the breach in the wall by which the Italians entered. There the manifestants were met by the mayor of Rome, Ernest Nathan, who read a message from King Victor Emmanuel in reply to greetings sent by the municipality. His majesty telegraphed:

"The virtue of the Italian people plus the valor of the army have made liberty ours. Italy now calls for the first time all her children to the polls, including even the illiterates."

BRYAN SIGNS TWO PEACE TREATIES.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Secretary Bryan today signed treaties putting into effect his peace proposals between the United States and Panama and Guatemala. Like treaties now have been negotiated between this country and three other nations, while Honduras has agreed to sign a similar pact and it is expected that a similar agreement soon will be reached with Costa Rica.

Secretary Bryan's plan has been accepted in principle by twenty-nine nations.

NO RECOGNITION OF MRS. PANKHURST

Federation of Women's Clubs Will Take No Action.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 20.—The Federation of Women's Clubs of America will give no official recognition to Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant British suffragette, when she arrives in the United States. This assertion was made today by Mrs. C. H. McMahon of the executive board of the federation, which is now in session here. She is a voter in the state of Utah.

SHIP'S OFFICERS TO BE COURTMARTIALED

Secretary Daniels Orders Action for Louisiana's Mishap.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Upon recommendation of a board of inquiry, concurred in by Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Second division of the Atlantic fleet in Mexican waters, Secretary Daniels today ordered the court-martial of Capt. Harry A. Field and Lieut. Benjamin J. Barthalow, commander and navigator, respectively, of the battleship Louisiana, which was grounded in Vera Cruz harbor Aug. 6. A letter of reprimand has been sent to Ensign Robert K. Awtrey, officer of the deck. The battleship received only minor damage from the grounding and still is at Vera Cruz.

RUSSIANS ARREST GERMAN AVIATOR.

Mulhausen, Germany, Sept. 20.—The German aviator, Victor Stoeffler, who left Warsaw, Russia, early this morning in an attempt to reach Paris in a single day, was forced by a storm to descend near the Russian frontier.

He landed close by an encampment of Russian troops and was placed under arrest.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore and now existing between William Smith and William S. Muckart under the firm name and style of Lakewood Dairy has this day been dissolved by mutual consent of the partners.

MENUS IN THE MAKING

Good Housekeeping Magazine: Probably no one of the many duties a housekeeper has to perform demands more thought than that of planning three meals a day. So many considerations enter in; the pocketbook, the needs of the family from a dietetic standpoint and by no means the least important one of flavor and taste.

The wise woman, knowing how much money she has to spend for food materials, divides it into daily portions, so that if she goes over the amount allowed for one day she can cut down on the next day's allowance. Occasionally it is wise to do this; if, for instance, there are guests and one wishes to prepare a company dinner, the family can on the next day have less expensive meat or dessert. But that same woman does not let the family realize the economy. And always where economy is necessary, extra care is also needed to make the seasoning a little better, or the dish more attractive than usual. And right here let it be said that the best values in perishable food material can be had only by going to market and selecting those vegetables and fruits which are especially good that day. The city markets offer many tempting vegetables and fruits out of season, but as a rule it is wiser not to purchase.

A cream soup and a salad with bread and butter and a simple dessert make a luncheon menu pleasing to almost every one.

Never repeat in a menu the same food. For instance, do not serve tomato soup and tomato salad, or tomatoes as a vegetable. Do not serve a creamed vegetable when the meat has a sauce or rich gravy, and, of course, do not serve two sauces in the same course.

In planning a meal, think how each course will look and taste, and choose those combinations which naturally go together. An Englishman once remarked when eating chicken and corn, "How this chicken would have enjoyed this corn!" If one food is lacking in flavor, choose one with a decided flavor to go with it. Fish, for instance, especially boiled cod or halibut, needs an acid or piquant sauce.

A combination recalled was very unsatisfactory, consisting of boiled cod, mashed potatoes, and baked macaroni —and everything slipped down without "catching" the palate, and tasted alike. If the potatoes had been fried, or the macaroni served with tomato, the result would have been better.

Many housekeepers make the mistake of serving too many good things in one meal; another is serving a dish too often, just because it is a favorite. People seldom remember after two weeks, and the same combination can be repeated.

Menu making demands constant thought, but the results are well worth the trouble; for everyone must eat and health and happiness depend largely on the kind of food eaten.

Regarding the dietetic side of the subject, unless one studies it a great deal, the taste will be found a good guide in a healthy normal condition. For instance, no one could eat and enjoy the combination of potatoes, rice and macaroni all in one meal, or if they were eaten, discomfort would follow, owing to an over amount of starchy food.

Foods may be grouped into general divisions and a knowledge of what there are and just what are their special functions in the nutrition of the body, is of invaluable assistance to the housekeeper catering for the health and appetites of her family.

The first group includes the meats, fish, eggs, nuts, cheese milk and the vegetables, like peas, beans and lentils. They contain a notable proportion of protein material, which builds tissue. These foods are especially important in early youth. A liberal supply in the diet of a high school girl who may have a tendency to break down from nervous tension and overwork may prevent an actual illness, and tide over what is often a period of physical tension.

Starches and sugars are essentially heat and energy foods. There are countless varieties of each, all having practically the same food value. Sugars form one of the quickest sources of heat or energy, which may be followed by a more substantial food later.

In making out a menu, remember that the first and last impressions are the ones which the persons remember Therefore the soup and dessert should be satisfactory. Very often the soup may be omitted and a salad put in. Never serve a cream soup if a substantial dinner is to follow; it is too heavy.

OUTDOOR METERS.

Indianapolis News: Renovo, a railroad town in Pennsylvania, has adopted the very convenient scheme of placing electric meters on the back porches of the houses. This arrangement permits the meter reader to read most meters in a day. It is a great many meters in a day. It is a common matter to read 200 meters. Another advantage is that the meter is placed in a conspicuous place, where the consumer may read it from time to time and get better acquainted with it.

ENGLISH NOT "DEEFICULT."

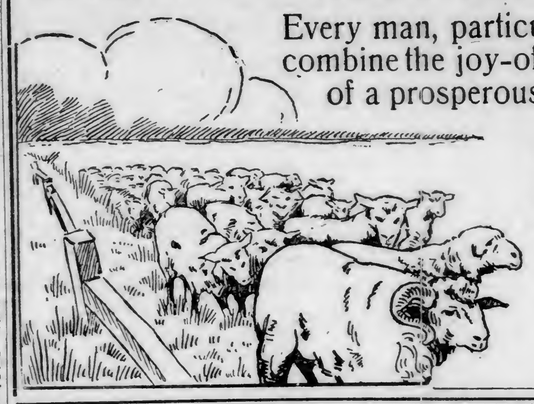

Pearson's Weekly: A young French teacher whose English was just a little uncertain, inquired of one of her pupils how to ask in the English shop for an "eponge pour le bain."

"Oh," said the latter, "all you've got to do is to tell the shopman that you want a big bath sponge to take home with you."

"Ah, it is not deeficult," she said; but when the shop was reached, she expressed it differently. "Please," she said, smiling pleasantly at the young man, "wil you kindly take me home and give me a big sponge bath?"

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Axel Sjodin, Laborer, Commits Bloody Crime in Jealous Frenzy.

Woman Is Beaten With Hammer, Shot and Throat Cut.

Axel Sjodin, a laborer, killed his wife by shooting her and later cutting her throat and then committed suicide early yesterday morning at his home, 323 Baxter avenue. The murder and suicide were not discovered until shortly after 5 o'clock last evening when Emil Estlund, a roomer at the house, arrived home from his work. Jealousy was the motive according to a note left by Sjodin.

The suicide and his victim had not been living together for several days owing to a quarrel. Mrs. Sjodin went to the house early in the morning and shortly afterwards, her husband came home from his work at the salt dock. The last either was seen was at 8:20 o'clock when the man left the dock.

First Beaten With Hammer.

Evidence showing that the woman had first been beaten with a hammer was found in the woodshed in the rear of the house. A hammer clotted with blood shows that this instrument had been used. It is believed that after having knocked his wife unconscious he carried her into the house where he fired a bullet in her body and later in order to make certain the job cut her throat with a large butcher knife. He is then believed to have written the note and fired the bullet into his own head.

The woman and her four children had been living at 313 Hughitt avenue. The children had been sent yesterday morning to the home of Mrs. Sjodin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman, 420 Baxter avenue. The children are Agnes, 12 years; John, 10 years; Arthur, 7, and Elmer, 6.

When the bodies were discovered the man's head was lying across the breast of the woman. A revolver was lying nearby with one empty shell. Another empty shell was found on the floor. No inquest will be held according to Coroner Downs.

Old Resident Dies.

Thomas F. Conway, 47 years old, a prominent resident of Superior for twenty-five years, died at his home, 1711 Eighteenth street, yesterday afternoon, following several months' illness. He leaves a widow, his mother, Mrs. Ellen Conway, and five brothers and one sister. Mr. Conway was in business in this city for a number of years.

Put Under Bonds.

Otto Malone, 1205 Tower avenue, who is alleged to have recently theatened to kill his wife, was ordered to furnish $300 bonds to keep the peace. He was found guilty in police court before Judge Parker yesterday.

Normal Team Plays.

The Superior Normal football team will open the fall season this afternoon with a game with Two Harbors at Hislop park. Coach Keogan announced this morning the following lineup for his team: Center, Wherle; quarterback, Connell (captain); halfbacks, Whitney and Butler; fullback, Rill; guards, Rettz, Anderson and Williams; tackles, Donalds and Morgan Roberts; ends, Mungavin, Cowie and Merrill.

COAL RECEIPTS ARE VERY HEAVY

Boats Forced to Anchor in Harbor and Wait for Docks.

Nine big boats loaded with coal have arrived in the Duluth-Superior harbor within the last twenty-four hours. There is not room for all the boats at the docks at the present time and some of them have been foreed to go to anchor in the harbor basin.

The dock superintendents report that the coal is not moving into the interior as fast as it should be and there is some inconvenience at the docks as a result. The docks are filled almost to capacity and unless the country buyers get their orders in soon it may force a decrease in the shipments coming up the lakes.

By this time the heavy coal movement to the interior is generally on but this year the season was a little late. October, November and December are expected to be the heaviest months for coal shipments.

Storm Warnings Up.

The weather bureau has issued a warning to lake vessels that a storm is moving across the lakes. All stations have been ordered to hoist storm signals. Following is the official warning notice:

"Hoist northwest storm warnings on Lake Superior, Lake Michigan and North Huron. Storm over North Michigan, moving east. Increasing winds, becoming northwest tonight. Northwest storm warnings ordered on South Huron and Lake Erie."

TEACHING THE LITTLE MOTHERS.

Philadelphia North American: Fifty "little mothers" in gingham dresses sat in a group about their teacher in a remarkable outdoor class in a courtyard at the rear of 1720 Race street.

"How many little girls here take care of baby brother or baby sister for mother sometimes?" asked the "teacher."

Fifty little hands went up and fifty hair ribbons bobbed in time to the answer, "I do! I do!"

Little mothers, all of them, and the oldest was not quite 10. The fifty little girls were taught how to sew and dress babies in a daily afternoon class which was a feature of the Baby Saving Show of the Child Hygiene Association of Philadelphia, which just closed a two weeks' exhibition at 1720 Race street, formerly the Catholic Home for Destitute Girls.

The teachers of the remarkable class were Miss Gertrude Rhoades and Dr. Mary Sallom, who were in charge of the show.

"Oh, why didn't someone tell me these things before?" was the cry of more than one mother when she saw the charts attributing the cause of death to babies to unclean milk, improper feeding, patent medicines, hereditary diseases or bad clothing.

That's why the Baby Saving show in its two weeks centered its efforts on teaching the children, the little girls who are the mothers of tomorrow. That's why the Child Hygiene association, when the figures for the two weeks showed that of the 11,000 visitors a large proportion were girls and young women, felt that the show had been a marked success.

Among one day's visitors were 700 girls from the girl's high school. "These children all go home and tell their mothers what they learn at the show," said Miss Rhoades. "One day last week we asked a class to tell some reasons why they shouldn't give babies patent medicines. 'Because they have sleepiness in them,' one tot replied."

BARREN SOIL.

New Orleans States: Apropos of the ravages that time has made in the faces and forms of the veterans of the Civil war, Walter S. Morton, president peneral of the Union society, said at a dinner in New York:

"A veteran, talking to his great grandson, a little lad of 8 or 9 years, remarked:

"'Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga.'

"The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said:

"'There isn't much grazing there now, is there, sir?'"

MOST UNFLATTERING.

Los Angeles Times: George W. Perkins, in a tariff argument, said the other day:

"Well, that may be a good defense; but it certainly isn't very flattering to the intelligence of the American people. It is, in fact, so unflattering that it reminds me of a chap who was sued for breach of promise.

"This chap was 25, and the lady suing him was 40 or so.

"'What's your defense?' the judge asked.

"The defendant waved his hand toward the lady and promptly replied:

"'Insanity, Your Honor.'"

OWN A HOME

AND CHEAT THE RAINY DAY

That every man can be a property owner needs no discussion, but that only a small percentage do, needs some comment.

Five, ten or fifteen years ago had you purchased a home on the easy payment plan, on payments no bigger than the monthly rent, it would be free and clear today and working for you every minute. It would have greatly increased in value. But it's never too late. In fact, there never was a better time to buy than now, never a time when the prospects for a bigger and better Duluth looked better, or a time when cozy, comfortable homes can be purchased on such easy terms. That monthly rent will do it, and to do it is a duty.

Every day The Herald's Real Estate Columns call to you with lists of payment plan homes. Look them over. You'll find what you want.
